i. Note—if the psychologist or physician is an employee of the Department of Health and Hospitals, the secretary of both departments shall consult and jointly select the member.

c. The warden (or deputy) at the state facility where the offender is housed or the warden (or deputy) of the regional facility for offenders housed in local jail facilities, or a probation and parole officer with a minimum of ten years experience or a retired law enforcement officer with at least five years of experience in investigating sex offenses may serve as the third panel member at the discretion of the secretary.

2. A majority of the members of each panel shall constitute a quorum. All official actions of a panel shall require an affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the panel.

3. Each panel shall meet at least once quarterly and upon the call of the chairman or upon the request of any two members.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of R.S. 15:574.12, each panel shall review presentence reports, prison records, medical and psychological records, information and other data gathered by the staff of the division of probation and parole, the district attorney from the judicial district which prosecuted the case and information provided by or obtained from the victim(s) and the offender (which may include a personal interview), and any other information obtained by the department.

5. Panels shall have the duty to evaluate every offender who is currently serving a sentence for a conviction of a sex offense and/or child predator who is to be released from the custody of the department or a local jail facility, by any means, to determine if the offender may be a child sexual predator and/or a sexually violent predator in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 15:560 et seq.

F. Procedures

1. Each panel shall evaluate every offender currently serving a sentence for a conviction of a sex offense and/or child predator as stated in Paragraph E.5 of this Section and who is required to register pursuant to the provisions of R.S. 15:542 at least six months prior to the release date of the offender.

2. A panel's evaluation shall primarily be conducted by file review of all relevant information available to the department, including the information specified in Paragraph E.4 of this Section. Information and/or recommendations received from individuals other than those employed by the department or the local jail facility where the offender is housed shall be made in writing. Interview, telephone or video conferencing may be conducted at the discretion of the panel.

3. Panel decisions shall be recorded by individual vote. Official results shall be maintained by the respective panel coordinator. Each panel coordinator is responsible for maintaining a separate file on each offender reviewed by the panel.

4. If a panel affirmatively votes that an offender may be a sexually violent predator and/or a child sexual predator, the panel shall forward the determination and the recommendation for such designation to the sentencing court. The recommendation shall include the factual basis upon which the recommendation was based and shall include a copy of all information that was available to the panel during the evaluation process.

5. Upon receiving a recommendation from a panel, the sentencing court will review the recommendation that an offender is a sexually violent predator and/or a child predator.

6. If, after a contradictory hearing the sentencing court finds by clear and convincing evidence and renders a judicial determination that the offender is a sexually violent predator or a child sexual predator, the offender shall be ordered to comply with the following:

b. registration as a sex offender in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 15:542 et seq., for the duration of his natural life;

7. If a judicial determination is rendered that an offender is a sexually violent predator or a child sexual predator, the panel administrator shall notify the warden of the state facility where the offender is housed or the warden of the regional facility for offenders housed in local jail facilities of the designation, as well as the division of probation and parole.

8. Upon receipt of notification from the panel administrator, the warden of the state facility where the offender is housed or the warden of the regional facility for offenders housed in local jail facilities shall ensure that the sex offender pre-registration process is initiated in accordance with established procedures.

G. Electronic Monitoring of Child Sexual Predators or Sexually Violent Predators

1. Each offender determined by the court to be a child sexual predator and/or a sexually violent predator pursuant to the provisions of this regulation shall be required to be electronically monitored by the division of probation and parole in a fashion that provides for electronic location tracking.

2. Unless it is determined pursuant to established procedure that an offender is unable to pay all or any portion of the costs for electronic monitoring, each offender to be electronically monitored shall pay the cost of such monitoring.

3. The costs attributable to the electronic monitoring of an offender who has been determined unable to pay shall be borne by the department if, and only to the degree that sufficient funds are made available for such purpose whether by appropriation of state funds or from any other source.

4. Only in the case that an offender determined to be a child sexual predator and/or a sexual violent predator is unable to pay his own electronic monitoring costs, and there are no funds available to the department to pay for such monitoring, may the requirements of electronic monitoring be waived.

H. Notification of Release

1. The office of adult services shall notify the office of state police when a child sexual predator and/or sexually violent predator has been released from imprisonment. The Office of State Police shall then send out an alert by means of a predator alert system to local law enforcement officials to inform them of such releases.

I. Appeal of Decision

1. An offender determined to be a sexually violent predator and/or a child sexual predator may petition the court for a review of this determination not more than once every three years, provided that the sex offender is currently receiving treatment from a court or treatment provider approved by the department, and good cause for such reconsideration is shown by the offender.

2. If the court grants the petition for review and should the department be notified of the rehearing and the court's decision, the division of probation and parole shall document the case accordingly.

J. Rights of Action

1. Any employee who participates in the Louisiana sex offender assessment panels review process pursuant to this regulation shall be immune from civil or criminal liability when the actions taken are in good faith in a reasonable manner in accordance with generally accepted medical or other professional practices.

Chapter 2. Personnel

§201. Equal Employment Opportunity (Includes Americans with Disabilities Act)

A. Purpose—to establish the secretary's commitment to equal employment opportunities and to establish formal procedures regarding reasonable accommodation for all employees, applicants, candidates for employment (including qualified ex-offenders) and visitors.

B. Applicability—deputy secretary, undersecretary, chief of operations, assistant secretary, regional wardens, wardens, director of Probation and Parole, director of Prison Enterprises, employees, applicants, candidates for employment (including ex-offenders) and visitors. Each unit head is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy to assure equal opportunities to all employees, applicants, candidates for employment (including ex-offenders) and visitors without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, political affiliation, disability or age and ensure compliance with the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act as amended.

1. Exceptions:

a. where age, sex or physical requirements constitute a bona fide occupational qualification necessary for proper and efficient operations;

b. where the implications of nepotism restrict such employment or employment opportunity; and

c. preferential hiring will be given to veterans in accordance with Chapter 22 of the Civil Service rules.

2. Equal opportunities will be provided for employees in areas of compensation, benefits, promotion, recruitment, training and all other conditions of employment. Notices of equal employment opportunities will be posted in prominent accessible places at each employment location.

3. Equal access to programs, services and activities will be provided to all visitors. Advance notice of a requested accommodation shall be made during normal business hours to ensure availability at the time of the visit.

4. If any employee is made aware of or has reason to believe that a visitor to the unit is deaf or hard of hearing, the employee is required to advise the person that appropriate auxiliary aids and services will be provided. The employee should then direct the visitor to the unit ADA coordinator or designee. Likewise, such information must be forthcoming in response to any request for auxiliary aid or services.

5. Harassment, discrimination, or retaliating against an individual related to exercising or aiding in the exercise of ADA rights or for having a relationship or association with another individual with a known disability is prohibited.

D. Definitions

Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA)—a federal law to protect individuals 40 years of age and over from arbitrary discrimination in employment practices, unless age is a bona fide occupational qualification. The state of Louisiana has passed similar legislation and the term ADEA will refer to both federal and state prohibitions against age discrimination in this regulation.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)—a comprehensive federal law which requires the state to provide equal access for people with disabilities to programs, services and activities of the department, as well as to employment opportunities.

Applicant—a person who has applied for a job and whose qualification for such is unknown.

Auxiliary Aids and Services (AAS)—external aids used to assist people who are hearing-impaired and may include qualified sign language or oral interpreters, written materials, telephone handset amplifiers, assistive listening devices, telephones compatible with hearing aids, closed caption decoders, open and closed captioning, telecommunication devices for deaf persons (TDD/TTY), videotext displays or other effective methods of making aurally delivered materials available to individuals with hearing impairments.

Candidate—a person who has successfully passed the required test and/or meets the Civil Service minimum qualifications for the job sought.

Disability—a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of an individual, a record of such impairment, or being regarded as having such impairment.

a. Impairment—any physiological, mental or psychological disorder or condition, including those that are episodic or in remission, that substantially limits one or more major life activities when active.

b. Major Life Activities:

i. generally, caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, sitting, reaching, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, interacting with others and working; and

ii. the operation of a major bodily function, including functions of the immune system, special sense organs and skin; normal cell growth; and digestive, genitourinary, bowel, bladder, neurological, brain, respiratory, circulatory, cardiovascular, endocrine, hemic, lymphatic, musculoskeletal and reproductive functions. The operation of a major bodily function includes the operation of an individual organ within a body system.

Effective Communication—communication with persons with disabilities that is as effective as communication with others. Effective communication is achieved by furnishing appropriate auxiliary aids and services where necessary to afford qualified individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate in or benefit from the services, programs or activities of the department.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)—the operation of a system of human resources administration which ensures an environment that will provide an equal opportunity for public employment to all segments of society based on individual merit and fitness of applicants without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, political affiliation, disability or age (except where sex, age or physical requirements constitute a bona fide occupational qualification necessary to the proper and efficient operation of the department).

a. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) is the federal regulatory body for EEO related complaints and charges.

Essential Functions—the fundamental and primary job duties of a position. Considerations in determining whether a function is essential includes such factors as the written job description; whether the reason the position exists is to perform that function; the limited number of employees available to perform that function; and the degree of expertise required to perform the function.

Ex-Offender—those offenders who are no longer in the physical custody of the DPS and C or no longer under the supervision of the Division of Probation and Parole.

Family and Medical Leave—leave for which an employee may be eligible under the provisions of the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.

Reasonable Accommodation—

a. Under Title I, a modification or adjustment to the work environment that will enable a qualified individual with a disability to:

- i. participate in the testing, application and/or interview process;
- ii. perform the essential functions of the job; or
- iii. provide equal opportunity to the benefits and privileges of employment.

b. Under Title II, a modification that permits an individual with a disability to effectively communicate with the department and/or ensure equal opportunity relative to department's programs, services, activities and facilities.

Requestor—a person who requests an accommodation for a disability.

Seniority—a calculation of the number of years of service to the department and used in comparison to another employee's or applicant's number of years of service to the department. Seniority may be used as a factor in employment decisions but may never be used as a substitute for age discrimination.

Substantially Limits—an impairment that prevents the ability of an individual to perform one or more major life activities as compared to most people in the general population when taking into consideration factors such as the nature, severity, duration and long-term impact of the condition. Such consideration must be regardless of any mitigating measures such as modifications, auxiliary aids or medications used to lessen the effects of the condition (except for use of ordinary eyeglasses or contact lenses).

Undue Hardship—an accommodation that would be unduly costly, extensive, substantial or disruptive, in light of factors such as the size of the agency, the resources available and the nature of the agency's business operations.

Unit ADA Coordinator—the department representative responsible for facilitating the interactive evaluation process relative to any request for accommodation.

Visitor—for the purpose of this regulation, includes any non-departmental employee who is authorized to be on institutional grounds (i.e., volunteers, contractors, official guests, etc.).

E. Procedures

1. Coordination of ADA Matters

a. The secretary will establish and designate a headquarters ADA director. This employee is charged with reviewing, recording and monitoring ADA matters for the department and will also advise and make recommendations to the secretary or designee regarding such matters as appropriate.

b. Each unit head will designate a primary unit ADA coordinator to coordinate unit ADA matters. All units will prominently post the name and telephone number of the unit ADA coordinator.

2. Initiation of Requests for Accommodation

a. A qualified requestor with a known disability of a long term nature should be accommodated where reasonably possible, providing the accommodation does not constitute a danger to the requestor or others and does not create undue hardship on the department or its employees.

NOTE: If a requestor is an employee, applicant or a candidate for employment, the requestor must be able to perform the essential functions of the job with the accommodation.

b. The ADA does not require that a request for accommodation be provided in any particular manner; therefore, regardless of the form of the request, the department is deemed to have knowledge of the request.

c. If an employee, applicant or candidate for employment informs anyone in his chain of command, human resources personnel, or the unit ADA coordinator that he has difficulty performing his job duties or participating in a program or service due to a medical condition, the employee, applicant or candidate for employment is deemed to have made a request for accommodation.

d. If a visitor informs an employee that he cannot participate in the visiting process or any other program or service that the visitor is entitled to participate in, the visitor is deemed to have made a request for accommodation.

e. Once any request for accommodation has been received, either verbally or in writing, the person receiving the request should immediately relay the request to the unit ADA coordinator or designee.

f. An employee, applicant, candidate for employment (including ex-offenders) or visitor may complete a request for accommodation form. The requestor completing the form must forward it to the unit ADA coordinator for processing.

3. Accommodation Review Process

a. Upon receipt of the completed request for accommodation the unit ADA coordinator shall seek to determine the following:

i. if the medical condition is of a temporary or long-term nature;

ii. if additional medical information is needed from the requestor's physician or through a second opinion. At this point of the process, the unit ADA coordinator may inform the requestor that his doctor must complete an essential function form to determine the following:

NOTE: The Index of Essential Job Functions contains the Essential Functions Form for each job category used by the department. The index is maintained in each unit Human Resources Office.

(a). what specific symptoms and functional limitations are creating barriers;

(b). if the limitations are predictable, subject to change, stable or progressive;

(c). how the limitations impact the requestor's ability to perform the job, and for visitors, how the limitations impact the requestor's ability to fully participate in the activities and services to which the requestor is entitled;

iii. if the condition impairs a major life activity.

b. If questions remain, staff may contact the requestor's treating physician directly.

c. The unit ADA coordinator shall ensure that a formal request is submitted on a request for accommodation form and provide assistance as needed.

d. Once the initial information is gathered, a dialogue between the requestor and unit ADA coordinator regarding resolution of the problem shall begin.

e. The discussion may include the following matters.

i. If the problem is of a temporary nature, use of FMLA or sick leave, Workman's Compensation or a temporary halt of some job duties may resolve the problem.

ii. If a second medical opinion is needed, this is to be performed at the department's cost with a physician of the department's choosing.

iii. If the medical condition is deemed to be a qualified disability, this decision shall be documented.

NOTE: Due to the nature of a disability, the disability may progress and require additional modifications at a later date.

iv. The goal is to reach a mutually acceptable accommodation, if possible. The secretary or designee shall make the final decision on what the actual accommodation will be.

f. An exception to the need to make an accommodation includes, but is not limited to the following:

i. not a qualified disability;

ii. threat to one's self or others. Considerations are as follows:

(a). duration of the risk involved;

(b). nature and severity of the potential harm;

(c). likelihood that potential harm will occur;

(e). availability of any reasonable accommodation that might reduce or eliminate the risk;

iii. undue hardship. The decision to use this exception may be made by the headquarters ADA director only after consultation with the undersecretary. A written description of the problem with the requested accommodation and the difficulty anticipated by the unit should be sent to the headquarters ADA director. Considerations are as follows:

(d). longevity of the accommodation;

iv. alteration would fundamentally change the nature of the program, service or activity.

4. Decision

a. Consideration should be given on a case-by-case basis.

b. The granting of leave can be an accommodation.

c. Once the decision to accommodate or not is made, the requestor shall be informed in writing of the decision of whether or not an accommodation will be made, the reason for the decision and the accommodation to be made, if applicable, including any specific details concerning the accommodation. The requestor must also be informed of the right to appeal the decision to the headquarters ADA director.

i. For each decision, a copy of the packet of information containing the decision, all information used to reach the decision and all attempts to resolve the request shall be forwarded to the headquarters ADA director. The unit ADA coordinator shall ensure that all requests for accommodation are properly and timely entered into the department's ADA database within five days of receiving the request.

d. The original of the packet of information concerning the request with the decision shall be maintained in a confidential file for three years after the requestor has left the department's employ or notification has been received that a requestor no longer wishes to be afforded visitor status.

5. Appeal

a. The requestor has the right to appeal the unit's decision for the following reasons only:

- i. the finding that the medical condition is not a qualifying disability;
- ii. the denial of an accommodation; or
- iii. the nature of the accommodation.

b. The requestor shall forward the appeal of the unit's decision to the headquarters ADA director.

c. At the discretion of the headquarters ADA director, additional information or medical documentation may be requested.

d. After consultation with the undersecretary, the headquarters ADA director shall issue a written appeal decision to the requestor, a copy of which shall also be sent to the appropriate unit head and unit ADA coordinator.

e. No additional appeal will be accepted as the headquarters ADA director's decision shall be final.

6. Recordkeeping

a. The headquarters ADA director shall maintain records of all requests for accommodation made throughout the department.

b. To ensure uniform and consistent compliance with the provisions of this regulation, the headquarters ADA director shall maintain and track statistics concerning all requests for accommodation from employees, applicants, candidates for employment and visitors and the nature and outcome of the accommodations requested.

c. If a pattern becomes apparent following review of the statistics, the headquarters ADA director will seek to remedy and/or correct any problems noted and report same to the secretary.

7. Essential Job Functions

a. General Requirements

i. Employment candidates must complete an essential job functions statement at the time of interview for employment and/or return to employment. Employees may be required to complete an up-to-date essential functions form as appropriate and when deemed necessary by the unit head in order to ensure that the fundamental mission of the department is sustained.

ii. The index of essential job functions contains the essential functions form for each job category used by the department. The index is maintained in each unit human resources office.

b. Employee and Unit Specific Requirements. Employees may be required to complete an up-to-date essential job functions statement and medical inquiry form in the following or similar circumstances:

i. exhaustion of sick leave and if applicable, exhaustion of FMLA entitlement;

ii. expressed inability to participate in a mandatory work-related activity (i.e., training) and/or to perform essential job functions; and/or

iii. appearance of the inability to perform essential job functions.

iv. The medical inquiry form must include a prognosis, whether the condition is temporary or permanent, when the condition began, the expected date of return to duty, whether the employee is able to perform the essential functions of the job with or without accommodation and a description of the accommodation needed.

NOTE: In certain situations, a second opinion by an independent third party may be appropriate. This opinion will be at the unit's expense.

8. Conciliation Options for EEO and ADA Concerns

a. Should a requestor feel that he has experienced discrimination in any manner or not be satisfied with the results of the request for accommodation, he may seek conciliation through Corrections Services' grievance process, through the EEOC for employment related complaints and/or the U.S. Department of Justice (USDOJ) for issues not related to employment.

b. Requestors are encouraged to use the internal procedures to address and resolve complaints to the extent possible. Use of these internal procedures does not restrict a requestor from filing with the appropriate federal agency prior to exhaustion of the department's internal process(es).

9. Departmental Conciliation of EEO and ADA Matters

a. The headquarters Human Resources Section shall coordinate the department's response(s) to complaints and charges of discrimination regarding equal employment opportunity matters. Complaints/charges may be addressed through the internal grievance procedure when such a grievance has been filed and heard at the appropriate unit levels.

b. For formal charges generated by the EEOC or the USDOJ, the unit head and the applicable unit's attorney will develop the department's response and conciliation opinion (if applicable.) Any unit receiving a "notice of charge of discrimination" document from the EEOC or similar notice from the USDOJ shall forward the notice to the headquarters legal services upon receipt.

10. Employment Applications of Ex-Offenders

a. All applications for employment received from persons who are ex-offenders will be reviewed by a committee appointed by the secretary. The committee shall be composed of the chief of operations or designee, assistant secretary or designee and the headquarters human resources director or designee. Consideration will be given to the unit head's recommendation, the ex-offender's crime, sentence, institutional record and length of time free from other convictions. The committee's recommendations will then be submitted to the secretary or designee for review with the unit head.

b. Ex-offenders will not be eligible for employment in positions which require an employee to carry a firearm in the performance of duty. This restriction is based on applicable Civil Service job qualifications and state and federal law.

11. Employee Voluntary Self-Identification

a. All employees, at the time of employment and every five years thereafter, shall complete a voluntary self-identification of disability form for effective data collection and analysis of the percentage of individuals with disabilities employed by the department. This form only requests disclosure regarding whether an employee has a disability without reference to, or identification of, the actual impairment, disability, or medical condition.

12. Training

a. The department shall provide comprehensive annual training for all departmental personnel regarding this regulation.

b. All supervisor shall receive a minimum of one hour of education and training on the ADA within 90 days of hire or appointment to a supervisory position, and every three years thereafter.

c. ADA coordinators shall receive a minimum of one hour of education and training on the ADA within 90 days of hire or appointment to the role of ADA agency coordinator and every three years thereafter.

13. Additional information pertaining to EEO, ADA and ADEA is available in any human resources office.

§207. Drug-Free Workplace

A. Purpose—to provide a comprehensive program of substance abuse education and to establish guidelines for employee drug and alcohol testing.

B. Applicability—deputy secretary, undersecretary, chief of operations, regional wardens, wardens, director of probation and parole, and director of prison enterprises. Each unit head is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation and for conveying its contents to all concerned.

C. Policy. Substance abuse is a major contributor to criminal activity and is particularly detrimental to the department’s mission to provide for the safety of employees and the public. Employees who engage in substance abuse may not be able to perform the essential functions of their positions and may be less likely to enforce policies and procedures effectively to control or to prevent illicit drug and alcohol use by other employees and offenders. Therefore, it is the secretary’s policy to promote increased employee awareness of substance abuse and to achieve and maintain a workplace free of drugs and alcohol.

D. Definitions

CAP-FUDT-Certified Laboratory—a laboratory certified for forensic urine testing by the College of American Pathologists.

Collection Site—a designated place for the employee to provide a urine specimen to be analyzed for the presence of drugs.

Custodian of Records—a staff person responsible for the maintenance, care, and keeping of records related to drug and alcohol testing, including the date of such test, the name of the person performing the test, the number of tests performed, and a summary of the results of each type of test.

Drug Testing—

a. for the purpose of this regulation, drug testing is comprised of two components:

i. preliminary analysis (using the testing instrument available on the current contract issued by the procurement and contractual review division and approved by the secretary); and

ii. formal testing;

b. the application of formal testing may be contingent upon the results of the preliminary analysis. Alcohol testing consists only of administering the approved test and replicating any positive results.

Employee—any individual employed by or appointed to a position with corrections services (including student workers) or by an outside agency or provider or any individual under contract with corrections services who works in an institution or division.

a. This does not necessarily confer “employment” status on independent contractors or employees of outside agencies but serves to define a class of people who are subject to participation in the drug-free workplace program.

Formal Testing—a second analytical procedure following a positive result on a preliminary analysis to identify the presence of a specific drug which is independent of the preliminary analysis using a different technique and/or chemical principle. Formal testing is conducted by a CAP-FUDT or SAMSHA-certified laboratory.

Hemp—as defined by 7 U.S. Code §1639(1), the term hemp means the plant Cannabis sativa L. and any part of that plant, including the seeds thereof and all derivatives, extracts, cannabinoids, isomers, acids, salts, and salts of isomers, whether growing or not, with a delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol concentration of not more than 0.3 percent on a dry weight basis.

Marijuana—as defined by 21 U.S. Code §802(16), all parts of the plant Cannabis sativa L. with a delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) concentration of greater than 0.3 percent on a dry weight basis, whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of such plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant, its seeds or resin. The term marijuana does not include hemp as defined by 7 U.S. Code §1639.

Medical Review Officer (MRO)—a licensed physician designated by the unit head who is responsible for receiving positive preliminary analysis results. The MRO must possess knowledge of substance abuse disorders and appropriate medical training to determine and evaluate an individual’s positive result together with his medical history and other relevant biomedical information.

Offender—anyone in the physical custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections or under the supervision of the Division of Probation and Parole.

Preliminary Analysis—an immunoassay screen to detect the presence of drugs or metabolites using approved drug testing instruments. (See Paragraph H.1 for additional information.) The results of the preliminary analysis are to be used solely to indicate the need for additional formal testing, except for those who are being tested for pre-employment purposes. In this case, when the preliminary analysis is positive, it shall be sufficient cause to either remove the prospective employee from consideration for employment or appointment or be cause for conducting formal testing. If formal testing is conducted and the result is positive, this shall be cause for the prospective employee’s elimination from consideration for employment or appointment.

Prospective Employee—any person who has made an application to an employer, whether written or oral, to become an employee.

Safety/Security Sensitive Position—any job which directly or indirectly affects the safety and security of others. For the purpose of this regulation, safety/security sensitive positions are those which involve direct contact with offenders and those having access to confidential information relative to the care, confinement, or supervision of offenders.

SAMSHA-Certified Laboratory—a laboratory certified for forensic drug testing by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

SAMSHA Guidelines—the mandatory guidelines for federal workplace drug testing programs as published in the Federal Register on April 11, 1988 (53 FR 11970), revised on June 9, 1994 (59 FR 29908), further revised on September 30, 1997 (62 FR 51118) and any further revised guidelines issued by SAMSHA.

Unit Head—the head of an operational unit, specifically, the undersecretary, warden, director of probation and parole, and director of prison enterprises.

Each employee is responsible for refraining from illegal or prohibited use, possession, sale or manufacture of controlled substances and from reporting to work or working while under the influence of alcohol, illegal or prohibited drugs or impaired by prescription drugs.

2. For the purpose of this regulation, illegal or prohibited use of a controlled substance shall include any detection of marijuana or THC regardless of the source of its detection, whether obtained through a physician's recommendation in accordance with R.S. 40:1046, purchased over-the-counter legally according to the laws of this state or any other state, or otherwise. Marijuana and THC remain Schedule I controlled substances under the Controlled Substances Act. Therefore, any detection of marijuana or THC on a drug test shall be considered a violation of this regulation.

F. Type of Testing

1. Pre-Employment. Drug testing shall be conducted prior to employment. (See Section D for additional information.) The unit human resources office is responsible for ensuring all new employees are given a copy of this regulation upon hire. All new employees shall sign and date the receipt of drug-free workplace regulation. A copy of this form shall be maintained in the employee's personnel file.

2. Reasonable Suspicion/Probable Cause. Reasonable suspicion/probable cause screening and subsequent testing, as appropriate, may be based on:

a. observable phenomena, such as direct observation of drug use or possession and/or the physical symptoms of being under the influence of a drug or alcohol or when the odor of alcohol, marijuana smoke, or other substance is present;

b. abnormal conduct or erratic behavior;

c. arrest or conviction for a drug or alcohol-related offense, or the identification of an employee as the focus of a

e. newly discovered evidence that the employee tampered with a previous drug or alcohol test;

f. credible allegation or confirmation of involvement in a significant violation of policy in which judgment may have been impaired.

3. Post Accident/Incident

a. An employee shall be subject to drug and alcohol testing following an accident or incident that occurs during the course and scope of their employment if the employee's action or inaction may have been a causative factor and such incident:

i. involves circumstances leading to a reasonable suspicion of the employee's drug or alcohol use or impairment;

ii. results in a fatality; or

iii. results in or causes the release of hazardous waste as defined in R.S. 30:2173(2) or hazardous materials as defined in R.S. 32:1502(5).

b. An employee who is involved in an accident or incident that results in bodily injury or property damage may be subject to drug and alcohol testing.

c. Should an employee refuse after being directed to submit to drug or alcohol testing as a result of an accident or incident, impairment shall be legally presumed under R.S. 23:1081 and state of Louisiana workers' compensation law benefits may be denied.

4. Rehabilitative. Staff testing positive without a legitimate explanation and whose employment is not terminated, or staff who notify their supervisor that they elect to participate for the purpose of substance use rehabilitation, shall be subject to participation in a rehabilitation program. As a condition for returning to work after participating in such a program, the employee must agree to follow-up testing on a random basis for up to 48 months. Additionally, medical professionals who are participating in a rehabilitation program, substance abuse aftercare program or who have a documented substance abuse history must agree to periodic drug/alcohol testing throughout the course of their employment.

5. Random. All employees who occupy safety/security sensitive positions (as defined in this regulation) shall be subject to random drug testing. On a monthly basis, a list of employee numbers representing at least 5 percent of a unit's employees shall be selected at random by a computer-generated selection process. This list shall be provided to each institution, the Division of Probation and Parole, Division of Prison Enterprises and headquarters.

a. The Office of the Undersecretary shall generate the list of employee numbers at the prescribed interval and ensure that the lists are distributed directly to each unit head.

i. (Alternatively, if a unit has a drug-testing services contract with a CAP-FUDT or SAMSHA-certified laboratory, the production of this list may be included as part of those services.)

b. Unit heads shall establish a policy for matching the employee numbers to employee names, notification of selected employees, recording of test results, and other appropriate procedures as needed.

c. All tests shall be conducted during the selected employees' work hours; no employee shall be called in on his day/night off specifically for the purpose of a random drug test.

d. The conduct of this program shall be in accordance with Subsection H of this Section.

6. Promotion. Drug testing shall be conducted not more than 14 days prior to promotion.

G. Substances to be Tested

1. In accordance with R.S. 49:1002 and R.S. 49:1005, drug testing may be performed for any of the following classes of drugs:

- a. marijuana or THC;
- b. opiates;
- c. cocaine;
- d. amphetamines; and
- e. phencyclidine in the random testing or preliminary testing process.

2. This does not preclude testing for any other drugs, including other controlled substances defined in 21 U.S.C. 812, Schedules I, II, III, IV, and alcohol, or abused prescription medication.

H. Conduct of the Drug Testing Program

1. Preliminary Analysis

a. The testing instrument available on the current contract issued by the procurement and contractual review division and approved by the secretary shall be utilized as a preliminary analysis to determine the need for further testing, but may not be used as the basis for any disciplinary action or other adverse action. The collection process shall be done on-site by unit staff who have received the appropriate training. (Formal testing may be utilized initially in lieu of preliminary analysis when the unit head or designee determines that this is the most efficient method.)

b. When the test produces a positive result, the MRO shall be notified. The MRO shall obtain a list of medication used by the employee at the time of the test and shall give the employee the opportunity to provide a medical history and/or discuss the test results.

i. The use of marijuana or THC, regardless of the source of its detection, whether obtained through a physician's recommendation in accordance with R.S. 40:1046, purchased over-the-counter legally according to the laws of this state or any other state, or otherwise, shall not be considered a valid medical explanation for the purposes of the MRO's review. Marijuana and THC remain Schedule I controlled substances under the Controlled Substances Act. Therefore, any detection of marijuana or THC on a drug test shall be considered a violation of this regulation.

c. Upon review and evaluation of all available information, the MRO shall determine the need for formal testing.

d. If formal testing is deemed necessary by the MRO, the employee shall be escorted to a collection site by a unit staff person.

e. Pursuant to Paragraph D of this Section, it is not mandatory that the MRO review the results of a pre-employment preliminary analysis which results in a positive finding.

f. All employee preliminary testing shall be reported on the employee drug/alcohol field test.

2. Formal Testing

a. Formal testing shall be conducted by a CAP-FUDT or SAMSHA-certified laboratory and shall be performed in compliance with SAMSHA guidelines.

b. All urine specimens for drug testing shall be collected, stored and transported in strict accordance with SAMSHA guidelines. The cut off limits for drug testing shall also be in accordance with SAMSHA guidelines with the exception of initial testing for marijuana. The initial cut off level for marijuana shall be no less than 50 nanograms/ML and no more than 100 nanograms/ML as specified by the testing entity.

c. In the event of a positive result on a formal drug test, the laboratory's staff shall provide a copy of the results to the employee and to the unit head.

I. Conduct of the Alcohol Testing Program

1. Pursuant to established policy and procedures, employees are prohibited from reporting for or being on duty under the influence of alcohol or other intoxicants (or when the odor or effect is noticeable). Towards this end, employees may be required to submit to alcohol testing while on duty under circumstances defined in Subsection F.

2. A portable breathalyzer or other instrument and approved by the secretary shall be used to determine a violation of this regulation. In the event of a positive reading on the portable breathalyzer, a second test shall be conducted.

3. The alcohol test can be administered only by those persons specifically authorized by the unit head and who have been trained in the use of the testing instrument(s).

J. Training Required. A minimum of one hour of training per year on the effects and consequences of controlled substance abuse on personal health and safety at the workplace and indicators of substance use or abuse is required for all full time employees.

K. Record Keeping and Reporting Requirements

1. The custodian of records designated by each unit head shall maintain a record of each employee who has submitted to a drug or alcohol test, the date of such test, the name of the person performing the test, the number of tests performed and a summary of the results of each type of test.

2. All test results shall be retained for a minimum of three years after the employee resigns, retires or is dismissed from employment.

3. Pursuant to R.S. 49:1012, all information, interviews, reports, statements, memoranda and/or test results received through the unit's drug testing program are confidential communications and may not be used or received in evidence, obtained in discovery or disclosed in any public hearing or private proceedings, except in an administrative or disciplinary proceeding or hearing, or civil litigation where drug use by the tested individual is relevant. All such confidential information shall be maintained in a secure manner.

4. A monthly report utilizing the employee drug testing report of drug testing activities shall be compiled by the headquarters human resources office for submission in the AM-I-4 report.

5. By November 1 of each year, each unit's business office shall submit a report to the headquarters human resources office detailing the number of employees affected by the drug testing program, the categories of testing conducted, the associated costs of testing and the effectiveness of the program. In conjunction with the undersecretary's office, the headquarters human resources office shall compile the department's annual employee drug testing report for submission to the Division of Administration annually by December 1.

L. Impaired Ability Due to Prescription or Over the Counter Medication

1. Employees in safety/security sensitive positions are required to notify their immediate supervisor when they are taking medication which may affect their ability to perform the essential functions of the job prior to the start of their work day/shift.

2. Upon notification, supervisors must immediately contact the unit's MRO or designee to determine if the employee can safely perform the job duties while under the influence of the stated medication.

3. Employees who may cause a direct threat to the safety and security of the public, staff or offender population while under the influence of such medication shall not be allowed to complete the workday and shall be placed in enforced sick leave.

M. Violation of this Regulation

1. The disciplinary penalties and guidelines shall be utilized in the administration of this regulation. Refusal to submit to testing may result in disciplinary action. Formal testing with positive results may be cause for initiation of disciplinary action.

2. When confirmed positive formal test results do not result in termination, referral to the employee assistance program or other individual or agency equipped to coordinate accessibility to substance abuse education or counseling is appropriate and may be made.

3. Any time there is a reasonable suspicion that any employee is impaired and could be a direct threat or cannot safely perform their essential functions due to the use of drugs (prescribed or other) or alcohol consumption, the employee shall be immediately removed from the employee's workstation and taken to a secure location (away from any possible contact with offenders) for preliminary or formal testing.

4. If any employee tests positive for drugs or alcohol during either the random, preliminary or formal testing, the employee will be placed on appropriate leave status and escorted off the premises. If impaired, assistance shall be provided to ensure the employee is transported to a safe location. The employee shall not be allowed to return to work until the condition is resolved or no earlier than the next scheduled workday if the unit head or designee so approves the return to work.

Therefore, it is the secretary's policy to respect the prohibition against unreasonable searches while acting in the public interest to halt the flow of contraband into correctional facilities under the jurisdiction of the department through implementation of a policy regarding visitor searches. Such searches shall be conducted in a professional manner that minimizes indignity to the visitor while still accomplishing the objective of the search. Only staff trained in effective search techniques shall conduct searches.

However, institutional officials must point to specific objective facts and rational inferences that they are entitled to draw from those facts. Absent reasonable suspicion directed toward an individual, these searches are prohibited. (The consent of a visitor to such a search does not make the search permissible, absent reasonable suspicion directed toward the visitor.)

A record of the disposition of all contraband shall be maintained for the greater of either three years or the completion of any criminal proceedings arising from the incident.

2. Staff who are aware of or have reason to believe that an offender has a disability for which he may need accommodation are required to advise the unit ADA coordinator, who will evaluate the circumstances to determine if auxiliary aids and services and reasonable accommodations are required.

D. Definitions

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)—a comprehensive federal law which requires the state to provide equal access for people with disabilities to programs, services and activities of the department.

Auxiliary Aids and Services—external aids used to assist people who are hearing-impaired and may include qualified sign language or oral interpreters, written materials, telephone handset amplifiers, assistive listening devices, telephones compatible with hearing aids, closed caption decoders, open and closed captioning, telecommunication devices for deaf persons (TDD/TTY), videotext displays or other effective methods of making aurally delivered materials available to individuals with hearing impairments.

Disability—a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of an individual, including a record of such impairment or being regarded as having such impairment.

Effective Communication—communication with persons with disabilities that is as effective as communication with others. Effective communication is achieved by furnishing appropriate auxiliary aids and services where necessary to afford qualified individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate in or benefit from the services, programs or activities of the department.

Major Life Activity—walking, seeing, hearing, breathing, caring for one's self, sitting, standing, lifting, learning, thinking, working and reproduction. This list is illustrative only. The impairment to a major live activity must be long term.

Offender—anyone committed to the physical custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections or under the supervision of the Division of Probation and Parole.

Qualified Interpreter—an interpreter who is able to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary.

a. An employee who signs "pretty well" or has only a rudimentary familiarity with sign language or finger spelling is not a qualified sign language interpreter pursuant to this regulation. Likewise, someone who is fluent in sign language but who does not possess the ability to process spoken communication into the proper signs or to observe someone else signing and change their signed or finger spelled communication into spoken words is not a qualified sign language interpreter. A departmental employee should not be allowed to interpret if his presence poses a conflict of interest or raises confidentiality and privacy concerns. On occasion, an offender may possess the skill level necessary to provide interpreting services; however, the impartially concerns remain, and in many, if not most, situations, offender interpreters should not be used due to confidentiality, privacy and security reasons.

Reasonable Accommodation—a modification or adjustment to a job, service, program or activity, etc that enables a qualified individual with a disability to have an equal opportunity for participation.

Requestor—a person who requests an accommodation for a disability.

E. Procedures

1. Initiation of Requests for Accommodation

a. A qualified individual with a known disability of a long term nature should be accommodated where reasonably possible. A request for accommodation may be filed orally or in writing.

b. An offender with a disability may be able to function in the unit without any accommodation other than that which may already have been provided. If not, the offender may request accommodation.

c. The ADA does not require that a request for accommodation be provided in any particular manner; therefore, the department is charged with having knowledge, or deemed with having knowledge, of the request regardless of the form of the request.

d. The department has in place a formal grievance mechanism through which an offender may seek formal review of a complaint relative to any request for reasonable accommodation.

e. An offender may submit a written request for accommodation through the ARP process or staff shall direct or assist the offender to write his request if the request is made verbally.

f. The ADA block on the ARP form shall be checked by the ARP screening officer and directed to the unit ADA coordinator.

2. Accommodation Review Process

a. Upon receipt of a request for accommodation, the unit ADA coordinator shall seek to determine the following:

i. if the medical condition is of a temporary or long-term nature;

ii. if additional medical information is needed. At this point of the process, the unit ADA coordinator may request that the unit medical director determine the following:

(a). what specific symptoms and functional limitations are creating barriers;

(b). if the limitations are predictable, subject to change, stable or progressive;

(c) how the limitations impact the offender's ability to fully participate in the activities and services provided;

iii. whether the condition complained of impairs a major life activity.

b. Once the initial information is gathered, a dialogue between the requestor and the unit ADA coordinator regarding resolution of the problem shall begin.

NOTE: It may take only a change in duty status to resolve the problem.

c. An exception to the need to make an accommodation includes, but is not limited to, the following:

i. not a qualified disability;

ii. threat to one's self or others. Considerations include:

(a). duration of the risk involved;

(b). nature and severity of the potential harm;

(c). likelihood the potential harm will occur;

(d). imminence of the potential harm;

(e). availability of any reasonable accommodation that might reduce or eliminate the risk;

iii. undue hardship. The decision to use this exception can only be made by the headquarters ADA coordinator after consultation with appropriate personnel. A written description of the problem with the requested accommodation and the difficulty anticipated by the unit should be sent to the headquarters ADA coordinator. Considerations include the following:

(a). scope of the accommodation;

(b). cost of the accommodation;

(c). budget of the department;

(d). longevity of the accommodation;

iv. alteration would fundamentally change the nature of the service, program or activity.

3. Decision

a. Consideration should be given on a case-by-case basis.

b. Once the decision to accommodate or not is made, the requestor must be informed in writing of the decision of whether or not an accommodation will be made, the reason for the decision and the accommodation to be made, if applicable, including any specific details concerning the accommodation. This decision shall be conveyed through the ARP First Step Process. The requestor shall also be informed of the right to appeal the decision through the ARP process.

i. For each decision, a copy of the packet of information containing the decision, all information used to reach a decision and all attempts to resolve the request shall be forwarded to the headquarters ADA coordinator. The unit ADA coordinator shall ensure that all requests for accommodation are properly and timely entered into the department's ADA database.

4. Appeal

a. The offender has the right to appeal to the second step in accordance with the ARP process.

b. The ARP response shall be issued in conjunction with the headquarters ADA coordinator and shall contain the relevant issues raised in Subparagraphs E.2.a, b and c.

5. Recordkeeping

a. The Headquarters ADA coordinator shall maintain records of all requests for accommodation made throughout the department.

b. To ensure uniform and consistent compliance with the provisions of this regulation, the headquarters ADA coordinator shall maintain and track statistics concerning all requests for accommodation from offenders and the nature and outcome of the accommodations requested.

c. If a pattern becomes apparent following review of the statistics, the headquarters ADA coordinator shall seek to remedy and/or correct any problems noted and report same to the secretary.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 49:950.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, LR 35:2189 (October 2009).

§312. Effective Communication with the Hearing Impaired

A. Purpose. To establish procedures to provide auxiliary aids and services whenever necessary to ensure effective communication with qualified individuals with disabilities.

B. Applicability. Deputy Secretary, Undersecretary, Chief of Operations, Assistant Secretary, Regional Wardens, Wardens, Director of Probation and Parole, Director of Prison Enterprises, offenders, employees and visitors who are hearing-impaired. Each unit head is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy to ensure that communication with offenders, employees and visitors with disabilities is to the same extent as communicating with others. The department shall furnish appropriate auxiliary aids and services where necessary to afford an individual with a disability an equal opportunity to participate in, and enjoy the benefits of, a service, program or activity conducted by the department where the auxiliary aids or services does not constitute an undue administrative and financial burden or fundamentally alter the service, program, or activity. Any male offender whose hearing cannot be restored to a "within normal limits" medical level with an auxiliary aid will be housed at either the Louisiana State Penitentiary (LSP) or Rayburn Correctional Center (RCC). Any female offender whose hearing cannot be restored to a "within normal limits" medical level with an auxiliary aid will be housed at the Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (LCIW.)

D. Definitions

Effective communication is achieved by furnishing appropriate auxiliary aids and services where necessary to afford qualified individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate in or benefit from the services, programs and activities of the department.

Major Life Activity—walking, seeing, hearing, breathing, caring for one's self, sitting, standing, lifting, learning, thinking, working and reproduction. This list is illustrative only. The impairment to a major life activity must be long term.

Offender—anyone committed to the physical custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections or under the supervision of the Division of Probation and Parole.

Qualified Interpreter—an interpreter who is able to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary.

NOTE: An employee who signs "pretty well" or has only a rudimentary familiarity with sign language or finger spelling is not a qualified sign language interpreter pursuant to this regulation. Likewise, someone who is fluent in sign language but who does not possess the ability to process spoken communication into the proper signs or to observe someone else signing and change their signed or finger spelled communication into spoken words is not a qualified sign language interpreter. A departmental employee should not be allowed to interpret if his presence poses a conflict of interest or raises confidentiality and privacy concerns. On occasion, an offender may possess the skill level necessary to provide interpreting services; however, the impartially concerns remain, and in many-if not most-situations, offender interpreters should not be used due to confidentiality, privacy and security reasons.

E. Procedures

1. Establishment of Auxiliary Aids and Services (AAS) Program. The department shall design and institute a program to provide auxiliary aids and services, schedule, announce and promote all training required, and draft, provide and maintain all reports as required by this regulation.

2. Designation of an official or office responsible for AAS.

a. Each unit ADA coordinator will be responsible for the AAS Program and shall maintain all necessary information about access to and the operation of the program.

b. LSP, RCC and LCIW unit ADA coordinators shall maintain a combination voice, TDD/TTY telephone line or dedicated TDD/TTY telephone line and shall publicize the purpose and telephone number broadly within the unit and to the public.

c. Each unit ADA coordinator shall provide appropriate assistance regarding immediate access to, and proper use of, the appropriate auxiliary aids and services available. It is the responsibility of the unit ADA coordinators to know where the appropriate auxiliary aids are stored, how to obtain services and how to operate them and shall facilitate maintenance, repair, replacement and distribution.

d. Each unit ADA coordinator shall maintain a recording system for inquiries regarding the provision of auxiliary aids and services and the response.

3. Provision of Appropriate Auxiliary Aids and Services

a. The department shall provide to offenders, employees and visitors who are deaf or hearing-impaired an appropriate auxiliary aid or service that may be necessary for effective communication as soon as practicable after determining that the aid or service is necessary.

b. The determination of which appropriate auxiliary aids and services are necessary and the timing, duration and frequency with which they will be provided shall be made by unit personnel, who are otherwise primarily responsible for coordinating and/or providing offender services, in consultation with the person with a disability. When an auxiliary aid or service is required to ensure effective communication, the unit shall provide an opportunity for an individual with a disability to request the auxiliary aid or service of the requestor's choice and shall give consideration to the choice expressed, but shall have the final decision regarding the accommodation to be provided.

c. The initial offender communication assessment shall be made at the time of the intake interview at a reception and diagnostic center or other appropriate classification center within 48 hours of arrival. Properly trained staff shall perform and document a communication assessment to determine the offender's level of effective communication. This assessment shall be conducted by an outside provider or departmental staff, barring any unusual or emergency condition within 10 weeks from the initial assessment. The written assessment shall be made a part of the offender's master prison record.

i. During the initial communication assessment, each offender shall be given a Request for Accommodation Form. This form shall also be made available to the current offender population. Offenders are free to reject or to fail to request auxiliary aids and services, but failure to use the designated form does not relieve the reception center/institution of its duty to assess the offender, nor to inform the offender of the availability of appropriate auxiliary aids and services. Refusal or failure by an offender to complete or return the Request for Accommodation shall not constitute a violation of the ADA or of the Resolution Agreement by the department.

ii. If the initial assessment reveals that an offender's hearing is below normal limits as defined by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, a male offender shall be transferred to LSP for continuation and completion of the classification process.

d. Each unit shall conduct a minimum of a yearly assessment of each offender with hearing or speech disability regarding the provision of appropriate auxiliary aids and services. If an intervening problem or adjustment is required, the offender shall request a medical call-out. Each unit shall maintain appropriate documentation that reflects the ongoing assessments. The information shall be filed in the offender's medical record.

4. Nothing in this regulation shall require that an electronic device or piece of equipment used as an appropriate auxiliary aid be used when or where its use may be inconsistent with other departmental regulations or unit policies or when use may pose security concerns. (For example, closed-captioned televisions are provided consistently for offenders with hearing disabilities with the same duration and frequency as televisions are provided to the other offenders classified in the same status. No offender will be provided a television if his status would not otherwise permit access.)

5. The department shall maintain an effective complaint resolution mechanism regarding the provision of auxiliary aids and services. Records shall be kept of all complaints filed and actions taken in response. All complaints shall be handled through each unit ADA coordinator and the grievance systems currently in effect. The warden designated to oversee the operation of the ADA Program at each institution or division shall conduct a meaningful review of this regulation on a semi-annual basis.

6. If an offender who is deaf or hearing-impaired does not request appropriate auxiliary aids or services, but departmental and/or unit personnel have reason to believe that the offender would benefit from appropriate auxiliary aids or services, the offender may be asked if the use of auxiliary aids would be beneficial and initiate the testing procedure without violating ADA.

F. Qualified Interpreters

1. The department shall provide qualified sign language or oral interpreters when necessary for effective communication with, or effective participation in, departmental programs and activities by employees, offenders and visitors who are deaf or hearing-impaired. In addition, the department shall offer qualified sign language interpreters to offenders who are deaf or hearing-impaired and whose primary means of communication is sign language and qualified oral interpreters to offenders who rely primarily on lip reading, as necessary, for effective communication.

a. The following are examples of circumstances when it may be necessary to provide interpreters:

- i. initial intake and classification processing;
- ii. regularly scheduled health care appointments and programs, such as medical, dental, visual, mental health and drug and alcohol recovery services;
- iii. emergency health care where having an interpreter would not present an undue burden (e.g., interpreter can arrive at the scene quickly);
- iv. treatment and other formal programming;
- v. educational classes and activities;
- vi. parole board hearings;
- vii. disciplinary board hearings;
- viii. criminal investigations (to the extent controlled by the department);
- ix. classification review interviews;
- x. grievance interviews;

- xi. religious services; and
- xii. formal internal investigations.

2. The department shall establish a contract with individual sign language interpreters or with interpretive agencies for hearing impaired offenders, employees or visitors who require this service, or shall provide other effective means to ensure that qualified interpreters or oral interpreters are provided within three hours of an unscheduled request and timely for scheduled requests. Additionally, as a back-up measure, the headquarters ADA coordinator shall maintain a list of all qualified sign language and oral interpreters (and their contact information) residing or working within a 50-mile radius of any unit housing deaf or hearing-impaired offenders. The headquarters ADA coordinator shall provide this information to the unit ADA coordinators at LSP, RCC and LCIW.

NOTE: The department shall ensure by contract or other arrangements that all services, programs or activities provided or operated by contractors are in compliance with ADA. Contracts with those entities that fail or refuse to comply with ADA shall be subjected to formal termination proceedings.

3. Between the time an interpreter is requested and when an interpreter arrives, unit personnel shall continue to try to communicate with the person who is hearing-impaired to the same extent as they would communicate with a person without a hearing impairment, using all available methods of communication. However, in an emergency, seeking the services of an interpreter shall not mean that medical treatment will be delayed until the interpreter arrives. In addition, upon arrival of the interpreter, unit personnel shall review and confirm with the offender, employee or visitor all information received prior to the interpreter's arrival.

4. Offenders requesting auxiliary aids and/or services, after the initial assessment and which would require a medical evaluation, shall be charged the standard medical co-pay.

EXCEPTION: The offender may be assessed the total costs of replacement of an auxiliary aid if it is determined that replacement is a direct result of the offender's negligence/damage to property.

G. Hearing Aids and Batteries

1. Each unit shall purchase appropriate types of hearing aid batteries and keep them in stock in the medical supply room during the length of time an offender who wears a hearing aid is housed at that unit. Replacement hearing aid batteries shall be provided to offenders who request them on the first business day following receipt of the request. If the request is made on a weekend or holiday or a night after regular business hours, the replacement battery will be provided on the first standard business day following the request.

2. Each unit shall send offender hearing aids to a hearing aid repair company as soon as possible, but no later than 24 hours (excluding weekends and holidays) following a request for repair of the offender's hearing aid. The unit shall inform the offender in writing, as soon as possible, when his hearing aid was sent for repair and when it is expected to be returned by the repair company. The unit shall maintain written documentation of all hearing aid repairs, including detailed information regarding the vendor used, the date of the repair and the specific repairs performed. This information shall be submitted by each unit to the medical department at the Louisiana State Penitentiary quarterly for statistical compilation purposes.

H. Telephones

1. The department shall provide telecommunication devices for the deaf (TDDs/TTYs) for offenders who are deaf or hearing-impaired in a manner that ensures effective access to telephone services. In addition, the following is required so that those offenders who do hear will have access to TDDs/TTYs to communicate with family members or friends who are deaf or hearing-impaired.

a. Each unit shall make at least one TDD/TTY device available in each of the visiting areas where non-contact visits are conducted and the communication exchanged is accomplished over a telephone device. The unit can either permanently install the required TDD/TTY or make available a sufficient number of portable TDDs/TTYs for these visits.

b. Each unit shall provide a TDD/TTY to all deaf or hearing-impaired offenders residing in housing areas to the extent that pay telephones are available to other offenders. In those situations where the unit provides portable TDDs/TTYs, the housing officers shall provide them upon the offender's request, absent emergency circumstances such as lockdown.

c. The department shall take the necessary steps to provide offenders, with toll-free access to "800" numbers for telephone relay services and TDD/TTY operators. These numbers will be posted near all offender telephones, with notice that they are toll-free numbers. The telephone calls to the TDD/TTY operator will be provided free of charge, but any charges incurred to the receiving party will be handled as a standard offender telephone call. Thus, the offender or the receiving party shall be responsible for any long distance charges accrued.

d. Due to the fact that telephone calls placed via a TDD/TTY take longer than telephone calls placed using standard voice telephone equipment, the unit shall allow offenders needing TDD/TTY assistance to have 30 minutes per telephone call, barring any unusual circumstances.

2. Each unit shall ensure that at least one and no less than 25 percent of all offender telephones are equipped with volume control mechanisms and appropriate signs are displayed indicating the phone is volume controlled.

3. Each unit shall ensure that no less than 25 percent of all of its offender telephones are hearing aid compatible in the general population.

4. Each unit shall maintain records of all offenders who have been medically evaluated for any type of hearing impairment, the results of such assessment, date of any reassessment, any transfer or discharge of offenders assessed with a hearing impairment, requests for accommodations including the date requested and the determination and the provision of auxiliary aids or services and the date(s) provided. This information shall be submitted by each unit to the medical department of the Louisiana State Penitentiary quarterly for statistical compilation purposes.

I. Visual and Tactile Alarms

1. Where there are audible emergency alarms in visiting areas, each unit shall add visual alarms when an individual who is deaf or hearing-impaired is anticipated to spend significant periods of time in these areas.

2. Each unit shall place visual emergency alarms in rooms where offenders who are deaf may reside alone or work alone to ensure that they will always be alerted when an emergency alarm is activated. To be effective, such devices must be located and oriented so that they will spread signals and reflections throughout a space or raise the overall light level sharply.

3. Where each unit has audible alarms in housing areas, the unit shall add visual signal devices, when necessary, to alert offenders who are deaf or hearing-impaired to announcements (e.g., roll call.)

J. Televisions

1. Each unit shall provide and maintain closed-captioned television decoders (or built-in decoder televisions) in television rooms to enable offenders who are deaf or hearing-impaired to enjoy the same opportunity for television viewing as that afforded to other offenders.

K. Training

1. Annual training regarding this regulation shall be provided by the department to all employees through the regularly scheduled ADA Training Program.

2. The training program shall be sufficient in duration and content to instruct a reasonable number of personnel in access to the AAS Program, use of the program, and sensitivity to the needs of the deaf and hearing-impaired offender population. Such training shall include:

a. topics relevant to the health care needs of deaf and hearing-impaired offenders, such as the various degrees of hearing impairment;

b. language and cultural diversity in the deaf community;

c. dispelling myths and misconceptions about persons who are deaf or hearing-impaired;

d. identification of communication requirements of persons who are deaf or hearing-impaired;

e. the unique needs and problems encountered by late-deafened individuals;

f. psychological implications of hearing loss and its relationship to interaction with hearing health care professionals;

- g. types of auxiliary aids and services as required pursuant to this regulation;
- h. the proper use and role of qualified sign language interpreters;
- i. procedures and methods for accessing the AAS Program for providing interpreters;
- j. making and receiving calls through TDDs/TTYs and the Louisiana Relay or other relay service providers;
- k. third party resources which can provide additional information about people who are deaf or hearing-impaired; and
- l. the existence of the department's complaint resolution process.

L. Recordkeeping

1. The Headquarters ADA Coordinator shall maintain records of all requests for accommodation made throughout the department.
2. The headquarters ADA coordinator shall maintain and track statistics concerning all requests for accommodation from offenders, employees and visitors and the nature and outcome of the accommodations requested.
3. If a pattern becomes apparent following review of the statistics, the headquarters ADA coordinator shall seek to remedy and/or correct any problems noted and report same to the secretary.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 49:950.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, LR 35:2190 (October 2009).

§313. Offender Mail and Publications

A. Purpose. To state the secretary's policy regarding offender mail privileges, including publications, at all adult institutions.

B. Applicability. Deputy secretary, undersecretary, chief of operations, regional wardens, and wardens. Each warden is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation and for conveying its content to all offenders and affected employees.

C. Notice. Staff at each reception and diagnostic center or unit handling initial reception and diagnostic functions shall inform each offender in writing promptly after arrival of the department's rules for handling of offender mail, utilizing the notification of mail handling form. This form shall be filed in the offender's master record.

1. The current offender population in DPS and C facilities is required to complete the notification of mail handling form upon the issuance of this revision to Section 313 of this Part.

D. Policy. It is the secretary's policy that offenders may communicate with persons or organizations subject to the limitations necessary to protect legitimate penological objectives (including but not limited to deterrence of crime, rehabilitation of offenders, maintenance of internal/external security of an institution or maintenance of an environment free of sexual harassment), to prevent the commission of a crime, and to protect the interests of crime victims.

E. Definitions

DPS and C Facility—includes, for the purpose of this regulation, state operated prison facilities, and state privately operated prison facilities.

E-mail—a document created or received on an electronic mail system, including any attachments, such as word processing and other electronic documents, which may be transmitted with the message. E-mail is correspondence to or from an offender in an electronic format that is provided through the department's contractor for offender services.

Farm Mail Correspondence—offender to offender mail when housed at the same institution.

Indigent Offenders—those who do not have sufficient funds in the appropriate account(s) at the time of their request for indigent services and/or supplies to fully cover the cost of the requested services or supplies.

Privileged Correspondence (includes mail to or from)—

- a. identifiable courts;
- b. identifiable prosecuting attorneys;
- c. identifiable probation and parole officers, parole board and pardon board;
- d. state and local executive officers;

Explicit sexual material also includes that which contains detailed verbal descriptions or narrative accounts of sexually explicit conduct. A publication will not be prohibited solely because it contains pictorial nudity where such publication has a medical, educational or anthropological purpose.

F. Offender Correspondence. Offenders may write and receive letters and e-mails subject to the following provisions.

1. Frequency. There shall be no limit placed on the number of letters or e-mails an offender may write or receive at personal expense and no limit placed on the length, language or content except when there is reasonable belief that limitation is necessary to protect public safety or institutional order, including restrictions relative to what may be reasonably stored in space provided and security. Offenders in segregation can write and receive letters on the same basis as offenders in general population.

2. Timely handling. All mail, incoming and outgoing, shall be handled without unjustified delay. Letters should generally not be held more than 48 hours and packages shall not be held more than 72 hours. This does not prohibit the holding of mail for offenders who are temporarily absent from the institution and does not include weekends and holidays or emergency situations. When mail is received for an offender who has been transferred to another institution or released, the institution where the mail is received should attempt to forward the mail to him. The collection and distribution of mail is never to be delegated to an offender. Mail will be given directly to the receiving offender by an employee.

3. Correspondence. An offender may write to anyone except:

a. a victim of any criminal offense for which the offender has been convicted or for which disposition is pending, or an immediate family member of the victim, except in accordance with specific procedures established by department regulations or as established by the warden in conjunction with the Crime Victims Services Bureau;

b. any person under the age of 18 when the person's parent or guardian objects verbally or in writing to such correspondence;

c. any person whom the offender is restrained from writing to by court order;

d. any person who has provided a verbal or written request to not receive correspondence from an offender;

e. any other person, when prohibiting such correspondence is generally necessary to further the substantial interests of security, order or rehabilitation.

4. Costs of Correspondence

a. Each offender shall pay personal mailing expenses, except an indigent offender. An indigent offender shall have access to postage necessary to send two personal letters per week, postage necessary to send out approved legal mail on a reasonable basis and basic supplies necessary to prepare legal documents. A record of such access shall be kept and the indigent offender's account shall reflect the cost of the postage and supplies as a debt owed in accordance with department regulations. Stationery, envelopes and stamps shall be available for purchase in the canteen.

b. E-mail shall only be available to offenders who have electronic postage capabilities through the department's contractor for offender services.

5. Outgoing General Correspondence and Farm Mail

a. Review, Inspection and Rejection. Outgoing general correspondence and farm mail shall not be sealed by the offender and may be read and inspected by staff. Outgoing e-mail may also be read by staff. The objectives to be accomplished in reading outgoing mail differ from the objectives of inspection. In the case of inspection, the objective is primarily to detect contraband. The reading of mail and e-mail is intended to reveal, for example, escape plots, plans to commit illegal acts, or plans to violate institutional rules or other security concerns. Outgoing general correspondence and farm mail may be restricted, confiscated, returned to the offender, retained for further investigation, referred for disciplinary proceeding or forwarded to law enforcement officials, if review discloses correspondence or materials which contain or concern:

i. the transport of contraband in or out of the facility;

ii. plans to escape;

iii. plans for activities in violation of facility or department rules;

iv. information which, if communicated, would create a clear and present danger of violence and physical harm to a human being;

v. letters or materials written in code or a foreign language when the offender understands English (unless the warden or designee determines that the recipient is not fluent in English);

vi. mail which attempts to forward unauthorized correspondence to a third party;

vii. threats to the safety and security of staff, other offenders, the public, facility order, discipline, or rehabilitation (including racially inflammatory material);

viii. sexually explicit material;

ix. other general correspondence for which rejection is reasonably related to a legitimate penological interest.

b. Notice of Rejection. The offender sender shall be notified within three working days, in writing, of the correspondence rejection and the reason therefore on the incoming/outgoing general correspondence, farm mail and e-mail notice of rejection. Any further delay in notification shall be based on ongoing investigation which would be compromised by notification. Rejections are appealable through the administrative remedy procedure.

c. Limitations on Restrictions. Any restrictions imposed on outgoing general correspondence and farm mail shall be unrelated to the suppression of expression and may not be restricted solely based on unwelcome or unflattering opinions. Communication of malicious, frivolous, false, and/or inflammatory statements or information, the purpose of which is reasonably intended to harm, embarrass, or intimidate an employee, visitor, guest or offender shall be rejected. This shall not apply to information and/or statements communicated for the express purpose of obtaining legal assistance.

d. Procedures for Mailing. Outgoing general correspondence and farm mail shall be inserted into the envelope and left unsealed by the offender. All outgoing correspondence shall include:

i. a complete legible name and address of the party the correspondence is being sent to;

ii. the offender's name, DOC number, housing unit, and the name and mailing address of the institution which shall be written or typed on the upper left hand corner of the envelope. Drawings, writing, and marking on envelopes, other than return and sending address, are not permitted. All outgoing general correspondence shall be stamped in the mailroom to indicate it originates in a correctional institution;

iii. outgoing e-mails shall be processed electronically and scanned for contents and phrases.

6. Incoming General Correspondence

a. Review, Inspection, and Rejection. All incoming general correspondence and e-mails must contain the return address of the sender, the name and DOC number of the offender and the name and mailing address of the facility. All incoming general correspondence shall be opened and inspected for contraband, cash, checks, and money orders and is subject to being read. Any stick on label or stamp may be removed if it appears to contain contraband. All incoming general correspondence may be rejected if such review discloses correspondence or material(s) which would reasonably jeopardize legitimate penological interests, including, but not limited to, material(s) which contain or concern:

i. the transport of contraband in or out of the facility;

ii. plans to escape;

iii. plans for activities in violation of facility or department rules;

iv. plans for criminal activity;

v. violations of this regulation or unit rules;

vi. letters or materials written in code;

vii. threats to the safety and security of staff, other offenders, or the public, facility order, or discipline, or rehabilitation, (including racially inflammatory material);

viii. sexually explicit material;

ix. greeting cards and post cards;

x. decorative stationary or stationary with stickers;

xi. other general correspondence for which rejection is reasonably related to a legitimate penological interest.

b. Incoming general correspondence containing any of the foregoing may be restricted, confiscated, returned to the sender, retained for further investigation, referred for disciplinary proceedings or forwarded to law enforcement officials.

c. Notice of Rejection. The offender shall be notified within three working days, in writing, of the correspondence or e-mail rejection and the reason therefore on the incoming/outgoing general correspondence, farm mail and e-mail notice of rejection. Any further delay in notification shall be based on ongoing investigation which would be compromised by notification. Rejections are appealable through the administrative remedy procedure.

7. Monetary Remittances

a. Incoming. Funds may only be sent to the facility and processed for hobbycraft purchases properly supported by a hobbycraft agreement in accordance with established policy and procedures.

b. For hobbycraft purchases, money from permissible sources may be accepted in the following forms:

i. postal, bank or commercially issued money orders;

ii. bank cashier checks;

iii. cash;

iv. personal checks.

c. All other offender funds shall be processed through the department's contractor for offender services in accordance with established policy and procedures.

d. Upon discovery of cash, multiple party checks, personal checks not for hobbycraft purchases or any other funds received in the mail for an offender, the offender shall be sent a monetary remittances notice of rejection within three working days describing the contents of the mail, the date of its receipt and advising that he has seven working days to provide return postage. If return postage is not provided within seven working days, the postage will be provided by the unit. The offender's banking account will be charged if funds are available. If funds are not available, a debt owed will be established pursuant to department regulations.

8. Identification of Privileged Correspondence. It is the responsibility and duty of institutional staff to verify the legitimacy of the official listed on the envelope. For purposes of this regulation, "identifiable" means that the official or legal capacity of the addressee is listed on the envelope and is verifiable. If not, then the letter is to be treated as general correspondence and an appropriate inquiry

a. Facility staff shall verify the sender of all privileged mail in order to ensure that the mail was sent by the identified sender's office and is not fraudulently labeled as privileged mail.

9. All outgoing privileged correspondence shall include:

a. a complete legible name and address of the party the correspondence is being sent to;

b. the offender's name, DOC number, housing unit, and the address of the institution on the upper left hand corner of the envelope. Drawings, writing, and marking on envelopes, other than return and sending address, are not permitted. All outgoing privileged correspondence shall be stamped in the mailroom to indicate it originates in a correctional institution;

c. outgoing privileged correspondence may be posted sealed, and will not be opened and inspected without express authorization from the warden or deputy warden as specified in Paragraph F.11 of this Section.

10. Incoming Privileged Correspondence

a. All incoming privileged correspondence must contain the return address of the sender and the name and DOC number of the offender and the name and mailing address of the facility. All incoming privileged correspondence shall be opened in the presence of the offender to whom it is addressed and inspected for the presence of cash, checks, money orders and contraband and to verify as unobtrusively as possible, that the correspondence does not contain material that is not entitled to the privilege. When the material is inspected and it is found to be bound or secured in any manner that would prevent the thorough inspection of the document, the offender shall have the option of allowing staff to take the document apart for adequate inspection or returning the material to the sender to require that the material be returned in a loose manner to allow for proper inspection. Additionally, offenders receiving legal material in the form of a compact disc shall have the option of paying for copies to be made by the facility or returning the disc to the sender in order to require that the material be converted to paper copies. Payment for paper copies of legal material from a compact disc shall be in accordance with established policy and procedures.

b. Incoming privileged mail may be opened and inspected outside the offender's presence in the circumstances outlined in Paragraph F.11 of this Section.

i. Inspection and Rejection. When, in the course of inspection, cash, checks, or money orders are found, they shall be removed and forwarded to the business office who will verify the legitimacy of the transaction in accordance with established policy and procedures.

ii. If material is found that does not appear to be entitled to the privilege or if any of the circumstances outlined in Paragraph F.11 of this Section exist, the mail may be restricted, confiscated, returned to sender, retained for further investigation, referred for disciplinary proceedings or forwarded to law enforcement officials.

iii. Notice of Rejection. The offender shall be notified within three working days, in writing, of the correspondence rejection and the reason therefore on the privileged correspondence notice of rejection describing the reason for the rejection and advising that he has seven working days to determine the disposition of the correspondence. Rejections are appealable through the administrative remedy procedure.

iv. Accidental Opening. If privileged correspondence is opened accidentally, outside the presence of the offender, the envelope shall be immediately stapled or taped closed and the envelope marked "accidentally opened" along with the date and employee's initials. An unusual occurrence report shall be completed.

11. Mail Precautions

a. The wardens and deputy wardens are authorized to open and inspect incoming and outgoing privileged mail outside the offender's presence in the following circumstances:

i. letters that are unusual in appearance or appear different from mail normally received or sent by the individual or public entity;

ii. letters that are of a size or shape not customarily received or sent by the individual or public entity;

iii. letters that have a city and/or state postmark that is different from the return address;

iv. letters that are leaking, stained, or emitting a strange or unusual odor or have a powdery residue;

v. when reasonable suspicion of illicit activity has resulted in a formal investigation and such inspection has been authorized by the secretary or designee.

12. Offender Organizations. Offender organizations must pay the postage costs for all of their outgoing mail. All outgoing mail must be approved by the offender organization sponsor.

G. Procedures for Publications

1. Publications (see definition in Subsection E) may be read and inspected to discover contraband and unacceptable depictions and literature. Unless otherwise provided by the rules of the institution, all printed matter must be received directly from the publisher. Multiple copies of publications for any one individual offender are not allowed. Samples inserted in publications will be removed prior to delivery.

2. Newspaper and magazine clippings (xerox copies allowed) as well as articles printed from the internet are considered publications for the purpose of review pursuant to this regulation. However, they are not required to originate from the publisher. A limit of five clippings/articles may be received within a piece of regular correspondence and the quantity received may be further limited by what can be reasonably reviewed for security reasons in a timely manner. Multiple copies of the same clippings/articles for any one individual offender are not allowed. Inclusion of clippings/articles in regular correspondence may delay the delivery.

3. Refusal of Publications. Printed material shall only be refused if it interferes with legitimate penological objectives (including but not limited to deterrence of crime, rehabilitation of offenders, maintenance of internal/external security of an institution or maintenance of an environment free of sexual harassment), or if the refusal is necessary to prevent the commission of a crime or to protect the interests of crime victims. This would include but not be limited to the following described categories:

- a. security issues:
  - i. maps, road atlas, etc. that depict a geographic region that could reasonably be construed to be a threat to security;
  - ii. writings that advocate, assist or are evidence of criminal activity or facility misconduct;
  - iii. instructions regarding the ingredients or manufacturing of intoxicating beverages or drugs;
  - iv. information regarding the introduction of, or instructions in the use, manufacture, storage, or replication of weapons, explosives, incendiaries, escape devices or other contraband;
  - v. instructs in the use of martial arts;
  - vi. racially inflammatory material or material that could cause a threat to the offender population, staff, and security of the facility;
  - vii. writings which advocate violence or which create a danger within the context of a correctional facility;
- b. sexually explicit material:
  - i. it is well established in corrections that sexually explicit material causes operational concerns. It poses a threat to the security, good order and discipline of the institution and can facilitate criminal activity. Examples of the types of behavior that result from sexually explicit material include non-consensual sex, sexual molestation of other offenders or staff, masturbation or exposing themselves in front of staff and inappropriate touching or writing to staff or other forms of sexual harassment of staff and/or offenders;
  - ii. sexually explicit material can portray women (or men) in dehumanizing, demeaning and submissive roles, which, within an institutional setting, can lead to disrespect and the sexual harassment of female (or male) correctional staff. Lack of respect and control in dealing with offenders can endanger the lives and safety of staff and offenders;

iii. the viewing of sexually explicit material undermines the rehabilitation of offenders as it can encourage deviant, criminal sexual behavior. Additionally, once sexually explicit material enters an institution, it is impossible to control who may view it. When viewed by an incarcerated sex offender, it can undermine or interrupt rehabilitation efforts;

iv. publications that depict nudity or sexually explicit conduct on a routine or regular basis or promotes itself based upon such depictions in the case of individual one time issues will not be allowed;

c. when screening publications for acceptability, the following categories shall be utilized:

- i. category 1—presumption of non-acceptability;
- ii. category 2—those that need to be reviewed on a case-by-case basis prior to allowing them to be delivered to the recipient and subject to review by the regional warden;
- iii. category 3—presumption of acceptability;
- d. publications can be added, deleted or moved from one category to another at the discretion of the secretary at any time;

e. when an institution receives a Category 2 publication which has not already been ruled on by the regional wardens, the mailroom shall send the offender a notice of pending review of publication and forward the publication to the regional warden who shall determine acceptability. When an institution suspends delivery of an issue of a Category 3 publication, the regional warden is notified. The mailroom will send the offender a notice of pending review of publication. The regional wardens shall determine if the publication should be moved to Category 2. When magazines are received that are not currently listed, the regional warden shall be notified;

f. procedures when publication is refused. The offender shall be notified within three working days of the refusal and the reason therefore on the publications notice of rejection describing the reason for the rejection and advising that he has seven working days to determine the publication's disposition. Rejections are appealable through the administrative remedy procedure. The institution should retain possession of the disputed item(s) until the exhaustion of administrative and judicial review.

H. Procedures for Photographs, Digital or Other Images

1. Offenders shall not be allowed to receive or possess photographs or digital or other images that interfere with legitimate penological objectives (including but not limited to deterrence of crime, rehabilitation of offenders, maintenance of internal/external security of an institution, or maintenance of an environment free of sexual harassment), or to prevent the commission of a crime or to protect the interests of crime victims. This includes photographs, digital or other images which expose the genitals, genital area (including pubic hair), anal area or female breasts (or breasts which are designed to imitate female breasts). These areas must be covered with garments which cannot be seen through.

2. Lingerie will not normally be acceptable whether transparent or not. Swimwear will only be acceptable if the overall context of the picture is reasonably related to activities during which swimwear is normally worn. Suggestive poses alone may be sufficient cause of rejection regardless of the type of clothing worn.

3. Each institution shall develop a procedure that serves to reasonably restrict an offender's possession of multiple copies of the same photograph or digital or other image.

4. Hard backed and laminated photographs or digital or other images that are subject to alteration or modification may be rejected.

5. The term "photograph" includes other images such as those created by a digital imaging device or e-mails.

6. The offender shall be notified within three working days, in writing, of the photograph rejection and the reason therefore on the photographs notice of rejection describing the reason for the rejection and advising that he has seven working days to determine the photograph's disposition. Rejections are appealable through the administrative remedy procedure.

I. Procedures for Death Row Offenders Correspondence

1. Pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 799 of the 2012 Regular Session, the following procedures provide for the review and inspection of incoming and outgoing correspondence of death row offenders to ensure no contractual arrangements are being contemplated or in effect that would allow the offender to profit from his crimes of notoriety.

a. All incoming and outgoing general correspondence, including packages, shall be inspected.

b. Incoming and outgoing privileged mail shall be inspected outside the offender's presence when there is reasonable suspicion that contraband is being sent to the offender or from the offender, or the offender is contemplating a contractual arrangement that would result in his receiving any type of profits or proceeds relative to his criminal acts. The warden or deputy warden shall authorize such inspection.

c. In the event it is determined that the offender is contemplating or has established a contractual arrangement, the information shall be immediately reported by the warden to the secretary who shall notify the attorney general's office pursuant to established procedures.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:833(A), Guajardo v. Esteile, 580 F.2d 748 (5th Cir.1978).

§314. Telephone Use and Policy on Monitoring of Calls—Juvenile

Editor's Note: §314, Telephone Use and Policy on Monitoring of Calls—Juvenile, has been moved to §705.

§315. Telephone Use and Policy on Monitoring of Calls

A. Purpose—to state the secretary's policy regarding the use of telephones by offenders and the monitoring of offender telephone calls at all adult institutions.

B. Applicability—Deputy Secretary, Chief of Operations, Regional Wardens and Wardens. Each warden is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation and for implementing and notifying all affected persons of its contents.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy that uniform telephone procedures, including the ability to monitor and/or record offender telephone calls to preserve the security and orderly management of the institution and to protect public safety, shall be adhered to at all institutions. Each institution shall offer offenders (including the hearing and/or speech impaired) reasonable access to telephone communication without overtaxing the institution's ability to properly maintain security and to avoid abuse of this privilege on the part of any offender. Offenders with hearing and/or speech disabilities and offenders who wish to communicate with parties who have such disabilities shall be given access to appropriate auxiliary aids and services. It is further the secretary's policy to encourage offenders to maintain telephone communications while incarcerated in order to maintain family connections that will promote unification upon release.

D. Procedures

1. General

a. Each offender shall be assigned a personal identification number (PIN) which must be used when placing outgoing telephone calls. The PIN shall be the offender's DOC number.

b. Each offender may provide his assigned institution a master list of up to 20 frequently called telephone numbers inclusive of all family, personal, and legal calls. Each offender's outgoing telephone calls shall be limited to those telephone numbers he has placed on his master list. Changes may be made to the master list at the discretion of the warden or designee, but no less than once each quarter. These changes may be entered by the contractor or by appropriately trained institutional staff. No offender shall place the telephone number of the family of another offender on his master list except for verified members of his own family.

c. For new offenders, PIN and master list numbers shall be entered into the telephone system upon intake at the reception and diagnostic centers.

d. All offender telephone calls made through use of the offender telephone system shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring. This may include calls made to attorneys using the offender telephone system. (See Clause D.6.a.iii for additional information.)

e. A visible sign by each offender telephone shall place offenders on notice that all calls shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring.

f. A recorded message shall notify all parties that all calls shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring and that the call originated from a correctional facility.

g. Use of the offender telephone system shall constitute consent by all parties to the recording and/or monitoring of the call.

h. Upon the request of a telephone subscriber, the institution shall block a telephone number and prevent the subscriber from receiving calls from an offender housed in the facility. To accomplish a block of a particular number for all state facilities, the institution should contact the contractor to request that a universal block be put into place.

i. Offenders are allowed to make collect calls to cell phones. These calls must be set up as direct remit accounts with the department's phone service provider. This shall be done after approval is received from the department to add the cell number. Prepaid cell phones are not permitted to set up direct bill accounts. Cell phones must have a provider from a major wireless company i.e., AT and T, Sprint, Verizon, T-Mobile, etc.

j. Disciplinary sanctions may include certain restrictions on phone privileges; however, all offenders shall be allowed two collect calls per month. Loss of phone privileges shall only be a permissible sanction where the rule violation is directly related to the use of telephone privileges.

k. Any offender placed in segregation shall be allowed one phone call (either at the offender's expense or via a collect call) within 24 hours of placement into a segregation housing unit, including offenders who have lost their phone privileges as a separate disciplinary sanction.

2. Dormitory Housing (Minimum or Medium Custody)

a. Routine Personal or Family Calls. Collect telephone access shall be available on a relatively non-restricted basis. The specific hours in the various living areas at the individual institutions shall be established by the warden of each institution. The warden or designee shall communicate the telephone schedule to the offender population. A time limit for call duration may be established; however, call duration shall not be limited to less than 15 minutes.

b. Emergency Personal or Family Calls. Requests for access outside of normally scheduled hours may be made through the Warden's designee (dormitory officer, shift supervisor or other appropriate staff). The staff person to whom the request is made shall determine if an emergency phone call is warranted and shall make a written record of their determination. No maximum frequency for this type call shall be established, as the severity and duration of emergencies may vary.

c. Legal Calls. The warden shall establish a schedule for legal calls. Generally, offenders shall be able to place legal calls during the lunch period non-working hours, or after the afternoon count (when normal office hours are in effect for attorneys.) The warden shall establish an alternate procedure if this is not adequate.

3. Cellblock Housing (Maximum Custody)

a. Routine Personal or Family Calls. Collect telephone access is generally located in the cellblock lobby. (In those situations where the telephone is on the tier, the offender may be allowed access during the shower or exercise period.) Posted policy may limit routine personal calls for offenders assigned to cellblocks in the event that lobby placement restricts offender access. Access may vary by offender classification status. A time limit for call duration may be established; however, call duration shall not be limited to less than 15 minutes.

b. Emergency Personal or Family Calls. In all subclasses of maximum custody, the offender is required to request consideration for this type call from the warden's designee (shift supervisor, unit major, or program staff). The staff person to whom the request is made shall determine if an emergency phone call is warranted and shall make a written record of their determination. No frequency for this type call shall be established as the severity and duration of the emergency may vary.

c. Legal Calls. The warden shall establish a procedure for placing legal calls on a reasonable basis during an attorney's normal office hours. Each housing unit shall maintain a telephone log for the purpose of monitoring the number of legal calls made by offenders on a weekly basis. All legal calls shall be logged with the attorney's full name, bar number, telephone number called, date, time, and whether completed.

4. Incoming Calls

a. Routine Personal or Family calls. Messages are not accepted or relayed on a routine basis for any offender.

b. Legal Calls. Offenders may be given notice that their attorney has requested contact. Complete verification that the requested contact is the offender's attorney is required prior to processing. If minimum or medium custody, the offender may call from the dormitory during lunch or after work. If maximum custody, the offender may be allowed to call during their attorney's "normal office hours" at a time which does not interfere with the orderly operation of the unit.

5. Emergency Messages/Important Telephone Calls Based upon Faith-Based Programs and Services

a. Emergency messages concerning a serious illness, injury, death, or other family crisis, etc. shall be delivered to an offender by the chaplain or other person designated by the warden. Exceptions to this paragraph shall only be granted by the warden or designee.

b. Notification to an offender's emergency contact (or other appropriate person as the situation warrants) of an offender's serious illness, injury, or death shall be made in a timely manner by the chaplain or other person designated by the warden.

c. Chaplains are allowed discretion to make telephone calls for offenders for the purposes of dealing with emergency matters.

6. Monitoring

a. Offenders shall be put on notice of the following:

i. telephone calls in housing areas shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring. Use of telephones constitutes consent to recordation and monitoring;

ii. a recorded message shall notify all parties that all calls shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring and that the call originated from a correctional facility;

iii. telephone calls to the offender's designated attorney(s) shall be recorded, but shall not be routinely monitored. However, such calls may be monitored upon the warden's determination of good cause, such as where a security need exists. Prior to examination of the content of the conversation with the attorney, the authorized staff member requesting examination must submit in writing the factors supporting good cause to the warden for approval. The warden's determination of good cause shall be documented with written reasons. Only after written approval has been received shall the conversation be examined. Only investigators approved by the chief of operations shall be allowed to monitor the calls.

b. The telephone system typically terminates a call at the end of the authorized period (generally 15 minutes); however, the warden or designee may authorize calls of a longer duration as circumstances warrant. Persons using the telecommunication device for the deaf (TDD) system shall be allowed one-hour telephone calls.

c. Offenders shall not be allowed access to home telephone numbers of staff members, nor be allowed to contact any staff member of the department (including volunteers, contract workers, etc.) by any means, whether through call forwarding, texting, web-based communication, or other similar communication platforms or systems.

d. Only authorized personnel (i.e., those who have been assigned a login/password) approved by the warden or designee may monitor offender telephone calls. Only investigators authorized by the chief of operations may monitor an offender's calls to his attorney. Information gained from monitoring calls which affects the security of the institution or threatens the protection of the public shall be communicated to the warden and other law enforcement agencies.

e. Offenders being processed for intake through the reception and diagnostic centers shall be required to give consent in writing, acknowledging that they are aware that their telephone calls shall be recorded and are subject to monitoring. A copy of this consent shall be placed in the offender's master record.

f. Each institution's orientation manual shall include the information contained in this regulation as a means to notify the offender population of its contents and verbal notification shall be given during the orientation program. A sign shall be posted at each offender telephone which states the following information.

ATTENTION

This telephone has been electronically programmed to monitor and/or record telephone calls. By using this telephone, you consent to the monitoring and/or recording of your conversation. Telephone calls to your designated attorney(s) will not be routinely monitored.

Department of Public Safety and Corrections Department Regulation No. OP-C-8

7. Remote Call Forwarding

a. The offender population shall be put on notice that all third-party telephone calls, including remote call forwarding (RCF) calls, are strictly prohibited and such activity shall result in appropriate disciplinary action.

i. RCF is a mechanism by which offenders may employ a local telephone number that automatically forwards the telephone call to a pre-selected number generally located out of the local calling area code or long distance. RCF is comparable to an automated 3-way call.

ii. RCF is also known as automated call forwarding or private branch exchange (PBX) call forwarding. Use of this automated and remote mechanism represents significant security risks for several reasons, including because the telephone call terminated number (the end destination of the call) cannot be readily identified or verified. This number is not a traditional telephone number located at a residence, business or other such location, but merely a number within the telephone switching equipment local to the facility where the offender is housed.

iii. RCF initiated calls to an unidentified terminated number can be easily forwarded to unauthorized telephones. This forwarding is done through the normal 3-way call hook ups. This negates the security mechanisms achieved by the requirement of approved telephone lists, including safeguards to prevent calls to victims and blocked or restricted numbers or to prevent other unauthorized call activities.

b. Wardens shall develop a monitoring system to analyze the frequency of local calls. High frequency may indicate RCF utilization. When RCF calls are discovered, a system-wide block of the number shall be initiated pursuant to Subparagraph D.1.i of this Section.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:829.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, LR 29:360 (March 2003), amended LR 29:2849 (December 2003), LR 35:87 (January 2009), LR 37:599 (February 2011), LR 46:1395 (October 2020), LR 48:2157 (August 2022).

§316. Offender Visitation

A. Purpose—to establish the protocol through which offenders may receive visits from persons outside the department in order to preserve family ties and relationships in the community while maintaining safe, secure and orderly management and operation of the institution.

B. Applicability—deputy secretary, chief of operations, communications director, regional wardens and wardens. Each warden shall be responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation and for conveying its content to all offenders, affected employees and visitors.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy that authorized visitation be permitted at each institution and that each institution conducts the visiting process in accordance with this regulation and with as much uniformity and consistency as possible while considering the institution's physical limitations and security needs. Thus, the visiting process shall not overly tax the institution's resources or its ability to maintain adequate supervision and security. In this matter, as in all others affecting institutional operations, safety and security are primary considerations. Additionally, maintaining offenders' ties with the community, including their family and loved ones, is vital to the carrying out of the department's mission to successfully reintegrate offenders into society. Any restrictions placed on visiting privileges pursuant to this regulation shall be rationally related to legitimate penological interests.

NOTE: The department understands the importance of visitation in maintaining an offender's relationships; visitation is an integral component of institutional management. The department recognizes that the majority of offenders will be released into the community and that the offender's eventual reintegration may be more successful if a visitation program permits the maintenance of social relationships. Visiting may improve public safety and encourage offender accountability.

D. Definitions

Immediate Family Member—includes the offender’s father, mother, siblings, legal spouse, children, grandparents, grandchildren, aunts, uncles, and legal guardians including those with a “step,” “half” or adoptive relationship and those persons with the same relationship of the offender’s legal spouse and any others indicated on the offender’s master record as having raised the offender. Verification of an offender’s immediate family member may be required.

Intake Status—the status applicable to an offender within the 30-day period of time following his placement into the custody of the department. #### E. Visitation Eligibility

1. Offenders Eligibility

a. All offenders, except those offenders in intake status or as specifically provided herein, shall be eligible to apply for visitation while housed in a departmental facility.

b. Offenders in Intake Status

i. Visitation shall not be allowed for offenders in intake status. If the intake process exceeds 30 days, the offender may request a special visit with immediate family members in accordance with the reception center’s visiting procedures. Once an offender is removed from intake status, visitation with immediate family members may be authorized by the receiving facilities warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, at the request of an offender until the offender’s visitation application process is complete.

c. Offenders Transferred to Another Facility

i. Offenders transferring to another institution may be authorized to visit with their approved visitors at the receiving institution at the discretion of the receiving facility’s warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy.

d. Offenders With No Established Visiting Record

i. Offenders entering an institution with no established visiting record may be granted tentative approval to visit immediate family members upon the request of the offender and at the discretion of the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy. Disapproval of such requests shall be based upon legitimate security considerations. These immediate family members must be claimed on their master record; verification may be required.

2. Prospective Visitor Eligibility

a. Any persons may apply to visit an offender housed in a departmental facility upon the offender’s request.

b. A prospective visitor’s prior criminal conviction alone shall not disqualify them from visiting an offender. However, an individual may be deemed ineligible to visit an offender where the nature of the crime reasonably suggests that their presence on facility grounds may impair or threaten the security or stability of the facility. This determination shall be made with written justification by the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher.

i. Victims

(a). Visits from the offender’s direct victim(s) shall be prohibited except in accordance with established procedures.

ii. Ex-Offenders/Parolees/Probationers

(a). A prospective visitor's status as an ex-offender, parolee, or probationer shall not disqualify them from visiting an offender. An approval letter completed by the applicant's supervising officer shall create a presumption that the applicant should be eligible for visitation. A person who has been convicted of a felony in any state or federal jurisdiction who has not been finally discharged from an institution or from probation or parole supervision for more than two years without an intervening criminal record may only be denied approval for visitation at the discretion of the unit head or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, with approval of the chief of operations. This determination shall be made with written justification of the unit head or designee's determination that the prospective visitor's presence on facility grounds may impair or threaten the security or stability of the facility.

(b). A person who in the previous five years had three or more felony convictions may be considered ineligible to be on an offender's visiting list or, if already on an offender's visiting list, may be removed at the discretion of the unit head or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, upon receiving the requisite number of convictions and approval by the chief of operations.

iii. Employees/Former Employees

(a). Visitation by current employees, or former employees of the department who have been separated from their employment within the past 10 years, may be permitted for immediate family members only. Employees or former employees who separated within the designated time frame and who worked primarily in the prison-setting shall submit requests to visit an incarcerated family member to the warden or designee of the applicable facility, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy. Employees or former employees who did not work primarily in the prison setting (e.g. headquarters) shall submit requests to visit an incarcerated family member to the chief of operations.

c. Exceptions to the provisions of this section, including approving a visit by a person who is otherwise not eligible to visit offenders, may be specifically authorized by the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, on a case-by-case visit and in accordance with Paragraph F.11 of this Section.

F. Procedures

1. The unit head or designee shall ensure the procedures governing visitation as outlined in this regulation and visiting guidelines (Section H.) be made available to the offender within 24 hours after arrival at the facility to include, but not limited to:

- a. facility address/phone number, directions to facility, and information about local transportation;
- b. days and hours of visitation;

- c. approved dress code and identification requirements for visitors;

- d. items authorized in visitation room;

2. Visitation Application Process

a. Application for Visiting Privileges

- i. The communications director shall ensure the application for visiting privileges is posted on the department's website.

- ii. Offenders may send prospective visitors an application for visiting privileges. Alternatively, offenders may submit a request for an application for visiting privileges to be emailed to a prospective visitor to the facility's visitation department. The visitation department shall process the form, attempt to email the application to the prospective visitor, complete the bottom portion of the form, and return a copy of the form to the offender advising him of the status of the request. The forms shall be made available to the offender as part of the intake process and upon request thereafter.

- iii. All prospective visitors must complete the application for visiting privileges and submit the completed document via mail or email. The document shall be submitted directly to the facility housing the offender the visitor wishes to visit. The mailing and email addresses for submission of the visitor application shall be made available via the department's website and shall be provided on the written visitation application. Upon receipt of an emailed application, the visitation department shall notify the sender that the application has been received. Faxes of the application are not acceptable. The application shall be completed fully and honestly. Failure to provide all requested information may result in a delay in the processing of the application or a denial of visiting privileges.

- iv. Parents/legal guardians shall be required to complete the application for visiting privileges for a minor child wishing to visit and shall sign the application on behalf of the minor child.

- v. The warden shall designate by facility policy the section/staff assigned to receive, review and process the application for visiting privileges in accordance with this regulation.

- vi. In accordance with established procedures, all visitors and offenders shall be provided equal opportunities to participate in the visitation process in accordance with the offender's security classification and housing assignment.

b. Criminal History Screening

- i. The warden, or designated section/staff as specified by facility policy, shall ensure that each adult applying to visit an offender undergoes a criminal history screening through one of the following methods:

- (a). criminal history background questionnaire completed by local law enforcement;
  - (b). CAJUN 2 inquiry;
  - (c). National Crime Information Center (NCIC);
- or
- (d). Louisiana Computerized Criminal History (LACCH).

ii. In addition, approved adult visitors shall be re-screened for criminal history every two years in accordance with the provisions of this Section.

iii. When an active criminal warrant is found, the application shall be reviewed and local law enforcement shall be notified of the information provided. The information on the applicant's criminal history is treated as confidential and shall not be released to the offender.

c. Notification of Approval/Denial

i. The warden, or designated section/staff as specified by facility policy, shall be responsible for rendering a decision regarding the approval or denial of each application for visiting privileges, as well as notifying the offender and the applicant in writing of such decision. Notifying the applicant of the facility's decision shall be the responsibility of the facility, and not the responsibility of the offender.

ii. Notification by the facility shall be accomplished in the same method used by the applicant to submit their application (email or mail).

iii. The warden, or designated section/staff specified by facility policy, shall ensure that each approved application for visiting privileges is in the respective offenders' file prior to visiting.

3. Establishing and Maintaining Visiting Lists

a. Visiting List

i. Offenders shall be responsible for completing the initial request for visitors to request visitors, including providing the correct name, address, date of birth, race and sex of all prospective visitors.

ii. The initial request for visitors shall serve as the offender's visiting list.

b. Approved Visitors

i. Each offender shall be permitted up to 10 approved visitors on his or her visiting list.

NOTE: At the discretion of the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, an offender participating in a special recognition program (i.e. PRIDE Program) may be allowed to have up to 15 approved visitors placed on his visiting list.

ii. Legal advisors, one approved religious advisor of the offender's faith and minor children shall not be counted toward the maximum number of approved visitors;

however, the names of the legal advisors, one approved religious advisor, and minor children shall still appear on the offender's visiting list.

iii. Minor children may visit on any of the regular visiting days when accompanied by an adult visitor on the offender's approved visiting list. Both the minor child and the adult visitor accompanying the minor child must be visiting the same offender at the same time. Exceptions to being accompanied by an adult may be specifically authorized by the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, and include, but are not limited to, the following:

c. Visitors May Only be on One Offender's Visiting List

i. A visitor shall be allowed on only one offender's visiting list per institution, unless that visitor is an immediate family member of more than one offender. If a visitor is the immediate family member of more than one offender and wishes to be on multiple family members' visiting lists, the burden of proof and documentation shall be the responsibility of the offender and his family. Visitors may request that they be removed from one offender's visitor's list and placed on another offender's list in accordance with this regulation.

d. Offender Request to Change the Visiting List

i. Each offender shall be allowed to request changes (additions and/or deletions) to his approved visiting list upon arrival at the receiving institution and every four months by completing request for changes to approved visiting list.

ii. A request for changes to approved visiting list shall be made available to offenders to request changes to their approved visiting list.

e. Visitor Request to be Removed from the Visiting List

i. A person may be removed from the offender's approved visiting list at his or her own request to the institution's warden or designated section/staff as specified by facility policy. If a visitor requests such removal, the visitor must wait six months before applying to visit the same or another offender. Exceptions shall be made for the offender's parents and the adult/minor children of the offender. Other exceptions may be granted by the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher as specified by facility policy.

f. Offender Refusal to See an Approved Visitor

i. An offender may refuse to see a visitor; however, the offender shall be required to sign a statement to that effect and the statement shall be filed in the offender's master record. Should the offender refuse to sign a statement, documentation of the refusal shall be placed in the offender's master record.

4. Treatment of Visitors

a. Employees shall be professional in their interaction with visitors at all times and shall ensure their conduct is in accordance with established policies and procedures. Failure to display professional and courteous conduct with visitors throughout the visitation process may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

Visitors requesting accommodations shall submit advance notice of the accommodation requested to the facility's warden or facility ADA coordinator.

e. Service Dogs

i. Visitors with a disability may be accompanied by a service dog that is specially trained to aid them. No person with a disability shall be denied the use of a service dog.

ii. Employees shall not ask a visitor with a disability the nature or extent of their disability or require documentation for proof that the dog has been certified, trained, or licensed as a service dog.

iii. In order to determine whether a dog qualifies as a service dog, employees may ask the following questions:

(a). Is the service dog required because of a disability?

(b). What work or task has the service dog been trained to perform?

iv. At the discretion of the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, employees may ask a visitor with a service dog to remove the service dog from the premises in the following circumstances:

(a). the service dog is out of control and the visitor with the service dog does not take effective action to control the dog; or

(b). the service dog is not housebroken.

v. If a visitor with a service dog is asked to remove the service dog from the premises, the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy, shall ensure the following:

(a). the visitor is offered the opportunity to visit without the service dog; and

(b). an unusual occurrence report (miscellaneous) is completed to document the request to remove the service dog, the offer to visit without the service dog, and the visitor's decision regarding the offer.

vi. Visitors with service dogs shall be liable for any damage done to the premises, facility, operators, or occupants by the service dog.

vii. Vaccination requirement.

5. Number and Duration of Visits

a. The unit head or designee may limit the number of visitors an offender may receive, the length of visits, and the days and hours on which visits may occur based on the institution's schedule, space, and personnel resources, or when there are substantial reasons to justify such limitations (e.g. visitation may jeopardize the safety and security of the institution or visitors).

When possible and taking into consideration the physical environment and space capabilities, the visiting area(s) shall make special accommodations to entertain and occupy the minds of these children. These accommodations may include a separate room adjoining the main visiting area that is bright, inviting, and comfortable or a similar space within the main visiting room. Appropriate age books, games and toys shall be available in these areas. At all times, children must be supervised by the adult visitor who is accompanying the minor child on the visit. The use of this type of area shall be accomplished without the need for additional staff to supervise the area.

A visitor's refusal of the use of body scanning and/or a metal detection system may result in the denial of the visitation.

d. The following individuals may, upon request, elect not to undergo body scanning, but instead shall undergo other search techniques outlined in established policies and procedures that are deemed appropriate by the warden or designee, who shall be an assistant warden or higher specified by facility policy:

H. Visiting Guidelines

1. The department understands the importance of visitation in maintaining an inmate's relationships; visitation is an integral component of institutional management. The department recognizes that the majority of inmates will be released into the community and that the inmate's eventual reintegration may be more successful if a visitation program permits the maintenance of social relationships. Visiting may improve public safety and encourage inmate accountability.

2. The visiting guidelines outlined in this document shall serve as the department's visiting rules and shall apply to all types of visitation.

3. Please see the department's website www.doc.la.gov for unit-specific visiting information, such as:

- a. each institution's address and phone number;
- b. directions to each institution;
- c. information regarding local transportation to each institution; and
- d. visiting days and hours of each institution.

4. Visitation is a privilege and not a right. Violation of the guidelines outlined in this document may result in any of the following:

- a. termination of the visit;
- b. restriction of the inmate's visiting privileges (either noncontact visiting or suspension visiting);
- c. suspension of the visitor's visiting privileges;

- d. banning of the visitor from entering the institution or its grounds; and/or
- e. criminal charges as circumstances warrant.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Corrections, Office of Adult Services, LR 4:487 (December 1978), amended by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, LR 37:2184 (July 2011), LR 45:580 (April 2019).

§325. Administrative Remedy Procedure

A. Purpose—to constitute the department's "administrative remedy procedure" for offenders as a regulation.

B. Applicability—deputy secretary, chief of operations, regional wardens, wardens, and sheriffs or administrators of local jail facilities. Each unit head is responsible for ensuring that all unit written policies and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation. Furthermore, the provisions of this regulation as amended are applicable retroactively, and thus apply to any policy, condition, action, or request for administrative remedy filed prior to the date.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy that all offenders and employees have reasonable access to and comply with the department's "administrative remedy procedure" through which an offender may seek formal review of a complaint. Offenders housed in local jail facilities shall also be afforded reasonable access to a grievance remedy procedure. Revisions shall be accomplished through this regulation under the signature of the secretary.

D. Administrative Remedy Procedure—Purpose

1. On September 18, 1985, the Department of Public Safety and Corrections installed in all of its adult institutions a formal grievance mechanism for use by all offenders committed to the custody of the department. The process bears the name Administrative Remedy Procedure (ARP). Offenders are required to use and complete all steps in the procedure properly, including obeying all rules of the procedural process, before they can proceed with a suit in federal and state courts. No action shall be brought in a federal or state court with respect to prison conditions by any offender confined in any jail or correctional facility until all available administrative remedies are properly exhausted.

2. Corrections Services has established the administrative remedy procedure through which an offender may seek formal review of a complaint which relates to any aspect of his incarceration if less formal methods have not resolved the matter. Such complaints and grievances include, but are not limited to any and all claims seeking monetary, injunctive, declaratory or any other form of relief authorized by law and by way of illustration, includes actions pertaining to conditions of confinement, personal injuries, medical malpractice, time computations, even though urged as a writ of habeas corpus, or challenges to rules, regulations, policies or statutes, including grievances such as discrimination based on disability, offender requests for accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act and for complaints of sexual abuse under the Prison Rape Elimination Act.

3. Through this procedure, offenders shall receive reasonable responses and where appropriate, meaningful remedies.

E. Definitions

ARP Screening Officer—a staff member, designated by the warden, whose responsibility is to coordinate and facilitate the administrative remedy procedure process.

Days—calendar days.

Emergency Grievance (or Request for Emergency Administrative Remedy)—a matter in which disposition within the regular time limits would subject the offender to a substantial risk of personal injury or cause other serious and irreparable harm to the offender.

Exhaustion—proper exhaustion only occurs when an offender files a timely and procedurally proper request for remedy, which after it is accepted, is addressed on the merits at both the first and second step. A request for administrative remedy which is rejected is not considered properly exhausted, as such request has not been addressed on its merits at either of the two steps.

Grievance (or Request for Administrative Remedy)—a written complaint by an offender on the offender's own behalf regarding anything relating to prison conditions, including but not limited to a policy applicable within an institution, a condition within an institution, an action involving an offender of an institution, ~~or~~ an incident occurring within an institution, or discrimination based on disability.

NOTE: The pronouns "he" and "his" as used herein are for convenience only and are not intended to discriminate against female employees or offenders.

F. General Policy

1. Offenders may request administrative remedies to situations arising from policies, conditions or events within the institution that affect them personally, including discrimination based on disability.

2. All offenders, regardless of their classification, impairment or disability, shall be entitled to invoke this grievance procedure. It shall be the responsibility of the warden to provide appropriate assistance for offenders with literacy deficiencies or language barriers (including hearing and visual impairments).

3. There are procedures already in place within all DPS and C institutions which are specifically and expressly incorporated into and made a part of this administrative remedy procedure. These procedures shall constitute the administrative remedies for disciplinary matters and lost property claims.

a. General Procedures

i. Notification of Procedures

(a). Offenders must be made aware of the system by oral explanation at orientation and should have the opportunity to ask questions and receive oral answers.

(b). The procedures shall be posted in writing in areas readily accessible to all offenders.

(c). All offenders may request information about or assistance in using the procedure from their classification officer or from a counsel substitute who services their living area.

ii. Nothing in this procedure should serve to prevent or discourage an offender from communicating with the warden or anyone else in the department. All forms of communication to the warden will be handled, investigated and responded to as the warden deems appropriate.

iii. The requirements set forth in this document for acceptance into the administrative remedy procedure are solely to assure that incidents which may give rise to a cause of action will be handled through this two step system of review.

iv. The following matters shall not be appealable through this administrative remedy procedure:

(a). court decisions and pending criminal matters over which the department has no control or jurisdiction;

(b). Board of Pardons and Parole decisions (under Louisiana law, these decisions are discretionary and may not be challenged);

(c). sex offender assessment panel recommendations;

(d). lockdown review board decisions (offenders are furnished written reasons at the time this decision is made as to why they are not being released from lockdown, if that is the case. The board's decision may not be challenged. However, a request for administrative remedy on lockdown review board hearings can be made in the following instances):

(i). that no reasons were given for the decision of the board;

(ii). that a hearing was not held within 90 days from the offender's original placement in lockdown or from the last hearing. There will be a 20 day grace period attached hereto, due to administrative scheduling problems of the board; therefore, a claim based on this ground will not be valid until 110 days have passed and no hearing has been held;

v. A request for accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act made using the administrative remedy procedure process and the resolution of the offender's request shall be deemed to be exhaustion of the administrative procedure. The initiation of the process and deadlines and time limits stated in the administrative remedy procedure remain applicable.

vi. If an offender registers a complaint against a staff member, that employee shall not be involved in the decision making process on the request for remedy. However, this shall not prevent the employee from participating at the step one level, since this employee may be the best source from which to begin collecting information on an alleged incident.

vii. At each stage of decision and review, offenders will be provided written answers that explain the information gathered or the reason for the decision reached along with simple directions for obtaining further review.

viii. Prior to filing a grievance in federal or state court, unless specifically excepted by law, the offender must properly exhaust all available administrative remedies. Only after the request for administrative remedy is accepted can proper exhaustion occur. Exhaustion can only occur when a second step response on the merits has been issued.

ix. If an offender submits multiple requests during the review of a previous request, they will be logged and set aside for handling at such time as the request currently in the system has been exhausted at the second step or until time limits to proceed from the first step to the second step have lapsed. The warden may determine whether a letter of instruction to the offender is in order.

x. In cases where a number of offenders have filed similar or identical requests seeking administrative remedy, it is appropriate to respond only to the offender who filed the initial request. Copies of the decision sent to other offenders who filed requests simultaneously regarding the same issue will constitute a completed action. All such requests shall be logged separately.

xi. When an offender has filed a request at one institution and is transferred prior to the review, or if he files a request after transfer on an action taken by the sending institution, the sending institution shall complete the processing through the first step response (form B-05-005-ARP-2). The warden of the receiving institution shall assist in communication with the offender.

xii. If an offender is discharged before the review of an issue is completed that affects the offender after discharge, or if he files a request after discharge on an issue that affects him after discharge, the institution shall complete the processing and shall notify the offender at his last known address. All other requests shall be considered moot when the offender discharges and the process shall not be completed.

xiii. No action shall be taken against anyone for the good faith use of or good faith participation in the procedure.

(a). Reprisals of any nature are prohibited. Offenders are entitled to pursue, through the grievance procedure, a complaint that a reprisal occurred.

(b). The prohibition against reprisals should not be construed to prohibit discipline of offenders who do not use the system in good faith. Those who file requests that are frivolous or deliberately malicious may be disciplined accordingly.

b. Maintenance of Records

i. Administrative remedy procedure records are confidential. Employees who are participating in the disposition of a request may have access to records essential to the resolution of requests. Otherwise, release of these records is governed by R.S. 15:574.12.

ii. All reports, investigations, etc., other than the offender's original letter and responses, are prepared in anticipation of litigation and to become part of the attorney's work product for the attorney handling any anticipated future litigation of this matter; therefore these documents are confidential and not subject to discovery or the Public Records Act outlined in R.S. 44:1, et seq.

iii. Records shall be maintained as follows.

(i). Each institution shall submit reports on administrative remedy procedure activity.

(ii). Cross references and notations shall be made on other appropriate databases such as ADA and PREA as may be warranted.

(b). Individual requests and disposition, and all responses and pertinent documents shall be kept on file at the institution or at headquarters.

(c). Records shall be kept four years following final disposition of the request.

c. Annual Review. The warden shall annually solicit comments and suggestions on the processing, the efficiency and the credibility of the administrative remedy procedure from offenders and staff. A report with the results of such review shall be provided to the chief of operations/office of adult services no later than January 31 of each year.

G. Initiating a Formal Grievance

1. Offenders are encouraged to resolve their problems within the institution informally, before initiating the formal process. Informal resolution is accomplished through communication with appropriate staff members. If an offender is unable to resolve his problems or obtain relief in this fashion, he may initiate the formal process. In order to ensure their right to use the formal procedure, a request to the warden shall be made in writing within a 90 day period after an incident has occurred. This requirement may be waived when circumstances warrant. The warden or designee shall use reasonable judgment in such matters. There is no time limit imposed for grievances alleging sexual abuse.

a. Initiating a Formal Grievance

i. The offender commences the process by completing a request for administrative remedy (form B-05-005-ARP-1) or writing a letter to the warden, in which he briefly sets out the basis for his claim, and the relief sought. For purposes of this process, a letter is:

(a). any form of written communication which contains the phrase: "This is a request for administrative remedy" or "ARP;" or (b). request for administrative remedy (form B-05-005-ARP-1) at those institutions that wish to furnish forms for commencement of this process.

ii. The institution is not required to be responsible for furnishing the offender with copies of his letter of complaint. It is the offender's responsibility for obtaining or duplicating a copy of his letter of complaint through established institutional procedures and for retaining the copy for his own records. The form or original letter will become a part of the administrative record and will not be returned to the offender.

iii. Original letters or requests to the warden should be as brief as possible. Offenders should present as many facts as possible to answer all questions (who, what, when, where and how) concerning the incident. If a request is unclear or the volume of attached material is too great, it may be rejected and returned to the offender with a request for clarity or summarization on one additional page. The response deadline for a request for clarity or summarization begins on the date the resubmission is received by the ARP screening officer.

iv. No request for administrative remedy shall be denied acceptance into the administrative remedy procedure because it is or is not on a form; however, no letter as set forth above shall be accepted into the process unless it contains the phrase, "This is a request for administrative remedy or ARP."

b. Withdrawing a Formal Grievance. After filing a formal request for administrative remedy, the offender may request in writing that the warden or secretary cancel the administrative remedy request at any time and for any reason. A withdrawn request cannot constitute a properly exhausted administrative remedy.

H. Emergency or Sensitive Issues

1. In instances where the offender's request is of an emergency or sensitive issue as defined below, the following procedures will apply.

a. If an offender feels he is subjected to emergency conditions, he must send an emergency request to the shift supervisor. The shift supervisor shall immediately review the request to determine the appropriate corrective action to be taken. All emergency requests shall be documented on an unusual occurrence report (form C-05-001-W-1) by the appropriate staff member.

i. Abuse of the emergency review process by an offender shall be treated as a frivolous or malicious request and the offender shall be disciplined accordingly. Particularly, but not exclusively, matters relating to administrative transfers and time computation disputes are not to be treated as emergencies for purposes of this procedure, but shall be expeditiously handled by the shift supervisor, when appropriate.

b. If the offender believes the complaint is sensitive and that he would be adversely affected if the complaint became known at the institution, he may file the complaint directly with the secretary through the chief of operations/office of adult services (second step response-form B-05-005-ARP-3). The offender must explain, in writing, his reason for not filing the complaint at the institution.

i. If the chief of operations/office of adult services agrees that the complaint is sensitive, he shall accept and respond to the complaint at the second step. If he does not agree that the complaint is sensitive, he shall so advise the offender in writing, and return the complaint to the warden's office. The offender shall then have five days from the date the rejection memo is received in the warden's office to submit his request through regular channels (beginning with the first step if his complaint is acceptable for processing in the administrative remedy procedure).

c. If an emergency complaint alleges that the offender is subject to a substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse, the grievance shall be sent immediately to the unit's PREA compliance manager who shall then immediately notify the unit's PREA investigator. The unit PREA compliance manager shall provide an initial response within 48 hours of receipt of the grievance outlining any corrective actions warranted and shall issue a first step response within five days. If the offender has been secured and is no longer in danger or imminent harm, the grievance procedure shall proceed as outlined within the deadlines and time limits stated in the administrative remedy procedure.

I. Grievance Screening

1. The ARP screening officer shall screen all requests prior to assignment to the first step. The screening process should not unreasonably restrain the offender's opportunity to seek a remedy.

a. The ARP screening officer shall provide notice to the offender that his request is either:

- i. being accepted and will be processed, or
- ii. being rejected and will not be processed until the noted deficiency is corrected.

b. Accepted Requests

i. If the request is accepted, the warden, or designee, will assign a staff member to conduct further fact-finding and/or information gathering prior to rendering his response.

ii. Once an offender's request is accepted into the procedure, he must use the manila envelope that is furnished to him with the first step response (form B-05-005-ARP-2) to continue in the procedure. The flaps on the envelope may be tucked into the envelope for mailing to the facility's ARP screening officer.

c. Rejected Requests

i. If a request is rejected, it must be for one of the following reasons:

(a). This matter is not appealable through this process, such as:

- (i). court decisions;
- (ii). Board of Pardons and Committee on Parole decisions;
- (iii).sex offender assessment panel recommendations;
- (iv).lockdown review board (refer to Subsection F, General Policy).

(b). There are specialized administrative remedy procedures in place for this specific type of complaint, such as:

- (i). disciplinary matters;
  - (ii). lost property claims.
- (c). It is a duplicate request.
- (d). The complaint concerns an action not yet taken or a decision which has not yet been made.
- (e). The offender has requested a remedy for another offender (unless the request is a third party report of an allegation of sexual abuse).

(f). The request was not written by the offender and a waiver was not approved. The only exception is if the offender has alleged sexual abuse. In this instance, the offender:

(i). may seek help from a third party to file the initial grievance;

(ii). must attach written authorization for the named third party to submit the grievance on the offender's behalf; and

(iii).must personally pursue any remaining subsequent steps in the process, including participation in any resulting investigation.

(g). The offender has requested a remedy for more than one incident (a multiple complaint) unless the request is a report of an allegation of sexual abuse.

(h). Established rules and procedures were not followed.

(i). There has been a time lapse of more than 90 days between the event and the initial request, unless waived by the warden. Some exceptions may apply such as time computation issues, ADA issues, PREA issues, and on-going medical issues.

(j). The offender does not request some type of remedy unless the request pertains to an allegation of sexual abuse, in which case stopping the abuse is the implied request for remedy.

(k). The offender's request is unclear or the volume of attached material is too great.

(l). The offender requests a religious exemption via this administrative remedy procedure prior to exhausting the religious exemption process.

ii. The offender shall be provided written notification of the grounds upon which the rejection is based.

iii. A rejected request is not appealable to the second step. If a request is rejected for any of the reasons listed above, the offender must correct the noted deficiencies and resubmit the request to the ARP screening officer.

iv. The offender has not properly exhausted administrative remedies if his request is rejected for any of the reasons listed above.

J. Grievance Processing

1. The following process and time limits shall be adhered to in processing any ARP request.

a. First Step (time limit 40 days/5 days for PREA)

i. If an offender refuses to cooperate with the inquiry into his allegation, the request may be denied by noting the lack of cooperation on the appropriate step response and returning it to the offender.

ii. The warden shall respond to the offender within 40 days/5 days for PREA from the date the request is received at the first step utilizing the first step response (form B-05-005-ARP-2).

iii. If the offender is not satisfied with the decision rendered at the first step, he should pursue his grievance to the secretary, through the chief of operations/office of adult services via the second step.

iv. For offenders wishing to continue to the second step, sufficient space will be allowed on the response to give a reason for requesting review at the next level. It is not necessary to rewrite the original letter of request as it will be available to all reviewers at each step of the process.

b. Second Step (time limit 45 days)

i. An offender who is dissatisfied with the first step response (form B-05-005-ARP-2) may appeal to the secretary of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections by so indicating that he is not satisfied in the appropriate space on the response form and forwarding it to the ARP screening officer within five days of receipt of the decision.

ii. A final decision will be made by the secretary or designee and the offender shall be sent a response within 45 days from the date the request is received at the second step utilizing the second step response (form B-05-005-ARP-3).

iii. A copy of the secretary's decision shall be sent to the warden.

iv. If an offender is not satisfied with the second step response (form B-05-005-ARP-3), he may file suit in district court. The offender must furnish the administrative remedy procedure number on the court documents.

c. Deadlines and Time Limits. No more than 90 days from the initiation to completion of the process shall elapse, unless an extension has been granted. Absent such an extension, expiration of response time limits shall entitle the offender to move on to the next step in the process.

i. An offender may request an extension in writing of up to five days in which to file at any stage of the process.

(a). This request shall be made to the ARP screening officer for an extension to initiate a request; to the warden for the first step response (form B-05-005-ARP-2) and to the secretary through the chief of operations/office of adult services for the second step response (form B-05-005-ARP-3).

(b). The offender must certify valid reasons for the delay, which must accompany his untimely request. The issue of sufficiency of valid reasons for delay shall be addressed at each step, along with the substantive issue of the complaint.

ii. The warden may request permission for an extension of time not more than five days from the chief of operations/office of adult services for the step one review/response.

(a). The offender must be notified in writing of such an extension.

(b). Cumulative extensions of time shall not exceed 25 days unless the grievance concerns sexual abuse, in which case an extension of time up to 70 days may be made.

F. Disciplinary Procedures

1. This rulebook contains the disciplinary rules and procedures for offenders remanded to the state's custody. All offenders are required to obey the rules and regulations.

The following outlines the procedures that shall be followed when an offender violates a rule.

a. General Procedures

i. Reporting Infractions

(a). When an employee witnesses or has knowledge of any act by an offender that is in violation of the rules and/or posted policies, the employee shall first attempt, if appropriate, to resolve the matter informally. If the violation is observed or brought to the attention of a contract employee, volunteer or institutional visitor, the incident shall be reported to an employee by the person observing or with knowledge of the behavior. Informal resolution may include counseling, verbal reprimand, or the giving of an instruction, warning, or order. Informal resolution is not appropriate for any offense that poses a risk to the security of the institution (such as solicitation of staff to violate a rule or policy, an attempt to establish an inappropriate relationship or possession of contraband).

(i). If the incident cannot or may not be resolved informally, the employee shall complete a disciplinary report formally charging the offender with violating a rule.

(ii). The report shall be written by the employee who has reason to believe that an offender has violated, attempted to violate or conspired to violate one or more disciplinary rules.

[a]. An offender who intentionally attempts to violate a disciplinary rule, even if he is unsuccessful, may receive a disciplinary report for attempting to break that rule.

[b]. When two or more persons working in combination for the specific purpose of violating any disciplinary rule may receive a disciplinary report for conspiring to break that rule.

[c]. The description of an incident may include more than one separate and distinct rule violation. It is appropriate to include more than one rule violation on a single disciplinary report.

(iii). The disciplinary report shall include the following information:

[a].[i]. the accused offender's name, DOC number, housing and job assignment;

[ii]. the reporting officer's name and title;

[iii]. the offense number;

[iv]. the date and approximate time of the offense; and

[v]. a description of the facts of the offense;

[b]. the description of the facts of the offense shall include the name(s) of all the witnesses, the location of the incident and a full statement of the facts underlying the charges;

[c]. a description of any unusual offender behavior, any physical evidence and its disposition, and any immediate action taken, including the use of force.

(b). Upon completion of the disciplinary report, the supervisor shall review the information and forward the report and any supporting documentation to the disciplinary office or designated depository for processing.

(c). If an offender's continued presence in the general population poses a threat to life, property, self, staff or other offenders, or to the security or orderly operation of the institution, or who is the subject of an investigation, may (with the approval of the highest ranking supervisor on duty in the unit where the incident occurred or the shift supervisor) be placed in administrative segregation until his appearance before the disciplinary officer/disciplinary board or classification board.

(d). In instances when an offender is placed in administrative segregation for disciplinary purposes, the supervisor will conduct a review of the documentation to ensure it is complete and correct and, as needed, investigate to confirm the reasonableness of the allegation or circumstances prompting the assignment. This shall be done prior to the conclusion of the supervisor's tour of duty.

(e). Time spent in administrative segregation for the offense for which the offender was placed in administrative segregation must be credited against disciplinary detention or extra duty sentences even when these sanctions are suspended. Credit will not be given for time spent in administrative segregation based upon a request for protection or while an offender is awaiting transfer to another area.

(f). An appropriate review board should review the status of offenders who are in administrative segregation at least every seven days for the first two months and every 30 days thereafter.

ii. Notice of Disciplinary Report

(a). Offenders shall be served (usually by a correctional officer) with notice of charges at least 24 hours prior to the hearing.

(b). Confirmation that the offender was advised of the charges shall be noted on the original of the disciplinary report by evidence of the offender's signature.

(c). If the offender refuses to sign the disciplinary report, the delivering officer shall note the refusal in the offender signature block and initial the box.

b. Counsel and Counsel Substitutes

i. Counsel is an attorney-at-law of the offender's choice who has been retained by the offender.

ii. Counsel substitutes are persons not admitted to the practice of law, but offenders who aid and assist, without cost or fee, an accused offender in the preparation and presentation of his defense and/or appeal.

iii. Counsel substitutes are only those offenders appointed by the warden or designee to assist other offenders with their legal claims, including but not limited to, assistance with filing of administrative remedy procedure requests, disciplinary board appeals and lost property claims. Counsel substitutes are not required to file disciplinary appeals but should inform the offender who wants to appeal of the proper way to file. They may be removed from their positions if the warden or designee believes it appropriate. Offenders who are not counsel substitutes may not provide services to other offenders without the approval of the warden or designee.

G. Disciplinary Hearings and Sanctions

1. Hearing Procedure

a. Hearings are designed to provide a fair and impartial review conducted by a disciplinary officer or disciplinary board to determine if a rule infraction(s) occurred, if the charged offender is guilty or not guilty of the charge(s) and, if guilty, the appropriate sanction(s).

b. An investigation report may be submitted to the disciplinary board detailing the facts uncovered in an investigation. If the investigation report is used as evidence in the hearing, a copy of the report must be maintained in the administrative record. In the alternative, the investigator may be called as a witness to present testimony.

2. Disciplinary Officer (Low Court Hearing)

a. A hearing conducted by a ranking security officer (lieutenant or above) or any supervisory level employee from administration or treatment appointed by the warden or designee who conducts hearings of minor violations (Schedule A) and who may impose only designated sanctions.

b. Any disciplinary officer directly involved in the incident or one who is biased for or against the accused cannot hear the case unless the accused waives recusal in writing. (Performance of a routine administrative duty does not necessarily constitute direct involvement or bias.)

c. At these hearings, the accused offender represents himself and is given full opportunity to speak in his own behalf.

d. Counsel substitutes, witnesses or the accusing employee are not permitted in the hearing.

e. Low court hearings are not recorded.

f. Hearings shall be held within seven days of the date of the report, excluding weekends and holidays, unless the hearing is prevented by exceptional circumstances, unavoidable delays or reasonable postponements. Reasons for all delays should be documented.

3. Disciplinary Board (High Court Hearing)

a. If the offender will be transferred to a state correctional facility from a local jail facility for the purpose of conducting the hearing, the offender must be brought before the disciplinary board of the local jail facility where the violation(s) occurred and informed of the pending transfer and necessitated delay of the hearing. The date the notice was given to the offender shall be documented on the disciplinary report.

b. A properly composed board will consist of two people, a duly authorized and trained chairman and a duly authorized and trained member, each representing a different discipline (security, administration, or treatment). The secretary or designee must approve the chairman and the warden or designee must approve the member.

c. 72 Hour Rule

i. Any offender who is placed in administrative segregation for a rule violation must be given a disciplinary hearing within 72 hours of being placed in administrative segregation. Official holidays, weekends, genuine emergencies and good faith efforts by the administration to provide a timely hearing are the only exceptions. The offender must be heard at the next available court date. When it is not possible to provide a full hearing within 72 hours of placement in administrative segregation, the accused must be brought before the disciplinary board, informed of the reasons for the delay and remanded back to administrative segregation or released to his quarters after a date for a full hearing has been set.

ii. The 72 hour rule does not apply to offenders housed in local jail facilities (including transitional work programs) whose hearings are conducted once they are transferred to a state correctional facility or those who have their disciplinary hearing conducted at a state correctional facility even if they are not transferred there. Offenders in this status have no expectation of a disciplinary hearing within 72 hours, or even seven days.

iii. The 72 hour rule does not apply to those offenders who are placed in administrative segregation for reasons other than for a disciplinary hearing. Examples of these classifications include, but are not limited to:

(a). awaiting transfer to another facility or another housing unit within the facility;

(b). transitional work program or intake, etc.

d. Hearings for those offenders not placed in administrative segregation shall be held within seven days of the date of the report, excluding weekends and holidays, unless the hearing is prevented by exceptional circumstances, unavoidable delays or reasonable postponements. Reasons for all delays should be documented. Any member directly involved in the incident or one who is biased for or against the accused cannot hear the case unless the accused waives recusal in writing or verbally on the record. (Performance of routine administrative duty does not necessarily constitute direct involvement or bias.)

e. Decisions must be unanimous, with each member participating in the deliberations. If the decision is not unanimous, the case is automatically deferred for referral to a different disciplinary board.

f. If a second decision is not unanimous, then a finding of not guilty is appropriate.

g. The disciplinary board may also hear cases of offenders who have signed written requests for protection and may recommend appropriate action.

4. Conduct of the Hearing—Disciplinary Board (High Court Hearing)

a. Before the hearing can begin, an accused offender must acknowledge that he is familiar with the offender rights during the disciplinary process. (Refer to Subsection J of this Section, Offender Rights and Responsibilities, for additional information.)

b. All rights and procedural requirements must be followed unless waived by the accused.

c. Disciplinary board hearings shall be recorded in their entirety and the recording preserved for five years.

d. An offender who does not choose to be present at the hearing may sign a waiver which shall be read into the record. A counsel substitute shall represent him and enter a not guilty plea. The same applies to a disruptive offender who refuses to cooperate. If the offender refuses to sign a waiver, one shall be prepared and the refusal noted by two witnesses. In either case, the disciplinary chairman shall also sign the waiver.

e. The accused enters his name and DOC number into the record as does his counsel or counsel substitute (if any) and confirms that he understands his rights. If the offender indicates he does not know or understand his rights, they must be explained to him.

f. The chairman reads the disciplinary report to the accused and asks for a plea. Available pleas are “not guilty” or “guilty.” Should the accused attempt to enter an unavailable plea or refuse to enter a plea, the chairman will enter a “not guilty” plea for him and proceed with the hearing.

g. Preliminary motions must be raised at the first opportunity or be considered waived and may include:

i. dismissal of the charge(s);

ii. continuance (Offenders are not entitled to a continuance to secure counsel unless they are charged with a violation that is also a crime under state law. Only one continuance will be granted unless new information is produced.);

iii. requests to face accuser and call witnesses, etc.;

iv. a motion due to lack of 24-hour notice, including any challenge to the waiver of the 24-hour notice rule having not been made in writing;

v. request for investigation;

vi. any other appropriate motions.

h. All motions must be made at the same time in the proceedings. Subsequent verbal motions will be denied as having been waived.

i. The board shall deliberate and rule on motions at the time the motion is made, unless expressly deferred to the actual hearing.

j. A summary of motions presented will be documented with written reasons for each ruling made on the disciplinary court motions.

k. After entering his plea and motions, if any, the accused may present his defense.

l. The board may ask questions of the accused, his witnesses and/or his accuser. During the hearing, the accuser should only be present to testify. He shall never be present during deliberations.

m. The disciplinary board shall carefully evaluate all evidence presented or stipulated.

n. In situations where the disciplinary report is based on a single confidential informant, there must be other evidence to corroborate the violation. That evidence may include, but is not limited to, testimony from another confidential informant, the record (investigative report) or other evidence. Whenever information is provided by confidential informants, the informant must be certified as having provided reliable information in the past (and have legitimate knowledge of the present incident(s)). If requested, the accusing employee must be summoned to testify about the reliability and credibility of the confidential informant(s) when the disciplinary report is based solely on information from confidential informants.

i. All confidential information used in the disciplinary process shall be documented on the confidential informant testimony and certification form.

o. The board will review the information presented during the deliberations.

i. During deliberations, everyone except the board and any official observers must leave the room, and the board will decide the case on the basis of the evidence presented at the hearing.

ii. Official observers must not take part in the hearing or the deliberations.

iii. The disciplinary record of the accused may be examined to discover a pattern of similar misbehavior or to determine if a pending suspended sanction exists.

iv. The disciplinary record may be used to determine the appropriate sanction(s) to be imposed.

v. Both members of the board must verbally discuss and render their verdict(s).

vi. The audio recording will continue throughout the deliberations.

p. Following the deliberations, the chairman will announce the verdict.

q. If the verdict is guilty, the chairman will then announce the sanction(s).

r. It must be clearly articulated which sanction applies to each specific rule violation for which the offender was found guilty.

s. The board has full authority to suspend any sanction imposed for a period of up to 90 days.

5. Correcting Disciplinary Reports

a. A reviewing employee may change the rule violation number to fit the description prior to the hearing but should ensure that the accused gets a corrected copy of the report at least 24 hours before the hearing begins. Rule violation number(s) may be added if the offense is clearly described on the report.

b. Before the hearing begins, the board may change the rule number to match the description of the alleged misbehavior, if necessary, and may also change the rule number at any point prior to the deliberations, but should offer the accused a continuance to prepare the defense. It is the description of the conduct and not the rule number that determines the offense.

c. The continuance may be waived and does not necessarily need to be for 24 hours.

NOTE: This information shall be voiced on the recorder for the record.

6. Sanctions

a. Sanctions must fit the offense and the offender. An offender with a poor conduct record may receive a more severe sanction than an offender with a good conduct record for the same offense. Even so, serious offenses call for serious penalties.

b. An offender who violates more than one rule or the same rule more than once during an incident may receive a permissible sanction for each violation.

c. After a finding of guilt for a new violation, a previously suspended sanction may be imposed as well as a new sanction.

d. State and federal criminal laws apply to offenders. In addition to being sanctioned by prison authorities, offenders may also be prosecuted in state and federal court for criminal conduct.

e. Restitution may be imposed in accordance with established policies and procedures and is not considered a disciplinary sanction and may be assessed in addition to any other permissible penalties.

f. An offender who has established a documented pattern of behavior indicating that he is dangerous to himself or others is a habitual offender. This includes an offender who has been convicted of three major violations or a total of five violations in a six month period. Major violations are Schedule B offenses. A habitual offender may receive Schedule B penalties following a finding of guilt of a Schedule A offense when he has established a documented pattern of hostile or disruptive behavior as defined above.

g. After a finding of guilt, the disciplinary officer may impose one or two of the penalties for each violation.

H. Appeals

1. A request for review of a disciplinary decision must follow these procedures.

a. Appeals to the Disciplinary Board

i. An offender may appeal a case heard by the disciplinary officer (low court) only to the disciplinary board (high court).

ii. As soon as the ruling is issued, the offender who wants to appeal must clearly say so to the disciplinary officer who will then automatically suspend the sanction and schedule the case for the disciplinary board.

iii. The appeal hearing before the disciplinary board is a full hearing the same as any other hearing conducted by the board. The disciplinary board cannot increase the sanction imposed by the disciplinary officer.

iv. The appeal to the disciplinary board will be the final appeal in a case heard by the disciplinary officer. No other appeals are allowed. The appeal from the disciplinary officer to the disciplinary board will constitute the final administrative remedy regarding the disciplinary decision. Decisions rendered by the disciplinary officer and appealed to the disciplinary board may not be appealed to the warden or to the secretary.

b. Appeals to the Warden

i. An offender may appeal a case heard by the disciplinary board (high court). All appeal requests on high court cases shall be to the warden.

ii. The offender may appeal himself or through counsel or counsel substitute. In any case, the appeal must be received within 15 calendar days of the hearing.

iii. The appeal should be clearly written or typed on the appeal from the disciplinary board form. This form is available from the offender's classification officer. If the form is not available, the appeal may be on plain paper but should contain the information called for on the form.

iv. The warden will decide all appeals within 30 calendar days of the date of receipt of the appeal and the offender will be promptly notified in writing of the results (unless circumstances warrant an extension of that time period and the offender is notified accordingly).

v. Lengthy appeals of disciplinary actions will not be accepted into the appeals process. It is necessary for the offender to only provide basic factual information regarding his case. Lengthy appeals will be returned to the offender for summarization. The offender will have five calendar days from receipt to comply with the instructions and resubmit. It is important to remember that abuse of the system impairs the department's ability to respond to legitimate problems in a timely fashion.

c. Appeals to the Secretary

i. An offender may appeal the decision of the warden to the secretary and must indicate that he is "not satisfied" in the appropriate box on the appeal decision form. The document should then be submitted to the disciplinary office or designated depository.

ii. The offender must submit the form within five calendar days of the date of the receipt of the warden's decision. No supplement to the appeal will be considered.

iii. It is only necessary that the offender check the box indicating, "I am not satisfied," date, sign and forward the form to the appropriate person.

iv. An offender who does not file an appeal to the warden in a timely manner shall relinquish his right to appeal to the secretary.

v. The offender will receive an acknowledgment of receipt and date forwarded to the secretary's office.

vi. The institution will provide a copy of the offender's original appeal to be attached to the appeal decision form for submission to the secretary. The form is available from the offender's classification officer.

vii. The secretary shall only consider appeals of sanctions from decisions of the warden that resulted in an imposed or suspended sentence of one or more of the following penalties:

- (a). forfeiture of good time;
- (b). a custody change from minimum to medium if it involves transfer to another institution;
- (c). a custody change to maximum;
- (d). failure to earn incentive wages.

viii. In addition, appeals regarding restitution assessments may be submitted to the secretary. The appeal of such assessments must be submitted in accordance with established policy and procedures.

ix. The secretary will decide all appeals within 85 days of the date of receipt of the appeal and the offender will be promptly notified in writing of the results (unless circumstances warrant an extension of that time period and the offender is notified accordingly). Absent unusual circumstances, the secretary will only consider review of the sanction(s) imposed of an offender who pled guilty.

		and/or maintained on any Internet-based social networking website, as well as accessing an unauthorized internet or intranet website.

J. Offender rights and responsibilities:

1. the right to be given a written copy of the disciplinary report at least 24 hours before the hearing begins which describes the contents of the charges against the offender (unless waived by him in writing);

2. the right to a hearing within 72 hours of placement in administrative segregation;

3. the right to counsel substitute for all alleged violations and the right to outside retained counsel, if the alleged violation is one for which the offender could also be charged in a criminal court, e.g. possession of illegal drugs, rape or aggravated battery, etc.;

4. the right to not be compelled to incriminate himself;

5. the right to present evidence and witnesses on his behalf and to request cross-examination of the accuser provided such request is relevant, not repetitious, not unduly burdensome to the institution and/or not unduly hazardous to staff or offender safety. (The board has the option of stipulating expected testimony from witnesses. In such cases, the record of the hearing shall contain a statement indicating the nature of the stipulated testimony. The board should assign proper weight to such testimony as though the witness had actually appeared.) The accusing employee must be summoned when the report is based solely on information from confidential informants, if such a motion is raised;

6. the right to an unbiased hearing. Any chairman or member directly involved in the incident, who is biased for or against the accused or who is in a therapeutic relationship with the offender that would be jeopardized by the therapist's presence on the disciplinary board, cannot hear the case unless the accused waives recusal in writing or verbally on the record. Performance of a routine administrative duty does not necessarily constitute direct involvement or bias;

7. the right to enter a separate plea to each rule violation for which he is charged;

8. the right to a written summary of the evidence and reasons for the judgment, including reasons for the sanction imposed, when the accused entered a plea of "not guilty" and was found "guilty" by the disciplinary board. (This will usually appear on the finalized report.) The convicted offender shall be given or sent a written summary;

§409. Performance Grid and Administrative Sanctions

A. Purpose—to establish the secretary's policy for addressing the behavior of an offender through the use of a performance grid and administrative sanctions. The performance grid and administrative sanctions ensure consistent and timely actions which shall be imposed in response to violations enumerated on the grid. This works to achieve public safety by holding offenders accountable for their behavior and reinforcing positive behavior.

B. Applicability—deputy secretary, director of probation and parole, regional administrators, district administrators and all probation and parole officers. The director of probation and parole is responsible for ensuring that appropriate unit written policy and procedures are in place to comply with the provisions of this regulation.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy to address violations in a timely, consistent and reasonable manner by use of the performance grid, which may include administrative sanctions. Absent significant risk to public safety, these actions and/or administrative sanctions would be graduated and proportional with the level of violations. The needs of the offender shall also be considered to assist in the successful completion of their sentence. The grid is a tool to guide probation and parole officers in the application of administrative sanctions. It is also the secretary's policy to recognize and reward offenders for achieving progress made towards goals formulated in the supervision plan.

D. Definitions

Actions—added conditions or requirements placed on the offender by the probation and parole officer, the court or the board of parole in an effort to prevent any further violations by an offender.

Administrative Sanctions—imposed by the probation and parole officer to address technical violations in accordance with Act No. 104 of the 2011 Regular Session to include, but not be limited to: jail; non-custodial treatment; community service work; house arrest; electronic monitoring, restitution centers, transitional work programs, day reporting centers and other local sanctions not already imposed as special conditions of supervision.

Performance Grid—a four level instrument used to register any violation enumerated on the performance grid by an offender and the actions taken by a probation and parole officer in response to those violations. Each level is graduated to address the seriousness of the violations that occur.

Violations—any behavior, action or inaction, which is contrary to the conditions of probation or parole supervision which may or may not be enumerated on the performance grid.

E. The following violations are specific to violations in which probation and parole officers may use the administrative sanctions.

Parole Technical Violations—all violations of the conditions of parole, except those resulting in a new arrest, charge, conviction of a felony or an intentional misdemeanor directly affecting the person or being in possession of a firearm or other prohibited weapon.

Probation Technical Violations—all violations of probation, except those resulting in an arrest for a subsequent criminal act.

F. General Application of Performance Grid in Response to Violations

1. Timely and appropriate actions shall be taken in accordance with the procedures of this regulation when a probation and parole officer becomes aware of an offender's violation(s).

2. The officer shall utilize the performance grid for enumerated violations specific to the offender and the violation. The absence of any other technical violation from the performance grid does not prohibit the probation and parole officer from addressing these violations in an appropriate manner.

3. The performance grid shall not be utilized to address violations of not guilty by reason of insanity and interstate compact cases.

4. When using the performance grid, the probation and parole officer shall locate the performance grid specific to the offender, select the enumerated violation(s) and choose the appropriate coinciding action(s) and/or administrative sanctions. When imposing sanction(s) for violations, all appropriate actions shall be selected to fully address violations, especially when selecting jail as an administrative sanction (i.e., substance abuse treatment after jail sanction is imposed).

5. Although a wide range of actions and administrative sanctions are available for response to certain violations, probation and parole officers may determine that a departure from the recommended actions may be a more appropriate response to a violation(s). The reasons for the departure shall be explained in the narratives.

6. Actions taken for a positive drug screen shall also include mandatory retesting within 45 days.

7. When the offender completes the last action directed, the offender returns to a compliant status. Any new violation that occurs after the offender has returned to compliant status for six months will be addressed as a level 1 violation.

G. Administrative Sanctions

1. When using the performance grid, probation and parole officers may opt to utilize administrative sanctions when authorized by the court or board of parole. These administrative sanctions are located in the actions column of the performance grid. The violation(s) and subsequent sanction(s) shall be noted on the performance grid when completing case narratives as described in Paragraph E.5 of this regulation. The performance grid establishes the level and type of administrative sanctions that may be imposed by probation and parole officers and the level and type of violations that warrant a recommendation that the offender be returned to the court or the board of parole.

2. When imposing administrative sanctions, the following factors shall be taken into consideration:

- a. severity of the violation;
- b. prior violation history;
- c. severity of the underlying criminal conviction;
- d. any special circumstances, characteristics or resources of the offender;
- e. protection of the community;
- f. deterrence;
- g. availability of local sanctions, including, but not limited to: jail; non-custodial treatment; community service work; house arrest; electronic monitoring; restitution centers; transitional work programs; day reporting centers and other local sanctions not already imposed as special conditions of supervision.

3. When imposing administrative sanctions (including jail sanctions) that are not already conditions of supervision (i.e., electronic monitoring, substance abuse treatment, etc.) the probation and parole officer shall complete the notification of administrative sanctions and shall obtain supervisor approval prior to imposing the sanctions.

4. For the offender to accept the administrative sanction, the offender must be given notice of the violation(s), must waive his right to a hearing and counsel, must consent to the administrative sanction being imposed and must admit the violation(s). All offenders who are offered administrative sanction(s) shall receive the following process.

a. The notification of administrative sanctions form shall be printed, read and thoroughly explained to the offender. The offender shall then be given the option of accepting or refusing the imposed administrative sanction(s).

b. When the offender agrees to the administrative sanction(s), the offender, supervising probation and parole officer and supervisor shall sign and date the notification of administrative sanctions form. The offender shall be provided a copy of the completed notification of administrative sanctions form.

c. If jail is being imposed as an administrative sanction, CAJUN and case management shall be updated by appropriate district office staff (support employee or probation and parole officer) to indicate correct location and transfer dates. The local jail facility shall also be provided a completed notification of administrative sanctions form for their records.

d. When a jail sanction is chosen, the probation and parole officer is limited to the number of jail days in the appropriate level, regardless of the number of violations that have occurred. The number of total jail days an offender serves cannot exceed 60 days in a 12 month period. This twelve month period begins upon the imposition of the first jail sanction.

e. The court, board of parole, district attorney and defense counsel of record shall be provided a copy of the notification of administrative sanctions form.

5. If the offender refuses the administrative sanction(s), the offender shall be given the opportunity to explain in writing on the notification of administrative sanctions form why the administrative sanction is being refused. The refusal shall be witnessed and dated. This information shall be provided to the court or board of parole for further action.

6. Monthly reports shall be submitted electronically no later than the tenth day of the month following the reporting period utilizing the C-05-001 reporting database and appropriate C-05-001 form.

H. Rewards and Recognition

1. The performance grid shall also recognize and reward offenders for positive behavior changes, compliance with the conditions of supervision and progress made towards achievement of goals. Timely and appropriate action shall be taken in response to positive behavior as enumerated in the performance grid.

2. Recognition shall also be achieved by reducing the level of supervision and early termination, suspended status and self reporting as established in current policy and procedure.

[Formerly §308]

A. Purpose. To establish procedures for the assignment and reassignment of juvenile offenders disposed by the juvenile court to the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections.

B. General

1. The assignment of juvenile offenders in the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections shall be based upon a classification of the risks and needs presented by the offender. This classification shall be based upon ascertainable events and behaviors and shall be provided for all juvenile offenders in the custody of or supervised by the Department Public Safety and Corrections, Office of Juvenile Services.

2. The reassignment of offenders in agency custody shall be clearly based upon the documented needs of the offender and the risks presented and not solely upon the established duration of the treatment program.

3. The offenders and the offender's family or guardian shall be informed of the alternatives and outcomes of the assignment or reassignment and be included in the treatment/service plan.

4. Offender assignments and reassignments shall be accompanied by the offender classification, staffing and due process procedures specified below.

5. At all times the services provided the offender shall be part of a written treatment/service plan. Each offender's treatment/service plan shall be regularly reviewed as per OJS policy to assure that the most appropriate services are being provided, within the least restrictive setting available.

C. Definitions. The following definitions apply within the context of document.

Administrative Review—the process by which custody offenders reassigned to a higher level of nonsecure care may request a second level review of the reassignment.

Appeal—the process by which custody offenders may initiate a further review of the assignment decision to secure custody.

Assessment—the process of gathering the necessary social, legal, psychological, behavioral, and educational information about the juvenile offender to indicate the appropriate level of care and custody.

Assignment—the process of placing the custody offender in the available treatment program most appropriate to his/her indicated needs and risks.

Case Review—the process of reconsideration or verification that the custody offender's treatment is appropriate to meet the identified needs.

Classification—the process by which the juvenile offender is assessed relative to needs and risks presented.

Custody Offender—those juvenile offenders disposed to the custody of Department of Public Safety and Corrections by a court of juvenile jurisdiction.

Due Process Hearing—those administrative hearings conducted at the time of a custody offender's reassignment to secure levels of custody from previous nonsecure custody settings.

Levels of Care—the range of treatment services and programs available for custody offenders arranged on a scale from least restrictive to most restrictive.

Nonsecure Custody—includes services and programs available to custody offenders at all levels of care less restrictive than those provided in a secure custody setting.

Petition for Second Review by the State Level Review Panel—the process by which an offender in secure custody, whose referral for early release has been denied by the state level review panel, may request a second review by that panel.

Reassignment—the authorized move of a custody offender from one treatment program to another.

Reclassification—the process by which juvenile offenders have their needs and risk assessments reviewed and rescored based upon observable events and behavior.

Release—the termination, either by court order or expiration of a court order, of Department of Public Safety and Corrections, custody of a juvenile offender.

Secure Custody—that highest of the levels of care indicating a maximum (within law) restriction of a juvenile offender's rights, or freedoms.

Staffing—the process by which a team of professionals reviews, discusses, and plans, along with the offender, for best meeting the offender's identified needs.

State Level Review Panel—a multi-disciplinary team charged with the responsibility of reviewing requests from an offender's release from a juvenile correctional institution to a less restrictive placement and subsequently issuing a report indicating confirmation or rejections of the recommendation.

D. Minimal Procedural Requirements

1. Predispositional or disposition modification recommendations to the court concerning Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody of offenders.

a. In all cases, Office of Juvenile Services staff recommendations to the court for an offender to be placed in the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections shall be preceded by a case staffing. Documentation of the staffing proceedings and final recommendations shall be maintained in the offender's case record. Recommendations for Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody of offenders not currently or previously having received services in the community shall be supported only by the most stringent circumstances of risk and/or need. The final committee recommendations shall be fully supported by information presented at the staffing and be included in the report to the court.

2. Offender Classification and Assessment

a. If the initial case staffing supports a recommendation for Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody, then the committee shall also conduct a classification staffing in order to determine the appropriate level of custody necessary to conduct a full assessment of the offender's risk and needs. The level of custody may be secure or nonsecure. All offenders served by the Office of Juvenile Services are classified as to their level of risk and need. This custody level decision shall be supported by the offender's risk and needs classification, by the available social and behavioral history, as well as by any previous history of treatment or supervision. Results of the classification staffing should be submitted to the court along with the earlier recommendation for custody.

b. For those offenders disposed to Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody without prior study and recommendation by Office of Juvenile Services staff, the classification staffing shall be held within 15 working days of disposition and receipt of all available information from the court, and except in cases of emergency before assignment of the offender to a program of treatment/services. In these cases a confirmation of the need for Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody must be considered in staffing prior to determining whether the offender requires a secure or nonsecure setting for assessment.

c. Offenders determined to require nonsecure custody for assessment, shall have diagnostic and evaluative information sought in the community. Diagnostic and evaluative assessment for offenders classified for secure custody will be provided at the Juvenile Reception and Diagnostic Center for males and at the Louisiana Training Institute at Ball for females. Upon completion of this assessment, an assignment staffing is held at the OJS Regional Office (for nonsecure) or at JRDC/LTI-Ball (for secure) in order to determine the need for a secure or nonsecure, setting for treatment. The location of the assessment, i.e., secure or nonsecure, shall in no way limit the assignment of offenders to either secure or nonsecure treatment settings.

3. Offender Assignment

a. Offenders in the custody of Department of Public Safety and Corrections whose classification and assessment indicate need for treatment services in a nonsecure custody setting shall be referred for placement at treatment facilities and programs appropriate to the level of care indicated. Assignment of offenders needing nonsecure care may be to facilities or programs ranging from in-home services to residential care and to hospitalization as treatment needs indicate. In all cases, assignment will be made to the least restrictive environment available and appropriate to address offender needs and risks as determined by a case staffing.

b. Following assessment at either JRDC (males) or LTI-Ball (females) the offender is assigned to the secure custody facility most appropriate to meet the offender's needs and risks. If following assessment, a clinical staffing at either of the diagnostic facilities determines that a secure custody setting is not able to address the offender's needs, a referral may be made to the director of the Division of Evaluation and Placement for placement in an alternate setting.

c. An appeal of a secure custody assignment is available as per procedures that follow this rule.

4. Case Review and Reclassification

a. All offenders disposed to Department of Public Safety and Corrections custody shall as a function of the case management process have developed an individual case plan. This case plan is developed in conjunction with the offender, his family and other resources to address those needs identified in the classification staffing. Periodic review of the case plan shall be provided as per OJS policy and procedure. As a function of this case review, the offender shall be reclassified. As a result of reclassification and staffing, the current assignment to a program for services at a particular level of care or custody may be changed. The offender could also be determined to be eligible for a recommendation for release from custody.

b. Case review and reclassification of custody offenders shall be accompanied in all instances by a staffing. Offenders being provided supervision by OJS staff and for whom reclassification indicates that agency custody should be pursued must be staffed and, if indicated, brought to court for action on this recommendation. Only the court can assign an offender to agency custody. Case review and reclassification of offenders in custody and assigned to nonsecure programs may result in a recommendation for release from custody. Such recommendation shall be made to the court for consideration and disposition. No offender shall be released from agency custody except by court order.

c. Offenders in agency custody and assigned to secure custody facilities may also be recommended for release following reclassification and staffing. In these cases, the recommendations for release shall first be made to the state level review panel (SLRP) for their concurrence. If the SLRP concurs with release recommendation, the assistant secretary must then approve making such a recommendation to the court.

d. Offenders considered for release but denied by the state level review panel may petition the panel for another review within 20 days of the denial if additional evidence/information is available to address the concerns reported by the panel. The petition for review must be signed by the superintendent. The OJS regional manager is notified of the petition for review.

e. Custody offender reassignments to higher or lower levels of custody and care may be undertaken by the agency following reclassification and staffing. The offender, family, court and other involved parties shall be notified of the reassignment within five working days of the reassignment. Such transfers shall be fully supported by information included in the reclassification and staffing and be documented in the case record. Reassignment of offenders in agency custody to a higher level of care in nonsecure custody settings may be effected by the agency upon the final staffing recommendations. The offender may petition the director of the DEP for administrative review of these transfers by submitting a request in writing within 72 hours of the notice of reassignment. The director of Division of Evaluation and Placement shall assign a staff member to fully review the case for recommendation to him within 10 working days. The director's decision is final. A face to face contact may be included in the administrative review at the discretion of the director.

f. Delinquent offenders in agency custody may be reassigned from nonsecure to secure custody settings based upon documented findings of reclassification and staffing. In all such cases, the offender shall be provided a full due process hearing as per departmental regulation within five working days of arrival at JRDC (males) or LTI-Ball (females).

E. Processes of Appeal and Review

1. Appeal of Custody Level

a. Available to offenders assigned to secure custody following assessment unless:

i. the presenting offense is classified among those of the highest severity in the OJS classification system; or

ii. the offender's initial classification custody score indicates a need for maximum custody.

b. Offender must notify the superintendent of the request for appeal in writing, within five working days of assignment.

c. Superintendent notifies OJS headquarters of the appeal request and schedules an appeal hearing.

d. A hearing officer assigned by OJS conducts an appeal hearing at the facility.

e. The offender is allowed to present information in his behalf and may be represented by someone of his choice; or will have a representative appointed by the superintendent.

f. The hearing officer considers the offender's statements and information as well as the information presented in the offender's case record and classification documents.

g. The hearing officer's decision is issued to the offender, his representative and the superintendent within five working days of the appeal hearing.

h. A second level appeal is available to the offender by submitting written notice of this request to the assistant secretary of OJS.

2. Administrative Review of Level of Care

a. Available to all offenders disposed by the court to the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, who, following a reclassification and staffing, are to be reassigned to a higher nonsecure level of care.

b. Upon receipt of written notice of the reassignment, the offender may choose to request an administrative review of that decision by:

i. submitting written notice of that request to the director of the Division of Evaluation and Placement (by way of the regional manager), within 72 hours;

ii. the director, upon receipt of the request for review, shall assign a member of his staff to fully review the case, the reclassification, and the reassignment decision;

iii. the director will issue his final decision to the offender and the regional manager within 10 working days of the receipt of the request for review, and his decision is final.

3. Due Process Hearings

a. Available to all offenders disposed by the court to the custody of Department of Public Safety and Corrections, who following a reclassification and staffing are:

i. recommended for reassignment from secure custody to the juvenile adjustment center; or

ii. recommended for reassignment to secure custody from a nonsecure program or facility.

b. For offenders in secure custody, upon receipt of the notice of a recommendation for reassignment to the juvenile adjustment center, the offender has a right to due process as provided in departmental regulation.

c. For offenders in nonsecure custody, a due process hearing as per departmental regulation shall be provided at JRDC (males) or LTI-Ball (females) within five working days of arrival following reassignment to secure custody.

4. Petition for Second Review by State Level Review Panel

a. Available to all offenders disposed by the court to the custody of Department of Public Safety and Corrections and residing in secure custody facilities/programs, who have had a recommendation for early release denied by the panel.

b. Upon receipt of the state level review panel's decision to deny a recommendation for early release, the offender may petition the panel for a second review by:

i. submitting the request for a second review to the chair of the state level review panel within 20 days; if:

(a) there is additional information available which directly relates to the reasons for denial cited by the panel in their decision; and

(b) the superintendent supports the petition and notifies the regional manager;

ii. the state level review panel will process second reviews within the constraints of established procedures and time-frames established for the panel.

A. Purpose. To establish the secretary's policy regarding periodic placement reviews of all youth in the custody of the department in order to determine whether the youth is placed in the least restrictive placement most appropriate to their needs and consistent with the circumstances of the case and the protection of the best interests of society and the safety of the public within the state.

B. Applicability. Assistant Secretary of the Office of Youth Development, Wardens of juvenile facilities, Probation and Parole Director/Juvenile, and Probation and Parole District Managers.

C. Policy. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other regulation to the contrary, it is the secretary's policy, in accordance with R.S. 15:902.3, to authorize a periodic placement review process whereby all youth in the department's custody are screened in a multi-disciplinary placement review process. Following an initial review of all custody cases, the review for secure care shall occur no less than quarterly and in conjunction with custody reclassifications. For non-secure programs, the review shall occur in conjunction with semi-annual placement reviews or upon successful completion of the placement program. The review will determine whether the youth is placed in the setting most appropriate to their needs consistent with public safety interests, based upon a formal criteria established through department policy.

D. Definitions

Adjudication—after the presentation of evidence, or the entering of a plea, the entering of a judgment by the court which indicates whether the facts as alleged in the petition forming the basis of the action have been proven, i.e., whether the family is in need of services or the child committed the delinquent act.

Aftercare—the control, supervision and care exercised over a youth upon exit from a secure facility or non-secure residential program into the community.

Fourteen Legal Days—14 calendar days except when the fourteenth day ends on a weekend or legal holiday. When this occurs, the period extends to the close-of-business on the next day that is not a weekend or legal holiday. The 14-day timeframe begins the day after the filing of a legal document with the court.

Louisiana Children's Code Article 897.1—requires that juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent for any of six most serious violent crimes (first degree murder, second degree murder, aggravated rape, aggravated kidnapping, armed robbery, and treason) must remain in a secure environment until the disposition ends. Except for armed robbery, dispositions rendered under provisions of this Article must extend until the twenty-first birthday.

Non-Secure Non-Residential Program—provides rehabilitative services to a youth who resides at home. The youth may receive the services in his home or at a central location to which he reports daily. Youth served may be in custody or on probation or parole.

Non-Secure Residential Program—provides housing, supervision and rehabilitative care for youth in the custody of the department primarily between the ages of 12-17. These facilities are usually characterized by a lack of physical security such as perimeter fences, security locks and controlled access to the facility.

Secure Care—facilities for adjudicated delinquents providing treatment and education characterized by facility design including such things as perimeter fences, security locks, supervision, and staff control that restricts on a 24-hour basis the ability of residents to enter or leave the premises.

YouthCARE—system wide positive behavior management program based upon principals of adolescent growth and development.

E. Placement Review Process of Non-Secure Care Youth

- a. educational/vocational needs/progress;
- b. medical concerns;
- c. mental health concerns;

4. A determination of the appropriate course of action regarding the youth's placement will be made by the participants. Once a determination is reached, the plan will be developed. Following the review, if the recommendation is to transition the youth into a less restrictive setting, the DYS district office will submit a motion to modify disposition to the appropriate attorney for review and signing. The motion will then be returned to the DYS for filing with the clerk of court and submission to the court. The motion shall include the following:

- a. recommendation;
- b. relevant documentation supporting the recommendation, including, but not limited to, the risk and needs assessments; and

- b. reject the recommendation and deny the motion;
- c. notify the department in writing that there is no objection and accept the motion as orders of the court; or
- d. schedule a future hearing and issue an order rejecting, modifying, or accepting the recommendation after the hearing.

At the same time that the motion is submitted to the court, the appropriate sheriff's office and any registered crime victim, if applicable, shall also be notified.

7. Each Probation and Parole District Office will maintain a document listing all youth who met the criteria for review for transition to a less restrictive setting. This document will include the results of the review and the rationale for the recommendation.

F. Placement Review Process of Secure Care Youth

1. Youth currently in secure care will be reviewed to determine the appropriateness of a transfer to a less restrictive setting. The placement criteria process will be conducted at each facility through a multi-disciplinary team

- j. proposed aftercare/release plans;
- k. special needs concerns (i.e., SMI, low cognitive abilities, special education disabilities, psychotropic medication needs);
- l. availability of services to address needs, especially special needs youth; and
- m. most recent secure custody screening document (must have been done within the last year).

4. A schedule of the multi-disciplinary review activities will be issued by the deputy warden and disseminated to all department heads and team members. In an effort to better promote parental/guardian input, the case manager will make telephone contact and/or formal written correspondence with the youth's parent/guardian about the scheduled date and approximate time of the multi-disciplinary activity. If any member of the multi-disciplinary team is not represented at the staffing, written comments or reports shall be used in the staffing to ensure education, medical, mental health, recreation and security activities are considered.

5. A determination of the appropriate course of action regarding the youth's placement will be made by the participants. Once a determination is reached, the plan will be developed. Following the review, if the recommendation is to transition the youth into a less restrictive setting, the DYS District Office will submit a motion to modify disposition to the appropriate attorney for review and signing. The motion will then be returned to the DYS office for filing with the clerk of court and submission to the court. The motion shall include the following:

- a. recommendation;
- b. relevant documentation supporting the recommendation, including, but not limited to, the risk and needs assessments; and
- c. aftercare plan.

6. The court will have 14 legal days to do one of the following:

- a. make no response during the 14 day period, in which case the district office shall proceed with the recommendation;

- b. reject the recommendation and deny the motion;
- c. notify the department in writing that there is no objection and accept the motion as orders of the court; or
- d. schedule a future hearing and issue an order rejecting, modifying, or accepting the recommendation after the hearing.

7. All motions will be delivered to the clerk of court and a copy of the stamped motion will be obtained for probation and parole records. At the same time that the motion is submitted to the court, the appropriate sheriff's office and any registered crime victim, if applicable, shall also be notified.

8. Each Probation and Parole District Office will maintain a document listing all youth who met the criteria for review for transition to a less restrictive setting. This document will include results of the review and the rationale for the recommendation.

G. Quality Assurance. A copy of all screening forms, as well as multi-disciplinary team review forms, are to be maintained for a period of three years as a component of system quality assurance.

H. Procedures. Refer to Attachment A for Risk Screening Document and Attachment B for Secure Screening/Data Collection Form.

I. The effective date of this regulation is September 15, 2003.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with Act 1225 of the 2003 Regular Session of the Louisiana Legislature.

EDITOR'S NOTE: §705, Tobacco-Free and No Smoking Policy, has been moved to §719.

[Formerly §314]

A. Purpose. To establish the secretary's policy regarding the use of telephones by juveniles and the monitoring of telephone calls at all juvenile institutions.

B. Applicability. Deputy secretary, undersecretary, assistant secretary of the Office of Youth Development and wardens of juvenile facilities. It is the responsibility of each warden to implement this regulation and convey its contents to the juvenile population, employees, and the public.

C. Policy. It is the secretary's policy that uniform telephone procedures, including the ability to monitor and/or record juvenile telephone calls to preserve the security and orderly management of the institution and to protect the public safety, be established and adhered to at all institutions. Each institution will offer juveniles (including the hearing impaired) reasonable access to telephone communication without overtaxing the institution's ability to properly maintain security and to avoid abuse of this privilege on the part of any juvenile.

D. Procedures

1. General

a. Each juvenile will be assigned a personal identification number (PIN), which is not the juvenile's JIRMS number, which must be used when placing outgoing telephone calls.

b. At each juvenile institution, a unique calling number will be used for calling the PZT Hotline.

c. Each juvenile will provide his assigned institution a master list of up to 20 frequently called telephone numbers inclusive of all family, personal, and legal calls. Each juvenile's outgoing telephone calls will be limited to those telephone numbers he has placed on his master list. Changes may be made to the master list at the discretion of the warden, but no less than once each quarter. These changes may be entered by the contractor or by appropriately trained institutional staff. Changes to the master list of parents and attorneys representing a juvenile are to be expedited. All attempts should be made to institute such changes within six working days. The six days shall begin to run upon receipt by the appropriate institutional staff of the juvenile's written request that the change be made.

d. For new juveniles, PIN and master list numbers will be entered into the telephone system upon intake at the Juvenile Reception and Diagnostic Center.

e. Upon the request of a telephone subscriber, the institution may block a telephone number and prevent the subscriber from receiving calls from a juvenile housed in the facility. To accomplish a block of a particular number, the institution should contact the contractor to request that a universal block be put into place.

2. Telephone access (outgoing calls) shall be as follows.

a. Personal or Family Calls (Routine). Regardless of custody status, juveniles will be provided an opportunity to make telephone calls to their home at the state's expense when the juvenile's case worker determines that the call will promote the goals of the juvenile's intervention plan. Collect telephone access should be made available when not in conflict with school, work or other programming. Specific times for telephone usage in the various living areas shall be established by the warden who shall communicate the telephone schedule to the population.

b. Personal or Family Calls (Emergency). Requests for access outside of normally scheduled hours may be made through the dormitory officer, counselor, or shift supervisor. Upon receiving information of a family emergency, the warden or designee shall notify the juvenile as soon as possible.

c. Legal Calls. Juveniles will be given meaningful access to telephones for privileged communications with their attorneys, including being advised that their attorney has requested contact.

3. Telephone access (incoming calls) shall be as follows.

a. Personal or Family Calls (Routine). Messages may be relayed at the warden's discretion.

b. Personal or Family Calls (Emergency). The warden shall establish a procedure for juvenile notification of legitimate personal or family emergencies communicated to the institution.

c. Legal Calls. Juveniles may be given notice that their attorney has requested contact. Complete verification is required prior to processing.

4. Monitoring

a. Inmates shall be put on notice of the following.

i. Telephone calls in housing areas are subject to being monitored and/or recorded and that "use" constitutes "consent."

ii. It is the juveniles' responsibility to advise all other parties that conversations are subject to being monitored and/or recorded.

iii. A properly placed telephone call to an attorney will not be monitored and/or recorded unless reasonable suspicion of illicit activity has resulted in a formal investigation and such action has been authorized by the secretary or designee.

b. The telephone system will normally terminate a call at the end of the authorized period, (normally 15 minutes); however, the warden or designee may authorize calls of a longer duration as circumstances warrant.

c. The system will automatically broadcast recorded messages indicating that the telephone call is originating from a correctional facility.

d. Juveniles shall not be allowed access to employee home telephone numbers and shall not be allowed to call any staff member of the department.

e. Each institution will advise its population of the proper way to place a legal call.

f. Only personnel authorized by the warden may monitor juvenile telephone calls. Information gained from monitoring calls which affects the security of the institution or threatens the protection of the public will be communicated to other staff members or other law enforcement agencies. Telephone calls to attorneys may not be routinely monitored (see LAC 22:I.314.D.4.a.iii); staff will immediately disconnect from any telephone call if it appears that is the case. All other information shall be held in strict confidence.

g. Juveniles being processed into the system through the Juvenile Reception and Diagnostic Centers will be required to "consent" in writing that their telephone calls are subject to being monitored and/or recorded. A copy of this "consent" shall be placed in the juvenile's institutional record.

h. Each institution's orientation manual must include the information contained in this regulation as a means to notify the population of its contents and verbal notification must be given in the orientation program. Existing juvenile populations shall be put on notice by a sign posted at each telephone. The sign shall reflect the following information:

ATTENTION

This telephone has been electronically programmed to monitor and/or record telephone calls. By using this telephone, you consent to the monitoring and/or recording of your conversation, except for properly placed legal calls.

5. Remote Call Forwarding

a. Remote Call Forwarding (RCF) is a mechanism by which juveniles may employ a local telephone number that automatically forwards the telephone call to a pre-selected number generally located out of the local calling area code or long distance. RCF in essence is an automated 3-way call.

b. RCF is also known as automated call forwarding or PBX call forwarding. Use of this automated and remote mechanism represents significant security risks for several reasons. The telephone call terminated number (the end destination of the call) cannot be readily identified or verified. This number is not a traditional telephone number located at a residence, business or other such location but merely a number within the telephone switching equipment local to the facility where the juvenile is housed.

c. RCF initiated calls to an unidentified terminated number can and are being easily forwarded again to a cell phone and other unauthorized telephones. This forwarding is done through the normal 3-way call hook ups. This in fact negates the security mechanisms achieved by the requirement of approved telephone lists. Safeguards to prevent calls to victims, to blocked or restricted numbers or to prevent other unauthorized call activities are defeated by the use of an RCF number.

d. RCF usage creates an opportunity to conduct criminal or illegal or un-authorized activities since the end call location is not readily being identified, verified or its actual location known. This affords untold opportunity for juveniles to engage in potential scams, to call victims, to facilitate escape attempts and to engage in other conduct representing significant security risks to the facility.

e. The juvenile population should be put on notice that all third-party telephone calls, including RCF calls, are strictly prohibited and such activity will result in appropriate disciplinary action.

f. Wardens shall develop a monitoring system to analyze the frequency of local calls. High frequency may indicate RCF utilization. When RCF calls are discovered, a system wide block of the number should be initiated pursuant to LAC 22:I.314.D.1.e.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:829.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, LR 29:360 (March 2003), amended LR 29:2848 (December 2003).

§707. Probationary Period

A. Purpose. This rule will supplement the Employee Manual regarding probationary appointments and the attainment of permanent status and increase the probationary period to 12 months.

B. Applicability. The undersecretary or designee, unit heads, Youth Services (YS) Central Office's Human Resources Manager, Unit Human Resources staff, all newly hired classified employees and their supervisors. Unit heads shall ensure compliance with this policy.

C. Policy. It is the deputy secretary's policy that probationary periods for YS employees will be for a period of 12 months. If an employee performs assigned duties in a satisfactory manner during the 12-month period, the employee will attain permanent status. If the employee does not perform assigned duties satisfactorily, the employee will be separated from employment.

D. Definitions

Agency Preferred Re-Employment List—a list of names of permanent employees who were laid off or demoted in lieu of a layoff.

Appointing Authority—Deputy Secretary of YS.

Classified Employee—an employee who is hired under the Civil Service system on a probational appointment and attains permanent status.

ISIS—Integrated Statewide Information Systems.

Permanent Appointment—the appointment of a probationary employee after certification by the appointing authority or designee, signifying that the employee has met the required standard of work during the probationary period.

Probational Appointment—an essential part of the examination process; used for the most effective adjustment of a new employee and for the elimination of any probationary employee whose performance does not meet required work standards. Employees who are required to serve probationary periods are those appointed to the following: permanent positions following certification from an open competitive employment list; original appointments to permanent positions in non-competitive classes; non-competitive re-employments based on prior service, except those hired from the agency's preferred re-employment list in a position which was filled with a probational appointment; and those employees who have an interruption of a probationary period for military purposes.

Unit Head—facility directors, probation and parole program director, and the deputy secretary or designee for YS Central Office.

YS Central Office—offices of the deputy secretary, undersecretary or designee of the Office of Management and Finance, assistant secretaries and their support staff.

E. General. The appointing authority may separate a probationary employee at any time under Civil Service Rule No. 9.1(e).

F. Probational Appointments

1. All newly hired employees appointed on probational appointments shall serve a 12-month probationary period as a test period of satisfactory work performance as outlined in their job descriptions and determined by their supervisors.

2. A probationary employee who is absent for military training or active duty in excess of 30 consecutive calendar days shall return to work in the probationary status at the point reached in the probationary period before leaving. Absences of 30 consecutive calendar days or less shall be counted as part of the probationary period.

3. A former employee who is on the agency preferred re-employment list and is re-employed in a position that must be filled with a probational appointment must serve a 12-month probationary period.

4. An employee who is permanently transferred, reassigned, or demoted to another position shall be eligible for permanent status in the new position after completing the probationary period that began prior to the change in position(s).

5. The probationary period of a part-time employee is computed on the same calendar basis as though employed full-time.

6. While on probationary status, an employee earns and can use annual, sick, and compensatory leave. The employee also gets paid for holidays and is eligible for health care and retirement benefits.

G. Permanent Appointments. Employees with permanent status who are promoted, transferred, reassigned, or demoted to another position are not required to serve a probationary period in the new position.

H. Permanent Appointment Action Following Probationary Period

1. A permanent appointment of a probationary employee shall begin upon certification by the appointing authority or designee to Civil Service that the employee has met the required standard of work while on probationary status.

2. A permanent appointment must be reported to Civil Service through the ISIS Human Resources System.

I. Monitoring Procedures

1. The Human Resources (HR) staff will run reports from the ISI Human Resources System of employees who are eligible for permanent status.

2. When an employee is eligible, HR staff will complete a "tickler" and forward to the employee's supervisor.

3. The supervisor will make a recommendation regarding permanent status and forward the recommendation to the appointing authority for approval.

4. The appointing authority will return the approval to the HR staff for entering into the ISIS Human Resources System.

5. The HR staff will notify the employee of the action taken with a copy of the "Employee Notification Form."

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with Civil Service Rules Nos. 8:10(b) and 17:25(a).

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Youth Services, Office of Youth Development, LR 32:1463 (August 2006).

§709. Youth Transfer to Adult Facility [Formerly §335]

A. Purpose. To establish the secretary's policy regarding the limited transfer of juvenile offenders 17 years of age or older to adult facilities.

B. To Whom This Regulation Applies. LAC 22:I.335 is applicable to the deputy secretary, assistant secretaries, wardens, and director of the Division of Youth Services of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections.

C. Definitions

Adult—an individual convicted by a criminal court and sentenced to the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections (DPS&C).

Disposition—the written order of the juvenile court, following adjudication, which specifies the court's sentence.

Juvenile—an individual who is adjudicated delinquent by a judge exercising juvenile jurisdiction and sentenced to the custody of the DPS&C.

D. Policy

1. It is the secretary's policy, in accordance with R.S. 15:902.1, to authorize the limited transfer of juveniles adjudicated delinquent to adult facilities when the juveniles have attained the age of 17 years and are otherwise eligible as defined by this regulation.

2. Juvenile offenders who are adjudicated delinquent for an offense that, if committed by an adult, could not result in a sentence at hard labor, are not eligible for transfer.

3. Generally, juvenile offenders will be transferred to one of the following adult facilities:

- a. Adult Reception and Diagnostic Center (ARDC);
- b. Elayn Hunt Correctional Center (EHCC);
- c. Wade Reception and Diagnostic Center (WRDC);
- d. David Wade Correctional Center (DWCC);
- e. Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (LCIW).

4. Juvenile offenders in adult facilities will not have a parole or diminution of sentence release date.

a. They will only have a "full term date." This date will be either:

- i. their twenty-first birthday;
- ii. their eighteenth birthday if the crime was committed before their thirteenth birthday and it is not a crime enumerated under Louisiana Children's Code, Article 897.1;
- iii. the date upon which the juvenile has completed the period of commitment as specified in the judgment of the juvenile court; or
- iv. the date which reflects the maximum term that an adult could receive if sentenced for the same offense, whichever is earlier.

b. If the period of commitment specified by the juvenile court exceeds the twenty-first birthday, the eighteenth birthday under circumstances outlined, or the maximum term for which an adult could be sentenced for the same crime, then the Office of Youth Development and the headquarters legal section should be notified immediately.

5. Absent special statutory or regulatory restrictions to the contrary, juveniles in adult facilities will participate in all work, education, and other rehabilitative programs on the same basis as adults and will be subject to the same classification and disciplinary processes as adults, including custody status determination. Security supervision and security practices will also be the same for juvenile offenders in adult facilities as for adult inmates.

6. Records of juveniles housed in adult facilities shall be confidential and information may not be disclosed to anyone except in accordance with Department Regulation No. B-03-003, "Access to and Release of Juvenile Offender and Ex-Offender Records," as set forth in R.S. 15:574.12 and Louisiana Children's Code, Article 412.

E. Procedures

1. A classification committee will be formed at all juvenile facilities to review offenders for eligibility and suitability for transfer and to make appropriate recommendations to the warden. It will be the responsibility of this committee to review all relevant information.

a. The offender shall be given 24-hour notice of the proposed transfer and shall be allowed to appear before the classification committee to provide input into the decision making process. He may select a staff representative to assist him in accordance with the process outlined in the "Disciplinary Rules and Procedures for Juvenile Offenders."

b. The following variables should be considered by the classification committee when evaluating a juvenile offender for possible transfer to an adult facility:

- i. chronological age of 17 years or older;
- ii. emotional and physical maturity;
- iii. disciplinary history and potential to disrupt juvenile institutional operations;
- iv. potential to benefit from educational programs;
- v. potential to benefit from other programs;
- vi. offenders diagnosed with mental health and/or medical special needs who can be better served in an adult facility;
- vii. offenders who pose a threat to security, i.e., who are considered escape risks, who have exhibited violent behavior, who are committed for serious offense(s), or who have an extensive criminal history;
- viii. to accomplish one of the following objectives:
  - (a). minimize risk to the public;
  - (b). minimize risk to institutional staff; and
  - (c). minimize risk to other offenders.

c. Disciplinary history may impact the recommendation, but the transfer itself is not a disciplinary sanction or disciplinary activity. The disciplinary committee can refer offenders to the classification committee for review.

2. The warden of each juvenile facility will review the recommendation made by the classification committee and will make the final determination relative to transfer. The secretary and assistant secretaries will be notified of any transfer. In addition, the warden will provide notification to the appropriate juvenile judge, Division of Youth Services office, the legal guardian, and the classification administrator at ARDC, and WRDC. The notification must be given at least 72 hours prior to the proposed transfer, unless waived by the secretary or his designee.

3. Notification to the classification administrator at ARDC should include pertinent information, e.g., the Juvenile Information Reporting Management System (JIRMS) master record, judicial commitment documents, classification committee report and recommendation, and warden's decision. ARDC PreClass Section will then assign a unique six digit Department of Corrections (DOC) number to each juvenile-in-adult custody (such number will begin with the numeral seven followed by the juvenile's original JIRMS number), update the CAJUN II information, and establish the adult institutional record prior to transfer (except in emergency cases). The classification administrator will schedule the date of transfer and will notify the appropriate juvenile institution.

4. The sending facility will be responsible for the transportation of the offender to the appropriate receiving institution and will provide all institutional and medical records at the time of transfer in accordance with Department Regulation No. B-06-001, "Health Care." The offender's personal funds should be transmitted by check at the time of transfer or as soon as possible thereafter. In addition, the JIRMS transfer screen will be updated to reflect the transfer and will be subsequently utilized for inquiry purposes.

5. Initial evaluation to determine appropriate housing while in the reception process should include evaluation of emotional and physical maturity.

6. ARDC, WRDC, or LCIW will conduct a full evaluation in accordance with department regulations and ACA standards to determine subsequent placement at EHCC or DWCC (or suitable housing assignment at LCIW). The evaluation will include, but is not limited to, the following:

- a. emotional and physical maturity to evaluate the need for assignment to Level 1 or Level 2 protective custody;
- b. review of information previously generated by JRDC, as available;
- c. history of gang affiliation and prior juvenile institutional assignment and security history;
- d. special educational needs or other programming needs and the appropriateness of assignment to academic and/or vocational programs;
- e. medical needs, including substance abuse assessment, and assignment of an appropriate medical level of care;
- f. mental health needs with particular emphasis on suicide potential and assignment of an appropriate mental health level of care; and
- g. consideration of geographical location.

7. Upon completion of evaluation, the transfer section at ARDC will schedule transfer to the appropriate permanent facility.

8. The receiving institution will assign housing and provide services as set forth in department regulations and American Correctional Association (ACA) Standards. The records office of the receiving institution will maintain the juvenile institutional record and the adult inmate record and will update the CAJUN database. Upon discharge, all institutional records will be returned to the Juvenile Reception and Diagnostic Center at Jetson Correctional Center for Youth.

9. The adult facility must report the location and condition of the juvenile to the juvenile court every six months (or more frequently if requested). This format may be utilized to make early release recommendations as appropriate.

10. Sex offender notifications are generally not applicable to juvenile offenders housed in adult facilities. Other crime victim notice requirements for juveniles as indicated in Department Regulation No. C-01-007, "Crime Victims Services Bureau," are applicable.

11. Visiting lists will be established pursuant to the provisions of Department Regulation No. C-03-006, "Inmate Visitation." These transfers are to be considered as new admissions for the purposes of §335.

§711. Student Visiting and Correspondence (Youth Services) [Formerly §321]

A. Purpose. To establish the secretary's policy regarding student visiting and correspondence at all juvenile institutions and facilities within the Department of Public Safety and Corrections.

B. To Whom This Regulation Applies. This regulation is applicable to all superintendents of juvenile operational units of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services.

C. General. R.S. 15:833 provides that the Secretary of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections may authorize visits and correspondence under reasonable conditions, between students and approved friends, relatives, and other persons. It is the secretary's policy that uniform visiting and correspondence procedures be established and adhered to at all units, and that visiting and correspondence be under reasonable conditions and in keeping with the most recent court decisions relating to visiting and correspondence in correctional institutions. It is also the secretary's policy that visiting at the institution and correspondence between students and friends be encouraged and supported.

c. Reading of Letters

i. When the superintendent determines that it is necessary to the maintaining of security, order, or rehabilitation of the institution, he may require the reading of a student's mail. In such cases, a written record shall be kept in the appropriate office and shall include:

- (a). student's name;
- (b). a description of the mail to be read (e.g., outgoing only from a particular person, etc.);

Stationery and stamps for other letters will be made available for purchases by the students.

2. Packages

a. Approved Items. Subject to the approval of the assistant secretary, each superintendent will prepare and make available to the student population a list of items which may be received in packages.

b. Inspection of Packages. All packages shall be inspected for the purpose of discovering contraband. Before sending or receiving packages, students may be required to sign a form consenting to the opening of packages for the purpose of inspecting for contraband. Items which are not on the approved list will be returned to the sender with a note specifying the reasons for the return.

3. Publications. Books, magazines, newspapers, and printed matter which may be legally sent through the postal system shall be approved for students, unless deemed to constitute an immediate threat to the security of the institutions.

If it is determined that any letter or publication passed through the mail illegally or that its presence within the institution would present an immediate threat to the security of the institution, it may be withheld. However, the student shall be notified in writing of this action within five days and shall be advised of his right to appeal the decision to withhold to the superintendent and then to the secretary.

5. Restrictions on Correspondence. All students, regardless of status, shall be allowed to receive approved correspondence. However, those students in isolation may have their privilege of originating correspondence restricted to communications with the courts and legal counsel during the period of isolation.

6. Collection and Distribution of Mail. The collection and distribution of mail is never to be delegated to a student. Neither is the mail to be dropped on a table or other convenient location for each student to come and look for his own. Mail shall be delivered promptly to the student to whom it is addressed.

E. Visiting. The guidelines for students visiting are set forth below.

1. There will be no discrimination in visiting. All students and visitors will be provided equal opportunity for visiting, except that any who abuse the visiting procedure may expect imposition of restrictions. Disciplinary measures imposed for offenses not related to visiting will not be used as a basis for denying visits. Visits with attorneys will be governed by Department Regulation Number 30-19B. A student should not be compelled to see a visitor whom he does not wish to see, but he should be required to sign a statement to that effect.

2. At least one day per month will be set aside for visiting by parents and other approved persons, preferably on weekends. Special visits for unusual circumstances and for those who cannot visit on regular visiting days are permissible. On regular visiting days persons will be allowed to visit for at least seven hours, preferably between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

3. Instructions for visiting students must be furnished to parents or guardians. These instructions must be mailed to parents or guardians in advance of the visit. These should include:

- a. who may visit;
- b. days and time of visits; and
- c. rules governing visits.

4. Visitors shall be treated with courtesy at all times and shall not be subjected to unnecessary inconvenience, embarrassment, delays, or harassment in accomplishing a visit.

§713. Youth Administrative Remedy Procedure [Formerly §326]

A. Purpose. The purpose of this regulation is to establish an administrative remedy procedure specific to juvenile offenders through which an offender may seek formal review of a complaint which relates to most aspects of his stay in secure care if less formal procedures have not resolved the matter.

B. Applicability. Assistant Secretary/Office of Youth Development, wardens, Youth Programs Compliance Division staff and employees and offenders of each juvenile institution.

C. Definitions

ARP Coordinator—a staff member designated by the warden whose responsibility is to coordinate and facilitate the ARP process.

Business Days—Monday through Friday.

Calendar Days—consecutive days including weekends and holidays.

Case Manager—a staff member whose primary responsibilities include assisting offenders.

Emergency Grievance—a matter in which disposition within the regular time limits would subject the offender or others to substantial risk of personal injury, or cause other serious or irreparable harm.

Grievance—a written complaint on an offender's behalf regarding a policy, condition, action, or incident occurring within an institution that affects the offender personally.

Initiation of the ARP Process—for a particular complaint, the administrative remedy procedure shall commence the day the request is accepted in the ARP process.

Offender—a person incarcerated in a juvenile correctional institution.

Sensitive Issue—a complaint which the offender believes would adversely affect him if it became known at the institution.

Youth Programs Compliance Division (YPCD)—a division located at the Office of Youth Development Headquarters in Baton Rouge. Employees of this division are responsible for monitoring the ARP process.

D. Policy

1. The administrative remedy procedure for juveniles has been established for offenders to seek formal review of a complaint which relates to most aspects of their incarceration. Such complaints and grievances include, but are not limited to, any and all claims seeking monetary, injunctive, declaratory, or any other relief authorized by law. By way of illustration, this includes actions pertaining to conditions of confinement, personal injuries, medical malpractice, lost personal property, denial of publications, time computations, even though urged as a writ of habeas corpus, or challenges to rules, regulations, policies or statutes. Through this procedure, offenders shall receive reasonable responses and where appropriate, meaningful remedies.

2. Offenders may request administrative remedies to situations arising from policies, conditions, or events within the institution that affect them personally. Disciplinary reports are not grievable and must be handled through the disciplinary appeal system. Court decisions and pending criminal and adjudication matters over which the department has no control or jurisdiction shall not be appealable through this administrative remedy procedure.

3. All offenders, regardless of their classification, impairment or handicap, shall be entitled to invoke this grievance procedure. It shall be the responsibility of the warden to provide appropriate assistance for offenders with literacy deficiencies or language barriers. No action shall be taken against an offender for the good faith use of or good faith participation in the procedure. Reprisals of any nature are prohibited. Offenders are entitled to pursue, through this grievance procedure, a complaint that a reprisal occurred.

4. All offenders may request information and obtain assistance in using the administrative remedy procedure from his case manager, counselor, or other staff member. Nothing in this administrative remedy procedure will serve to prevent or discourage an offender from communicating with the warden or anyone else in the department.

E. General Procedures

1. Dissemination. New employees and incoming offenders must be made aware of the administrative remedy procedure in writing and by oral explanation at orientation and have the opportunity to ask questions and receive oral answers. A simplified version of the administrative remedy procedure will be provided in booklet form to the offenders during the orientation process. This version of the procedure shall also be posted in areas readily accessible to all employees and offenders.

2. Informal Resolution. Offenders are encouraged to resolve their problems within the institution informally, before initiating the formal ARP process. This informal resolution may be sought by talking to his case manager, counselor, or other staff member. An attempt at informal resolution does not affect the timeframe for filing an ARP; therefore, the offender and staff member assisting with informal resolution must be alert to the 90 calendar day filing timeframe so that the opportunity to file an ARP is not missed when it appears that the situation will not be informally resolved before the expiration of the filing period.

3. Initiation of ARP

a. An ARP is initiated by completing the first part of the Juvenile ARP Form (see Subsection N). No request for ARP shall be denied acceptance because it is not on a form; however, all requests must contain a statement or phrase to the effect: "This is a request for administrative remedy;" "This is a request for ARP;" or "ARP." Upon receipt by the ARP coordinator, any such request will be attached to an ARP Form.

b. The offender has 90 calendar days after the incident occurred in which to file a complaint. The ARP is considered "filed" upon receipt by the ARP coordinator or designee. This includes those ARPs placed in the ARP or grievance box over the weekend or on a legal holiday. The ARP forms shall be available at designated sites at each institution and from case managers.

c. The offender shall complete the first part of the form outlining the problem and remedy requested. His case manager, counselor, or other staff member will be available for assistance in completing the form at each stage of the process.

d. If additional space is needed for completing any part of the form, another page of paper may be used and attached to the original form. The offender must give the completed, original form to his case manager or place it in the designated collection site to be picked by the ARP coordinator.

e. Offenders released from secure care prior to filing their ARP should send the ARP directly to the ARP coordinator. The ARP must be postmarked within 90 days or received within the 90 calendar day timeframe, if not mailed.

4. Screening of Requests. The ARP coordinator will screen all requests prior to the step one review/response. If the same complaint is received from different offenders, each must be reviewed as an individual complaint. If the ARP is rejected, the reason(s) for rejection shall be noted on the Juvenile ARP Form. Copies of ARP acceptances, rejections, etc. will be maintained by the ARP coordinator. The Youth Programs Compliance Division will be copied on all rejections. A request may be rejected for one or more of the following reasons (See Part 10, "Judicial Review," for consequences of rejection).

a. The complaint pertains to a disciplinary matter, court decision or a judge's order in the offender's case.

b. The complaint concerns an action not yet taken or decision which has not yet been made.

c. There has been a time lapse of more than 90 calendar days between the event and receipt of the initial request.

d. The date of the event is not on the form. In this case, the form will be returned to the offender to have the correct date noted, however, the original 90 day time limit will still apply.

e. The offender has requested an administrative remedy for another offender.

f. A request is unclear. If this occurs, the request may be rejected and returned to the offender with a request for clarity. The deadline for this request will begin on the date the re-submission is received by the ARP coordinator (within five calendar days in a secure facility and 10 calendar days if the offender has been released).

g. An offender refuses to cooperate with the inquiry into his allegation. If this occurs, the request may be rejected by noting the lack of cooperation on the Juvenile ARP Form and returning it to the offender.

h. The request is a duplicate of a previous request submitted by the same offender.

i. The request contains several unrelated complaints. Normally, an offender should not include more than one complaint in a single ARP. The ARP coordinator has the discretion to accept or reject the ARP if it contains several unrelated complaints.

5. Reprisals. No action shall be taken against any offender for the good faith use of or good faith participation in the ARP. The prohibition against reprisals should not be construed to prohibit discipline of offenders who do not use the system in good faith. Those who file requests that are, as determined by the ARP coordinator, frivolous or deliberately malicious may be disciplined under the appropriate rule violation contained in the "Disciplinary Rules and Procedures for Juvenile Offenders."

F. Step One (Maximum Time Limit—21 Calendar Days) ARP Coordinator's Review and Warden's Response

1. The offender will begin the process by completing the first part of a Juvenile ARP Form, which will briefly set out the basis for the claim and the relief sought. The form must be submitted within 90 calendar days of the incident which caused the grievance. The 90-day requirement may be waived by the warden when circumstances warrant, i.e., if the offender is ill for an extended period of time or if a significant, unusual event affects the offender's ability to file the ARP. The offender may also request a five calendar day extension from the ARP coordinator if additional time is needed to prepare the ARP.

2. The original Juvenile ARP Form submitted by the offender will become part of the process, and will not be returned to the offender until the warden's response (step one) has been finalized.

3. ARPs shall be screened and logged by the ARP coordinator. If appropriate for handling, the ARP coordinator or fact-finding person assigned by the ARP coordinator will begin fact-finding, including communication with the various program managers for program specific complaints, if needed. The ARP coordinator will send notice to the offender via a copy of the Juvenile ARP Form regarding the status (acceptance/rejection) of the request. The warden should be kept apprised of the status of the ARP throughout the process.

4. ARPs filed by an attorney must include proof of representation in the form of a signed pleading, a letter signed by the offender's parent or guardian advising of the retention of the attorney or some other legal authorization for the attorney's representation. The ARP coordinator or fact-finding person cannot interview the offender without contacting the attorney to give the attorney an opportunity to be present during the ARP coordinator/fact-finding person's interview with the offender. The offender may not be interviewed without the attorney (unless the attorney waives his presence) for a minimum of two business days after the staff's contact with the attorney. If the attorney cannot be available within this timeframe, the ARP process will proceed as usual. If no proof of representation is attached to the ARP, the 48-hour waiting period is not required.

5. If the offender advises the ARP coordinator or fact-finding person during the investigation that he has spoken with an attorney about the ARP, the interview must cease. The ARP coordinator or fact-finding person will obtain the attorney's name and telephone number from the offender and contact the attorney following the procedures described in the preceding Paragraph.

6. The ARP coordinator will submit the ARP, supporting documentation and recommendation to the warden for final step one action, which must be completed within 21 calendar days of receipt of the ARP by the ARP coordinator. Emergency and medical, safety or abuse-related requests should be handled expeditiously. Abuse-related requests should also be copied to the Project Zero Tolerance Investigators for verification that an investigation has been or is being conducted (if appropriate to the circumstances.)

7. The warden may return the Juvenile ARP Form to the ARP coordinator for additional information or further review prior to rendering the response.

8. Once the warden's response has been entered onto the original Juvenile ARP Form, the form will be returned to the ARP coordinator. The ARP coordinator will log and forward the original to the offender, keep a copy for the ARP file and send a copy to the appropriate section of the institution, if applicable. Copies of documents gathered in preparation of the review and response to the grievance will be maintained in the ARP file.

9. Unless the offender appeals to step two, no further action is needed at this level.

G. Step Two (Maximum Time Limit—21 Calendar Days) Secretary's Response

1. An offender who is dissatisfied with the step one decision may appeal to the secretary. Within 10 days of receipt of the step one decision, the offender must complete the next part of the original ARP noting the request for the step two review and provide it to his case manager or place it in the designated collection site for the ARP coordinator to pick up. His case manager or other staff member will be available to assist as needed with filing the appeal.

2. The ARP coordinator will retain a copy for the ARP file, log and mail the original form along with copies of any supporting documentation directly to the secretary or his designee. For the purpose of the step two response, this authority has been delegated by the Secretary to the assistant secretary of the Office of Youth Development (OYD).

3. A final decision will be made by the assistant secretary/OYD and the offender will be notified of the decision by mail (copy of the ARP Form) postmarked within 21 calendar days of the assistant secretary's receipt of the appeal. The assistant secretary/OYD will retain a copy of the ARP and return the original to the ARP coordinator. The ARP coordinator will copy the decision to the warden, offender's attorney (if ARP was filed by the attorney), and to the ARP file. The ARP coordinator will also insure the original response is sent to the offender and obtain the offender's signed acknowledgment of receipt.

H. Judicial Review

1. If an offender's ARP is rejected or if he is not satisfied with the step two response, he may seek judicial review of the decision pursuant to R.S. 15:1177 et seq., within 30 calendar days after receipt and signing acknowledgment of receipt of the decision.

2. In these cases, the ARP coordinator will notify the offender's parents or guardian and attorney (if applicable), in writing, that the departmental grievance procedure has been exhausted.

I. Timeframes and Extensions

1. An offender may make a written request to the ARP coordinator for an extension of up to five calendar days in which to initiate an ARP. He may make a written request to the warden for an extension of up to five calendar days in which to appeal to the secretary. (This does not limit the warden's discretion under Section 8.A. to grant any filing timeframe waiver that he deems appropriate.) The warden must certify valid reasons for the delay.

2. The warden may make a written request to the assistant secretary/OYD for an extension of up to seven calendar days for the step one review/response. The offender must be notified in writing of such an extension. The assistant secretary/OYD may extend time needed for his response when such is deemed necessary. However, in no case may the cumulative extensions exceed 30 calendar days. This does not include waivers granted by the warden due to the offender's illness or other significant, unusual events.

3. Unless an extension has been granted, no more than 42 calendar days shall elapse from the ARP coordinator's receipt of the ARP to completion of the step two process. Absent such an extension, expiration of response time limits shall entitle the offender to move on to the next step in the process.

J. Sensitive Issues

1. If the offender believes his complaint is sensitive and he would be adversely affected if it became known at the institution, he may file the complaint directly with the assistant secretary/OYD. The offender must explain, in writing, the reason for not filing the complaint at the institution.

2. If the assistant secretary/OYD agrees that the complaint is sensitive, he shall accept and respond to the complaint. If he does not agree that the complaint is sensitive, he shall so advise the offender in writing, and return the complaint. When this occurs, the assistant secretary/OYD shall also send a copy of this communication to the warden and to the ARP coordinator. The ARP coordinator will insure that the decision is delivered to the offender and obtain the offender's signature acknowledging receipt.

3. The offender shall then have the normal 90 calendar day deadline from the date the incident occurred or seven calendar days from the date he receives the rejection (whichever is longer) to submit his request through regular channels beginning with step one.

K. ARPs Related to Lost Property Claims

1. Under no circumstances may an offender be compensated for unsubstantiated loss, or for a loss which results from the offender's own acts or for any loss resulting from bartering, trading, selling to, or gambling with other offenders. If the loss of personal property occurs through the negligence of the institution and/or its employees, the offender's claim may be processed as described below.

2. If a state-issue item is available, the offender will be offered such as replacement for the lost personal property. If a state-issue replacement is not available, the warden or his designee will determine a reasonable value for the lost personal property. The maximum liability is $50. Regardless of whether the ARP results in a monetary or non-monetary replacement, the Lost Property Agreement Form (see Subsection O) will be completed and submitted to the offender for his signature. ARPs (with Lost Property Agreement forms attached) resulting in monetary settlements will be forwarded to the assistant secretary/OYD for review and processing. These ARPs must include a cover letter advising that the ARP is for settling a lost property claim.

3. The ARP will be processed in accordance with the established timeframes and guidelines except that the response will not be delayed pending the processing of the monetary award by the assistant secretary/OYD.

L. Miscellaneous

1. Records. Administrative remedy procedure records are confidential and release of these records is governed by R.S. 15:574.12 and Ch. C. Art. 412. Records shall be kept at least three years following final disposition of the request. The assistant secretary/OYD shall formulate a procedure for orderly disposal of these records. The following records must be maintained. The institution may retain other records as deemed appropriate.

a. A database (on computer) will be maintained by the ARP coordinator which will document the nature of each request, all relevant dates, recommendations and dispositions of steps one and two.

b. Each institution will submit reports on ARP activity in accordance with Department Regulation No. C-05-001-J.

c. Individual ARPs and dispositions, and all responses and pertinent documents shall be kept on file at the ARP coordinator's office.

2. Transferred Offenders. When an offender has filed a request at one institution and is transferred prior to the review, or if he files a request after transfer on an action taken by the sending institution, the sending institution will complete the processing through step one. The warden of the receiving institution will assist in communication with the offender.

3. Discharged Offenders. If an offender is discharged before the review of an ARP, or if he files an ARP after discharge, the institution will complete the processing and will notify the offender at his last known address. (The 90 calendar day timeframe in which to file an ARP applies regardless of whether the offender has been discharged from secure care.)

4. Monetary Damages. Based upon credible facts within an ARP, the assistant secretary/OYD may find cause to believe that monetary damages are a fair and just remedy. The assistant secretary/OYD shall consult with the secretary and the legal section of the department to determine if monetary damages are appropriate. Upon finding that monetary damages should be awarded, a dollar amount of the monetary damages to be awarded must be determined. This matter shall be referred to the Office of Risk Management (ORM) of the Division of Administration. If not, the letter is to be treated as regular mail and an appropriate inquiry made into the youth's intent in addressing the envelope as privileged mail.

b.i. Incoming Letters. Incoming letters may be opened and inspected for contraband. Incoming privileged mail (see following list) may be opened and inspected for contraband only in the presence of the youth addressee except as indicated in Paragraph E.4:

If the unapproved items (other than perishables) are of a nature to be returned, the youth will be notified that he has 21 days to provide return postage for the package. At the end of the twenty-first day the disposal process may begin as outlined in Paragraph F.3. Postage will be provided for indigent youth. When a package is returned to sender, a note will be sent with it specifying the reason for its return. Exception: All sealed packages, may be opened and inspected in the presence of the youth, in which case an inventory of the packaged contents is not required. Upon receipt of a package handled in this manner, the youth shall sign a statement that the youth agrees that all items due him are in the package. These areas must be covered with non-transparent garments. Lingerie will not be acceptable whether transparent or not. Swimwear will only be acceptable if the overall context of the picture is reasonably related to activities during which swimwear is normally worn. Suggestive poses may be sufficient cause for rejection regardless of the type of clothing worn.

2. Each facility shall develop a procedure to reasonably restrict a youth's possession of multiple copies of the same photograph or digital or other image.

3. Hard backed photographs or digital or other images that are subject to alteration or modification may be rejected.

§785. Definitions [Formerly §375]

Administrative Segregation/Confinement (formerly referred to as Room Confinement)—a unit housing offenders whose continued presence in the general population poses a threat to life, property, self, staff, other offenders, the security or orderly running of the institution, or who are the subject of an investigation conducted by noninstitutional authorities. In addition, offenders who are pending transfer to another institution or pending assignment or reassignment within an institution may be held in "Administrative Segregation/Confinement." (Refer to Section 377.A. Disciplinary Procedures—Administrative Segregation/Confinement Guidelines.)

Appeal—a request by an offender for review of a disciplinary decision.

Classification—a process for determining the needs and requirements of those for whom confinement has been ordered and for assigning them to housing units and programs according to their needs and existing resources.

Confidential Informant—person whose identity is not revealed to the accused offender but who provides an employee(s) with information concerning misbehavior or planned misbehavior.

Disciplinary Committee—a properly composed committee will consist of two employees: a duly authorized chairman, and a duly authorized member; each representing a different element (security, administration, or treatment) and authorized to conduct hearings and impose disciplinary sanctions in compliance with the procedures set forth in this document. The chairman must be approved by the secretary and the member must be approved by the superintendent. Any disciplinary committee chairman/member directly involved in the incident or who is biased for or against the accused cannot hear the case unless the accused waives recusal. Performance of a routine administrative duty does not necessarily constitute "direct involvement" or "bias." If the decision of the disciplinary committee is not unanimous, the chairman will refer the case to another disciplinary committee. If the second decision is not unanimous, then a finding of not guilty is appropriate.

Disciplinary Hearing Officer—a ranking security officer (lieutenant or above) or any supervisory level employee from administration or treatment appointed by the superintendent who conducts hearings of minor violations and who may impose only minor sanctions. The disciplinary hearing officer may also hear protective custody cases. Any disciplinary hearing officer directly involved in the incident or who is biased for or against the accused cannot hear the case unless the accused waives recusal. Performance of a routine administrative duty does not necessarily constitute "direct involvement" or "bias."

Disciplinary Report—a report on the approved form completed and filed by an employee who has reason to believe of his own knowledge that an offender has violated one or more disciplinary rules. Disciplinary reports may be heard by the disciplinary hearing officer or the disciplinary committee. (See also Incident Report)

Hearing—a fair and impartial review conducted by the disciplinary hearing officer or the disciplinary committee. A hearing must be scheduled as soon as possible but no later than seven days, excluding weekends and holidays, after the alleged violation.

Incident Report—a report on the approved form filed by an employee describing an instance of planned or committed misbehavior (usually filed when the information is obtained through sources other than the reporting employee's first hand knowledge—sources such as confidential informants, other offenders, or nonemployees), or to describe planned or committed misbehavior that may not be defined under a specific rule description. In addition, a document that may be used to review the appropriateness of a custody or classification assignment. Incident reports are heard by the disciplinary committee. (See also Disciplinary Report)

Informal Resolution—a procedure used when a minor rule has been violated and the employee believes it may properly be handled by reprimand and/or counseling.

Investigative Officer—an experienced employee assigned by the disciplinary committee or other appropriate staff to investigate a disciplinary report utilizing Form JR-8.

Investigative Report—a report on the approved form submitted to the disciplinary committee/hearing officer by an investigative officer detailing the facts pertaining to an investigation.

Minor Offense—Schedule A rule violation. (Refer to §381)

Restitution—restitution may be obtained by a disciplinary committee in accordance with Department Regulation Number 30-41 from an offender who damages or destroys property, escapes or attempts to escape, causes or attempts to cause injury to himself, other offenders, staff and/or civilians (this includes lost wages), or who has a pattern of alleging injury or illness with the result that medical expenses are incurred and after a finding of guilt by the disciplinary committee following a full (due process) hearing. Restitution is not a disciplinary penalty.

Sanction—a disciplinary penalty.

Special Unit—a housing section that separates offenders who threaten the security or orderly management of the institution from the general population.

Staff Representative—a staff member selected by the offender in accordance with institutional procedure for the purpose of representing the offender before the disciplinary committee chairman/hearing officer. (See Form JR-1 for duties of staff representative and exceptions.) The superintendent or his designee shall publish a list of names of staff representatives and shall make the list available to the disciplinary hearing officers, disciplinary committee chairmen, and offenders. All case managers should appear on the list, as well as selected administrative, educational, security and other personnel. The case manager should normally be chosen; however, any employee chosen must be on duty at the time of the hearing and must be able to perform the function without serious disruption to normal job responsibilities. Employees who write the disciplinary report, who witness the reported incident, who investigate the incident, or conduct the disciplinary hearings may not act as staff representative for the particular case. If the staff representative encounters difficulties during the representation that he believes will prevent him from functioning properly (i.e., biases which would prevent him from being an offender advocate), he should request approval from the disciplinary committee chairman/hearing officer to be disqualified from the case.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:823.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services, Office of Youth Development, LR 20:58 (January 1994).

§787. Disciplinary Procedures [Formerly §377]

A. Administrative Segregation/Confinement Guidelines (formerly referred to as room confinement). An offender whose continued presence in the general population poses a threat to life, property, self, staff, other offenders, or to the security or orderly running of the institution, or who is the subject of an investigation conducted by noninstitutional authorities, or who is pending review for or assignment to a special unit, or pending reassignment within an institution or to another institution, may (with the approval of the highest ranking supervisor on duty in the unit where the incident occurred), be placed in administrative segregation/confinement. The supervisor, before the conclusion of his tour of duty, will review relevant documentation for completeness and correctness, and investigate as needed to confirm the reasonableness of the allegation or circumstances prompting the placement.

1. Placement of an offender in administrative segregation/confinement pending a disciplinary hearing should not normally exceed 24 hours unless justified for security reasons. (See §377.A. Administrative Segregation/Confinement Guidelines above.)

2. Placement of an offender in administrative segregation/confinement pending case management review for possible placement in a special unit, protective care, or other reassignment review should not normally exceed 24 hours unless justified for security reasons. (See §377.A. Administrative Segregation/Confinement Guidelines above.) An incident report (Form JR-3) may be utilized to initiate placement under these circumstances. Review may be conducted by a disciplinary committee or other classification authority.

3. An offender who has been found guilty of a Schedule B offense may be placed in administrative segregation/confinement by the disciplinary committee for a period of time not to exceed five days as a sanction. [Refer to §379. Sanctions and §383. Penalty Schedule—Disciplinary Report (Heard by Disciplinary Committee)].

4. In the event an offender remains in administrative segregation/confinement for periods over 24 hours, the placement must be reviewed every 24 hours thereafter by the superintendent or his designee who may be a ranking security employee or administrative or treatment supervisor (who was not involved with the incident).

5. Offenders whose serious behavior problems or need for protective care extends beyond the five day maximum envisioned for administrative segregation/confinement should be reviewed by the appropriate classification authority for possible placement in a special unit where they can be separated from general population. Offenders may be held in excess of five days in administrative segregation/confinement pending such review and/or assignment to a special unit, or pending possible transfer to another institution, or pending assignment or reassignment within an institution only when they are at a high risk for assaultive behavior, present a danger to themselves or others or the security of the institution, or are in danger of being victimized by others.

6. During administrative segregation/confinement visual contact is made with an offender at least every 15 minutes (or more, depending upon his emotional state) and documented in the unit log book.

7. Time spent in administrative segregation/confinement must be credited against any time spent in detention for disciplinary reasons even when the sentence is suspended. Credit will not be given for time spent in administrative segregation/confinement on a request for protection or while awaiting transfer to another area.

8. Offenders in administrative segregation/confinement shall be allowed to receive all correspondence and to originate correspondence. Offenders in administrative segregation/confinement will be allowed: visits; clean clothing on a scheduled basis; toothbrush and toothpaste; sufficient heat; light; ventilation; toilet facilities; and the same meals as other offenders.

B. Informal Resolution

1. Many petty or minor acts of misbehavior do not warrant the time and effort of a full disciplinary proceeding, yet do warrant some staff response. Good judgment of institutional staff, when dealing with some misbehavior, can alleviate further problems. Formal disciplinary proceedings need not be initiated for such misbehavior if the employee feels that the situation can be controlled by verbal reprimand or counseling.

2. If the offender is unwilling to accept an informal resolution, the reporting employee shall prepare and forward a disciplinary report for processing. A record shall be kept of informal resolutions and reviewed by the supervisor on a daily basis. An informal resolution shall be documented in the log in the area in which it occurred.

C. Minor Offenses. After writing a disciplinary report alleging commission of a minor offense, the following steps will be followed.

1. Notice. A copy of the disciplinary report, as a notification of the charges, shall be given to the offender at least 24 hours prior to a hearing with the disciplinary hearing officer. The offender's written disciplinary report must be served before the end of the employee's shift and service documented on the disciplinary report. The employee will forward the disciplinary report to his supervisor for review and investigation as he deems appropriate to determine the relevancy and accuracy of the report. The supervisor will forward the disciplinary report to the disciplinary hearing officer. The disciplinary hearing officer is responsible for making certain the offender has the disciplinary report before conducting the hearing.

2. Hearing. The offender(s) shall be present during all phases of the hearing (except deliberations) unless he waives his right in writing, through obstructive behavior, or when another offender is giving a confidential testimony. Before the hearing can begin, the accused offender(s) must acknowledge that he/they understand their rights as outlined in Form JR-6. The offender shall be allowed a staff representative if requested. When it is apparent that the offender is not capable of effectively collecting and presenting evidence in his own behalf, a staff representative shall be appointed by the disciplinary hearing officer, even if one was not requested by the offender. The disciplinary hearing officer shall read the charge to the offender and ask that he plead guilty or not guilty. Unless the disciplinary hearing officer feels additional oral testimony is necessary, his decision may be based on the disciplinary report, the statements of the offender, and any other relevant written information presented at the hearing. He shall verbally advise the offender of his findings.

3. Record of Findings. At the conclusion of the hearing, the disciplinary hearing officer shall state his findings in writing, the evidence relied on, and the sanctions imposed, if any. A copy of this record shall be given to the offender within 24 hours. If an offender is found not guilty of a minor violation, all references to that offense shall be removed from his case record. (If the violation for which an offender was found not guilty is part of an incident where other violations were established, expungement is not necessary, but the "not guilty" violation shall be clearly marked.) A copy of all reports, documents, and notifications of the disciplinary process shall be maintained by the disciplinary hearing officer in a central location for six months with a copy placed in the offender's case record. The superintendent or his designee shall review disciplinary hearings and disposition to assure conformity with policy and procedures.

4. Appeals to Disciplinary Committee. An offender who wants to appeal a case heard by the disciplinary hearing officer must appeal to the disciplinary committee. As soon as the sentence is passed, the offender who wants to appeal must clearly say so to the disciplinary hearing officer who will then automatically suspend the sentence and schedule the case for a hearing by the disciplinary committee.

a. The disciplinary committee shall conduct a full hearing of the charge and report its findings in accordance with normal procedure. The disciplinary committee cannot upgrade the sanction imposed by the disciplinary hearing officer. The disciplinary committee may affirm, reverse or otherwise modify the decision. The appeal decision shall be in writing. Decisions rendered by the disciplinary hearing officer and appealed to the disciplinary committee may not be appealed to the superintendent or to the secretary.

D. Major Offense. After the filing of a disciplinary report alleging commission of a major offense, the following steps will be followed.

1. Notice. The accused offender must be given a written copy of the disciplinary report describing the alleged violation against him within 24 hours of the infraction (unless waived by the offender in writing) and service documented on the report. In addition, the offender must be notified of the time and place of the hearing at least 24 hours in advance of the hearing. The disciplinary report is forwarded to the employee's supervisor for review and investigation as he deems appropriate to determine the relevancy and accuracy of the report. The supervisor will forward the disciplinary report to the disciplinary committee.

2. Hearing. Disciplinary committee hearings must be tape recorded in their entirety and the tapes preserved for a minimum of 145 days or as required for judicial review. The offender shall be present during all phases of the hearing (except deliberations) unless he waives his right in writing, through obstructive behavior, or when another juvenile is giving a confidential testimony. Before the hearing can begin, the accused offender(s) must acknowledge that he/they understand their rights (Form JR-6). The disciplinary committee chairman is responsible for ensuring that the rights of offenders are protected. The chairman may reschedule the hearing if necessary to carry out the offender's request to exercise his rights. The offender shall be allowed a staff representative if requested. When it is apparent that the offender is not capable of effectively collecting and presenting evidence in his own behalf, a staff representative shall be appointed by the disciplinary committee chairman even if one was not requested by the offender. The disciplinary committee chairman shall read the charge to the offender and ask that he plead guilty or not guilty. The offender has the right to present evidence and witnesses in his behalf and to request cross-examination of the accuser, provided such requests are relevant, not repetitious, not unduly burdensome to the institution, or not unduly hazardous to staff or offender safety. (The committee has the option of stipulating expected testimony from witnesses. In such a case, the committee should assign proper weight to such testimony as though the witness had actually appeared.) The accusing employee must be summoned when the report is based solely on information from confidential informants. The offender and/or his representative shall have the opportunity to challenge any documentary or physical evidence presented and may introduce evidence subject to approval of the disciplinary committee. If warranted, the disciplinary committee may order an investigation using Form JR-8.

3. Hearing of Incident Reports. When the report is based solely on information from a confidential informant, or from an offender whose identity is known, it must be corroborated by witnesses (who may be other confidential informants), the record, or other evidence. The only time the accusing employee must be summoned for cross examination is when the report is based solely on information from confidential informants. In order for the accuser to attest to the reliability of the information received from a confidential informant, the informant must not have been unreliable in the past and must have legitimate knowledge of the present incident(s).

4. Decision. The offender shall be notified orally of the decision at the conclusion of the hearing. The decision rendered shall include:

- a. a finding of guilty or not guilty;
- b. the reason for the decision;
- c. a summary of the evidence relied upon; and
- d. penalty to be imposed.

The disciplinary committee shall render, and provide to the offender, a written decision including the above information.

5. Record of Findings. The disciplinary committee's decision shall become a part of the offender's case record. The disciplinary committee has full authority to suspend any sentence it imposes, including suspending the sentence pending appeal. If an offender is found not guilty of a violation, major or minor, all references to that offense shall be removed from his case record. (If the violation in which an offender was found not guilty is part of an incident where other violations were established, expungement is not necessary, but the "not guilty" violation shall be clearly marked.) A copy of all reports, documents, and notification of the disciplinary process shall be maintained by the committee chairman in a central location for six months with a copy placed in the offender's case record. The superintendent or his designee shall review disciplinary hearings and dispositions to assure conformity with policy and procedures.

6. Appeals to the Superintendent. An offender who wants to appeal a case heard by the disciplinary committee must, in all cases, appeal to the superintendent. The offender may appeal himself or through the staff representative. In either case, the appeal must be received within 15 days of the hearing. The appeal should be clearly written or typed on Form JR-4. If the form is not available, the appeal may be on plain paper but should contain the information called for on the form. The superintendent will decide all appeals within 30 days of the date of receipt of the appeal and the offender will be promptly notified on Form JR-5 of the results (unless circumstances warrant an extension of that time period and the offender is notified accordingly).

a. Lengthy appeals of disciplinary actions will not be accepted into the appeals process. It is necessary only that the offender provide basic factual information regarding his case. Appeals that are too long will be returned to the offender for summarization. The offender will have five days from receipt to comply with the instructions and resubmit. It is important to remember that our ability to respond to legitimate problems in a timely fashion depends upon everyone's cooperation.

7. Appeals to the Secretary. An offender who wants to appeal the decision of the superintendent to the secretary will indicate that he is "not satisfied" in the appropriate box on the superintendent's "Appeal Decision" (Form JR-5) and submit it to the ARP screening officer. The form must be submitted within five days of its receipt by the offender. No supplement to the appeal will be considered. It is only necessary that the offender check the box indicating "I am not satisfied," date, sign, and forward to the ARP screening officer. The ARP screening officer will provide the offender with an acknowledgement of receipt and date forwarded to the secretary's office. The institution will provide a copy of the offender's original appeal to be attached to the Form JR-5 for submission to the secretary.

a. The secretary will only consider appeals from decisions of the superintendent which resulted in an imposed or suspended sentence of one or more of the following penalties:

- i. administrative segregation/confinement for up to five days;
- ii. demotion of one level or maximum demotion to the beginning level;
- iii. recommendation of transfer to a more restrictive and secure environment (such as a special unit separated from general population);
- iv. loss of furlough.

b. In addition, all "restitution" assessments may be appealed to the secretary.

c. The secretary will decide all appeals within 45 days of the date of receipt of the appeal and the offender will be promptly notified in writing of the results (unless circumstances warrant an extension of that time period and the offender is notified accordingly). Absent unusual circumstances, the secretary will only consider review of the "sentence" of an inmate who pled guilty.

E. Correcting Disciplinary Reports

1. A reviewing employee may change the rule number to fit the description prior to the hearing but should ensure that the accused gets a corrected copy of the report at least 24 hours before the hearing begins. Rule number(s) may be added if the offense is clearly described on the report. An incident may consist of several related events, however, each separate and distinct rule violation should be processed independently in the disciplinary system.

2. Before the hearing begins, the disciplinary hearing officer/committee may change the rule number to match the description of alleged misbehavior, if necessary, and also change the rule number at any point prior to the deliberations, but should offer the accused a continuance to prepare the defense. It is the description of the conduct and not the rule number which determines the offense. The continuance may be waived and does not necessarily need to be for 24 hours.

§789. Sanctions [Formerly §379]

A. Sentences must fit the offense and the offender. An offender with a poor conduct record may receive a more severe sentence than an offender with a good conduct record for the same offense. Even so, serious offenses call for serious penalties. An offender who violates more than one rule or the same rule more than once during an incident may receive a permissible sanction for each violation. After a finding of guilt for a new violation, a previously suspended sentence may be imposed as well as a new sentence. State and federal criminal laws apply to offenders. In addition to being sanctioned by institutional authorities, offenders may also be prosecuted in state or federal court for criminal conduct. Restitution imposed in accordance with Department Regulation Number 30-41 is not a disciplinary penalty and may be assessed in addition to all other permissible penalties.

B. An offender who has established a documented pattern of behavior indicating that he is dangerous to himself or others is a habitual offender. This includes an offender who has been convicted of three major violations or a total of five violations in a six-month period. Major violations are Schedule B offenses and incident reports concerning escape, violence, strong-arming, theft, smuggling of contraband, or threats to security. A habitual offender may receive Schedule B penalties following conviction of a Schedule A offense when he has established a documented pattern of hostile or disruptive behavior as defined above.

- a. reprimand;
- b. loss of minor privilege for up to two weeks;

§795. Disciplinary Rules [Formerly §385]

A. An offender found guilty of violating one or more of the rules defined below will be disciplined according to the penalty schedule designated in the rule. Offenders must also obey the approved posted policies of the institution in which they are confined.

1. Contraband (Schedule B). No offender shall have under his immediate control any drugs (such as, but not limited to, heroin, LSD, amphetamines, barbiturates, marijuana), unauthorized medication, alcoholic beverage, yeast, tattoo machine, or tattoo paraphernalia, syringe, weapon (such as, but not limited to, firearm, knife, iron pipe), or any other item not permitted by institutional posted policy to be received or possessed, or any other item detrimental to the security of the institution; or smuggle or try to smuggle such items into or out of the institution. Currency is contraband in all facilities. No offender shall sell or give away any above defined contraband items. Offenders clearly seen by employees to have contraband in their possession are in violation of this rule. The area of immediate control is an offender's person, his locker(s), his cell, his room, his bed, his laundry bag, and his assigned job/school equipment (such as, but not limited to, his desk), or the area under his bed on the floor unless the evidence clearly indicated that it belonged to another offender. Any offender who is tested for and has a positive reading on a urinalysis test will be considered in violation of this rule. Any item not being used for the purpose for which it was intended will be considered contraband if it is being used in a manner that is clearly detrimental to the security of the institution.

a. Unauthorized Items (Schedule A). This distinguishes between contraband items that are detrimental to the security of the institution and those that are not authorized but clearly not detrimental to the safety and security of the institution.

2. Defiance (Schedule B). No offender shall commit or threaten physically or verbally to commit bodily harm upon an employee. No offender shall curse or insult an employee and/or his family. No offender shall threaten an employee in any manner, including threatening with legal redress during a confrontation situation (this does not mean telling an employee of planned legal redress outside a confrontation situation and does not mean the actual composition or filing of a writ or suit). No offender shall obstruct or resist an employee who is performing his proper duties. No offender shall try to intimidate an employee to make the employee do as the offender wants him to do. Employees shall not be subjected to abusive conversation, correspondence, phone calls, or gestures.

3. Disobedience (Schedule A). Offenders must obey all posted policies of the institution. They must obey signs or other notices of restricted activities in certain areas, safety rules, or other general instructions. The only valid excuse for disobedience is when the immediate result of obedience would be bodily injury (this includes incapacity by virtue of a certified medical reason).

4. Disobedience, Aggravated (Schedule B). Offenders must obey direct verbal orders cooperatively and promptly; not debate, argue, or ignore them before obeying. When orders conflict, the last order received must be obeyed. Even orders the offender believes improper must be obeyed; grievances must be pursued through proper channels. Sentences imposed by the disciplinary officer or the disciplinary committee are to be carried out by the offender. Violations of duty status will apply to this rule as will a violation of an order from the disciplinary committee. The only valid excuse for disobedience or aggravated disobedience is when the immediate result of obedience would be bodily injury (this includes incapacity by virtue of a certified medical reason).

5. Disorderly Conduct (Schedule A). All boisterous behavior is forbidden. This includes, but is not limited to, horseplay, or to disorderly conduct in the mess hall, the visiting room, or during counts. Offenders shall not jump ahead or cut into lines at the store, movie, mess hall, or during group movements of offenders. Visitors shall be treated courteously and not be subjected to disorderly or intrusive conduct. Offenders shall not communicate verbally into or out of cellblocks or other housing areas.

6. Disrespect (Schedule A). Employees shall not be subject to disrespectful conversation, correspondence, or phone calls. Offenders shall address employees by proper title or by "Mr.", "Ms.", "Miss", or "Mrs.", whichever is appropriate.

7. Escape (Schedule B). An escape or an attempt to escape from the grounds of an institution or from the custody of an employee outside an institution, whether successful or not, or the failure to return from a furlough or pass, or being absent from an institution without leave, is a violation. R.S. 15:875(B) and Department Regulation Number 30-41 authorize imposition of restitution for costs related to escape or attempted escape from "any institution of the department." (An intent to escape must be established, otherwise §385.A.20. Disciplinary Rules, Unauthorized Area (Schedule A) applies.)

8. Favoritism (Schedule B). No offender shall bribe, influence, or coerce anyone to violate institutional policies, procedures, rules, or state or federal laws, or attempt to do so. No offender shall give an employee anything of any value.

9. Fighting (Schedule B). Hostile physical contact or attempted physical contact is not permitted. This includes fist fighting, shoving, wrestling, kicking, and other such behavior.

a. Self-Defense Clarification. Self-defense is a complete defense and can be established to the disciplinary committee by demonstrating that his actions did not exceed those necessary to protect himself from injury.

10. Fighting, Aggravated (Schedule B). Offenders shall not fight with each other using any object as a weapon (including any liquid or solid substances thrown or otherwise projected on or at another person). When two or more offenders attack another offender without using weapons, the attackers are in violation of this rule, as are all participants in a group or "gang" fight. The use of teeth will also be sufficient to constitute a violation of this rule. No offender shall intentionally inflict serious injury or death upon another offender. Contact does not necessarily have to be made for this rule to be violated.

a. Self-Defense Clarification. Self-defense is a complete defense and can be established to the disciplinary committee by demonstrating that his actions did not exceed those necessary to protect himself from injury.

11. Gambling (Schedule B). No offender shall operate or participate in any game of chance involving bets or wages or goods or other valuables. Possession of one or more gambling tickets or stubs for football or any other sport is a violation. No offenders shall operate a book making scheme. Possession of gambling sheets with a list of names or codes, point spreads, how much owed, or how much wagered will be considered a violation.

12. Intoxication (Schedule B). No offender shall be under the influence of any intoxicating substance at an institution or while in physical custody. Returning from a pass, furlough, or off campus activities under the influence of an intoxicating substance is a violation.

13. Malingering (Schedule A)

a. Sick Call. A qualified medical staff person (as defined by the institution's responsible health authority) determines that an offender has made repeated and frequent complaints at sick call having little or no merit.

b. Declaration of Emergency. A qualified medical staff person (as defined by the institution's responsible health authority) determines that an offender has sought emergency medical treatment not during scheduled sick call for a minor ailment that was or could have been properly handled at sick call.

14. Malingering, Aggravated (Schedule B). A qualified medical staff person (as defined by the institution's responsible health authority) determines that an offender has sought emergency medical treatment not during scheduled sick call when there was no ailment, or a doctor determines that it was an obviously minor ailment which could have been, or was, properly handled at sick call.

15. Property Destruction (Schedule B). No offender shall destroy the property of others or of the state. Flooding an area and the shaking of cell or room doors are not permitted. Standing or sitting on face bowls is a violation. Whether or not the offender intended to destroy the property and/or the degree of negligence involved may be utilized in defense of the charge.

16. Radio/Tape Player/Television Abuse (Schedule A). Radios/tape players/televisions must be used in accordance with the posted policies of the institution. Radios/tape players/televisions must be played at a reasonable volume so as not to disturb others. Violations of posted policies regarding radios/tape players/televisions may be processed under this rule. In addition to any sanction that may be imposed by the disciplinary hearing officer or the disciplinary committee, the ranking employee on duty may confiscate the radios/tape players/televisions for a period of up to 30 days. For repeated violations, the radios/tape players/televisions will be confiscated and disposed of in accordance with institutional procedure. The offender will not be permitted to have a similar item sent to him for one year.

17. Self-Mutilation (Schedule B). No offender shall deliberately inflict or attempt to inflict injury upon himself, upon a consenting offender, or consent to have an injury inflicted upon himself. Tattoos, piercing of any parts of the body, and alterations to teeth are specifically included in this rule. Not included are obvious suicide attempts.

a. Self-Mutilation (Special Sanction). Any offender found guilty of an act of self-mutilation which results in a limited school or job assignment in excess of five days will be subject to the loss of one or two major privileges for up to three months.

18. Sex Offenses, Aggravated (Schedule B). Carnal copulation by two or more offenders with each other, or by one or more offenders with an implement or animal(s), is not permitted. Two or more offenders who have obviously been interrupted immediately before or after carnal copulation are in violation. The same applies to one or more offenders with an implement or animal(s). Use of the genital organs of one of the offenders, regardless of sex, is sufficient to constitute the offense. Overt sexual activity in the visiting room is not permitted. No offender shall invade the privacy of an employee with sexual remarks, or threats in conversation, or by correspondence or phone calls. No offender shall deliberately expose the genital organs and/or masturbate in view of an employee or visitor. No offender shall sexually assault a person by force or threat of force.

19. Theft (Schedule B). No offender shall steal from anyone. Forgery, a form of theft is the unauthorized altering or signing of a document(s) to secure material return and/or special favors or considerations. (The very act of the forgery will constitute proof of the crime. It need not have been successful in its conclusion.) Fraud, a form of theft, is the deliberate misrepresentation of fact to secure material return and/or special favors or considerations. Any offender who knowingly submits obviously false information to any employee within the Department of Public Safety and Corrections is guilty of this violation. Lying to the secretary or superintendent on appeal or in any part of the administrative remedy procedure or in correspondence will also be a violation. Those who file administrative remedy requests that are frivolous or deliberately malicious may be disciplined under this rule. No offender shall have stolen items under his immediate control. No offender shall have institutional property under his immediate control unless he has specific permission; this includes institutional foodstuffs in excess of what a reasonable person might be expected to eat at one sitting. (Refer to §385.A.1. Disciplinary Rules, for the definition of area of immediate control.)

20. Unauthorized Area (Schedule A). An offender must be in the area in which he is authorized to be at that particular time and date or he is in an unauthorized area. No offender shall go into any housing unit other than that to which he is assigned; this includes standing in the doorway; unless he has permission.

21. Unauthorized Food (Schedule A). No offender shall have under his immediate control any food not sold by the offender canteen or not otherwise permitted. No offender shall have institutional foodstuffs under his immediate control outside the kitchen without specific permission. No offender shall take extra portions of rationed food items at the serving counter. This rule, not §385.A.19.Theft Schedule B, applies to unauthorized possession of institutional foodstuffs not exceeding that which an inmate could be reasonably expected to eat at one sitting. (Refer to §385.A.1.Disciplinary Rules, for the definition of area of immediate control.)

22. Unsanitary Practices (Schedule A). Offenders must not spit or drop litter anywhere but into a proper receptacle. Offenders must maintain themselves, their clothing, and their shoes in as presentable a condition as possible under prevailing circumstances. Each offender is responsible for keeping his bed and bed area reasonably clean, neat, and sanitary. Beds will be made according to the approved posted policy at the institution. Offenders must wear shoes/boots and cannot wear shirts that leave the armpits exposed or shorts into the kitchen, or chew gum in the kitchen.

23. Work Offenses (Schedule A). Offenders must perform their assigned tasks with reasonable speed and efficiency. Though offenders have specific job assignments, it may be required that they do work other than what their job assignments require; this work shall also be done cooperatively and with reasonable speed and efficiency. Being present, but not answering at the proper time at work roll call is a violation. A school assignment is considered to be a work assignment for the purposes of this rule.

24. Work Offenses, Aggravated (Schedule B). An offender who flatly refuses to work or to go out to work, or who asks to go to administrative segregation/confinement rather than work, is in violation of this rule, as is an offender who disobeys repeated instructions as to how to perform his work assignment. Hiding out from work or leaving the work area without permission is a violation. Falling far short of fulfilling reasonable work quotas is not permitted. Being absent or late from work roll call without a valid excuse is a violation, as is not reporting for additional work assignment. Being late to work (includes being late to school assignment) is a violation. A school assignment is considered to be a work assignment for the purposes of this rule.

A. R.S. 15:866.2 provides that any property (including money) which is left within the Department of Public Safety and Corrections for 90 days after release and to which no claim is made shall be considered abandoned and will be disposed of in accordance with the law.

A. The purpose of this Section is to establish a uniform procedure for handling "Lost Property Claims" filed by individuals in the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Corrections Services. All wardens and superintendents are responsible for implementing and advising offenders and affected employees of its contents.

1. When an offender suffers a loss of personal property, he may submit a claim to the warden/superintendent. The claim should be submitted on the attached Form A. The claim must include the date the loss occurred, a full statement of the circumstances which resulted in the loss of property, a list of the items which are missing, the value of each lost item, and any proof of ownership or value of the property available to the offender. All claims for lost personal property must be submitted to the warden/superintendent within 10 days of discovery of the loss.

a. Under no circumstances will an offender be compensated for an unsubstantiated loss, or for a loss which results from the offender's own acts or for any loss resulting from bartering, trading, selling to, or gambling with other offenders.

2. The warden/superintendent, or his designee, will assign an employee to investigate the claim. The investigative officer will investigate the claim fully and will submit his investigation report and recommendation to the warden/superintendent, or his designee.

3. If a loss of offender's personal property occurs through the negligence of the institution and/or its employees, the offenders claim may be processed in accordance with the following procedures.

a. Monetary

i. The warden/superintendent, or his designee, will recommend a reasonable value for the lost personal property as described on Form A. The maximum liability for certain classes of items is established at $50 per Department Regulation Number 30-22.

ii. Forms B and C (copies attached) will be completed and submitted to the offender for his signature; and

iii. The claim will then be submitted to the Office of the secretary for review and processing.

b. Nonmonetary

i. The offender is entitled only to state issue where state-issued items are available;

ii. the warden/superintendent, or his designee, will review the claim and determine whether or not the institution is responsible;

iii. Form B will be completed and submitted to the offender for his signature; and

iv. Form C will be completed and submitted to the offender for his signature when state issue replacement has been offered.

4. If the warden/superintendent, or his designee, determines that the institution and/or its employees are not responsible for the offender's loss of property, the claim will be denied, and Form B will be submitted to the offender indicating the reason. If the offender is not satisfied with the resolution at the unit level, he may indicate by checking the appropriate box on Form B and submitting it to the ARP screening officer within five days of receipt.

5. It is only necessary that the offender check the box indicating "I am not satisfied," date, sign, and forward to the ARP screening officer. The ARP screening officer will provide the offender with an acknowledgment of receipt and date forwarded to the secretary's office. The institution will provide a copy of the offender's original Lost Personal Property Claim (Form A) and Lost Personal Property Claim Response (Form B) and other relevant documentation for submission to the secretary.

A. Duties of Staff Representative (JR-1)

Appendix

JR-1

DUTIES OF STAFF REPRESENTATIVE

As a staff person representing an offender appearing before the Disciplinary Committee, your duties are:

1. To assist the offender in presenting pertinent information in preparing his defense. This will require, in every case, consultation with the offender and familiarity with the Disciplinary Report in question. Confidential or security information must, of course, be protected.
2. To speak with witnesses who might furnish evidence on behalf of the offender, if the offender indicates there are such witnesses whom he wishes to have called.
3. To assist the offender in completing Form JR-7, Request for Calling of Witnesses/Representative, if he plans to call witnesses.
4. To help the offender understand the charges against him and the potential consequences. You should be familiar with the procedures of the Disciplinary Committee Hearing, explain them to the offender in advance, and, if necessary during the hearing, assist the offender in understanding procedural points.
5. To assist the offender, if he so requests, in writing an appeal.

Exception: Employees who write the Disciplinary Report, who witness the reported incident, who investigate the incident, or conduct the Disciplinary Hearings may not act as Staff Representative for the particular case. If during your representation you encounter difficulties which you believe will prevent you from functioning properly (i.e., biases which would prevent you from being an offender advocate), you should request approval from the disciplinary committee chairman/hearing officer to be disqualified from the case.

7. Anyone providing health care services to residents shall be licensed, registered or certified as appropriate to their respective professional disciplines. Such personnel may only practice as authorized by their license, registration or certification. Good employment placement shall give preference to jobs that are related to prior training and are suitable for continued employment. All employment plans must be consistent with state statutes. No resident is to work for or on the premises of a school, day care facility or other business or agency whose primary objective is in the service of juveniles, or who provide housing, care and/or treatment of juveniles.

2. Other than noted above, there are no general restrictions on the types of jobs residents may be considered for except those relative to juveniles; however, common sense and logic must prevail. At all times, concern for public safety shall guide the decision. Residents shall not be employed in a bar, lounge or tavern as a bartender, waiter or janitor. Employment that does not provide for proper supervision of the resident and/or is deemed unsuitable by the facility director may be terminated.

8. The employer's responsibility to provide proper supervision for the resident extends from the time the employer receives the resident from facility personnel, either by picking him up at the facility or by having facility personnel transport the resident to the employer, and terminates when he returns the resident back to the facility personnel, either at the facility or to facility provided transportation. The ideal situation is for no resident to be unsupervised during the transportation process to or from an employment location. However, there may be a reasonable time (defined as less than an hour) allowed before work (when a resident is dropped off) and after work (when the resident is picked up) that he may be unsupervised.

9. Should the occasion arise and a resident is not picked up in a reasonable period of time, it must be noted on the transportation log with the reason why.

The facility shall have a process for informal resolution of minor infractions of facility rules. Residents charged with major rule violations shall receive a written statement of the alleged violation(s), including a description of the incident and specific rules violated. The facility is responsible for ensuring that disciplinary reports are completed accurately and staff completing reports shall receive training on report writing. A supervisor shall review disciplinary reports prior to submission making certain essential elements (who, what, when, where, etc.) are covered with clarity. It is essential that reports be accurate as residents are subject to removal from the facility program for serious violations.

4. Restriction of Privileges

a. When residents are found guilty of a rule violation and are assessed penalties which restrict their privileges, the privileges which are restricted and the amount of time imposed shall be posted in a conspicuous place so that all staff members are aware of the restrictions. #### Chapter 3. Introductory Information

§301. Purpose and Scope

A. In keeping with congressional findings that the privacy of an individual is directly affected by the collection, maintenance, use and dissemination of personal information;

B. recognizing that to the extent that the maintenance of personal information is necessary for the efficient functioning of the government, it is the moral and legal obligation of the government to assure that the personal information maintained is, to the maximum extent feasible, complete and accurate;

C. being convinced that it is of utmost importance that the integrity of personal information records be zealously protected;

D. recognizing that the increasing use of computers and sophisticated information technology, while essential to the operations of government, has greatly magnified the harm to individual privacy that can occur from any collection, maintenance, use, or dissemination of personal information;

E. realizing that opportunities for an individual to secure employment, insurance, credit, and his right to due process, and other legal protections are endangered by the misuse of certain information systems;

F. acknowledging that the right to privacy is a personal and fundamental right protected by the constitution of the United States;

G. responding to the authority granted in 42 United States Code 3701, et seq.; 28 United States Code 534; 28 Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, Section 20; R.S. 15:575 et seq.; 49:951 et seq.; and Executive Designation dated November 14, 1975; and

H. acting with the intent of protecting and furthering the interests of the citizens of the state of Louisiana, the Privacy and Security Committee of the Criminal Justice Information System Division of the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice (LCLE) does hereby issue these privacy and security regulations for the following purposes, and with the following scope and limitations:

I. it is the purpose of these regulations to provide safeguards for an individual against an invasion of his personal privacy, and to promote, to the maximum extent feasible, the adoption of procedures to ensure the completeness, accuracy, and integrity of criminal history record information collected, maintained, and disseminated by criminal justice agencies. This will be accomplished by requiring those agencies affected to permit an individual to determine what criminal history record information pertaining to him is collected, maintained, used, or disseminated by such agencies; permit an individual to gain access to criminal history record information pertaining to him in the records of affected agencies, to have a copy made of all or any portion thereof, and to correct or amend such records; and collect, maintain, use, or disseminate any record of criminal history information in a manner that assures that such action is for a lawful purpose, that the information is current and accurate for its intended use, and that adequate safeguards are provided to prevent the misuse or unauthorized alteration or destruction of such information.

It is intended that this regulation supplement and reinforce the LCJIS Complete Disposition Reporting System. Because inaccurate or incomplete criminal history record information presents a serious danger to individual rights of privacy and due process, every criminal justice agency should strive to maintain accurate, up-to-date criminal history records.

Chapter 13. Dissemination and Correction of Records and the Maintenance of Logs

§1301. Purpose

A. It is the purpose of this regulation to provide direction and guidance concerning the control of dissemination and correction of criminal history record information (CHRI) to individuals or agencies as required by the federal regulations (Title 28), through the maintenance of certain logs, and to provide a vehicle for correcting erroneous information. Since dissemination records are viewed by the regulations as a key restraint on erroneous dissemination, a deterrent to the illegal use of information disseminated and a supporting document to quality assurance audit trails (Chapter 15), the maintenance of logs is mandatory.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:507 (December 1978).

§1303. Dissemination of Criminal History Record Information

A. These regulations impose no restrictions on the dissemination of CHRI where the court transactions or dispositions have included a conviction or convictions. However, where CHRI contains nonconviction data, i.e., where records contain arrest data, citation, summons, or bill(s) of information which have not resulted in a conviction or guilty plea, and acquittals; dismissals; information that a matter was not referred for prosecution, that the prosecutor has not commenced criminal proceedings, that proceedings have been indefinitely postponed; and records of arrest unaccompanied by disposition that are more than one year old and in which no prosecution is actively pending, these regulations now impose restrictions against dissemination of that portion of CHRI containing nonconviction data to noncriminal justice agencies not otherwise permitted access to such information by state statute. (§1305.B and §1309)

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1305. Nonconviction Data

A. Nonconviction data may only be disseminated to:

1. criminal justice agencies for criminal justice activity and employment;
2. public and private agencies authorized by state and federal statute, executive order, local ordinance or court decision (see §1309);
3. individuals and agencies pursuant to a specific agreement with a criminal justice agency to provide criminal justice services (e.g., consultants);
4. individuals and agencies engaged in research, evaluative or statistical activities.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

A. Nothing in this regulation abrogates the right of individuals (or their authorized representatives) to access, review, challenge, or appeal criminal history information about themselves as provided for in Chapter 7 and Chapter 9.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1309. Copies

A. Upon application, the central state repository (Bureau of Criminal Identification) may furnish a copy of all information available pertaining to the identification and history of any person or persons of whom the bureau has a record or any other necessary information to any federal, state, or local government regulatory, investigative, licensing, or bonding agencies which may require fingerprinting, in connection with their authorized duties, functions and powers.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1311. Logging; Privacy and Security Form Number 8

A. In order to maintain accountability over the full scale of collection, storage, and dissemination of CHRI, dissemination transactions records in the form of a log shall be kept by each criminal justice agency. The logging is required both to support the audit process and as a means of correcting erroneous dissemination. Logs may be kept as shown on LCLE Privacy and Security Form Number 8 but must, as a minimum, contain the following data elements:

1. a tracking, serial, or identification number in order to provide positive identification linkage between CHRI disseminated and the record from which extracted;
2. agency or individual to which or whom CHRI released;
3. address of agency or individual;
4. date of release or notification;
5. individual to whom information relates;
6. items of information released and how furnished (i.e., copy provided, written out by hand, mailed, teletype or computer terminal printout);
7. original entry or correction (indicate "O" or "C" as appropriate);
8. releasing official.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1313. Correction Record and the Dissemination Log

A. Since identification of agencies or individuals receiving erroneous CHRI is possible from the dissemination log and since federal regulations require notification of each recipient of inaccurate or erroneous CHRI (unless it falls outside of the 90 day limit specified in §911) a corrections record will also be kept using the dissemination log. The minimum data elements for a correction entry are essentially similar to those specified for a dissemination entry. The tracking or serial number will be identical to the identification number provided for the original information on the dissemination log. The log page number of the original entry will be placed next to the "C" in the "Original or Correction" column of the log in order to maintain audit trail continuity.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

§1315. Log Period; Verification

A. All logs are to be preserved for a period of not less than one year from the earliest date of release of information or notification of correction. Logs will be made available for audit and verification of compliance with the regulations by the commission, the privacy and security committee or their designated staff members at such time as they may require.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1319. Transmission of Hardcopy

A. Corrections to records shall be forwarded in hardcopy form such as letter, teletype, or computer terminal printout within 14 days after determining erroneous information has been disseminated. If the original dissemination is older than 90 days and the 90 day record maintenance notification has been imposed, and a correction is indicated, the correction should be made but need not be transmitted, except to the central state repository.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

Chapter 15. Audits and Quality Control

§1501. Purpose

A. It is the purpose of this regulation to interpret the requirements of the federal regulations as they pertain to:

1. the quality of the information the criminal justice agencies collect, store, and disseminate; and
2. the systematic and annual audits to be performed in order to verify adherence to the privacy and security regulations.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1503. Quality Information

A. The quality of information which the criminal justice agencies collect and use is an important privacy consideration. Quality information issues usually fall into one or both of two categories; namely, completeness and/or accuracy. Achieving high quality record information is largely a matter of good procedures; it requires a rigorous, systematic approach to record-keeping and a high degree of cooperation among the participating agencies. Agencies shall therefore, institute procedures which implement these requirements.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1507. Quality Assurance Audits

A. There are basically two types of quality assurance audits required periodically. The systematic audit is required of an agency which collects, maintains and disseminates CHRI as a means of minimizing errors or omissions in the completeness and accuracy of the records. This audit is actually a quality control mechanism and will usually be performed on a periodic and regular basis by the agency itself. In contrast, the annual audit is an examination by an outside agency of the extent to which an agency is complying with the regulations.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1509. Systematic Audit; Privacy and Security Form Number 9

A. The systematic audit refers to a combination of systems and procedures employed both to ensure, to the extent possible, completeness and to verify accuracy. The systematic audit is also an internal procedure which basically provides for a comparison between CHRI and source documents or reporting forms, as appropriate, in order to check accuracy and completeness. In addition, this audit provides for an inspection of an agency's systematic record keeping practices. Accordingly, agencies shall implement a systematic audit procedure in accordance with the guidelines furnished by the Louisiana Criminal Justice Information System (LCJIS) staff and utilizing LCLE-Privacy and Security Form Number 9 (Agency Systematic Audit Checkoff List).

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:508 (December 1978).

§1511. Random Sampling

A. The annual audit will be performed on a random sample of all affected agencies in the state. All affected agencies must fully cooperate in the conduct of the annual audit.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:509 (December 1978).

§1513. Procedures

A. LCJIS shall audit, on a periodic basis, a random sampling of agencies to provide statistically significant examinations of the accuracy and completeness of data maintained and to verify adherence to the regulations. Sampling and detailed audit procedures will be as indicated in LCJIS furnished guidelines and implementing directives.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1204 and R.S. 15:1207.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 3:453 (November 1977), amended LR 4:509 (December 1978).

§1515. Annual Audit

Agencies to be audited will be given a minimum of 30 days written notice prior to an annual audit being conducted. On conclusion of the annual audit, the staff will give the agency an oral debriefing and subsequently, within 30 days, a written, formal critique highlighting deficiencies and recommending corrective action. Field agents making regular, subsequent visits will verify corrective action taken.

Chapter 57. Formula for Distribution of Federal Grant Funds

§5701. Adoption

A. The proposed distribution formula for federal grant funds was adopted by the commission at its meeting on March 1, 2012.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1201, et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 26:1018 (May 2000), amended LR 38:1588 (July 2012).

§5702. Introduction

A. The commission distributes federal grant funds to the state's local law enforcement agencies through law enforcement planning districts via a funding formula initially devised in 1977, and subsequently modified as necessary by the commission.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1201, et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, LR 26:1018 (May 2000), amended LR 38:1588 (July 2012)

§5703. Distribution Formula

A. Included in the 1977 distribution formula was a variable base of funding for each law enforcement planning district based on the percentage of the district's crime rate to that of the entire state, as well as a rural adjustment for those areas of the state facing unique fund distribution problems given their population and criminal justice manpower percentage deviations. The rural adjustment allowed these rural districts to have sufficient funding for meaningful programs. Once the variable base and adjustments have been determined, the formula uses the following variables to determine how the remaining funds are distributed to each law enforcement planning district:

1. planning district's percentage of the state's total Uniformed Crime Reporting Part 1 Offenses;
2. planning district's percentage of state's total criminal justice manpower;
3. planning district's percentage of state's total population.

B. Given the changes in the state's crime, population, and manpower figures since 1977, the commission collected data on the aforementioned variables through the year 2011, to include the most recent year for which data was available. The distribution formula devised for the years 2012 through 2021 modifies the variable base and maintains the rural and urban adjustments to reflect existing conditions within each planning district.

C. The proposed distribution formula percentage for each Law Enforcement Planning District for the years 2012 through 2021, as based on the most recent data, is as follows.

Law Enforcement Planning District	Formula Distribution Percentage
Northwest	11.07
North Delta	10.77
Red River	9.74
Evangeline	10.66
Capital	15.95
Southwest	10.44
Metropolitan	15.48

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:1201 et seq.

A. The issues of services to victims of crime, underserved victims and an increased awareness of the prevalence and severity of domestic violence and violence against women coupled with the increased availability of federal funds to address these issues at the state, regional and local levels, have led to federal grant programs designed to focus on these topics. The Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement has been named as the cognizant state agency for the federal programs and will make available to appropriate non-profit and public agencies grant funds, to be spent in accordance with federal program guidelines and the guidelines of the Victim Services Advisory Board and the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement.

B. The Victims of Crime Act of 1984 (VOCA) established within the U.S. Treasury an account funded by federal fines, penalties and forfeited bail bonds to be used for the purpose of funding victim assistance grants to the states. These grants are to be used for programs that provide direct services to victims of crime, with priority given to programs that have as their principal mission direct assistance to victims of sexual assault, spousal abuse, child abuse, and previously underserved victims of violent crime. VOCA funds in the state are administered by the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement in consultation with Victim Services Advisory Board to the Commission. The VOCA program in Louisiana is administered pursuant to the federal regulations in effect for the program.

CORRECTIONS, CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Part IX. Sentencing Commission

Subpart 1. Felony Sentencing Guidelines

Chapter 1. Purpose and Principles

§101. Purpose

A. The purpose of the Louisiana Sentencing Guidelines, hereinafter referred to as guidelines, is to recommend a uniform sanctioning policy which is consistent, proportional, and fair for use by the Louisiana judiciary in felony cases in which the sentencing court must determine the sentence to be imposed.

B. The guidelines do not apply to capital cases, cases punishable by a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment, or misdemeanor cases.

C. The guidelines do not apply to convictions for felony offenses for which no crime seriousness level has been determined. In such cases, the court may be guided by the guideline range for a ranked offense which the court determines to be analogous to the offense of conviction.

D. The guidelines are intended to ensure certainty, uniformity, consistency and proportionality of punishment, fairness to victims, and the protection of society.

E. The guidelines are intended to provide rational and consistent criteria for imposing criminal sanctions in a uniform and proportionate manner.

1. Uniformity in sentencing requires that offenders who are similar with respect to relevant sentencing criteria should receive similar sanctions, and that offenders who are substantially different with respect to relevant sentencing criteria should receive different sanctions.

2. Proportionality in sentencing requires that the severity of the punishment be proportional to the seriousness of the offense of conviction and the severity of the offender's prior criminal history.

F. The guidelines are intended to assist the court in stating for the record the considerations taken into account and the factual basis for imposing sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:44 (January 1992), repromulgated LR 18:165 (February 1992).

§103. Sentencing Principles

A. Sentences should be based primarily on the offense of conviction and the offender's prior criminal history. Therefore, those two factors determine the designated sentence range established under the guidelines.

B. The determination of the seriousness of the offense of conviction is based on the elements of the offense of conviction.

C. The severity of sanctions should increase or decrease in proportion to the seriousness of the offense of conviction and the severity of the offender's prior criminal history.

D. The guidelines are based on the typical case and the designated sentence ranges provided in the sentencing guidelines grid should be appropriate for cases in which aggravating and mitigating circumstances are not present.

E. While commitment to a term of imprisonment with or without hard labor is the most severe non-capital sanction that can follow conviction for a felony offense, there are other significant sanctions available to the sentencing court which lawfully can be imposed in conjunction with, or independent of, a term of imprisonment. These criminal penalties include home incarceration, periodic incarceration, community service, and various conditions of supervised probation.

F. Sentences shall not be determined on the basis of the race, gender, social, or economic status of the offender. The exercise of constitutional rights by the defendant during the adjudication process is not a justification for the imposition of a more severe sentence than is warranted by the offense of conviction, criminal history of the offender, and any relevant mitigating and aggravating factors. However, acceptance of responsibility and cooperation with law enforcement, which may involve relinquishment of rights, may be considered as mitigating factors justifying imposition of a more lenient sentence.

G. Sanctions imposed shall not be excessive.

H. The sentencing judge should have broad discretion in the determination and imposition of appropriate sentencing alternatives in particular cases.

I. Reasons for the imposition of a particular sentence shall be set forth for the record to facilitate appellate review.

J. The guidelines are advisory to the sentencing judge. No sentence shall be declared unlawful, inadequate, or excessive solely due to the failure of the judge to impose a sentence in conformity with the designated sentence range provided by the guidelines.

K. In imposing sentence, the court shall consider the guidelines in effect at the time of the guilty plea, plea of nolo contendere, or verdict of guilty.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:45 (January 1992), repromulgated LR 18:165 (February 1992), amended LR 20:786 (July 1994).

Chapter 2. Determining Sentences Under the Sentencing Guidelines

§201. Sentencing Guidelines Grid

A. The basis for the sentence for any offender convicted of a felony is determined by locating the designated sentence range in the appropriate cell of the sentencing guidelines grid, hereinafter referred to as the grid. See Chapter 4, §403.A, Sentencing Guidelines Grid. The appropriate cell is determined by the crime seriousness level of the offense and the criminal history index of the offender.

B. In imposing a sentence under the guidelines, the court shall state for the record the factors which led the court to determine that the cell in the grid was appropriate. The court may refer to any pre-sentence investigation report or a sentencing guidelines report, if available, in stating for the record the factual basis for imposing sentence.

C. If the sentence imposed falls within the range of the appropriate cell of the grid, the sentence is appropriate for purposes of the guidelines and the court is not required to set forth additional factors justifying the selection of the particular sentence.

D. Sentences greater or lesser than a penalty within the designated sentence range should be determined through the procedures for departure. See §209, Departures from the Designated Sentence Range.

E. Use of mandatory minimum sentences, concurrent or consecutive sentences, and other sentencing considerations should be determined through the procedures set forth in the guidelines or as otherwise provided by law.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:45 (January 1992), repromulgated LR 18:165 (February 1992).

§203. Crime Seriousness Level

A. The crime seriousness level is determined by the offense of conviction.

B. Offenses are ranked according to the following:

1. the interest protected; and
2. the type and level of harm or threat of harm proscribed by statute.

C. The placement of an offense in a particular seriousness level is determined by the typical case for each offense.

D. Offenses listed within each level of seriousness are deemed to be generally equivalent in seriousness.

E. The seriousness level for the felony offenses for which a crime seriousness level has been determined are set forth by level in the crime seriousness master ranking list. See Chapter 4, §401.A, Crime Seriousness Master Ranking List. Felony offenses are classified into five categories of offenses which are subdivided into ten levels of seriousness ranging from high, Level 0, to low, Level 9, listed alphabetically within each level.

1. The five categories of felony offenses are Categories I, II, III, IV, and V. Category I offenses are Levels 0 and 1; Category II offenses are Levels 2 and 3; Category III offenses are Levels 4 and 5; Category IV offenses are Levels 6 and 7; and Category V offenses are Levels 8 and 9.

2. All offenses with a mandatory life sentence are in Category I at Level 0.

3. The crime seriousness level for Criminal Conspiracy (R.S. 14:26) is one level below the crime seriousness level of the completed offense contemplated by the conspiracy, unless the completed offense is Level 9.

4. The crime seriousness level for Attempt (R.S. 14:27) is one level below the crime seriousness level of the completed offense attempted by the offender, unless the completed offense is Level 9.

5. The crime seriousness level for Attempt (R.S. 14:27) or Conspiracy (R.S. 14:26) to commit an offense ranked at Level 9 is also ranked at Level 9.

6. The crime seriousness level for Inciting a Felony (R.S. 14:28) is Level 7 regardless of the level of the incited felony.

7. The crime seriousness level for Accessory after the Fact (R.S. 14:25) is Level 6 regardless of the level of the felony to which the offender is an accessory.

F. For the convenience of the courts, three additional ranking lists are provided which list the offenses by:

1. Louisiana Revised Statute Number;
2. Offense Name, alphabetically; and
3. Crime Family, as designated.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:45 (January 1992), repromulgated LR 18:165 (February 1992).

§205. Criminal History Index Classification System

A. The Criminal History Index Classification System, hereinafter referred to as the criminal history index, is the method of evaluating an offender's criminal history in a uniform and consistent manner. The criminal history index is used to reflect increased levels of culpability for offenders who have previously been convicted of offenses or adjudicated delinquent. The index is based on computational rules which result in the assignment of varying points for certain prior convictions or adjudications.

B. Definitions

Crime Family—offenses which have been designated by the commission to be included within the same crime family based on similar interests protected and type of harm proscribed by the offenses. See Chapter 4, §402.D, Crime Family Table. Attempt, criminal conspiracy, inciting a felony, and accessory after the fact are considered to be in the same crime family as the completed offense or the offense to which the offender was an accessory. If a felony offense has not been designated to be included within a crime family, but the court determines that the offense is analogous to the offenses in a particular crime family, the court may treat that offense as included within the crime family for purposes of imposing sentence in a particular case. In such case, the court shall state for the record its reasons for finding that the offense was analogous to those of a particular crime family.

Crime-Free Time—a period of time during which the offender was not in a custody status, as defined below, and during which the offender has not committed an offense which subsequently results in a felony or misdemeanor conviction, as defined herein.

Custody Status—any form of criminal justice supervision resulting from a guilty plea, conviction, or an adjudication of delinquency including post conviction release or bail, confinement, probation, or parole.

Felony Adjudication—any unexpunged adjudication for delinquency by a court exercising juvenile jurisdiction:

a. for the offense of first degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter, aggravated rape, forcible rape, simple rape, sexual battery, aggravated kidnapping, or armed robbery; or

b. for any felony offense if the defendant was under the age of 26 years at the time of the commission of the current offense; or

c. for any felony offense if the defendant was 26 years of age or older at the time of the commission of the current offense and the defendant previously had been convicted as an adult of a felony or a misdemeanor in which an element involved the use of a dangerous weapon.

Felony Conviction—for purposes of the guidelines, means a conviction for an offense punishable by a sentence of death or imprisonment, with or without hard labor, in excess of one year at the time of conviction, under the laws of this state, any other state, the United States, or any foreign government or country.

Misdemeanor Adjudication—any unexpunged adjudication for delinquency by a court exercising juvenile jurisdiction for an offense which, if committed by an adult, would be a misdemeanor, as defined herein.

Misdemeanor Conviction—for purposes of the guidelines, means any other conviction which is counted in the computation of criminal history score.

Prior Conviction or Prior Adjudication—for purposes of the guidelines, means a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, a verdict of guilty, a judgment of guilt, or an adjudication occurring before the conviction for the offense which serves as the basis for the current sentencing. A conviction which was set aside under the provision of C.Cr.P. 893 shall be included as a prior conviction. A plea of guilty under R.S. 40:983 shall be included as a prior conviction unless the defendant was subsequently discharged and the case dismissed.

C. Criminal History Index Factors

1. The criminal history index is based on points derived from the following factors:

- a. prior felony convictions;
- b. prior applicable misdemeanor convictions;
- c. prior applicable adjudications of delinquency;
- d. custody status at the time of the commission of the offense serving as the basis for the current conviction.

2. The Criminal History Index is composed of seven classes ranging from Class A, most serious criminal history, to Class G, least serious criminal history.

3. Method of Calculation

a. Prior felony convictions and adjudications: Score all prior felony convictions and applicable felony adjudications of delinquency by the number of points ascribed to the seriousness level of the offense of conviction as set forth in Chapter 4, §402.A and C. If the prior felony conviction is based on an unranked offense, i.e., not ranked in the crime seriousness ranking tables, the court may assign a seriousness score of one point to the conviction. If the court believes that a seriousness score of 1 point significantly under-represents the seriousness of the prior conviction, the judge may use the seriousness score of an analogous offense, provided the court states for the record why the unranked offense is analogous to the ranked offense which serves as the basis for the score.

b. Prior misdemeanor convictions and adjudications: Add 1/4 point, not to exceed a total of 1 point, for each qualifying misdemeanor. An offender's criminal history index score for misdemeanor convictions or adjudications shall not increase the offender's criminal history index more than one class. The following misdemeanor convictions or adjudications qualify:

i. any misdemeanor conviction for an offense in R.S. Title 14 or the Uniform Controlled Dangerous Substances Law of R.S. Title 40 or any local ordinance which is substantially similar to an offense in Title 14 or the Uniform Controlled Dangerous Substances Law of Title 40;

ii. any misdemeanor conviction for a traffic offense in R.S. Title 32 or local traffic ordinance substantially similar to any Title 32 traffic offense if the current offense of conviction involves the operation of a motor vehicle;

iii. any misdemeanor adjudication if, at the time of the commission of the current offense, the offender was under age 17, and is being prosecuted as an adult.

c. Prior similar criminal behavior: Add 1/2 point for each prior felony conviction or adjudication if the prior offense of conviction or adjudication is in the same crime family as the current offense of conviction. See Chapter 4, §402.D, Crime Family Table. The court also may add the additional 1/2 point if the court finds that the prior conviction or adjudication was analogous to the offenses in the crime family of the current offense, and states for the record the reasons for the finding.

d. Offenses committed during custody status: Add 1 point if the current felony offense was committed while the offender was in a custody status.

e. Multiple convictions on same day: Count only the most serious conviction or adjudication if more than one conviction or adjudication occurred on the same day.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:46 (January 1992), repromulgated LR 18:166 (February 1992), amended LR 18:960 (September 1992), LR 19:892 (July 1993), LR 20:786 (July 1994).

§207. Designated Sentence Ranges

A. The Appropriate Grid Cell

1. The offense of conviction determines the appropriate seriousness level on the vertical axis of the grid. See Chapter 4, §403.A, Sentencing Guidelines Grid.

2. The offender's criminal history index score determines the appropriate criminal history class on the horizontal axis of the grid.

3. The designated sentence range is found in the grid cell at the intersection of the row defined by the crime seriousness level and the column defined by the criminal history index.

B. Incarceration Sanction Zone Sentences

1. The incarceration sanction zone includes all cells above the shaded area. See Chapter 4, §403.A, Sentencing Guidelines Grid. The court should impose a sentence consisting exclusively of incarceration for typical cases located in this zone.

2. Each cell in this zone contains a designated sentence range of incarceration in months.

3. Designated sentences of incarceration permit the court to determine the manner in which the sentence is to be served, i.e., with or without hard labor, as provided by law.

C. Discretionary Sanction Zone Sentences

1. The discretionary sanction zone includes all cells in the shaded area. See Chapter 4, §403.A, Sentencing Guidelines Grid. Each cell in this zone contains a designated range of sanction units for use when an intermediate sanction is imposed and a designated sentence range in months for use when a sentence of incarceration is given.

2. For typical cases in this zone, the court should consider whether the offender should be sentenced to incarceration, to an intermediate sanction, or to a combination of the two, depending upon the circumstances of the particular case. If the court imposes an intermediate sanction or sanctions, the resulting intermediate sanction, or combination of intermediate sanctions, should be within the designated range of sanction units.

3. Incarceration sanctions which should be considered for cases in this zone include, but are not limited to, shock incarceration, work release, work-day release, incarceration as a condition of probation, and periodic incarceration, such as confinement at regular intervals (e.g., weekends).

D. Intermediate Sanction Zone

1. The intermediate sanction zone includes all cells below the shaded area. See Chapter 4, §403.A, Sentencing Guidelines Grid. For typical cases in this zone, the court should impose a sentence consisting of an intermediate sanction or sanctions unless a mandatory sentence of incarceration is required by law.

a. Intermediate sanctions include any sanction the court may impose other than incarceration in a jail or prison unless the term is served as periodic incarceration.

b. Intermediate sanctions include, but are not limited to, probation, intensive supervision, periodic incarceration, home incarceration, community service, in-patient treatment, out-patient treatment, economic sanctions, and denial of privilege, such as driver's license.

2. Each cell in this zone contains a designated range of sanction units which may be fashioned by the judge into a specific sentence with a combination of sanctions by utilizing the intermediate sanction exchange table. See Chapter 4, §403.D, Using the Intermediate Sanction Exchange Table.

3. The duration of intermediate sanction sentences will vary according to the sanction or sanctions selected by the court.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:47 (January 1992).

§209. Departures from the Designated Sentence Range

A. Procedure for Departure

1. The designated sentence range provided in the grid is appropriate for a typical case; that is, an offense committed without aggravating or mitigating circumstances.

2. A departure from the designated sentence range occurs whenever the court imposes a sentence which is different from the types of sentences or outside the designated sentence range provided in the zone and cell appropriate to the case.

3. The court should depart from the designated sentence range when sufficient aggravating or mitigating circumstances are present significantly to differentiate the case from the typical case arising under the offense of conviction.

4. When departing from the designated sentence range, the court shall:

a. pronounce a sentence which is proportional to the seriousness of the offense and the offender's criminal history; and

b. state for the record the reasons for the departure which shall specify the mitigating or aggravating circumstances, and the factual basis therefor.

5. Reasons for departure from the designated sentence range are appropriate only when such reasons are based on mitigating or aggravating circumstances.

B. Aggravating circumstance means a factor which is present to a significant degree which makes the present case more serious than the typical case arising under the offense of conviction. Factors which constitute essential elements of the offense of conviction or separate offense(s) for which defendant was convicted and sentenced shall not be considered aggravating circumstances. The following factors constitute aggravating circumstances.

1. The offender's conduct during the commission of the offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

2. The offender knew or should have known that the victim of the offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability or ill health.

3. The offender offered or has been offered or has given or received anything of value for the commission of the offense.

4. The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the offense.

5. The offender knowingly created a risk of death or great bodily harm to more than one person.

6. The offender used threats of or actual violence in the commission of the offense.

7. Subsequent to the offense, the offender used or caused others to use violence, force, or threats with the intent to influence the institution, conduct, or outcome of the criminal proceedings.

8. The offender committed the offense in order to facilitate or conceal the commission of another offense.

9. The offense resulted in a significant permanent injury or significant economic loss to the victim or his family.

10. The offender used a dangerous weapon in the commission of the offense.

11. The offense involved multiple victims or incidents for which separate sentences have not been imposed.

12. The offender was persistently involved in similar offenses not already considered as criminal history or as part of a multiple offender adjudication.

13. The offender was a leader or his violation was in concert with one or more other persons with respect to whom the offender occupied a position of organizer, a supervisory position, or any other position of management.

14. The offense was a major economic offense.

15. The offense was a controlled dangerous substance offense and the offender obtained substantial income or resources from ongoing drug activities.

16. The offense was a controlled dangerous substance offense in which the offender involved juveniles in the trafficking or distribution of drugs.

17. The offender committed the offense in furtherance of a terrorist action.

18. The offender's record of convictions for prior criminal conduct exceeds the threshold for Class A by at least two points on the criminal history index.

19. The offender foreseeably endangered human life by discharging a firearm during the commission of an offense which has, as an element, the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another, and which, by its very nature, involves a substantial risk that physical force may be used in the course of committing the offense.

20. The offender used a firearm or other dangerous weapon while committing or attempting to commit an offense which has, as an element, the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another, and which, by its very nature, involves a substantial risk that physical force may be used in the course of committing the offense.

21. The offender used a firearm or other dangerous weapon while committing or attempting to commit a controlled dangerous substance offense.

22. Any other relevant aggravating circumstances which distinguish the case from the typical case of the offense of conviction.

C. Mitigating circumstance means a factor which is present to a significant degree which lessens the seriousness of the offense below the level of the typical case arising under the offense of conviction. Factors which constitute a legal defense shall not be considered mitigating circumstances. The following factors constitute mitigating circumstances.

1. At the time of offense, to a degree, the victim was the initiator, willing participant, aggressor, provoker of the incident, or enticed the offender.

2. The offender committed the crime under some degree of duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion.

3. At the time of the offense, the capacity of the offender to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law was somewhat impaired.

4. The offense was committed while the offender was under the influence or under domination of another person.

5. The offense was committed while the offender was under the influence of significant mental or emotional disturbance.

6. The offense was committed under circumstances which the offender reasonably believed would provide for a moral justification or extenuation for his conduct.

7. The offender committed the offense without significant premeditation.

8. The offender's judgment was impaired because of his extreme youth or advanced age.

9. The defendant manifested caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

10. The offender played a minor or passive role in the crime.

11. The offender compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.

12. The offender cooperated with law enforcement authorities with respect to the current crime of conviction or any other criminal conduct by the offender or other person.

13. The offender was motivated by a desire to provide basic necessities of life for his family or others.

14. The offense involved a small quantity of a controlled dangerous substance and the offense was committed exclusively to support his personal drug habit.

15. The offender pled guilty or otherwise accepted responsibility for the offense and expressed genuine remorse.

16. The offender took steps which rehabilitated him or were reasonably related to his rehabilitation.

17. The offender has spent a significant period of time free of any custody status during which he has not engaged in any criminal activity resulting in a felony or misdemeanor conviction, as defined herein. If deemed appropriate, the court may consider the suggested crime-free time reduction factors in Chapter 4, §402.E. Any prior conviction or adjudication of a Level 0 offense shall not be reduced.

18. Any other relevant mitigating circumstances which distinguish the case from the typical case of the offense of conviction.

D. Special Provisions for the Use of Sanction Units in an Approved Treatment Plan. When the sentencing court finds it appropriate to impose a sentence composed in whole or in part of sanction units requiring the defendant's participation in a program of treatment, the court may exceed the maximum number of sanction units provided in the appropriate grid cell if the court finds that additional sanction units are necessary for the satisfactory completion of the treatment program.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:47 (January 1992), amended LR 18:961 (September 1992), LR 19:892 (July 1993), LR 20:787 (July 1994).

§211. Mandatory Minimum Sentences

A. If an offender has been convicted of an offense for which a mandatory term of imprisonment must be imposed which exceeds the maximum duration provided in the designated sentence range for that offense, the court should impose the minimum sentence required by law to be served in the manner required by law unless aggravating circumstances justify imposition of a more severe sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:48 (January 1992).

§213. Designated Sentence Durations that Exceed the Statutory Maximum Sentence

A. If the minimum sentence duration provided by the sentence range in the appropriate cell of the grid exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense of conviction, the court should impose the statutory maximum sentence unless mitigating circumstances justify imposition of a more lenient sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:49 (January 1992).

§215. Concurrent and Consecutive Sentences

A. Factors to be Considered

1. The sentencing court may impose either concurrent or consecutive sentences in cases where a defendant has been convicted of two or more offenses. In determining whether to impose either a concurrent or a consecutive sentence, the court should consider aggravating and mitigating circumstances which may be present.

2. If two or more criminal acts are based on the same act or transaction, or constitute parts of a common scheme or plan, concurrent sentences should be imposed.

3. In all other cases, concurrent or consecutive sentences should be supported by appropriate factors. If a consecutive sentence is imposed, the court shall state for the record the factors considered and the reasons for imposition of a consecutive sentence.

4. If statutory law requires that a sentence be imposed either concurrently or consecutively, the sentences must be imposed in the manner prescribed by law.

B. Procedure for Imposing Concurrent Sentence. If the court finds that concurrent sentences should be imposed, the following procedures apply.

1. Concurrent Sentences of Incarceration

a. A sentence is imposed for each offense of conviction.

b. The sentence with the longest term of incarceration shall set the term of incarceration.

c. Only one term of post-prison supervision should be ordered. The length of the post-prison term should be determined by the longest term of incarceration imposed.

2. Concurrent Intermediate Sanction Sentences

a. A sentence is imposed for each offense of conviction.

b. The sentence with the largest number of sanction units should determine the number of sanction units available for the concurrent sentences.

C. Procedure for Imposing Consecutive Sentences. If the court finds that a consecutive sentence should be imposed, the following procedures apply to determine the base sentence range and the recommended sentence.

1. The base sentence range is established by determining, from the appropriate cell in the grid, the designated sentence range for the most serious offense of conviction. The most serious offense is the offense with the longest statutory term of incarceration or the offense with the longest term of incarceration within the designated sentence range under the guidelines, whichever is greater.

2. After the base sentence range for the most serious offense has been determined, the remaining offenses provide the additional penalty to be imposed. No more than 50 percent of the minimum of the grid range for each of the subsequent offenses for which the offender is being sentenced should be added.

3. If the offense from which the base sentence range is determined requires imposition of a term of incarceration at hard labor, the entire term of imprisonment imposed should be at hard labor.

Chapter 3. General Sentencing Policy

§301. Plea Agreements Involving Stipulated Sentences

A. Stipulating the Grid Cell

1. As part of a plea agreement under the guidelines, the parties may stipulate a cell within the grid regardless of whether the cell corresponds to the defendant's criminal history index and the crime seriousness level of the offense(s) to which the defendant will plead.

2. In such cases, the court may:

a. accept the stipulated cell and impose a sentence within the range provided; or

b. reject the plea agreement.

B. Stipulating a Specific Sentence

1. As part of a plea agreement under the guidelines, the parties may stipulate a specific sentence regardless of whether the sentence is within the range provided in the cell which corresponds to the defendant's criminal history index and the crime seriousness level of the offense(s) to which the defendant will plead.

2. If stipulation is made to a specific sentence, the court may:

a. accept the plea agreement and impose the stipulated sentence; or

b. reject the plea agreement.

C. Stipulating Specific Facts and Circumstances

1. As part of a plea agreement under the guidelines, the parties may stipulate the facts and circumstances of the case and the prior criminal history of the defendant.

2. If the parties enter such a stipulation at the time of the plea, the court shall either:

a. accept the stipulation; or

b. refuse to accept the plea of guilty with such a stipulation.

3. If such a stipulation is entered and accepted, the court shall consider such a stipulation to be the facts and circumstances of the case and the criminal history of the defendant for purposes of imposition of sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:49 (January 1992), amended LR 20:787 (July 1994).

§303. Revocation of Probation

A. Violation of Condition of Probation

1. If an offender is brought before the court for the violation of a condition of probation which does not involve commission and conviction of a subsequent offense and the court does not consider revocation appropriate, the court may impose up to eight additional sanction units in consideration of the violation, e.g., up to two weeks in jail or 160 hours of community service, in lieu of revocation.

2. If the offender is brought before the court a second time for the violation of such a condition of probation, and the court does not consider revocation appropriate, the court may impose up to an additional 16 sanction units in lieu of revocation.

3. If the offender is brought before the court a third time for the violation of such a condition of probation, the court should consider revocation in lieu of an additional 16 sanction units.

B. Violation of Probation for Commission or Conviction of Misdemeanor. If an offender on probation is brought before the court for the commission or conviction of a misdemeanor, the court may impose up to eight additional sanction units or revoke the probation.

C. Violation of Probation for Commission or Conviction of Felony. If an offender on probation is brought before the court for the commission or conviction of a felony, the court may impose up to 16 additional sanction units or revoke the probation.

D. Imposition of Sentence Following Revocation. If the imposition of sentence was suspended, and the offender's probation is revoked, the court should follow the guidelines in imposing sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:49 (January 1992).

§305. Credit for Time Served

A. If a sentence of incarceration is imposed and executed, an offender should be given credit for time served under the following conditions prior to the imposition or execution of sentence:

1. time spent in actual custody in connection with the offense of conviction;
2. time spent in actual custody in a public or private mental hospital or other similar facility if ordered by the court in connection with the offense of conviction;
3. time spent in actual custody as a condition of probation if that probation is subsequently revoked.

B. Actual custody, as used in this Section, is limited to time spent in confinement in prisons, jails, parish prisons, prison farms, workhouses, work-release centers, regional correctional facilities, public or private mental hospitals, or other similar facilities.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:50 (January 1992).

§307. Juveniles Tried as Adults

A. If a person under 17 years of age is prosecuted as an adult in a court exercising criminal jurisdiction, the guidelines should be applied in the same manner as though the person were an adult.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:50 (January 1992).

§309. Habitual Offender Sentencing

A. The guidelines increase the designated sentence range for an offender on the basis of the offender's prior criminal convictions, custody status, and the crime family of the current and prior convictions. In those cases in which the district attorney determines that the offender's pattern of past criminal conduct has been significantly more extensive than the typical offender with the same criminal history index, the district attorney may institute proceedings under R.S. 15:529.1, the Habitual Offender Law.

B. Any person who has been convicted of a felony and adjudged an habitual offender shall receive an enhanced penalty as provided by R.S. 15:529.1, the Habitual Offender Law. In such cases, the enhanced sentence may exceed the maximum sentence range specified in the appropriate cell in the grid. In such cases, the court should impose the minimum sentence provided by law unless aggravating circumstances justify imposition of a more severe sentence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:50 (January 1992).

§311. Parole, Good Time, Commutation of Sentence, Pardon

A. The sentence, derived from the seriousness of the offense committed, the criminal history index of the offender, and any aggravating or mitigating circumstances, should reflect the maximum length of time an offender should remain in actual custody or under supervision, and the manner in which a sentence should be served.

B. Eligibility for good time and parole should not affect the determination of the sentence to be imposed by the sentencing court.

C. Parole eligibility is determined by law. An offender is eligible for parole consideration only after having served the statutorily required portion of his designated sentence.

D. The decision to grant or deny parole should be based primarily on the offender's record of behavior while in custody following conviction, such as the person's conduct while incarcerated, including participation in educational or job training programs.

E. The guidelines are not intended to affect the granting of pardons or commuting of sentences by the governor upon recommendations of the Board of Pardons.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:321-329.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Louisiana Sentencing Commission, LR 18:50 (January 1992).

D. Using the Intermediate Sanction Exchange Rate Table

1. The purpose of Intermediate Sanction Exchange Rates is to provide the court maximum flexibility in fashioning appropriate sentences utilizing intermediate sanctions. Intermediate sanctions are intended for offenders convicted of less serious and nonviolent offenses who do not have an extensive prior criminal history. In addition to punishment, intermediate sanctions may be fashioned in several ways to meet the needs of society, the victim, and the defendant. Use of the Intermediate Sanction Exchange Rate Table preserves uniformity in the amount of punishment imposed on offenders with similar criminal history, circumstances, and offense of conviction.

2. Goals of Intermediate Sanction Exchange Rates. In fashioning an intermediate sanction sentence, the sentencing court should consider the following goals:

- a. proportionality of the sanction imposed to the offense of conviction and the offender's prior criminal record;
- b. restoration of the victim as nearly as possible to pre-offense condition;
- c. specific deterrence of the offender from future criminal conduct;
- d. rehabilitation of the offender;
- e. maximizing the degree to which the offender is held responsible for the costs and conduct associated with the sanction.

3. Use of the Intermediate Sanction Exchange Rate Table

a. The table should be used when the designated sentence range is located in the grid within the intermediate sanction zone, i.e., all cells below the shaded area, or when it is located in the discretionary sanction zone, i.e., all cells in the shaded area, and the court decides to impose an intermediate sanction.

b. The table may be used by analogy when the court decides that an incarceration sanction zone, i.e., all cells above the shaded area, case is sufficiently mitigated to warrant a departure to an intermediate sanction. In such cases, the commission makes no specific recommendation concerning the appropriate sentence.

c. For each cell in the discretionary or intermediate sanction zone, a designated sentence range of sanction units is provided for use with the table. The court may impose any combination of intermediate sanctions for which the total sanction unit score falls within the range provided in the appropriate cell. Sentences which fall within the sanction unit score range do not require additional justification.

d. Intermediate sanctions are divided into four levels. The sanction unit value is the same for all sanctions within a level. Each specific sanction has a duration attached to it which corresponds to the amount of sanction units specified for that level. The ranges of duration included with each specific sanction are intended to give the court additional flexibility in fashioning an appropriate intermediate sentence.

E. Intermediate Sanction Definitions

Adult Education—any program of adult education certified by the Louisiana Department of Education. Examples of adult education programs include any program of adult education leading to the High School Equivalency Diploma certified by the Louisiana Department of Education or literacy programs (reading/writing) certified by the Louisiana Department of Education. College programs qualify as adult education if offered by an accredited college or university. For an adult education program of any type to qualify for sanction unit credit, it must be ordered by the court. To receive credit for participation in a particular 20 hours of adult education, the offender must have successfully completed all 20 hours of the program; that is, attended all scheduled sessions and completed all work required by the program.

Community Service—a sanction where an offender is required to work without pay for a designated number of hours, normally for public or private non-profit organizations. To receive credit, the offender must have successfully worked the full 20 hours.

Day Reporting—a program in which offenders are required to report in person to the Sheriff's Office, Police Department, Division of Probation and Parole, or a special day reporting center, as designated by the court, or to an individual designated by the court. The offender will be monitored throughout the day by various forms of random checks. The sanction unit credits are earned by reporting and being subjected to the monitoring and control system. Other program participation, which may be part of a special day reporting center's operation, are considered to be separate sanctions for which additional sanction unit credit is given. For example, additional sanction unit credits should be given for participation in a drug monitoring program which may be offered by a drug treatment center which has been designated by the court for day reporting.

Drug Monitoring—a procedure to determine that an offender remains drug-free while in the community. Drug monitoring is a separate sanction when required as a condition of probation, but not when it is part of a treatment program for which the offender is already receiving sanction unit credit. To qualify as a drug monitoring sanction, the program must:

- a. be ordered by the court, and not included as a routine part of a treatment program for which the offender is also receiving sanction unit credit;
- b. utilize a generally accepted method of drug monitoring or testing, such as urine testing, blood testing, hair testing, anabuse monitoring, or any drug monitoring or testing program utilized by the Division of Probation and Parole, Louisiana Department of Public Safety and Corrections;
- c. require at least one unannounced (randomly scheduled) test per 30-day period;
- d. have clearly defined consequences resulting from testing positive for drug use.

If ordered to participate in a drug monitoring program, an offender should receive sanction unit credit only if he or she remained drug-free for a 30-day period. Anabuse, when associated with anabuse monitoring program, qualifies as a drug monitoring program.

Economic Sanction—any economic sanctions imposed on an offender including fines, costs, and restitution. The amount of sanction unit credit for the economic sanction is based on the percentage of the offender's average gross monthly income which may be necessary to pay the economic sanctions imposed by the court. Ten sanction units are earned by payment of an economic sanction or sanctions amounting to the offender's average gross monthly income. If the fine, costs, or restitution do not correlate directly with the offender's average gross monthly income, an appropriate addition or reduction of the units by the equivalent percentage may be necessary. For example, if an offender with an average gross monthly income of $10,000 is ordered to pay $1,000 in fines, costs, and restitution, only one sanction unit should be given. Likewise, in such case, if the offender's average gross monthly income was only $1,000, ten sanction units should be given.

Halfway House/Community Rehabilitation Center—a nonsecure residential facility for offenders. Nonsecure means that the facility lacks physical restraints designed to prevent offenders from departing without permission, such as bars on the windows. Halfway house may provide staff 24 hours per day to insure that all rules are followed.

Home Incarceration—a sanction which restricts an individual to his or her residence for specific periods of time. Typically, an offender would be permitted to leave his or her home only for employment, medical needs, or such mandated assignments as community service. While home incarceration does not require electronic monitoring as a necessary element, some method of monitoring is required to assure compliance.

Intensive Supervision—participation in the intensive parole supervision programs as defined and implemented by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections or Sheriff under R.S. 15:574.4 and 574.5 or satisfaction of more restrictive probationary conditions than those customarily imposed, such as multiple weekly unannounced visits by the supervising officials, abiding by curfew, or refraining from use of alcoholic beverages. Any other intensive supervision which incorporates all of the major elements contained in the state program may be used if approved by the court.

Jail—incarceration not in custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections. If the court desires to sentence an offender to less than one month of jail time, the offender should receive a proportionate reduction in the number of sanction unit credits. When jail is used as an intermediate sanction, sanction unit credit is based on the number of days or months which the offender will actually serve, deducting the amount of anticipated good time credit which the offender will earn if he serves his sentence on good behavior.

Loss of Privilege—a sanction which occurs whenever a court removes an individual's permission to exercise a privilege. Examples include the suspension or revocation of a driver's license, suspension of a license to practice medicine, or to work as a pharmacist. A loss of privilege sanction should generally be related to the offense serving as the basis of the conviction. The loss of privilege due to administrative action, without the order of the court, does not receive sanction unit credit. In order to receive credit for a loss of privilege for 90 days, an offender must not violate the order of the court relative to the privilege during the entire 90 day period.

Periodic Incarceration—a sanction of incarceration served in segments, as opposed to continuous confinement. An example of periodic incarceration is a sentence of 10 days incarceration to be served on five consecutive weekends.

Prison—incarceration in custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections. When prison is used as an intermediate sanction, sanction unit credit is based on the number of days or months actually served.

Probation—supervision of the offender in the community under the standard conditions of probation set forth in the Code of Criminal Procedure. When an offender is required as a condition of probation to perform any additional intermediate sanction such as community service or payment of a fine, the additional sanctions should be counted as additional sanction units.

Shock Incarceration—programs which typically involve a short period of incarceration, during which offenders are subjected to boot camp-style discipline and intensive treatment, followed by a period of intensive supervision in the community. These programs are authorized by R.S. 15:574.4 and 574.5 and require approval of appropriate correctional officials for an offender to be admitted.

Treatment-Residential—treatment programs which are associated with treatment institutions, such as hospitals or detoxification centers, when the offender is treated as an in-house patient. In order to receive sanction unit credit for a residential treatment program.

a. The offender's participation in the program must be ordered by the court.

b. The offender must be treated as an in-house patient, i.e., the offender must participate in the residential aspect of the program.

c. The offender must have satisfactorily participated according to the rules of the specific program.

Treatment-Nonresidential—treatment programs which have no residential component, or treatment programs associated with treatment institutions where the offender is treated as an outpatient. Examples of non-residential treatment programs are drug counseling, alcohol counseling (including Alcoholics Anonymous), parenting counseling (in cases involving child abuse or neglect), aggressive behavior therapy, and various mental health programs. In order to receive sanction unit credit for a nonresidential treatment program, the program must be ordered by the court, and the offender must have satisfactorily participated according to the rules of the specific program.

Vocational/Technical Training—vocational/technical training programs which have been certified by the state of Louisiana. Sanction unit credit is given for successfully completing either 20 classroom hours or 80 hours of on the job training.

Work Release—a sanction that allows an offender to participate in a court-approved work release program. Such a program allows an offender to be released from incarceration to report for work for a specified period of time. Participation in the program requires approval of appropriate correctional officials. A participant must return to his place of incarceration at the end of his workday. An offender receives four sanction units of credit for each four week period in actual work release custody. He should receive one sanction unit for any week or portion thereof which is not part of a continuous four-week period.

§404. Sentencing Guideline Report

A. The court should require the completion of a sentencing guidelines report in each felony case. If victim notification is determined to have not met the advance notice time requirements required by this section, a victim may request that a hearing be re-scheduled if the hearing has not yet been conducted. Likewise, a victim may waive the notice requirement; however, such waiver must be received in writing from the victim.

G. Should a hearing be re-scheduled by the board for any reason other than the victim's request, the board shall notify the victim as soon as possible by their preferred method of notification.

b. The offender has not committed any major disciplinary (schedule B) offenses in the 12 consecutive months prior to the parole hearing date. If the offender's period of incarceration is less than 12 months, the offender must not have committed any disciplinary offenses during his/her entire period of incarceration.

Chapter 7. Parole Decisions

§701. Policy Statement

A. It shall be the policy of the committee to give every offender meaningful consideration for parole. The committee will exercise its discretionary releasing authority based upon consideration of the unique factors and variables of the individual case. The committee shall determine release suitability of eligible offenders through decisions that promote fairness, objectivity, and public safety and are responsive to the concerns of victims, members of the community, and other persons within the criminal justice system.

B. The committee shall consider all pertinent information (pre-parole investigation and institutional record) at least six months prior to the offender's parole eligibility date. The information shall be a part of the offender's consolidated summary record. At a minimum, a pre-parole investigation shall be made available to the panel for its review. No case may be considered for parole release without a pre-parole investigation.

C. The panel shall apply the following guidelines as a basis, but not as the exclusive criteria, upon which parole panels base parole release decisions.

1. Nature and Circumstances of the Crime

a. The committee will evaluate and consider the circumstances of the crime based upon the official version of the offense, as well as the victim's and offender's versions of the offense, to determine, if possible, whether the particular conditions that contributed to the commission of the crime are likely to reoccur.

b. The committee shall also consider the seriousness of the offense, the offender's role in the offense and the degree of his involvement, whether the offender was the instigator of the crime, and whether the crime was premeditated.

c. Particular consideration will be given to those cases which involved the use of a weapon and/or caused injury to the victim; where the offender committed one or more violent acts indicating a conscious disregard for the lives, safety, or property of others; or the instant offense has elements of brutality, violence, or conscious selection of victim's vulnerability such that the offender poses a continuing threat to public safety.

2. Prior Criminal Record

a. The committee will evaluate and consider any available prior adult and/or juvenile records and the number and seriousness of prior convictions including the length of time between any prior convictions and the commitment of the instant offense to determine the seriousness of the offender's prior criminal history.

b. A pattern of repeated criminal episodes or a pattern of similar offenses may indicate a predisposition to commit criminal acts upon release and the likelihood that the offender will not succeed on parole.

c. The committee may also consider whether the instant offense was committed while the offender was on probation or parole, and the offender's response to prior community supervision, if any.

3. Character, Social Background, and Emotional and Physical Condition

a. The committee will evaluate and consider information pertaining to the offender's work record, level of education, occupational skills, and evidence of emotional stability.

b. A history of chronic drug and alcohol abuse may evidence the likelihood that the offender will not succeed on parole.

4. Institutional Adjustment

a. The committee will evaluate and consider information concerning the offender's attitude while incarcerated, including the offender's participation in available programs and his overall compliance with institutional regulations.

b. Obedience to institutional rules may evidence that the offender will comply with parole conditions, while a disciplinary record consisting of major and/or minor infractions may be viewed negatively.

c. Offenders with one or more high court disciplinary report(s) in the 12 months prior to screening for parole eligibility, would generally not be considered a good risk for early release and will, therefore, not be given parole consideration until such time as the offender has been disciplinary report free for 12 consecutive months. Offenders may be removed from a parole docket if they receive a high court disciplinary report during the investigation period.

i. The offender may request reconsideration of this decision in writing. Such request must include any mitigating factors that the offender wishes be considered during the review process.

ii. The offender will be notified if they are not considered for placement on or removed from a docket.

iii. The offender is responsible for notifying the board in writing when they are disciplinary report free for 12 consecutive months to be reconsidered for scheduling.

d. Offenders assigned to working cellblock or disciplinary detention/extended lockdown or otherwise assigned to cellblock areas for disciplinary reasons would generally not be considered a good risk for early release and will, therefore, be ineligible for parole consideration until such time as the offender has not been in lockdown status for a period of six months.

5. Police, Judicial and Community Attitudes toward the Offender

a. The committee will evaluate and consider information concerning the offender from the community and public officials who are acquainted with the case.

b. This factor is given greater weight because the probability that an offender will succeed on parole is greatly diminished if he will return to a community which has expressed hostility toward him and is lacking support for him.

c. Effective August 1, 2018, victims of any offender who appears before the Committee on Parole for a parole hearing may provide the parole panel a re-entry statement to request proximity or contact restrictions, if that offender is granted parole. Victims must submit the re-entry statement to the Committee on Parole at least 60 days prior to the offender's scheduled parole hearing. The committee will consider the re-entry statement only for the purpose of determining the offender's parole conditions and not for the purpose of determining whether to order the release of the offender on parole. The re-entry statement is not binding on the Committee on Parole, but shall be considered in concert with other information when determining conditions of parole.

d. Evidence of official and/or community support may increase the likelihood of parole.

6. Parole Plan

a. The committee will evaluate and consider the strength of the offender's social ties, including whether he has a supportive family, resources available to him in the community, and employment opportunities.

b. The committee will place emphasis on the appropriateness of the parole plan; therefore, it is important for the offender to have secure employment plans and a stable living arrangement available upon parole.

c. Lack of an acceptable parole plan may decrease the likelihood of parole.

7. Program Participation. The committee will evaluate and consider an offender's participation in vocational training, adult education, or reading programs as well any treatment or rehabilitation program that has been certified by the department. Such participation is considered beneficial.

8. Risk Assessment

a. All Offenders. The committee will consider the risk assessment score provided by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections. The score is determined by a validated risk assessment instrument that has been validated for the Louisiana offender population. The assessment identifies potential risk and identifies programmatic needs of offenders utilizing two sets of components, static and dynamic factors.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:574.2 et seq., R.S. 15:535 et seq., and R.S. 15:540 et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Board of Parole, LR 24:2300 (December 1998), amended by the Office of the Governor, Board of Pardons, Committee on Parole, LR 39:2265 (August 2013), amended by the Office of the Governor, Board of Pardons, LR 40:58 (January 2014), amended by the Office of the Governor, Board of Pardons and Committee on Parole, LR 44:576 (March 2018), LR 45:1064 (August 2019).

§703. Result of Decision to Grant or Deny Parole

A. The committee's decision to grant or deny parole will be made and disclosed to the offender at the time of the parole hearing and he will be furnished with a copy of the parole decision form. The parole decision form shall also be made available to the administration at the facility housing the offender.

1. The original parole decision form will be placed in the offender's DOC record and will serve as the authority for the certificate of parole to be prepared.

2. The certificate will then be forwarded to the Division of Probation and Parole district office where the offender will be supervised while on parole.

B. No physical release from custody shall be authorized by the granting of a parole eligibility date that extends beyond nine months from the date of the hearing; nor shall release be authorized until all notice requirements, if any, have been timely made.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:574.2 et seq., R.S. 15:535 et seq., and R.S. 15:540 et seq.

§705. Application for Parole Rehearing or Request for Reconsideration of Decision

A. If denied at the initial parole hearing, an offender must apply in writing for a subsequent parole hearing, referred to as a "parole rehearing". The written request must be submitted by the offender or his attorney.

B. Application for a parole rehearing will be allowed only under the following conditions.

1. The offender must not have had a major (schedule B) disciplinary misconduct report in the six months prior to the reapplication request;

2. The offender must not have been in disciplinary lockdown status for a period of six months prior to the reapplication request.

3. If both criteria in §705.B.1 and 2 are met, an offender may apply to the committee for a rehearing at the following intervals.

Type of Crime	Request for Rehearing
Nonviolent, except as otherwise restricted	6 mos after most recent denial
Crime of Violence enumerated in R.S. 14:2(B)	Every 2 yrs after most recent denial
Crime Against Person enumerated in R.S. 14:29-47	Every 2 yrs after most recent denial
Sex Offense as defined in §903	Every 2 yrs after most recent denial
Murder, 1st or 2nd degree	Every 2 yrs after most recent denial
Manslaughter	Every 2 yrs after most recent denial

C. Reconsideration. An offender may request that the committee reconsider its decision to deny parole as outlined herein. However, this process does not establish a formal appeal process as parole is an administrative discretionary decision that is not subject to appeal.

1. A parole panel may reconsider a decision of any parole panel at the request of the board chairman.

2. An offender whose parole is denied or rescinded, or whose parole supervision is revoked may request reconsideration by the committee.

a. The request for reconsideration shall be made in writing by the offender (or the offender's authorized legal representative) and shall be postmarked no later than twenty-one calendar days from the date of the hearing during which the parole panel action was taken.

b. If the request for reconsideration is not postmarked within 21 calendar days, it shall be denied.

c. Reconsideration review shall be at the discretion of the committee and shall not be available except for the following reasons:

i. if there is an allegation of misconduct by a committee member that is substantiated by the record;

ii. if there is a significant procedural error by a committee member; or

iii. if there is significant new evidence that was not available when the hearing was conducted. A request based on the availability of new evidence or information shall be accompanied by adequate documentation.

d. A request based on an allegation of misconduct or significant procedural error shall clearly indicate the specific misconduct or procedural error being alleged.

e. A written request for reconsideration postmarked within the time period set forth in §705.D.2.a. shall be screened by the chairman or designee to determine whether the request for reconsideration raises substantial grounds to believe that one or more of the reasons for reconsideration set forth in §705.D.2.c. may be present. The request for reconsideration shall be denied by the chairman or designee, if in his or her discretion, it is determined that the request does not raise adequate grounds to believe that one or more of the reasons for reconsideration set forth in §705.D.2.c. are present.

3. If the chairman or designee determines upon screening that a request for reconsideration raises adequate grounds to believe that one or more of the reasons for reconsideration set forth in §705.D.2.c are present.

a. The case shall be set for administrative review at the next available parole panel hearing date. The review shall be conducted from the record of the first hearing. The appearance of the offender shall not be necessary.

b. The reviewing panel may vote to:

i. grant a new parole hearing and staff will make every attempt to schedule the hearing with a different parole panel than that which rendered the original decision; or

ii. affirm the original decision.

c. The applicant shall be advised, in writing, of the results of the review.

4. If the chairman or designee determine there is no basis to grant the request for reconsideration, the applicant will be advised in writing.

D. Disciplinary Removals

1. If the Offender has one or more major (schedule B) disciplinary report(s) in the 12 months prior to their parole eligibility date, they will generally not be considered a good risk for early release and will, therefore, not be given parole consideration until such time as the offender has been disciplinary report free for twelve consecutive months. Offenders may be removed from a parole docket if they receive a schedule B disciplinary report during the investigation period. The offender will be notified if they are not considered for placement on or removed from a docket.

a. The offender may request reconsideration of this decision in writing in accordance with the process outlined in this policy. Such request must include any mitigating factors that the offender wishes be considered during the review process.

b. The offender is responsible for notifying the board in writing when they are disciplinary report free for 12 consecutive months to be reconsidered for scheduling.

§707. Parole Plans

The plan for housing and will be investigated and approved by the Division of Probation and Parole.

B. In-State Parole

1. The board will not issue a certificate of parole to anyone granted parole until the residence plan has been approved by the Division of Probation and Parole. The residence plan should be given to the classification officer at the correctional facility where the offender is housed at the pre-parole interview or mailed directly to the board 30 days prior to the parole hearing.

2. A parole hearing may be held as docketed without an approved residence plan. Parole may be granted at the hearing, subject to the residence plan being approved through the Division of Probation and Parole.

C. Out-of-State Parole

1. Before any parolee can be considered for a plan of supervision in another state, the offender shall sign an application for interstate compact services agreement to return (waiver of extradition).

2. Out-of-state parole plans may be considered when the state in question issues a written statement expressing its willingness to accept the parolee under specific conditions. Release will be deferred until such approval is received by the board from the receiving state.

3. The parolee shall be required to comply with all applicable provisions of the interstate compact, and shall be required to acknowledge, in writing, that he or she is fully aware of the requirements of transfer under the compact.

2. Program completion should occur within six months from the parole decision. ## Chapter 3. Eligibility and Application Process

§301. Eligibility

A. To be eligible for compensation, an individual must have suffered personal injury, death or catastrophic property loss as a result of a violent crime.

1. Victim Conduct and Behavior

a. The Crime Victims Reparations Board may vote to deny or reduce an award to a claimant who is a victim, or who files an application on behalf of a victim. When one part of an award is denied, the board shall favor a partial award over the total denial. And an award may be denied or reduced when any of the following occurs:

i. The victim was assisting, attempting, or engaging in an illegal activity that substantially caused the injuries that are the basis for the claim.

ii. the totality of circumstances indicate that the victim contributed to or provoked the offense through his/her own misconduct.

b. Safety Belt Use by Vehicle Occupants

i. As Louisiana requires all vehicle occupants to use seat belts, victims not wearing a safety belt and injured or killed by a driver in violation of R.S. 14:98 (DWI), hit and run, or other intentional acts will have their award reduced, if found eligible otherwise.

ii. The total maximum award allowed under current policy will be reduced by 50 percent.

c. The following factors shall not be considered a reason for denying or reducing an award to a claimant who is a victim of a sexually oriented criminal offense, or who submits a claim on behalf of a victim of sexual assault:

i. the manner in which the victim was dressed at the time of the sexually oriented criminal offense;

ii. where the victim was located prior to the sexually oriented criminal offense;

iii. the time of the sexually oriented criminal offense;

iv. the occupation of the victim;

v. whether the victim:

(a). was or may have been under the influence of alcohol or drugs;

(b). had a previous sexual relationship with the alleged offender;

(c). was married to the alleged offender;

(d). was dating the alleged offender;

(e). consented to prior sexual activity with the alleged offender;

(f). has a history of being a victim of prior sexually oriented criminal offenses;

(g). has a criminal record;

(h). consented to the sexually oriented criminal offense if the victim is below the age of consent, mentally incapacitated or physically helpless;

(i). continued to live with an alleged offender after the assault;

(j). has a familial relationship to the alleged offender.

2. Collateral Sources

a. Restitution

i. The board reserves the right to make an award to a victim/claimant when a court of law has ordered restitution by the defendant;

ii. if the board makes an award, the court will be contacted with a request for a change in the court order to reflect that payments are to be made to the Crime Victims Reparations Fund for the amount paid by the board.

b. Insurance

i. The victim/claimant must process any potential insurance before applying for reimbursement of mental health claims, except for victims of sexually oriented criminal offenses.

ii. For claims that pertain to victims of sexually oriented criminal offenses, the victim has the discretion to choose whether or not to file for private insurance or Medicaid coverage.

3. Unjust Enrichment

a. When determining unjust enrichment or substantial economic benefit to offenders in applications involving domestic violence, the board will consider the following factors.

i. Has the victim reported the incident to the authorities and has the victim cooperated with their reasonable requests?

ii. In determining whether enrichment is substantial or inconsequential, factors to be considered include:

(a). the amount of the award;

(b). the total amount of income to the household; and

(c). whether a substantial portion of the award will be used directly by or on behalf of the offender.

b. If the offender has direct access to a cash award and/or if a substantial portion of it will be used to pay for his living expenses, that portion of the award that will substantially benefit the offender may be reduced or denied.

c. The availability of collateral resources, including but not limited to court-ordered restitution and medical insurance, will be examined. A determination shall be made:

i. as to whether the offender has a legal responsibility to pay;

ii. whether the offender has resources to pay;

iii. whether payment is likely.

d. The victim shall not be penalized for the failure of an offender to meet legal obligations to pay for the costs of the victim's recovery.

e. If the offender fails to meet legal responsibilities to pay restitution or provide for the medical and support needs of a spouse or child, or if the offender impedes payment of insurance that may be available to cover a spouse's or child's expenses, the program should attempt to meet the victim's needs to the extent allowed.

f. Payments to third-party providers will be made wherever possible.

g. Child victims will not be penalized by denying or delaying payment when offender or collateral resources are not forthcoming.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 46:1801 et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Crime Victims Reparations Board, LR 20:538 (May 1994), amended LR 22:709 (August 1996), LR 31:2009 (August 2005), LR 35:65 (January 2009), LR 36:2278 (October 2010), LR 37:1605 (June 2011), LR 41:1487 (August 2015), amended LR 44:2143 (December 2018), LR 47:364 (March 2021), LR 49:922 (May 2023).

§303. Application Process

A. Claimant Responsibility

1. Applications for reparations must be submitted to the sheriff's office in the parish where the crime occurred, filed online at the board's website, or sent directly to the board's office. Applications involving an adult victim of a sexually-oriented criminal offense are sent directly to the board's office.

2. Applications:

a. must be signed and dated by the victim/claimant. If the victim is a minor, the parent or guardian is the claimant and must sign. If the victim is deceased, the person responsible for the expenses can be the claimant and must sign the application;

b. Victims of sexual assault may assign their right to collect medical expenses associated with the sexual assault to a hospital/health care facility. The hospital/health care facility may then apply for reparations.

c. An adult victim of a criminal offense is not required to report the crime to any law enforcement officer in order to file an application.

d. If a victim chooses not to report the crime to a law enforcement officer, the claimant must submit reasonable documentation (as provided by R.S. 46:1806(A.)(1)(b) with the application) to show the commission of a crime relevant to the application.

3. The claimant, who is not a healthcare provider, must list each expense being claimed.

4. An itemized bill, not a billing statement, must accompany the application for each non-FME expense claimed.

5. All invoices, bills, etc. must indicate the victim/claimant as the guarantor, except for victims of a sexually-oriented criminal offense. Victims of a sexually-oriented criminal offense cannot be billed for costs associated with a forensic medical exam.

6. The victim/claimant is required to use claim forms to seek additional compensation after the original award is made.

B. Sheriff's Office Responsibility

1. Each sheriff will designate at least one staff member to handle the applications of crime victims for the board.

2. The sheriff's staff person, called the claim investigator, will distribute the most current applications, receive, process, and forward them to the board office in a timely manner.

C. Board Staff Responsibility

1. Check distribution will be as follows:

a. Provider checks will be issued directly to providers from the board office.

b. Victim/claimant checks will be mailed directly from the board office unless the sheriff specifies that he wishes to have them mailed directly to the sheriff's claim investigator for personal distribution.

D. Appeals

1. If an application is denied and the victim/claimant desires to appeal the board's decision, the victim/claimant must file the appeal within 60 days from the date of the denial letter.

2. The appeal letter should furnish the board with any new information not yet provided that the victim/claimant desires to have presented.

3. The appeal will be scheduled for the next available meeting.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 46:1801 et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Crime Victims Reparations Board, LR 20:539 (May 1994), amended LR 22:710 (August 1996), amended by the Office of the Governor, Crime Victims Reparations Board, LR 41:1668 (September 2015), LR 42:570 (April 2016), LR 42:743 (May 2016), LR 49:922 (May 2023).

Chapter 5. Awards

§501. Payment of Awards

A. Only verified expenses can be reimbursed.

B. Verification of Claimed Expenses

1. Each type of claim form used by the board should identify the documents that must be submitted by the victim/claimant to support and verify a claimed expense.

2. When applications lack documentation necessary for a decision or award in total or in part, and adequate effort has been made to acquire that information, the application will be placed on an agenda and the decision and award will be based on that information available. Should the formerly sought information become available, a supplemental application can be filed.

C. Awards to eligible victims or claimants for expenses incurred but not yet paid may be made payable directly to the providers.

D. All checks to providers when paid at less than the full balance owing are marked "paid in full."

E. If a provider refuses a board check, the check will be reissued to the claimant for the same amount as approved.

F. In those instances in which:

1. an application has been approved for an award; and
2. payment is being made directly to the provider; and
3. the check either has not been sent or has not been negotiated by the provider; and
4. the claimant notifies the board that he has paid the bill, upon verification and return of the check, the check will be voided and reissued for the same amount to the claimant.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 46:1801 et seq.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice, Crime Victims Reparations Board, LR 20:539 (May 1994), repromulgated LR 22:710 (August 1996), amended LR 24:328 (February 1998).

§503. Limits on Awards

A. General

1. There will be a $15,000 limit for awards for all victims with the exception of those primary victims who become totally and permanently disabled as a result of the crime. For those awards, the board may, at its discretion, award up to $25,000, depending on availability of funds, its administrative rule limits for certain award benefits, and the extent, if any, of collateral resources. For purposes of this Section:

a. a victim is "totally and permanently disabled" if the victim has a physical or mental impairment that substantially precludes them from obtaining gainful employment and appears reasonably certain to continue without substantial improvement throughout their life;

b. the board reserves the right to obtain an impartial medical expert, at its expense, if necessary, to assess the degree of disability of the victim.

2. All applications filed as the result of the death of a victim will be assigned one claim number with the deceased listed as the primary victim. Each additional claimant and/or secondary victim must submit a separate application with the appropriate claim form(s) and supporting documents. The aggregate claims arising out of the same crime will be subject to the maximum amount authorized by law.

3. Payments for forensic medical examinations shall not exceed $600 for the healthcare provider, and $1,000 for the healthcare facility.

B. Attorney Fees

1. The board does not reimburse victims for fees charged by an attorney to prepare an application or represent the victim in any way unless the fees result from a hearing ordered by the board.

2. Those reimbursable charges are set at a maximum of $50 per hour for a total of five hours or $250.

3. The appeals process does not constitute a hearing. Thus, any fees charged by an attorney to represent a victim/claimant at an appeal are not compensable.

C. Funeral Expenses

1. The board will reimburse up to a maximum of $5,000 ($6,500 for crimes occurring after May 1, 2023) to cover reasonable expenses actually incurred for the funeral, burial, or cremation.

2. Death and/or burial insurance taken out specifically for the purpose of burial must pay first. The amount of life insurance proceeds paid is no longer considered as a collateral source for funeral expenses.

D. Lost Wages/Earnings

1. When lost wages are part of a claim, lost wages will be considered before out-of-pocket or other medical expenses are considered.

2. The inability to work must be directly related to the victimization and documented by the appropriate medical doctor. That medical opinion is subject to professional review and audit.

3. Violently assaulted victims who do not require medical intervention (i.e., doctor visit, emergency room treatment) will be allowed a reimbursable recuperation period:

a. if no sick time or other compensation is available, the board may grant up to five working days of lost wages;

b. wage verification by the employer is required.

4. The board may reimburse lost wages/earnings as follows:

a. 80 percent of the gross weekly wage of the victim. For seasonal or part time wages, the amount shall be calculated at 80 percent of the average weekly wage;

b. for the loss of income from work by the parent or legal guardian of a minor or dependent victim who must miss work to obtain or provide the medically indicated services or care for the personal injury.

5. If workers' compensation or other private disability/income protection insurance is available, those policies must be paid out first before the board considers a claim for lost wages.

6. If the victim cannot return to work, the lost wage period may include future lost wages.

7. If a person is not gainfully employed or is not receiving entitlement at the time of the crime, then no lost wages can be determined nor awarded. However, an award for loss of wages based on seasonal, nonsalaried or intermittent work, or a bona fide offer of employment may be based on an average net anticipated salary for the period of employment.

8. Only the following list of physicians can legally determine physical disability:

- a. medical doctor;
- b. oral surgeon;
- c. psychiatrist;
- d. physiatrist;
- e. ophthalmologist;
- f. surgeon.

9. If a victim is initially treated by one doctor and that doctor refers the victim to another doctor, the referral doctor can determine disability from the date of the incident.

E. Loss of Support

1. For loss of support for a surviving spouse or other dependent to be considered, the following documentation must be provided:

- a. death certificate signed by the coroner;
- b. individual federal and state tax return for year before the crime to show dependency of claimant;
- c. employment/wage verification completed and signed by the victim's employer;
- d. verification of life insurance claimed by dependent filing application; and
- e. documentation that Social Security or other pension benefits are not available to surviving spouse or dependents.

2. Loss of support for a surviving spouse may be awarded at the discretion of the board when no other collateral resources exist and the inability to work exists or the opportunity to find work could be delayed due to age, frailty, and lack of previous work experience.

3. The board will reimburse loss of support up to a maximum award of $ 10,000 ($15,000 for crimes occurring after May 1, 2023).

a. The board may award loss of support up to the maximum amount per week authorized for lost wages in §503.D.4. That amount is based on net, after-tax, or take home pay.

b. When only gross income is provided by a claimant, then the board will award the loss of support at 80 percent of the amount authorized in §503.D.4 for lost wages.

F. Ambulance

1. A maximum of $300 for regular ambulance transport. A maximum of $500 exists for air medical transport.

2. Air transport services are considered ambulance services and reimbursed as such.

3. The medical portion of the ambulance bill is to be considered as a medical cost and paid at the medical per cent consistent with all other claims for that claimant.

4. If the ambulance bill is part of the total hospital bill and the total hospital bill is under $15,000, the ambulance transfer bills will be isolated and paid separately. If the total bill is over $15,000, the ambulance charges will not be isolated for payment.

G. Medical Expenses

1. The board reserves the right to audit any and all billings associated with medical care. All treatment must be considered "usual and customary" and be directly related to the victimization.

2. The board will not pay any interest, finance, or collection fees as part of the claim process.

3. The board will pay up to 70 percent of all outstanding charges after any third-party payment sources up to the statutory limits.

4. If the total outstanding charges exceed the maximum award cap, then all providers listed in the claim will be paid out at the actual percentage for those bills in relation to the available case funds.

5. Out-of-pocket paid monies will be reimbursed to the victim prior to applying this payment schedule.

Chapter 7. Trial Court Performance Standards

§701. Purpose

A. The standards are intended to serve several purposes, first and foremost to encourage public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel to perform to a high standard of representation and to promote professionalism in the representation of indigent defendants.

B. The standards are intended to alert defense counsel to courses of action that may be necessary, advisable, or appropriate, and thereby to assist attorneys in deciding upon the particular actions that must be taken in each case to ensure that the client receives the best representation possible. The standards are also intended to provide a measure by which the performance of individual attorneys and district public defender offices may be evaluated, and to assist in training and supervising attorneys.

C. The language of these standards is general, implying flexibility of action which is appropriate to the situation. Use of judgment in deciding upon a particular course of action is reflected by the phrases "should consider" and "where appropriate." In those instances where a particular action is absolutely essential to providing quality representation, the standards use the words "should" or "shall." Even where the standards use the words "should" or "shall," in certain situations the lawyers' best informed professional judgment and discretion may indicate otherwise.

D. These standards are not criteria for the judicial evaluation of alleged misconduct of defense counsel to determine the validity of a conviction. The standards may or may not be relevant to such a judicial determination, depending upon all of the circumstances of the individual case.

The defense attorney's duty and responsibility is to promote and protect the best interests of the client. If personal matters make it impossible for the defense counsel to fulfill the duty of zealous representation, he or she has a duty to refrain from representing the client. Attorneys also have an obligation to uphold the ethical standards of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct and to act in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Court.

B. Prior to agreeing to undertake representation in a criminal matter, counsel should have sufficient experience or training to provide effective representation.

C. Attorneys who are being considered for appointment to represent individuals who are charged with capital offenses in which the state is seeking death must meet the special criteria as adopted by the Supreme Court of Louisiana.

§707. General Duties of Defense Counsel

A. Before agreeing to act as counsel or accepting appointment by a court, counsel has an obligation to make sure that counsel has available sufficient time, resources, knowledge and experience to offer effective representation to a defendant in a particular matter. If it later appears that counsel is unable to offer effective representation in the case, counsel should move to withdraw.

B. Counsel must be alert to all potential and actual conflicts of interest that would impair counsel's ability to represent a client. When appropriate, counsel may be obliged to seek an advisory opinion on any potential conflicts.

C. Counsel has the obligation to keep the client informed of the progress of the case.

D. If a conflict develops during the course of representation, counsel has a duty to notify the client and the court in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Court and in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

E. When counsel's caseload is so large that counsel is unable to satisfactorily meet these performance standards, counsel shall inform the district defender for counsel's judicial district and, if applicable, the regional director, the court or courts before whom counsel's cases are pending. If the district defender determines that the caseloads for his entire office are so large that counsel is unable to satisfactorily meet these performance standards, the district defender shall inform the court or courts before whom cases are pending and the state public defender.

Prior to any proceeding, counsel should consider interviewing any professional who has evaluated the client, should be familiar with all aspects of the evaluation and should seek additional expert advice where appropriate.

The interview with the client should be used to obtain information as described above under the performance standards applicable to the initial interview of the client. Information relevant to sentencing should also be obtained from the client, when appropriate.

3. Interviewing Witnesses. Counsel should consider the necessity to interview the potential witnesses, including any complaining witnesses and others adverse to the accused, as well as witnesses favorable to the accused. Interviews of witnesses adverse to the accused should be conducted in a manner that permits counsel to effectively impeach the witness with statements made during the interview, either by having an investigator present or, if that is not possible, by sending the investigator to conduct the interview.

4. The Police and Prosecution Reports and Documents. Counsel should make efforts to secure information in the possession of the prosecution or law enforcement authorities, including police reports. §723. The Duty to File Pretrial Motions

A. Counsel should consider filing an appropriate motion whenever there exists a good-faith reason to believe that the defendant is entitled to relief which the court has discretion to grant.

B. The decision to file pretrial motions should be made after considering the applicable law in light of the known circumstances of each case.

C. Among the issues that counsel should consider addressing in a pretrial motion are:

1. the pretrial custody of the accused;

D. Counsel should withdraw or decide not to file a motion only after careful consideration, and only after determining whether the filing of a motion may be necessary to protect the defendant's rights, including later claims of waiver or procedural default. In making this decision, counsel should remember that a motion has many objectives in addition to the ultimate relief requested by the motion. Counsel thus should consider whether:

1. the time deadline for filing pretrial motions warrants filing a motion to preserve the client's rights, pending the results of further investigation;

2. changes in the governing law might occur after the filing deadline which could enhance the likelihood that relief ought to be granted;

3. later changes in the strategic and tactical posture of the defense case may occur which affect the significance of potential pretrial motions.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:142, 147and 148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 35:667 (April 2009).

§729. Performance Standard 6.A Duty of Counsel in Plea Negotiation Process

C. Counsel should be fully informed as to the rules of evidence, court rules, and the law relating to all stages of the trial process, and should be familiar with legal and evidentiary issues that can reasonably be anticipated to arise in the trial.

D. Counsel should decide if it is beneficial to secure an advance ruling on issues likely to arise at trial (e.g., use of prior convictions to impeach the defendant) and, where appropriate, counsel should prepare motions and memoranda for such advance rulings.

E. Throughout the trial process counsel should endeavor to establish a proper record for appellate review. Counsel must be familiar with the substantive and procedural law regarding the preservation of legal error for appellate review, and should insure that a sufficient record is made to preserve appropriate and potentially meritorious legal issues for such appellate review unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so.

F. Where appropriate, counsel should advise the client as to suitable courtroom dress and demeanor. If the client is incarcerated, counsel should be alert to the possible prejudicial effects of the client appearing before the jury in jail or other inappropriate clothing. If necessary, counsel should file pre-trial motions to insure that the client has appropriate clothing and the court personnel follow appropriate procedures so as not to reveal to jurors that the defendant is incarcerated.

G. Counsel should plan with the client the most convenient system for conferring throughout the trial. Where necessary, counsel should seek a court order to have the client available for conferences.

H. Throughout preparation and trial, counsel should consider the potential effects that particular actions may have upon sentencing if there is a finding of guilt.

I. Counsel shall take necessary steps to insure full official recordation of all aspects of the court proceeding.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:142, 147 and 148.

3. Prior to jury selection, counsel should seek to obtain a prospective juror list.

4. Where appropriate, counsel should develop voir dire questions in advance of trial. Counsel should tailor voir dire questions to the specific case. Among the purposes voir dire questions should be designed to serve are the following:

- a. to elicit information about the attitudes of individual jurors, which will inform counsel and defendant about peremptory strikes and challenges for cause;

b. to convey to the panel certain legal principles which are critical to the defense case;

c. to preview the case for the jurors so as to lessen the impact of damaging information which is likely to come to their attention during the trial;

d. to present the client and the defense case in a favorable light, without prematurely disclosing information about the defense case to the prosecutor; and

e. to establish a relationship with the jury.

5. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning mandatory and discretionary voir dire inquiries so as to be able to defend any request to ask particular questions of prospective jurors.

6. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning challenges for cause and peremptory strikes. Counsel should also be aware of the law concerning whether peremptory challenges need to be exhausted in order to preserve for appeal any challenges for cause which have been denied.

7. Where appropriate, counsel should consider whether to seek expert assistance in the jury selection process.

B. Examination of the Prospective Jurors

1. Counsel should personally voir dire the panel.

2. Counsel should take all steps necessary to protect the voir dire record for appeal, including, where appropriate, filing a copy of the proposed voir dire questions or reading proposed questions into the record.

3. If the voir dire questions may elicit sensitive answers, counsel should consider requesting that questioning be conducted outside the presence of the other jurors and counsel should consider requesting that the court, rather than counsel, conduct the voir dire as to those sensitive questions.

4. In a group voir dire, counsel should avoid asking questions which may elicit responses which are likely to prejudice other prospective jurors.

C. Challenging the Jurors for Cause

1. Counsel should consider challenging for cause all persons about whom a legitimate argument can be made for actual prejudice or bias relevant to the case when it is likely to benefit the client.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:142, 147 and 148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 35669 (April 2009).

B. Counsel should be familiar with the law of the jurisdiction and the individual trial judge's rules regarding the permissible content of an opening statement.

C. Counsel should consider the strategic advantages and disadvantages of disclosure of particular information during opening statement and of deferring the opening statement until the beginning of the defense case.

D. Counsel's objective in making an opening statement may include the following:

1. to provide an overview of the defense case;

2. to identify the weaknesses of the prosecution's case;

3. to emphasize the prosecution's burden of proof;

8. to establish counsel's credibility with the jury.

E. Counsel should consider incorporating the promises of proof the prosecutor makes to the jury during opening statement in the defense summation.

F. Whenever the prosecutor oversteps the bounds of proper opening statement, counsel should consider objecting, requesting a mistrial, or seeking cautionary instructions, unless tactical considerations suggest otherwise. Such tactical considerations may include, but are not limited to:

1. the significance of the prosecutor's error;

2. the possibility that an objection might enhance the significance of the information in the jury's mind;

3. whether there are any rules made by the judge against objecting during the other attorney's opening argument.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:142, 147 and 148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 35:670 (April 2009).

In order to develop material for impeachment or to discover documents subject to disclosure, counsel should be prepared to question witnesses as to the existence of prior statements which they may have made or adopted.

D. In preparing for cross-examination, counsel should:

1. consider the need to integrate cross-examination, the theory of the defense and closing argument;

E. Counsel should consider conducting a voir dire examination of potential prosecution witnesses who may not be competent to give particular testimony, including expert witnesses whom the prosecutor may call. Counsel should be aware of the applicable law of the jurisdiction concerning competency of witnesses in general and admission of expert testimony in particular in order to be able to raise appropriate objections.

F. Before beginning cross-examination, counsel should ascertain whether the prosecutor has provided copies of all prior statements of the witnesses as required by applicable law. If counsel does not receive prior statements of prosecution witnesses until they have completed direct examination, counsel should request adequate time to review these documents before commencing cross-examination.

G. Where appropriate, at the close of the prosecution's case and out of the presence of the jury, counsel should move for a judgment of acquittal on each count charged. Counsel should request, when necessary, that the court immediately rule on the motion, in order that counsel may make an informed decision about whether to present a defense case.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:142, 147 and 148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 35:670 (April 2009).

§745. Presenting the Defendant's Case

A. Counsel should develop, in consultation with the client, an overall defense strategy. In deciding on defense strategy, counsel should consider whether the client's interests are best served by not putting on a defense case, and instead relying on the prosecution's failure to meet its constitutional burden of proving each element beyond a reasonable doubt. Counsel should also consider the tactical advantage of having final closing argument when making the decision whether to present evidence other than the defendant's testimony.

B. Counsel should discuss with the client all of the considerations relevant to the client's decision to testify. Counsel should also be familiar with his or her ethical responsibilities that may be applicable if the client insists on testifying untruthfully.

C. Counsel should be aware of the elements of any affirmative defense and know whether, under the applicable law of the jurisdiction, the client bears a burden of persuasion or a burden of production.

4. consider the possible use of character witnesses;
5. consider the need for expert witnesses and what evidence must be submitted to lay the foundation for the expert's testimony;
6. review all documentary evidence that must be presented; and
7. review all tangible evidence that must be presented.

1. highlighting weaknesses in the prosecution's case;
2. describing favorable inferences to be drawn from the evidence;
3. incorporating into the argument:
  - a. helpful testimony from direct and cross-examinations;
  - b. verbatim instructions drawn from the jury charge; and
  - c. responses to anticipated prosecution arguments;

1. whether counsel believes that the case will result in a favorable verdict for the client;
2. the need to preserve the objection for appellate review; or desirability of seeking a verdict on a lesser included offense. Where possible, counsel should provide citations to case law in support of the proposed instructions.
3. the possibility that an objection might enhance the significance of the information in the jury's mind.

D. Where appropriate, counsel should object to and argue against improper instructions proposed by the prosecution.

E. If the court refuses to adopt instructions requested by counsel, or gives instructions over counsel's objection, counsel should take all steps necessary to preserve the record, including, where appropriate, filing a written copy of proposed instructions.

F. During delivery of the charge, counsel should be alert to any deviations from the judge's planned instructions, object to deviations unfavorable to the client, and, if necessary request additional or curative instructions.

G. If the court proposes giving supplemental instructions to the jury, either upon request of the jurors or upon their failure to reach a verdict, counsel should request that the judge state the proposed charge to counsel before it is delivered to the jury. Counsel should renew or make new objections to any additional instructions given to the jurors after the jurors have begun their deliberations.

Chapter 9. Capital Defense Guidelines

§901. Objective and Scope of Guidelines

A. Objective of the Guidelines and Performance Standards

1. The objective of these guidelines and associated performance standards is to create mandatory statewide guidelines and performance standards for the defense of capital cases as required by R.S. 15:148(B)(10) in order to ensure high quality legal representation for all persons facing the possible imposition or execution of a death sentence in a manner that is uniformly fair and consistent throughout the state.

2. The guidelines are principally intended to focus on the structure of capital defense service delivery. The associated performance standards are principally intended to focus on the tasks involved in the delivery of capital defense services by attorneys, investigators, mitigation specialists and supervisors.

3. These guidelines are intended to adopt and apply the guidelines for capital defense set out by the American Bar Association's Guidelines for the Appointment and Performance of Defense Counsel in Death Penalty Cases, its associated Commentary and the Supplementary Guidelines for the Mitigation Function of Defense Teams in Death Penalty Cases. In these guidelines, the ABA guidelines have been adapted and applied to meet the specific needs and legal requirements applicable in Louisiana while seeking to give effect to the intention and spirit of the ABA guidelines.

4. These guidelines and associated performance standards are intended to provide capital defenders and responsible agencies with specific guidance on the performance of their functions and to allow the state public defender and the Public Defender Board to more efficiently evaluate the delivery models and performance of the capital defense services provided throughout the state.

B. Scope of the Guidelines

1. These guidelines and associated performance standards apply from the moment the client is taken into custody and extend to all stages of every case in which the state may be entitled to seek the death penalty, including pre-indictment proceedings, the initial and ongoing investigation, pretrial proceedings, trial, motion for new trial, sentencing, the direct appeal, state and federal post-conviction review, clemency proceedings, and any connected litigation. The guidelines and performance standards also apply to any services rendered prior to the client being taken into custody, such as where counsel assists the client in surrendering.

2. Unless specifically mentioned, these guidelines shall apply only in the case of capital defendants who are eligible for public defender services. The word "defendant" is used broadly to describe the client at all stages of every case covered by these guidelines.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 36:993 (May 2010).

§903. Adoption and Implementation of Capital Representation Plans

A. Adoption of Capital Representation Plans

1. The state public defender shall adopt and implement a plan formalizing the means by which high quality legal representation in death penalty cases is to be provided in accordance with these guidelines (the Louisiana Capital Representation Plan).

2. Each district public defender (or regional director where a service region has been established) shall adopt and implement a plan formalizing the means by which high quality legal representation in death penalty cases is to be provided in accordance with these guidelines and the Louisiana Capital Representation Plan (the District Capital Representation Plan).

3. The state public defender may publish a form for the District Capital Representation Plan.

B. Capital Representation Plans to Provide for Compliance with the Guidelines

1. The Louisiana Capital Representation Plan and the District Capital Representation Plans shall set forth how each jurisdiction will conform to each of these guidelines and meet the standards established by the performance standards.

C. Capital Representation Plans to Provide for Zealous Advocacy

1. All elements of the Capital Representation Plan should be structured to ensure that counsel defending death penalty cases are able to do so free from political influence, judicial interference, conflicts of interest and under conditions that enable them to provide zealous advocacy in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct. The Capital Representation Plans should be structured to allow these goals to be achieved in a cost-effective and fiscally responsible manner.

2. While ensuring that the performance of the defense function is free from judicial interference, defense counsel should:

a. maintain adherence to the Rules of Professional Conduct;

b. manifest a professional attitude toward the judge, opposing counsel, witnesses, jurors, and others in the courtroom; and

c. should not knowingly disobey an obligation under the rules or rulings of a court, except for an open refusal based on an assertion that no valid obligation exists.

D. Capital Representation Plans to Provide for Case Supervisor in Every Case

1. The Capital Representation Plan shall provide that for each capital case a case supervisor will be specifically identified. Each case supervisor must be certified as lead counsel under these guidelines.

2. Where lead counsel in the case is an employee of a public defender office or defender organization, the supervisor will be the director of that office or organization, or a person he or she assigns to that role.

3. Where lead counsel in the case is acting under contract, the supervisor will be the director of the contracting agency, or a person he or she assigns to that role.

4. Where the director of an office, organization or contracting agency is counsel in the case, the supervisor shall be the trial level compliance officer or a person assigned by the trial level compliance officer.

5. The case supervisor is not counsel in the case but is responsible for assisting and supporting each attorney to provide representation in compliance with these guidelines. The case supervisor must monitor the representation in the case for compliance with these guidelines and associated performance standards.

6. The case supervisor may make recommendations to the defense team, resolve workload questions pursuant to §919 and report non-compliance with the guidelines to the district public defender and state public defender. The case supervisor does not have the authority to act on behalf of the defendant or to direct members of the defense team to take any action or refrain from taking any action.

E. Transitional provisions for capital representation plan

1. Each district public defender and the state public defender is to complete and submit to the board a capital representation plan within three months of the adoption of these guidelines by the board. The state public defender is to provide technical assistance to district public defenders to assist in completing their capital representation plans.

In any circumstance in which the performance of a duty under this Section would result in a conflict of interest, the relevant duty should be performed by the state public defender, a defender organization or independent authority free of a conflict of interest and identified for this purpose in the Capital Representation Plan.

2. The Capital Representation Plan shall identify an effectual system to identify and resolve such conflicts. The system will include provisions to ensure that no organization or person responsible for representing a capital defendant shall be responsible for assigning or supervising counsel for another defendant with an antagonistic defense.

§909. Eligibility for Public Defender Services

A. Eligible for Services if Financially Unable to Secure Appropriate Representation

1. A person will be eligible for public defender services if he or she is unable, without substantial financial hardship to himself or to his dependents, to obtain competent, qualified legal representation on his own.

2. Substantial financial hardship is presumptively determined to include all defendants who receive public assistance, such as Food Stamps, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Medicaid, Disability Insurance, resides in public housing, or earns less than two hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline. A defendant is presumed to have a substantial financial hardship if he or she is currently serving a sentence in a correctional institution or is housed in a mental health facility.

3. Capital defendants not falling below the presumptive threshold will be eligible to receive public defender services if their particular circumstances, including seriousness of the charges being faced, monthly expenses, local private counsel rates for counsel qualified to handle capital cases, would result in a "substantial hardship" were they to seek to retain private counsel. Relevant considerations may include such factors as income or funds from employment or any other source, including public assistance, to which the accused is entitled, property owned by the accused or in which he or she has an economic interest, outstanding obligations, the number and ages of dependents, employment and job training history, and level of education. Release on bail alone shall not disqualify a person from eligibility.

4. A capital defendant meeting the above criteria will be eligible for public defender services notwithstanding that he or she has retained counsel through a collateral funding source or on a pro bono basis. A capital defendant who has retained counsel at his own expense may be eligible for public defender services subject to careful examination of his or her financial status and the possibility of seeking an order under R.S. 15:176.

B. Determination of Eligibility

1. The district public defender shall be responsible for determining eligibility for public defender services in each case in his or her jurisdiction. Should the district public defender be prevented from making such a determination by a conflict of interest, responsibility for the determination of eligibility will transfer to the state public defender.

2. The determination of eligibility shall not be subject to judicial or political interference.

3. A determination of eligibility in capital cases should be made as soon as possible after arrest or after the issue of eligibility has been raised.

4. Once a capital defendant is determined to be eligible for public defender services he or she shall be presumed to remain eligible through each stage of the capital case unless a formal determination of ineligibility is made.

5. Where, as a result of a change of circumstances or new information, the district public defender or state public defender believes that a defendant may not be eligible, the question of eligibility shall be investigated and a new determination made.

6. A capital defendant may be found to be eligible for public defender services notwithstanding a judicial finding that the defendant is not indigent pursuant to R.S. 15:175.

C. Eligibility in Capital Cases Presumed until Investigation of Eligibility Complete

1. All capital defendants are presumed eligible for public defender services until the completion of any investigation of eligibility and a formal determination of ineligibility.

D. Finding of Ineligibility

1. Where a capital defendant is found to be ineligible for public defender services under this Section, the defendant may apply to the court for a determination of indigency under R.S. 15:175. If found by the court to be indigent, the defendant shall be deemed to be eligible for the purposes of this Section.

2. No capital defendant shall be found ineligible where he or she is able to provide some but not all of the funds necessary for an adequate defense. Instead, the defendant should be found eligible and an application for partial reimbursement pursued under R.S. 15:176.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 36:995 (May 2010).

§911. Assignment of Counsel

A. Assignment of Specific Attorneys to Each Capital Case

1. In each capital case the person or organization responsible for assigning counsel pursuant to §905 shall assign specific attorneys to each case and not an office, organization or group of attorneys. At least one appropriately certified attorney shall be assigned as lead counsel and at least one appropriately certified attorney shall be assigned as associate counsel. Additional counsel may be assigned when necessary or appropriate and assignments may be changed, subject to maintaining continuing compliance with these guidelines.

B. Assignment to be Consistent with Requirements of Guidelines

1. An attorney may only be assigned if he or she is currently certified in the appropriate role, is conflict free, meets the workload requirements of these guidelines and can be compensated in accordance with these guidelines. Assignments of attorneys must be made so as to meet the requirements of these guidelines, including §913.

C. Assignment of Counsel to Eligible Defendant Desiring Public Defender Services

1. Counsel shall be assigned to each defendant who is eligible to receive public defender services at the earliest possible opportunity following arrest and, wherever possible, prior to appearance under C. Cr. P. art. 230.1. Counsel shall be assigned no later than 48 hours after the time for appearance under C. Cr. P. art. 230.1.

2. Where an eligible capital defendant is arrested outside of Louisiana, the district public defender in the district in which the offense is alleged to have occurred will immediately assign counsel.

3. Counsel may be assigned prior to arrest where the capital defendant is an existing client of a public defender service or where the defendant seeks assistance in surrendering him or herself to police.

4. Counsel shall not be assigned to a defendant who indicates that he does not wish to receive public defender services. With the consent of the defendant, public defender services may be provided while a defendant considers whether he or she desires to receive public defender services.

D. Assignment of Counsel prior to Formal Finding of Eligibility

1. Where counsel is assigned prior to a formal finding of eligibility it is counsel's responsibility to immediately confer with the defendant to confirm his or her desire to receive public defender services unless this has already occurred.

E. Assignment of Counsel in Conflict Cases

1. Assignments in cases where there exists a conflict of interest will occur in accordance with the Capital

Representation Plan and §905. Any person or organization unable to perform the assignment function due to a conflict of interest must immediately act to ensure that the appropriate non-conflicted authority may make the assignment.

F. Assignment of Counsel in Overflow Cases

1. Assignments in cases where the responsible person or organization is unable to assign counsel due to a lack of appropriately qualified and available counsel will occur in accordance with the Capital Representation Plan. Any person or organization unable to make an assignment due to a lack of available counsel must immediately act under the Capital Representation Plan to ensure that the appropriate authority may make the assignment.

G. Self-representation and Assignment of Standby Counsel

1. Where a capital defendant seeks to proceed without counsel, counsel is obliged to continue to represent the client in accordance with these guidelines and the performance standards until the motion for self-representation is granted. This obligation will include: investigating the competency of the client; the capacity of the client to knowingly, voluntarily and intelligently waive the right to the assistance of counsel; and the capacity of the client to engage in self-representation. Where appropriate, counsel should oppose the defendant's motion. Where appropriate, counsel should seek review of a trial court decision granting a capital defendant's motion for self-representation.

2. Where a capital defendant is proceeding pro se and the court permits or requires standby counsel, attorneys shall be assigned under these guidelines. Where attorneys are assigned to act as standby counsel a defense team shall be assembled consistent with §913 and be prepared to assume representation of the defendant should the court so order. Standby counsel has an ongoing obligation to monitor the capital defendant's competency, the quality of his waiver and his ability to represent himself and to bring such matters to the attention of the court where appropriate.

H. Unavailability of Counsel for Assignment

1. Where the persons or organizations identified in the capital representation plan responsible for assignment of counsel are unable to assign counsel, the district public defender and the state public defender shall be immediately notified. Where the district public defender and the state public defender are also unable to assign counsel, the state public defender shall immediately cause to be filed with the relevant court a notice that counsel cannot be assigned at this time.

2. In such cases, the state public defender shall assign capitolly certified counsel for the limited purpose of protecting the capital defendant's rights, including pursuing a halt of the prosecution.

3. Where counsel cannot be assigned to a case under this Section, the state public defender and district public defender shall have an ongoing responsibility to identify counsel suitable for assignment to the case.

I. Transitional Provisions for Assignments Made Prior to Adoption of Guidelines

1. The district public defender or state public defender, as appropriate, shall review all assignments of attorneys in open capital cases made within his or her jurisdiction prior to the adoption of these guidelines by the board. Within six months of the adoption of these guidelines the district public defender or state public defender, as appropriate, shall take such action as is necessary to ensure that the assignment of attorneys in each such case has been brought into compliance with these guidelines.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 36:996 (May 2010).

Such services will be provided by persons independent of the government and confidentiality of communications with the persons providing such services is to be maintained throughout the funding process. Funds for ordinary investigative services will be provided by the district public defender unless responsibility for the case under §905 is vested in the state public defender.

C. Defendants with Retained or Pro Bono Counsel

2. Each supervisor of a capital attorney has a responsibility to ensure that the attorneys he or she supervises maintain compliance with this Section and assist the attorneys to achieve and maintain appropriate workloads.

3. Each attorney has an individual responsibility to ensure that he or she maintains compliance with this Section.

D. Obligation to Refuse New Cases in Excess of Workload Limits

1. An attorney should not be assigned new case assignments that will result in his or her workload exceeding that allowed by §919.A after accepting a capital case.

2. Where an attorney believes that accepting a new case will result in a workload in violation of §919.A, the attorney must bring this to the attention of the case supervisor for reasonable resolution of the question of professional duty created. Where the question of whether the workload is excessive is reasonably arguable, the responsibility to ensure compliance with these guidelines rests with the case supervisor. Where the workload is excessive, this may include but is not limited to ensuring that no new assignment is made; reallocating other responsibilities; and providing additional personnel on new or existing cases.

3. Where the attorney believes that the resolution of the question has been inadequate he or she must raise the question progressively with the district public defender, regional director and state public defender, as appropriate, for reasonable resolution.

§921. Monitoring of Certified Counsel; Removal

A. Monitoring Performance of Defense Counsel

1. The state public defender is responsible for monitoring the performance of all capital defense counsel to ensure that each client is receiving high quality legal representation.

2. The district public defender is responsible for monitoring the performance of all capital defense counsel in his or her jurisdiction, when not precluded from doing so by a conflict of interest.

3. Where there is evidence that an attorney is not providing high quality legal representation consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards, the state public defender and district public defender, as appropriate, should take necessary action to protect the interests of the attorney's current and potential clients.

B. Complaints Procedure

1. The state public defender shall establish and publicize a complaints procedure.

C. Capital Case Review

1. Whenever a capital case has been closed at trial, appellate, state post-conviction, federal post-conviction or clemency level the state public defender shall receive a briefing from counsel regarding the course of the representation. The state public defender may publish a form for the provision of case briefings.

2. At the discretion of the state public defender and in every case in which a death sentence is imposed or affirmed, post-conviction relief is denied or a defendant is executed, a case review committee shall be convened by the state public defender to review the course of the representation. The purpose of the review is to gather information to assist in the ongoing provision of high quality representation in capital cases.

D. Periodic Review of Certification and Service Provision

1. The state public defender shall review the roster of attorneys certified on an annual basis to ensure that attorneys listed remain capable of providing high quality legal representation.

2. The state public defender shall review the service delivery of each district public defender and defender organization each year to ensure that each remains capable of providing high quality legal representation.

E. Decertification

1. The state public defender may decertify, reduce the role for which counsel is certified or reduce to provisional certification any attorney who has: failed, without good cause, to meet the requirements of these guidelines and associated performance standards; has failed, without good cause, to satisfy the obligations of certified counsel under §915.I; has become unsuitable for capital certification under §915; has failed to continue to demonstrate that he or she has the required legal knowledge and skill necessary for capital defense representation; or has failed to continue to demonstrate that he or she is willing to apply that knowledge and skill with appropriate thoroughness and preparation.

2. The state public defender may also remove an attorney from the roster if, as part of a periodic review of the roster, the state public defender determines that a smaller roster of attorneys will better serve the goals of ensuring the best possible representation of indigent capital defendants and of delivering quality services in the most efficient and cost-effective manner.

3. Where counsel is decertified the state public defender shall ensure that each court in which the attorney represents a capital defendant is advised of this fact. The responsible agency under §905 will assign new counsel to represent the defendant in order to ensure that the defendant receives representation in compliance with these guidelines and the associated performance standards. Counsel who are decertified shall not be paid for work performed after decertification except for such work as is necessary to provide for an effective transition of case responsibility to successor counsel.

4. Where there is substantial evidence that an attorney has failed to provide high quality legal representation, the attorney shall be reduced by the state public defender to provisional certification and the state public defender shall promptly investigate the circumstances of the representation.

5. Following the investigation, the state public defender may restore the attorney's original level of certification, reduce the role for which the attorney is certified, confirm the provisional certification or decertify the attorney.

6. Where there is substantial evidence that a systemic defect in a defender organization has caused the office to fail to provide high quality legal representation, the state public defender and district public defender shall ensure that the organization does not receive additional assignments of cases. The state public defender shall promptly investigate the existence of a systemic defect.

7. Following the investigation the state public defender may direct that the defender organization continue to receive case assignments, require that remedial action be taken or take action to ensure that the defender organization does not receive any further assignments and that existing clients receive representation consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards.

8. Any attorney or defender organization that may be the subject of an adverse decision under §921.E shall be provided written notice of any action being contemplated and an opportunity to respond in writing before any final action is taken.

9. Any attorney or defender organization adversely affected by a decision under §921.E may appeal that decision in the manner described in §915.H.

F. Protection of Zealous Advocacy

1. The state public defender must ensure that this Section is implemented consistently with §903, so that an attorney's zealous representation of a client cannot be cause for the imposition or threatened imposition of sanctions pursuant to this Section.

G. Inherent Regulatory Authority of Louisiana Supreme Court

1. Nothing in this Section is intended to derogate from the inherent regulatory authority of the Louisiana Supreme Court provided for in Article V, Section 5 of the Constitution of Louisiana regarding the regulation of the practice of law.

1. Except as otherwise provided in these guidelines, the district public defender shall be responsible for funding capital defense services in each case for which he or she has responsibility under §905. The state public defender shall be responsible for funding capital defense services as provided for in these guidelines and in each case for which he or she has responsibility under §905.

2. Where a district public defender or the state public defender has insufficient funds to provide for capital defense services for which it has responsibility, the Board shall have responsibility for making available sufficient funds to permit the funding of capital defense services consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards.

3. Where the board is unable to provide sufficient funds to permit representation consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards it shall be the obligation of defense counsel in each case so affected to take all necessary steps to preserve and protect the defendant's rights until adequate funding is provided, including, in a trial level case, move for a halt of prosecution.

B. Allocation of Funds

1. Within the constraints of available funds, the board, the state public defender and each district public defender responsible for capital representation shall endeavor to make adequate budgetary allowance for the funding of capital defense services consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards and in a cost-effective and fiscally responsible manner.

2. The board, the state public defender and each district public defender responsible for capital representation must balance the responsibility to fund capital representation with the obligation to fund representation in other cases and within the constraints provided by available funds, must endeavor to provide adequate funds for all required indigent defense services and make budget allocations accordingly.

3. Similarly, the board, the state public defender and each district public defender responsible for capital representation must balance the responsibility to fund capital representation across all of the districts in the state and at each stage of capital representation and must endeavor to provide adequate funds for all required capital defense services and make budget allocations accordingly.

4. Where the demand for capital defense services exceeds the available funds, the board, the state public defender and each district public defender shall ensure that funds are allocated consistent with the following principles:

a. funds allocated for and necessary for services other than capital defense services shall not be re-allocated to capital defense services, provided that the budget has reasonably sought to balance funding for the capital and non-capital funding responsibilities of the board, state public defender and district public defender;

b. funds allocated for different districts, regions or stages of representation in capital cases shall not be re-allocated to another district, region or stage of representation provided that the budget has reasonably sought to balance funding for all required capital defense services;

c. funds should be made available to capital cases only to the extent that each case can be funded at a level that can provide for representation consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards. Capital cases should not be partially funded at a level below that necessary to achieve compliance with these guidelines and associated performance standards;

d. notwithstanding the above, where a capital case cannot be adequately funded, funds may be used for the limited purposes of:

i. preserving the rights of the defendant, including the right to a halt of prosecution; and

ii. minimizing any irremediable prejudice arising from the lack of adequate funds, for example, by preserving available evidence;

e. within each stage of representation (trial, appeal, post-conviction, clemency), funds are to be allocated and expended on cases in the order in which the obligation to provide representation began, or the order in which the need for particular funds has been presented; and

f. decisions regarding the allocation of funds are to be made free from political or judicial interference.

C. Compensation of Capital Defense Counsel

1. Counsel in death penalty cases should be fully compensated at a rate that is commensurate with the provision of high quality legal representation and reflects the extraordinary responsibilities inherent in death penalty representation. Salary and other compensation should be comparable to other positions of similar stature throughout the state.

2. Flat fees, caps on compensation, and lump-sum contracts with attorneys are improper in death penalty cases.

3. No distinction between rates for services performed in or out of court should be maintained.

4. Periodic billing and payment should be available to capital defense counsel.

2. The board, the state public defender and each district public defender shall also ensure that all requests for and decisions regarding the allocation of resources and funds are clearly documented and preserved.

3. The requirement to clearly document decisions regarding resource and funding allocations operates even where counsel is also the person responsible for making the decision, for example, where the district public defender is lead counsel. Where counsel's obligation to the client creates a conflict with the obligation to make a decision regarding resource and funding allocations, the decision may be referred to the state public defender.

Chapter 11. Trial Court Performance Standards for Attorneys Representing Parents in Child in Need of Care Cases

§1101. Purpose

A. The standards for parent representation in child in need of care cases are intended to serve several purposes. First and foremost, the standards are intended to encourage district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel to perform to a high standard of representation and to promote professionalism in the representation of parents in child in need of care and termination of parental rights cases.

B. The standards are also intended to alert defense counsel to courses of action which may be necessary, advisable, or appropriate, and thereby to assist attorneys in deciding upon the particular actions to be taken in each case to ensure that the client receives the best representation possible. The standards are further intended to provide a measure by which the performance of district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel may be evaluated, including guidelines for proper documentation of files to demonstrate adherence to the Standards, and to assist in training and supervising attorneys.

C. The language of these standards is general, implying flexibility of action which is appropriate to the situation. In those instances where a particular action is absolutely essential to providing quality representation, the standards use the word "shall." In those instances where a particular action is usually necessary to providing quality representation, the standards use the word "should." Even where the standards use the word "shall," in certain situations, the lawyer's best informed professional judgment and discretion may indicate otherwise.

D. These standards are not criteria for the judicial evaluation of alleged misconduct of defense counsel.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:321 (January 2011).

§1103. Obligations of Defense Counsel

A. The primary and most fundamental obligation of an attorney representing a parent in a child in need of care or a termination of parental rights case is to provide zealous and effective representation for his or her client at all stages of the process. The defense attorney's duty and responsibility is to promote and protect the expressed interests of the client. If personal matters make it impossible for the defense counsel to fulfill the duty of zealous representation, he or she has a duty to refrain from representing the client. Attorneys also have an obligation to uphold the ethical standards of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, to act in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Court, and to properly document case files to reflect adherence to the standards.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:321 (January 2011).

§1105. General Duties of Defense Counsel

A. Before agreeing to act as counsel or accepting appointment by a court, counsel has an obligation to make sure that counsel has available sufficient time, resources, knowledge and experience to offer effective representation to a parent in a child in need of care or termination of parental rights proceeding. If it later appears that counsel is unable to offer effective representation in the case, counsel should move to withdraw.

B. Counsel shall be alert to all potential and actual conflicts of interest that would impair counsel's ability to represent a parent. Counsel shall not represent both parents if their interests differ. The attorney should generally avoid representing both parents when there is even potential for conflict of interest. In situations involving allegations of domestic violence, the attorney shall not represent both parents. When appropriate, counsel may be obliged to seek an advisory opinion from the Office of Disciplinary Counsel on any potential conflicts.

C. If a conflict is discovered during the course of representation, counsel has a duty to notify the parent and the court in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Court and in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

D. Counsel has the obligation to take all reasonable steps to keep the parent informed of the progress of the case.

E. Counsel has the obligation to ensure that the case file is properly documented to demonstrate adherence to the standards, such as, where relevant, documentation of intake and contact information, client and witness interviews, critical deadlines, motions, and any other relevant information regarding the case. The case file should also contain, where relevant, copies of all pleadings, orders, releases (school, medical, mental health, or other types), discovery, and correspondence associated with the case.

F. When counsel's caseload is so large that counsel is unable to satisfactorily meet these performance standards, counsel shall inform the district defender for counsel's judicial district and, if applicable, the regional director. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, the attorney of record should continue to represent the client from the point of the initial court proceedings through disposition, post-disposition review hearings, and any other related proceedings until the case is closed.

§1111. Obligations of Counsel Prior to Filing of Petition

A. Counsel, upon notice of appointment, should actively represent a parent prior to the filing of the petition in a case.

1. The parent's attorney should counsel the client about the client's rights in the investigation stage as well as the realistic pros and cons of cooperating with the Department of Children and Family Services (e.g., the parent's admissions could be used against the client later, but cooperating with services could eliminate a petition filing).

2. The parent's attorney should acknowledge that the parent may be justifiably emotional that the agency is involved with the client's family, and help the client develop strategies so the client does not express that emotion toward the caseworker in ways that may undermine the client's goals.

3. The attorney should discuss available services and help the client enroll in those in which the client wishes to participate.

4. The attorney should explore conference opportunities with the agency. If it would benefit the client, the attorney should attend any conferences. The attorney should prepare the client for issues that might arise at the conference, such as services and available kinship resources, and discuss with the client the option of bringing a support person to a conference.

5. The attorney should gather and forward to the agency the names and contact information of any potential temporary placements for the children that the client would like the agency to consider.

6. The attorney should assess whether the Department of Children and Family Services made the reasonable efforts required before removing the child from the home and the attorney should be prepared to argue a lack of reasonable efforts to the court, whenever appropriate.

B. Counsel should avoid continuances (or reduce empty adjournments) and work to reduce delays in court proceedings unless there is a strategic benefit for the client.

B. Conducting the Interview

1. The purpose of the initial interview is to acquire information from the client concerning the case and the client, and to provide the client with information concerning the case. Counsel should ensure at all interviews and proceedings that barriers to communication, such as differences in language or literacy, be overcome. In addition, counsel should obtain from the client all release forms necessary to obtain client's medical, psychological, education, military, prison and other records as may be pertinent.

2. Information that should be acquired from the client, such as:

- a. the facts surrounding the allegations leading to the initiation of a child in need of care proceeding, to the extent the client knows and is willing to discuss these facts;
- b. where applicable, the client's version of the removal of the child(ren); whether client was interrogated and if so, whether a statement was given; client's physical and mental status at the time the statement was given;

whether any samples were provided, such as blood, tissue, hair, DNA, handwriting, etc., and whether any scientific tests were performed on client's body or bodily fluids;

c. the name(s) and marital status of all parents of the subject child(ren) and the name of counsel for the other parents (if a conflict has been determined and counsel has been appointed or retained);

d. the names and locating information of any witnesses to the alleged abuse and/or neglect; regardless of whether these are witnesses for the prosecution or for the defense; the existence of any tangible evidence in the possession of the state and/or Department of Children and Family Services (when appropriate, counsel should take steps to insure this evidence is preserved);

e. the client's ties to the community, including the length of time he or she has lived at the current and former addresses, any prior names or aliases used, family relationships, immigration status (if applicable), employment record and history, and social security number;

j. where appropriate, evidence of the client's competence to stand trial and/or mental state at the time of the alleged abuse and/or neglect, including releases from the client for any records for treatment or testing for mental health or mental retardation.

3. Information to be provided to the client, includes, but is not limited to:

b. a general overview of the procedural progression of the case, the legal issues related to the case, including specific allegations against the client, the case plan, the client's rights in the pending proceeding, any orders entered against the client and the potential consequences of failing to obey court orders or cooperate with case plans, as well as the general expectations of the court and the agency, and potential consequences of the client failing to meet those expectations;

c. an explanation of the persons involved in a child in need of care case and in any subsequent termination of parental rights proceeding and the role and responsibility each person has;

d. contact information in writing and a message system that allows regular attorney-client contact. The attorney should explain that even when the attorney is unavailable, the parent should leave a message. The attorney shall respond to client messages in a reasonable time period; and

e. the names of any other persons who may be contacting the client on behalf of counsel.

4. For clients who are incarcerated:

a. communicate with the client on a regular and ongoing basis, including conferring with the client within 72 hours of being appointed and prior to every court appearance;

d. assist client in obtaining services such as substance abuse treatment, parenting skills, or job training while incarcerated.

5. The parent's attorney and client should discuss timelines that reflect projected deadlines and important dates and a calendar system to remember the dates. The timeline should specify what actions the attorney and parent will need to take and dates by which they will be completed. The timeline should reflect court deadlines and Department of Children and Family Services deadlines.

6. Counsel should make available to the client copies of all petitions, court orders, service plans, and other relevant case documents, including reports regarding the child except when expressly prohibited by law, rule or court order. Counsel should continue throughout the proceedings to provide client all relevant documents. If the client has difficulty reading, the attorney should read the documents to the client. In all cases, the attorney should be available to discuss and explain the documents to the client.

§1115. Counsel's Duties Regarding Client Communication

A. Counsel shall act in accordance with the duty of loyalty owed to the client. Attorneys representing parents should show respect and professionalism towards their clients. Parents' attorneys should support their clients and be sensitive to the client's individual needs. Attorneys should remember that they may be the client's only advocate in the system and should act accordingly.

B. Counsel shall adhere to all laws and ethical obligations concerning confidentiality. Attorneys representing parents shall understand confidentiality laws, as well as ethical obligations, and adhere to both with respect to information obtained from or about the client.

C. Counsel shall meet and communicate regularly with the client well before court proceedings.

D. Counsel should advocate for the client's goals and empower the client to direct the representation and make informed decisions.

E. Counsel should identify any potential barriers to the client's cooperation in the proceedings.

1. The parent's attorney should help the client access information about the child's developmental and other needs by speaking to service providers and reviewing the child's records. The parent needs to understand these issues to make appropriate decisions for the child's care.

2. The parent's attorney and the client should identify barriers to the client engaging in services, such as employment, transportation, housing and financial issues. The attorney should work with the client, caseworker and service provider to resolve the barriers.

3. The attorney should be aware of any special issues the parents may have related to participating in the proposed case plan, such as an inability to read or language differences, and advocate with the child welfare agency and court for appropriate accommodations.

F. Counsel should act with regard to the cultural background and socioeconomic position of the parent throughout all aspects of representation. The parent's attorney should learn about and understand the client's background, and consider how cultural and socioeconomic differences impact interaction with clients.

G. Counsel should be aware of the client's mental health status and be prepared to assess whether the parent can assist with the case in accordance with Louisiana Rule of Professional Conduct 1.14 (Client with Diminished Capacity). The attorney should be familiar with any mental health diagnosis and treatment that a client has had in the past or is presently undergoing (including any medications for such conditions). The attorney should get consent from the client to review mental health records and to speak with former and current mental health providers. The attorney should explain to the client that the information is necessary to understand the client's capacity to work with the attorney. If the client's situation seems severe, the attorney should also explain that the attorney may seek the assistance of a clinical social worker or some other mental health expert to evaluate the client's ability to assist the attorney.

H. When appointed as a curator, counsel should undertake diligent efforts to locate a missing parent, including but not limited to investigation and attempts to contact persons who may have information regarding the location of the parent. If the missing parent is found, notify him or her of the pendency and nature of the proceedings. If the missing parent is not found, the defender should stay involved throughout the case, object when necessary to preserve the missing parent's rights, and make periodic attempts to find the parent.

§1117. Counsel's Duty to Investigate

A. Counsel has a duty to conduct a prompt, reasonable and independent investigation at every stage of the proceeding of each case. Counsel should investigate whether the allegations of abuse and/or neglect and disposition are factually and legally correct and the client is aware of potential defenses to the allegations. The parent's attorney cannot rely solely on what the agency caseworker reports about the parent. The attorney could consider contacting service providers who work with the client, relatives who can discuss the parent's care of the child, and the child's teachers or other people who can clarify information relevant to the case.

B. Counsel should interview the client well before each hearing, in time to use client information for the case investigation. The parent's attorney should meet with the parent regularly throughout the case. The meetings should occur well before the hearing, not just at the courthouse before the case is called before the judge. The attorney should ask the client questions to obtain information to prepare the case and strive to create a comfortable environment so the client can ask the attorney questions. The attorney should use these meetings to prepare for court as well as to counsel the client concerning issues that arise during the course of the case.

C. Counsel should consider the necessity to interview the potential witnesses, including any adverse to the accused, as well as witnesses favorable to the accused. Interviews of witnesses adverse to the accused should be conducted in a manner that permits counsel to effectively impeach the witness with statements made during the interview, either by having an investigator present or, if that is not possible, by sending the investigator to conduct the interview.

D. Counsel should make efforts to secure information in the possession of the prosecution or law enforcement authorities, including police reports. Where necessary, counsel should pursue such efforts through formal and informal discovery unless sound tactical reasons exist for not doing so. Counsel should obtain National Crime Information Center or other states' criminal history records for the client and for the prosecution witnesses.

E. Where appropriate, counsel should make a prompt request to the police or investigative agency for any physical evidence or expert reports relevant to the offense or sentencing. Counsel should examine any such physical evidence.

F. Counsel should secure the assistance of experts where it is necessary or appropriate to:

1. the preparation of the defense;
2. adequate understanding of the agency's case; or
3. rebut the agency's case.

1. potential exculpatory information;
2. potential mitigating information;
3. the names and addresses of all prosecution witnesses, their prior statements, and criminal record, if any;
4. all oral and/or written statements by the accused, and the details of the circumstances under which the statements were made;

6. all books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, buildings or places, or copies, descriptions, or other representations, or portions thereof, relevant to the case;
7. all results or reports of relevant physical or mental examinations, and of scientific tests or experiments, or copies thereof;

8. all investigative reports by all law enforcement and other agencies involved in the case; and

9. all records of evidence collected and retained by law enforcement.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:326 (January 2011).

§1123. Court Preparation

A. During investigation and trial preparation, counsel should develop and continually reassess a theory of the case and strategy to follow at hearings and negotiations.

B. Counsel for parents should engage in case planning and advocate for appropriate social services using a multidisciplinary approach to representation when available.

1. The parent's attorney should know about the social, mental health, substance abuse treatment and other services that are available to parents and families in the jurisdiction in which the attorney practices so the attorney can advocate effectively for the client to receive these services. The attorney should ask the client if the client wishes to engage in services. If so, the attorney should determine whether the client has access to the necessary services to overcome the issues that led to the case.

2. The attorney should actively engage in case planning, including attending major case meetings and family team conferences, to ensure the client asks for and receives the needed services. The attorney should also ensure the client does not agree to undesired services that are beyond the scope of the case.

3. Whenever possible, the parent's attorney should engage or involve a social worker as part of the parent's "team" to help determine an appropriate case plan, evaluate social services suggested for the client, and act as a liaison and advocate for the client with the service providers.

C. Counsel for parents should research applicable legal issues and advance legal arguments when appropriate.

D. Counsel for parents shall timely file all appropriate pleadings, motions, and briefs.

1. Counsel should consider filing an appropriate motion whenever there exists a good-faith reason to believe that the parent is entitled to relief which the court has discretion to grant.

2. The decision to file pretrial motions should be made after considering the applicable law in light of the known circumstances of each case.

3. Among the issues that counsel should consider addressing in a pretrial motion are:

- a. the constitutionality of the implicated statute or statutes;
- b. the potential defects in the charging process;
- c. the sufficiency of the charging documents;

d. the discovery obligations of the prosecution/agency and the reciprocal discovery obligations of the defense; and

e. access to resources which, or experts, who may be denied to an accused because of his or her indigence.

E. Counsel for parents should aggressively advocate for regular visitation in a family-friendly setting. Factors to consider in visiting plans include:

1. frequency;

5. types of activities; and
6. visit coaching—having someone at the visit who could model effective parenting skills.

F. With the client's permission, and when appropriate, counsel for parents should engage in settlement negotiations and mediation to resolve the case. Counsel should adhere to all laws and ethical obligations concerning confidentiality and participate in such proceedings in good faith.

1. Counsel should keep the client fully informed of any continued discussion concerning stipulating and related negotiations and promptly convey to the accused any offers made by the prosecution/agency for a negotiated settlement.

2. Counsel shall not accept any stipulation agreement without the client's express authorization. Prior to entering any stipulation, counsel should ensure that client understands the potential consequences of certain stipulations, particularly the potential for a subsequent termination of parental rights.

3. The existence of ongoing tentative stipulation negotiations with the prosecution/agency should not prevent counsel from taking steps necessary to preserve a defense nor should the existence of ongoing stipulation negotiations prevent or delay counsel's investigation into the facts of the case and preparation of the case for further proceedings, including trial.

4. In order to develop an overall negotiation plan, counsel should be aware of, and make sure the client is aware of:

- a. the conditions proposed by the Department of Children and Family Services;
- b. the spectrum of possible outcomes;
- c. other consequences of adjudication, including but not limited to the impact on any potential criminal investigation or subsequent termination of parental rights proceeding;
- d. concessions that the client might offer the prosecution as part of a negotiated settlement, including, but not limited to:
  - i. not to proceed to adjudication;

ii. decline from asserting or litigating any particular pretrial motions; and

iii. an agreement to fulfill specified, written conditions; and

e. benefits the client might obtain from a negotiated settlement, including, but not limited to an agreement:

i. to enter into an informal adjustment agreement;

ii. reunification with particular conditions;

iii. to dismiss or reduce one or more charged criminal offenses either immediately, or upon completion of a deferred prosecution agreement; and

iv. that the respondent will not be subject to further investigation or prosecution for uncharged alleged criminal conduct.

5. In conducting stipulation negotiations, counsel should be familiar with:

a. the advantages and disadvantages of stipulation according to the circumstances of the case; and

b. the various types of stipulations that may be agreed to, including but not limited to a stipulation without admitting the allegations.

6. In conducting negotiations, counsel should attempt to become familiar with the practices and policies of the particular jurisdiction, judge and prosecuting authority, and Department of Children and Family Services personnel which may affect the content and likely results of negotiated agreements.

G. Counsel for parents should thoroughly prepare the client to testify at the hearing;

H. Counsel for parents should identify, locate and prepare all witnesses; and

I. Counsel for parents should identify, secure, prepare and qualify expert witness when needed. When permissible, counsel should interview opposing counsel's experts.

§1125. Entering the Negotiated Stipulation before the Court

A. Prior to the entry of a stipulation, counsel should:

1. make certain that the client understands the rights he or she will waive by entering the stipulation and that the client's decision to waive those rights is knowing, voluntary and intelligent;

2. make certain that the client receives a full explanation of the conditions and limits of the stipulation and the potential outcomes and collateral consequences the client will be exposed to by entering a stipulation; and

3. explain to the client the nature of the stipulation and prepare the client for the role he or she will play in the proceeding, including answering questions of the judge and, where appropriate, providing a statement concerning the allegations.

B. In preparing for the continued custody hearing, the attorney should become familiar with:

1. the alleged abuse and/or neglect;

2. the law of establishing grounds of abuse and neglect (La. Ch. C. Art. 606);

3. the requirement that the department made reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need for the child(ren)'s removal before taking custody of the child(ren); and

4. the subpoena process for obtaining compulsory attendance of witnesses at the continued custody hearing and the necessary steps to be taken in order to obtain a proper recordation of the proceedings.

C. Counsel for a parent should be prepared, in keeping with an overall case strategy, to present reasonable terms of return/reunification of children, with potential conditions, at the continued custody phase.

7. prior statements of all defense witnesses;

8. reports from defense experts;
9. a list of all defense exhibits, and the witnesses through whom they will be introduced;
10. originals and copies of all documentary exhibits; and
11. copies of all relevant statutes and cases.

B. Counsel should be fully informed as to the rules of evidence, court rules, and the law relating to all stages of the adjudication process, and should be familiar with legal and evidentiary issues that can reasonably be anticipated to arise at adjudication.

C. Counsel should request the opportunity to make opening and closing arguments. When permitted by the judge, counsel should make opening and closing arguments to best present the theory of the case.

D. Counsel should decide if it is beneficial to secure an advance ruling on issues likely to arise at trial (e.g., use of prior convictions to impeach the defendant) and, where appropriate, counsel should prepare motions and memoranda for such advance rulings.

E. Throughout the adjudication process counsel should endeavor to establish a proper record for appellate review. Counsel shall be familiar with the substantive and procedural law regarding the preservation of legal error for appellate review, and should insure that a sufficient record is made to preserve appropriate and potentially meritorious legal issues for such appellate review unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so.

F. Where appropriate, counsel should advise the client as to suitable courtroom dress and demeanor. If the client is incarcerated, if necessary, counsel should consider filing pre-trial motions to insure that the client has appropriate clothing.

G. Counsel should plan with the client the most convenient system for conferring throughout the adjudication hearing. Where necessary, counsel should seek a court order to have the client available for conferences.

Chapter 13. Trial Court Performance Standards for Attorneys Representing Children in Delinquency—Detention through Adjudication

§1301. Purpose

A. The Standards for Attorneys Representing Children in Delinquency Proceedings are intended to serve several purposes. First and foremost, the standards are intended to encourage district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel to perform to a high standard of representation and to promote professionalism in the representation of children in delinquency proceedings.

B. The standards are also intended to alert defense counsel to courses of action that may be necessary, advisable, or appropriate, and thereby to assist attorneys in deciding upon the particular actions to be taken in each case to ensure that the client receives the best representation possible. The standards are further intended to provide a measure by which the performance of district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel may be evaluated, including guidelines for proper documentation of files to demonstrate adherence to the standards, and to assist in training and supervising attorneys.

C. The language of these standards is general, implying flexibility of action that is appropriate to the situation. In those instances where a particular action is absolutely essential to providing quality representation, the standards use the word "shall." In those instances where a particular action is usually necessary to providing quality representation, the standards use the word "should." Even where the standards use the word "shall," in certain situations the lawyer's best informed professional judgment and discretion may indicate otherwise.

D. These standards are not criteria for the judicial evaluation of alleged misconduct of defense counsel.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2599 (September 2011), amended LR 45:403 (March 2019).

§1303. Obligations of Defense Counsel

A. The primary and most fundamental obligation of the attorney representing a child client in a delinquency case is to provide zealous and effective representation for his or her client at all stages of the process. The defense attorney's duty and responsibility is to promote and protect the expressed interests of the child client. Attorneys also have an obligation to uphold the ethical standards of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, to act in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of the Court, and to properly document case files to reflect adherence to these standards.

B. The attorney who provides legal services for a child client owes the same duties of undivided loyalty, confidentiality and zealous representation to the child client as is due to an adult client. The attorney's personal opinion of the child client's guilt is not relevant to the defense of the case.

C. The attorney should communicate with the child client in a manner that will be effective, considering the child client's maturity, intellectual ability, language, educational level, special education needs, cultural background, gender, and physical, mental and emotional health. If appropriate, the attorney shall file a motion to have a foreign language or sign language interpreter appointed by the court and present at the initial interview and at all stages of the proceedings.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2599 (September 2011), amended LR 45:404 (March 2019).

§1305. Child's Expressed Preferences

A. The attorney shall represent the child client's expressed preferences and follow the child client's direction throughout the course of litigation. In addition, the attorney has a responsibility to counsel the child client and advise the client as to potential outcomes of various courses of action. The attorney shall refrain from substitution of his or her own view or the parents' wishes for the position of the child client. The use of the word parent hereafter refers to the parent, guardian, custodial adult or person assuming legal responsibility for the juvenile.

B. Considerations of personal and professional advantage or convenience should not influence counsel's advice or performance.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2599 (September 2011), amended LR 45:404 (March 2019).

§1307. Allocation of Authority between Child Client and Attorney

A. Certain decisions relating to the conduct of the case are ultimately for the child client and other decisions are ultimately for the attorney. The child client, after full consultation with counsel, is ordinarily responsible for determining:

1. whether to admit or deny the charges in the petition;
2. whether to accept a plea agreement;
3. whether to participate in a diversionary program;
4. whether to testify on his or her own behalf; and
5. whether to appeal.

B. The attorney should explain that final decisions concerning trial strategy, after full consultation with the child client and after investigation of the applicable facts and law, are ultimately to be made by the attorney. The client should be made aware that the attorney is primarily responsible for deciding what motions to file, which witnesses to call, whether and how to conduct cross-examination, and what other evidence to present. Implicit in the exercise of the attorney's decision-making role in this regard is consideration of the child client's input and full disclosure by the attorney to the client of the factors considered by the attorney in making the decisions.

C. If a disagreement on significant matters of tactics or strategy arises between the lawyer and the child client, the lawyer should make a record of the circumstances, his or her advice and reasons, and the conclusion reached. This record should be made in a manner that protects the confidentiality of the attorney-client relationship.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2600 (September 2011), amended LR 45:404 (March 2019).

§1308. Scope and Continuity of Representation

A. The attorney should consult with the child client and provide representation at the earliest stage of proceedings possible and, whenever possible, the same attorney should continue representing the child client through case closure, including in the post-disposition phase of proceedings. Whenever possible, the same attorney who represented a child client in a previous petition or matter should be assigned to represent the same child client in subsequent petitions.

B. The attorney should engage in holistic advocacy to the extent possible by counseling, advocating for or representing the child client in ancillary matters outside the delinquency system involving issues such as educational, mental health, or public benefits rights that may have a direct or indirect impact on the outcome of the delinquency proceedings. When direct advocacy is not possible due to a lack of expertise, time or other resources, counsel should attempt to refer the child client to qualified advocates specializing in those ancillary matters if doing so is in keeping with the child client's expressed interests, and strategically does not jeopardize confidentiality or otherwise do harm to the child client's goals of representation.

C. The attorney should consider engaging the services of a diverse defense team including a social service practitioner to assess the client's and the client's family's social service needs, to counsel the child client, and to plan and coordinate services that will advance the child client's express interests in the case. Social service practitioners may be beneficial in presenting alternatives to detention, negotiating access to diversionary programs, presenting alternatives to custodial or probationary dispositions, modifying dispositions, and preventing recidivism.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 45:404 (March 2019).

13. information on religious background and racial and ethnic heritage, and sensitivity to issues of cultural and socio-economic diversity, sexual orientation, and gender identity.

E. Individual lawyers who are new to juvenile representation should take the opportunity to practice under the guidance of a senior lawyer mentor. Correspondingly, experienced attorneys are encouraged to provide mentoring to new attorneys, assist new attorneys in preparing cases, debrief following court hearings, and answer questions as they arise.

F. If personal matters make it impossible for the defense counsel to fulfill the duty of zealous representation, he or she has a duty to refrain from representing the client. If it later appears that counsel is unable to offer effective representation in the case, counsel should move to withdraw.

§1311. Basic Obligations

A. The attorney should obtain copies of all pleadings and relevant notices.

B. The attorney shall participate in all negotiations, discovery, pre-adjudication conferences, and hearings.

C. The attorney should confer with the juvenile within 48 hours of being appointed and prior to every court appearance to counsel the child client concerning the subject matter of the litigation, the child client's rights, the court system, the proceedings, the lawyer's role, and what to expect in the legal process.

D. The attorney should promptly inform the child client of his or her rights and pursue any investigatory or procedural steps necessary to protect the child client's interests throughout the process.

E. Upon initial review of the petition and initial communication with the client, the attorney should determine whether legal issues exist that warrant the filing of pretrial motions and file appropriate pleadings.

F. The attorney should refrain from waiving substantial rights or making stipulations that are inconsistent with the child client's expressed interests.

§1313. Conflicts of Interest

A. The attorney shall be alert to all potential and actual conflicts of interest that would impair his or her ability to represent a child client. Loyalty and independent judgment are essential elements in the lawyer's relationship to a child client. Conflicts of interest can arise from the lawyer's responsibilities to another client, a former client or a third person, or from the lawyer's own interests. Each potential conflict shall be evaluated with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, particular facts and circumstances of the case, and the child client in mind. Where appropriate, attorneys may be obligated to contact the Office of Disciplinary Counsel to seek an advisory opinion on any potential conflicts.

B. Co-defendants are presumed to have a conflict of interest. Representation of co-defendants where the representation of one client will be directly adverse to another client, or there is a significant risk that the representation of one or more clients will be materially limited by the lawyer's responsibilities to another client, a former client or a third person or by a personal interest of the lawyer is a per se violation of the constitutional guarantee of effective assistance of counsel and the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

C. The attorney's obligation is to the child client. An attorney should not permit a parent or custodian to direct the representation. The attorney should not share information unless disclosure of such information has been approved by the child client. With the child client's permission, the attorney should maintain rapport with the child client's parent or guardian but should not allow that rapport to interfere with the attorney's duties to the child client or the expressed interests of the child client. Where there are conflicts of interests or opinions between the client and the client's parent or custodian, the attorney should not discuss the case with parents and shall not represent the views of a parent that are contrary to the child client's wishes.

§1315. Client Communications

A. The attorney shall keep the child client informed of the developments in the case and the progress of preparing the defense and should promptly comply with all reasonable requests for information.

B. Where the attorney is unable to communicate with the child client or his or her guardian because of language differences, the attorney shall take whatever steps are necessary to ensure that he or she is able to communicate with the client and that the client is able to communicate his or her understanding of the proceedings. Such steps should, if necessary and appropriate, include obtaining funds for an interpreter to assist with pre-adjudication preparation, interviews, and investigation, as well as in-court proceedings.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1317. Client Confidentiality

A. Juvenile defense counsel is bound by attorney-client confidentiality and privilege. The duty of confidentiality that the attorney owes the child client is coextensive with the duty of confidentiality that attorneys owe their adult clients.

B. The attorney should seek from the outset to establish a relationship of trust and confidence with the child client. The attorney should explain that full disclosure to counsel of all facts known to the child client is necessary for effective representation and, at the same time, explain that the attorney's obligation of confidentiality makes privileged the client's disclosures relating to the case.

C. There is no exception to attorney-client confidentiality in juvenile cases for parents or guardians. Juvenile defense counsel has an affirmative obligation to safeguard a child client's information or secrets from parents or guardians. Absent the child client's informed consent, the attorney's interviews with the client shall take place outside the presence of the parents or guardians. Parents or guardians do not have any right to inspect juvenile defense counsel's file, notes, discovery, or any other case-related documents without the client's express consent. While it may often be a helpful or even necessary strategy to enlist the parents or guardians as allies in the case, juvenile defense counsel's primary obligation is to keep the child client's secrets. Information relating to the representation of the child client includes all information relating to the representation, whatever its source. Even if revealing the information might allow the client to receive sorely-needed services, defense counsel is bound to protect the child client's confidences, unless the client gives the attorney explicit permission to reveal the information to get the particular services or disclosure is impliedly authorized to carry out the client's case objectives.

D. In accordance with Louisiana Rule of Professional Conduct 1.6(b), a lawyer may reveal information relating to the representation of a client to the extent the lawyer reasonably believes necessary:

1. to prevent reasonably certain death or substantial bodily harm;

2. to prevent the client from committing a crime or fraud that is reasonably certain to result in substantial injury to the financial interests or property of another and in furtherance of which the client has used or is using the lawyer's services;

3. to prevent, mitigate or rectify substantial injury to the financial interests or property of another that is reasonably certain to result or has resulted from the client's commission of a crime or fraud in furtherance of which the client has used the lawyer's services;

4. to secure legal advice about the lawyer's compliance with the rules of professional conduct;

5. to establish a claim or defense on behalf of the lawyer in a controversy between the lawyer and the client, to establish a defense to a criminal charge or civil claim against the lawyer based upon conduct in which the client was involved, or to respond to allegations in any proceeding concerning the lawyer's representation of the client; or

6. to comply with other law or a court order.

E. Attorneys who use the services of a mental health or social service practitioner should be familiar with the practitioner's legal duties to report instances of child abuse, and the extent to which the attorney's duty of confidentiality or the attorney-client privilege extends to the mental health or social service practitioner. The attorney should also be familiar with the practitioner's obligations to report abuse under the codes of professional ethics that govern the practitioner's professional licensing. The attorney should use professional judgment in engaging the assistance of a mental health or social service practitioner, and when so engaged should take appropriate action to minimize the practitioner's obligation to report information that would otherwise be protected by the attorney-client privilege or the attorney's duty of confidentiality.

F. In the event that the attorney or a member of the defense team discloses information relating to the representation of the client without the client's express or implied authorization pursuant to a professional obligation, mandatory reporting statute, or other reason, the attorney should document the disclosure and the reasons therefor, should inform the client of the disclosure in an age- and developmentally-appropriate manner, and should consider whether the disclosure will render the attorney's continued representation of the client ineffective or whether the disclosure creates an actual or potential conflict of interests in continuing the representation, and take appropriate action pursuant to §1313 of this Part.

G. To observe the attorney's ethical duty to safeguard the child client's confidentiality, attorney-client interviews shall take place in a private environment. This limitation requires that, at the courthouse, juvenile defense counsel should arrange for access to private interview rooms, instead of discussing case specifics with the child client in the hallways; in detention facilities, juvenile defense counsel should have means to talk with the child client out of the earshot of other inmates and guards; and in the courtroom, juvenile defense counsel should ask for a private space in which to consult with the child client and speak with the child client out of range of any microphones or recording devices.

H. An attorney shall exercise discretion in revealing or discussing the contents of psychiatric, psychological, medical and social reports, tests or evaluations bearing on the child client's history or condition. In general, the lawyer should not disclose data or conclusions contained in such reports to the extent that, in the lawyer's judgment based on knowledge of the child client and the child client's family, the revelation would be likely to affect adversely the client's well-being or relationships within the family and disclosure is not necessary to protect the client's interests in the proceeding.

I. An attorney should ensure that communications with a client in an institution, including a detention center, are confidential. One way to ensure confidentiality is to stamp all mail as legal and confidential.

§1318. Confidentiality of Proceedings

A. The attorney should be familiar with the rules pertaining to the closure of proceedings. If necessary to protect the client's interests, an attorney shall ensure that any juvenile proceeding which is meant to be closed to the public remains so and, if necessary, shall request that the court order the courtroom cleared of any unnecessary individuals.

B. In cases where delinquency proceedings are public, to protect the confidential and sometimes embarrassing information involved, the attorney, in consultation with the child client, should move to close the proceedings or request the case to be called last on the docket when the courtroom is empty.

C. The media may report on certain delinquency cases. If a decision is made to speak to the media, the attorney should be cautious due to confidentiality, other Rules of Professional Conduct, the potential for inaccurate reporting and strategic considerations. The attorney representing a child client before the juvenile court should avoid personal publicity connected with the case, both during adjudication and thereafter.

§1319. Case File

A. The attorney has the obligation to ensure that the case file is properly documented to demonstrate adherence to these standards, such as, where relevant, documentation of intake and contact information, client and witness interviews, critical deadlines, motions, and any other relevant information regarding the case. The case file should also contain, where relevant, copies of all pleadings, orders, releases (school, medical, mental health, or other types), discovery, and correspondence associated with the case.

§1323. Stand-In Counsel

A. Any attorney appointed to stand in for another at any delinquency proceeding shall:

1. represent the child zealously as if the child is his or her own client;
2. request continuances if asked to conduct contradictory hearings or contested summary hearings for which the stand-in counsel is unprepared or for which the client has not consented to having stand-in counsel in place of regular counsel, and object on the record to holding such hearing;
3. ensure that the child knows how to contact stand-in counsel in case the child does not hear from the attorney of record;
4. immediately communicate with the attorney of record regarding upcoming dates/hearings, how to contact the child, placement of the child, nature of charges, and other timely issues that the attorney of record may need to know or address; and

5. immediately or within a reasonable time thereafter provide to the child's attorney of record all notes, documents, and any discovery received.

§1325. Caseloads

A. The attorney should not have such a large number of cases that he or she is unable to comply with these guidelines and the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct. Before agreeing to act as the attorney or accepting appointment by a court, the attorney has an obligation to make sure that he or she has sufficient time, resources, knowledge, and experience to offer quality legal services in a particular matter. If, after accepting an appointment, it later appears that the attorney is unable to offer effective representation, the attorney should consider appropriate case law and ethical standards in deciding whether to move to withdraw or take other appropriate action.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2602 (September 2011), amended LR 45:407 (March 2019).

§1327. Social Work and Probation Personnel

A. Attorneys should cooperate with social workers and probation personnel and should instruct the client to do so, except to the extent such cooperation is or will likely become inconsistent with protection of the client's legitimate interests in the proceeding or of any other rights of the client under the law.

§1329. Detention

A. For purposes of appointment of counsel, children are presumed to be indigent. The attorney shall meet with a detained child client within 48 hours of notice of appointment or before the continued custody hearing, whichever is earlier, and shall take other prompt action necessary to provide quality representation, including:

1. personally reviewing the well-being of the child client and the conditions of the facility, and ascertaining the need for any medical or mental health treatment;
2. ascertaining whether the child client was arrested pursuant to a warrant or a timely determination of probable cause by a judicial officer;
3. making a motion for the release of the child client where no determination of probable cause has been made by a judicial officer within 48 hours of arrest or where the child client is held for on misdemeanor allegations committed before the age of 13; and

4. invoking the protections of appropriate constitutional provisions, federal and state laws, statutory provisions, and court rules on behalf of the child client, and revoking any waivers of these protections purportedly given by the child client, as soon as practicable via a notice of appearance or other pleading filed with the state and court.

B. Where the child client is detained, the attorney shall:

1. be familiar with the legal criteria for determining pre-adjudication release and conditions of release, and the procedures that will be followed in setting those conditions, including but not limited to the use and accuracy of any risk assessment instruments;

2. be familiar with the different types of pre-adjudication release conditions the court may set and whether private or public agencies are available to act as a custodian for the child client's release; and

3. be familiar with any procedures available for reviewing the judge's setting of bail.

C. The attorney shall attempt to secure the pre-adjudication release of the child client under the conditions most favorable and acceptable to the client unless contrary to the expressed wishes of the child client.

D. If the child client is detained, the attorney should try to ensure, by oral or written motion prior to any initial court hearing, that the child client does not appear before the judge in inappropriate clothing, shackles or handcuffs. If a juvenile court persists in the indiscriminate shackling of juvenile delinquents, the attorney should consider seeking supervisory review from an appellate court.

E. The attorney should determine whether a parent or other adult is able and willing to assume custody of the child client. Every effort should be made to locate and contact such a responsible adult if none is present at the continued custody hearing.

F. The attorney should identify and arrange the presence of to have witnesses to testify in support of release. This may include a minister or spiritual advisor, teacher, relative, other mentor or other persons who are willing to provide guidance, supervision and positive activities for the youth during release.

G. If the juvenile is released, the attorney should fully explain the conditions of release to the child client and advise him or her of the potential consequences of a violation of those conditions in developmentally appropriate language. If special conditions of release have been imposed (e.g., random drug screening) or other orders restricting the client's conduct have been entered (e.g., a no contact order), the client shall be advised of the legal consequences of failure to comply with such conditions in developmentally appropriate language.

H. The attorney shall be familiar with the detention facilities, particularly with any deficiencies related to the conditions of confinement and services available therein, and with the availability of community placements and services that could serve as alternatives to detention available for placement.

I. Where the child client is detained and unable to obtain pre-adjudication release, the attorney should be aware of any special medical, mental health, education and security needs of the child client and, in consultation with the child client, request that the appropriate officials, including the court, take steps to meet those special needs.

J. Following the continued custody hearing, the attorney should continue to advocate for release or expeditious placement of the child client. If the child client is not released, he or she should be advised of the right to have the placement decision reviewed or appealed.

K. Whenever the child client is held in some form of pre-adjudication detention, the attorney should visit the child client at least every two weeks and personally review his or her well-being, the conditions of the facility, and the opportunities to obtain release. Attorneys representing a child client who is held in a facility outside of the jurisdiction should consider using alternative methods of communication to the extent appropriate.

L. Whenever the child client is held in some form of pre-adjudication detention, the attorney should be prepared for an expedited adjudicatory hearing.

M. Where the child client is not able to obtain release under the conditions set by the court, counsel should consider pursuing modification of the conditions of release under the procedures available.

N. If the court sets conditions of release which require the posting of monetary bond or the posting of real property as collateral for release, counsel should strongly advocate that the court consider the presumptive indigent status of the juvenile and set a reasonable monetary bond within the family's ability to pay. Counsel should argue for an individualized bail amount, as opposed to a preset bail schedule used for adult offenders, and argue the bail criteria found in Children's Code article 824.

O. If the court sets conditions of release which require the posting of monetary bond or the posting of real property as collateral for release, counsel should make sure the child client understands the available options and the procedures that must be followed in posting such assets. Where appropriate, counsel should advise the child client and others acting in his or her behalf how to properly post such assets.

P. The lawyer should never personally guarantee the attendance or behavior of the child client or any other person, whether as surety on a bail bond or otherwise.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2603 (September 2011), amended LR 45:407 (March 2019).

§1331. Initial Interview with Child

A. The attorney should conduct a client interview as soon as practicable in order to obtain the information necessary to provide quality representation at the early stages of the case and to provide the child client with information concerning the representation and the case proceedings. Establishing and maintaining a relationship with the child client is the foundation of quality representation. Irrespective of the child client's age, the attorney should consult with the child client well before each court hearing. The attorney shall explain to the client how to contact the attorney and should promptly comply with child client's requests for contact and assistance.

B. A meeting or conversation conducted in a hallway or holding cell at the courthouse is not a substitute for a thorough interview conducted in private and may waive confidentiality.

C. Prior to conducting the initial interview, the attorney should, where possible:

1. be familiar with the elements of the offense(s) and the potential punishment(s), where the charges against the client are already known;

2. obtain copies of any relevant documents that are available, including copies of any charging documents, recommendations and reports concerning pre-adjudication release, and law enforcement reports that might be available;

3. request mental health, juvenile assessment center, detention center or educational records, including any screenings or assessments, that may help in the initial interview with the client;

D. The purposes of the initial interview are to provide the child client with information concerning the case and to acquire information from the child client concerning the facts of the case.

1. To provide information to the client, the attorney should specifically:

- a. explain the nature of the attorney-client relationship to the child client, including the requirements of confidentiality;

- b. explain the attorney-client privilege and instruct the child client not to talk to anyone about the facts of the case without first consulting with the attorney;

- c. ensure the child client understands that he or she has the right to speak with his or her attorney;

- d. explain the nature of the allegations, what the government must prove, and the likely and maximum potential consequences;

- e. explain a general procedural overview of the progression of the case;

- f. explain the role of each player in the system;

- g. explain the consequences of non-compliance with court orders;

- h. explain how and when to contact the attorney;

- i. provide the names of any other persons who may be contacting the child client on behalf of the attorney;

- j. obtain a signed release authorizing the attorney and/or his or her agent to obtain official records related to the client, including medical and mental health records, school records, employment records, etc.;

- k. discuss arrangements to address the child client's most critical needs (e.g., medical or mental health attention, request for separation during detention, or contact with family or employers); and

1. assess whether the child client is competent to proceed or has a disability that would impact a possible defense or mitigation.

2. For a child client who is detained, the attorney should also:

- a. explain the procedures that will be followed in setting the conditions of pre-adjudication release;

- b. explain the type of information that will be requested in any interview that may be conducted by a pre-adjudication release agency, explain that the child client should not make statements concerning the offense, and explain that the right to not testify against oneself extends to all situations, including mental health evaluations; and

- c. warn the child client of the dangers with regard to the search of client's cell and personal belongings while in custody and the fact that telephone calls, mail, and visitations may be monitored by detention officials.

3. The attorney or a representative of the attorney should collect information from the child client including, but not limited to:

- a. the facts surrounding the charges leading to the child client's detention, to the extent the child client knows and is willing to discuss these facts;

- b. the child client's version of the arrest, with or without a warrant; whether the child client was searched and if anything was seized, with or without warrant or consent; whether the child client was interrogated and if so, whether a statement was given; the child client's physical and mental status at the time any statement was given; whether any samples were provided, such as blood, tissue, hair, DNA, handwriting, etc., and whether any scientific tests were performed on the child client's body or bodily fluids;

- c. the existence of any tangible evidence in the possession of the state (when appropriate, the attorney shall take steps to ensure that this evidence is preserved);

- d. the names and custodial status of all co-defendants and the names of the attorneys for the co-defendants (if counsel has been appointed or retained);

- e. the names and locating information of any witnesses to the crime and/or the arrest, regardless of whether these are witnesses for the prosecution or for the defense;

- f. the child client's current living arrangements, family relationships, and ties to the community, including the length of time his or her family has lived at the current and former addresses, as well as the child client's supervision when at home;

g. any prior names or aliases used, employment record and history, and social security number;

h. the immigration status of the child client and his or her family members, if applicable;

i. the child client's educational history, including current grade level, attendance and any disciplinary history;

j. the child client's physical and mental health, including any impairing conditions such as substance abuse or learning disabilities, and any prescribed medications and other immediate needs;

k. the child client's delinquency history, if any, including arrests, detentions, diversions, adjudications, and failures to appear in court;

l. whether there are any other pending charges against the child client and the identity of any other appointed or retained counsel;

m. whether the child client is on probation (and the nature of the probation) or post-release supervision and, if so, the name of his or her probation officer or counselor and the child client's past or present performance under supervision;

n. the options available to the child client for release if the child client is in secure custody;

o. the names of individuals or other sources that the attorney can contact to verify the information provided by the child client and the permission of the child client to contact those sources;

p. the ability of the child client's family to meet any financial conditions of release (for clients in detention); and

q. where appropriate, evidence of the child client's competence to participate in delinquency proceedings and/or mental state at the time of the offense, including releases from the client for any records for treatment or testing for mental health or mental retardation.

E. Throughout the delinquency process, the attorney should take the time to:

1. keep the child client informed of the nature and status of the proceedings on an ongoing basis;

2. maintain regular contact with the child client during the course of the case and especially before court hearings;

3. review all discovery with the child client as part of the case theory development;

4. promptly respond to telephone calls and other types of contact from the child client, where possible, within one business day or a reasonable time thereafter;

5. counsel the child client on options and related consequences and decisions to be made; and

6. seek the lawful objectives of the child client and not substitute the attorney's judgment for that of the child client in those case decisions that are the responsibility of the child client. Where an attorney believes that the child client's desires are not in his or her best interest, the attorney should discuss the consequences of the child client's position. If the child client maintains his or her position, the attorney should defend the child client's expressed interests vigorously within the bounds of the law.

F. In interviewing a child client, it is proper for the lawyer to question the credibility of the child client's statements or those of any other witness. The lawyer shall not, however, suggest expressly or by implication that the child client or any other witness prepare or give, on oath or to the lawyer, a version of the facts which is in any respect untruthful, nor shall the lawyer intimate that the child client should be less than candid in revealing material facts to the attorney.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2603 (September 2011), amended LR 45:408 (March 2019).

§1333. Transfer to Adult Proceedings

A. The attorney shall be familiar with laws subjecting a child client to the exclusive jurisdiction of a court exercising criminal jurisdiction, including the offenses subjecting the child client to such jurisdiction. Counsel should seek to discover at the earliest opportunity whether transfer will be sought and, if so, the procedure and criteria according to which that determination will be made.

B. Upon learning that transfer will be sought or may be elected, the attorney should fully explain the nature of the proceeding and the consequences of transfer to the child client and the child client's parents. In so doing, counsel may further advise the child client concerning participation in diagnostic and treatment programs that may provide information material to the transfer decision.

C. The attorney should be aware when an indictment may be filed directly in adult court by a district attorney and take actions to prevent such a filing including:

1. promptly investigating all circumstances of the case bearing on the appropriateness of filing the case in adult court and seeking disclosure of any reports or other evidence that the district attorney is using in his or her consideration of a direct filing;

2. moving promptly for appointment of an investigator or expert witness to aid in the preparation of the defense when circumstances warrant; and

3. where appropriate, moving promptly for the appointment of a competency or sanity commission prior to the transfer.

D. Where a district attorney may transfer the case either through indictment filed directly in adult court or by a finding of probable cause at a continued custody hearing in juvenile court, the attorney should present all facts and mitigating evidence to the district attorney to keep the child client in juvenile court. When a finding of probable cause triggers waiver of juvenile court jurisdiction automatically or at the discretion of the prosecutor, the attorney shall seek a postponement of the continued custody hearing and waive any time delays necessary to prepare adequately in order to mount an effective challenge to waive or to negotiate an alternative to waiver.

E. Where the district attorney makes a motion to conduct a hearing to consider whether to transfer the child client, the attorney should prepare in the same way and with as much care as for an adjudication. The attorney should:

1. conduct an in-person interview with the child client;
2. identify, locate and interview exculpatory or mitigating witnesses;
3. consider obtaining an expert witness to testify to the amenability of the child client to rehabilitation; and
4. present all facts and mitigating evidence to the court to keep the child client in juvenile court.

F. In preparing for a transfer hearing, the attorney should be familiar with all the procedural protections available to the child client including but not limited to discovery, cross-examination, compelling witnesses.

G. If the attorney who represented the child client in the delinquency court will not represent the child client in the adult proceeding, the delinquency attorney should ensure the new attorney has all the information acquired to help in the adult proceedings. If possible, the delinquency attorney should assist the new attorney, particularly if certain juvenile issues are to be litigated.

H. If transfer for criminal prosecution is ordered, the lawyer should act promptly to preserve an appeal from that order and should be prepared to make any appropriate motions for post-transfer relief.

§1335. Mental Health Examinations

A. Throughout a delinquency proceeding, either party may request or the judge may order a mental health examination of the child client. Admissions made during such examinations may not be protected from disclosure. The attorney should ensure the child client understands the consequences of admissions during such examinations and advise the client that personal information about the child client or the child client's family may be revealed to the court or other personnel.

§1337. Mental Incapacity to Proceed

A. The attorney should be familiar with procedures for a determination of mental incapacity to proceed under the Louisiana Children's Code and other provisions of Louisiana law.

B. Although the client's expressed interests ordinarily control, the attorney should question capacity to proceed without the child client's approval or over the child client's objection, if necessary.

C. If, at any time, the child client's behavior or mental ability indicates that he or she may be incompetent, the attorney should consider filing a motion for a competency commission.

D. The attorney should prepare for and participate fully in the competency hearing.

E. Prior to the evaluation by the commission, the attorney should request from the child client and provide to the commission all relevant documents including but not limited to the arrest report, prior psychological/psychiatric evaluations, school records and any other important medical records.

F. Where appropriate, the attorney should advise the client of the potential consequences of a finding of incompetence. Prior to any proceeding, the attorney should be familiar with all aspects of the evaluation and should seek additional expert advice where appropriate. If the competency commission's finding is that the child client is competent, where appropriate, the attorney should consider calling an independent mental health expert to testify at the competency hearing.

G. The attorney should be aware that the burden of proof is on the child client to prove incompetency and that the standard of proof is a preponderance of the evidence.

H. If the child client is found incompetent, the attorney should continue to represent the child client's expressed interest until the matter is resolved.

A. The attorney should be familiar with the procedures for determination of sanity at the time of the offense and notice requirements under the Louisiana Children's Code and other provisions of Louisiana law when proceeding with an insanity defense.

B. If the attorney believes that the child client did not appreciate the consequences of his or her actions at the time of the offense, the attorney should consider filing for a sanity commission.

C. The attorney should advise the child client that if he or she is found not delinquent by reason of insanity, the court may involuntarily commit the child client to the Department of Health for treatment. The attorney should be prepared to advocate on behalf of the child client against involuntary commitment and provide other treatment options such as outpatient counseling or services.

D. The attorney should be prepared to raise the issue of sanity during all phases of the proceedings, if the attorney's relationship with the child client reveals that such a plea is appropriate.

E. The attorney should be aware that the child client has the burden of establishing the defense of insanity at the time of the offense by a preponderance of the evidence.

§1341. Manifestation of a Disability

A. Where the child client's actions that are the subject of the delinquency charge suggest a manifestation of a disability, the attorney should argue that the disability prevented the client from having the mental capacity or specific intent to commit the crime. Where appropriate, for school-based offenses, the attorney should argue that the school did not follow the child client's individual education program, which could have prevented the client's behavior. The attorney should seek a judgment of dismissal or a finding that the juvenile is not delinquent. This information may also be used for mitigation at the time of disposition following a plea or a finding of delinquency.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2606 (September 2011), amended LR 45:411 (March 2019).

§1345. Investigation

A. The child client's attorney shall conduct a prompt and diligent independent case investigation. The child client's admissions of responsibility or other statements to counsel do not obviate the need for investigation.

B. The attorney should ensure that the charges and disposition are factually and legally correct and the child client is aware of potential defenses to the charges.

C. The attorney should examine all charging documents to determine the specific charges that have been brought against the child client, including the arrest warrant, accusation and/or indictment documents, and copies of all charging documents in the case. The relevant statutes and precedents should be examined to identify the elements of the offense(s) with which the child client is charged, both the ordinary and affirmative defenses that may be available, any lesser included offenses that may be available, and any defects in the charging documents, constitutional or otherwise, such as statute of limitations or double jeopardy.

D. The attorney should seek investigators and experts, as needed, to assist the attorney in the preparation of a defense, in the understanding of the prosecution's case, or in the rebuttal of the prosecution's case. The attorney should avoid making herself the sole witness to information he or she anticipates introducing or needing to rebut at trial.

E. Where circumstances appear to warrant it, the lawyer should also investigate resources and services available in the community and, if appropriate, recommend them to the child client and child client's family.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2606 (September 2011), amended LR 45:411 (March 2019).

§1347. Diversion/Alternatives

A. The attorney should be familiar with diversionary programs and alternative solutions available in the community. Such programs may include diversion, mediation, or other alternatives that could result in a child client's case being dismissed or handled informally. When appropriate and available, the attorney shall advocate for the use of informal mechanisms that could divert the client's case from the formal court process.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1349. Continued Custody Hearing

A. The attorney should take steps to see that the continued custody hearing is conducted in a timely fashion consistent with the prescribed time limits in the Children's Code unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so (e.g., when the offense charged would warrant an automatic transfer upon a finding of probable cause).

B. In preparing for the continued custody hearing, the attorney should become familiar with:

1. the elements of each of the offenses alleged;
2. the law for establishing probable cause;
3. factual information that is available concerning probable cause;
4. the subpoena process for obtaining compulsory attendance of witnesses at continued custody hearing and the necessary steps to be taken in order to obtain a proper recordation of the proceedings;

5. the child client's custodial situation, including all persons living in the home;

6. alternative living arrangements for the client where the current custodial situation is an obstacle to release from detention; and

7. potential conditions for release from detention and local options to fulfill those conditions, including the criteria for setting bail and options for the family to meet bail requirements.

§1351. Appearance to Answer

A. The attorney should take steps to see that the answer hearing is conducted in a timely fashion consistent with the prescribed time limits in the Children's Code unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so.

B. The attorney should preserve the child client's rights at the appearance to answer on the charges by requesting a speedy trial, preserving the right to file motions, demanding discovery, and entering a plea of denial in most circumstances, unless there is a sound tactical reason for not doing so or the child client expresses an informed decision after having been thoroughly advised of both the consequences of entering an admission and alternative options.

C. Where appropriate, the attorney should arrange for the court to address any immediate needs of the child client, such as educational/vocational needs, emotional/mental/physical health needs, and safety needs.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1353. Child's Right to Speedy Trial

A. The attorney should be aware of and protect the child client's right to a speedy trial under the Children's Code and constitutional law, unless strategic considerations warrant otherwise. Requests or agreements to continue a contested hearing date should not be made without consultation with the child client. The attorney shall diligently work to complete the investigation and preparation in order to be fully prepared for all court proceedings. In the event an attorney finds it necessary to seek additional time to adequately prepare for a proceeding, the attorney should consult with the child client and discuss seeking a continuance of the upcoming proceeding. Whenever possible, written motions for continuance made in advance of the proceeding are preferable to oral requests for continuance. All requests for a continuance should be supported by well-articulated reasons on the record in the event it becomes an appealable issue.

B. If the child client's adjudication hearing is set outside the applicable time limitation, once the time delay lapses the attorney shall file a motion to dismiss the petition. If this motion is denied by the juvenile court, the attorney shall make an adequate record and seek supervisory review.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2607 (September 2011), amended LR 45:412 (March 2019).

§1355. Discovery

A. The attorney should pursue discovery, including filing a motion for discovery and conducting appropriate interviews. The attorney has a duty to pursue, as soon as practicable, discovery procedures provided by the rules of the jurisdiction and to pursue such informal discovery methods as may be available to supplement the factual investigation of the case.

B. In considering discovery requests, the attorney should take into account that such requests may trigger reciprocal discovery obligations. The attorney shall be familiar with the rules regarding reciprocal discovery. The attorney shall be aware of any potential obligations and time limits regarding reciprocal discovery. Where the attorney intends to offer an alibi defense, he or she shall provide notice to the district attorney as required by law.

C. The attorney should consider seeking discovery, at a minimum, of the following items:

1. potential exculpatory information;
2. potential mitigating information;
3. the names and addresses of all prosecution witnesses, their prior statements, and criminal/delinquency records, if any;
4. all oral and/or written statements by the child client, and the details of the circumstances under which the statements were made;
5. the prior delinquency record of the child client and any evidence of other misconduct that the government may intend to use against the accused;
6. all books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, buildings or places, or copies, descriptions, or other representations, or portions thereof, relevant to the case;
7. all results or reports of relevant physical or mental examinations, and of scientific tests or experiments, or copies thereof;
8. statements of co-defendants;
9. all investigative reports by all law enforcement and other agencies involved in the case; and

10. all records of evidence collected and retained by law enforcement.

D. The attorney shall monitor the dates to ensure the state complies with its discovery obligations. If discovery violations occur, the attorney should seek prompt compliance and/or sanctions for failure to comply.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2607 (September 2011), amended LR 45:412 (March 2019).

§1357. Theory of the Case

A. During the investigation and adjudication hearing preparation, the attorney should develop and continually reassess a theory of the case, and this theory should inform all motions practice and trial strategy in order to yield the best result.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2607 (September 2011), amended LR 45:412 (March 2019).

§1359. Motions

A. The attorney should file motions, responses or objections as necessary to zealously represent the client. The attorney should consider filing an appropriate motion whenever there exists a good faith reason to believe that the child client is entitled to relief that the court has discretion to grant. The attorney should file motions as soon as possible due to the time constraints of juvenile court.

B. The decision to file motions should be made after considering the applicable law in light of the known circumstances of each case.

C. Among the issues that counsel should consider addressing in a motion include, but are not limited to:

1. the pre-adjudication custody of the child client;
2. the constitutionality of the implicated statute or statutes (in which case counsel should be mindful that the Attorney General must be served with a copy of such a motion);
3. the constitutionality of the implicated statute or statutes;
4. the potential defects in the charging process;
5. the sufficiency of the charging document;
6. the propriety and prejudice of any joinder of charges or defendants in the charging document;
7. the discovery obligations of the state and the reciprocal discovery obligations of the defense;
8. the suppression of evidence gathered as the result of violations of the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, state constitutional provisions or statutes, including:
  - a. the fruits of illegal searches or seizures;
  - b. involuntary statements or confessions;
  - c. statements or confessions obtained in violation of the child client's right to an attorney, or privilege against self-incrimination; or
  - d. unreliable identification evidence that would give rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification.

9. the suppression of evidence gathered in violation of any right, duty or privilege arising out of state or local law;

10. in consultation with the child client, a mental or physical examination of the child client;

11. relief due to mental incapacity, incompetency, mental retardation or mental illness;

12. access to resources or experts who may be denied to the child client because of his or her indigence;

13. the child client's right to a speedy trial;

14. the child client's right to a continuance in order to adequately prepare his or her case;

15. matters of evidence which may be appropriately litigated by means of a pre-adjudication motion in limine;

16. motion for judgment of dismissal; or

17. matters of adjudication or courtroom procedures, including inappropriate clothing or restraints of the client.

18. matters related to the conditions under which the child client is confined, including the implementation of a program of education or other services while in confinement.

D. The attorney should withdraw a motion or decide not to file a motion only after careful consideration, and only after determining whether the filing of a motion may be necessary to protect the child client's rights, including later claims of waiver or procedural default. The attorney has a continuing duty to file motions as new issues arise or new evidence is discovered.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1360. Interlocutory Writs of Review

A. Any interlocutory decision by the juvenile court is subject to the supervisory review of the Louisiana Courts of Appeal pursuant to an application for a writ of review. Writ applications from juvenile proceedings receive priority treatment and should be filed no later than 15 days from the date of the ruling at issue. Counsel should be familiar with the procedures for seeking supervisory writs, including the procedure for seeking an emergency writ of review.

B. If counsel files and argues an unsuccessful motion, counsel should strongly consider seeking supervisory review to the Louisiana Courts of Appeal. In situations where the court makes a spontaneous improper ruling, counsel should make an immediate oral motion in opposition, state any reasons for the opposition on the record, and notice an intention to seek supervisory writs on the matter.

§1361. Plea Negotiations

A. The attorney should explore with the child client the possibility and desirability of reaching a negotiated disposition of the charges rather than proceeding to an adjudication, and in doing so, should fully explain the rights that would be waived by a decision to enter a plea and not to proceed to adjudication. After the attorney is fully informed on the facts and the law, he or she should, with complete candor, advise the child client concerning all aspects of the case, including counsel's frank estimate of the probable outcome. Counsel should not understate or overstate the risks, hazards or prospects of the case in order unduly or improperly to influence the child client's determination of his or her posture in the matter.

B. The attorney shall not accept any plea agreement without the child client's express authorization.

C. The existence of ongoing tentative plea negotiations with the prosecution should not prevent the attorney from taking steps necessary to preserve a defense nor should the existence of ongoing plea negotiations prevent or delay the attorney's investigation into the facts of the case and preparation of the case for further proceedings, including adjudication.

D. The attorney should participate in plea negotiations to seek the best result possible for the child client consistent with the child client's interests and directions to the attorney. The attorney should consider narrowing contested issues or reaching global resolution of multiple pending cases. Prior to entering into any negotiations, the attorney shall have sufficient knowledge of the strengths and weaknesses of the child client's case, or of the issue under negotiation, enabling the attorney to advise the child client of the risks and benefits of settlement.

E. In conducting plea negotiations, the attorney should be familiar with:

1. the various types of pleas that may be agreed to, including an admission, a plea of nolo contendere, and a plea in which the child client is not required to personally acknowledge his or her guilt (Alford plea);
2. the advantages and disadvantages of each available plea according to the circumstances of the case including collateral consequences of a plea;
3. whether the plea agreement is binding on the court and the Office of Juvenile Justice.
4. whether the plea is expungable; and

5. whether the plea will subject the child client to requirements to register as a sex offender.

F. In conducting plea negotiations, the attorney should attempt to become familiar with the practices and policies of the particular jurisdiction, judge and prosecuting authority, and probation department that may affect the content and likely results of negotiated pleas.

G. In preparing to enter a plea before the court, the attorney should explain to the child client the nature of the plea hearing and prepare the child client for the role he or she will play in the hearing, including answering questions of the judge and providing a statement concerning the offense and the appropriate disposition. Specifically, the attorney should:

1. be satisfied there is a factual or strategic basis for the plea or admission or Alford plea;
2. make certain that the child client understands the rights he or she will waive by entering the plea and that the child client's decision to waive those rights is knowing, voluntary and intelligent; and
3. be satisfied that the plea is voluntary and that the child client understands the nature of the charges;

H. When the plea is against the advice of the attorney or without adequate time to investigate, the attorney should indicate this on the record.

§1365. Preparing the Child for Hearings

A. The attorney should explain to the child client, in a developmentally appropriate manner, what is expected to happen before, during and after each hearing.

B. The attorney should advise the client as to suitable courtroom dress and demeanor. If the client is detained, the attorney should consider requesting the client's appearance unshackled and unchained. The attorney should also be alert to the possible prejudicial effects of the client appearing before the court in jail or other inappropriate clothing.

C. The attorney should plan with the client the most convenient system for conferring throughout the delinquency proceedings.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

12. copies of all relevant statutes and cases; and
13. outline or draft of closing argument.

B. The attorney should be fully informed as to the rules of evidence, court rules, and the law relating to all stages of the delinquency proceedings, and should be familiar with legal and evidentiary issues that can reasonably be anticipated to arise in the adjudication.

C. The attorney should decide if it is beneficial to secure an advance ruling on issues likely to arise at trial (e.g., use of prior adjudications to impeach the child client) and, where appropriate, the attorney should prepare motions and memoranda for such advance rulings.

D. The attorney should take steps to see that the adjudication hearing is conducted in a timely fashion consistent with the prescribed time limits in the Children's Code for conducting the hearing unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so, and should request appropriate relief for failure to follow the prescribed time limits.

E. Throughout the adjudication process, the attorney should endeavor to establish a proper record for appellate review. The attorney shall be familiar with the substantive and procedural law regarding the preservation of legal error for appellate review and should ensure that a sufficient record is made to preserve appropriate and potentially meritorious legal issues for such appellate review unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so.

F. Where necessary, the attorney should seek a court order to have the child client available for conferences.

G. Throughout preparation and adjudication, the attorney should consider the potential effects that particular actions may have upon sentencing if there is a finding of delinquency.

A. The attorney should make appropriate motions, including motions in limine and evidentiary and other objections, to advance the child client's position at adjudication or during other hearings. The attorney should be aware of the burdens of proof, evidentiary principles and court procedures applying to the motion hearing. If necessary, the attorney should file briefs in support of evidentiary issues. Further, during all hearings, the attorney should preserve legal issues for appeal, as appropriate.

B. Control of proceedings is principally the responsibility of the court, and the lawyer should comply promptly with all rules, orders, and decisions of the judge. Counsel has the right to make respectful requests for reconsideration of adverse rulings and has the duty to set forth on the record adverse rulings or judicial conduct that the attorney considers prejudicial to the child client's legitimate interests.

C. The attorney should be prepared to object to the introduction of any evidence damaging to the child client's interests if counsel has any legitimate doubt concerning its admissibility under constitutional or local rules of evidence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2609 (September 2011), amended LR 45:414 (March 2019).

§1371. Sequestration of Witnesses

A. Prior to delivering an opening statement, the attorney should ask for the rule of sequestration of witnesses to be invoked, unless a strategic reason exists for not doing so.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2609 (September 2011).

§1373. Opening Statements

A. Counsel should prepare and request to make an opening statement to provide an overview of the case unless a strategic reason exists for not doing so. The attorney should be familiar with the law and the individual trial judge's rules regarding the permissible content of an opening statement. The attorney should consider the strategic advantages and disadvantages of disclosure of particular information during the opening statement and of deferring the opening statement until the beginning of the defense case.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2609 (September 2011), amended LR 45:414 (March 2019).

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2609 (September 2011).

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2610 (September 2011), amended LR 45:414 (March 2019).

§1379. Cross-Examination

A. Counsel should use cross-examination strategically to further the theory of the case. In preparing for cross-examination, the attorney should be familiar with the applicable law and procedures concerning cross-examinations and impeachment of witnesses. In order to develop material for impeachment or to discover documents subject to disclosure, the attorney should be prepared to question witnesses as to the existence of prior statements that they may have made or adopted.

B. In preparing for cross-examination, the attorney should:

1. obtain the prior records of all state and defense witnesses;
2. be prepared to examine any witness;
3. consider the need to integrate cross-examination, the theory of the defense, and closing argument;
4. consider whether cross-examination of each individual witness is likely to generate helpful information;
5. anticipate those witnesses the prosecutor might call in its case-in-chief or in rebuttal;
6. consider a cross-examination plan for each of the anticipated witnesses;
7. be alert to inconsistencies in witnesses' testimony;
8. be alert to possible variations in witnesses' testimony;

9. review all prior statements of the witnesses and any prior relevant testimony of the prospective witnesses;

12. be alert to issues relating to witness credibility, including bias and motive for testifying.

C. The lawyer should be prepared to examine fully any witness whose testimony is damaging to the child client's interests.

D. The lawyer's knowledge that a witness is telling the truth does not preclude cross-examination in all circumstances but may affect the method and scope of cross-examination.

E. The attorney should consider conducting a voir dire examination of potential prosecution witnesses who may not be competent to give particular testimony, including expert witnesses whom the prosecutor may call. The attorney should be aware of the law of competency of witnesses, in general, and admission of expert testimony, in particular, in order to be able to raise appropriate objections.

F. Before beginning cross-examination, the attorney should ascertain whether the prosecutor has provided copies of all prior statements of the witnesses as required by law. If the attorney does not receive prior statements of prosecution witnesses until they have completed direct examination, the attorney should request adequate time to review these documents before commencing cross-examination.

A. Where appropriate, at the close of the prosecution's case, the attorney should move for a dismissal of petition on each count charged. ### §1383. Defense Strategy

A. The attorney should develop, in consultation with the child client, an overall defense strategy. In deciding on a defense strategy, the attorney should consider whether the child client's legal interests are best served by not putting on a defense case, and instead relying on the prosecution's failure to meet its constitutional burden of proving each element beyond a reasonable doubt. In developing and presenting the defense case, the attorney should consider the implications it may have for a rebuttal by the prosecutor.

1. develop a plan for direct examination of each potential defense witness;

2. determine the implications that the order of witnesses may have on the defense case;

3. determine what facts necessary for the defense case can be elicited through the cross-examination of the prosecution's witnesses;

4. consider the possible use of character witnesses, to the extent that use of character witnesses does not allow the prosecution to introduce potentially harmful evidence against the child client;

5. consider the need for expert witnesses and what evidence must be submitted to lay the foundation for the expert's testimony;

6. review all documentary evidence that must be presented;

7. review all tangible evidence that must be presented; and

8. after the state's presentation of evidence and a discussion with the child client, make the decision whether to call any witnesses.

§1389. Child's Right to Testify

A. The attorney shall respect the child client's right to decide whether to testify.

B. The attorney shall discuss with the child client all of the considerations relevant to the child client's decision to testify. This advice should include consideration of the child client's need or desire to testify, any repercussions of testifying, the necessity of the child client's direct testimony, the availability of other evidence or hearsay exceptions that may substitute for direct testimony by the child client, and the child client's developmental ability to provide direct testimony and withstand possible cross-examination.

C. The attorney should be familiar with his or her ethical responsibilities that may be applicable if the child client insists on testifying untruthfully. If the child client indicates an intent to commit perjury, the attorney shall advise the child client against taking the stand to testify falsely and, if necessary, take appropriate steps to avoid lending aid to perjury. If the child client persists in a course of action involving the attorney's services that the attorney reasonably believes is criminal or fraudulent, the attorney should seek the leave of the court to withdraw from the case. If withdrawal from the case is not feasible or is not permitted by the court, or if the situation arises during adjudication without notice, the attorney shall not lend aid to perjury or use the perjured testimony. The attorney should maintain a record of the advice provided to the child client and the child client's decision concerning whether to testify.

D. The attorney should protect the child client's privilege against self-incrimination in juvenile court proceedings. When the child client has elected not to testify, the lawyer should be alert to invoke the privilege and should insist on its recognition unless the client competently decides that invocation should not be continued.

§1391. Preparing the Child Client to Testify

A. If the child client decides to testify, the attorney should prepare the child client to testify. This should include familiarizing the child client with the courtroom, court procedures, and what to expect during direct and cross-examination. If possible, prior to the adjudication hearing the attorney should conduct a mock direct and cross-examination on the child client with a separate attorney acting as prosecutor. Often the decision whether to testify may change at trial. Thus, the attorney should prepare the case for either contingency.

§1393. Questioning the Child Client

A. The attorney should seek to ensure that questions to the child client are phrased in a developmentally appropriate manner. The attorney should object to any inappropriate questions by the court or an opposing attorney.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2611 (September 2011), amended LR 45:415 (March 2019).

§1395. Closing Arguments

A. Counsel shall prepare a closing argument and shall deliver it at the conclusion of the hearing unless there is a strategic reason not to do so. The attorney should be familiar with the court rules, applicable statutes and law, and the individual judge's practice concerning time limits and objections during closing argument, and provisions for rebuttal argument by the prosecution.

§1397. Motion for a New Trial

A. The attorney should be familiar with the procedures available to request a new trial including the time period for filing such a motion, the effect it has upon the time to file a notice of appeal, and the grounds that can be raised.

B. When a judgment of delinquency has been entered against the client after trial, the attorney should consider whether it is appropriate to file a motion for a new trial with the trial court. In deciding whether to file such a motion, the factors the attorney should consider include:

1. the likelihood of success of the motion, given the nature of the error(s) that can be raised; and
2. the effect that such a motion might have upon the client's appellate rights, including whether the filing of such a motion is necessary to, or will assist in, preserving the child client's right to raise on appeal the issues that might be raised in the new trial motion.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2611 (September 2011), amended LR 45:415 (March 2019).

§1399. Expungement

A. The attorney should inform the child client of any procedures available for requesting that the record of conviction be expunged or sealed. The attorney should explain that some contents of juvenile court records may be made public (e.g., when a violent crime has been committed) and that there are limitations on the expungement of records.

B. The attorney should provide assistance with the expungement procedure if requested, when the client appears eligible for expungement, including active representation of the child client in any hearing related to the expungement request.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2611 (September 2011), amended LR 45:415 (March 2019).

§1503. Defense's Active Participation in Designing the Disposition

A. The active participation of the child client's attorney at disposition is essential. In many cases, the attorney's most valuable service to the child client will be rendered at this stage of the proceeding. Counsel should have the disposition hearing held on a subsequent date after the adjudication, unless there is a strategic reason for waiving the delay between adjudication and disposition.

B. Prior to disposition there may be non-court meetings and staffings that can affect the juvenile's placement or liberty interest. The attorney should attend or participate in these, where possible.

C. The attorney should not make or agree to a specific dispositional recommendation without the child client's consent.

A. The child client's attorney should prepare for a disposition hearing as the attorney would for any other evidentiary hearing, including the consideration of calling appropriate witnesses and the preparation of evidence in mitigation of or support of the recommended disposition. Among the attorney's obligations regarding the disposition hearing are:

1. to ensure all information presented to the court which may harm the child client and which is not accurate and truthful or is otherwise improper is stricken from the text of the predisposition investigation report;

2. to develop a plan which seeks to achieve the least restrictive and burdensome sentencing alternative that is most acceptable to the child client, and which can reasonably be obtained based on the facts and circumstances of the offense, the child client's background, the applicable sentencing provisions, and other information pertinent to the disposition;

3. to ensure all reasonably available mitigating and favorable information, which is likely to benefit the child client, is presented to the court;

4. to consider preparing a letter or memorandum to the judge or juvenile probation officer that highlights the child client's strengths and the appropriateness of the disposition plan proposed by the defense; and

5. where a defendant chooses not to proceed to disposition, to ensure that a plea agreement is negotiated with consideration of the disposition hearing, correctional, financial and collateral implications.

B. The attorney should be familiar with disposition provisions and options applicable to the case, including but not limited to:

1. any disposition assessment tools;
2. detention including any mandatory minimum requirements;
3. deferred disposition and diversionary programs;
4. probation or suspension of disposition and permissible conditions of probation;

11. the requirement to submit a DNA sample;

12. deportation/removal and other immigration consequences;

13. the loss of other rights (e.g., loss of the right to vote, to carry a firearm or to hold public office);

14. the availability of juvenile arrest or court records to the public, in certain cases; or

15. the transmission of juvenile arrest records, court records, or identifying information to federal law enforcement agencies.

D. The attorney should be familiar with disposition hearing procedures, including:

1. the effect that plea negotiations may have upon the disposition discretion of the court and/or the Office of Juvenile Justice;
2. the availability of an evidentiary hearing and the applicable rules of evidence and burdens of proof at such a hearing;
3. the use of "victim impact" evidence at any disposition hearing;
4. the right of the child client to speak prior to receiving the disposition;

§1507. Preparing the Child Client for the Disposition Hearing

A. In preparing for the disposition hearing, counsel should consider the need to:

1. explain to the child client the nature of the disposition hearing, the issues involved, the applicable sentencing requirements, disposition options and alternatives available to the court, and the likely and possible consequences of the disposition alternatives;
2. explain fully and candidly to the child client the nature, obligations, and consequences of any proposed dispositional plan, including the meaning of conditions of probation or conditional release, the characteristics of any institution to which commitment is possible, and the probable duration of the child client's responsibilities under the proposed dispositional plan;

3. obtain from the child client relevant information concerning such subjects as his or her background and personal history, prior criminal or delinquency record, employment history and skills, education, and medical history and condition, and obtain from the child client sources through which the information provided can be corroborated;

4. prepare the child client to be interviewed by the official preparing the predisposition report, including informing the child client of the effects that admissions and other statements may have upon an appeal, retrial or other judicial proceedings, such as forfeiture or restitution proceedings;

5. inform the client of his or her right to speak at the disposition hearing and assist the client in preparing the statement, if any, to be made to the court, considering the possible consequences that any admission to committing delinquent acts may have upon an appeal, subsequent retrial or trial on other offenses;

6. when psychological or psychiatric evaluations are ordered by the court or arranged by the attorney prior to disposition, the attorney should explain the nature of the procedure to the child client and the potential lack of confidentiality of disclosures to the evaluator;

7. ensure the child client has adequate time to examine the predisposition report, if one is utilized by the court; and

8. maintain regular contact with the child client prior to the disposition hearing and inform the client of the steps being taken in preparation for disposition.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2612 (September 2011), amended LR 45:416 (March 2019).

§1509. Predisposition Report

A. Where the court uses a predisposition report, counsel should be familiar with the procedures concerning the preparation, submission, and verification of the predisposition report. Counsel should be prepared to use the predisposition report in defense of the child client.

B. Counsel should be familiar with the practices of the officials who prepare the predisposition report and the defendant's rights in that process, including access to the predisposition report by the attorney and the child client, and ability to waive such a report, if it is in the child client's interest to do so.

C. Counsel should provide to the official preparing the report relevant information favorable to the client, including, where appropriate, the child client's version of the alleged act. Counsel should also take appropriate steps to ensure that erroneous or misleading information which may harm the child client is deleted from the report and to preserve and protect the child client's interests, including requesting that a new report be prepared with the challenged or unproven information deleted before the report or memorandum is distributed to the Office of Juvenile Justice or treatment officials.

D. In preparation for a disposition hearing, the attorney should ensure receipt of the disposition report no later than 72 hours prior to the disposition hearing. Upon receipt of this report, the attorney should review the report with the client, ensure its accuracy and prepare a response to the report. Counsel should prepare a written dispositional plan that counsel and the client agree will best achieve the client's dispositional goals. Counsel should consider consulting with social service experts or other appropriate experts to develop the dispositional plan.

§1511. Prosecution's Disposition Position

A. The attorney should attempt to determine, unless there is a sound tactical reason for not doing so, whether the prosecution will advocate that a particular type or length of disposition be imposed and attempt to persuade the district attorney to support the child client's requested disposition.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1513. Disposition Hearing

A. The attorney should take steps to see that the disposition hearing is conducted in a timely fashion consistent with the prescribed time limits in the Children's Code for conducting the disposition hearing unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so, and should request appropriate relief for failure to follow the prescribed time limits.

B. The attorney should be prepared at the disposition hearing to take the steps necessary to advocate fully for the requested disposition and to protect the child client's interest.

C. Where the dispositional hearing is not separate from adjudication or where the court does not have before it all evidence required by statute, rules of court or the circumstances of the case, the lawyer should seek a continuance until such evidence can be presented if to do so would serve the child client's interests.

D. The lawyer at disposition should examine fully and, where possible, impeach any witness whose evidence is damaging to the child client's interests and to challenge the accuracy, credibility, and weight of any reports, written statements, or other evidence before the court. The lawyer should not knowingly limit or forego examination or contradiction by proof of any witness, including a social worker or probation department officer, when failure to examine fully will prejudice the child client's interests. Counsel should seek to compel the presence of witnesses whose statements of fact or opinion are before the court or the production of other evidence on which conclusions of fact presented at disposition are based.

E. Where information favorable to the child client will be disputed or challenged, the attorney should be prepared to present supporting evidence, including testimony of witnesses, to establish the facts favorable to the child client.

F. Where the court has the authority to do so, counsel should request specific recommendations from the court concerning the place of detention, probation or suspension of part or all of the sentence, psychiatric treatment or drug rehabilitation.

G. During the hearing if the court is indicating a commitment is likely, the attorney should attempt to ensure that the child client is placed in the most appropriate, least restrictive placement available.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1515. Post-Disposition Counseling

A. When a disposition order has been entered, it is the attorney's duty to explain the nature, obligations and consequences of the disposition to the child client and to urge upon the child client the need for accepting and cooperating with the dispositional order. The child client should also understand the consequences of a violation of the order.

B. Where the court places the child client in the custody of the Office of Juvenile Justice, with the child client's permission and a parent's written release, the attorney should do the following:

1. assert the child client's rights to subsequent review hearings as provided by law;
2. provide the Office of Juvenile Justice with a copy of the child client's education records; and
3. advise the child client on his rights to continued representation post-disposition.

C. If appeal from either the adjudicative or dispositional decree is contemplated, the child client should be advised of that possibility, and the attorney shall do the following:

1. counsel compliance with the court's decision during the interim; and
2. request that any order of commitment be stayed pending appeal, if applicable.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2613 (September 2011), amended LR 45:417 (March 2019).

§1517. Reviewing or Drafting Court Orders

A. Counsel's attorney should review all written orders or when necessary draft orders to ensure that the child client's interests are protected, to ensure the orders are clear and specific, and to ensure the order accurately reflects the court's oral pronouncement and complies with the applicable law.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1519. Monitoring the Child Client's Post-disposition Detention

A. The attorney should monitor the child client's post-disposition detention status and ensure that the child client is placed in a commitment program in a timely manner as provided by law, that the child client is receiving appropriate or required rehabilitative services, that the child client is receiving appropriate educational services, and that the child client is physically, mentally, and emotionally safe in the child client's facility.

B. When a child client is committed to a program, the attorney shall provide the child client information on how to contact the attorney to discuss concerns.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

§1521. Post-Disposition Representation

A. The lawyer's responsibility to the child client does not end with the entry of a final dispositional order. Louisiana law entitles juveniles to representation at every stage of the proceeding, including post-disposition matters. The attorney should be prepared to counsel and render or assist in securing appropriate legal services for the child client in matters arising from the original proceeding.

B. The lawyer should conduct post-dispositional proceedings according to the principles generally governing representation in juvenile court matters. The attorney should be prepared to actively participate in hearings regarding probation status or conditions, conditions of confinement, and post-dispositional services. When a child client is committed to a program and the attorney receives notice of an Office of Juvenile Justice transfer staffing or decision, the attorney should review and challenge the decision and, if appropriate, bring the matter to the trial court.

C. The lawyer should monitor the child client's progress in secure care and when appropriate file necessary motions for modification of disposition on behalf of the child client.

D. In providing representation with respect to post-dispositional proceedings, the attorney should do the following:

1. Contact both the child client and the agency or institution involved in the disposition plan at regular intervals in order to ensure that the child client's rights are respected and, where necessary, to counsel the child client and the child client's family concerning the dispositional plan. The attorney should actively seek court intervention when the child client is subjected to inappropriate treatment or conditions or when the child client's rights are violated.

2. Prepare for hearings, whether the review is sought by the child client or is a review hearing provided by law, by conducting an appropriate investigation including the following:

a. request and review documents from the child client's probation file or Office of Juvenile Justice file;

b. interview the child client and the child client's collateral contacts, including the adult or adults who are expected to assume custody of the child client when the child client is released from custody or supervision, or to provide re-entry support if the child client has reached the age of majority while in custody;

c. In consultation with the child client and available social services or other appropriate professionals, decide an appropriate plan for post-dispositional proceedings, including:

i. Whether to request a modification of disposition, including termination of probation, release from state custody or step-down to non-secure custody;

ii. Whether to request a modification of conditions of confinement or a modification of conditions of probation; and

d. Attempt to determine, unless there is a sound tactical reason for not doing so, the prosecution's position with respect to the hearing and attempt to persuade the district attorney to support the child client's position with respect to the hearing.

3. Conduct any post-dispositional hearings according to the principles generally governing representation in juvenile court matters including the following:

a. Develop, in consultation with the child client, a theory of the hearing and a plan for presenting and advancing the theory, including the presentment of friendly witnesses and documentation;

b. Request a contradictory hearing when necessary to establish disputed facts, develop evidence, or assert the child client's rights;

c. In a contradictory hearing, examine fully and, where possible, impeach any witness whose evidence is damaging to the child client's interests and to challenge the accuracy, credibility, and weight of any reports, written statements, or other evidence before the court. The lawyer should not knowingly limit or forego examination or contradiction by proof of any witness, including a social worker or probation department officer, when failure to examine fully will prejudice the child client's interests. Counsel should seek to compel the presence of witnesses whose statements of fact or opinion are before the court or the production of other evidence on which conclusions of fact presented at disposition are based.

d. Present supporting evidence, including testimony of witnesses, to establish the facts favorable to the child client.

e. Advocate for the child client's interests in argument, whether in summary hearing or contradictory hearing.

E. Where the lawyer is aware that the child client or the child client's family needs and desires community or other medical, psychiatric, psychological, social or legal services, he or she may render assistance in arranging for such services.

F. Even after an attorney's representation in a case is complete, the attorney should comply with a child client's reasonable requests for information and materials.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2614 (September 2011), amended LR 45:417 (March 2019).

§1523. Child Client's Right to Appeal

A. Following a delinquency adjudication, the attorney should inform the child client of his or her right to appeal the judgment of the court and the action that must be taken to perfect an appeal. This discussion should include the details of the appellate process including the time frames of decisions, the child client's obligations pending appeal, and the possibility of success on appeal.

B. Counsel representing the child client following a delinquency adjudication should promptly undertake any factual or legal investigation in order to determine whether grounds exist for relief from juvenile court or administrative action. If there is reasonable prospect of a favorable result, the lawyer should advise the child client of the nature, consequences, probable outcome, and advantages or disadvantages associated with such proceedings.

C. After disposition, the attorney should consider filing a motion to reconsider the disposition. The attorney should consider an appeal of the disposition where appropriate.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2614 (September 2011), amended LR 45:418 (March 2019).

§1525. Counsel's Participation in Appeal

A. A lawyer who has represented a client through adjudication shall be prepared to continue representation in appellate actions, whether affirmative or defensive, unless new counsel is appointed at the request of the client or, in the case of a felony-grade delinquency matter, the trial attorney appropriately utilizes the services of the Louisiana Appellate Project, to the extent those appellate services are available.

B. Whether or not trial counsel expects to conduct the appeal, he or she shall promptly inform the child client of the right to appeal and take all steps necessary to protect that right until appellate counsel is substituted or the child client decides not to exercise this privilege.

C. If after such consultation and if the child client wishes to appeal the order, the lawyer should take all steps necessary to perfect the appeal and seek appropriate temporary orders or extraordinary writs necessary to protect the interests of the client during the pendency of the appeal.

D. In circumstances where the child client wants to file an appeal, the attorney should file the notice in accordance with the rules of the court and take such other steps as are necessary to preserve the defendant's right to appeal, such as ordering transcripts of the trial proceedings.

E. Where the child client indicates a desire to appeal the judgment and/or disposition of the court, counsel should consider requesting a stay of execution of any disposition, particularly one involving out-of-home placement or secure care. If the stay is denied, the attorney should consider appealing the stay. The attorney should also inform the child client of any right that may exist to be released on bail pending the disposition of the appeal. Where an appeal is taken and the child client requests bail pending appeal, trial counsel should cooperate with appellate counsel in providing information to pursue the request for bail.

F. Where the child client takes an appeal, trial counsel should cooperate in providing information to appellate counsel (where new counsel is handling the appeal) concerning the proceedings in the trial court.

G. Where there exists an adequate pool of competent counsel available for assignment to appeals from juvenile court orders and substitution will not work substantial disadvantage to the child client's interests, new counsel may be appointed in place of trial counsel.

H. When the appellate decision is received, the attorney or substitute appellate counsel should explain the outcome of the case to the client.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2614 (September 2011), amended LR 45:418 (March 2019).

§1527. Probation Revocation Representation

A. Trial counsel should be prepared to continue representation if revocation of the child client's probation or parole is sought, unless new counsel is appointed.

B. The attorney appointed to represent the child client charged with a violation of probation should prepare in the same way and with as much care as for an adjudication. The attorney should:

1. conduct an in-person interview with the child client;
2. review the probation department file;
3. identify, locate and interview exculpatory or mitigating witnesses;
4. consider reviewing the child client's participation in mandated programs; and
5. consider obtaining expert assistance to test the validity of relevant scientific evidence (e.g., urinalysis results).

C. In preparing for a probation revocation, the attorney should be familiar with all the procedural protections available to the child client including but not limited to discovery, cross-examination, compelling witnesses and timely filing of violations.

D. When representing a child client in a revocation of probation hearing who was not a client of the attorney at the initial adjudication, the attorney should find out if the child client was represented by an attorney in the underlying offense for which the child client was placed on probation. The attorney may have an argument if the child client entered an admission without counsel and did not give a valid waiver of counsel.

E. The attorney should prepare the child client for the probation revocation hearing including the possibility of the child client or parent being called as witnesses by the State. The attorney should also prepare the child client for all possible consequences of a decision to enter a plea or the consequences of a probation revocation.

F. In preparing for the probation revocation, the attorney should prepare alternative dispositions including the possibility of negotiated alternatives such as a pre-hearing contempt proceeding or an additional disposition short of revocation.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2615 (September 2011), amended LR 45:419 (March 2019).

§1529. Challenges to the Effectiveness of Counsel

A. Where a lawyer appointed or retained to represent a child client previously represented by other counsel has a good faith belief that prior counsel did not provide effective assistance, the child client should be so advised and any appropriate relief for the child client on that ground should be pursued.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 37:2615 (September 2011), amended LR 45:419 (March 2019).

Chapter 17. Service Restriction Protocol

§1701. Purpose, Findings and Intentions

A. On May 25, 2011, the legislative auditor issued a report entitled, "Louisiana District Public Defenders Compliance with Report Requirements." The report, prepared in accordance with R.S. 24:515.1.F, focused largely upon the fact that 28 of Louisiana's 42 district public defenders had expenditures that exceeded revenues during the 18-month period beginning January 1, 2009 and ending June 30, 2010.

The report explains, at p. 6, that:

[D]uring 2008 and 2009, the Louisiana Public Defender Board ("Board") received less money than it had requested during the budgeting/appropriations process. To preserve the state's public defender system, the Board reduced, and in some cases, eliminated state funding to local public defender districts that had positive fund balances. This allowed state funding to be directed to those districts with the greatest financial need. Twelve districts were required to use their fund balances to finance operations in 2008 and 28 districts were required to do so in 2009. It was a limited solution that allowed the continuation of the public defense system during lean economic times. At the same time, this seriously depleted most of the local districts' fund balances.

1. As a result of this spending pattern, the legislative auditor recommended that the board monitor the fiscal operations and financial position of all district defenders and, further, provide guidance to district defenders to ensure that districts do not spend more money than they collect. In order to comply with the legislative auditor's recommendation to provide guidance to public defenders to ensure that districts do not spend more funds than they receive, the board adopts this service restriction protocol.

B. The board recognizes that excessive caseloads affect the quality of representation being rendered by public defense service providers and thereby compromise the reliability of verdicts and threaten the conviction of innocent persons.

C. The board further recognizes that excessive caseloads impair the ability of public defense service providers to meet the ethical obligations imposed upon all attorneys, public and private, by the Rules of Professional Conduct. The board finds that by breaching the ethical obligations imposed by the Rules of Professional Conduct, a public defense service provider fails to satisfy the state's obligation to provide effective assistance of counsel to indigent defendants at each critical stage of the proceeding.

1. The relevant ethical obligations imposed by the Rules of Professional Conduct include, but are not limited to rules:

- a. 1.1 (requiring competent representation);
- b. 1.3 (requiring "reasonable diligence and promptness" in representation);
- c. 1.4 (requiring prompt and reasonable communications with the client);

d. 1.7(a)(2) (a "lawyer shall not represent a client if ... there is a significant risk that the representation of one or more clients will be materially limited by the lawyer's responsibilities to another client, a former client or a third person...");

e. 1.16(a)(1) (requiring a lawyer to "withdraw from the representation of a client if...the representation will result in violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct or law.");

f. 5.1(a) and (b) (imposing on a "firm" the obligation to make reasonable efforts to ensure that the firm has in effect measures giving reasonable assurance that all lawyers in the firm conform to the Rules of Professional Conduct" and that a "lawyer having direct supervisory authority over another lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the other lawyer conforms to the Rules of Professional Conduct"); and

g. 6.2(a) (a "lawyer shall not seek to avoid appointment by a tribunal to represent a person except for good cause, such as ... representing the client is likely to result in violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct or other law.").

2. The board further recognizes that a district or a district defender's office may be a "firm" for the purposes of Rule of Professional Conduct 5.1(a).

D. When this protocol uses "shall" or "shall not," it is intended to impose binding obligations. When "should" or "should not" is used, the text is intended as a statement of what is or is not appropriate conduct, but not as a binding rule. When "may" is used, it denotes permissible discretion or, depending on the context, refers to action that is not prohibited specifically.

E. This protocol is intended to be read consistently with constitutional requirements, statutes, the Rules of Professional Conduct, other court rules and decisional law and in the context of all relevant circumstances.

F. This protocol is neither designed nor intended as a basis for civil liability, criminal prosecution or the judicial evaluation of any public defense service provider's alleged misconduct.

G. If any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this protocol is declared invalid for any reason, such invalidity does not affect the other provisions of this protocol that can be given effect without the invalid provision, and to this end, the provisions of this protocol are severable. The provisions of this protocol shall be liberally construed to effectuate the protocol's purposes.

Board Staff—one or more members of the executive staff of the Board as set forth in R.S. 15:150 assigned by the board or the state public defender to perform the duties set forth herein.

Case—case as defined in R.S. 15:174.C.

Caseload—the number of cases handled by a public defender service provider. The caseload of a district is the sum of all public defender service providers' caseloads in that district.

District—the judicial district in which a district defender supervises service providers and enforces standards and guidelines.

District Defender—an attorney under contract with the board to supervise public defense service providers and enforce standards and guidelines within a judicial district or multiple judicial districts. Also known as a district public defender or chief indigent defender.

District Indigent Defender Fund—the fund provided for in R.S. 15:168.

Fiscal Crisis—that a district indigent defender fund is unable to support its expenditures with revenues received from all sources and any accrued fund balance. Because a district indigent defender fund may not expend amounts in excess of revenues and accrued fund balance, a district facing a fiscal crisis must restrict public defense services to cut back on or slow the growth of expenditures. Services should be restricted in the manner that the board and the affected district defender determine to be the least harmful to the continuation of public defense services within the district.

Notice—written notice given as provided for herein.:

a. between the district defender and the board or board staff. Notice between a district defender and the board or board staff, as required in this protocol, may be given by mail, facsimile transmission or electronic mail. If notice is given by certified or registered mail, notice shall be effective upon receipt by the addressee. If notice is given by mail that is not sent certified or registered, by facsimile transmission, or by electronic mail, notice shall be effective only after the sending party confirms telephonically with the receiving party that all pages, including attachments, were received by the receiving party;

b. from the district defender to the court. Notice from a district defender to the court, as required in this protocol, shall be given by filing notice with the affected district's clerks(s) of court and hand-delivering copies to the offices of the chief judge and the district attorney of the affected district.;

Public Defender Service Provider—an attorney who provides legal services to indigent persons in criminal proceedings in which the right to counsel attaches under the United States and Louisiana constitutions as a district employee or as an independent contractor. Unless the context or surrounding circumstances clearly indicate otherwise, a public defender service provider includes a district defender.

Rules of Professional Conduct—the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

State Public Defender—the person employed by the board pursuant to R.S. 15:152.

Workload—a public defender service provider's caseload, including appointed and other work, adjusted by factors such as case complexity, support services, and an attorney's nonrepresentational duties. Non-caseload factors also include the experience level of the public defense service provider, waits in courtrooms for judicial priority afforded private-lawyer cases, training functions required of senior lawyers to junior lawyers, travel time to and from jails and prisons where clients are incarcerated, timeliness and ease of access to incarcerated clients, and the number of non-English speaking clients. A workload is excessive when it impairs the ability of a public defense service provider to meet the ethical obligations imposed by the Rules of Professional Conduct. The workload of a district is the sum of all public defender service providers' workloads in that district. The workload of a district is excessive when all non-supervisory public defense service providers within that district have excessive workloads.

§1711. Comprehensive and Expedited Site Visits

A. If the fiscal crisis or excessive workload, or both, is/are expected to occur six or more months from the giving or receiving of the notice specified in §1707 and the district defender and board staff are unable to agree upon any viable alternatives to restricting public defense services with the district, the following steps shall be taken.

1. Within 90 days of receiving the district defender's proposed service restriction plan, board staff shall conduct a comprehensive site visit. the purpose of the comprehensive site visit is to confirm that a restriction of services is necessary and to ensure that the restriction of services is handled in a manner that minimizes the adverse effects on the local criminal justice system, while avoiding assuming caseload and/or workload levels that threaten quality representation of clients or run counter to the Rules of Professional Conduct. In conducting comprehensive site visits, board staff should perform any and all such actions that board staff deems necessary, including, but not limited to, requesting and reviewing documents, examining computers and computerized information, interviewing district employees and independent contractors, and contacting other stakeholders in the local criminal justice system. If the board staff determines that services should be restricted in the district following completion of the comprehensive site visit, the district defender and board staff should consult with the chief judge and district attorney before finalizing the service restriction plan.

B. If the fiscal crisis or excessive workload, or both, is/are expected to occur less than six months from the giving or receiving of the notice specified in §1707 and the district defender and board staff are unable to agree upon any viable alternatives to restricting public defense services with the district, the following steps should be taken.

1. Within 45 days of receipt of the district defender's proposed service restriction plan, board staff should conduct an expedited site visit. The purpose of the expedited site visit is to confirm that a restriction of services is necessary and to ensure that the restriction of services is handled in a manner that minimizes the adverse effects on the local criminal justice system, while avoiding assuming caseload and/or workload levels that threaten quality representation of clients or run counter to the Rules of Professional Conduct. In conducting expedited site visits, board staff may perform any and all such actions the board staff deems necessary, including, but not limited to, requesting and reviewing documents, examining computers and computerized information, interviewing district employees and independent contractors, and contacting other stakeholders in the local criminal justice system. If the board staff determines that services should be restricted in the district following completion of the expedited site visit, the district defender and board staff should consult with the chief judge and district attorney prior to finalizing the service restriction plan.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 38:815 (March 2012).

§1713. Factors to be Considered in Development of a Service Restriction Plan

A. Recognition of Diversity of Districts

1. Individual districts have different public defender service delivery methods, funding levels, caseloads, workloads and staff. As a result, service restriction plans should be tailored to each district. In some districts, restricting misdemeanor representation may be the appropriate step, while in others; districts may no longer be able to handle capital cases. However, to the extent possible, all service restriction plans should reflect that the district will continue representation of existing clients.

B. Non-Attorney Support Staff

1. In preparing the final service restriction plan for a district, the district defender and board staff should attempt to preserve the district's support staff to the extent possible.

C. Public Defender Service Provider Considerations

1. Public defender service providers' workloads must be controlled so that all matters can be handled competently. If workloads prevent public defender service providers' from providing competent representation to existing clients, public defender service providers must neither be allowed nor required to accept new clients.

2. Reasonable communications between public defender service providers and their clients are necessary for clients to participate effectively in their representation.

3. Loyalty and independent judgment are essential elements in public defender service providers' client relationships. Conflicts of interest can arise from the public defender service providers' responsibilities to other clients, former clients, third persons or from the public defender service providers' own interest. Loyalty to clients is impaired when a public defender service provider cannot consider, recommend, or carry out appropriate courses of action for clients because of the public defender service providers' other responsibilities or interests.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 38:816 (March 2012).

§1715. Declination of New Appointments; Other Relief

A. If the district defender and board staff agree that the fiscal crisis or excessive workload, or both, is imminent, the district defender and public defense service providers shall begin declining new appointments at an agreed upon time prior to breaching the Rules of Professional Conduct.

B. If the court appoints the district defender or one of the district's public defense service providers following declination of appointments as set forth in §1715.A, the district defender and the district's public defense service providers shall seek continuances in those cases where the defendant is not incarcerated. The district defender and the district's public defense service providers shall continue to provide legal services for incarcerated clients provided they may do so without breaching the Rules of Professional Conduct and after considering the severity of the offense and the length of time the defendant has been in custody. If the district defender determines that litigation pursuant to State v. Peart, 621 So.2d 780 (La. 1993); State v. Citizen, 04-KA-1841 (La. 4/1/05), 898 So.2d 325 or other related litigation is necessary at this time, the district defender is authorized to take such action after giving notice to the board and board staff.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 38:816 (March 2012).

§1717. Finalization of Plan; Dissemination

A. If the fiscal crisis or excessive workload, or both, remains imminent at conclusion of the board staff's site visit, the district defender shall, within 30 days of conclusion of the site visit, submit his or her proposed written final service restriction plan to board staff.

B. Board staff shall have seven days after receipt of the proposed final service restriction plan to review and approve the plan as submitted or approve the plan as modified by board staff. The plan becomes final upon the district defender's receipt of the board staff's approval. If board staff takes no action on the proposed final services restriction plan, the plan is deemed to be approved as submitted on the first business day following the expiration of the seventh day.

C. After the plan has been approved by board staff, the district defender shall give notice of the plan, together with a copy of the plan, to the court in accordance with §1703.A.9.b. and to the state public defender in accordance with §1703.A.9.a.

D. Copies of the notice and the final service restriction plan also shall be sent by the district defender to the chief justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court, the president of the Louisiana State Bar Association, the chief and/or administrative judge of each court in the district in which public defender service providers deliver legal services to indigent persons in criminal proceedings, and the sheriff and parish president or equivalent head of parish government for each parish in the district in accordance with §1703.A.9.c.

E. The district defender may seek assistance from the court, where appropriate, in recruiting members of the local private bar to assist in the provision of indigent representation.

F. Notices under this §1717 shall include the effective date of the service restriction and should be provided as soon as practicable.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 38:816 (March 2012).

§1719. Excessive Workloads of Individual Public Defender Service Providers

A. A public defender service provider's workload, including appointed and other work, should never be so large as to interfere with the rendering of quality representation or result in the breach of ethical obligations, and public defense service providers are obligated to decline appointments above such levels.

B. If the district defender becomes aware that one or more of the district's public defender service providers' workloads are, or will become, excessive, the district defender shall take appropriate action. Appropriate action includes, but is not limited to, transferring non-representational responsibilities within the district, including managerial or supervisory responsibilities to others; transferring cases from one public defender service providers to another; or authorizing the public defender service providers to refuse new cases.

C. If a public defense service provider believes that he or she has an excessive workload, the public defense service provider shall consult with his or her supervisor and seek a solution by transferring cases to a public defense service provider whose workload is not excessive or by transferring non-representational responsibilities. Should the supervisor disagree with the public defense service provider's position or refuse to acknowledge the problem, the public defense service provider should continue to advance up the chain of command within the district until either relief is obtained or the public defense service provider has reached and requested assistance or relief from the district defender. If after appealing to his or her supervisor and district defender without relief, the public defense service provider should appeal to the regional director, if applicable, and the state public defender for assistance.

Chapter 19. Performance Standards for Criminal Defense Representation in Indigent Capital Cases

§1901. Purpose, Findings and Intentions

A. The standards for attorneys representing indigent defendants in capital cases are intended to serve several purposes. First and foremost, the standards are intended to encourage public defenders, assistant public defenders, and assigned counsel to perform to a high standard of representation and to promote professionalism in the representation of indigent capital defendants. These standards apply to trial level, appellate, and post-conviction representation. It is the intention of these rules to adopt and apply the standards for capital defense set out by the American Bar Association's Guidelines for the Appointment and Performance of Defense Counsel in Death Penalty Cases, its associated commentary, and the Supplementary Guidelines for the Mitigation Function of Defense Teams in Death Penalty Cases.

B. The standards are also intended to alert defense counsel to courses of action that are necessary, advisable, or appropriate, and thereby to assist attorneys in deciding upon the particular actions that should be taken in each case to ensure that the capital client receives high quality legal representation. The standards are further intended to provide a measure by which the performance of individual attorneys and defender offices may be evaluated by case supervisors, responsible agencies and the state public defender and to assist in training and supervising attorneys. While the great majority of the requirements detailed in these standards reflect accepted minimum levels of practice in capital defense, some standards have been added to assist in the supervision, development and accountability of indigent capital defense service provision.

C. The language of these standards is general, implying flexibility of action which is appropriate to the situation. Use of judgment in deciding upon a particular course of action is reflected by the phrases "should consider" and "where appropriate". In those instances where a particular action is required in providing quality representation, the standards use the words "should" or "shall". Even where the standards use the words "should" or "shall", in certain situations the lawyers best informed professional judgment and discretion may indicate otherwise.

D. There is a limitless variety of circumstances presented by indigent capital defense and this variation in combination with changes in law and procedure requires that attorneys approach each new case with a fresh outlook. Therefore, though the standards are intended to be comprehensive, they are not exhaustive. Depending upon the type of case and the particular jurisdiction, there may well be additional actions that an attorney should take or should consider taking in order to provide zealous and effective representation. Attorneys are expected to use their individual professional judgment in representing clients. If that judgment mandates a departure from these standards, the attorney should be aware of and be able to articulate the reasons that a departure from the standards is in the client's best interests and consistent with high quality legal representation.

E. Minimum standards that have been promulgated concerning representation of defendants in non-capital cases, and the level of adherence to such standards required for non-capital cases are not sufficient for death penalty cases. Counsel in death penalty cases are required to perform at the level of an attorney reasonably skilled in the specialized practice of capital representation, zealously committed to the capital case, who has adequate time and resources for preparation. These performance standards have been adapted from the State of Louisiana Performance Standards for Criminal Defense Representation in Indigent Criminal Cases in the Trial Court, adding capital specific issues and procedures where necessary. In light of the recognition that "death is different" and capital prosecutions necessitate heightened procedural safeguards, these standards should be interpreted in order to compel high quality legal representation.

F. In accordance with R.S. 15:173 the exercise of the authority to promulgate standards is not intended to create any new right, right of action, or cause of action or eliminate any right, right of action, or cause of action existing under current law. Accordingly, these standards shall not be construed to provide any criminal defendant the basis of any claim that the attorney or attorneys appointed to represent him pursuant to the Louisiana Public Defender Act of 2007 performed in an ineffective manner.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 41:49 (January 2015).

§1903. General Standards for Capital Defense Counsel

A. Obligations of Defense Counsel

1. Since the death penalty differs from all other criminal penalties, defense counsel in a capital case should respond to this difference by making extraordinary efforts on behalf of the accused.

2. The minimum standard in a capital case is high quality representation. To provide high quality representation counsel should zealously preserve, protect, and promote the client's rights and interests, and be loyal to the client. Counsel should serve as the client's counselor and advocate with courage and devotion, free from conflicts of interest and political or judicial interference. Zealous, high quality representation is to be provided in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

3. To ensure the preservation, protection and promotion of the client's right and interests, counsel should:

- a. be proficient in the applicable substantive and procedural law;
- b. acquire and maintain appropriate experience, skills and training;
- c. devote adequate time and resources to the case;
- d. engage in the preparation necessary for high quality representation;
- e. endeavor to establish and maintain a relationship of trust and open communication with the client;
- f. make accommodations where necessary due to a client's special circumstances, such as incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, youth, cultural differences, and circumstances of incarceration.

4. The primary and most fundamental obligation of a capital defense attorney to the administration of justice and as an officer of the court is to provide zealous, effective, high quality, ethical representation for his or her clients at all stages of the criminal process.

5. If personal matters make it impossible for defense counsel to fulfill the duty of zealous, high quality representation, he or she has a duty to refrain from representing the client.

6. Where counsel is unable to provide high quality representation in a particular case, counsel must promptly bring this deficiency to the attention of the capital case supervisor and the capital case coordinator or Responsible Agency. If the deficiency cannot be remedied, then counsel must bring the matter to the attention of the court and seek the relief appropriate to protect the interests of the client. Counsel may be unable to provide high quality representation due to a range of factors: lack of resources, insufficient time, excessive workload, poor health or other personal considerations, inadequate skill or experience etc.

7. Counsel assigned in any case in which the death penalty is a possible punishment should, even if the prosecutor has not indicated that the death penalty will be sought, begin preparation for the case as one in which the death penalty will be sought while employing strategies to have the case designated as a non-capital one. Even if the case has not been filed as a capital case, if there exists a reasonable possibility to believe that the case could be amended to a capital charge, counsel should be guided by capital defense techniques and these standards. In considering whether there is any reason to believe that the case could be amended, counsel should have regard to the nature of the allegations, the practice of the local prosecuting agency, statements by law enforcement and prosecutors, media and public sentiment, and any political factors that may impact the charging decision.

B. Training and Experience of Capital Defense Counsel

1. In order to provide high quality legal representation, counsel should have a mastery of any substantive criminal law and laws of criminal procedure that may be relevant to counsel's representation. Counsel should also be familiar with the prevailing customs or practices of the relevant court, and the policies and practices of the prosecuting agency.

2. In providing representation at any stage in a capital case, counsel should be familiar with all applicable areas of law relevant to capital trials, appeals, and state and federal post-conviction relief.

3. Prior to agreeing to undertake representation in a capital case, counsel should have sufficient experience or training to provide high quality representation. Counsel should not accept a capital case assignment unless he or she has been certified for the specific level of representation assigned, and has the necessary knowledge and skills to handle the particular case.

4. If after being assigned a case counsel finds that the case involves particular issues or procedures in which counsel does not have the experience or training necessary to provide high quality legal representation, counsel should acquire the necessary knowledge or skills or request resources for another attorney to provide such services.

5. In providing high quality representation, counsel should consult with and take advantage of the skills and experience of other members of the criminal defense community and certified capital defenders, in particular. Further, where considerations of timing, resources or the interests of the client make it appropriate, counsel should request assignment of an additional attorney(s). Similarly, where appropriate, counsel should request assignment of an additional attorney(s) with specialized experience or knowledge to assist directly in particular aspects of the representation.

6. Capital defense counsel should complete a comprehensive training program in the defense of capital cases as required by the capital guidelines. Counsel should, on an ongoing basis, attend and successfully complete specialized training programs in the defense of capital cases. In addition to specific training, counsel should stay abreast of changes and developments in the law and other matters relevant to the defense of capital cases.

7. As a component of acquiring and maintaining adequate training, counsel should consult with other attorneys to acquire knowledge and familiarity with all facets of criminal representation, including information about practices of judges, prosecutors, and other court personnel. More experienced counsel should offer to mentor less experienced attorneys.

C. Resources and Caseload

1. Counsel should not accept a capital case assignment unless he or she has available sufficient resources to offer high quality legal representation to the client in the particular matter, including adequate funding, investigative services, mitigation services, support staff, office space, equipment, and research tools.

2. If after being assigned a case counsel discovers that he or she does not have available sufficient resources, then counsel should demand on behalf of the client all resources necessary to provide high quality legal representation. Counsel should seek necessary resources from all available sources, including litigating for those resources or for appropriate relief should the resources not be made available. Counsel should document in the file the resources he or she believes are needed and any attempts to obtain those resources. Counsel should create an adequate record in court to allow a full review of the denial of necessary resources or the failure to provide appropriate relief.

3. Counsel should maintain compliance with all applicable caseload and workload standards. When counsel's workload is such that counsel is unable to provide each client with high quality legal representation in accordance with the capital guidelines and these performance standards, counsel shall inform the case supervisor. If counsel believes the case supervisor has inadequately resolved the issue, counsel should raise the question progressively with the district and the state public defender, as appropriate. Where counsel has exhausted all avenues for reasonable resolution and the excessive workload issue has not been resolved counsel should, after providing the state public defender with reasonable notice, move to withdraw from the case or cases in which capital defense services in compliance with the guidelines and these performance standards cannot be provided.

4. Counsel should never give preference to retained clients over indigent clients, or suggest that retained clients should or would receive preference.

5. Counsel representing capital clients should, due to the nature of capital cases and the necessity for time-consuming research and preparation, give priority to death penalty cases over their other caseload.

D. Professionalism

1. Counsel has an obligation to keep and maintain a thorough, organized, and current file relating to the representation of each client. Counsel's file relating to a representation includes both paper and electronic documents as well as physical objects, electronic data and audio-visual materials. Counsel's file should be maintained in a fashion that will allow counsel to provide high quality representation to the client and allow successor counsel to clearly and accurately identify the work performed, the tactical decisions made, the materials obtained, the source from which materials and information were obtained, and the work product generated in the representation. Counsel should clearly document work performed, including analysis of file materials, in such a way that other team members and successor counsel may take advantage of the work performed and avoid unnecessary duplication of effort.

2. Counsel should act with reasonable diligence and promptness in representing the client. Counsel should be prompt for all court appearances and appointments and, in the submission of all motions, briefs, and other papers. Counsel should ensure that all court filings are proofread and edited to protect the client's rights from being forfeited due to error. Counsel should be present, alert, and focused on the client's best interests during all critical stages of the proceedings.

3. Counsel's obligation to provide high quality representation to the client continues until counsel formally withdraws, or an order relieving counsel becomes final. Unless required to do so by law or the rules of professional conduct, counsel should not withdraw from a case until successor counsel has enrolled. Counsel who withdraws or is relieved should take all steps necessary to ensure that the client's rights and interests are adequately protected during any transfer of responsibility in the case. Such steps should include ensuring compliance with any filing or other deadlines in the case, and ensuring the collection or preservation of any evidence that may cease to be available if investigation were delayed.

4. All persons who are or have been members of the defense team have a continuing duty to safeguard the interests of the client, and should cooperate fully with successor counsel. This duty includes, but is not limited to:

a. maintaining the records of the case in a manner that will inform successor counsel of all significant developments relevant to the representation and any litigation;

b. promptly providing the client's files, as well as information regarding all aspects of the representation, to successor counsel;

c. sharing potential further areas of investigation and litigation with successor counsel; and

d. cooperating with such professionally appropriate legal strategies as may be chosen by successor counsel.

5. Where counsel enrolls in a case in which other counsel have previously provided representation, counsel should take all steps necessary to ensure the client's rights and interests are fully protected during any transfer or reallocation of responsibility in the case. Counsel should seek to interview all persons who are or have been members of the defense team with an aim to:

a. promptly obtaining the client's files or a copy of the files, as well as information regarding all aspects of the representation;

b. discovering potential further areas of investigation and litigation; and

c. facilitating cooperation from current and former defense team members in order to coordinate professionally appropriate legal strategies.

6. Current and former counsel should maintain the confidences of the client and assert all available privileges to protect the confidentiality of work product and communications with the client. Where disclosure of privileged or confidential information is strictly necessary in carrying out the representation, such disclosures should be limited to those necessary to advance the interests of the client and should be made in circumstances that limit the extent of any waiver of privilege or confidentiality.

7. Where appropriate counsel may share information with counsel for a co-defendant, and work together with counsel for a co-defendant on investigatory, preparatory and/or strategic matters, but counsel's decisions should always reflect the needs of counsel's client with special consideration for client confidentiality. Counsel should never abdicate the client's defense to a co-defendant's counsel. Counsel should maintain full control of all decisions affecting the client. Counsel should consider whether it is appropriate to enter a formal joint defense agreement with one or more co-defendants.

8. Counsel and defense team members should provide full and honest cooperation with successor counsel undertaking the investigation and preparation of a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. In providing honest cooperation, counsel should be alert to and avoid any improper influence arising from a desire to assist the client or to protect him or herself.

9. Where counsel is the subject of a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, he or she should not disclose any confidential or privileged information without the client's consent, unless and until a court formally determines that privilege has been waived and then only to the extent of any such waiver. The disclosure of confidential or privileged information in such circumstances should be limited to those matters necessary to respond to specific allegations by the client concerning the lawyer's representation of the client. Nothing in this Standard shall diminish the responsibility of counsel to cooperate fully with the client and successor counsel, nor limit the ability of counsel to communicate confidential or privileged information to the client or his legal representativeness within the protection of the lawyer-client relationship.

10. While ensuring compliance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct in relation to extrajudicial statements, counsel should consider the potential benefits and harm of any publicity in deciding whether or not to make a public statement and the content of any such statement. When making written or oral statements in judicial proceedings, counsel should consider the potential benefits and harm likely to arise from the public dissemination of those statements. In responding to adverse publicity, counsel should consider the interests of the client and whether a statement is required to protect the client from the substantial undue prejudicial effect of recent publicity not initiated by the lawyer or the lawyer's client.

11. At each stage and subject to the circumstances of each case, counsel should be mindful of the desirability of treating any victim or other person affected by the crime alleged against the client with respect, dignity, and compassion. Counsel should avoid disparaging the victim directly or indirectly, unless necessary and appropriate in the circumstances of the particular case. Counsel should undertake victim outreach through an appropriately qualified team member, or the use of an expert in defense initiated victim outreach.

E. Conflicts of Interest

1. Counsel should be alert to all potential and actual conflicts of interest that would impair counsel's ability to represent a client. Conflicts of interest experienced by one counsel are relevant to all counsel: the existence of a conflict free lawyer on the defense team does not ameliorate the potential harm caused by a conflict affecting another lawyer on the team. Counsel should have a procedure for identifying conflicts when receiving new assignments and reviewing existing cases for conflicts where there is a relevant change in circumstances. At a minimum, counsel should maintain a conflict index containing the names of current and former clients which should be checked against the name of the client and, where known, the name of the victim(s), the name of any co-defendant(s), and the names of any important witnesses.

2. Where a capital case involves multiple defendants, a conflict will be presumed between the defendants and separate representation will be required. However, there are many other situations in which conflicts can arise. In addition to the current or prior representation of co-defendants or witnesses, conflicts can arise, for example, when a capital defense lawyer: is subject to investigation or criminal prosecution by state or federal authorities; is representing or has represented a witness or victim; is seeking employment with prosecuting agencies; has a financial, political or personal interest in the proceedings; has an excessive workload; or, is related to a victim or the judge. Disclosure of potential conflicts should be made under any of these circumstances and counsel should err in favor of disclosure of any other potential conflicts.

3. Conflicts of interest should be promptly resolved in a manner that advances the interests of the client and complies with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

4. If a conflict develops during the course of representation, counsel has a duty to notify the client and, where required, the court in accordance with the rules of the court and the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct. Defense counsel should fully disclose to the client, at the earliest feasible opportunity, any interest in or connection with the case or any other matter that might be relevant to counsel's continuing representation. Such disclosure should include communication of information reasonably sufficient to permit the client to appreciate the significance of any conflict or potential conflict of interest.

5. Where the client files a motion, complaint, or grievance against counsel in regard to the quality of his or her representation, counsel should notify the Case Supervisor and the agency responsible for the assignment of counsel to the case.

6. Any waiver of conflict that is obtained should comply with the requirements of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, and should be obtained only after the client has been told: that a conflict of interest exists; the consequences to his defense from continuing with conflict-laden counsel; and that he has a right to obtain other counsel. In a capital case, any waiver of conflict should be obtained through and after consultation by the client with independent counsel. In order to allow the monitoring of the procedure of obtaining of a waiver, the capital case coordinator should be advised prior to obtaining a conflict waiver from an indigent capital defendant and should approve or provide for the assignment of independent counsel.

F. Allocation of Authority between Counsel and Client

1. The allocation of authority between counsel and the client shall be managed in accordance with Louisiana's Rules of Professional Conduct, having particular regard to rules 1.2, 1.4, 1.14 and 1.16.

2. Counsel serves as the representative of the client and shall abide by the client's decisions regarding the objectives of the representation. However, counsel shall provide the client with his or her professional opinions with regard to the objectives of the representation. In counseling the client, counsel shall refer not only to the law but to other considerations such as moral, economic, social, and political factors that may be relevant to the client's situation. Counsel may enlist the assistance of others to assist in ensuring that the client is able to make informed decisions. Counsel shall reasonably consult with the client about the means by which the client's objectives are to be accomplished and may take such action as is impliedly authorized by the representation.

3. The attorney shall explain to the client those decisions that ultimately rest with the client and the advantages and disadvantages inherent in these choices. Counsel shall abide by the client's decision, made after meaningful consultation with counsel, as to a plea to be entered, whether to waive jury trial, whether the client will testify, and whether to appeal. However, counsel shall not abide by such a decision where the client is incompetent, including where the client is, in the circumstances, incapable of making a rational choice not substantially affected by mental disease, disorder or defect. In such circumstances, counsel should take the steps described in these standards relating to the representation of persons with diminished capacity and the raising of the client's incompetence.

4. Strategic and tactical decisions should be made by counsel after consultation with the client where feasible and appropriate. When feasible and appropriate, counsel and other team members should seek the client's input regarding decisions to be made in the case. Counsel should candidly advise the client regarding the probable success and consequences of adopting any particular posture in the proceedings, and provide the client with all information necessary to make informed decisions. Counsel should provide the client with his or her professional opinion on what course to adopt whenever possible. In order to ensure that consultation with the client is meaningful, counsel should make accommodations where necessary due to a client's special circumstances, such as incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, youth, cultural differences, and circumstances of incarceration.

5. While counsel is ordinarily responsible for determining the means by which the objectives of representation are to be accomplished, where the client revokes counsel's express or implied authority to take a particular course of action, counsel may not act as the agent of the client without that authority. This will not prevent counsel from taking professionally responsible steps required by these Standards but counsel must not purport to be speaking on behalf of or otherwise acting as the agent of the client.

6. Counsel shall not take action he or she knows is inconsistent with the client's objectives of the representation. Counsel may not concede the client's guilt of the offense charged or a lesser included offense without first obtaining the consent of the client.

7. Where counsel and the client disagree as to the means by which the objectives of the representation are to be achieved counsel should consult with the client and seek a mutually agreeable resolution of the dispute. Counsel should consult with the case supervisor and utilize other defense team members in his or her efforts to resolve a dispute.

8. Where the client seeks to discharge counsel, every reasonable effort should be made to address the client's grievance with counsel and avoid discharge. Counsel should caution the client as to the possible negative consequences of discharging or attempting to discharge counsel and the likely result if any such attempt. Should the client persist with his desire to discharge counsel, the case supervisor and responsible agency should be immediately informed and counsel may request a substitution of counsel by the responsible agency. Counsel must move to withdraw when actually discharged by the client.

9. Where the client insists upon taking action with which the counsel has a fundamental disagreement or the representation has been rendered unreasonably difficult by the client, counsel shall advise the case supervisor and may request a substitution of counsel by the responsible agency. Where a substitution of counsel is not permitted, counsel may move to withdraw from the representation only with the prior consent of the responsible agency.

10. Any withdrawal of counsel, including a substitution of counsel, should occur with the leave of the court. Should the court refuse counsel leave to withdraw, then counsel should continue to represent the defendant.

11. Where counsel or a client make a reasonable request for substitution of counsel, the district defender or state public defender, as appropriate, shall take all reasonable steps to substitute counsel. Where substitution of counsel is not possible, every effort should be made to avoid the withdrawal or discharge of counsel, including the assignment of additional counsel, consultation with persons experienced in resolving such disputes and providing counsel access to expert advice and training designed to assist in resolving the dispute.

12. A client's capacity to make adequately considered decisions in connection with the representation may be diminished, whether because of mental impairment or for some other reason. Where counsel reasonably believes that the client has diminished capacity, he or she should:

a. as far as reasonably possible, maintain a normal client-lawyer relationship with the client;

b. if the client is at risk of substantial harm unless action is taken and the client cannot adequately act in his own interests, take reasonably necessary protective action. Such action may include: consulting with family members, using a reconsideration period to permit clarification or improvement of circumstances, using voluntary surrogate decision making tools such as durable powers of attorney or consulting with support groups, professional services, adult-protective agencies or other individuals or entities that have the ability to protect the client. In appropriate cases, counsel may seek the appointment of a fiduciary, including a guardian, curator or tutor, to protect the client's interests;

c. in taking any protective action, be guided by such factors as the wishes and values of the client to the extent known, the client's best interests and the goals of intruding into the client's decision-making autonomy to the least extent feasible, maximizing client capacities and respecting the client's family and social connections.

13. If counsel believes that the client will now or in the future seek to abandon some or all of the mitigation case or waive appellate or post-conviction review, counsel should notify the case supervisor and appropriate action should be taken to respond to this situation. Given the gravity and complexity of this situation, counsel and the case supervisor should consider consultation with additional counsel experienced and skilled in this area.

14. The client has a right to view or be provided with copies of documents in counsel's file. Acknowledging the dangers of case related materials being held in custodial facilities, counsel should strongly advise the client against maintaining possession of any case related material. Counsel should provide alternatives to satisfy the client's requests, such as more frequent visits with team members to review relevant documents in a confidential setting, or transferring file to successor counsel. Upon the termination of the representation, the client will ordinarily be entitled to counsel's entire file upon request.

G. Assembling the Defense Team

1. Counsel are to be assigned in accordance with the capital defense guidelines. Where possible, lead counsel should participate in the decision of who should be assigned as additional counsel. Lead counsel should advocate for the assignment of additional counsel with the skills, experience and resources appropriate to the provision of high quality representation in the case. Lead counsel should have regard to his or her own strengths and weaknesses in recommending the assignment of additional counsel in order to ensure the formation of a defense team capable of providing high quality representation to the client in the particular case.

2. Lead counsel bears overall responsibility for the performance of the defense team, and should allocate, direct, and supervise its work in accordance with these performance standards and the associated guidelines. Subject to the foregoing, lead counsel may delegate to other members of the defense team duties imposed by these standards, unless the standard specifically imposes the duty on "lead counsel."

3. As soon as practical after assignment and at all stages of a capital case, the director of the law office assigned the case, the contracting agency or lead counsel should assemble a defense team by:

a. providing advice regarding the number and identity of the additional counsel to be assigned;

b. selecting and making any appropriate staffing, employment or contractual agreements with non-attorney team members in such a way that the defense team includes:

i. at least one mitigation specialist and one fact investigator;

ii. at least one member with specialized training in identifying, documenting and interpreting symptoms of mental and behavioral impairment, including cognitive deficits, mental illness, developmental disability, neurological deficits; long-term consequences of deprivation, neglect and maltreatment during developmental years; social, cultural, historical, political, religious, racial, environmental and ethnic influences on behavior; effects of substance abuse and the presence, severity and consequences of exposure to trauma;

iii. individuals possessing the training and ability to obtain, understand and analyze all documentary and anecdotal information relevant to the client's history;

iv. sufficient support staff, such as secretarial, law clerk and paralegal support, to ensure that counsel is able to manage the administrative, file management, file review, legal research, court filing, copying, witness management, transportation and other practical tasks necessary to provide high quality representation; and

v. any other members needed to provide high quality legal representation, including people necessary to: reflect the seriousness, complexity or amount of work in a particular case; meet legal or factual issues involving specialist knowledge or experience; ensure that the team has the necessary skills, experience and capacity available to provide for the professional development of defense personnel through training and case experience; or, for other reasons arising in the circumstances of a particular case.

4. In selecting team members, lead counsel should have specific regard to the overall caseload of each team member (whether indigent, pro bono or privately funded) and should monitor the caseloads of all team members throughout the representation. Counsel should have regard to the benefits of a racially and culturally diverse team.

5. Where staff assignments to a team are made by the director of a law office or the contracting agency, rather than lead counsel, lead counsel remains responsible for ensuring that the staffing assignments and the defense team are in compliance with the Capital Guidelines and Performance Standards and are sufficient to permit high quality representation.

6. The defense team refers to those persons directly responsible for the legal representation of the client and those persons directly responsible for the fact and mitigation investigation. While others may assist the defense team, including lay and expert witnesses, they are not a part of the defense team as that term is used in this Section. The mitigation specialist retained as a part of the defense team is not intended to serve as a testifying witness and, if such a witness is necessary, a separate expert mitigation specialist should be retained.

7. Team members should be fully instructed on the practices and procedures to be adopted by the team, including the procedure for communication and decision-making within the team and how such matters will be recorded in the client file. Team meetings should be conducted no less than once every two weeks and should, wherever possible, include the in-person attendance of all team members. Team meetings should have an agenda and a record of the matters discussed, tasks assigned and decisions made at the team meeting should be maintained in the client file. All members of the team should be encouraged to participate and contribute.

8. Counsel should demand on behalf of the client all resources necessary to provide high quality legal representation. Counsel should promptly take the steps necessary to ensure that the defense team receives the assistance of all expert, investigative, and other ancillary professional services reasonably necessary or appropriate to provide high quality legal representation at every stage of the proceedings. If such resources are denied, counsel should make an adequate record to preserve the issue for judicial review and seek such review. It is the responsibility of counsel to be fully aware of the potential resources available to assist in the representation of the client and the rules and procedures to be followed to seek and obtain such resources.

9. While lead counsel bears ultimate responsibility for the performance of the defense team and for decisions affecting the client and the case, all additional counsel should ensure that the team and its members are providing high quality representation in accordance with these Performance Standards and associated Guidelines.

10. In general, counsel should avoid assigning one lawyer to handle the guilt-innocence phase and another lawyer to handle the penalty phase.

H. Scope of Representation

1. Counsel should represent the client in the matter assigned from the time of assignment until relieved by the assignment of successor counsel or by order of the court.

2. Ordinarily, counsel representing a capital defendant should assume responsibility for the representation of the defendant in all pending criminal and collateral proceedings involving the client for which counsel is adequately qualified and experienced. Counsel should represent the client in any new criminal proceeding arising during the course of the capital representation. Counsel should investigate and commence appellate or collateral proceedings regarding other criminal convictions of the client where the favorable resolution of such an action is likely to be of significance in the capital proceeding. Counsel shall have the discretion to assist incarcerated clients seeking redress of institutional grievances or responding to institutional proceedings and should do so where the resolution of the grievance or proceeding is likely to be of significance in the capital proceeding.

3. Where it is not appropriate for counsel to assume the representation of the defendant in other proceedings due to a lack of appropriate experience or qualifications, lack of sufficient resources, or for other reasons, counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that appropriately qualified counsel is representing the client and is, where possible, capitally certified.

4. Counsel should maintain close communication with and seek the cooperation of counsel representing the client in any other proceeding to ensure that such representation does not prejudice the client in his capital proceedings and is conducted in a manner that best serves the client's interests in light of the capital proceedings.

5. Where counsel's representation of a defendant is limited in its scope, lead counsel should ensure that the limitation is reasonable in the circumstances and obtain the client's informed consent to the limited scope of the representation. In obtaining informed consent, lead counsel should explain the exact limits of the scope of the representation, including both those purposes for which the client will and will not be represented. Where possible, the agreement to provide representation that is limited in its scope should be communicated in writing.

§1905. Performance Standard 2: Relations with Client

A. Counsel's Obligation to Build and Maintain Relationship with Client

1. Counsel at all stages of the case should make every appropriate effort to establish a relationship of trust and confidence with the client, and should maintain close contact with the client. Representation of a capital client should proceed in a client-centered fashion with a strong emphasis on the relationship between the defense team and the client.

2. Counsel should make every appropriate effort to overcome barriers to communication and trust, including those arising from the client's special circumstances, such as incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, youth, and cultural differences, circumstances of incarceration, prior experiences in the criminal justice system, and prior experiences of legal representation. Where barriers to communication or trust with counsel cannot be adequately overcome to allow for high quality representation of the client, the capital case supervisor should be informed, and such further steps as are necessary should be taken. In an appropriate case, this may include seeking the assignment of additional counsel or other team members or the substitution of counsel.

3. Lead counsel should ensure that the defense team as a whole is able to establish and maintain a relationship of trust and confidence with the client. Where a particular team member is unable to overcome barriers to communication or trust, lead counsel should take all reasonable steps to remedy the problem. Where the relationship cannot be sufficiently improved, lead counsel should strongly consider removing or replacing the team member, or seeking removal or replacement from the director of the law office or contracting agency.

4. Understanding that a relationship of trust and confidence with the client is essential to the provision of effective representation of a capital client, the defense team must take all reasonable steps to ensure that both the representation provided and the manner in which that representation is provided operate to develop and preserve such a relationship.

5. Understanding that regular contact and meaningful communication are essential to the provision of effective representation of a capital client, the defense team should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client is able to communicate regularly with the defense team members in confidential circumstances and should ensure that the client is visited by defense team members frequently, particularly where the client is in custody. Counsel may rely upon other members of the defense team to provide some of the required contact with the client, but visits by other team members cannot substitute for counsel's own direct contact with the client. Given lead counsel's particular responsibilities, visits by other counsel in the case cannot substitute for lead counsel's own direct contact with the client.

6. In a trial level case, a capital client should be visited by a member of the defense team no less than once every week, though visits would be expected to be much more frequent where there is active investigation or litigation in the case or in the lead up to trial. In a trial level case a capital client should be visited by an attorney member of the defense team no less than once every two weeks and by lead counsel no less than once month, though visits by counsel would be expected to be much more frequent where there is active investigation or litigation in the case or in the lead up to, during, and following trial.

7. In an appellate or post-conviction case, a capital client may be visited less frequently, but regular communication and actual visits remain critical to effective representation. In an appellate or post-conviction case, a capital client should be visited by a member of the defense team no less than once every two weeks, by an attorney member of the defense team no less than once a month and by lead counsel no less than once every two months, though visits would be expected to be much more frequent where there is active investigation or litigation in the case or in the lead up to, during, and following any major hearing and in the lead up to any execution date.

8. In all capital cases, where barriers to communication or trust exist or the circumstances call for more frequent contact, visits by defense team members, including counsel, should be as frequent as necessary to ensure high quality representation and to protect the interests of the client.

9. Counsel at all stages of the case need to monitor the client's physical, mental, and emotional condition and consider any potential legal consequences or adverse impact upon the adequate representation of the client. Counsel should monitor the client's physical, emotional, and mental condition throughout the representation both personally, through the observations of other team members and experts, and through review of relevant records. If counsel observes changes in the client's appearance or demeanor, counsel should promptly conduct an investigation of any circumstances contributing to this change, and take all reasonable steps to advance the best interests of the client. Recognizing the potential adverse consequences for the representation inherent in any substantial impairment of the client's physical, mental and emotional condition, counsel should take all reasonable steps to improve the client's physical, mental and emotional condition where possible.

10. Counsel at all stages of the case should engage in a continuing interactive dialogue with the client concerning all matters that might reasonably be expected to have a material impact on the case, such as:

- a. the progress of and prospects for the investigation and what assistance the client might provide;
- b. current or potential legal issues;
- c. current or potential strategic and tactical decisions, including the waiver of any rights or privileges held by the client;
- d. the development of a defense theory;
- e. presentation of the defense case;
- f. potential agreed-upon dispositions of the case, including any possible disposition currently acceptable to the prosecution;
- g. litigation deadlines and the projected schedule of case-related events; and

h. relevant aspects of the client's relationship with correctional, parole, or other governmental agents (e.g., prison medical providers or state psychiatrists).

11. Counsel shall inform the client of the status of the case at each step and shall provide information to the client regarding the process and procedures relevant to the case, including any anticipated time frame.

12. In the absence of a specific agreement to the contrary, counsel shall provide the client with a copy of each substantive document filed or entered in the case by the court and any party. Counsel shall warn any incarcerated client of the dangers of keeping case related material in a custodial environment and take steps to ensure that the client may have reasonable access to the documents and materials in the case without the necessity of keeping the documents in the prison.

13. Upon disposition of the case or any significant issue in the case, counsel shall promptly and accurately inform the client of the disposition.

14. Counsel should treat the client with respect. Counsel should never demean, disparage, or be hostile towards the client. It is the responsibility of lead counsel to ensure that all members of the defense team satisfy this standard.

15. Counsel shall respond in a timely manner to all correspondence from a client, unless the correspondence is wholly unreasonable in its volume or interval.

16. Counsel should maintain an appropriate, professional office and should maintain a system for receiving regular collect telephone calls from incarcerated clients. Counsel should provide incarcerated clients with directions on how to contact the office via collect telephone calls (e.g. what days and/or hours calls will be accepted). Counsel should determine whether telephone communications will be confidential and where they are not, should take all reasonable steps to ensure that privileged, confidential, or potentially damaging conversations are not conducted during any monitored or recorded calls.

17. Counsel should advise the client at the outset of the representation and frequently remind the client regarding his rights to silence and to counsel.

a. Counsel should carefully explain the significance of remaining silent, and how to assert the rights to silence and counsel. Counsel should specifically advise the client to assert his rights to silence and counsel if approached by any state actor seeking to question him about the charged offense, any other offense, or any other matter relevant to guilt, penalty, or a possible claim for relief. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to assist the client in asserting these rights, including providing a written assertion of rights for the client to use and asserting these rights on behalf of the client. Counsel should have regard to any special need or vulnerability of the client likely to impact his effective assertion of his rights.

b. In particular, counsel should advise the client not to speak with police, probation officers, or other government agents about the offense, any related matters, or any matter that may prove relevant in a penalty phase hearing without the presence of counsel. The client should be advised not to speak or write to any other person, including family members, friends, or co-defendants, about any such matters. The client should also be advised not to speak to any state or court appointed expert without the opportunity for prior consultation with counsel.

c. Counsel should also be conscious of the possible interest of media organizations and individual journalists and should advise the client not to communicate with the media, except as a part of a considered strategy undertaken on the advice of counsel.

18. If counsel knows that the client will be coming into contact with a state actor in circumstances relevant to the representation, counsel should seek to accompany the client to prevent any potentially harmful statements from being made or alleged.

B. Counsel's Initial Interviews with Client

1. Recognizing that first contact with a capital client is an extremely important stage in the representation of the client, counsel should take all reasonable steps to conduct a prompt initial interview designed to protect the client's position, preserve the client's rights, and begin the development of a relationship of trust and confidence.

2. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client's rights are promptly asserted, that the client does not waive any right or entitlement by failing to timely assert the right or make a claim, and that any exculpatory or mitigating evidence or information that may otherwise become unavailable is identified and preserved.

3. Counsel should ensure that a high level of contact is maintained at the outset of the representation that is at least sufficient to begin to develop a relationship of trust and confidence, and to meaningfully communicate information relevant to protecting the client's position and preserving the client's rights.

4. An initial interview of pre-trial clients should be conducted within twenty-four hours of counsel's entry into the case unless exceptional circumstances require counsel to postpone this interview. In that event or where the client is being represented in appellate or post-conviction proceedings, the interview should be conducted as soon as reasonably possible.

5. If non-certified counsel is meeting with the client before the assignment of appropriately certified counsel, the information obtained should ordinarily be limited to that necessary to advise the client concerning the current procedural posture of the case and to provide for the assertion of the client's rights to silence and to counsel.

6. Preparing for the Initial Interview:

a. prior to conducting the initial interview of a pre-trial client, counsel should, where possible and without unduly delaying the initial interview:

i. be familiar with the elements of the offense(s) and the potential punishment(s), where the charges against the client are already known;

ii. obtain copies of any relevant documents that are available, including copies of any charging documents, warrants and warrant applications, law enforcement and other investigative agency reports, autopsy reports, and any media accounts that might be available; and,

iii. consult with any predecessor counsel to become more familiar with the case and the client.

b. In addition, where the pre-trial client is incarcerated, counsel should:

i. be familiar with the legal criteria for determining pretrial release and the procedures that will be followed in setting those conditions;

ii. be familiar with the different types of pretrial release conditions the court may set and whether private or public agencies are available to act as a custodian for the client's release; and

iii. be familiar with any procedures available for reviewing the trial judge's setting of bail.

c. prior to conducting the interview of a client at appellate and post-conviction stages, counsel should, where possible and without unduly delaying the initial interview:

i. be familiar with the procedural posture of the case;

ii. obtain copies of any relevant documents that are available that provide information on the nature of the offense and the conduct and outcome of prior stages of the proceedings;

iii. consider consulting with any predecessor counsel to become more familiar with the case and the client.

7. Conducting the Interviews

a. Counsel should not expect to adequately communicate all relevant information or begin to develop the necessary relationship with the client in a single interview but should undertake an initial series of interviews designed to achieve these goals. Given the peculiar pressures and issues presented in a capital case, counsel should seek to develop a relationship of trust and confidence before questioning the client about matters relevant to the offense or mitigation.

b. Counsel should always interview the client in an environment that protects the attorney-client privilege. Counsel should take reasonable efforts to compel court and other officials to make necessary accommodations for private discussions between counsel and client in courthouses, lock-ups, jails, prisons, detention centers, hospitals, forensic mental health facilities and other places where clients confer with counsel.

c. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure, at the initial interview and in all successive interviews and proceedings, that barriers to communication and trust are overcome.

d. The scope and focus of the initial interviews will vary according to the circumstances of the case, the circumstances of the client, and the circumstances under which the interviews occur.

e. Information to be provided to the client during initial interviews includes, but is not limited to:

i. the role of counsel and the scope of representation, an explanation of the attorney-client privilege, the importance of maintaining contact with counsel, and instructions not to talk to anyone, including other inmates, about the facts of the case or matters relevant to the sentencing hearing without first consulting with the attorney;

ii. describing the other persons who are members of the defense team, how and when counsel or other appropriate members of the defense team can be contacted and when counsel or other members of the defense team will see the client next;

iii. a general overview of the procedural posture and likely progression of the case, an explanation of the charges, potential penalties, and available defenses;

iv. what arrangements will be made or attempted for the satisfaction of the client's most pressing needs; e.g., medical or mental health attention, contact with family or employers;

v. realistic answers, where possible, to the client's most urgent questions;

vi. an explanation of the availability, likelihood, and procedures that will be followed in setting the conditions of pretrial release; and

vii. a detailed warning of the dangers with regard to the search of client's cell and personal belongings while in custody, and the fact that conversations with other inmates, telephone calls, mail, and visitations may be monitored by jail officials. The client should also be warned of the prevalence and danger presented by jailhouse informants making false allegations of confessions by high profile prisoners and advised of the strategies the client can employ to protect himself from such false allegations.

f. Information that should be acquired as soon as appropriate from the client includes, but may not be limited to:

i. the client's immediate medical needs and any prescription medications the client is currently taking, has been prescribed or might require;

ii. whether the client has any pending proceedings, charges, or outstanding warrants in or from other jurisdictions or agencies (and the identity of any other appointed or retained counsel);

iii. the ability of the client to meet any financial conditions of release or afford an attorney;

iv. the existence of potential sources of important information which counsel might need to act immediately to obtain and/or preserve.

g. Appreciating the unique pressure placed upon capital defendants and the extremely sensitive nature of the enquiries that counsel must make, counsel should exercise great caution in seeking to explore the details of either the alleged offense or matters of personal history until a relationship of trust and confidence has been established that will permit full and frank disclosure.

h. Where possible, counsel should obtain from the client signed release forms necessary to obtain client's medical, psychological, education, military, prison, and other records as may be pertinent.

i. Counsel should observe, and consider arranging for, documentation of any marks or wounds pertinent to the case, and secure and document any transient physical evidence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 41:55 (January 2015).

§1907. Performance Standard 3: Investigation

A. Counsel's Responsibility to Investigate

1. Counsel has an ongoing duty to conduct a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation of all matters relevant to the guilt phase, penalty phase, any possible agreed upon disposition, any potential claim for relief, and any possible reduction of the case to a non-capital prosecution. A high quality, exhaustive investigation will be prompt, thorough, and independent.

2. Counsel should act promptly to ensure that the client is not prejudiced by the loss or destruction of evidence or information, whether in the form of physical evidence, records, possible witness testimony or information from a non-testifying witness. Counsel should take reasonable steps to gather and preserve evidence and information at risk of loss or destruction for later use in the case or for use by successor counsel. These steps may include retaining an expert to gather, preserve or examine evidence before it is altered or destroyed or to interview witnesses who may become unavailable. Counsel should be conscious of any procedural limitations or time bars and ensure that the investigation be conducted in a timely fashion to avoid any default or waiver of the client's rights. Similarly, counsel should be aware of or promptly become aware of the period for which relevant records are retained and ensure that the investigation be conducted in a timely fashion to avoid the destruction of relevant records.

3. The investigation relevant to the guilt phase of the trial should be conducted regardless of any admission or statement by the client concerning the facts of the alleged crime, or overwhelming evidence of guilt, or any statement by the client that evidence bearing upon guilt is not to be collected or presented.

4. The investigation relevant to the penalty phase of the trial should be conducted regardless of any statement by the client that evidence bearing upon the penalty is not to be collected or presented. This investigation should comprise extensive and ongoing efforts to discover all reasonably available mitigating evidence and evidence to rebut any aggravating evidence or argument that may be offered by the prosecutor.

5. No area of inquiry or possible evidence in the guilt or penalty phase investigations should be ruled out until a thorough investigation has been conducted. Counsel should seek to investigate all available evidence and information and defer strategic decisions regarding what evidence to present until after a thorough investigation has been conducted. Both at guilt and penalty phases, counsel should not halt investigation after one seemingly meritorious defense theory has been discovered, but should continue to investigate, both following up on evidence supporting known defense theories and seeking to discover other potential defense theories.

6. Where counsel enrolls in a case in which other counsel have previously provided representation, counsel should not rely on a prior defense team's investigation or theory of the case, but rather should independently and thoroughly investigate and prepare the defense, especially where prior counsel had a conflict of interest, or there is reason to believe counsel's performance was deficient.

7. Counsel are responsible for ensuring that a high quality, exhaustive investigation is conducted but are not personally responsible for performing the actual investigation. A team should be assembled containing sufficient members possessing the appropriate skills and resources to conduct a high quality and exhaustive investigation.

B. Conduct of the Investigation

1. Counsel should conduct a high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation of all available sources of information utilizing all available tools including live witness interviews, compulsory process, public records law, discovery, scene visits, obtaining releases of confidential information, pre-trial litigation, the use of experts in the collection and analysis of particular kinds of evidence and audio/visual documentation. Principle sources of information in an investigation will include: information obtained from the client; information and statements obtained from witnesses; discovery obtained from the state; records collected; physical evidence; and direct observations.

2. A high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation will include investigation to determine the existence of other evidence or witnesses corroborating or contradicting a particular piece of evidence or information.

3. A high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation will include an investigation of all sources of possible impeachment of defense and prosecution witnesses.

4. Information and evidence obtained in the investigation provided should be properly preserved by memo, written statement, affidavit, or audio/video recordings. The manner in which information is to be obtained and recorded should be specifically approved by lead counsel having regard to any discovery obligations which operate or may be triggered in the case. In particular, the decision to take signed or recorded statements from witnesses should be made in light of the possibility of disclosure of such statements through reciprocal discovery obligations. Documents and physical evidence should be obtained and preserved in a manner designed to allow for its authentication and with regard to the chain of custody.

5. A high quality, exhaustive investigation should be conducted in a manner that permits counsel to effectively impeach potential witnesses, including state actors and records custodians, with statements made during the investigation. Unless defense counsel is prepared to forgo impeachment of a witness by counsel's own testimony as to what the witness stated in an interview or to seek leave to withdraw from the case in order to present such impeaching testimony, defense counsel should avoid interviewing a prospective witness except in the presence of a third person.

6. A written record should be kept of all investigative activity on a case, including all record requests and responses and attempts to locate and interview witnesses, whether successful or unsuccessful. The written record should be sufficient to allow counsel to identify and prove, if necessary, when, where and under what circumstances each piece of information or evidence was obtained. The written record should also be sufficient to allow counsel to identify and prove that the investigation disclosed an absence of relevant information or evidence, for example, where a record custodian denies possession of relevant records or a witness denies knowledge of a relevant fact.

7. Counsel should conduct a high quality, exhaustive investigation of matters relevant to guilt and penalty phase, bearing in mind at all times the relevance of all information sought and obtained to each phase of the trial. Such an investigation shall extend beyond the particular client and the particular offense charged and include an investigation of: other charged or uncharged bad acts that may be alleged directly or as impeachment; any co-defendant or alleged co-conspirator; any alternate suspects; any victim or victims; relevant law enforcement personnel and agencies; and, forensic and other experts involved in the case.

8. Considerations in respect of particular sources of information will include the following.

a. Interviews with the client should be conducted in accordance with performance standard 2.B. In particular, counsel should be conscious of the need for multiple interviews, a relationship of trust and confidence with the client and for interviews on sensitive matters to be conducted by team members with appropriate skill and experience in conducting such interviews.

b. When interviewing witnesses, live witness interviews are almost always to be preferred and telephone interviews will rarely be appropriate. Barring exceptional circumstances, counsel should seek out and interview all potential witnesses including, but not limited to:

i. eyewitnesses or other witnesses potentially having knowledge of events surrounding the alleged offense itself including the involvement of co-defendants, or alternate suspects;

ii. potential alibi witnesses;

iii. witnesses or other witnesses potentially having knowledge of events surrounding the alleged offense itself including the involvement of co-defendants, or alternate suspects:

(a) members of the client's immediate and extended family;

(b) neighbors, friends and acquaintances who knew the client or his family throughout the various stages of his life;

(c) persons familiar with the communities where the client and the client's family live and have lived;

(d) former teachers, coaches, clergy, employers, co-workers, social service providers, and doctors;

(e) correctional, probation or parole officers;

iv. witnesses to events other than the offense charged that may prove relevant to any affirmative defense or may be relied upon by the prosecution in its case in chief or in rebuttal of the defense case; and

v. government experts who have performed the examinations, tests, or experiments.

c. Discovery should be conducted in accordance with performance standard 5.F.

d. Counsel should be familiar with and utilize lawful avenues to compel the production of relevant records beyond formal discovery or compulsory process, including, the Public Records Law, the Freedom of Information Act, statutory entitlements to records such as medical treatment, military service, social security, social services, correctional and educational records. Counsel should also be familiar with and utilize avenues to obtain records through voluntary release and publicly available sources including web based searches and social media.

i. Counsel should strive to obtain records by means least likely to alert prosecution to the investigative steps being taken by the defense or the content of the records being obtained.

ii. Where appropriate, counsel should seek releases or court orders to obtain necessary confidential information about the client, co-defendant(s), witness(es), alternate suspect(s), or victim(s) that is in the possession of third parties. Counsel should be aware of privacy laws and procedural requirements governing disclosure of the type of confidential information being sought.

iii. Unless strategic considerations dictate otherwise, counsel should ensure that all requests, whether by compulsory process, public records law, or other specific statutory procedures, are made in a form that will allow counsel to enforce the requests to the extent possible and to seek the imposition of sanctions for non-compliance. Counsel should seek prompt compliance with such requests and must maintain a system for tracking requests that have been made: following up on requests; triggering enforcement action where requests are not complied with; documenting where responses have been received; and, identifying which documents have been received in response to which requests and on what date.

iv. Counsel should obtain all available information from the client's court files. Counsel should obtain copies of the client's prior court file(s), and the court files of other relevant persons. Counsel should also obtain the files from the relevant law enforcement and prosecuting agencies to the extent available.

v. Counsel should independently check the criminal records for both government and defense witnesses, and obtain a certified copy of all judgments of conviction for government witnesses, for possible use at trial for impeachment purposes.

e. Counsel should move promptly to ensure that all physical evidence favorable to the client is preserved, including seeking a protective court order to prevent destruction or alteration of evidence. Counsel should make a prompt request to the police or investigative agency for access to any physical evidence or expert reports relevant to the case. Counsel should examine and document the condition of any such physical evidence well in advance of trial. With the assistance of appropriate experts, counsel should reexamine all of the government's material forensic evidence, and conduct appropriate analyses of all other available forensic evidence. Counsel should investigate not only the accuracy of the results of any forensic testing, but also the legitimacy of the methods used to conduct the testing and the qualifications of those responsible for the testing.

f. Counsel should take full advantage of the direct observation of relevant documents, objects, places and events by defense team members, experts and others.

i. Counsel should attempt to view the scenes of the alleged offense and other relevant events as soon as possible after counsel is assigned. The visit to any relevant scene should include visiting under circumstances as similar as possible to those existing at the time of the alleged incident (e.g., weather, time of day, and lighting conditions). Counsel should extensively, precisely, and accurately document the condition of any relevant scene using the most appropriate and effective means, including audio-visual recordings, diagrams, charts, measurements, and descriptive memoranda. The condition of the scenes should always be documented in a manner that will permit counsel to identify and prove the condition of the scenes without personally becoming a witness. Where appropriate, counsel should obtain independently prepared documentation of the condition of the scenes, such as maps, charts, property records, contemporaneous audio-visual recordings conducted by media, security cameras or law enforcement.

ii. Counsel should exercise the defendant's right to inspect, copy, examine, test scientifically, photograph, or otherwise reproduce books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, buildings, places, or copies or portions thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the state.

iii. Counsel for a client with one or more co-defendants should attend hearings of co-defendants, even if the issue at stake does not seem directly relevant to the client. Counsel should be particularly interested in discovering the strength of the prosecution's case against the co-defendant, and the similarities and differences between a co-defendant's defense and the client's.

iv. Counsel should also attend potentially relevant hearing involving state or defense witnesses.

C. Duty of Counsel to Conduct Penalty Phase Investigation

1. Counsel should lead the defense team in a structured and supervised mitigation investigation where counsel is coordinating and, to the extent possible, integrating the case for life with the guilt phase strategy.

2. Despite the integration of the two phases of the trial, counsel should be alert to the different significance of items of evidence in the two phases and direct the investigation of the evidence for the penalty phase accordingly. Where evidence is relevant to both phases, counsel should not limit the investigation to guilt phase issues, but should further develop the mitigating evidence into a compelling case for life to be stressed at the penalty phase. All information obtained in the guilt phase investigation should be assessed for its significance to the penalty phase and, where possible, the guilt phase theory should reflect this assessment. Counsel should actively consider the benefits of presenting evidence admissible in the guilt phase that is also relevant in mitigation of punishment, and conduct the investigation and development of evidence accordingly.

3. Counsel should direct the investigation of mitigating information as early as possible in the case. Mitigation investigation may affect many aspects of the case including the investigation of guilt phase defenses, charging decisions and related advocacy, motion practice, decisions about needs for expert evaluations, client relations and communication, and plea negotiations.

4. Counsel has an ongoing duty to conduct a high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation of every aspect of the client's character, history, record and any circumstances of the offense, or other factors, which may provide a basis for a sentence less than death.

5. Counsel should investigate all available sources of information and use all appropriate avenues to obtain all potentially relevant information pertaining to the client, his siblings, parents, and other family members extending back at least three generations, including but not limited to: medical history consisting of complete prenatal, pediatric, and adult health information (including hospitalizations, mental and physical illness or injury, pre-natal and birth trauma, malnutrition, developmental delays, and neurological damage); exposure to harmful substances in utero and in the environment; substance abuse and treatment history; mental health history; history of maltreatment and neglect; trauma history (including exposure to criminal violence, exposure to war, the loss of a loved one, or a natural disaster; experiences of racism or other social or ethnic bias; cultural or religious influences); educational history (including achievement, performance, behavior, activities, special educational needs including cognitive limitations and learning disabilities, and opportunity or lack thereof); social services, welfare, and family court history (including failures of government or social intervention, such as failure to intervene or provide necessary services, placement in poor quality foster care or juvenile detention facilities), employment and training history (including skills and performance, and barriers to employability); military experience (including length and type of service, conduct, special training, combat exposure, health and mental health services); immigration experience; multi-generational family history, genetic disorders and vulnerabilities, as well as multi-generational patterns of behavior; prior adult and juvenile criminal and correctional experience; religious, gender, sexual orientation, ethnic, racial, cultural and community influences; socio-economic, historical, and political factors.

6. Counsel should not refrain from fully investigating potentially double-edged mitigation and such an investigation should include the full context of the mitigating evidence so as to reduce any potentially negative impact of such evidence at trial or to ensure that the mitigating effect of the evidence outweighs any negatives that may arise from the introduction of the evidence. Counsel should adopt such strategies as are necessary to reduce any potentially negative impact of such evidence, including effective voir dire, motions in limine, limiting instructions and the presentation of other evidence designed to maximize the mitigating effect of the evidence and reduce its negative potential.

7. While the client and the client's immediate family can be very important sources of information, they are far from the only potentially significant and powerful sources of information for mitigation evidence, and counsel should not limit the investigation to the client and his or her family. Further, when evaluating information from the client and the client's family, counsel should consider any impediments each may have to self-reporting or self-reflection.

8. Counsel should exhaustively investigate evidence of any potential aggravating circumstances and other adverse evidence that may be used by the state in penalty phase to determine how the evidence may be rebutted or mitigated.

a. Counsel should interview all known state witnesses for the penalty phase, including any expert witnesses.

b. Counsel's investigation of any prior conviction(s) which may be alleged against the client should include an investigation of any legal basis for overturning the conviction, including by appellate, state post-conviction or federal habeas corpus proceedings. Where such a basis exists, counsel should commence or cause to be commenced litigation directed to overturning the conviction. Representation in such proceedings should be determined in accordance with standard 1.H.

c. Counsel should actively consider the evidence that the state may be permitted to present in rebuttal of the defense case at penalty phase and investigate the evidence to determine how the evidence may be excluded, rebutted or mitigated.

9. Counsel should exhaustively investigate the possibility that there exists any absolute bar to the imposition of the death penalty.

a. Counsel should conduct a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation to determine whether the client may suffer from intellectual disability. Counsel should not rely on his or her own assessment or impression of the client in determining whether the client has a viable claim of mental retardation as intellectual disability may be difficult to accurately assess and many clients will mask such disability even at the risk of their lives. Where a potential intellectual disability claim exists, the defense team should include members with expertise in the recognition, investigation and development of evidence of intellectual disability as well as the litigation of issues of intellectual disability. Where the defense team does not contain sufficient expertise in this regard, lead counsel should use all available avenues to secure additional counsel or other team members with expertise in investigating and litigating issues of intellectual disability.

b. In view of the decision of Roper v. Simmons, 543 U.S. 551 (2005), especially in cases involving foreign born clients, where the client's date of birth may be difficult to document, a special investigation may be required to ascertain the true "age" of the client to ensure that he is "death eligible" and, if not, ensure that the client is not exposed to the possibility of a death sentence.

c. Counsel should attempt to identify and develop other grounds which, though currently not providing an absolute bar to imposition of a death sentence, may in the future provide such exemption, such as serious mental illness, post-18 cognitive impairment, or guilt as a principal not directly responsible for the death.

d. Counsel should ensure that the presentation of evidence of an absolute bar to the death penalty, such as intellectual disability, is not limited to bare proof of the dispositive fact but fully presents the mitigating effect of the evidence, including the continuing mitigating effect of the evidence even where the evidence does not wholly satisfy the legal bar to the death penalty.

10. Counsel should direct team members to conduct in-person, face-to-face, one-on-one interviews with the client, the client's family, and other witnesses who are familiar with the client's life, history, or family history or who would support a sentence less than death. Counsel should not fail to seek to interview any of the client's immediate family members. Multiple interviews will be necessary to establish trust, elicit sensitive information, and conduct a thorough and reliable life-history investigation. Team members should endeavor to establish the rapport with the client and witnesses that will be necessary to provide the client with a defense in accordance with constitutional guarantees relevant to a capital sentencing proceeding

11. Counsel should direct team members to gather documentation to support the testimony of expert and lay witnesses, including, but not limited to, school, medical, employment, military, criminal and incarceration, and social service records, in order to provide medical, psychological, sociological, cultural or other insights into the client's mental and/or emotional state, intellectual capacity, and life history that may explain or diminish the client's culpability for his conduct, demonstrate the absence of aggressive patterns in the client's behavior, show the client's capacity for empathy, depict the client's remorse, illustrate the client's desire to function in the world, give a favorable opinion as to the client's capacity for rehabilitation or adaptation to prison, explain possible treatment programs, rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor, or otherwise support a sentence less than death. Records should be reviewed as they are received by the team so that any gaps in the evidence can be discovered and filled, further areas of investigation can be uncovered and pursued, and the defense theory can properly incorporate all available documentary evidence.

12. Counsel should direct team members to provide counsel with documentary evidence of the investigation through the use of such methods as memoranda, genealogies, social history reports, chronologies and reports on relevant subjects including, but not limited to, cultural, socioeconomic, environmental, racial, and religious issues in the client's life. The manner in which information is provided to counsel is determined on a case by case basis, in consultation with counsel, considering jurisdictional practices, discovery rules and policies.

13. Counsel should ensure that the investigation develops available evidence to humanize the client in the eyes of the jury, reflect the client's inherent dignity and value as a human being, demonstrate the client's positives and provide a basis for demonstrating these matters through factually valid narratives and exhibits, rather than merely adjectives. The investigation shall focus more broadly than identifying the causes of any offending conduct.

14. After thorough investigation counsel should begin selecting and preparing witnesses who will testify, who may include but are not limited to:

a. lay witnesses, or witnesses who are familiar with the client or his family, including but not limited to:

i. the client's family and those familiar with the client;

ii. the client's friends, teachers, classmates, co-workers, employers, and those who served in the military with the client, as well as others who are familiar with the client's early and current development and functioning, medical history, environmental history, mental health history, educational history, employment and training history, military experience and religious, racial, and cultural experiences and influences upon the client or the client's family;

iii. social service and treatment providers to the client and the client's family members, including doctors, nurses, other medical staff, social workers, and housing or welfare officials;

iv. witnesses familiar with the client's prior juvenile and criminal justice and correctional experiences;

v. former and current neighbors of the client and the client's family, community members, and others familiar with the neighborhoods in which the client lived, including the type of housing, the economic status of the community, the availability of employment and the prevalence of violence;

vi. witnesses who can testify about the applicable alternative to a death sentence and/or the condition under which the alternative sentence would be served;

vii. witnesses who can testify about the adverse impact of the client's execution on the client's family and loved ones;

b. expert witnesses, or witnesses with specialized training or experience in a particular subject matter. Such experts include, but are not limited to:

i. medical doctors, psychiatrists, psychologists, toxicologists, pharmacologists, social workers and persons with specialized knowledge of medical conditions, mental illnesses and impairments; neurological impairment (brain damage); substance abuse, physical, emotional and sexual maltreatment, trauma and the effects of such factors on the client's development and functioning;

ii. anthropologists, sociologists and persons with expertise in a particular race, culture, ethnicity, religion;

iii. persons with specialized knowledge of specific communities or expertise in the effect of environments and neighborhoods upon their inhabitants;

iv. persons with specialized knowledge about gangs and gang culture; and

v. persons with specialized knowledge of institutional life, either generally or within a specific institution, including prison security and adaptation experts.

15. Counsel should direct team members to aid in preparing and gathering demonstrative evidence, such as photographs, videotapes and physical objects (e.g., trophies, artwork, military medals), and documents that humanize the client or portray him positively, such as certificates of earned awards, favorable press accounts and letters of praise or reference.

D. Securing the Assistance of Experts

1. Counsel should secure the assistance of experts where appropriate for:

a. an adequate understanding of the prosecution's case and the preparation and presentation of the defense including for consultation purposes on areas of specialized knowledge or those lying outside counsel's experience;

b. rebuttal of any portion of the prosecution's case at the guilt or sentencing phase of the trial;

c. investigation of the client's competence to proceed, capacity to make a knowing and intelligent waiver of constitutional rights, mental state at the time of the offense, insanity, diminished capacity and competence to be executed; and

d. obtaining an agreed disposition or assisting the client make a decision to accept or reject a possible agreed disposition.

2. An expert is retained to assist counsel in the provision of high quality legal representation. It is counsel's responsibility to provide high quality legal representation and the hiring of an expert, even a well-qualified expert, will not be sufficient to discharge this responsibility. Counsel has a responsibility to support and supervise the work of an expert to ensure that it is adequate and appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

3. When selecting an expert, counsel should consult with other attorneys, mitigation specialists, investigators and experts regarding the strengths and weaknesses of available experts. Counsel should interview experts and examine their credentials and experience before hiring them, including investigating the existence of any significant impeachment that may be offered against the expert and reviewing transcripts of the expert's prior testimony. If counsel discovers that a retained expert is unqualified or his opinions and testimony will be detrimental to the client, counsel should replace the expert and where appropriate, seek other expert advice.

4. When retaining an expert, counsel should provide clear information regarding the rate of payment, reimbursement of expenses, the method of billing, the timing of payment, any cap on professional fees or expenses and any other conditions of the agreement to retain. Counsel should ensure that the expert is familiar with the rules of confidentiality applicable in the circumstances and where appropriate, have the expert sign a confidentiality agreement. Counsel should monitor the hours of work performed and costs incurred by an expert to ensure that the expert does not exceed any pre-approved cap and in order to certify that the expert's use of time and expenses was appropriate in the circumstances.

5. Defense counsel should normally not rely on one expert to testify on a range of subjects, particularly where the witness lacks sufficient expertise in one or more of the areas to be canvassed. Counsel should determine whether an expert is to be used as a consulting expert or may testify in the case and should make appropriate distinctions in communications with the expert and disclosure of the identity and any report of the expert to the state. Counsel should use separate experts in the same field for consultation and possible testimony where the circumstances of the case make this necessary or appropriate.

6. Counsel should not simply rely on the opinions of an expert, but should seek to become sufficiently educated in the field to make a reasoned determination as to whether the hired expert is qualified, whether his or her opinion is defensible, whether another expert should be hired, and ultimately whether the area of investigation should be further pursued or abandoned.

7. Experts assisting in investigation and other preparation of the defense should be independent of the court, the state and any co-defendants. Expert work product should be maintained as confidential to the extent allowed by law. Counsel and support staff should use all available sources of information to obtain all necessary information for experts. Counsel should provide an expert with all relevant and necessary information, records, materials, access to witnesses and access to the client within sufficient time to allow the expert to complete a thorough assessment of the material provided, conduct any further investigation, formulate an opinion, communicate the opinion to counsel and be prepared for any testimony. Ordinarily, counsel should not retain an expert until a thorough investigation has been undertaken.

8. Counsel should not seek or rely upon an expert opinion in the absence of an adequate factual investigation of the matters that may inform or support an expert opinion. While an expert may be consulted for guidance even where relatively little factual investigation has been completed, counsel may not rely upon an expert opinion in limiting the scope of investigation, making final decisions about the defense theory or determining the matters to be presented to any court in the absence of a factual investigation sufficiently thorough to ensure that the expert's opinion is fully informed and well supported. Ultimately, it is the responsibility of counsel, not the expert, to ensure that all relevant material is gathered and submitted to the expert for review.

9. Counsel should ensure that any expert who may testify is not exposed to privileged or confidential information beyond that which counsel is prepared to have disclosed by the witness during his or her testimony.

E. Development of a Strategic Plan for the Case

1. During investigation and trial preparation, counsel should develop and continually reassess a strategic plan for the case. This should include the possible defense theories for guilt phase, penalty phase, agreed upon disposition, litigation of the case and, where appropriate, litigation of the case on appeal and post-conviction review.

2. The defense theory at trial should be an integrated defense theory that will be reinforced by its presentation at both the guilt and penalty phase and should minimize any inconsistencies between the theories presented at each stage and humanize the client as much as possible. Counsel should strongly consider, with the consent of the client, forgoing a guilt-innocence phase plan that denies the defendant had any involvement in the offense and instead attempt to raise doubts about whether the offense was a first-degree murder (e.g., because of the defendant's role, mental state or intent).

3. A strategy for the case should be developed from the outset of counsel's involvement in the case and continually updated as the investigation, preparation and litigation of the case proceed. Counsel should not make a final decision on the defense theory to be pursued at trial or foreclose inquiry into any available defense theory until a high quality, exhaustive, independent investigation has been conducted and the available strategic choices fully considered.

4. However, a defense theory for trial should be selected in sufficient time to allow counsel to advance that theory during all phases of the trial, including jury selection, witness preparation, motions, opening statement, presentation of evidence, closing argument and jury instructions. Similarly, the defense theory for the post-verdict, appellate and post-conviction stages of the proceedings be selected in sufficient time to allow counsel to advance that theory in the substantive filings and hearings in the case.

5. In arriving at a defense theory counsel should weigh the positive aspects of the defense theory and also any negative effect the theory may have, including opening the door to otherwise inadmissible evidence or waiving potentially viable claims or defenses.

6. From the outset of counsel's involvement in the case, a strategic planning document or documents should be produced in writing and maintained in the client's file. The strategic planning document should be amended as the investigation, preparation and litigation of the case proceed to accurately reflect the current theory or theories. The strategic planning document should be made available to all members of the defense team to assist in coordinating work on the case. However, it should remain privileged and not be shared with non-team members or any team member or expert who may testify.

7. The current strategic planning document and any prior drafts of the document should be maintained in the client's file. The capital case supervisor should be given access to the strategic planning document and any prior drafts to assist in the supervision and support of the defense team.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 41:58 (January 2015).

§1909. Performance Standard 4: Agreed Dispositions

A. Duty of Counsel to Seek an Agreed Disposition

1. Counsel at every stage of the case have an obligation to take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these Standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition.

2. After interviewing the client and developing a thorough knowledge of the law and facts of the case, counsel at every stage of the case should explore with the client the possibility and desirability of reaching an agreed-upon disposition of the charges rather than proceeding to a trial or continuing with proceedings seeking judicial or executive review. In doing so counsel should fully explain the rights that would be waived by a decision to enter a plea or waive further review, the possible collateral consequences, and the legal factual and contextual considerations that bear upon that decision. Counsel should advise the client with complete candor concerning all aspects of the case, including a candid opinion as to the probable outcome. Counsel should make it clear to the client that the ultimate decision to enter a plea of guilty or waive further review has to be made by the client.

3. Counsel should keep the client fully informed of any discussions or negotiations for an agreed disposition and promptly convey to the client any offers made by the prosecution for an agreed disposition. Counsel shall not accept or reject any agreed-upon disposition without the client's express authorization.

4. Initial refusals by the prosecutor to negotiate should not prevent counsel from making further efforts to negotiate. Despite a client's initial opposition, counsel should engage in an ongoing effort to persuade the client to pursue an agreed disposition that is in the client's best interest. Consideration of an agreed disposition should focus on the client's interests, the client's needs and the client's perspective.

5. The existence of ongoing negotiations with the prosecution does not in any way diminish the obligations of defense counsel respecting investigation and litigation. Ongoing negotiations should not prevent counsel from taking steps necessary to preserve a defense nor should the existence of ongoing negotiations prevent or delay counsel's investigation into the facts of the case and preparation of the case for further proceedings, including trial.

B. Formal Advice Regarding Agreed Dispositions

1. Counsel should be aware of, and fully explain to the client:

a. the maximum penalty that may be imposed for the charged offense(s) and any possible lesser included or alternative offenses, and any mandatory (minimum) punishment, sentencing enhancements, habitual offender statutes, mandatory consecutive sentence requirements including restitution, fines, assessments and court costs;

b. any collateral consequences of potential penalties less than death including but not limited to forfeiture of assets, deportation or the denial of naturalization or of reentry into the United States, imposition of civil liabilities, loss of parental rights, the forfeiture of professional licensure, the ineligibility for various government programs including student loans, the prohibition from carrying a firearm, the suspension of a motor vehicle operator's license, the loss of the right to vote, the loss of the right to hold public office, potential federal prosecutions, and the use of the disposition adverse to the client in penalty phase proceedings of other prosecutions of him, as well as any direct consequences of potential penalties less than death, such as the possibility and likelihood of parole, place of confinement and good-time credits;

c. any registration requirements including sex offender registration and job specific notification requirements;

d. the general range of sentences for similar offenses committed by defendants with similar backgrounds, and the impact of any applicable sentencing guidelines or mandatory sentencing requirements including any possible and likely sentence enhancements or parole consequences;

e. the governing legal regime, including but not limited to whatever choices the client may have as to the fact finder and/or sentence;

f. available drug rehabilitation programs, psychiatric treatment, and health care;

g. the possible and likely place of confinement;

h. credit for pretrial detention;

i. the effect of good-time credits on the client's release date and how those credits are earned and calculated;

j. eligibility for correctional programs, work release and conditional leaves;

k. deferred sentences, conditional discharges and diversion agreements;

l. probation or suspension of sentence and permissible conditions of probation;

m. parole and post-prison supervision eligibility, applicable ranges, and likely post-prison supervision conditions; and

n. possibility of later expungement and sealing of records.

2. Counsel should be completely familiar with, and fully explain to the client:

a. concessions the client may make as part of an agreed disposition, including:

i. to waive trial and plead guilty to particular charges;

ii. to decline from asserting or litigating any particular pretrial motions; or to forego in whole or in part legal remedies such as appeals, motions for post-conviction relief, and/or parole or clemency applications. However, the client should receive independent legal advice before being asked to waive any future claim of ineffective assistance of counsel.

iii. to proceed to trial on a particular date or within a particular time period;

iv. to enter an agreement regarding future custodial status, such as one to be confined in a more onerous category of institution than would otherwise be the case, or to fulfill specified restitution conditions and/or participation in community work or service programs, or in rehabilitation or other programs;

v. to provide the prosecution with assistance in prosecuting or investigating the present case or other alleged criminal activity;

vi. to enter an agreement to permit a judge to perform functions relative to guilt or sentence that would otherwise be performed by a jury or vice versa;

vii. to enter an agreement to engage in or refrain from any particular conduct, as appropriate to the case;

viii. to enter an agreement with the victim's family, which may include matters such as: a meeting between the victim's family and the client, a promise not to publicize or profit from the offense, the issuance or delivery of a public statement of remorse by the client, or restitution; and

ix. to enter agreements such as those described in the above subsections respecting actual or potential charges in another jurisdiction.

b. benefits the client might obtain from a negotiated settlement, including, but not limited to an agreement:

i. that the death penalty will not be sought;

ii. to dismiss or reduce one or more of the charged offenses either immediately, or upon completion of a deferred prosecution agreement;

iii. that the client will receive, with the agreement of the court, a specified sentence or sanction or a sentence or sanction within a specified range;

iv. that the client will receive, or the prosecution will recommend, specific benefits concerning the accused's place and/or manner of confinement and/or release on parole and the information concerning the accused's offense and alleged behavior that may be considered in determining the accused's date of release from incarceration;

v. that the client may enter a conditional plea to preserve the right to further contest certain legal issues;

vi. that the prosecution will not oppose the client's release on bail pending sentencing or appeal;

vii. that the client will not be subject to further investigation or prosecution for uncharged alleged or suspected criminal conduct;

viii. that the prosecution will take, or refrain from taking, at the time of sentencing and/or in communications with the preparer of the official pre-sentence report, a specified position with respect to the sanction to be imposed on the client by the court;

ix. that the prosecution will not present certain information, at the time of sentencing and/or in communications with the preparer of the official pre-sentence report, or will engage in or refrain from engaging in other actions with regard to sentencing;

x. such as those described in Subsections (i)-(ix) respecting actual or potential charges in another jurisdiction.

c. the position of any alleged victim (and victim's family members) with respect to conviction and sentencing. In this regard, counsel should:

i. consider whether interviewing or outreach to an alleged victim (or a victim's family members) is appropriate;

ii. consider to what extent the alleged victim or victims (or a victim's family members) might be involved in the plea negotiations;

iii. be familiar with any rights afforded the alleged victim or victims (and a victim's family members) under La. Const. Art I, §25, R.S. 46:1841 et seq., or other applicable law; and

iv. be familiar with the practice of the prosecutor and/or victim-witness advocate working with the prosecutor and to what extent, if any, they defer to the wishes of the alleged victim.

3. In conducting plea negotiations, counsel should be familiar with and should fully explain to the client:

a. the various types of pleas that may be agreed to, including a plea of guilty, a nolo contendere plea in which the client is not required to personally acknowledge his or her guilt (North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25 (1970)), and a guilty plea conditioned upon reservation of appellate review of pre-plea assignments of non-jurisdictional error (State v. Crosby, 338 So.2d 584 (La. 1976));

b. the advantages and disadvantages of each available plea according to the circumstances of the case; and

c. whether any plea agreement is or can be made binding on the court and prison and parole authorities, and whether the client or the state has a right to appeal the conviction and/or sentence and what would happen if an appeal was successful.

4. In conducting plea negotiations, counsel should become familiar with and fully explain to the client, the practices, policies, and concerns of the particular jurisdiction, judge and prosecuting authority, probation department, the family of the victim and any other persons or entities which may affect the content and likely results of plea negotiations.

5. In conducting plea negotiations counsel should be familiar with and fully explain to the client any ongoing exposure to prosecution in any other jurisdiction for the same or related offending and where possible, seek to fully resolve the client's exposure to prosecution for the offending and any related offending.

C. The Advice and Decision to Enter a Plea of Guilty

1. Subject to considerations of diminished capacity, counsel should abide by the client's decision, after meaningful consultation with counsel, as to a plea to be entered.

2. Counsel should explain all matters relevant to the plea decision to the extent reasonably necessary to permit the client to make informed decisions regarding the appropriate plea. In particular, counsel should investigate and explain to the client the prospective strengths and weaknesses of the case for the prosecution and defense at both guilt and penalty phase and on appellate post-conviction and habeas corpus review.

3. Counsel should carefully and thoroughly explore the client's understanding of the matters explained including, in particular, the procedural posture of his case, the trial and appellate process, the likelihood of success at trial, the likely disposition at trial and the practical effect of each disposition, the practical effect of each available plea decision and counsel's professional advice on which plea to enter.

4. In providing the client with advice, counsel should refer not only to law but to other considerations such as moral, economic, social and political factors that may be relevant to the client's situation. Counsel may enlist the assistance of others to assist in ensuring that the client is able to make an informed decision having regard to these considerations.

5. Counsel should pursue every reasonable avenue to overcome any barriers to communication and trust in discussing a possible agreed disposition. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client's capacity to make a decision in his own best interests is not impaired, for example, by the effects of mental health, family dysfunction or conditions of confinement.

6. The considerations applicable to the advice and decision to enter a plea of guilty will also apply to the decision to enter into an agreed disposition in an appellate or post-conviction posture.

D. Entering the Negotiated Plea before the Court

1. Notwithstanding any earlier discussions with the client, prior to the entry of the plea, counsel should meet with the client in a confidential setting that fosters full communication and:

a. make certain that the client understands the rights he or she will waive by entering the plea and that the client's decision to waive those rights is knowing, voluntary and intelligent;

b. make certain that the client receives a full explanation of the conditions and limits of the plea agreement and the maximum punishment, sanctions and collateral consequences the client will be exposed to by entering a plea;

c. explain to the client the nature of the plea hearing and prepare the client for the role he or she will play in the hearing, including answering questions of the judge and providing a statement concerning the offense;

d. make certain that if the plea is a non-negotiated plea, the client is informed that once the plea has been accepted by the court, it may not be withdrawn after the sentence has been pronounced by the court;

e. ensure that the client is mentally competent and psychologically capable of making a decision to enter a plea of guilty;

f. be satisfied that the client admits guilt or believes there is a substantial likelihood of conviction at trial, and believes that it is in his or her best interests to plead guilty under the plea agreement rather than risk the consequence of conviction after trial; and

g. be satisfied that the state would likely be able to prove the charge(s) against the client at trial.

2. When entering the plea, counsel should make sure that the full content and conditions of the plea agreement are placed on the record before the court.

3. Subsequent to the acceptance of the plea, counsel should review and explain the plea proceedings to the client, and respond to any questions or concerns the client may have.

§1911. Performance Standard 5: Pre-Trial Litigation

A. Obligations regarding Court Hearings

1. Counsel should prepare for and attend all court proceedings involving the client and/or the client's case. Counsel should be present, alert and focused on client's best interests during all stages of the court proceedings.

2. As soon as possible after entry of counsel into the case, counsel should provide general advice to the client on how court proceedings will be conducted, how the client should conduct himself in court settings, how the client should communicate with counsel and others in the court setting and how the client should react to events in court. Counsel should advise the client on appropriate demeanor and presentation in court and take reasonable steps to assist the client in maintaining an appropriate demeanor and presentation.

3. Prior to any court hearing, counsel should meet with and explain to the client the purpose and procedure to be followed at the hearing. Where the client may be directly addressed by the court or asked to speak on the record, counsel should warn the client in advance and advise the client on how to proceed. Counsel should advise the client that he has the right to confer with counsel before answering any question, even if it means interrupting the proceedings.

4. Counsel should take all necessary steps to overcome any barriers to communication or understanding by the client during court proceedings, including the use of interpreters, slowing the rate of proceedings, taking adequate breaks, using appropriate language and explaining proceedings to the client during the hearing.

5. Counsel should document in the client's file a summary of all pertinent information arising from each court hearing and take particular care to memorialize communications and events that will not appear in the court record or transcript.

6. Counsel should ensure that the court minutes and any transcript accurately reflect the orders, statements and events occurring in court and that all exhibits have been marked, identified and placed into the record.

B. Obligations of Counsel Following Arrest

1. Counsel or a representative of counsel have an obligation to meet with incarcerated clients for an initial interview within 24 hours of counsel's initial entry into the case, barring exceptional circumstances, and shall take other prompt action necessary to provide high quality legal representation including:

a. invoking the protections of appropriate constitutional provisions, federal and state laws, statutory provisions, and court rules on behalf of a client, and revoking any waivers of these protections purportedly given by the client, as soon as practicable by correspondence and a notice of appearance or other pleading filed with the State and court. More specifically, counsel should communicate in an appropriate manner with both the client and the government regarding the protection of the client's rights against self-incrimination, to the effective assistance of counsel, and to preservation of the attorney-client privilege and similar safeguards. Counsel at all stages of the case should re-advise the client and the government regarding these matters as appropriate and assert the client's right to counsel at any post-arrest procedure such as a line-up, medical evaluation, psychological evaluation, physical testing or the taking of a forensic sample.

b. where possible, ensuring that capitally certified counsel shall represent the client at the first appearance hearing conducted under La. C.Cr.P. art. 230.1 in order to contest probable cause for a client arrested without an arrest warrant, to seek bail on favorable terms (after taking into consideration the adverse impact, if any, such efforts may have upon exercising the client's right to a full bond hearing at a later date), to invoke constitutional and statutory protections on behalf of the client, and otherwise advocate for the interests of the client.

2. Prior to indictment, counsel should take steps to secure the pretrial release of the client where such steps will not jeopardize the client's ability to defend against any later indictment. Where the client is unable to obtain pretrial release, counsel should take all reasonable steps to identify and ensure that the client's medical, mental health and security needs are being met.

3. While counsel should only seek to submit evidence for the client to the grand jury in exceptional cases, counsel should consider in each particular case whether such an application is appropriate in the circumstances.

4. Where counsel is assigned to the case of a capital defendant arrested outside of Louisiana, counsel should immediately contact any attorney representing the client in the jurisdiction of arrest to share information as appropriate and coordinate the representation of the client. Where the client is not represented in the jurisdiction of arrest, counsel should take all reasonable steps to arrange effective representation for him. Ordinarily, counsel should travel to the jurisdiction of arrest to consult with and provide legal advice to the client with respect to the capital case and the ramifications for the capital case of waiving or contesting extradition. Counsel should conduct the initial interviews with the client, the assertion and protection of the client's rights and the investigation of the case, including the circumstances of the arrest, in accordance with these standards, regardless of whether the client is being held in the jurisdiction of arrest or has been extradited to Louisiana. Counsel should not wait for the client to be extradited before commencing active representation of the client.

C. Counsel's Duties at the Preliminary Hearing

1. In the absence of exceptional circumstances, counsel should move for a preliminary hearing in all pre-indictment cases. Counsel should move for and attempt to secure a preliminary hearing in a timely fashion having regard to prosecution practices in the particular jurisdiction and the likely timing of any indictment.

2. While the primary function of the preliminary hearing is to ensure that probable cause exists to hold the client in custody or under bond obligation, the hearing may provide collateral advantages for the client by: creating a transcript of cross-examination of state's witnesses for use as an impeachment tool; preserving testimony favorable to the client of a witness who may not appear at trial; providing discovery of the state's case; allowing for more effective and earlier preparation of a defense; and, persuading the prosecution to refuse the charges or accept lesser charges for prosecution.

3. Counsel should conduct as thorough an investigation of the case as is possible in the time allowed before the preliminary hearing to best inform strategic decisions regarding the subpoenaing of witnesses and the scope and nature of cross-examination. Counsel should fully exercise the rights to subpoena and cross-examine witnesses to seek a favorable outcome at the preliminary hearing and maximize the collateral advantages to the client of the proceedings.

4. In preparing for the preliminary hearing, the attorney should be familiar with:

- a. the elements of each of the offenses alleged;

- b. the requirements for establishing probable cause;
- c. factual information which is available concerning the existence of or lack of probable cause;

d. the tactics of full or partial cross-examination, including the potential impact on the admissibility of any witness' testimony if they are later unavailable for trial and how to respond to any objection on discovery grounds by showing how the question is relevant to probable cause;

e. additional factual information and impeachment evidence that could be discovered by counsel during the hearing; and

f. the subpoena process for obtaining compulsory attendance of witnesses at preliminary hearing and the necessary steps to be taken in order to obtain a proper recordation of the proceedings.

5. Counsel should not present defense evidence, especially the client's testimony, except in unusual circumstances where there is a sound tactical reason that overcomes the inadvisability of disclosing the defense case at this stage.

D. Counsel's Duties at Arraignment

1. Where possible, capitally certified counsel should be assigned prior to arraignment and should represent the client at arraignment.

2. Counsel should preserve the client's rights by entering a plea of not guilty in all but the most extraordinary circumstances where a sound tactical reason exists for not doing so.

3. If not already done, counsel should assert the client's fifth and sixth amendment rights to silence and to counsel and should review with the client the need to remain silent.

4. If not already done, counsel should take all reasonable steps to identify and ensure that the client's medical, mental health and security needs are being met.

E. Counsel's Duty in Pretrial Release Proceedings

1. Counsel should be prepared to present to the appropriate judicial officer a statement of the factual circumstances and the legal criteria supporting release pursuant to C.Cr.P. art. 331, and, where appropriate, to make a proposal concerning conditions of release. Client's charged with capital crimes remain eligible to be admitted to bail even after indictment and counsel should consider and, where appropriate, pursue an application to have the client admitted to bail.

2. Counsel should carefully consider the strategic benefits or risks of making an application for bail, including the timing of any application and any collateral benefits or risks that may be associated with a bail application.

3. Where the client is not able to obtain release under the conditions set by the court, counsel should consider pursuing modification of the conditions of release under the procedures available.

4. If the court sets conditions of release which require the posting of a monetary bond or the posting of real property as collateral for release, counsel should make sure the client understands the available options and the procedures that must be followed in posting such assets. Where appropriate, counsel should advise the client and others acting in his or her behalf how to properly post such assets.

F. Formal and Informal Discovery

1. Counsel

2. Unless:

a. the precise statutory provision relied upon for the charge or indictment, including any aggravating factors that may be relied upon by the prosecution to establish first degree murder under R.S. 14:30;

b. any aggravating circumstances that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the penalty phase pursuant to La. C.Cr.P. art. 905.4;

c. any written, recorded or oral statement, confession or response to interrogation made by or attributed to the client. Such discovery should, where possible, include a copy of any such confession or statement, the substance of any oral confession or statement and details as to when, where and to whom the confession or statement was made;

d. any record of the client's arrests and convictions and those of potential witnesses;

e. any information, document or tangible thing favorable to the client on the issues of guilt or punishment, including information relevant for impeachment purposes;

f. any documents or tangible evidence the state intends to use as evidence at trial, including but not limited to: all books, papers, documents, data, photographs, tangible objects, buildings or places, or copies, descriptions, or other representations, or portions thereof, relevant to the case;

g. any documents or tangible evidence obtained from or belonging to the client, including a list of all items seized from the client or from any place under the client's dominion;

h. any results or reports and underlying data of relevant physical or mental examinations, including medical records of the victim where relevant, and of scientific tests, experiments and comparisons, or copies thereof, intended for use at trial or favorable to the client on the issues of guilt or punishment;

i. one half of any DNA sample taken from the client;

j. any successful or unsuccessful out-of-court identification procedures undertaken or attempted;

k. any search warrant applications, including any affidavit in support, search warrant and return on search warrant;

l. any other crimes, wrongs or acts that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the guilt phase;

m. any other adjudicated or nonadjudicated conduct that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the penalty phase;

n. any victim impact information that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the penalty phase, including any information favorable to the client regarding the victim or victim impact;

o. any statements of prosecution witnesses, though counsel should be particularly sensitive to the effect of any reciprocal discovery obligation triggered by such discovery;

p. any statements of co-conspirators;

q. any confessions and inculpatory statements of co-defendant(s) intended to be used at trial, and any exculpatory statements; and

r. any understanding or agreement, implicit or explicit, between any state actor and any witness as to consideration or potential favors in exchange for testimony, including any memorandum of understanding with a prisoner who may seek a sentence reduction.

3. Counsel should ensure that discovery requests extend to information and material in the possession of others acting on the government's behalf in the case, including law enforcement. This is particularly important where the investigation involved more than one law enforcement agency or law enforcement personnel from multiple jurisdictions.

4. Counsel should take all available steps to ensure that prosecutors comply with their ethical obligations to disclose favorable information contained in rule 3.8(d) of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

5. Counsel should ensure that discovery requests extend to any discoverable material contained in memoranda or other internal state documents made by the district attorney or by agents of the state in connection with the investigation or prosecution of the case; or of statements made by witnesses or prospective witnesses, other than the client, to the district attorney, or to agents of the state.

6. Counsel should not limit discovery requests to those matters the law clearly requires the prosecution to disclose but should also request and seek to obtain other relevant information and material.

7. When appropriate, counsel should request open file discovery. Where open file discovery is granted, counsel should ensure that the full nature, extent and limitations of the open file discovery policy are placed on the court record. Where inspection of prosecution or law enforcement files is permitted, counsel should make a detailed and complete list of the materials reviewed and file this list into the court record.

8. Counsel should seek the timely production and preservation of discoverable information, documents or tangible things likely to become unavailable unless special measures are taken. If counsel believes the state may destroy or consume in testing evidence that is significant to the case (e.g., rough notes of law enforcement interviews, 911 tapes, drugs, or biological or forensic evidence like blood or urine samples), counsel should also file a motion to preserve evidence in the event that it is or may become discoverable.

9. Counsel should establish a thorough and reliable system of documenting all requests for discovery and all items provided in discovery, including the date of request and the date of receipt. This system should allow counsel to identify and prove, if necessary, the source of all information, documents and material received in discovery, when they were provided and under what circumstances. This system should allow counsel to identify and prove, where necessary, that any particular piece of information, document or material had not previously been provided in discovery.

10. Counsel should scrupulously examine all material received as soon as possible to identify and document the material received, to identify any materials that may be missing, illegible or unusable and to determine further areas of investigation or discovery. Where access is given to documents, objects or other materials counsel should promptly and scrupulously conduct an inspection of these items and carefully document the condition and contents of the items, using photographic or audio-visual means when appropriate. Expert assistance should be utilized where appropriate to ensure that a full and informed inspection of the items is conducted. Where a reproduction of an original document or item is provided (including photocopies, transcripts, photographs, audio or video depictions) counsel should promptly and scrupulously inspect and document the original items in order to ensure the accuracy of the reproduction provided and to identify any additional information available from inspection of the original that may not be available from the reproduction.

11. Counsel should file with the court an inventory of all materials received or inspected in discovery. This inventory should be sufficiently detailed to identify precisely each piece of information, document or thing received including, for example, how many pages a document contained and any pages that may have been missing.

12. Unless strong strategic considerations dictate otherwise, counsel should ensure that all discovery requests are made in a form that will allow counsel to enforce the requests to the extent possible and to seek the imposition of sanctions for non-compliance. Counsel should seek prompt compliance with discovery demands.

13. Where the state asserts that requested information is not discoverable, counsel should, where appropriate, request an in camera inspection of the material and seek to have the withheld material preserved in the record under seal. Counsel should recognize that a judge undertaking in camera review may not have sufficient understanding of the possible basis for disclosure, especially the ways in which information may be favorable to defense in the particular case. Where in camera review is undertaken, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the judge is sufficiently informed to make an accurate assessment of the information, including through the use of ex parte and under seal proffer, where appropriate and permissible.

14. Counsel should timely comply with requirements governing disclosure of evidence by the defendant and notice of defenses and expert witnesses. Counsel also should be aware of the possible sanctions for failure to comply with those requirements. Unless justified by strategic considerations, counsel should not disclose any matter or thing not required by law and should seek to limit both the scope and timing of any defense discovery. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to prevent the prosecution from obtaining private or confidential information concerning the client, including matters such as medical, mental health, social services, juvenile court, educational and financial information.

15. Counsel should understand the law governing the prosecution's power to require a defendant to provide non-testimonial evidence (such as handwriting exemplars, lineups, photo show-ups, voice identifications, and physical specimens like blood, semen, and urine), the circumstances in which a defendant may refuse to do so, the extent to which counsel may participate in the proceedings, and the required preservation of the record. Counsel should raise appropriate objections to requests for non-testimonial evidence and should insist on appropriate safeguards when these procedures are to occur. Counsel should also prepare the client for participation in such procedures. Counsel should accompany the client, insist that the police not require the client to answer any questions and, if necessary, return to court before complying with the order.

G. The Duty to File Pretrial Motions

1. Counsel at every stage of the case, exercising professional judgment in accordance with these Standards should consider all legal and factual claims potentially available, including all good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law. Counsel should thoroughly investigate the basis for each potential claim before reaching a conclusion as to whether it should be asserted.

2. Counsel should give consideration to the full range of motions and other pleadings available and pertinent to a capital case when determining the motions to be filed in the particular case, including motions to proceed ex parte. Counsel should file motions tailored to the individual case that provide the court with all necessary information, rather than pro forma or boilerplate motions. The requirement that counsel file motions tailored to the individual case is not a prohibition against also filing motions that raise previously identified legal issues, nor is it a prohibition on the filing of boilerplate motions where no tailoring of the motion is necessary or appropriate in the case.

3. The decision to file pretrial motions and memoranda should be made after considering the applicable law in light of the circumstances of each case. Each potential claim should be evaluated in light of:

- a. the unique characteristics of death penalty law and practice;
- b. the potential impact of any pretrial motion or ruling on the strategy for the penalty phase;
- c. the near certainty that all available avenues of appellate and post-conviction relief will be pursued in the event of conviction and imposition of a death sentence;
- d. the importance of protecting the client's rights against later contentions by the government that the claim has been waived, defaulted, not exhausted, or otherwise forfeited;
- e. the significant limitations placed upon factual development of claims in subsequent stages of the case; and
- f. any other professionally appropriate costs and benefits to the assertion of the claim.

4. Among the issues that counsel should consider addressing in pretrial motions practice are:

- a. matters potentially developed in early stages of investigation, including:
  - i. the pretrial custody of the accused;
  - ii. the need for appropriate, ongoing and confidential access to the client by counsel, investigators, mitigation specialists and experts;
  - iii. the need for a preliminary hearing, including a post-indictment preliminary hearing;
  - iv. the statutory, constitutional and ethical discovery obligations including the reciprocal discovery obligations of the defense;
  - v. the need for and adequacy of a bill of particulars;
  - vi. the need for and adequacy of notice of other crimes or bad acts to be admitted in the guilt or penalty phase of trial;
  - vii. the need for and adequacy of notice of any victim impact evidence;
  - viii. the preservation of and provision of unimpeded access to evidence and witnesses;
  - ix. the use of compulsory process to complete an adequate investigation, including the possible use of special process servers;
  - x. the prevention or modification of any investigative or procedural step proposed by the state that violates any right, duty or privilege arising out of federal state or local law or is contrary to the interests of the client;
  - xi. access to experts or resources which may be denied to an accused because of his indigence;
  - xii. the defendant's right to a speedy trial;
  - xiii. the defendant's right to a continuance in order to adequately prepare his or her case;

- xiv. the need for a change of venue;
- xv. the need to obtain a gag order;
- xvi. the need to receive notice of and be present at hearings involving co-defendants and to receive copies of pleadings filed by any co-defendant;
- xvii. the dismissal of a charge on double jeopardy grounds;
- xviii. the recusal of the trial judge, the prosecutor and/or prosecutor's office;
- xix. competency of the client;
- xx. intellectual disability;
- xxi. the nature, scope and circumstances of any testing or assessment of the client;
- xxii. extension of any motions filing deadline or the entitlement to file motions after the expiration of a motions deadline; and
- xxiii. requiring the state to respond to motions in writing;
  - b. matters likely to be more fully developed after comprehensive discovery, including:
    - i. the constitutionality of the implicated statute or statutes, including the constitutionality of the death penalty or the proposed method of execution;
    - ii. the potential defects in the grand jury composition, the charging process or the allotment;
    - iii. the sufficiency of the charging document under all applicable statutory and constitutional provisions, as well as other defects in the charging document such as surplusage in the document which may be prejudicial;
    - iv. any basis upon which the indictment may be quashed;
    - v. the adequacy and constitutionality of any aggravating factors or circumstances;
    - vi. the propriety and prejudice of any joinder of charges or defendants in the charging document;
    - vii. the permissible scope and nature of evidence that may be offered by the prosecution in aggravation of penalty or by the defense in mitigation of penalty;
    - viii. the constitutionality of the death penalty both generally and as applied in Louisiana;
    - ix. abuse of prosecutorial discretion in seeking the death penalty;
    - x. the suppression of evidence or statements gathered or presented in violation of the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, or corresponding state constitutional and statutory provisions;
    - xi. suppression of evidence or statements gathered in violation of any right, duty or privilege arising out of state or local law;

xii. the admissibility of evidence other crimes, wrongs or acts that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the guilt phase;

xiii. the admissibility of any unrelated criminal conduct that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the penalty phase;

xiv. the suppression of a prior conviction obtained in violation of the defendant's right to counsel;

xv. notices of affirmative defenses with all required information included; and

xvi. notices necessary to entitle the client to present particular forms of evidence at trial, such as alibi notice and notice of intention to rely upon mental health evidence;

c. matters likely arising later in pretrial litigation and in anticipation of trial, including:

i. in-limine motions to exclude evidence that is inadmissible as a result of a lack of relevance, probative force being outweighed by prejudicial effect, the lack of a necessary foundation, failure to satisfy the threshold for expert evidence or for other reasons;

ii. the constitutionality of the scope of and any limitations placed upon any affirmative defense or the use of a particular form of favorable evidence;

iii. the competency of a particular witness or class of witnesses;

iv. the nature and scope of victim impact evidence;

v. in limine motions to prevent prosecutorial misconduct or motions to halt or mitigate the effects of prosecutorial misconduct;

vi. matters of trial evidence or procedure at either phase of the trial which may be appropriately litigated by means of a pretrial motion in limine;

vii. matters of trial or courtroom procedure, including: recordation of all proceedings, including bench and chambers conferences; timing and duration of hearings; prohibition of ex parte communications; manner of objections; ensuring the client's presence at hearings; medication of the client; avoiding prejudice arising from any security measures;

viii. challenges to the process of establishing the jury venire;

ix. the use of a jury questionnaire;

x. the manner and scope of voir dire, the use of cause and peremptory challenges and the management of sequestration;

xi. the desirability and circumstances of the jury viewing any scene; and

xii. the instructions to be delivered at guilt and penalty phase.

5. Counsel should withdraw or decide not to file a motion only after careful consideration, and only after determining whether the filing of a motion may be necessary to protect the client's rights, including later claims of waiver or procedural default. In making this decision, counsel should remember that a motion has many objectives in addition to the ultimate relief requested by the motion. Counsel thus should consider whether:

a. the time deadline for filing pretrial motions warrants filing a motion to preserve the client's rights, pending the results of further investigation;

b. changes in the governing law might occur after the filing deadline which could enhance the likelihood that relief ought to be granted; and

c. later changes in the strategic and tactical posture of the defense case may occur which affect the significance of potential pretrial motions.

6. Counsel should timely file motions according to the applicable rules and case law, provide notice of an intention to file more motions where appropriate, reserve the right to supplement motions once discovery has been completed, offer good cause and seek to file appropriate motions out of time and seek to file necessary and appropriate motions out of time even where good cause for delay is not available. If counsel needs more time to file a motion, counsel should request more time.

7. Counsel should give careful consideration before joining in co-defendants' motions and should avoid any possibility that the client will be deemed to have joined in a co-defendant's motions without a knowing, affirmative adoption of the motions by counsel.

8. As a part of the strategic plan for the case, counsel should maintain a document describing the litigation theory in the case, including a list of all motions considered for filing and the reason for filing or not filing each motion considered. The litigation theory document should also detail the timing and disposition of all motions. The current litigation theory document and any prior drafts of the document should be maintained in the client's file. The capital case supervisor should be given access to the litigation theory document and any prior drafts to assist in the supervision and support of the defense team.

H. Preparing, Filing, and Arguing Pretrial Motions

1. Motions should be filed in a timely manner, should comport with the formal requirements of the court rules and should succinctly inform the court of the authority relied upon. Counsel should seek an evidentiary hearing for any motion in which factual findings or the presentation of evidence would be in the client's interests. Where an evidentiary hearing is denied, counsel should make a proffer of the proposed evidence.

2. When a hearing on a motion requires the taking of evidence, counsel's preparation for the evidentiary hearing should include:

a. factual investigation and discovery as well as careful research of appropriate case law relevant to the claim advanced;

b. the subpoenaing of all helpful evidence and the subpoenaing and preparation of all helpful witnesses;

c. full understanding of the burdens of proof, evidentiary principles and trial court procedures applying to the hearing, including the benefits and potential consequences of having the client and other defense witnesses testify;

d. familiarity with all applicable procedures for obtaining evidentiary hearings prior to trial;

e. obtaining the assistance of expert witnesses where appropriate and necessary;

f. careful preparation of any witnesses who are called, especially the client;

g. careful preparation for and conduct of examination or cross-examination of any witness, having particular regard to the possibility that the state may later seek to rely upon the transcript of the evidence should the witness become unavailable;

h. consideration of any collateral benefits or disadvantages that may arise from the evidentiary hearing;

i. obtaining stipulation of facts by and between counsel, where appropriate; and

j. preparation and submission of a memorandum of law where appropriate.

3. When asserting a legal claim, counsel should present the claim as forcefully as possible, tailoring the presentation to the particular facts and circumstances in the client's case and the applicable law in the particular jurisdiction. Counsel should pursue good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law.

4. Counsel should ensure that a full record is made of all legal proceedings in connection with the claim. If a hearing on a pretrial motion is held in advance of trial, counsel should obtain the transcript of the hearing where it may be of assistance in preparation for or use at trial.

5. In filing, scheduling, contesting or consenting to any pretrial motion, including scheduling orders, counsel should be aware of the effect it might have upon the client's statutory and constitutional speedy trial rights.

I. Continuing Duty to File Motions

1. Counsel at all stages of the case should be prepared to raise during subsequent proceedings any issue which is appropriately raised at an earlier time or stage, but could not have been so raised because the facts supporting the motion were unknown or not reasonably available.

2. Further, counsel should be prepared to renew a motion or supplement claims previously made with additional factual or legal information if new supporting information is disclosed or made available in later proceedings, discovery or investigation.

3. Where counsel has failed to timely provide a required notice or file a motion, counsel should seek to file the motion or notice out of time regardless of whether good cause exists for the earlier failure to file and be prepared to present any argument for good cause that is available. Where a court bars a notice or motion as untimely, counsel should ensure that a copy of the notice or motion is maintained in the record and available for any subsequent review.

4. Counsel should also renew pretrial motions and object to the admission of challenged evidence at trial as necessary to preserve the motions and objections for appellate review.

5. Counsel shall have the discretion to assist incarcerated clients seeking redress of institutional grievances or responding to institutional proceedings and should do so where the resolution of the grievance or proceeding is likely to be of significance in the capital proceeding.

J. Duty to File and Respond to Supervisory Writ Applications

1. Where appropriate, counsel should make application for supervisory writs in the Circuit Court of Appeal or the Louisiana Supreme Court following an adverse district court ruling or failure to rule. Counsel should give specific consideration to: the extent to which relief is more likely in an interlocutory posture or after a final decision on the merits of the case; the extent of prejudice from the ruling of the district court and the likely ability to demonstrate that prejudice following a final decision on the merits of the case; the impact of the district court's current ruling on the conduct of the defense in the absence of intervention by a reviewing court; the impact of a ruling by a reviewing court in a writ posture on any subsequent review on direct appeal; the adequacy of the record created in the district court and whether the record for review may be improved through further district court proceedings.

2. Counsel should seek expedited consideration or a stay where appropriate and consider the simultaneous filing of writ applications in the Court of Appeal and Supreme Court in emergency circumstances.

3. Counsel should take great care to ensure that all filings in the Courts of Appeal and the Louisiana Supreme Court comply with the requirement of the relevant rules of Court, including any local rules.

4. Counsel should ensure that an adequate record is created in the district court to justify and encourage the exercise of the supervisory jurisdiction of the Courts of Appeal or Louisiana Supreme Court.

5. Counsel should seek to respond to any state application for supervisory writs except where exceptional circumstances justify the choice not to respond.

6. A lack of adequate time, resources or expertise is not an adequate reason for failing to make application for supervisory writs or failing to respond to a state application. Where counsel lacks adequate time, resources or expertise, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the defense team has sufficient time, resources and expertise, including advising the capital case supervisor of the situation and seeking assignment of additional counsel. Counsel shall ensure that the role of lack of time or resources upon the decision to file a writ application is reflected in the record.

§1913. Performance Standard 6: Special Circumstances

A. Duties of Counsel at Re-trial

1. The standards for trial level representation apply fully to counsel assigned to represent a client at a re-trial of the guilt or penalty phase. Counsel should be careful to clarify on the record the status of prior rulings made and orders issued in the proceedings. Where appropriate, counsel should seek to renew and re-litigate pre-trial claims, and to raise any new claims which have developed or been discovered since the first trial. Counsel should not rely on the investigation or presentation of evidence from the first trial, but rather should start anew and seek to develop and present all available evidence, with the knowledge gained from the results of the first trial. Except in circumstances where counsel has substantial reason to believe the results will be different or no other witnesses are available, counsel should not present witnesses who provided unhelpful testimony earlier in the case.

B. Continuing Responsibility to Raise Issue of Client's Incompetence

1. Competence is far more likely to be present as an issue in a capital case than a non-capital case due to the high prevalence of mental illness and impaired reasoning in the population of capital clients and the increased likelihood of incompetence due to the nature of the charge, the complexity of the case and the gravity of the decisions with which the client is faced. As a result, counsel should proceed with increased sensitivity to the question of competency and ensure that the defense team has members with sufficient skill and experience to identify and respond to issues relating to competency.

2. Counsel should be sensitive to the increased risk in a capital case that given the nature of the charge, the complexity of capital cases and the life and death stakes of the case a client may not sufficiently understand and appreciate: the nature of the charge and its seriousness; the defenses available at guilt and penalty phase and how each affects the other; the consequences of each available plea on both guilt and penalty phase; and, the range of possible verdicts and the consequences of those verdicts at guilt and penalty phase.

3. In considering the client's ability to assist counsel in a capital case, counsel should have particular regard to the requirement that the client be able to assist counsel not only as to the guilt phase but in the development of the mitigation case and the presentation of the penalty phase case; a process that will include an exhaustive investigation of the client's character, history, record, the offense and other factors which may provide a basis for a sentence less than death. The possibility of a death sentence and the necessity to prepare for and present a penalty phase case greatly increase the complexity and weight of the demands placed upon the client in assisting counsel, including considerations of whether the client: is able to recall and relate facts pertaining to his actions and whereabouts at certain times; is able to maintain a consistent defense; is able to listen to the testimony of witnesses and inform counsel of any distortions or misstatements; has the ability to make simple decisions in response to well explained alternatives; is capable of testifying in his own defense; and, is apt to suffer a deterioration of his mental condition under the stress of trial or at a later stage of the case.

4. Counsel involved in a capital case at stages following the trial should be alert to additional concerns regarding the client's mental state, functioning and ability including existing issues that could be exacerbated by the reality that a death sentence has been imposed, that an execution date is approaching, as well as by the effects of confinement, particularly prolonged confinement, on death row, such as the development or progression of depression or other mental illnesses. Similarly, counsel at later stages should have particular regard to issues such as the client's ability to establish relationships with new counsel at later stages in the case, especially where earlier relationships were difficult for the client, and the client's ability to assist counsel with tasks such as investigations taking place years after the trial when deficiencies such as memory loss may become more pervasive.

5. In every capital case, counsel should conduct a thorough, sensitive and ongoing inquiry into the competence of the client. Where concerns exist about a client's competence, counsel should ensure that the defense team documents in the client's file observations and interactions relevant to the client's competence.

6. Recognizing that raising competency may expose the client himself and otherwise confidential information to state actors, counsel should not raise competency unless satisfied that: a sufficient investigation has been conducted to make a reliable strategic decision in this regard; the client is likely not competent; and, the benefits to the client of raising competency outweigh the negatives. Counsel should consider the possibility that any information disclosed in competency proceedings will become admissible at trial as a result of the client's mental health being placed in issue.

7. In considering whether to raise competence, counsel should take into account all relevant circumstances, including: the likely outcome of an assessment by a sanity commission; the likely outcome of an assessment by a state expert; any negative findings, including malingering findings, that may arise from an assessment of the client; any negative information that may be divulged to the state from a review of records; any waiver of confidentiality arising from raising competence; the impact upon counsel's relationship with the client and his family of raising competence; the impact of raising competence before or during trial on any subsequent guilt or penalty phase presentation; and, the effect on any subsequently available claim that the client was incompetent.

8. The delay caused by raising a question of competence with the court is not a proper reason for raising competence. Seeking to defray defense costs by having a court appointed mental health examination is not a proper reason for raising competence.

9. Prior to raising competence with the court, counsel should consult with a defense mental health expert, including having the expert review the available information and records relating to the client and, where appropriate, assessing the client.

10. Counsel should fully advise the client concerning the procedures for mental examinations, the reasons competence is in question, the possibility of hospitalization, and the consequences of an incompetency determination.

11. Where the court or the state raises the issue of competency, counsel should consider whether it is appropriate to resist any competency examination or advise the client not to cooperate with any such examination.

12. Where a sanity commission is appointed, counsel should ensure that the members of the sanity commission are independent and appropriately qualified. Counsel should ensure that the scope of any examination is limited to the proper purposes for which it has been ordered. Counsel should consider seeking to be present, have a defense expert present or have recorded any examination of the client. Counsel should consider which records and witnesses, if any, should be identified and made available to the sanity commission.

13. Where the state seeks an examination of the client by a physician or mental health expert of the state's choice, counsel should consider opposing or seeking to limit such an examination and should also consider whether to advise the client not to cooperate with any such examination. Counsel should ensure that the scope of any examination is limited to the proper purposes for which it has been ordered. Counsel should consider seeking to be present, have a defense expert present or have recorded any examination of the client. Counsel should consider which records and witnesses, if any, should be identified and made available to the state's expert.

14. Counsel should obtain copies of: each examiner's report, all underlying notes and test materials; and, all records and materials reviewed. Where the client is hospitalized or otherwise placed under observation, counsel should obtain copies of all records of the hospitalization or observation.

15. Counsel should not stipulate to the client's competence where there appears a reasonable possibility that the client is not competent. Counsel is not obligated to develop frivolous arguments in favor of incompetency but must investigate and advocate in a way that ensures that there is meaningful adversarial testing where there is a good faith basis to doubt the client's competency.

16. At the competency hearing, counsel should protect and exercise the client's constitutional and statutory rights, including cross-examining the sanity commissioners and the state's witnesses, calling witnesses on behalf of the client including experts, and making appropriate evidentiary objections. Counsel should make sure that the inquiry does not stray beyond the appropriate boundaries. Counsel should consider the advantages and disadvantages to the client's whole case when determining how to conduct the competency hearing.

17. Counsel may elect to relate to the court personal observations of and conversations with the client to the extent that counsel does not disclose client confidences. Counsel may respond to inquiries about the attorney-client relationship and the client's ability to communicate effectively with counsel to the extent that such responses do not disclose the confidential or privileged information.

18. If a client is found to be incompetent, counsel should advocate for the least restrictive level of supervision and the least intrusive treatment.

19. Where competency is at issue, or where the client has been found incompetent, counsel has a continuing duty to investigate and prepare the case. Where a client has been found unrestorably incompetent, counsel should continue to investigate and prepare the case sufficiently to ensure that the client will not be prejudiced by any delay or hiatus in the preparation of the case should he subsequently be returned to competence and the prosecution resumed.

20. Where a capital client is found incompetent or unrestorably incompetent, capitally certified counsel should remain responsible for all competency reviews.

21. A previously competent client may become incompetent over the course of a case and particularly under the stress of hearings and trial. Counsel should be vigilant and constantly reassess the client's competence and be prepared to raise the matter when appropriate. It is never untimely to raise a question concerning a client's competence.

22. Some clients object strenuously to taking psychotropic medication and counsel may be called upon to advocate for protection of the client's qualified right to refuse medication.

C. Duties of Counsel When Client Attempts to Waive Right to Counsel, and Duties of Standby and Hybrid Counsel

1. When a client expresses a desire to waive the right to counsel, counsel should take steps to protect the client's interests, to avoid conflicts and to ensure that the client makes a knowing, voluntary and intelligent decision in exercise of his rights under the Sixth Amendment and La. Const. art. I, § 13. In particular, counsel should:

a. meet with the client as soon as possible to discuss the reasons the client wishes to proceed pro se and to advise the client of the many disadvantages of proceeding pro se. Such advice should include: the full nature of the charges; the range of punishments; the possible defenses; the role of mitigation prior to and at trial; the complexities involved and the rights and interests at stake; and the client's capacity to perform the role of defense attorney. Such advice should also include an explanation of the stages of appellate, post-conviction and habeas corpus review of any conviction or sentence, the effect of failing to effectively preserve issues for review and the impact of waiver of counsel on any possible ineffective assistance of counsel claim.

b. if the client maintains an intention or inclination to waive counsel, counsel should immediately inform the capital case coordinator of the client's desire and should request that the capital case coordinator assign independent counsel to advise the client. The capital case coordinator shall immediately assign at least one attorney certified as lead counsel to consult with the defendant and provide independent advice on the exercise of his Sixth Amendment rights. The role of independent counsel in this situation is not to represent the client in the exercise of his Sixth Amendment rights but instead to ensure that the client receives full and independent legal advice before choosing whether to waive his right to counsel.

c. in addition to seeking the assignment of independent counsel, counsel assigned to represent the defendant should immediately commence a thorough investigation into the question of the defendant's competence to waive counsel and whether, in the circumstances, any such waiver would be knowing, voluntary and intelligent. Such an investigation should not be limited to information obtained from interaction with the client but should include a detailed examination of available collateral sources (including documents and witnesses) as well as consultation with relevant experts.

2. Where a client asserts his right to self-representation counsel has an obligation both to investigate the question of the client's competence and the quality of the purported waiver and to bring before the court evidence raising doubts about these matters. Counsel should submit the case for the client's competent, knowing, voluntary and intelligent waiver to full adversarial testing. Counsel is not obligated to develop frivolous arguments in favor of incompetency but must investigate and advocate in a way that ensures that there is meaningful adversarial testing of the question of the waiver of representation by counsel. Counsel remains responsible for the representation of the client until such a time as the court grants the client's motion to proceed pro se and must continue to perform in compliance with the Capital Guidelines and Performance Standards. Where appropriate, counsel should object to a court's ruling accepting a waiver of counsel, should ensure that the issue is preserved for appellate review and should seek interlocutory review of the decision.

3. Where a capital defendant has been permitted to proceed pro se, counsel should move for the appointment of standby counsel and should seek to persuade the defendant to accept the services of standby counsel. The court may appoint stand by counsel over the defendant's objection and counsel should ordinarily accept such an appointment. The court may place constraints on the role of standby counsel and standby counsel should object to any constraints beyond those required by the Sixth Amendment. Where the quality of the defendant's relationship with counsel assigned to represent the defendant is such that his or her ability to serve as standby counsel would be significantly impaired, the capital coordinator may assign additional counsel and urge the court to appoint such additional counsel as are assigned to the role of standby counsel.

4. Attorneys acting as standby counsel shall comply with the Guidelines and Performance Standards for capital defense to the extent possible within the limitations of their role as standby counsel. Counsel shall not accept appointment as standby counsel unless certified as lead trial counsel or certified as associate trial counsel where certified lead trial counsel is also appointed. Counsel appointed as standby counsel shall be entitled to be remunerated and to have their expenses met in the same manner and to the same extent as they would if assigned to represent a defendant who was not proceeding pro se.

5. With the defendant's consent, and subject to any prohibition imposed by the court, standby counsel may perform any role in the case that counsel would ordinarily perform whether in front of or in the absence of the jury.

6. In the absence of his consent to do otherwise, a pro se defendant must be allowed to preserve actual control over the case he chooses to present to the jury and is entitled to ensure that the jury's perception that he is representing himself is preserved. Accordingly, a defendant must be allowed to control the organization and content of his own defense, to make motions, to argue points of law, to participate in voir dire, to question witnesses, and to address the court and the jury at appropriate points in the trial.

7. Where the defendant does not consent to the actions of standby counsel, the permissible conduct of standby counsel is different depending on whether the jury is present, the issue is raised solely before a judge or the action is taken entirely out of court.

a. Where the defendant does not consent to the actions of standby counsel, counsel must not in the presence of the jury make or substantially interfere with any significant tactical decisions, control the questioning of witnesses or speak instead of the defendant on any matter of importance. Participation by counsel to steer a defendant through the basic procedures of trial is, however, permissible. Standby counsel should assist the pro se defendant in overcoming routine procedural or evidentiary obstacles to the completion of some specific task, such as introducing evidence or objecting to testimony, that the defendant has clearly shown he wishes to complete. Counsel should also assist to ensure the defendant's compliance with basic rules of courtroom protocol and procedure.

b. Counsel's participation outside the presence of the jury is far less constrained. Even without the consent of the defendant, counsel may proactively participate in proceedings outside of the presence of the jury as long as the pro se defendant is allowed to address the court freely on his own behalf and disagreements between counsel and the pro se defendant are resolved by the judge in the defendant's favor whenever the matter is one that would normally be left to the discretion of counsel. Counsel should, in the absence of the jury, take such actions in the case as are consistent with the best interests of the client, including making any objections, and motions as would be consistent with high quality representation of the defendant.

8. Where it appears to standby counsel during the course of the proceedings that the decision to permit the defendant to proceed pro se or any decision to constrain the role of standby counsel should be revisited, counsel should move for reconsideration of those decisions.

9. Without interfering with the defendant's right to present his case in his own way, standby counsel should continue to fully prepare the case in order to be ready to assume responsibility for the representation of the defendant should the court or the defendant reverse the waiver of counsel. Where standby counsel is given or resumes responsibility for the representation of the defendant, counsel should move for all necessary time to prepare a defense for both the guilt and penalty phases of the trial, as appropriate. Where there is reason to believe that the client may re-invoke his right to counsel, the capital coordinator should ensure that a full defense team remains assigned and available to assume the representation.

D. Counsel's Additional Responsibilities when Representing a Foreign National

1. Counsel at every stage of the case should make appropriate efforts to determine whether any foreign country might consider the client to be one of its nationals. Unless predecessor counsel has already done so, counsel representing a foreign national should:

a. immediately explain the benefits that the client may obtain through consular assistance;

b. immediately notify the client of the right to correspond with and have access to consular officers from his or her country of nationality via the nearest consulate;

c. with the permission of the client, contact the nearest consulate, and inform the relevant consular officials about the client's arrest and/or detention. In cases where counsel is unable to secure informed permission, professional judgment should be exercised to determine whether it is nevertheless appropriate to inform the consulate;

d. where contact is made with the relevant consulate, counsel should discuss what specific assistance the consulate may be able to provide to the client in the particular case;

e. research, consider and preserve any legal rights the client may have on account of foreign nationality status; and

f. consider whether the client's foreign accent, dialect or knowledge of English is such that the client requires an interpreter and, if so, take steps to secure one without delay for the duration of proceedings.

2. Where counsel has reason to believe that the client may be a foreign national, counsel should advise the capital case supervisor. Counsel should ensure that the defense team includes adequate expertise and experience in dealing with the defense of foreign nationals in capital cases and where this is not the case should advise the capital case supervisor and seek additional support, including the assigning of additional counsel.

§1915. Performance Standard 7: Trial

A. Counsel's Duty of Trial Preparation

1. Throughout preparation and trial, counsel should consider the defense case theory and ensure that counsel's decisions and actions are consistent with that theory. Where counsel's decisions or actions are inconsistent with the theory, counsel should assess and understand why this is the case and then either change the conduct or change the theory to accommodate the new approach.

2. Counsel should complete the investigation, discovery, and research in advance of trial, such that counsel is confident that the most viable defense theory has been fully developed, pursued, and refined. Ordinarily, this process should be sufficiently advanced at least 180 days before trial to ensure that issues related to funding, expert witnesses, witness availability, securing witness attendance and accommodation, witness preparation and other trial preparation can proceed in an orderly and well planned fashion.

3. Counsel should not forgo investigation and preparation of a defense on the basis that the prosecution case appears weak or counsel believes that no penalty phase will be required.

4. Preparation for trial should include:

a. causing subpoenas to be issued for all potentially helpful witnesses, and all potentially helpful physical or documentary evidence:

i. counsel should ensure that all subpoenaed witnesses are aware of the correct date and time to appear in court, the action they should take when they appear in response to the subpoena and how to contact counsel if necessary;

ii. counsel should consider utilizing ex parte procedures for the subpoena of persons, documents or things when available;

iii. counsel should follow up on all subpoenas and follow procedures for informing the court of non-compliance and seeking enforcement;

iv. counsel may refrain from issuing subpoenas for particular witnesses based on strong tactical considerations and in the awareness of the waiver of the defendant's rights to compulsory process that this may entail;

b. arranging for defense experts to consult and/or testify on evidentiary issues that are potentially helpful (e.g., testing of physical evidence, opinion testimony, etc.);

i. adequate arrangements for the funding, scheduling and, where necessary, transport and accommodation of expert witnesses should be made;

ii. counsel should prepare with the experts and should be fully aware of the experts' opinions on all relevant matters, including relevant prior testimony, before deciding whether or not to present them at trial;

iii. counsel should determine the extent to which evidence to be addressed by an expert witness may be presented through lay witnesses;

c. ensuring that counsel has obtained, read and incorporated into the defense theory all discovery, results of defense investigation, transcripts from prior or related proceedings and notices, motions and rulings in the case;

d. obtaining photographs and preparing charts, maps, diagrams, or other visual aids of all scenes, persons, objects, or information which may assist the fact finder in understanding the defense;

e. ensuring that the facilities at the courthouse will be adequate to meet the needs of the trial and the defense team.

5. Counsel should have available at the time of trial all material relevant to both the guilt and penalty phases that may be necessary or of assistance at trial, including:

a. copies of all relevant documents filed in the case;

b. relevant documents prepared or obtained by investigators;

c. voir dire questions, topics or plans;

d. outline or draft of opening statements for both guilt and penalty phases;

e. cross-examination plans for all possible prosecution witnesses;

f. direct examination plans for all prospective defense witnesses;

g. copies of defense subpoenas and proof of service;

h. prior statements and testimony of all prosecution witnesses (e.g., transcripts, police reports) and counsel should have prepared transcripts of any audio or video taped witness statements. Counsel should also be prepared to prove the prior statements if required;

i. prior statements of all defense witnesses;

j. reports from defense experts;

k. a list of all defense exhibits, and the witnesses through whom they will be introduced (as well as a contingency plan for having necessary exhibits admitted if, for example, a witness fails to appear);

l. exhibits, including originals and copies of all documentary exhibits;

m. demonstrative materials, charts, overheads, computer presentations or other similar materials intended for use at trial;

n. proposed jury instructions with supporting case citations, and where appropriate, consider and list the evidence necessary to support the defense requests for jury instructions; and

o. relevant statutes and cases.

6. Counsel should be fully informed as to the rules of evidence, court rules, and the law relating to all stages of the trial process, and should be familiar with legal and evidentiary issues that can reasonably be anticipated to arise in the trial. During case preparation and throughout trial, counsel should identify potential legal issues and the corresponding objections or motions. Counsel should consider when and how to raise those objections or motions. Counsel should also consider how best to respond to objections or motions that could be raised by the prosecution.

7. Counsel should anticipate state objections and possible adverse court rulings that may impact the defense case theory, be prepared to address any such issues and have contingency plans should counsel's efforts be unsuccessful. Counsel should consider in advance of trial and prepare for the possibility of any emergency writ applications which may be filed by either party as well as making arrangements to ensure that the defense team is able to efficiently and effectively litigate any unanticipated emergency writ applications.

8. Counsel should decide if it is beneficial to secure an advance ruling on issues likely to arise at trial (e.g., use of prior convictions to impeach the defendant, admissibility of particular items of evidence) and, where appropriate, counsel should prepare motions and memoranda for such advance rulings.

9. Counsel should advise the client as to suitable courtroom dress and demeanor. Counsel should ensure that the client has appropriate clothing and the court personnel follow appropriate procedures so as not to reveal to jurors that the client is incarcerated. Counsel should ensure that the client is not seen by the jury in any form of physical restraint. Counsel should ensure that steps are taken to avoid prejudice arising from any security measures in the court and object to the use of both visible restraints on the client and any concealed restraints that adversely impact the client physically or psychologically or impair the client's ability to consult freely with counsel.

10. Counsel should plan with the defense team the most convenient system for conferring throughout the trial. Where necessary, counsel should seek a court order to have the client available for conferences and all required court appearances.

11. Counsel should plan with the defense team for contingencies arising from the absence or unavailability of any team member and the procedure for accessing additional resources for the team whenever required. Lead counsel should ensure that additional resources, including legal, investigative and support personnel, are available and utilized as appropriate immediately prior to and during trial. Lead counsel should ensure that all members of the defense team are fully aware of their role and responsibilities at trial.

12. Throughout preparation and trial, counsel should consider the potential effects that particular actions may have upon the mitigation presentation and any verdict at the penalty phase if there is a finding of guilt.

13. Counsel shall take necessary steps to ensure full, official recordation of all aspects of the court proceeding including motions, bench conferences in chambers or at sidebar, opening statements, closing arguments, and jury instructions. If something transpires during the trial that is relevant and significant and has not been made a part of the record (for instance, communications out of the presence of the court-reporter or non-verbal conduct), counsel should ensure that the record reflects what occurred.

14. Counsel should make a written request for a continuance if he or she determines that the defense is not adequately prepared for trial or otherwise not able to present a high quality defense on the scheduled trial date. Counsel should be prepared to proffer a full justification for the continuance, explaining the incomplete preparation, unavailable witness, prejudice from late disclosure by the state or other reason for the continuance. Counsel should be prepared to demonstrate reasonable diligence in preparing for trial but should request any necessary continuance even where counsel has not shown reasonable diligence. Counsel should avoid prematurely exposing the defense case theory by seeking to make any proffer of the reasons for the continuance on an ex parte and under seal basis.

15. Counsel should take all necessary steps to secure conditions of trial that allow for the provision of high quality representation, that allow the client to participate meaningfully in his own defense and that make adequate accommodations for any special needs the client may have. Such conditions may include the hours of court, the number and length of breaks, particular technological resources, the use of interpreters or other assistants to the client's understanding and communication, the pace of questioning and argument, medical assistance for the client and adequate space in the courtroom for the client's family and supporters.

16. Counsel should attempt to present as much mitigation evidence as possible during the guilt-innocence phase.

B. Jury Selection

1. Preparing for Voir Dire

a. Counsel should be familiar with the procedures by which a jury venire is selected in the particular jurisdiction and should be alert to any potential legal challenges to the composition or selection of the venire, including the creation of the jury pool from which the venire is selected. Similarly, counsel should be familiar with the law concerning challenges for cause and peremptory challenges and be alert to any potential legal challenges to the law, practice or procedure applied. Counsel should undertake a factual as well as legal investigation of any potential challenges that may be made.

b. Counsel should be familiar with the local practices and the individual trial judge's procedures for selecting a jury from a panel of the venire, and should be alert to any potential legal challenges to these practices and procedures including any disproportionate impact the practices and procedures may have on the gender or racial makeup of the jury.

c. Counsel should determine whether any special procedures have been instituted for selection of juries in capital cases that present particular legal bases for challenge. Counsel should be mindful that such challenges may include challenges to the selection of the grand jury and grand jury forepersons as well as to the selection of the petit jury venire.

d. Prior to jury selection, counsel should seek to obtain a prospective juror list and should develop a method for tracking juror seating and selection. Counsel should be aware of available juror information and, where appropriate, should submit a request for a jury questionnaire by a pretrial motion. In those cases where it appears necessary to conduct a pretrial investigation of the background of jurors, investigatory methods of defense counsel should neither harass nor unduly embarrass potential jurors or invade their privacy and, whenever possible, should be restricted to an investigation of records and sources of information already in existence.

e. Counsel should develop voir dire questions in advance of trial. Counsel should tailor voir dire questions to the specific case. Voir dire should be integrated into and advance counsel's theory of the case for both guilt and penalty phase. Creative use of voir dire can foreshadow crucial, complex, expert, detrimental, or inflammatory evidence, and emphasize the need for impartiality notwithstanding the nature of the offense charged. Effective voir dire will lay much of the ground work for the opening statement.

f. Voir dire questions should be designed to elicit information about the attitudes and values of individual jurors, which will inform counsel and the client in the exercise of peremptory challenges and challenges for cause. Areas of inquiry should include:

i. attitude towards the death penalty and, in particular, each juror's willingness and capacity to return a verdict of death or life if selected as a juror in the case;

ii. attitudinal bias or prejudice (including those based on race, religion, political beliefs, and sexual preference);

iii. pretrial publicity (including the nature, extent and source of the juror's knowledge, and whether they have learned information that will not be admitted at trial; have discussed what they have read or heard; have heard, formed or expressed opinions on guilt or innocence; and can set such knowledge and opinions aside);

iv. feelings regarding the nature of the offense;

v. juror experience (or that of a close relative) similar to evidence in the case;

vi. experience (or that of a close relative) as a crime victim, witness, or defendant;

vii. amount of weight given to testimony of a police officer (including any experience in law enforcement or relationship with those in law enforcement);

viii. acquaintance with witness, counsel or defendant;

ix. attitudes toward defenses;

x. ability to understand principles of law and willingness to accept the law as given by the court;

xi. prior experience as a juror;

xii. formal qualifications to serve as a juror;

xiii. ability to render an impartial verdict according to the law and the evidence; and

xiv. other areas of inquiry particular to the juror, such as whether a bilingual juror is willing to abide by the translator's version of the testimony, or whether a hearing impaired juror will refrain from reading lips of parties having private conversations unintended for the jurors' perception.

g. Among the other purposes voir dire questions should be designed to serve are the following:

i. to convey to the panel legal principles which are important to the defense case and to determine the jurors' attitudes toward those legal principles (especially where there is some indication that particular legal principles may not be favored or understood by the population in general or where a principle is peculiarly based on specific facts of the case);

ii. to preview the case for the jurors so as to lessen the impact of damaging information which is likely to come to their attention during the trial;

iii. to present the client and the defense case in a favorable light, without prematurely disclosing information about the defense case to the prosecutor; and

iv. to establish a relationship with the jury. Counsel should be aware that jurors will develop impressions of counsel and the defendant, and should recognize the importance of creating a favorable impression.

h. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning mandatory and discretionary voir dire inquiries so as to be able to defend any request to ask particular questions of prospective jurors.

i. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning challenges for cause and peremptory challenges. Voir dire should be responsive to this legal framework and designed to ensure that any basis for a cause challenge is adequately disclosed by the questions and answers.

j. Counsel should be aware of the waiver of judicial review of any cause challenge denied by the trial court where the defense does not exhaust its peremptory challenges. Counsel should create an appropriate record in the trial court where peremptory challenges are exhausted without the defense successfully removing all jurors against whom an unsuccessful challenge for cause had been made.

k. Where appropriate, counsel should consider seeking expert assistance in the jury selection process. Recognizing the scope of the task of adequately recording all relevant information during the voir dire process, lead counsel should ensure that the team has secured adequate resources, in the form of additional personnel or equipment, to adequately perform this task.

2. Examination of the Prospective Jurors

a. Counsel should personally voir dire the panel.

b. If the court denies counsel's request to ask questions during voir dire that are significant or necessary to the defense of the case, counsel should take all steps necessary to protect the voir dire record for judicial review including, where appropriate, filing a copy of the proposed voir dire questions or reading proposed questions into the record.

c. Counsel should consider requesting individual, sequestered voir dire, particularly in cases where the voir dire will canvas sensitive or potentially prejudicial subjects, for example, personal experiences of jurors of abuse, prior exposure to media coverage of the case and knowledge of the case. If particular voir dire questions may elicit sensitive or prejudicial answers, counsel should consider requesting that those parts of the questioning be conducted outside the presence of the other jurors. Counsel may also consider requesting that the court, rather than counsel, conduct the voir dire as to sensitive questions.

d. In a group voir dire, counsel should take care when asking questions which may elicit responses capable of prejudicing other prospective jurors. Counsel should design both questions and questioning style in group voir dire to elicit responses in a way that will minimize any negative effect and maximize any favorable effect on other prospective jurors having regard to counsel's objectives in voir dire.

e. When asking questions for the purpose of eliciting information from a juror, counsel should usually phrase questions in an open-ended fashion that elicits substantive responses, rather than allowing the juror to respond by silence or with a simple yes or no.

f. Counsel should ensure that the record reflects all answers of all jurors to all questions asked. Counsel should ensure that the record clearly reflects which juror in a panel is being asked a particular question and which gives a particular answer. Where questions are asked of an entire panel or non-verbal responses are given, counsel should ensure that the record accurately reflects all of the responses given and which jurors gave those responses.

g. Counsel should ensure that other members of the defense team are making detailed notes of the responses of individual jurors, the responses of venire panels to more generally directed questions and the demeanor and reactions of members of the venire.

3. Death Qualification

a. Counsel should be intimately familiar with the constitutional, statutory and case law relating to questioning and challenging of potential jurors as they relate to “death qualification.”

b. Counsel should apply techniques of voir dire designed to overcome the tendency of the process of death qualification to undermine the presumption of innocence and increase the perception of death as the appropriate penalty.

c. Counsel should ensure that an individual inquiry is made of each juror as to his or her views on the death penalty.

d. Counsel should apply techniques of voir dire designed to ensure that the view each juror expresses regarding the death penalty:

i. is pertinent to the situation the juror will face in penalty phase (e.g. after hearing all the evidence, full deliberation and a unanimous determination of guilt beyond reasonable doubt);

ii. is in the context of a finding of guilt of first degree murder having regard to the aggravator(s) in the case (e.g. specific intent to kill or cause great bodily harm to a child under 12); and

iii. is not obscured by consideration of any lawful defense or justification that will necessarily have been rejected by penalty phase (e.g. the killing was not in self-defense, he knew the difference between right and wrong, he was not in a sudden passion or heat of blood);

e. Counsel should determine the extent to which each juror could give meaningful consideration to mitigating circumstances, having particular regard to those circumstances defined as mitigating in the statute and the case law.

f. Counsel should determine the extent to which a juror’s views on the death penalty or mitigation may substantially impair his or her ability to make an impartial decision at guilt or return a life verdict. Counsel may consider exploring factors such as the strength of the juror’s views on the death penalty, the origin of those views, how long they have been held and whether the juror has discussed those views with others.

g. Counsel should apply techniques of voir dire designed to insulate jurors who are to be challenged for cause against rehabilitation based, in particular, upon their stated willingness to follow the law;

h. Counsel should mount a challenge for cause in all cases where there is a reasonable argument that the juror’s views on the death penalty or mitigation would prevent or substantially impair the performance of the juror’s duties in accordance with the instructions or the oath.

i. Counsel should apply techniques of voir dire designed to rehabilitate jurors who have expressed scruples against the infliction of capital punishment.

j. Counsel should apply techniques of voir dire designed to ensure that each prospective juror understands and accepts:

i. that each juror is entitled to their own opinion and vote and so each juror must individually decide whether the client is sentenced to life or death following a penalty phase;

ii. that while the juror must deliberate, the juror’s opinion is not subject to negotiation or compromise and is free from criticism by or explanation to the judge, the prosecutor or others;

iii. that each juror can give life for whatever reason he or she wishes;

iv. that each juror is entitled to the assistance of the court in having his or her opinion respected; and

v. the procedures for bringing penalty phase deliberations to an end and the effect of a hung jury at penalty phase.

k. Counsel should consider exercising peremptory challenges solely or principally on the assessment of each juror’s attitude to the death penalty and mitigation.

l. Counsel should document and, where appropriate litigate the effect of death qualification on the representativeness of the qualified jury venire.

4. Other challenges for Cause and Peremptory Challenges

a. Counsel should challenge for cause all prospective jurors against whom a legitimate challenge can be made when it is likely to benefit the client.

b. When a challenge for cause is denied, counsel should consider exercising a peremptory challenge to remove the juror.

c. In exercising challenges for cause and peremptory strikes, counsel should consider both the panelists who may replace a person who is removed and the total number of peremptory challenges available to the state and the defense. In making this decision counsel should be mindful of the law requiring counsel to use one of his or her remaining peremptory challenges curatively to remove a juror upon whom counsel was denied a cause challenge or waive the complaint on appeal, even where counsel ultimately exhausts all peremptory challenges.

d. Counsel should timely object to and preserve for appellate review all issues relating to the unconstitutional exclusion of jurors by the prosecutor or the court.

e. Counsel should request additional peremptory challenges where appropriate in the circumstances present in the case.

5. Unconstitutional Exclusion of Jurors

a. In preparation for trial, during voir dire and at jury selection, the defense team should gather and record all information relevant to a challenge to the state's use of peremptory strikes based in part or in whole on race, gender or any other impermissible consideration. This will include: the race and gender of the venire, the panel, the petit jury and the jurors struck for cause and peremptorily; any disparity in questioning style between jurors; a comparative analysis of the treatment of similarly placed jurors; non-verbal conduct of potential jurors; historical evidence of policy, practice or a pattern of discriminatory strikes; and, other evidence of discriminatory intent. Such material should be advanced in support of any challenge to the exercise of a state peremptory strike where available and appropriate in the circumstances. Counsel should ensure that the record reflects the racial and gender composition of the jury pool, the venire, each panel, the peremptory challenges made by both parties, and of the petit jury. The record should also reflect the race and gender of the defendant, the victim(s) and potential witnesses, and any motivation the state may have to have regard to race or gender in exercising peremptory challenges. Counsel should also ensure that, where necessary the record reflects non-verbal conduct by jurors such as demeanor, tone and appearance.

b. Where evidence of the discriminatory use of peremptory strikes, including evidence of the presence of a motive for discriminatory use of peremptory strikes emerges after the jury is sworn, counsel should make or reurge any earlier objection to the state's strikes.

c. Counsel should not exercise a peremptory strike on the basis of race, gender or any other impermissible consideration and should maintain sufficient contemporaneous notes to allow reasons for particular peremptory strikes to be proffered if required by the court.

6. Voir Dire After the Jury has been Impanelled

a. Counsel should consider requesting additional voir dire whenever potentially prejudicial events occur, for instance, when jurors are exposed to publicity during the trial, jurors have had conversations with counsel or court officials, jurors learn inadmissible evidence, it is revealed that jurors responded incorrectly during voir dire, or jurors otherwise violated the court's instructions.

b. Counsel should be diligent and creative in framing questions that not only probe the particular issue, but also avoid creating or increasing any prejudice. Counsel should consider requesting curative instructions, seating alternate jurors, a mistrial, or other corrective measures.

c. If the verdict has already been rendered, counsel should request a post-trial hearing and an opportunity to examine jurors within the scope permitted by law.

C. Objection to Error and Preservation of Issues for Post Judgment Review

1. Counsel should be prepared to make all appropriate evidentiary objections and offers of proof, and should vigorously contest the state's evidence and argument through objections, cross-examination of witnesses, presentation of impeachment evidence and rebuttal. Counsel should be alert for, object to, and make sure the record adequately reflects instances of prosecutorial misconduct.

2. Counsel should make timely objections whenever a claim for relief exists under the law at present or under a good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law unless sound tactical reasons exist for not doing so. There should be a strong presumption in favor of making all available objections and any decision not to object should be made in the full awareness that this may constitute an irrevocable waiver of the client's rights.

3. Where appropriate, objections should include motions for mistrial and/or admonishments to ignore or limit the effect of evidence. Counsel should seek an evidentiary hearing where further development of the record in support of an objection would advance the client's interests. Areas in which counsel should be prepared to object include:

a. the admissibility or exclusion of evidence and the use to which evidence may be put;

b. the form or content of prosecution questioning, including during voir dire;

c. improper exercises of prosecutorial or judicial authority, such as racially motivated peremptory challenges or judicial questioning of witnesses that passes beyond the neutral judicial role and places the judge in the role of advocate;

d. the form or content of prosecution argument, including the scope of rebuttal argument;

e. jury instructions and verdict forms; and

f. any structural defects.

4. Counsel should ensure that all objections are made on the record and comply with the formal requirements applicable in the circumstances for making an effective objection and preserving a claim for subsequent review. These formal requirements may relate to a range of considerations, including: timing of the objection; whether an objection is oral or written; the need to proffer excluded testimony or questions; requesting admonishment of the jury; requesting a mistrial; exhausting peremptory challenges; providing notice to the attorney-general; and, the specific content of the objection. In addition to the objection itself, counsel should ensure that information relevant to potential review is preserved in the record, i.e., that the transcript, the court file, or the exhibits preserved for review include all the information about the events in the trial court that a reviewing court might need to rule in the client's favor.

5. Before trial, counsel should ascertain the particular judge's procedures for objections. If the judge orders that counsel not state the grounds for the objection in the jury's presence, or if the reasons for the objection require explanation or risk prejudicing the jury, counsel should request permission to make the objection out of the hearing of the jury, for example, by approaching the bench. Counsel should ensure that any objection and ruling is made on the record and where this is not possible at a bench conference, should request another procedure for making objections, such as having objections handled in chambers in the presence of the court reporter. Where, despite counsel's efforts, objections are made or rulings announced in the absence of the court reporter, counsel should ensure that those objections and rulings are subsequently placed on the record in as full a detail as possible.

6. Where an objection is made, counsel should state the specific grounds of objection and be prepared to fully explain and argue all bases of the objection. Where a claim for relief exists based on constitutional grounds, counsel should ensure that the record reflects that the objection is brought on those constitutional grounds. Counsel should be particularly careful to ensure that the record reflects the federal nature of any objection based in federal constitutional law or any other federal law.

7. Counsel's arguments to the court should explain both why the law is in the client's favor and why the ruling matters. Arguments should be precise; objections should be timely, clear and specific. For example:

a. if the court excludes evidence, counsel should proffer what the evidence would be, why it is important to the defense, and how its exclusion would harm the defense;

b. if the court limits cross-examination, counsel should proffer what counsel was attempting to elicit and why it is important;

c. if the court admits evidence over defense objection, counsel should, where appropriate, move for a limiting instruction;

d. if the court rules inadmissible prejudicial evidence already placed before the jury, counsel should seek a mistrial and/or an admonishment, as appropriate.

8. Counsel should not refrain from making objections simply because they are unsure of the precise legal principle or case name to invoke. In these situations, counsel should explain the client's position in factual terms, explaining why a certain ruling under specified facts is prejudicial to the client.

9. Counsel should not rely on objections made by co-defendant's counsel unless the judge has made clear that an objection on behalf of one defendant counts as an objection for all defendants. Even in that situation, counsel may want to identify specific prejudice that would befall her client if the court ruled adversely.

10. Counsel should take care not to appear to acquiesce in adverse rulings, by, for example, ending the discussion with comments intended to reflect politeness (e.g. "Thank you, Your Honor") but which may appear in the transcript as an abandonment of counsel's earlier objection and agreement with the trial court's rationale. Accordingly, counsel should find ways to be polite while making clear that the objection has not been abandoned.

11. Counsel should insist on adequate methods for recording demonstrative evidence. For example, diagrams should be drawn on paper instead of blackboards, and demonstrations not amenable to verbal descriptions should be videotaped. Requests for preservation of exhibits and diagrams should be made in a timely manner. Counsel should make sure that all references to exhibits contain the exhibit number.

12. Counsel at every stage have an obligation to satisfy themselves independently that the official record of the proceedings is complete and accurate and to supplement or correct it as appropriate.

13. If something transpires during the trial that is relevant and significant and has not been made a part of the record (for instance, communications out of the presence of the court-reporter or non-verbal conduct), counsel should ensure that the record reflects what occurred.

D. Opening Statement

1. Counsel should make an opening statement.

2. Prior to delivering an opening statement, counsel should ask for sequestration of witnesses, including law enforcement, unless a strategic reason exists for not doing so.

3. Counsel should be familiar with the law of the jurisdiction and the individual trial judge's practice regarding the permissible content of an opening statement.

4. Counsel should consider the strategic advantages and disadvantages of disclosure of particular information during opening statement. For example, if the evidence that the defense might present depends on evidence to be introduced in the state's case, counsel should avoid making promises of what evidence it will present because counsel may decide not to present that evidence. Counsel should not discuss in the opening statement the defense strategy with the jury to the extent that later defense decisions, such as putting the client or particular defense witnesses on the stand can be interpreted as concessions of the prosecution meeting its burden, or of weakness of the defense case. Counsel should consider the need to, and if appropriate, ask the court to instruct the prosecution not to mention in opening statement contested evidence for which the court has not determined admissibility.

5. Before the opening statement, counsel should be familiar with the names of all witnesses and the crucial dates, times and places, and should have mastered each witness's testimony so that favorable portions can be highlighted. If the complainant and defendant know each other, counsel should consider discussing their relationship and previous activities to create a context for the alleged offense. Counsel may wish to disclose defense witnesses' impeachable convictions, only if counsel is certain that the witnesses will testify. Where evidence is likely to be ruled inadmissible, counsel should refer to it only after obtaining a ruling from the court.

6. Counsel's objectives in making an opening statement may include the following:

a. to provide an overview of the defense case, introduce the theory of the defense, and explain the evidence the defense will present to minimize prejudice from the government case;

b. to identify the weaknesses of the prosecution's case, point out facts that are favorable to the defense that the government omitted in its opening, create immediate skepticism about the direct testimony of government witnesses and make the purpose of counsel's cross-examination more understandable;

c. to emphasize the prosecution's burden of proof;

d. to summarize the testimony of witnesses, and the role of each in relationship to the entire case and to present explanations for government witnesses' testimony, i.e. bias, lack of ability to observe, intoxication and Giglio evidence;

e. to describe the exhibits which will be introduced and the role of each in relationship to the entire case;

f. to clarify the jurors' responsibilities;

g. to point out alternative inferences from circumstantial evidence arising from either the government's case or evidence the defense will present, and to state the ultimate inferences which counsel wishes the jury to draw;

h. to establish counsel's credibility with the jury;

i. to personalize and humanize the client and counsel for the jury; and

j. to prepare the jury for the client's testimony or decision not to testify.

7. Counsel should consider incorporating the promises of proof the prosecutor makes to the jury during opening statement or the defense summation. Counsel should keep close account of what is proffered. Variances between the opening statement and the evidence may necessitate a mistrial, a cautionary instruction, or prove to be a fruitful ground for closing argument.

8. Whenever the prosecutor oversteps the bounds of proper opening statement (by, for example, referencing prejudicial material or other matters of questionable admissibility and assertions of fact that the government will not be able to prove), counsel should object, requesting a mistrial, or seeking cautionary instructions, unless clear tactical considerations suggest otherwise. Such tactical considerations may include, but are not limited to:

a. the significance of the prosecutor's error;

b. the possibility that an objection might enhance the significance of the information in the jury's mind, or negatively impact the jury; and

c. whether there are any rules made by the judge against objecting during the other attorney's opening argument.

9. Improper statements that counsel should consider objecting to may include:

a. attempts to arouse undue sympathy for the victim of a crime or put the jurors in the shoes of the victim;

b. appeals to the passions and prejudices of the jurors;

c. evidence of other crimes;

d. defendant's prior record;

e. reciting evidence at great length or in undue detail;

f. personal evaluation of the case or of any state's witness;

g. argument on the merits of the case or the pertinent law; and

h. defendant's possible failure to testify on present evidence.

E. Preparation for Challenging the Prosecution's Case

1. Counsel should attempt to anticipate weaknesses in the prosecution's proof. Counsel should systematically analyze all potential prosecution evidence, including physical evidence, for evidentiary problems and, where appropriate, challenge its admissibility and/or present other evidence that would controvert the state's evidence. Counsel should make all appropriate challenges to improper testimony. Counsel should challenge improper bolstering of state witnesses.

2. Counsel should consider the advantages and disadvantages of entering into stipulations concerning the prosecution's case. If a fact or facts to be stipulated are harmful to the client but there is still an advantage to stipulating, counsel should make certain that the stipulation is true before consenting to a stipulation. While there may be strategic reasons to forgo cross-examination of particular witnesses or objections to evidence, counsel should make sure to subject the state's case to vigorous adversarial testing.

3. In preparing for cross-examination, counsel should be familiar with the applicable law and procedures concerning cross-examinations and impeachment of witnesses. In order to develop material for impeachment or to discover documents subject to disclosure, counsel should be prepared to question witnesses as to the existence of prior statements which they may have made or adopted.

4. In preparing for cross-examination, counsel should:
  - a. consider the need to integrate cross-examination, the theory of the defense and closing argument;
  - b. consider whether cross-examination of each individual witness is likely to generate helpful information, and avoid asking questions that are unnecessary, might elicit responses harmful to the defense case or might open the door to damaging and otherwise improper redirect examination;
  - c. anticipate those witnesses the prosecutor might call in its case-in-chief or in rebuttal;
  - d. prepare a cross-examination plan for each of the anticipated witnesses;
  - e. be alert to inconsistencies, variations and contradictions in a witness' testimony;
  - f. be alert to possible inconsistencies, variations and contradictions between different witnesses' testimony;
  - g. be alert to significant omission or deficiencies in the testimony of any witnesses;
  - h. review and organize all prior statements of the witnesses and any prior relevant testimony of the prospective witnesses;
  - i. have prepared a transcript of all audio or video tape recorded statements made by the witness;
  - j. where appropriate, review relevant statutes and local law enforcement policy and procedure manuals, disciplinary records and department regulations for possible use in cross-examining law enforcement witnesses;
  - k. be alert to and raise where appropriate issues relating to witness competency and credibility, including bias and motive for testifying, evidence of collaboration between witnesses, innate physical ability to perceive, external impediments to the witness' perception, psychological hindrances to accurate perception, and faulty memory;
  - l. have prepared, for introduction into evidence, all documents which counsel intends to use during the cross-examination, including certified copies of records such as prior convictions of the witness or prior sworn testimony of the witness;
  - m. be alert to potential Fifth Amendment and other privileges that may apply to any witness;
  - n. elicit all available evidence to support the theory of defense; and
  - o. prepare a memorandum of law in support of the propriety of any line of impeachment likely to be challenged.

5. Counsel should consider conducting a voir dire examination of potential prosecution witnesses who may not be competent to give particular testimony, including expert witnesses whom the prosecutor may call. Counsel should be aware of the applicable law of the jurisdiction concerning competency of witnesses in general and admission of expert testimony in particular in order to be able to raise appropriate objections. Counsel should not stipulate to the admission of expert testimony that counsel knows will be harmful to the defense where there exists a viable claim regarding its admissibility. Counsel should be alert to frequently encountered competency issues such as: age (chronological and developmental), taint of witness' ability to recall events by external factors such as suggestion, mental disability due to drug or alcohol abuse, and mental illness.

6. Before trial, counsel should ascertain whether the prosecutor has provided copies of all prior statements of the witnesses to the extent required by the law. If disclosure was not properly made counsel should consider requesting relief as appropriate including:

- a. adequate time to review the documents or investigate and prepare further before commencing cross-examination, including a recess or continuance if necessary;
- b. exclusion of the witness' testimony and all evidence affected by that testimony;
- c. a mistrial;
- d. dismissal of the case; and/or
- e. any other sanctions counsel believes would remedy the violation.

7. Counsel should attempt to mitigate the prejudicial impact of physical evidence where possible by: attempting to stipulate to facts that the government seeks to establish through prejudicial evidence, moving to redact irrelevant and unduly prejudicial information from documents, recordings and transcripts, and/or asking the court to exclude part of the proposed evidence as unnecessarily cumulative. Where prejudicial physical evidence will be admitted, counsel should seek to lessen its prejudice by seeking restrictions on the form of the evidence (e.g. size of photographs, black and white, rather than color), the manner of presentation of the evidence and to bar undue emphasis or repetitive presentation of the evidence. Similarly, where necessary, counsel should object to the exclusion or redaction of exculpatory portions of evidence.

8. Counsel should become familiar with all areas in which expert evidence may be offered and should develop a strong knowledge of all forensic fields involved in the case with the assistance of experts as appropriate.

F. Presenting the Defendant's Case

1. Counsel should develop, in consultation with the client, an overall defense strategy. Counsel should prepare for the need to adapt the defense strategy during trial where necessary. In extreme cases where a defense theory is no longer tenable, counsel should abandon that theory rather than losing all credibility with the jury, and proceed to emphasize the available defense evidence which supports another theory of defense. In deciding on defense strategy, counsel should consider whether the client's interests are best served by not putting on a defense case, and instead relying on the prosecution's failure to meet its constitutional burden of proving each element beyond a reasonable doubt. Even where no affirmative defense to guilt is mounted, counsel must be conscious of the potential for the case to proceed to penalty phase and should ensure that the guilt phase is conducted in a way that supports and extracts any available advantages in the guilt phase for the penalty phase presentation. Counsel should be conscious of the perils of a denial defense and the likely negative effect such a defense will have should the case proceed to penalty phase.

2. Counsel should not put on a non-viable defense but at the same time, even when no theory of defense is available, if the decision to stand trial has been made, counsel must hold the prosecution to its heavy burden of proof beyond reasonable doubt.

3. Counsel should discuss with the client all of the considerations relevant to the client's decision to testify, including but not limited to, the client's constitutional right to testify, his or her right to not testify, the nature of the defense, the client's likely effectiveness as a witness on direct and under cross-examination, the client's susceptibility to impeachment with prior convictions, bad acts, out-of-court statements or evidence that has been suppressed, the client's demeanor and temperament, and the availability of other defense or rebuttal evidence. Counsel should give special consideration to the likely impact of the client's testimony on any defenses and any possible mitigation presentation, particularly where questions of mental health and mental capacity are in issue. Counsel shall recommend the decision which counsel believes to be in the client's best interest. The ultimate decision whether to testify is the client's. Counsel should also be familiar with his or her ethical responsibilities that may be applicable if the client insists on testifying untruthfully. The client should be called to testify in a capital case only in rare circumstances, however, counsel should prepare for the possibility that the client's testimony may become essential to the defense case. Therefore, the client should be thoroughly prepared for both direct and cross-examination before trial. Counsel should familiarize the client with all prior statements and exhibits, and review appropriate demeanor for taking the stand. Counsel should be respectful of the client when conducting the direct examination, eliciting testimony that will be helpful to the client's defense. Counsel should avoid unnecessary direct examination that opens the door to damaging cross examination.

4. Counsel should be aware of the elements of any affirmative defense and know whether, under the applicable law of the jurisdiction, the client bears a burden of persuasion or a burden of production. Counsel should be familiar with the notice requirements for affirmative defenses and introduction of expert testimony.

5. In preparing for presentation of a defense case, counsel should, where appropriate:

a. consider all potential evidence which could corroborate the defense case, and the import of any evidence which is missing;

b. after discussion with the client, make the decision whether to call any witnesses and, if calling witnesses, decide which witnesses will provide the most compelling evidence of the client's defense. In making this decision, counsel should consider that credibility issues with particular witnesses can be overcome when several witnesses testify to the same facts. Counsel should not call witnesses who will be damaging to the defense;

c. develop a plan for direct examination of each potential defense witness;

d. determine the implications that the order of witnesses may have on the defense case;

e. determine what facts necessary for the defense case can be elicited through the cross-examination of the prosecution's witnesses;

f. consider the possible use and careful preparation of character witnesses, and any negative consequences that may flow from such testimony;

g. consider the need for, and availability of, expert witnesses, especially to rebut any expert opinions offered by the prosecution, and what evidence must be submitted to lay the foundation for the expert's testimony;

h. consider and prepare for the need to call a defense investigator as a witness;

i. review all documentary evidence that must be presented;

j. review all tangible evidence that must be presented;

k. consider using demonstrative evidence (and the witnesses necessary to admit such evidence); and

l. consider the order of exhibit presentation and, if appropriate, with leave of court prior to trial, label each exhibit.

6. In developing and presenting the defense case, counsel should consider the implications it may have for a rebuttal by the prosecutor.

7. Counsel should prepare all witnesses for direct and possible cross-examination. Where appropriate, counsel should also advise witnesses of suitable courtroom dress and demeanor, and procedures including sequestration.

8. Counsel should systematically analyze all potential defense evidence for evidentiary problems. Counsel should research the law and prepare legal arguments in support of the admission of each piece of testimony or other evidence. Counsel should plan for the contingency that particular items of evidence may be ruled inadmissible and prepare for alternative means by which the evidence, or similar evidence, can be offered. Similarly, counsel should have contingency plans for adjusting the defense case theory where important evidence may be ruled inadmissible. Counsel should not seek to have excluded prosecution evidence that is helpful to the defense.

9. Counsel should conduct a direct examination that follows the rules of evidence, effectively presents the defense theory, and anticipates/defuses potential weak points.

10. If a prosecution objection is sustained or defense evidence is improperly excluded, counsel should make appropriate efforts to rephrase the question(s) and/or make an offer of proof.

11. Counsel should object to improper cross-examination by the prosecution.

12. Counsel should conduct redirect examination as appropriate.

13. At the close of the defense case, counsel should renew the motion for a directed verdict of acquittal on each charged count.

14. Counsel should keep a record of all exhibits identified or admitted.

15. If a witness does not appear, counsel should request a recess or continuance in order to give counsel a reasonable amount of time to locate and produce the witness. Counsel should request any available relief if the witness does not appear.

16. Understanding that capital jurors frequently determine the applicable punishment prior to penalty phase and that the jury in penalty phase will be permitted to rely upon all evidence introduced in the guilt phase, counsel should actively consider the benefits of presenting evidence admissible in the guilt phase that is also relevant in mitigation of punishment.

G. Preparation of the Closing Argument

1. Counsel should make a closing argument.

2. Counsel should be familiar with the substantive limits on both prosecution and defense summation.

3. Counsel should be familiar with the court rules, applicable statutes and law, and the individual judge's practice concerning limits and objections during closing argument, and provisions for rebuttal argument by the prosecution.

4. Well before trial, counsel should plan the themes, content, and organization of the summation. The basic argument should be formulated before the first juror is sworn, with accurate notes taken throughout the trial to permit incorporation of the developments at trial. In developing closing argument, counsel should review the proceedings to determine what aspects can be used in pursuit of the defense theory of the case and, where appropriate, should consider:

a. highlighting weaknesses in the prosecution's case, including what potential corroborative evidence is missing, especially in light of the prosecution's burden of proof;

b. describing favorable inferences to be drawn from the evidence;

c. incorporating into the argument:

i. the theory of the defense case;

ii. helpful testimony from direct and cross-examinations;

iii. verbatim instructions drawn from the expected jury charge;

iv. responses to anticipated prosecution arguments;

v. the promises of proof the prosecutor made to the jury during the opening statement; and

vi. visual aids and exhibits;

d. the effect of the defense argument on the prosecutor's rebuttal argument.

5. Counsel should not demean or disparage or be openly hostile towards the client.

6. Whenever the prosecutor exceeds the scope of permissible argument or rebuttal, counsel should object, request a mistrial, or seek a cautionary instruction unless strong tactical considerations suggest otherwise.

H. Jury Instructions and Verdict

1. Counsel should be familiar with the Louisiana Rules of Court and the individual judge's practices concerning ruling on proposed instructions, charging the jury, use of standard charges and preserving objections to the instructions.

2. Counsel should always submit proposed jury instructions in writing.

3. Counsel should review the court's proposed jury charge and any special written charge proposed by the state and, where appropriate, counsel should submit special written charges which present the applicable law in the manner most favorable to the defense in light of the particular circumstances of the case, including the desirability of seeking a verdict on a lesser included offense.

4. Where possible, counsel should provide citations to statute and case law in support of any proposed charge. Counsel should endeavor to ensure that all jury charge discussions are on the record or, at the very least, that all objections and rulings are reflected in the record.

5. Where appropriate, counsel should object to and argue against any improper charge proposed by the prosecution or the court.

6. If the court refuses to adopt a charge requested by counsel, or gives a charge over counsel's objection, counsel should take all steps necessary to preserve the record, including ensuring that a written copy of any proposed special written charge is included in the record.

7. During delivery of the charge, counsel should be alert to any deviations from the judge's planned instructions, object to deviations unfavorable to the client, and, if necessary request an additional or curative charge.

8. If there are grounds for objecting to any aspect of the charge, counsel should seek to object before the verdict form is submitted to the jury and the jury is allowed to begin deliberations.

9. If the court proposes giving a further or supplemental charge to the jury, either upon request of the jurors or upon their failure to reach a verdict, counsel should request that the judge provide a copy of the proposed charge to counsel before it is delivered to the jury. Counsel should be present for any further charge of the jury and should renew or make new objections as appropriate to any further charge given to the jurors after the jurors have begun their deliberations. Counsel should object to any charge which expressly or implicitly threatens to keep the jury sequestered indefinitely until a verdict is reached or is otherwise improperly coercive, for example, by omitting the caution to jurors that they should not abandon their deeply held beliefs.

10. Counsel should reserve the right to make exceptions to the jury instructions above and beyond any specific objections that were made during the trial.

11. Upon a finding of guilt, counsel should be alert to any improprieties in the verdict and should request the court to poll the jury. In a multi-count indictment, defense counsel normally should request a poll as to each count on which the jury has convicted.

I. The Defense Case Concerning Penalty

1. Preparation for the sentencing phase should begin immediately upon counsel's entry into the case. Counsel at every stage of the case have a continuing duty to investigate issues bearing upon penalty and to seek information that supports mitigation, explains the offense, or rebuts the prosecution's case in aggravation. Counsel should not forgo investigating or presenting mitigation in favor of a strategy of relying only on residual doubt or sympathy and mercy. Counsel should exercise great caution in seeking to rely upon residual doubt as to the defendant's guilt.

2. Trial counsel should discuss with the client early in the case the sentencing alternatives available, and the relationship between the strategy for the sentencing phase and for the guilt phase.

3. Prior to the sentencing phase, trial counsel should discuss with the client the specific sentencing phase procedures of the jurisdiction and advise the client of steps being taken in preparation for sentencing.

4. Counsel at every stage of the case should discuss with the client the content and purpose of the information concerning penalty that they intend to present to the jury, means by which the mitigation presentation might be strengthened, and the strategy for meeting the prosecution's case in aggravation.

5. As with the guilt phase, counsel should consider and discuss with the client, the advisability and possible consequences of the client testifying in the penalty phase.

6. Counsel should present to the jury all reasonably available evidence in mitigation unless there are strong strategic reasons to forgo some portion of such evidence. Counsel should make every effort to find a way to successfully present all of the mitigating evidence rather than to abandon a piece or pieces of mitigating evidence due to potential negatives arising from the evidence. Counsel should not make agreements with the prosecution whereby the defense agrees to put on little or no mitigation evidence.

7. Counsel should present mitigating evidence in an organized and coherent fashion, especially when it is of a complex nature involving expert testimony. Counsel should seek to present a narrative of the client's life story that serves to humanize the client and offers a cohesive theory for life rather than presenting each mitigating circumstance as separate and distinct from each other. Counsel should seek to illustrate the ways different pieces of mitigation evidence interrelate to ensure a comprehensive picture of the client's life and the mitigation case is produced. Counsel should consider the need to utilize an expert witness to synthesize or explain various and/or divergent elements of a mitigation presentation. However, counsel should be conscious of the desirability of presenting such evidence through lay witnesses, rather than relying too heavily upon expert testimony. Counsel should present all mitigating evidence in such a way that it maintains the defense theory of the case, and should avoid presenting or opening the door to evidence that undermines the defense theory.

8. In developing and advancing the defense theory of the case in the penalty phase, counsel should seek to integrate the defense theories at guilt and penalty phase into a complimentary whole or, where this is not possible, seek to minimize any discordance between the defense theories in guilt and penalty phase.

9. In deciding the defense theory in the penalty phase and which witnesses, evidence and arguments to prepare, counsel must exercise a high degree of skill and care as an advocate to determine the most persuasive course to adopt in the circumstances of each particular case. Counsel should consider evidence and arguments that would: be explanatory of the offense(s) for which the client is being sentenced; reduce the client's moral culpability for the offense; demonstrate the client's capacity for rehabilitation or adaptation to prison; demonstrate the client's remorse; rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor; present positive aspects of the client and the client's life; humanize the client; engender sympathy or empathy in the jury; or would otherwise support a sentence less than death. Counsel should always consider and seek to address the likely concern the jury has regarding the possibility that the client will represent a future danger if sentenced to life imprisonment, rather than death.

10. The witnesses and evidence that counsel should prepare and consider for presentation in the penalty phase include:

a. witnesses familiar with and evidence relating to the client's life and development, from conception to the time of sentencing, that would be explanatory of the offense(s) for which the client is being sentenced, would rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor, would present positive aspects of the client's life, or would otherwise support a sentence less than death;

b. expert and lay witnesses along with supporting documentation (e.g. school records, military records) to provide medical, psychological, sociological, cultural or other insights into the client's mental and/or emotional state and life history that may explain or lessen the client's culpability for the underlying offense(s); to give a favorable opinion as to the client's capacity for rehabilitation, or adaptation to prison; to explain possible treatment programs; or otherwise support a sentence less than death; and/or to rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor. Supporting documentation should be read, organized, evaluated and condensed to a form that is most conducive to explaining to the jury how and why this mitigation is relevant.;

c. Witnesses who can testify about the effect of a sentence of life imprisonment and/or the conditions under which a sentence of life imprisonment would be served;

d. witnesses who can testify about the adverse impact of the client's execution on the client's family and loved ones;

e. demonstrative evidence, such as photos, videos, physical objects and documents that humanize the client, portray him positively or add emphasis to an aspect of the testimony of a witness or witnesses.

f. witnesses drawn from the victim's family or intimates who are able to offer evidence that may support an argument for a sentence other than death.

11. Among topics counsel should consider presenting through evidence and argument are:

a. positive character evidence and evidence of specific positive acts, including evidence of positive relationships with others, contributions to individuals and the community, growth and progress over his life and since arrest, adaptation to incarceration, prospects for rehabilitation during a life sentence and reputation evidence;

b. family and social history (including physical, sexual, or emotional abuse; family history of mental illness, cognitive impairments, substance abuse, or domestic violence; poverty, familial instability, neighborhood environment, and peer influence); other traumatic events such as exposure to criminal violence, the loss of a loved one, or a natural disaster; experiences of racism or other social or ethnic bias; cultural or religious influences; failures of government or social intervention (e.g., failure to intervene or provide necessary services, placement in poor quality foster care or juvenile detention facilities);

c. medical and mental health history (including hospitalizations, mental and physical illness or injury, trauma, intellectual impairment, alcohol and drug use, pre-natal and birth trauma, malnutrition, developmental delays, and neurological damage). Evidence relating to medical and mental health matters should normally include the symptoms and effect of any illness rather than just solely presenting a formal diagnosis;

d. educational history (including achievement, performance, behavior, and activities), special educational needs (including mental retardation, cognitive limitations and learning disabilities) and opportunity or lack thereof, and activities;

e. military service, (including length and type of service, conduct, special training, combat exposure, health and mental health services);

f. employment and training history (including skills and performance, and barriers to employability);

g. record of prior offenses (adult and juvenile), especially where there is no record, a short record, or a record of non-violent offenses;

h. prior juvenile and adult correctional experience (including conduct while under supervision, in institutions of education or training, and regarding clinical services); and

i. a prior relationship between the client and the victim(s) which might help to explain the offense.

12. In determining what presentation to make concerning penalty, counsel should consider whether any portion of the defense case could be damaging in and of itself or will open the door to the prosecution's presentation of otherwise inadmissible aggravating evidence. Counsel should pursue all appropriate means (e.g., motions in limine) to ensure that the defense case concerning penalty is constricted as little as possible by this consideration, and should make a full record in order to support any subsequent challenges.

13. Trial counsel should determine at the earliest possible time what aggravating circumstances the prosecution will rely upon in the penalty phase, any adjudicated or nonadjudicated wrongful acts the prosecution intends to prove and the nature and scope of any victim impact evidence the prosecution may present. Counsel at all stages of the case should object to any non-compliance with the rules of discovery and applicable case law in this respect and challenge the adequacy of those rules.

14. Counsel at all stages of the case should carefully consider whether all or part of the evidence the state may seek to call in the penalty phase may appropriately be challenged as improper, unduly prejudicial, misleading or not legally admissible. Counsel should challenge the admissibility of evidence brought in support of an aggravating circumstance that cannot legally be established in the circumstances of the case. Counsel should investigate and present evidence that specifically undermines or mitigates the aggravating circumstances and any other adverse evidence to be presented by the prosecution.

15. If the prosecution is granted leave at any stage of the case to have the client interviewed by witnesses associated with the government, defense counsel should:

a. carefully consider:

- i. what legal challenges may appropriately be made to the interview or the conditions surrounding it, and
  - ii. the legal and strategic issues implicated by the client's co-operation or non-cooperation;
- b. ensure that the client understands the significance of any statements made during such an interview, including the possible impact on the sentence and later potential proceedings (such as appeal, subsequent retrial or resentencing); and
- c. attend the interview, unless prevented by court order.

16. Counsel at every stage of the case should take advantage of all appropriate opportunities to argue why death is not a suitable punishment for their particular client.

17. Counsel should make an opening statement.

18. In closing argument, counsel should be specific to the client and should, after outlining the compelling mitigating evidence, explain to the jury the significance of the mitigation presented. Counsel's closing argument should be more than a general attack on capital punishment and should not minimize the jury's verdict. Counsel should never ask, instruct, or give permission to the jury to return a death sentence, but rather should appeal to the jury for, and provide reasons for, a life sentence. Counsel's closing argument should not be contradictory. Counsel should not demean, disparage, be hostile towards, or make inappropriate comparisons regarding the client.

19. Trial counsel should request jury instructions and verdict forms that ensure that jurors will be able to consider and give effect to all relevant mitigating evidence. Trial counsel should object to instructions or verdict forms that are constitutionally flawed, or are inaccurate, or confusing and should offer alternative instructions.

§1917. Performance Standard 8: Post-Verdict Motions and Formal Sentencing

A. Motion for a New Trial and Other Post-Verdict Motions

1. Counsel should be familiar with the procedures and availability of motions for new trial, for arrest of judgment and for a post-verdict judgment of acquittal, including the time period for filing such motions, the formal requirements of each motion, the evidentiary rules applicable to each motion and the grounds that can be raised.

2. A motion for new trial should be filed in each case where a death verdict is returned by the jury. A motion in arrest of judgment or for a post-verdict judgment of acquittal should be filed in each case in which there exists a colorable basis for the relief sought to be granted.

3. In preparing the motion for new trial, counsel should conduct an intensive and thorough investigation designed to identify and develop: evidence of prejudice arising from any adverse rulings of the trial court; evidence not discovered during the trial that would likely have changed the verdict at either guilt or penalty phase; evidence of prejudicial error or defect not discovered before the verdict or judgment; and, evidence that would otherwise support an argument that the ends of justice would be served by the granting of a new trial.

4. Counsel should utilize all of the investigative tools described in these standards in conducting the investigation, including the use of fact investigators, mitigation specialists, experts, record requests, discovery requests, compulsory process and motions practice.

5. Recognizing that the post-verdict litigation represents a critical stage of proceedings that requires extensive investigation and development of potentially dispositive claims:

a. counsel should seek a postponement of formal sentencing for a sufficient period to allow adequate investigation and development of the motion for new trial or other post-verdict motions; and

b. counsel should seek additional resources sufficient to allow adequate investigation and development of the motion for new trial or other post-verdict motions.

6. In preparing and presenting claims in post-verdict motions, counsel should have particular regard to the need to fully plead the claims and their factual basis in a manner that will preserve the claims for subsequent review. Counsel should request an evidentiary hearing on the motion for new trial in order to present new evidence and preserve claims for appeal.

7. Counsel should prepare post-verdict motions urging that the death penalty is not a legally permissible penalty in the circumstances of the case, including that the death penalty would be constitutionally excessive, where such an argument is available under existing law, or under a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

8. Counsel should review the court record and ensure that it is complete and that matters relevant to any future review of the case are contained in the record including, for instance, race and gender of jurors in the venire, juror questionnaires, jury questions during deliberations, and all defense proffers appropriate to preserve any defense objections for review.

9. Following formal sentencing, counsel shall continue to conduct an intensive investigation designed to identify and develop evidence not discovered during the trial that would likely have changed the verdict at either guilt or penalty phase in order that any available motion for new trial may be filed within one year of the verdict or judgment of the trial court.

B. Preparation for Formal Sentencing, the Sentence Investigation Report and the Uniform Capital Sentencing Report

1. In preparing for sentencing, counsel should:

a. inform the client of the sentencing procedure, its consequences and the next steps in the client's case, including any expected change in the client's representation;

b. maintain regular contact with the client prior to the sentencing hearing, and inform the client of the steps being taken in preparation for sentencing;

c. inform the client of his or her right to speak at the sentencing proceeding and assist the client in preparing the statement, if any, to be made to the court, considering the possible consequences that any statement may have upon the sentence to be imposed, any appeal or review, subsequent retrial or trial on other offenses;

d. become familiar with the procedures governing preparation, submission, and verification of the sentence investigation report and uniform capital sentencing report. In addition, counsel should:

i. consider providing to the report preparer information favorable to the client;

ii. consider whether the client should speak with the person preparing the report; if the decision is made that the client not speak to the report preparer, the client should be advised to exercise his rights to silence and the presence of counsel and the report preparer should be advised that the client is asserting his right not to participate in an interview. If the determination is made for the client to speak to the report preparer, counsel should discuss the interview in advance with the client and attend the interview;

iii. obtain a copy of the sentence investigation report and uniform capital sentencing report, once completed. Review the completed reports and discuss their contents with the client;

iv. file a written opposition to the factual contents of the reports where appropriate and seek a contradictory hearing.

C. Obligations of Counsel at Sentencing Hearing and Following Sentencing

1. Understanding that the formal imposition of a death sentence following a jury's death verdict is neither automatic, nor inevitable, counsel should actively advocate for a disposition other than the imposition of a death sentence. Such advocacy should include presenting to the court evidence and argument in favor of any categorical bar to the imposition of the death penalty and in support of an argument that the death penalty, in the circumstances of the particular case, is unconstitutionally excessive. Counsel's presentation should not be limited to existing law but should include all good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law.

2. Following the imposition of a death sentence, counsel should prepare and file a motion for reconsideration of sentence.

3. Upon denial of a motion for reconsideration, counsel should timely file a motion for appeal, including a comprehensive request for transcription of the proceedings and designation of the record as follows:

a. the minutes of all of the proceedings connected with the case;

b. the indictment and any and all proceedings concerning the appointment and/or selection of the grand jury;

c. the transcript of arraignment;

d. the transcript of all pre-trial proceedings regardless of whether defense counsel and the defendant were present;

e. the transcript of any proceeding in which allotment of the case occurred;

f. the transcript of any joint proceedings held with another defendant(s);

g. the transcript of the entirety of voir dire, including the transcript of any communication made by the judge or the court staff whether within or outside the presence of defense counsel;

h. the transcript of all bench conferences, in chambers hearings or charge conferences;

i. the transcript of all argument and instruction;

j. the transcript of all testimony, including testimony at the penalty phase of the trial;

k. any and all exhibits introduced in connection with the case;

l. the jury questionnaires, verdict forms, polling slips, and verdicts imposed in the case.

4. In the period following the imposition of a sentence of death and the lodging of the appellate record, counsel should continue to actively represent the client's interests, including investigation and development of arguments relevant to a post-sentencing motion for new trial or defendant's sentence review memorandum. Counsel should take action to preserve the client's interests in his appeal, state post-conviction, federal habeas corpus and clemency proceedings pending the assignment of appellate counsel.

5. Where appropriate, counsel should timely file a post-sentencing motion for new trial.

6. Counsel shall continue to represent the client until successor counsel assumes responsibility for the representation. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, and other information pertinent to appellate and post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 41:86 (January 2015).

§1919. Performance Standard 9: Direct Appeal*A. Duties of Appellate Counsel

1. Appellate counsel should comply with the capital guidelines, and these performance standards, except where clearly inapplicable to the representation of the client during the period of direct appeal, including the obligations to:

a. maintain close contact with the client regarding litigation developments;

b. continually monitor the client's mental, physical and emotional condition for effects on the client's legal position;

c. keep under continuing review the desirability of modifying prior counsel's theory of the case in light of subsequent developments;

d. take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these Standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition; and

e. continue an aggressive investigation of all aspects of the case.

2. Appellate counsel should be familiar with all state and federal appellate and post-conviction options available to the client, and should consider how any tactical decision might affect later options.

3. Appellate counsel should monitor and remain informed of legal developments that may be relevant to the persuasive presentation of claims on direct appeal and in any application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court as well as the preservation of claims for subsequent review in federal habeas corpus proceedings and international legal fora.

a. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in and be aware of current legal claims pending in relevant cases in front of the Louisiana Supreme Court, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

b. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in Louisiana's Courts of Appeal including splits between the circuit courts of appeal.

c. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the superior courts of other states, particularly in the interpretation and application of federal constitutional law.

d. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the federal courts of appeal, including splits between circuit courts of appeal.

e. Counsel should monitor relevant developments in international law.

4. When identifying potential conflicts, appellate counsel should have particular regard to areas of potential conflict that may arise at this stage of proceedings, including:

a. when the defendant was represented at the trial level by appellate counsel or by an attorney in the same law office as the appellate counsel, and it is asserted by the client that trial counsel provided ineffective representation, or it appears to appellate counsel that trial counsel provided ineffective representation;

b. when it is necessary for the appellate attorney to interview or examine in a post-conviction evidentiary hearing another client of the attorney's office in an effort to substantiate information provided by the first client; and

c. when, in the pursuit of an appeal or post-conviction hearing, it is necessary to assert for the first time that another client of the office committed perjury at trial.

5. Counsel should explain to the client counsel's role, how counsel was appointed to the case, and the meaning and goals of the appeal, and counsel should encourage the client to participate in the appellate process.

6. Counsel shall consult with the client on the matters to be raised on appeal and give genuine consideration to any issue the client wishes to raise on appeal. What claims to raise on appeal, and how to raise them, are generally matters entrusted to the discretion of counsel. When counsel decides not to argue all of the issues that his or her client desires to be argued, counsel should inform the client of that decision, of the reasons for the decision, and of his or her right to file a pro se brief.

7. Appellate counsel should obtain and review a complete record of all proceedings relevant to the case including the appellate record, the district court file, any file in the court of appeal or supreme court, and the files in any other related or prior proceedings in the cause.

8. Appellate counsel should obtain and review all prior counsels' file(s). Appellate counsel should retain and preserve prior counsel's files as far as possible in the condition in which they were received until transmitted to successor counsel.

9. Appellate counsel should ensure that the record on appeal is complete. If any item is necessary to appellate review but is not included in the record, it is appellate counsel's responsibility to file a motion to supplement the record and to seek to have the briefing schedule stayed pending completion of the record.

10. Appellate counsel should interview the client and previous defense team members about the case, including any relevant matters that do not appear in the record. Appellate counsel should consider whether any potential off-record matters may have an impact on how the appeal is pursued, and what kind of an investigation of the matter is warranted.

11. Appellate counsel should seek to investigate and litigate all issues, whether or not previously presented, that are arguably meritorious under the standards applicable to high quality capital defense representation, including challenges to any overly restrictive procedural rules and any good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law. If an error warranting relief has not yet been presented, Counsel should present it and request error patent review.

12. Counsel should make every professionally appropriate effort to present issues in a manner that will preserve them for subsequent review. Claims raised should include federal constitutional claims which, in the event that relief is denied in the state appellate courts, could form the basis for a successful petition for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court or for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal district court. Counsel should present all claims in a manner that will meet the exhaustion requirements applicable in federal habeas corpus proceedings. Where pending claims in another case may be resolved in a manner that would benefit the client, counsel should ensure that the relevant issues are preserved and presented for review in the client's case and, where appropriate, counsel should seek to keep the client's direct appeal open pending the determination of the other case.

13. Petitions and briefs shall conform to all rules of court and shall have a professional appearance, shall advance argument and cite legal authority in support of each contention and shall conform to Blue Book rules of citation. Regardless of the existence of local authority, federal authority should also be relied upon to present and preserve for later review any federal constitutional claims, particularly any applicable decision of the United States Supreme Court.

14. Counsel should be scrupulously accurate in referring to the record and the authorities upon which counsel relies in the briefing and oral argument. All arguments on assignments of error should include references by page number, or by any more precise method of location, to the place(s) in the transcript which contains the alleged error.

15. Counsel should not intentionally refer to or argue on the basis of facts outside the record on appeal, unless such facts are matters of common public knowledge based on ordinary human experience or matters of which the court may take judicial notice. If appropriate, counsel should move for the remand of the matter and conduct such evidentiary hearings as may be required to create or supplement a record for review of any claim of error or argument for excessiveness that is not adequately supported by the record.

16. Where counsel is considering seeking a remand for further hearing, counsel should undertake a full factual investigation of the issue for which the remand would be sought so that the decision as to whether to seek remand may be made in light of the evidence that might be adduced at such a hearing. Where counsel does seek remand for further hearing, counsel should ensure that adequate investigation and preparation has been undertaken to allow counsel to promptly litigate the matter if the case is remanded for further hearing.

17. The identification and selection of issues is the responsibility of lead counsel. Lead counsel shall adopt procedures for providing an "issues meeting" between the attorneys handling the case and other relevantly qualified attorneys, including at least one qualified as lead appellate counsel, at which the issues raised in the case and the defense theory on appeal can be discussed. The issues meeting will ordinarily be conducted in the course of a case review meeting under these standards but where this is not possible, the issues meeting should be conducted independently of the case review.

18. Counsel should complete a full review of the records of relevant proceedings and trial counsels' files prior to completing a draft of the brief. Lead counsel shall adopt a procedure for screening the brief, which should include a careful review of the brief by an attorney not involved in drafting the pleading. The reviewing attorney should be qualified as lead appellate counsel.

19. The review of the records and files should be completed a sufficient time before the filing deadline to allow for the issues meeting, the drafting of the brief, the review of the brief and the finalization of the brief. If appellate counsel is unable to prepare the brief within the existing briefing schedule in a manner consistent with these standards and with high quality appellate representation, it is counsel's responsibility to file a motion to extend the briefing schedule.

20. Counsel shall be diligent in expediting the timely submission of the appeal and shall take all steps necessary to reduce delays and time necessary for the processing of appeals which adversely affect the client.

21. Where counsel is unable to provide high quality representation in appellate proceedings in a particular case, counsel must bring this deficiency to the attention of the capital case supervisor and the capital case coordinator. If the deficiency cannot be remedied then counsel must bring the matter to the attention of the court and seek the relief appropriate to protect the interests of the client. Counsel may be unable to provide high quality representation due to a range of factors: lack of resources, insufficient time, excessive workload, poor health or other personal considerations, inadequate skill or experience etc.

22. Following the filing of appellee's brief and before filing a reply brief, a second case review meeting shall be conducted to discuss the defense theory on appeal in light of the issues raised in the original brief, appellee's brief and the issues to be addressed in reply and at oral argument.

23. Counsel should, no less than two weeks prior to oral argument, where possible, file a reply brief rebutting legal and factual arguments made by the state. The reply brief should not simply repeat the contents of the original brief but should respond directly to the contentions of the state and any issues arising from the state's brief. Where appropriate, counsel should file a supplemental brief on the merits, seeking leave to do so if the case has already been submitted.

24. Counsel should prepare and timely file a sentence review memorandum in each case. The sentence review memorandum shall address itself to the state's sentence review memorandum and to the question of whether the sentence is excessive, having regard to: the influence of passion, prejudice, or other arbitrary factors; whether the evidence supports the jury's finding of a statutory aggravating circumstance; and whether the sentence is disproportionate to the penalty imposed in similar cases, considering both the crime and the defendant. The sentence review memorandum need not be limited to the matters contained in the record and shall furnish additional information relevant to the court's considerations under La. C.Cr.P. art. 905.9 and Supreme Court Rule XXVIII based upon the results of investigation undertaken pursuant to performance standard 9(25).

25. Counsel should undertake a detailed and intensive investigation of the matters relevant to the sentence review memorandum. Counsel shall not rely upon the contents of the state's sentence review memorandum without confirming the accuracy of that memorandum. The investigation should be commenced as soon as practicable after counsel is assigned to the case. Where additional favorable information is developed, counsel should seek a remand of the matter for the development of facts relating to whether the sentence is excessive.

26. Counsel should promptly review the uniform capital sentence report for accuracy and completeness. Where a response to the uniform capital sentence report has not previously been filed in the case, or where the response was incomplete or inaccurate, counsel should prepare and file an opposition to the report in accordance with these standards.

27. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of the date, time and place scheduled for oral argument of the appeal as soon as counsel receives notice thereof from the appellate court. Counsel shall not waive oral argument.

28. To prepare for oral argument, counsel should review the record and the briefs of the parties, and should update legal research. If binding dispositive or contrary authority has been published since the filing of the brief, counsel shall disclose the information to the court. Counsel should be prepared to answer questions propounded by the court. In particular, counsel should be prepared to address whether and where the questions presented were preserved in the record, the applicable standards of review and the prejudice associated with the errors alleged.

29. Lead counsel shall adopt procedures, including at least two moot court arguments, to assist counsel in preparing to present argument. The moot court shall include at least one attorney qualified as lead appellate counsel who was not involved in drafting the brief. The moot will ordinarily be conducted in the course of a case review meeting under these standards but where this is not possible, the moot should be conducted independently of the case review.

30. Counsel presenting oral argument should be the person best qualified to present oral argument taking into account experience, the complexity of the case and time to prepare. That person will ordinarily be lead counsel. However, after consultation with the case supervisor and defense team, lead counsel may designate other counsel to present argument, including outside counsel.

31. Where pertinent and significant authorities come to counsel's attention following oral argument, counsel should bring the authorities to the attention to the court by letter or, where appropriate, should seek leave to file a supplemental brief.

32. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of any decision of the appellate court in the client's case and shall promptly transmit to the client a copy of the decision. Counsel should accurately inform the client of the courses of action which may be pursued as a result of the decision. If the case has been returned to a lower court on remand, counsel should continue in his or her representation (unless and until other counsel has been assigned and formally enrolled) providing any necessary briefing to the court to continue to advocate for the client.

33. Counsel shall promptly inform the capital case coordinator of the disposition in any capital appeal case.

34. Counsel shall timely prepare and file a motion for rehearing, raising all arguments for which a meritorious motion for rehearing can be advanced. Counsel should have particular regard to any changes or developments in the law since the case had been submitted and any errors of fact or law appearing in the decision that may be corrected by reference to the record.

35. The duties of the counsel representing the client on direct appeal ordinarily include filing a petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States. If appellate counsel does not intend to file such a petition, he or she should immediately notify the capital coordinator and the state public defender. In developing, drafting and filing a petition for certiorari, appellate counsel should consult with counsel with particular expertise and experience in litigating applications for certiorari before the United States Supreme Court.

36. In preparing and filing a petition for certiorari, counsel should consider the benefit to the client of the support of amici and seek appropriate support where it is in the client's interests.

37. Appellate counsel should be familiar with the procedure for setting execution dates and providing notice of them. Counsel should also be thoroughly familiar with all available procedures for seeking a stay of execution. If an execution date is set, counsel should immediately take all appropriate steps to secure a stay of execution and pursue those efforts through all available fora.

38. In the event that the client's appeal to the Louisiana Supreme Court and application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court are unsuccessful, appellate counsel shall advise the client of: his or her right to seek state post-conviction relief and federal habeas corpus relief; the one-year statute of limitations for the filing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court; the procedure and effect of filing of a petition for post-conviction relief in the state trial court to raise new claims and to exhaust any federal constitutional issues for federal habeas review; and, the procedure for assignment of counsel to represent the client in post-conviction proceedings.

39. Appellate counsel shall, with the client's consent, continue to represent the client for the limited purpose of preserving the client's interests in his state post-conviction, federal habeas corpus and clemency proceedings pending the assignment of post-conviction counsel. Counsel shall carefully explain the limited scope of this representation to the client and provide advice of this limited scope in writing when obtaining the client's consent.

40. Counsel should be aware of the statute of limitations for filing a petition for writ of habeas corpus in federal court, and should file pleadings in state court so as to allow adequate time for preparation and filing of such a petition if state post-conviction relief is denied.

41. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, capital case direct appeal review form, and other information pertinent to post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

§1921. Performance Standard 10: State Post-Conviction and Clemency

A. Duties of Post-Conviction Counsel

1. Post-conviction counsel should comply with the capital guidelines, and these performance standards, except where clearly inapplicable to the representation of the client in the post-conviction period of the case, including the obligations to:

a. maintain close contact with the client regarding litigation developments;

b. continually monitor the client's mental, physical and emotional condition for effects on the client's legal position;

c. keep under continuing review the desirability of modifying prior counsel's theory of the case in light of subsequent developments;

d. take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition; and

e. continue an aggressive investigation of all aspects of the case.

2. Post-conviction counsel should be familiar with all state and federal appellate and post-conviction options available to the client, and should consider how any tactical decision might affect later options.

3. Post-conviction counsel should monitor and remain informed of legal developments that may be relevant to the persuasive representation of claims in state post-conviction proceedings, in federal habeas corpus proceedings and in any application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court as well as the preservation of claims for subsequent review in state and federal proceedings and international legal fora.

a. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in and be aware of current legal claims pending in relevant cases in front of the Louisiana Supreme Court, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

b. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in Louisiana's Courts of Appeal including splits between the circuit courts of appeal.

c. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the superior courts of other states, particularly in the interpretation and application of federal constitutional law.

d. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the federal courts of appeal, including splits between circuit courts of appeal.

e. Counsel should monitor relevant developments in international law.

4. Counsel should explain to the client counsel's role, how counsel was appointed to the case, and the meaning and goals of post-conviction and federal habeas corpus proceedings, and counsel should encourage the client to participate in the collateral review process.

5. Counsel shall consult with the client on the matters to be raised in any post-conviction petition or federal application for habeas corpus and give genuine consideration to any issue the client wishes to raise. What claims to raise, and how to raise them, are generally matters entrusted to the discretion of counsel. When counsel decides not to argue all of the issues that his or her client desires to be argued, counsel should inform the client of that decision, of the reasons for the decision, and of his or her right to file a pro se brief.

6. Post-conviction counsel should obtain and review a complete record of all proceedings relevant to the case including the appellate record, the district court file, any file in the court of appeal or Supreme Court, and the files in any other related or prior proceedings in the cause.

7. Post-conviction counsel should obtain and review all prior counsels' file(s). Post-conviction counsel should retain and preserve prior counsel's files as far as possible in the condition in which they were received until transmitted to successor counsel.

8. Post-conviction counsel should ensure that the record of proceedings available for review is complete. If any item is necessary to post-conviction review but is not included in the record of proceedings, it is post-conviction counsel's responsibility to ensure that the record available for review is supplemented.

9. Post-conviction counsel should interview the client and previous defense team members about the case, including any relevant matters that do not appear in the record. Post-conviction counsel should consider whether any potential off-record matters should have an impact on how post-conviction review is pursued, and what kind of an investigation of the matter is warranted.

10. Post-conviction counsel should seek to investigate and litigate all issues, whether or not previously presented, that are arguably meritorious under the standards applicable to high quality capital defense representation, including challenges to any overly restrictive procedural rules and any good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law. Counsel should undertake a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation and should not assume that investigation of issues by prior counsel has been complete or adequate.

11. The investigation and litigation of claims should encompass all arguably available claims for relief, including those based upon the grounds that:

a. the defendant is in custody or the sentence was imposed in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States;

b. the execution of the defendant would violate the Constitution, laws or treaties of the United States or the Constitution or laws of the state of Louisiana;

c. the conviction was obtained in violation of the constitution of the state of Louisiana;

d. the sentence was obtained in violation of the constitution of the state of Louisiana or is otherwise an illegal sentence;

e. the court exceeded its jurisdiction;

f. the conviction or sentence subjected the defendant to double jeopardy;

g. the limitations on the institution of prosecution had expired;

h. the statute creating the offense for which the defendant was convicted and sentenced is unconstitutional;

i. the conviction or sentence constitute the ex post facto application of law in violation of the constitution of the United States or the state of Louisiana;

j. the results of DNA testing performed pursuant to an application granted under La. C. Cr. P. art. 926.1 proves that the petitioner is factually innocent of the crime for which he was convicted; or

k. the defendant is otherwise shown to be factually innocent of the crime for which he was convicted or not eligible for the death penalty.

12. In conducting the investigation, counsel should have particular regard to the possibility that claims for relief may arise from matters not previously fully investigated or litigated, including:

a. the possibility that the state failed to turn over evidence favorable to the defendant and material to his guilt or punishment;

b. the possibility that the state knowingly used false testimony to secure the conviction or sentence;

c. the possibility that the client received ineffective assistance of counsel as to either guilt or penalty in the course of his representation in the trial court or on appeal;

d. the possibility that the jury's verdict is tainted by issues such as jury misconduct, improper separation of the jury, and false answers on voir dire examination; and,

e. the possibility that the client is innocent of the offense charged or not eligible for the death penalty.

13. In investigating the possibility that the client received ineffective assistance of counsel, post-conviction counsel must review both the record in the case and also conduct a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances beyond the record in order to determine whether a claim exists that counsel's performance was deficient. As these Standards are intended to reflect accepted minimum standards for performance in capital cases, in determining the scope of the investigation to be conducted, post-conviction counsel shall have regard to these Standards as they describe the responsibilities of trial and appellate counsel. Post-conviction counsel shall conduct a sufficiently thorough investigation to determine either that prior counsel's responsibilities were met or to determine the extent of any prejudice arising from the failure to meet those responsibilities.

14. In investigating and developing claims of ineffective assistance of counsel or the suppression of favorable evidence, counsel shall be conscious that evidence will be assessed for its cumulative impact and so should not limit the investigation to those matters that might, in and of themselves, justify relief. Instead, the investigation should extend to those matters which, in combination with others, may justify relief.

15. In investigating, preparing and submitting a petition, counsel should seek such pre-filing discovery, compulsory process, requests for admissions, depositions and other orders as are available and appropriate to a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation. Counsel should investigate the possibility of and, where appropriate, file an application for DNA testing pursuant to La. C.Cr.P. art. 926.1.

16. Counsel should make every professionally appropriate effort to present issues in a manner that will preserve them for subsequent review. Claims raised should include federal constitutional claims which, in the event that relief is denied, could form the basis for a successful petition for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court or for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal district court. Where pending claims in another case may be resolved in a manner that would benefit the client, counsel should ensure that the relevant issues are preserved and presented for review in the client's case and, where appropriate, counsel should seek to keep the client's post-conviction proceedings open pending the determination of the other case.

17. Petitions and supporting memoranda shall conform to all rules of court, including Supreme Court Rule XXVII and shall have a professional appearance, conform to acceptable rules of grammar, be free from typographical errors and misspellings, shall advance argument and cite legal authority in support of each contention. Counsel shall utilize out-of-state and federal authority in support of positions when no local authority exists or local authority is contrary to the weight of recent decisions from other jurisdictions. Regardless of the existence of local authority, federal authority should also be relied upon to present and preserve for later review any federal constitutional claims, particularly any applicable decision of the United States Supreme Court.

18. Counsel should be scrupulously accurate in referring to the record and the authorities upon which counsel relies.

19. The post-conviction petition should clearly allege a factual basis for each claim which, if established, would entitle the petitioner to relief and clearly allege all facts supporting the claims in the petition. Counsel shall include with the petition all documents and exhibits that would establish or support the factual basis of the petitioner's claims, including but not limited to court records, transcripts, depositions, admissions of fact, affidavits, statements, reports and other records. In determining the scope of the material to be presented in state court, counsel shall have regard to the likelihood that federal review will be limited to the material presented in state court and so should not refrain from presenting any relevant material unless there are strong strategic reasons to do so.

20. Where counsel raises a claim that has previously been fully litigated in earlier appeal proceedings in the case, counsel shall fully investigate, prepare and submit an argument that the claim is nevertheless eligible for consideration in the interests of justice.

21. Where counsel raises a claim that was not raised in the proceedings leading to conviction or sentence, was not pursued on appeal or was not included in a prior post-conviction petition, counsel shall fully investigate, prepare and submit a claim that the failure to previously raise the claim is excusable.

22. The identification and selection of issues is the responsibility of lead counsel. Lead counsel shall adopt procedures for providing an "issues meeting" between the attorneys handling the case and other relevantly qualified attorneys, including at least one qualified as lead post-conviction counsel, at which the issues raised in the case and the defense theory in post-conviction can be discussed. The issues meeting will ordinarily be conducted in the course of a case review meeting under these standards but where this is not possible, the issues meeting should be conducted independently of the case review.

23. Counsel should complete a full review of the records of relevant proceedings, trial counsels' files and the fruits of the post-conviction investigation prior to completing a draft of the petition. Lead counsel shall adopt a procedure for screening the petition, which should include a careful review of the brief by an attorney not involved in drafting the pleading. The reviewing attorney should be qualified as lead post-conviction counsel.

24. The review of the records and files should be completed a sufficient time before the filing deadline to allow for the issues meeting, the drafting of the petition, the review of the petition and the finalization of the petition. If post-conviction counsel is unable to complete the post-conviction investigation and prepare the petition within the existing briefing schedule in a manner consistent with these standards and with high quality post-conviction representation, it is counsel's responsibility to file a motion to extend the filing deadline.

25. Counsel shall be diligent in expediting the timely submission of the post-conviction petition and shall take all steps necessary to reduce delays and time necessary for the processing of petitions which adversely affect the client.

26. Where counsel is unable to provide high quality representation in post-conviction proceedings in a particular case, counsel must promptly bring this deficiency to the attention of the capital case supervisor and the capital case coordinator. If the deficiency cannot be remedied then counsel must bring the matter to the attention of the court and seek the relief appropriate to protect the interests of the client. Counsel may be unable to provide high quality representation due to a range of factors: lack of resources, insufficient time, excessive workload, poor health or other personal considerations, inadequate skill or experience etc.

27. Counsel should be aware of the statute of limitations for filing a petition for writ of habeas corpus in federal court, and should file pleadings in state court so as to allow adequate time for preparation and filing of such a petition if state post-conviction relief is denied.

28. Where the state files procedural objections or an answer on the merits, counsel should file a response rebutting legal and factual arguments made by the state. The response brief should not simply repeat the contents of the original petition but should respond directly to the contentions of the state and any issues arising from the state's filing. Where appropriate, counsel should file a supplemental petition or briefing, seeking leave to do so if required.

29. Counsel should seek such discovery, compulsory process, requests for admissions, depositions and other orders as are available and appropriate to the full development and presentation of all claims in the petition and should document the denial of any such attempts to secure facts in support of possible claims.

30. Counsel should request an evidentiary hearing for all claims in which the state does not clearly admit the factual allegations contained in the petition and seek to prove by admissible evidence those factual allegations that support or establish the client's claims for relief.

31. Where counsel is considering seeking an evidentiary hearing, counsel should undertake a full factual investigation of the issue for which the hearing would be sought so that the decision as to whether to seek a hearing may be made in light of the evidence that might be adduced at such a hearing. Where counsel does seek an evidentiary hearing, counsel should ensure that adequate investigation and preparation has been undertaken to allow counsel to promptly litigate the matter if an evidentiary hearing is granted.

32. Following any evidentiary hearing, counsel should file supplemental briefing demonstrating the client's entitlement to relief based upon the petition filed and the evidence adduced at the hearing.

33. Counsel should timely make application for supervisory writs if the trial court dismisses the petition or otherwise denies relief on an application for post-conviction relief. Counsel should take great care to ensure that all writ applications comply with the requirements of the relevant rules of court and present all claims in a manner that will meet the exhaustion requirements applicable in federal habeas corpus proceedings. Counsel should ensure that an adequate record is created in the trial court to justify and encourage the exercise of the supervisory jurisdiction of the reviewing court. Counsel should respond to any state application for supervisory writs or appeal except where exceptional circumstances justify the choice not to respond.

34. A lack of adequate time, resources or expertise is not an adequate reason for failing to make application for supervisory writs or failing to respond to a state application. Where counsel lacks adequate time, resources or expertise, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the defense team has sufficient time, resources and expertise, including advising the capital case supervisor of the situation and seeking assignment of additional counsel. Counsel shall ensure that the role of lack of time or resources upon the decision to file a writ application is reflected in the record.

35. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of the decision of the trial court and any reviewing court in the client's case and shall promptly transmit to the client a copy of the decision. Counsel should accurately inform the client of the courses of action which may be pursued as a result of the decision.

36. The duties of the counsel representing the client in state post-conviction proceedings include filing a petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States. If post-conviction counsel does not intend to file such a petition, he or she should immediately notify the capital coordinator and the state public defender.

37. In preparing and filing a petition for certiorari, counsel should consider the benefit to the client of the support of amici and seek appropriate support where it is in the client's interests.

38. Post-conviction counsel should be familiar with the procedure for setting execution dates and providing notice of them. Counsel should also be thoroughly familiar with all available procedures for seeking a stay of execution. If an execution date is set, counsel should immediately take all appropriate steps to secure a stay of execution and pursue those efforts through all available fora.

39. In the event that the client's state post-conviction application is unsuccessful, post-conviction counsel shall advise the client of: his right to seek federal habeas corpus relief; the one-year statute of limitations for the filing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court; and, the procedure for assignment of counsel to represent the client in federal habeas corpus proceedings. Having regard to tolling, counsel shall advise the client of the actual period of time that will be remaining for filing a federal petition upon finalization of the state post-conviction proceedings. Counsel shall provide such advice a sufficient period prior to the finalization of state post-conviction proceedings to allow the client to take adequate steps to protect his rights to federal review.

40. Counsel shall promptly inform the capital case coordinator of the disposition in any capital post-conviction case.

41. Counsel shall take all necessary steps to preserve the client's right to federal review, including ensuring that the client is not time barred from seeking relief. Post-conviction counsel shall be responsible for protecting the client's interests in this regard, including ensuring that a federal petition is filed while state post-conviction proceedings remain pending where the time remaining for filing a federal petition following finalization of the state post-conviction proceedings will be inadequate to allow a timely filing at that time.

42. State post-conviction counsel may continue to represent the client in his federal habeas corpus proceedings only with the consent of the capital case coordinator and the informed consent of the client. Adequate representation in federal habeas corpus proceedings will include an investigation of whether state post-conviction counsel provided ineffective assistance in failing to adequately raise a meritorious claim of ineffective assistance of trial or appellate counsel. Just as trial counsel is poorly placed to investigate or litigate his or her own ineffectiveness, state post-conviction counsel may be similarly limited. In these circumstances, the capital case coordinator should not ordinarily consent to continuing representation by state post-conviction counsel in the absence of: informed consent from the client obtained through independent counsel; and, the assignment to the defense team of at least one attorney qualified and experienced in federal habeas corpus proceedings in capital cases who was not involved in the preparation and presentation of the state post-conviction petition.

43. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, and other information pertinent to post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

44. Counsel should closely monitor the client's competence in post-conviction proceedings, having regard to the requirement that the client be sufficiently competent to be lawfully executed and should investigate and litigate this issue where it is possible that the client does not meet the necessary degree of competence.

B. Duties of Clemency Counsel

1. Clemency counsel should be familiar with the procedures for and permissible substantive content of a request for clemency.

2. Clemency counsel should conduct an investigation of matters relevant to clemency consistent with these standards and should not assume that the investigation conducted by prior counsel was complete or adequate.

3. Clemency counsel should ensure that clemency is sought in as timely and persuasive a manner as possible, tailoring the presentation to the characteristics of the particular client, case and jurisdiction.

4. Clemency counsel should ensure that the process governing consideration of the client's application is substantively and procedurally just, and, if it is not, should seek appropriate redress.

5. Clemency counsel should fully discharge the ongoing obligations imposed by the guidelines, and standards including the obligations to:

- a. maintain close contact with the client regarding litigation developments;
- b. continually monitor the client's mental, physical and emotional condition for effects on the client's legal position;
- c. keep under continuing review the desirability of modifying prior counsel's theory of the case in light of subsequent developments; and
- d. continue an aggressive investigation of all aspects of the case.

§1923. Performance Standard 11: Supervision, Review and Consultation

A. Supervision of the Defense Team

1. Primary responsibility for the supervision of the defense team and the team's compliance with these standards and the guidelines rests with lead counsel. Lead counsel shall establish a system for communication, feedback and supervision of the defense team that shall ensure that the team provides high quality representation and that any deficiencies in compliance with the guidelines or standards are promptly identified and remedied. Lead counsel should ensure that all team members are aware of their obligations under the guidelines and performance standards.

2. Primary responsibility for the supervision of experts rests with lead counsel, though this responsibility may be delegated to other counsel who are more directly responsible for working with a particular expert. Counsel supervising an expert shall ensure that appropriate funding is secured and maintained for the expert's services, that the expert performs the requested services in a timely fashion and to a high quality and that the expert's services are promptly invoiced and paid. By submitting an expert's invoice to the office of the state defender for payment, counsel certifies that the work performed was reasonably necessary and that it was completed to an appropriate standard.

3. The case supervisor is responsible for monitoring the correct, effective and appropriate implementation of the capital guidelines and performance standards in each case. In contrast to the responsibilities of lead counsel to make strategic decisions in the case, this is an administrative level of supervision designed to ensure that the team is assembled and is functioning in accordance with the guidelines and standards. The case supervisor shall be certified as lead counsel and shall have a comprehensive knowledge of the requirements of the capital guidelines and performance standards. The case supervisor shall not be a staff member in the same office as members of the defense team or district defender of the district responsible for the case.

4. The case supervisor for each case shall meet with the defense team no less than once every three months and provide a quarterly report to the capital case coordinator in the form provided, advising of the extent to which the team and its representation are in compliance with the guidelines and standards.

5. The case supervisor is a lawyer engaged to consult with counsel on the defense team within lawyer-client privilege to assist in ensuring that each client is receiving high quality representation in compliance with the capital guidelines and performance standards. The case supervisor does not, by virtue of being case supervisor, have the authority to act on behalf of the defendant or to direct members of the defense team to take any action or refrain from taking any action. The case supervisor may make recommendations to the defense team, resolve workload questions pursuant to guideline §919 and report non-compliance with the guidelines to the district public defender and state public defender. All members of the defense team shall cooperate with the case supervisor and provide access to the case file and case theory documents as requested.

6. The state defender, district defender or director of a defender organization having an employment or contractual relationship with counsel on a defense team may exercise such supervisory and regulatory authority as is consistent with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct and provided for within that employment or contractual relationship. However, it shall remain at all times the responsibility of individual counsel to ensure that representation is provided in accordance with the capital guidelines and performance standards.

7. The capital case coordinator shall have responsibility for monitoring the performance of counsel and defender organizations providing capital representation in the state and reporting to the state defender. In performing this supervisory role, the capital case coordinator shall have particular regard to: the capital guidelines and performance standards; applications for certification and re-certification of counsel; quarterly reports submitted by case supervisors; requests for expert assistance by counsel; briefings from counsel following the closure of cases; findings and recommendations of case review committees formed under guideline §921(C); case observation; and other reliable sources of information.

8. Where the capital case coordinator becomes aware that a defense team is not providing representation consistent with these guidelines and associated performance standards, the capital case coordinator, shall take necessary action to protect the interests of the attorney's current and potential clients.

B. Case Review Meetings, Consulting Counsel and Practice Advisories

1. In order to ensure high quality legal representation in each case, identify any problems in the case in a timely fashion, develop the knowledge and skill of capital defenders and build the capacity of the indigent capital defense community in this state, representation in each case should include the use of case review meetings.

2. Case review meetings are meetings facilitated by a professional external to the team. Case review meetings will include the whole defense team, the facilitator and a diverse group of appropriately qualified professionals external to the team (both lawyers and non-lawyers). The case review meeting will involve a systematic and comprehensive review of the case and the representation appropriate to the stage of proceedings and preparation of the case. The case review meeting will involve a structured dialogue and critical thinking designed to empower the defense team and is not designed as a mechanism for assessing the performance of the defense team or its members. The case review meeting will produce a list of concrete commitments from the defense team arising from the discussions in the case review meeting.

3. The documents prepared for each case review meeting, the minutes of the case review meeting and the commitments arising from each case review meeting shall be maintained by counsel in the relevant case file and shall be available for review by the case supervisor.

4. At each stage of representation in a case (trial, appellate and post-conviction) there should ordinarily be a minimum of three case review meetings conducted. Case review meetings will ordinarily be conducted: early in the assignment of the case (to ensure the team has been properly assembled, is adequately resourced and has an appropriate plan for advancing representation in the case); once substantial work on the case has been commenced (to ensure that the work is proceeding appropriately, to provide feedback on the defense theory, to provide input on investigative and litigation planning and to respond to particular issues that have developed in the case); and, as the case is approaching the culmination of the work at the particular stage of representation (to ensure that the case is ready to proceed, to provide feedback on the planned execution of the case theory that has been developed and to troubleshoot any final issues that have arisen).

5. Facilitators for case reviews conducted pursuant to these standards shall be approved by the capital case coordinator.

6. In addition to counsel assigned as a part of the defense team and the case supervisor, counsel should consult with and take advantage of the skills and experience of other certified capital defenders. The state defender may require as a condition of provisional certification that counsel consult with other counsel designated by the state defender. Counsel may consult on a specific issue or issues, or may consult in an ongoing fashion with the defense team.

7. Counsel consulting on a case is acting within lawyer-client privilege and should maintain confidentiality accordingly.

8. Counsel consulting with a defense team should ensure that their work as a consulting counsel and any advice provided is fully documented. In order to ensure the accuracy of any advice provided, consulting counsel should seek to reduce that advice to writing, including a notation of the issue presented and the factual or legal assumptions that underpin the advice. This requirement is not intended to require consulting counsel to provide briefing on the basis of any advice or otherwise increase the scope of the responsibility of counsel consulting on the case but instead to ensure that such advice as is given is reduced to writing to avoid the miscommunications inherent in oral communication.

9. In order to assist capital defenders in the performance of their duties, the capital case coordinator may from time to time issue practice advisories. These practice advisories shall not have the status or effect of rules promulgated by the Louisiana Public Defender Board. The practice advisories represent the opinion of the office of the state public defender as to best practices and are intended to provide a timely and flexible way to provide expert advice to the field on specific or emerging areas in capital defense.

10. Before a practice advisory may be issued, it must be approved by an advisory committee of no less than four members including counsel actively engaged in capital defense at trial, appellate and post-conviction level. No practice advisory shall be issued without the approval of the state public defender.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

Chapter 21. Performance Standards for Attorneys Representing Juveniles in Life without Parole Cases

§2101. Purpose

A. The standards are intended to encourage district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel to perform to a high standard of representation and to promote professionalism in the representation of juveniles facing a possible sentence of life without parole or serving a sentence of life without parole. For the purpose of these standards, pursuant to Roper v. Simmons, Graham v. Florida and Miller v. Alabama, the term juvenile includes any individual who was under the age of 18 at the time of the alleged offense.

B. The standards are also intended to alert defense counsel to courses of action that may be necessary, advisable, or appropriate, and thereby to assist attorneys in deciding upon the particular actions to be taken in each case to ensure that the client receives the best representation possible. The standards are further intended to provide a measure by which the performance of district public defenders, assistant public defenders and appointed counsel may be evaluated, including guidelines for proper documentation of files to demonstrate adherence to the standards, and to assist in training and supervising attorneys.

C. The language of these standards is general, implying flexibility of action that is appropriate to the situation. In those instances where a particular action is absolutely essential to providing quality representation, the standards use the word “shall.” In those instances where a particular action is usually necessary to providing quality representation, the standards use the word “should.” Even where the standards use the word “shall,” in certain situations, the lawyer’s best informed professional judgment and discretion may indicate otherwise.

D. These standards are intended to adopt and apply the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, Louisiana Public Defender Board (LPDB) Performance Standards for Criminal Defense Representation in Indigent Capital Cases, LPDB Capital Defense Guidelines, LPDB Trial Court Performance Standards for Delinquency Representation, the Campaign for the Fair Sentencing of Youth (CFSY) Trial Defense Guidelines for Representing a Child Client Facing a Possible Life Sentence, the guidelines for capital defense set out by the American Bar Association’s Guidelines for the Appointment and Performance of Defense Counsel in Death Penalty Cases, its associated commentary and the Supplementary Guidelines for the Mitigation Function of Defense Teams in Death Penalty Cases. In these standards, the ABA guidelines have been adapted and applied to meet the specific needs and legal requirements applicable to lawyers representing juveniles facing a possible sentence of life without parole in Louisiana while seeking to give effect to the intention and spirit of the ABA guidelines.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1915 (October 2017).

§2103. Obligations of Defense Counsel

A. Since the representation of children facing a possible sentence of life without parole in adult court is a highly specialized area of legal practice, defense counsel should make extraordinary efforts on behalf of his or her client to ensure that trial proceedings “take into account how children are different, and how those differences counsel against irrevocably sentencing [children] to a lifetime in prison” [Miller v. Alabama, 132 S. Ct. 2455, 2469 (2012)] and that “[s]entences imposed without parole eligibility [are] reserved for the worst offenders and worst cases” [La. C.Cr.P. art. 878.1].

B. The primary and most fundamental obligation of the attorney representing a child facing a possible sentence of life without parole in adult court is to provide zealous and effective representation for his or her client at all stages of the process. The defense attorney’s duty and responsibility is to promote and protect the expressed interests of the child. Attorneys also have an obligation to uphold the ethical standards of the Louisiana rules of professional conduct, to act in accordance with the Louisiana rules of court, and to properly document case files to reflect adherence to these standards.

C. To ensure the preservation, protection and promotion of the client’s rights and interests, counsel should:

1. be proficient in the applicable state, federal, and international law substantive and procedural governing juvenile transfer, prosecution of juveniles in adult court, mitigation, sentencing, appeals, and state and federal post-conviction relief;
2. acquire and maintain appropriate experience, skills and training;
3. devote adequate time and resources to the case;
4. ensure that the defense team is appropriately staffed in accordance with these standards (see performance standard 2105, training and experience of defense counsel; performance standard 2107, resources and caseloads; and performance standard 2115, assembling the defense team);
5. engage in the preparation necessary for high quality representation;
6. endeavor to establish and maintain a relationship of trust and open communication with the client;
7. make accommodations where necessary due to a client’s special circumstances, including but not limited to age and its attendant circumstances, incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, cultural differences, and/or circumstances of incarceration.

D. Counsel assigned in any case in which the client is a juvenile and life without parole (LWOP) is a possible punishment should, even if the prosecutor has not transferred the case to adult court and/or has not indicated that LWOP will be sought, begin preparation for the case as one in which LWOP will be sought while employing strategies to avoid transfer and/or have the case designated as non-LWOP. Even if the case has not been filed as an LWOP case, if there exists a reasonable possibility to believe that the case could be amended to an LWOP charge, counsel should be guided by these standards. In considering whether there is any reason to believe that the case could be amended, counsel should have regard to the nature of the allegations, the practice of the local prosecuting agency, statements by law enforcement and prosecutors, media and public sentiment and any political factors that may impact the charging decision.

E. The attorney who provides legal services for a juvenile owes the same duties of undivided loyalty, confidentiality and zealous representation to the child client as is due to an adult client. The attorney's personal opinion of the child's guilt is not relevant to the defense of the case.

F. A child facing LWOP retains all decision-making authority granted to an adult client. The client's rights to make important decisions is not diminished by the client's status as a child (see perf. standard 2113, allocation of authority between counsel and client).

G. The attorney should communicate with the child in a trauma-informed and developmentally and age-appropriate manner that will be effective, considering the child's maturity, intellectual ability, language, educational level, special education needs, cultural background, gender, and physical, mental and emotional health. If appropriate, the attorney should file a motion for funding to hire a foreign language or sign language interpreter to be present at the initial interview, all subsequent interviews and at all stages of the proceedings.

§2105. Training and Experience of Defense Counsel

A. Before agreeing to defend a juvenile facing a possible life without parole sentence in adult court, an attorney has an obligation to make sure that he or she has sufficient time, resources, knowledge and experience to offer zealous and high quality legal representation.

B. Counsel should have a mastery of any substantive criminal law and laws of juvenile and criminal procedure that may be relevant to counsel's representation, including ethical obligations for juvenile representation, adolescent development, juvenile transfer, obligations for juvenile representation in adult court (including these standards), mitigation, the process for sentencing juveniles facing life without parole, appeals and state and federal post-conviction. Counsel should also be familiar with the prevailing customs or practices of the relevant court and the policies and practices of the prosecuting agency.

C. Prior to representing a juvenile facing a possible life without parole sentence, at a minimum, counsel should have sufficient experience or training to provide high quality representation.

1. At least one attorney must have specialized training and relevant substantive experience representing child clients and shall annually complete at least six hours of training relevant to the representation of juveniles. In particular, at least one attorney must have experience interviewing and communicating with child clients in a trauma-informed and developmentally and age-appropriate manner. Additional training may include, but is not limited to:

a. adolescent mental health diagnoses and treatment, including the use of psychotropic medications;

b. how to read a psychological or psychiatric evaluation and how to use these in motions, including but not limited to, those involving issues of consent and competency relating to Miranda warnings, searches and waivers;

c. normal childhood development (including brain development), developmental delays and intellectual disability;

d. educational rights, including special educational rights and services and how to access and interpret school records and how to use them in motions, including but not limited to, those related to consent and competency issues;

e. immigration issues regarding children;

f. gang involvement and activity;

g. factors leading children to delinquent behavior.

2. At least one attorney must have specialized training and relevant substantive experience representing individuals charged with homicide offenses in adult court, including, but not limited to, the investigation and presentation of sentencing mitigation. When possible, one attorney should have experience investigating and presenting death penalty mitigation at a capital sentencing hearing. Additional training may include, but is not limited to:

a. identifying, documenting and interpreting symptoms of mental and behavioral impairment, including cognitive deficits, mental illness, developmental disability, neurological deficits;

b. long-term consequences of deprivation, neglect and maltreatment during developmental years;

c. social, cultural, historical, political, religious, racial, environmental and ethnic influences on behavior;

d. effects of substance abuse;

e. the presence, severity and consequences of exposure to trauma;

f. sensitivity to issues of sexual orientation and gender identity;

g. identifying, developing and documenting institutional mitigation.

D. If, after being assigned a case, counsel finds that the case involves particular issues or procedures in which counsel does not have the experience or training necessary to provide high quality legal representation, counsel should acquire the necessary knowledge or skills or request resources for another attorney to provide such services.

E. In providing high quality representation, counsel should consult with and take advantage of the skills and experience of other members of the criminal defense community, juvenile defenders and certified capital defenders.

F. Defense counsel should complete a comprehensive training program in the defense of juvenile life without parole cases as required by these guidelines. Counsel should, on an ongoing basis, attend and successfully complete specialized training programs in the defense of juveniles facing life without parole sentences. In addition to specific training, counsel should stay abreast of changes and developments in the law and other matters relevant to the defense of juveniles facing life without parole sentences.

G. As a component of acquiring and maintaining adequate training, counsel should consult with other attorneys to acquire knowledge and familiarity with all facets of criminal representation, including information about practices of judges, prosecutors, and other court personnel. More experienced counsel should offer to mentor less experienced attorneys.

H. If personal matters make it impossible for defense counsel to fulfill the duty of zealous representation, he or she has a duty to refrain from representing the client. If it later appears that counsel is unable to offer effective representation in the case, counsel should move to withdraw.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1916 (October 2017).

§2107. Resources and Caseloads

A. Counsel should not accept assignment to represent a juvenile facing life without parole unless he or she has available sufficient resources to offer high quality legal representation to the client in the particular matter, including adequate funding, investigative services, mitigation services, support staff, office space, equipment, research tools and access to expert assistance.

B. In assessing whether counsel has sufficient resources to accept an appointment, counsel should adhere to these standards as well as the case load standards set out by the Public Defender Board.

C. If, after being assigned a case, counsel discovers that he or she does not have available sufficient resources, then counsel should demand on behalf of the client all resources necessary to provide high quality legal representation. Counsel should seek necessary resources from all available sources, including litigating for those resources or for appropriate relief should the resources not be made available. Counsel should document in the file the resources he or she believes are needed and any attempts to obtain those resources. Counsel should create an adequate record in court to allow a full review of the denial of necessary resources or the failure to provide appropriate relief. Counsel should consider appropriate case law and ethical standards in deciding whether to move to withdraw or take other appropriate action.

D. Counsel should maintain compliance with all applicable caseload and workload standards. When counsel's workload is such that counsel is unable to provide each client with high quality legal representation in accordance with these performance standards, counsel should exhaust all avenues for reasonable resolution. If the excessive workload issue is not resolved, counsel should move to withdraw from the case or cases in which representation of a juvenile facing life without parole in compliance with these performance standards cannot be provided.

E. Counsel should never give preference to retained clients over indigent clients and should give priority to Miller cases over other cases.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1917 (October 2017).

§2109. Professionalism

A. Counsel has an obligation to ensure that the case file is properly documented to demonstrate adherence to these standards. Counsel's file relating to a representation includes both paper and electronic documents as well as physical objects, electronic data and audio-visual materials. Counsel's file should be maintained in a fashion that will allow counsel to provide high quality representation to the client and allow successor counsel to clearly and accurately identify the work performed, the tactical decisions made, the materials obtained, the source from which materials and information were obtained and the work product generated in the representation. Counsel should clearly document work performed, including analysis of file materials, in such a way that other team members and successor counsel may take advantage of the work performed and avoid unnecessary duplication of effort.

B. Counsel should act with reasonable diligence and promptness in representing the client. Counsel should be prompt for all court appearances and appointments and, in the submission of all motions, briefs, and other papers. Counsel should ensure that all court filings are proofread and edited to protect the client's rights from being forfeited due to error. Counsel should be present, alert and focused on the client's best interests during all critical stages of the proceedings.

C. Counsel's obligation to provide high quality representation to the client continues until counsel formally withdraws or an order relieving counsel becomes final. Unless required to do so by law or the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, counsel should not withdraw from a case until successor counsel has enrolled. Counsel who withdraws or is relieved should take all steps necessary to ensure that the client's rights and interests are adequately protected during any transfer of responsibility in the case. Such steps should include ensuring compliance with any filing or other deadlines in the case and ensuring the collection or preservation of any evidence that may cease to be available if investigation were delayed.

D. All persons who are or have been members of the defense team have a continuing duty to safeguard the interests of the client and should cooperate fully with successor counsel. This duty includes, but is not limited to:

1. maintaining the records of the case in a manner that will inform successor counsel of all significant developments relevant to the representation and any litigation;
2. promptly providing the client's files, as well as information regarding all aspects of the representation, to successor counsel;
3. sharing potential further areas of investigation and litigation with successor counsel; and
4. cooperating with such professionally appropriate legal strategies as may be chosen by successor counsel.

E. Where counsel enrolls in a case in which other counsel have previously provided representation, counsel should take all steps necessary to ensure the client's rights and interests are fully protected during any transfer or reallocation of responsibility in the case. Counsel should seek to interview all persons who are or have been members of the defense team with an aim to:

1. promptly obtaining the client's files or a copy of the files, as well as information regarding all aspects of the representation;
2. discovering potential further areas of investigation and litigation; and
3. facilitating cooperation from current and former defense team members in order to coordinate professionally appropriate legal strategies.

F. Current and former counsel should maintain the confidences of the client and assert all available privileges to protect the confidentiality of work product and communications with the client. Where disclosure of privileged or confidential information is strictly necessary in carrying out the representation, such disclosures should be limited to those necessary to advance the interests of the client and should be made in circumstances that limit the extent of any waiver of privilege or confidentiality.

G. Where appropriate counsel may share information with counsel for a co-defendant, and work together with counsel for a co-defendant on investigatory, preparatory and/or strategic matters, but counsel's decisions should always reflect the needs of counsel's client with special consideration for client confidentiality. Counsel should never abdicate the client's defense to a co-defendant's counsel. Counsel should maintain full control of all decisions affecting the client. Counsel should consider whether it is appropriate to enter a formal joint defense agreement with one or more co-defendants.

H. Counsel and defense team members should provide full and honest cooperation with successor counsel undertaking the investigation and preparation of a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. In providing honest cooperation, counsel should be alert to and avoid any improper influence arising from a desire to assist the client or to protect him or herself.

I. Where counsel is the subject of a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, he or she should not disclose any confidential or privileged information without the client's consent unless and until a court formally determines that privilege has been waived and then only to the extent of any such waiver. The disclosure of confidential or privileged information in such circumstances should be limited to those matters necessary to respond to specific allegations by the client concerning the lawyer's representation of the client. Nothing in this standard shall diminish the responsibility of counsel to cooperate fully with the client and successor counsel nor limit the ability of counsel to communicate confidential or privileged information to the client or his legal representatives within the protection of the lawyer-client relationship.

J. While ensuring compliance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct in relation to extrajudicial statements, counsel should consider the potential benefits and harm of any publicity in deciding whether or not to make a public statement and the content of any such statement. When making written or oral statements in judicial proceedings, counsel should consider the potential benefits and harm likely to arise from the public dissemination of those statements. In responding to adverse publicity, counsel should consider the interests of the client and whether a statement is required to protect the client from the substantial undue prejudicial effect of recent publicity not initiated by the lawyer or the lawyer's client.

K. At each stage and subject to the circumstances of each case, counsel should be mindful of the desirability of treating any victim or other person affected by the crime alleged against the client with respect, dignity and compassion. Counsel should avoid disparaging the victim directly or indirectly unless necessary and appropriate in the circumstances of the particular case. Counsel should undertake victim outreach through an appropriately qualified team member or the use of an expert in defense initiated victim outreach.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1917 (October 2017).

§2111. Conflicts of Interest

A. Counsel should be alert to all potential and actual conflicts of interest that would impair counsel's ability to represent a client. Loyalty and independent judgment are essential elements in the lawyer's relationship to a juvenile client. Conflicts of interest can arise from the lawyer's responsibilities to another client, a former client or a third person, or from the lawyer's own interests. Each potential conflict shall be evaluated with the particular facts and circumstances of the case and the juvenile client in mind. Where appropriate, counsel may be obligated to contact the Office of Disciplinary Counsel to seek an advisory opinion on any potential conflicts.

B. Conflicts of interest experienced by one counsel are relevant to all counsel: the existence of a conflict free lawyer on the defense team does not ameliorate the potential harm caused by a conflict affecting another lawyer on the team. Counsel should have a procedure for identifying conflicts when receiving new assignments and reviewing existing cases for conflicts where there is a relevant change in circumstances. At a minimum, counsel should maintain a conflict index containing the names of current and former clients which should be checked against the name of the client and, where known, the name of the victim(s), the name of any co-defendant(s) and the names of any important witnesses.

C. Where a juvenile life without parole case involves multiple defendants, because of the unique nature of the sentencing hearing, a conflict will be presumed between the defendants and separate representation will be required.

D. The attorney's obligation is to the juvenile client. An attorney should not permit a parent or custodian to direct the representation. The attorney should not share information unless disclosure of such information has been approved by the child. With the child's permission, the attorney should maintain rapport with the child's parent or guardian, but should not allow that rapport to interfere with the attorney's duties to the child or the expressed interests of the child.

E. Conflicts of interest should be promptly resolved in a manner that advances the interests of the client and complies with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

F. If a conflict develops during the course of representation, counsel has a duty to notify the client and, where required, the court in accordance with the rules of the court and the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct. Defense counsel should fully disclose to the client at the earliest feasible opportunity any interest in or connection with the case or any other matter that might be relevant to counsel's continuing representation. Such disclosure should include communication of information reasonably sufficient to permit the client to appreciate the significance of any conflict or potential conflict of interest.

G. Where the client files a motion, complaint or grievance against counsel in regard to the quality of his or her representation, counsel should notify the district defender or the agency responsible for the assignment of counsel to the case.

H. Any waiver of conflict that is obtained should comply with the requirements of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct and should be obtained through and after consultation by the client with independent counsel who has explained:

1. that a conflict of interest exists;
2. the consequences to his defense from continuing with conflict-laden counsel; and
3. that he has a right to obtain other counsel.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1918 (October 2017).

§2113. Allocation of Authority between Counsel and Client

A. The allocation of authority between counsel and the client shall be managed in accordance with the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, having particular regard to rules 1.2, 1.4, 1.14 and 1.16.

B. Counsel serves as the representative of the client and shall abide by the express wishes of the client regarding the objectives of the representation. However, counsel shall provide the client with his or her professional opinions with regard to the objectives of the representation. In counseling the client, counsel shall refer not only to the law but to other considerations such as moral, economic, social and political factors that may be relevant to the client's situation. Counsel may enlist the assistance of others to assist in ensuring that the client is able to make informed decisions. Counsel shall reasonably consult with the client about the means by which the client's objectives are to be accomplished and may take such action as is impliedly authorized by the representation.

C. Counsel shall explain to the client those decisions that ultimately rest with the client and the advantages and disadvantages inherent in these choices. Counsel shall abide by the client's decision, made after meaningful consultation with counsel, as to a plea to be entered, whether to waive jury trial, whether the client will testify and whether to appeal. However, counsel shall not abide by such a decision where the client is incompetent, including where the client is, in the circumstances, incapable of making a rational choice not substantially affected by mental disease, disorder or defect. In such circumstances, counsel should take the steps described in these standards relating to the representation of persons with diminished capacity and the raising of the client's incompetence.

D. Counsel should explain that final decisions concerning trial strategy, after full consultation with the child and after investigation of the applicable facts and law, are ultimately to be made by the attorney. The client should be made aware that the attorney is primarily responsible for deciding what motions to file, which witnesses to call, whether and how to conduct cross-examination, and what other evidence to present. Implicit in the exercise of the attorney's decision-making role in this regard is consideration of the child's input and full disclosure by the attorney to the client of the factors considered by the attorney in making the decision.

E. In order to ensure that consultation with the client is meaningful, counsel should communicate in a trauma-informed and developmentally and age-appropriate manner and make accommodations where necessary due to a client's special circumstances, such as age and its attendant circumstances, incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, cultural differences, and circumstances of incarceration.

F. While counsel is ordinarily responsible for determining the means by which the objectives of representation are to be accomplished, where the client revokes counsel's express or implied authority to take a particular course of action, counsel may not act as the agent of the client without that authority. This will not prevent counsel from taking professionally responsible steps required by these standards but counsel must not purport to be speaking on behalf of or otherwise acting as the agent of the client.

G. Counsel shall not take action he or she knows is inconsistent with the client's objectives of the representation. Counsel may not concede the client's guilt of the offense charged or a lesser included offense without first obtaining the consent of the client.

H. Where counsel and the client disagree as to the means by which the objectives of the representation are to be achieved counsel should consult with the client and seek a mutually agreeable resolution of the dispute. Counsel should utilize other defense team members in his or her efforts to resolve a dispute.

I. Where the client seeks to discharge counsel, every reasonable effort should be made to address the client's grievance with counsel and avoid discharge. Counsel should caution the client as to the possible negative consequences of discharging or attempting to discharge counsel and the likely result if any such attempt. Should the client persist with his desire to discharge counsel, the district defender or responsible agency should be immediately informed and counsel may request a substitution of counsel by the responsible agency. Counsel must move to withdraw when actually discharged by the client.

J. Any withdrawal of counsel, including a substitution of counsel, should occur with the leave of the court. Should the court refuse counsel leave to withdraw, then counsel should continue to represent the defendant.

K. A juvenile client's capacity to make adequately considered decisions in adult court when facing a possible sentence of life without parole may be diminished, whether because of age and its attendant circumstances, mental impairment or for some other reason. Where counsel reasonably believes that the child client has diminished capacity, he or she should:

1. as far as reasonably possible, maintain a normal client-lawyer relationship with the client;

2. if the client is at risk of substantial harm unless action is taken and the client cannot adequately act in his own interests, take reasonably necessary protective action. Such action may include: consulting with family members, using a reconsideration period to permit clarification or improvement of circumstances, using voluntary surrogate decision making tools such as durable powers of attorney or consulting with support groups, professional services, adult-protective agencies or other individuals or entities that have the ability to protect the client. In appropriate cases, counsel may seek the appointment of a fiduciary, including a guardian, curator or tutor, to protect the client's interests;

3. in taking any protective action, be guided by such factors as the wishes and values of the client to the extent known, the client's best interests and the goals of intruding into the client's decision-making autonomy to the least extent feasible, maximizing client capacities and respecting the client's family and social connections.

L. If counsel believes that the client will now or in the future seek to abandon some or all of the mitigation case or waive appellate or post-conviction review, counsel should consider consultation with additional counsel experienced and skilled in this area.

M. The client has a right to view or be provided with copies of documents in counsel's file. Acknowledging the dangers of case related materials being held in custodial facilities, counsel should strongly advise the client against maintaining possession of any case related material. Counsel should provide alternatives to satisfy the client's requests, such as more frequent visits with team members to review relevant documents in a confidential setting, or transferring files to successor counsel. Upon the termination of the representation, the client will ordinarily be entitled to counsel's entire file upon request.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1919 (October 2017).

§2115. Assembling the Defense Team

A. Counsel are to be assigned in accordance with these standards. A minimum of two counsel shall be assigned to each case. Where possible, lead counsel should participate in the decision of who should be assigned as additional counsel. Lead counsel should advocate for the assignment of additional counsel with the skills, experience and resources appropriate to the provision of high quality representation in the case. Lead counsel should have regard to his or her own strengths and weaknesses in recommending the assignment of additional counsel in order to ensure the formation of a defense team capable of providing high quality representation to the client in the particular case.

B. Lead counsel bears overall responsibility for the performance of the defense team, and should allocate, direct, and supervise its work in accordance with these performance standards. Subject to the foregoing, lead counsel may delegate to other members of the defense team duties imposed by these standards, unless the standard specifically imposes the duty on “lead counsel.”

C. As soon as practical after assignment and at all stages of a juvenile life without parole case, lead counsel should assemble a defense team by:

1. requesting at least one additional counsel in accordance with these standards;

2. selecting and making any appropriate staffing, employment or contractual agreements with non-attorney team members in such a way that the defense team includes:

a. at least one mitigation specialist and one fact investigator;

b. at least one member with specialized training and knowledge in adolescent development, including but not limited to, developmental science and other research that informs specific legal questions regarding capacities, responsiveness to treatment and culpability;

c. at least one member with specialized training in identifying, documenting and interpreting symptoms of mental and behavioral impairment in adolescents, including cognitive deficits, mental illness, developmental disability, neurological deficits; long-term consequences of deprivation, neglect and maltreatment during developmental years; social, cultural, historical, political, religious, racial, environmental and ethnic influences on behavior; effects of substance abuse and the presence, severity and consequences of exposure to trauma;

d. individuals possessing the training and ability to obtain, understand and analyze all documentary and anecdotal information relevant to the client’s history;

e. sufficient support staff, such as secretarial, clerical and paralegal support, to ensure that counsel is able to manage the administrative, file management, file review, legal research, court filing, copying, witness management, transportation and other practical tasks necessary to provide high quality representation; and

f. any other members needed to provide high quality legal representation, including people necessary to: reflect the seriousness, complexity or amount of work in a particular case; meet legal or factual issues involving specialist knowledge or experience; ensure that the team has the necessary skills, experience and capacity available to provide for the professional development of defense personnel through training and case experience; or, for other reasons arising in the circumstances of a particular case.

D. In selecting team members, lead counsel should have specific regard to the overall caseload of each team member (whether indigent, pro bono or privately funded) and should monitor the caseloads of all team members throughout the representation. Counsel should have regard to the benefits of a racially and culturally diverse team.

E. Where staff assignments to a team are made by the director of a law office or the contracting agency, rather than lead counsel, lead counsel remains responsible for ensuring that the staffing assignments and the defense team are in compliance with these standards and are sufficient to permit high quality representation.

F. The defense team refers to those persons directly responsible for the legal representation of the client and those persons directly responsible for the fact and mitigation investigation. While others may assist the defense team, including lay and expert witnesses, they are not a part of the defense team as that term is used in this section. The mitigation specialist retained as a part of the defense team is not intended to serve as a testifying witness and if such a witness is necessary, a separate expert mitigation specialist should be retained.

G. Team members should be fully instructed on the practices and procedures to be adopted by the team, including the procedure for communication and decision-making within the team and how such matters will be recorded in the client file. Team meetings should be conducted no less than once every two weeks and should, wherever possible, include the in-person attendance of all team members. Team meetings should have an agenda and a record of the matters discussed, tasks assigned and decisions made at the team meeting should be maintained in the client file. All members of the team should be encouraged to participate and contribute.

H. Counsel should demand on behalf of the client all resources necessary to provide high quality legal representation and to ensure that all components of the defense team are in place. Counsel should promptly take the steps necessary to ensure that the defense team receives the assistance of all expert, investigative, and other ancillary professional services reasonably necessary or appropriate to provide high quality legal representation at every stage of the proceedings. If such resources are denied, counsel should make a complete record to preserve the issue for judicial review and seek such review. It is the responsibility of counsel to be fully aware of the potential resources available to assist in the representation of the client and the rules and procedures to be followed to seek and obtain such resources.

I. While lead counsel bears ultimate responsibility for the performance of the defense team and for decisions affecting the client and the case, all additional counsel should ensure that the team and its members are providing high quality representation in accordance with these performance standards.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1920 (October 2017).

§2117. Scope of Representation

A. Counsel should represent the client in the matter assigned from the time of assignment until relieved by the assignment of successor counsel or by order of the court.

B. Ordinarily, counsel representing a juvenile facing a life without parole sentence should assume responsibility for the representation of the client in all pending criminal and collateral proceedings involving the client where the favorable resolution of such an action is likely to be of significance to the juvenile life without parole case and for which counsel is adequately qualified and experienced. Counsel should represent the client in any new criminal proceeding arising during the course of the representation. Counsel should investigate and commence appellate or collateral proceedings regarding other criminal convictions or delinquency adjudications of the client where the favorable resolution of such an action is likely to be of significance to the juvenile life without parole case. Counsel shall have the discretion to assist incarcerated clients seeking redress of institutional grievances or responding to institutional proceedings and should do so where the resolution of the grievance or proceeding is likely to be of significance in the JLWOP proceeding.

C. Where it is not appropriate for counsel to assume the representation of the client in other proceedings due to a lack of appropriate experience or qualifications, a lack of sufficient resources or for other reasons, counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that appropriately qualified counsel is representing the client.

D. Counsel should maintain close communication with and seek the cooperation of counsel representing the client in any other proceeding to ensure that such representation does not prejudice the client in his JLWOP proceedings and is conducted in a manner that best serves the client's interests in light of the JLWOP proceedings.

E. Where counsel's representation of a defendant is limited in its scope, lead counsel should ensure that the limitation is reasonable in the circumstances and obtain the client's informed consent to the limited scope of the representation. In obtaining informed consent, lead counsel should explain, in a trauma informed and age and developmentally appropriate manner, the exact limits of the scope of the representation, including both those purposes for which the client will and will not be represented. Where possible the agreement to provide representation that is limited in its scope should be communicated in writing.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1921 (October 2017).

§2119. Relations with Client

A. Counsel at all stages of the case should make every appropriate effort to establish a relationship of trust and confidence with the client, and should maintain close contact with the client. Representation of a child facing a sentence of life without parole in adult court should proceed in a trauma-informed and developmentally and age-appropriate manner with a strong emphasis on the relationship between the defense team and the client.

B. Counsel should make every appropriate effort to overcome barriers to communication and trust, including those arising from the child's special circumstances, such as age and its attendant circumstances, trauma, incompetence, mental or physical disability/illness, language barriers, cultural differences, circumstances of incarceration, prior experiences in the criminal justice system and prior experiences of legal representation. Where barriers to communication or trust with counsel cannot be adequately overcome to allow for high quality representation of the client, such further steps as are necessary should be taken. In an appropriate case, this may include seeking the assignment of additional counsel or other team members or the substitution of counsel.

C. Lead counsel should ensure that the defense team as a whole is able to establish and maintain a relationship of trust and confidence with the client. All members of the team should be trained on interviewing and communicating with child clients in a trauma-informed and developmentally and age-appropriate manner. Where a particular team member is unable to overcome barriers to communication or trust, lead counsel should take all reasonable steps to remedy the problem. Where the relationship cannot be sufficiently improved, lead counsel should strongly consider removing or replacing the team member.

D. Understanding that a relationship of trust and confidence with the client is essential to the provision of effective representation, the defense team must take all reasonable steps to ensure that both the representation provided and the manner in which that representation is provided operate to develop and preserve such a relationship.

E. Understanding that regular contact and meaningful communication are essential to the provision of effective representation of a child facing a possible sentence of life without parole, the defense team should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client is able to communicate regularly with the defense team members in confidential circumstances and should ensure that the client is visited by defense team members frequently, particularly where the client is in custody. Counsel may rely upon other members of the defense team to provide some of the required contact with the client but visits by other team members cannot substitute for counsel's own direct contact with the client. Given lead counsel's particular responsibilities, visits by other counsel in the case cannot substitute for lead counsel's own direct contact with the client.

F. In a trial level case, a JLWOP client should be visited by a member of the defense team no less than once every week, though visits would be expected to be much more frequent where there is active investigation or litigation in the case or in the lead up to trial. In a trial level case a JLWOP client should be visited by an attorney member of the defense team no less than once every two weeks and by lead counsel no less than once every month, though visits by counsel would be expected to be much more frequent where there is active investigation or litigation in the case or in the lead up to, during and following trial.

G. In an appellate or post-conviction case, a JLWOP client may be visited less frequently but regular communication and actual visits remain critical to effective representation.

H. Counsel at all stages of the case need to monitor the client's physical, mental and emotional condition and consider any potential legal consequences or adverse impact upon the adequate representation of the client. Counsel should monitor the client's physical, emotional and mental condition throughout the representation both personally, through the observations of other team members and experts and through review of relevant records. If counsel observes changes in the client's appearance or demeanor, counsel should promptly conduct an investigation of any circumstances contributing to this change and take all reasonable steps to advance the best interests of the client. Recognizing the potential adverse consequences for the representation inherent in any substantial impairment of the client's physical, mental and emotional condition, counsel should take all reasonable steps to improve the client's physical, mental and emotional condition where possible.

I. Counsel at all stages of the case should engage in a continuing interactive dialogue with the client concerning all matters that might reasonably be expected to have a material impact on the case, such as:

1. the progress of and prospects for the investigation and what assistance the client might provide;
2. current or potential legal issues;
3. current or potential strategic and tactical decisions, including the waiver of any rights or privileges held by the client;
4. the development of a defense theory;
5. presentation of the defense case;
6. potential agreed-upon dispositions of the case, including any possible disposition currently acceptable to the prosecution;
7. litigation deadlines and the projected schedule of case-related events; and
8. relevant aspects of the client's relationship with correctional, parole, or other governmental agents (e.g., prison medical providers or state psychiatrists).

J. Counsel shall inform the client of the status of the case at each step and shall provide information to the client regarding the process and procedures relevant to the case, including any anticipated time frame.

K. In the absence of a specific agreement to the contrary, counsel shall provide the client with a copy of each substantive document filed or entered in the case by the court and any party. Counsel shall warn any incarcerated client of the dangers of keeping case related material in a custodial environment and take steps to ensure that the client may have reasonable access to the documents and materials in the case without the necessity of keeping the documents in the prison.

L. Upon disposition of the case or any significant issue in the case, counsel shall promptly and accurately inform the client of the disposition.

M. Counsel shall respond in a timely manner to all correspondence from a client, unless the correspondence is wholly unreasonable in its volume or interval.

N. Counsel should maintain an appropriate, professional office and should maintain a system for receiving regular collect telephone calls from incarcerated clients. Counsel should provide incarcerated clients with directions on how to contact the office via collect telephone calls (e.g. what days and/or hours calls will be accepted). Counsel should determine whether telephone communications will be confidential and where they are not, should take all reasonable steps to ensure that privileged, confidential or potentially damaging conversations are not conducted during any monitored or recorded calls.

O. Counsel should advise the client at the outset of the representation and frequently remind the client regarding his rights to silence and to counsel. Counsel should take special care to ensure such crucial information is communicated in a trauma-informed and age appropriate manner.

1. Counsel should carefully explain the significance of remaining silent, and how to assert the rights to silence and to counsel. Counsel should specifically advise the client to assert his rights to silence and to counsel if approached by any state actor seeking to question him about the charged offense, any other offense or any other matter relevant to guilt, penalty or a possible claim for relief. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to assist the client in asserting these rights, including providing a written assertion of rights for the client to use and asserting these rights on behalf of the client. Counsel should have regard to any special need or vulnerability of the client likely to impact his effective assertion of his rights. Counsel should especially consider the client's age, development and familiarity with the criminal justice system in considering how to support the client in effectively asserting his rights.

2. In particular, counsel should advise the client not to speak with police, probation officers, or other government agents about the offense, any related matters or any matter that may prove relevant in a sentencing hearing without the presence of counsel. The client should be advised not to speak or write to any other person, including family members, friends, or co-defendants, about any such matters. The client should also be advised not to speak to any state or court appointed expert without the opportunity for prior consultation with counsel.

3. Counsel should also be conscious of the possible interest of media organizations and individual journalists and should advise the client not to communicate with the media, except as a part of a considered strategy undertaken on the advice of counsel.

P. If counsel knows that the client will be coming into contact with a state actor in circumstances relevant to the representation, counsel should seek to accompany the client to prevent any potentially harmful statements from being made or alleged.

Q. Beginning at the outset and continuing throughout representation, counsel should endeavor to connect the client with all possible educational and programming opportunities whether the client is in or out of custody. Counsel should advise the client about the importance of good behavior during the pendency of his criminal matter and seek to find solutions to any impediment to the client's good behavior. Counsel should keep in mind that demonstrating a client's ability and potential to change, grow and be rehabilitated is central to a Miller sentencing hearing.

§2121. Counsel's Initial Interviews with Client

A. Recognizing that first contact with a juvenile client facing a possible life without parole sentence is an extremely important stage in the representation of the client, counsel should take all reasonable steps to conduct a prompt initial interview designed to protect the client's position, preserve the client's rights and begin the development of a relationship of trust and confidence.

B. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client's rights are promptly asserted, that the client does not waive any right or entitlement by failing to timely assert the right or make a claim, and that any exculpatory or mitigating evidence or information that may otherwise become unavailable is identified and preserved.

C. Counsel should ensure that a high level of contact is maintained at the outset of the representation that is at least sufficient to begin to develop a relationship of trust and confidence and to meaningfully communicate information relevant to protecting the client's position and preserving the client's rights.

D. An initial interview of pre-trial clients should be conducted within 24 hours of counsel's assignment to the case unless exceptional circumstances require counsel to postpone this interview. In that event or where the client is being represented in appellate or post-conviction proceedings, the interview should be conducted as soon as reasonably possible.

E. Preparing for the Initial Interview

1. Prior to conducting the initial interview of a pre-trial client, counsel should, where possible and without unduly delaying the initial interview:

a. be familiar with the elements of the offense(s) and the potential punishment(s), where the charges against the client are already known;

b. obtain copies of any relevant documents that are available, including copies of any charging documents, warrants and warrant applications, law enforcement and other investigative agency reports, autopsy reports, and any media accounts that might be available;

c. request mental health, juvenile assessment center, detention center or education records, including any screenings or assessments, that may help in the initial interview with the client; and

d. consult with any predecessor counsel to become more familiar with the case and the client.

2. In addition, where the pre-trial client is incarcerated, counsel should:

a. be familiar with the legal criteria for determining pretrial release and the procedures that will be followed in setting those conditions;

b. be familiar with the different types of pretrial release conditions the court may set and whether private or public agencies are available to act as a custodian for the client's release; and

c. be familiar with any procedures available for reviewing the trial judge's setting of bail;

d. be familiar with the requirements of PREA and IDEA and utilize any failure to follow these laws to advocate for release or, in the alternative, placement in a more appropriate facility;

e. advocate for placement in a juvenile detention facility.

3. Prior to conducting the interview of a client at appellate and post-conviction stages, counsel should, where possible and without unduly delaying the initial interview:

a. be familiar with the procedural posture of the case;

b. obtain copies of any relevant documents that are available that provide information on the nature of the offense and the conduct and outcome of prior stages of the proceedings;

c. consider consulting with any predecessor counsel to become more familiar with the case and the client.

F. Conducting the Interviews

1. Counsel should not expect to adequately communicate all relevant information or begin to develop the necessary relationship with the client in a single interview but should undertake an initial series of interviews designed to achieve these goals. Given the peculiar pressures and issues presented in representing a juvenile client in a life without parole case, counsel should seek to develop a relationship of trust and confidence before questioning the client about matters relevant to the offense or mitigation.

2. Counsel should always interview the client in an environment that protects the attorney-client privilege. Counsel should take reasonable efforts to compel court and other officials to make necessary accommodations for private discussions between counsel and client in courthouses, lock-ups, jails, prisons, detention centers, hospitals, forensic mental health facilities and other places where clients confer with counsel.

3. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure at the initial interview and in all successive interviews and proceedings that barriers to communication and trust are overcome.

4. The scope and focus of the initial interviews will vary according to the circumstances of the case, the circumstances of the client and the circumstances under which the interviews occur.

5. Information to be provided to the client during initial interviews includes, but is not limited to:

a. the role of counsel and the scope of representation, an explanation of the attorney-client privilege, the importance of maintaining contact with counsel, and instructions not to talk to anyone, including other inmates, about the facts of the case or matters relevant to the sentencing hearing without first consulting with the attorney;

b. describing the other persons who are members of the defense team, how and when counsel, or other appropriate members of the defense team, can be contacted; and when counsel, or other members of the defense team, will see the client next;

c. a general overview of the procedural posture and likely progression of the case, an explanation of the charges, the potential penalties, and available defenses;

d. what arrangements will be made or attempted for the satisfaction of the client's most pressing needs; e.g., medical or mental health attention, education, other conditions of confinement issues, contact with family or employers;

e. realistic answers, where possible, to the client's most urgent questions;

f. an explanation of the availability, likelihood and procedures that will be followed in setting the conditions of pretrial release;

g. a detailed warning of the dangers with regard to the search of client's cell and personal belongings while in custody and the fact that conversations with other inmates, telephone calls, mail, and visitations may be monitored by jail officials. The client should also be warned of the prevalence and danger presented by jailhouse informants making false allegations of confessions by high profile prisoners and advised of the strategies the client can employ to protect himself from such false allegations;

h. assess whether there may be some question about the child's competence to proceed or the existence of a disability that would impact a possible defense or mitigation;

i. an understanding of the conditions of incarceration:

i. whether the child is being held in an adult jail or juvenile detention center;

NOTE: if the child is being held in an adult jail, counsel should advocate that the child be placed in a juvenile detention center.

ii. if the child is being held in an adult jail, whether the child has any contact with adult inmates;

iii. whether the child is being provided education in compliance with state and federal law;

iv. whether the child is receiving adequate medical, dental and mental health care;

v. whether the child has adequate clothing, bedding and personal hygiene products;

vi. whether the child has been exposed to or is at risk of physical violence, sexual assault or self-harm;

vii. whether the child has adequate access to physical exercise and natural light.

6. Information that should be acquired as soon as appropriate from the client includes, but may not be limited to:

a. the client's immediate medical needs and any prescription medications the client is currently taking, has been prescribed or might require;

b. whether the client has any pending proceedings, charges or outstanding warrants in or from other jurisdictions or agencies (and the identity of any other appointed or retained counsel);

c. the ability of the client to meet any financial conditions of release or afford an attorney;

d. the existence of potential sources of important information which counsel might need to act immediately to obtain and/or preserve.

7. Appreciating the unique pressure placed upon juvenile defendants facing the possibility of a life without parole sentence and the extremely sensitive nature of the enquiries that counsel must make, counsel should exercise great caution in seeking to explore the details of either the alleged offense or matters of personal history until a relationship of trust and confidence has been established that will permit full and frank disclosure.

8. Where possible, counsel should obtain from the client signed release forms necessary to obtain client's medical, psychological, education, military, prison and other records as may be pertinent.

9. Counsel should observe and consider arranging for documentation of any marks or wounds pertinent to the case, and secure and document any transient physical evidence.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1923 (October 2017).

§2123. Procedures that Subject Client to the Jurisdiction of Criminal Court

A. Where a child's prosecution begins in juvenile court, counsel should be familiar with laws subjecting a child to the exclusive jurisdiction of a court exercising criminal jurisdiction, including the offenses subjecting the client to such jurisdiction. Counsel should seek to discover at the earliest opportunity whether transfer will be sought.

B. Counsel should fully explain the procedures by which a child can be transferred to adult court and the consequences of transfer to the child and the child's parents.

C. Counsel should advocate for the child to remain in the jurisdiction of juvenile court but should only do so after assessing the strategic advantages and disadvantages and the need to present facts and mitigating evidence to the district attorney in an effort to persuade the district attorney to keep the child in juvenile court.

D. Where a continued custody hearing will be held, counsel shall not, except in extraordinary circumstances, waive the continued custody hearing. Counsel shall fully prepare for the continued custody hearing in accordance with performance standard 2125, continued custody hearings.

E. If the child has already been transferred to adult proceedings and counsel did not represent the child in juvenile court, counsel should obtain the juvenile court records and files and the juvenile court attorney's entire file.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1925 (October 2017).

§2125. Continued Custody Hearings

A. The attorney should take steps to see that the continued custody hearing is conducted in a timely fashion unless there are strategic reasons for not doing so.

B. In preparing for the continued custody hearing, the attorney should become familiar with:

1. the elements of each of the offenses alleged;
2. the law for establishing probable cause;
3. factual information that is available concerning probable cause;
4. the subpoena process for obtaining compulsory attendance of witnesses at continued custody hearing and the necessary steps to be taken in order to obtain a proper recordation of the proceedings;
5. the child's custodial situation, including all persons living in the home;
6. alternative living arrangements for the client where the current custodial situation is an obstacle to release from detention; and
7. potential conditions for release from detention and local options to fulfill those conditions, including the criteria for setting bail and options for the family to meet bail requirements.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1925 (October 2017).

§2127. Investigation

A. Counsel's Responsibility to Investigate

1. Counsel has an ongoing duty to conduct a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation of all matters relevant to the guilt phase, sentencing phase, any possible agreed upon disposition, any potential claim for relief and any possible reduction of the case to a non-JLWOP prosecution. A high quality, exhaustive investigation will be prompt, thorough and independent.

2. Counsel should act promptly to ensure that the client is not prejudiced by the loss or destruction of evidence or information, whether in the form of physical evidence, records, possible witness testimony or information from a non-testifying witness. Counsel should take reasonable steps to gather and preserve evidence and information at risk of loss or destruction for later use in the case or for use by successor counsel. These steps may include retaining an expert to gather, preserve or examine evidence before it is altered or destroyed or to interview witnesses who may become unavailable. Counsel should be conscious of any procedural limitations or time bars and ensure that the investigation be conducted in a timely fashion to avoid any default or waiver of the client's rights. Similarly, counsel should be aware of or promptly become aware of the period for which relevant records are retained and ensure that the investigation be conducted in a timely fashion to avoid the destruction of relevant records.

3. The investigation relevant to the guilt phase of the trial should be conducted regardless of any admission or statement by the client concerning the facts of the alleged crime, or overwhelming evidence of guilt, or any statement by the client that evidence bearing upon guilt is not to be collected or presented.

4. The investigation relevant to the sentencing phase of the trial should be conducted regardless of any statement by the client that evidence bearing upon the penalty is not to be collected or presented. This investigation should comprise extensive and ongoing efforts to discover all reasonably available mitigating evidence and evidence to rebut any aggravating evidence or argument that may be offered by the prosecutor.

5. No area of inquiry or possible evidence in the guilt or sentencing phase investigations should be ruled out until a thorough investigation has been conducted. Counsel should seek to investigate all available evidence and information and defer strategic decisions regarding what evidence to present until after a thorough investigation has been conducted. Both at guilt and sentencing phases, counsel should not halt investigation after one seemingly meritorious defense theory has been discovered, but should continue to investigate, both following up on evidence supporting known defense theories and seeking to discover other potential defense theories.

6. Where counsel enrolls in a case in which other counsel have previously provided representation, counsel should not rely on a prior defense team's investigation or theory of the case, but rather should independently and thoroughly investigate and prepare the defense, especially where prior counsel had a conflict of interest, or there is reason to believe counsel's performance was deficient.

7. Counsel are responsible for ensuring that a high quality, exhaustive investigation is conducted but are not personally responsible for performing the actual investigation. A team should be assembled containing sufficient members possessing the appropriate skills and resources to conduct a high quality and exhaustive investigation.

B. Conduct of the Investigation

1. Counsel should conduct a high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation of all available sources of information utilizing all available tools including live witness interviews, compulsory process, public records law, discovery, scene visits, obtaining releases of confidential information, pre-trial litigation, the use of experts in the collection and analysis of particular kinds of evidence and audio/visual documentation. Principle sources of information in an investigation will include:

- a. information obtained from the client;
- b. information and statements obtained from witnesses;
- c. discovery obtained from the state;
- d. records collected;
- e. physical evidence; and
- f. direct observations.

2. A high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation will include investigation to determine the existence of other evidence or witnesses corroborating or contradicting a particular piece of evidence or information.

3. A high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation will include an investigation of all sources of possible impeachment of defense and prosecution witnesses.

4. Information and evidence obtained in the investigation provided should be properly preserved by memo, written statement, affidavit, or audio/video recordings. The manner in which information is to be obtained and recorded should be specifically approved by lead counsel having regard to any discovery obligations which operate or may be triggered in the case. In particular, the decision to take signed or recorded statements from witnesses should be made in light of the possibility of disclosure of such statements through reciprocal discovery obligations. Documents and physical evidence should be obtained and preserved in a manner designed to allow for its authentication and with regard to the chain of custody.

5. A high quality, exhaustive investigation should be conducted in a manner that permits counsel to effectively impeach potential witnesses, including state actors and records custodians, with statements made during the investigation. Unless defense counsel is prepared to forgo impeachment of a witness by counsel's own testimony as to what the witness stated in an interview or to seek leave to withdraw from the case in order to present such impeaching testimony, defense counsel should avoid interviewing a prospective witness except in the presence of a third person.

6. A written record should be kept of all investigative activity on a case, including all record requests and responses and attempts to locate and interview witnesses, whether successful or unsuccessful. The written record should be sufficient to allow counsel to identify and prove, if necessary, when, where and under what circumstances each piece of information or evidence was obtained. The written record should also be sufficient to allow counsel to identify and prove that the investigation disclosed an absence of relevant information or evidence, for example, where a record custodian denies possession of relevant records or a witness denies knowledge of a relevant fact.

7. Counsel should conduct a high quality, exhaustive investigation of matters relevant to the guilt and sentencing phases, bearing in mind at all times the relevance of all information sought and obtained to each phase of the trial. Such an investigation shall extend beyond the particular client and the particular offense charged and include an investigation of:

- a. other charged or uncharged bad acts that may be alleged directly or as impeachment;
- b. any co-defendant or alleged co-conspirator;
- c. any alternate suspects;
- d. any victim or victims;
- e. relevant law enforcement personnel and agencies; and
- f. forensic and other experts involved in the case.

8. Considerations in respect of particular sources of information will include the following:

a. interviews with the client should be conducted in accordance with performance standard 2121. In particular, counsel should be conscious of the need for trauma-informed and age and developmentally appropriate interviews, multiple interviews, a relationship of trust and confidence with the client and for interviews on sensitive matters to be conducted by team members with appropriate skill and experience in conducting such interviews;

b. when interviewing witnesses, live witness interviews are almost always to be preferred and telephone interviews will rarely be appropriate. Barring exceptional circumstances, counsel should seek out and interview all potential witnesses including, but not limited to:

- i. eyewitnesses or other witnesses potentially having knowledge of events surrounding the alleged offense itself including the involvement of co-defendants, or alternate suspects;
- ii. potential alibi witnesses;

iii. members of the client's immediate and extended family;

iv. neighbors, friends and acquaintances who knew the client or his family throughout the various stages of his life;

v. persons familiar with the communities where the client and the client's family live and have lived;

vi. former teachers, coaches, clergy, employers, co-workers, social service providers, and doctors;

vii. correctional, probation or parole officers;

viii. witnesses to events other than the offense charged that may prove relevant to any affirmative defense or may be relied upon by the prosecution in its case in chief or in rebuttal of the defense case; and

ix. government experts who have performed the examinations, tests, or experiments;

c. discovery should be conducted in accordance with performance standard 2131.F;

d. counsel should be familiar with and utilize lawful avenues to compel the production of relevant records beyond formal discovery or compulsory process, including, the Louisiana Public Records Act, the Freedom of Information Act, statutory entitlements to records such as medical treatment, military service, Social Security, social services, correctional and educational records. Counsel should also be familiar with and utilize avenues to obtain records through voluntary release and publicly available sources including web based searches and social media;

e. counsel should strive to obtain records by means least likely to alert the prosecution to investigative steps being taken by the defense or the content of the records being obtained;

f. where appropriate, counsel should seek releases or court orders to obtain necessary confidential information about the client, co-defendant(s), witness(es), alternate suspect(s), or victim(s) that is in the possession of third parties. Counsel should be aware of privacy laws and procedural requirements governing disclosure of the type of confidential information being sought;

g. unless strategic considerations dictate otherwise, counsel should ensure that all requests, whether by compulsory process, public records law, or other specific statutory procedures, are made in a form that will allow counsel to enforce the requests to the extent possible and to seek the imposition of sanctions for non-compliance. Counsel should seek prompt compliance with such requests and must maintain a system for tracking requests that have been made: following up on requests; triggering enforcement action where requests are not complied with; documenting where responses have been received; and, identifying which documents have been received in response to which requests and on what date;

h. counsel should obtain all available information from the client's court files. Counsel should obtain copies of the client's prior court file(s), and the court files of other relevant persons. Counsel should also obtain the files from the relevant law enforcement and prosecuting agencies to the extent available;

i. counsel should independently check the criminal records for both government and defense witnesses, and obtain a certified copy of all judgments of conviction for government witnesses, for possible use at trial for impeachment purposes.

9. Counsel should move promptly to ensure that all physical evidence favorable to the client is preserved, including seeking a protective court order to prevent destruction or alteration of evidence. Counsel should make a prompt request to the police or investigative agency for access to any physical evidence or expert reports relevant to the case. Counsel should examine and document the condition of any such physical evidence well in advance of trial. With the assistance of appropriate experts, counsel should reexamine all of the government's material forensic evidence, and conduct appropriate analyses of all other available forensic evidence. Counsel should investigate not only the accuracy of the results of any forensic testing but also the legitimacy of the methods used to conduct the testing and the qualifications of those responsible for the testing.

10. Counsel should take full advantage of the direct observation of relevant documents, objects, places and events by defense team members, experts and others.

11. Counsel should attempt to view the scenes of the alleged offense and other relevant events as soon as possible after counsel is assigned. The visit to any relevant scene should include visiting under circumstances as similar as possible to those existing at the time of the alleged incident (e.g., weather, time of day, and lighting conditions). Counsel should extensively, precisely and accurately document the condition of any relevant scene using the most appropriate and effective means, including, audio-visual recordings, diagrams, charts, measurements and descriptive memoranda. The condition of the scenes should always be documented in a manner that will permit counsel to identify and prove the condition of the scenes without personally becoming a witness. Where appropriate, counsel should obtain independently prepared documentation of the condition of the scenes, such as, maps, charts, property records, contemporaneous audio-visual recordings conducted by media, security cameras or law enforcement.

12. Counsel should exercise the defendant's right to inspect, copy, examine, test scientifically, photograph, or otherwise reproduce books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, buildings, places, or copies or portions thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the state.

13. Counsel for a client with one or more co-defendants should attend hearings of co-defendants, even if the issue at stake does not seem directly relevant to the client. Counsel should be particularly interested in discovering the strength of the prosecution's case against the co-defendant and the similarities and differences between a co-defendant's defense and the client's.

14. Counsel should also attend potentially relevant hearings involving state or defense witnesses.

C. Duty of Counsel to Conduct Sentencing Phase Investigation

1. Counsel should lead the defense team in a structured and supervised mitigation investigation where counsel is coordinating and, to the extent possible, integrating the strategy for sentencing with the guilt phase strategy. In doing so, counsel must ensure the defense team is adequately supported by a mitigation expert in accordance with performance standard 2115, Assembling the Defense Team.

2. Despite the integration of the two phases of the trial, counsel should be alert to the different significance of items of evidence in the two phases and direct the investigation of the evidence for the sentencing phase accordingly. Where evidence is relevant to both phases, counsel should not limit the investigation to guilt phase issues, but should further develop the mitigating evidence into a compelling case for the sentencing phase. All information obtained in the guilt phase investigation should be assessed for its significance to sentencing and where possible the guilt phase theory should reflect this assessment. Counsel should actively consider the benefits of presenting evidence admissible in the guilt phase that is also relevant in mitigation of punishment and conduct the investigation and development of evidence accordingly.

3. Counsel should direct the investigation of mitigating information as early as possible in the case. Mitigation investigation may affect many aspects of the case including the investigation of guilt phase defenses, charging decisions and related advocacy, motion practice, decisions about needs for expert evaluations, client relations and communication and plea negotiations.

4. Counsel has an ongoing duty to conduct a high quality, independent and exhaustive investigation of every aspect of the client's character, history, record and any circumstances of the offense, or other factors, which may provide a basis for a sentence less than life without parole.

5. Counsel should investigate all available sources of information and use all appropriate avenues to obtain all potentially relevant information pertaining to the client, his siblings and parents, and other family members extending back at least three generations, including but not limited to:

a. medical history consisting of complete prenatal, pediatric and adult health information (including hospitalizations, mental and physical illness or injury, prenatal and birth trauma, malnutrition, developmental delays, and neurological damage);

b. exposure to harmful substances in utero and in the environment;

c. substance abuse and treatment history;

d. mental health history;

e. history of maltreatment and neglect;

f. trauma history (including exposure to criminal violence, exposure to war, the loss of a loved one, or a natural disaster);

g. experiences of racism or other social or ethnic bias;

h. cultural or religious influences);

i. educational history (including achievement, performance, behavior, activities, special educational needs including cognitive limitations and learning disabilities, and opportunity or lack thereof);

j. social services, welfare, and family court history (including failures of government or social intervention, such as failure to intervene or provide necessary services, placement in poor quality foster care or juvenile detention facilities), employment and training history (including skills and performance, and barriers to employability);

k. immigration experience; multi-generational family history, genetic disorders and vulnerabilities, as well as multi-generational patterns of behavior;

l. prior adult and juvenile criminal and correctional experience;

m. religious, gender, sexual orientation, ethnic, racial, cultural and community influences;

n. socio-economic, historical, and political factors.

6. Counsel should not refrain from fully investigating potentially double-edged mitigation and such an investigation should include the full context of the mitigating evidence so as to reduce any potentially negative impact of such evidence at trial or to ensure that the mitigating effect of the evidence outweighs any negatives that may arise from the introduction of the evidence. Counsel should adopt such strategies as are necessary to reduce any potentially negative impact of such evidence, including effective Voir dire, motions in limine, limiting instructions and the presentation of other evidence designed to maximize the mitigating effect of the evidence and reduce its negative potential.

7. While the client and the client's immediate family can be very important sources of information, they are far from the only potentially significant and powerful sources of information for mitigation evidence, and counsel should not limit the investigation to the client and his or her family. Further, when evaluating information from the client and the client's family, counsel should consider any impediments each may have to self-reporting or self-reflection.

8. Counsel should exhaustively investigate evidence of any potential aggravating circumstances and other adverse evidence that may be used by the state at sentencing to determine how the evidence may be rebutted or mitigated.

a. Counsel should interview all known state witnesses for the sentencing phase, including any expert witnesses.

b. Counsel's investigation of any prior conviction(s) or delinquency adjudications which may be alleged against the client should include an investigation of any legal basis for overturning the conviction or adjudication, including by appellate, state post-conviction or federal habeas corpus proceedings. Where such a basis exists, counsel should commence or cause to be commenced litigation directed to overturning the conviction. Representation in such proceedings should be determined in accordance with performance standard 2117, scope of representation.

c. Counsel should investigate the facts of any alleged prior bad acts, including any alleged prior convictions or uncharged misconduct or bad acts, the state may seek to introduce in either the guilt or sentencing phases to determine how the evidence may be excluded, rebutted or mitigated.

d. Counsel should actively consider the evidence that the state may be permitted to present in rebuttal of the defense case at sentencing and investigate the evidence to determine how the evidence may be excluded, rebutted or mitigated.

9. Counsel should exhaustively investigate grounds for arguing that the state should be precluded from seeking a life without parole sentence in the case because the client is not the worst offender or the crime is not the worst offense. Grounds might include, for example, age, intellectual disability, mental illness, cognitive impairment, felony murder, guilt as a principal not directly responsible for the death or any other basis for asserting that the client is not the worst offender. When the client is charged with second degree murder, counsel should argue that the state is precluded from seeking a life without parole sentence in the case because the crime is, by definition, not the worst offense.

10. Counsel should direct team members to conduct in-person, face-to-face, one-on-one interviews with the client, the client's family, and other witnesses who are familiar with the client's life, history, or family history or who would support a sentence less than life without parole. Counsel should not fail to seek to interview any of the client's immediate family members. Multiple interviews will be necessary to establish trust, elicit sensitive information and conduct a thorough and reliable life-history investigation. Team members should endeavor to establish the rapport with the client and witnesses that will be necessary to provide the client with a defense in accordance with constitutional guarantees relevant to a Miller sentencing proceeding.

11. Counsel should direct team members to gather documentation to support the testimony of expert and lay witnesses, including, but not limited to, school, medical, employment, criminal and juvenile incarceration, and social service records, in order to provide medical, psychological, sociological, cultural or other insights into the client's mental and/or emotional state, intellectual capacity, and life history that may explain or diminish the client's culpability for his conduct, demonstrate the absence of aggressive patterns in the client's behavior, exemplify the client's immaturity due to age, explain his inability to appreciate risks and consequences, demonstrate his susceptibility to peer or familial pressure, show the client's capacity for empathy, depict the client's remorse, illustrate the client's desire to function in the world, give a favorable opinion as to the client's capacity for rehabilitation or adaptation to prison, explain possible treatment programs, rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor, or otherwise support a sentence less than life without parole. Records should be reviewed as they are received by the team so that any gaps in the evidence can be discovered and filled, further areas of investigation can be uncovered and pursued, and the defense theory can properly incorporate all available documentary evidence.

12. Counsel should direct team members to provide counsel with documentary evidence of the investigation through the use of such methods as memoranda, genealogies, social history reports, chronologies and reports on relevant subjects including, but not limited to, cultural, socioeconomic, environmental, racial, and religious issues in the client's life. The manner in which information is provided to counsel is determined on a case by case basis, in consultation with counsel, considering jurisdictional practices, discovery rules and policies.

13. Counsel should ensure that the investigation develops available evidence to humanize the client in the eyes of the judge or jury, educate the jury and the court on adolescent development and the biological limitations of the adolescent mind, particularly a child's inability to appreciate risks and consequences, demonstrate the child's diminished culpability, reflect a child's unique capacity for rehabilitation, inherent dignity and value as a human being, demonstrate the client's positives and provide a basis for demonstrating these matters through factually valid narratives and exhibits, rather than merely adjectives. The investigation shall focus more broadly than identifying the causes of any offending conduct.

14. Counsel should endeavor, with the help of a mitigation expert, to create opportunities for the client to learn, grow and change during the pendency of his criminal case. A client's custodial status should not preclude counsel from seeking out such opportunities. Counsel should ensure that the client is receiving a free and appropriate education and any and all other supports and services that he is entitled to under state and federal law (including those provided in prior IEP's) and advocate to remedy any violation these laws.

15. After thorough investigation counsel should begin selecting and preparing witnesses who will testify, who may include but are not limited to:

a. lay witnesses, or witnesses who are familiar with the client or his family, including but not limited to:

i. the client's family and those familiar with the client;

ii. the client's friends, teachers, classmates, co-workers, and employers, as well as others who are familiar with the client's early and current development and functioning, medical history, environmental history, mental health history, educational history, employment and training history and religious, racial, and cultural experiences and influences upon the client or the client's family;

iii. social service and treatment providers to the client and the client's family members, including doctors, nurses, other medical staff, social workers, and housing or welfare officials;

iv. witnesses familiar with the client's prior juvenile and criminal justice and correctional experiences;

v. former and current neighbors of the client and the client's family, community members, and others familiar with the neighborhoods in which the client lived, including the type of housing, the economic status of the community, the availability of employment and the prevalence of violence;

vi. former or current correctional officers or employees or others who may be able to testify as to the good conduct, education and growth of the client while in custody;

b. expert witnesses, or witnesses with specialized training or experience in a particular subject matter. Such experts include, but are not limited to:

i. medical doctors, psychiatrists, psychologists, toxicologists, pharmacologists, speech language pathologists, social workers and persons with specialized knowledge of adolescent development, medical conditions, mental illnesses and impairments; neurological impairment (brain damage); substance abuse, physical, emotional and sexual maltreatment, trauma and the effects of such factors on the client's development and functioning;

ii. anthropologists, sociologists and persons with expertise in a particular race, culture, ethnicity, religion;

iii. persons with specialized knowledge of specific communities or expertise in the effect of environments and neighborhoods upon their inhabitants;

iv. persons with specialized knowledge about gangs and gang culture;

v. persons with specialized knowledge and expertise in adolescent development; and

vi. persons with specialized knowledge of institutional life, either generally or within a specific institution, including prison security and adaptation experts.

16. Counsel should direct team members to aid in preparing and gathering demonstrative evidence, such as photographs, videotapes and physical objects (e.g., trophies, artwork, military medals), and documents that humanize the client or portray him positively, such as certificates of earned awards, favorable press accounts and letters of praise or reference.

D. Securing the Assistance of Experts

1. Counsel should secure the assistance of experts where appropriate for:

a. an adequate understanding of adolescent development;

b. an adequate understanding of the prosecution's case and the preparation and presentation of the defense including for consultation purposes on areas of specialized knowledge or those lying outside counsel's experience;

c. rebuttal of any portion of the prosecution's case at the guilt or sentencing phase of the trial;

d. investigation of the client's competence to proceed, capacity to make a knowing and intelligent waiver of constitutional rights, mental state at the time of the offense, insanity, and diminished capacity; and

e. obtaining an agreed upon disposition or assisting the client in making a decision to accept or reject a possible agreed upon disposition.

2. An expert is retained to assist counsel in the provision of high quality legal representation. It is counsel's responsibility to provide high quality legal representation and the hiring of an expert, even a well-qualified expert, will not be sufficient to discharge this responsibility. Counsel has a responsibility to support and supervise the work of an expert to ensure that it is adequate and appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

3. When selecting an expert, counsel should consult with other attorneys, mitigation specialists, investigators and experts regarding the strengths and weaknesses of available experts. Counsel should interview experts and examine their credentials and experience before hiring them, including investigating the existence of any significant impeachment that may be offered against the expert and reviewing transcripts of the expert's prior testimony. If counsel discovers that a retained expert is unqualified or his opinions and testimony will be detrimental to the client, counsel should replace the expert and where appropriate, seek other expert advice.

4. When retaining an expert, counsel should provide clear information regarding the rate of payment, reimbursement of expenses, the method of billing, the timing of payment, any cap on professional fees or expenses and any other conditions of the agreement to retain. Counsel should ensure that the expert is familiar with the rules of confidentiality applicable in the circumstances and where appropriate, have the expert sign a confidentiality agreement. Counsel should monitor the hours of work performed and costs incurred by an expert to ensure that the expert does not exceed any pre-approved cap and in order to certify that the expert's use of time and expenses was appropriate in the circumstances.

5. Defense counsel should normally not rely on one expert to testify on a range of subjects, particularly where the witness lacks sufficient expertise in one or more of the areas to be canvassed. Counsel should determine whether an expert is to be used as a consulting expert or may testify in the case and should make appropriate distinctions in communications with the expert and disclosure of the identity and any report of the expert to the state. Counsel should also consider whether a teaching expert is more appropriate for the case to educate the fact-finder or sentencing body. An example of the use of a teaching expert might be to educate the jury or the court on adolescent development. Counsel should use separate experts in the same field for consultation and possible testimony where the circumstances of the case make this necessary or appropriate.

6. Counsel should not simply rely on the opinions of an expert, but should seek to become sufficiently educated in the field to make a reasoned determination as to whether the hired expert is qualified, whether his or her opinion is defensible, whether another expert should be hired, and ultimately whether the area of investigation should be further pursued or abandoned.

7. Experts assisting in investigation and other preparation of the defense should be independent of the court, the state and any co-defendants. Expert work product should be maintained as confidential to the extent allowed by law. Counsel and support staff should use all available sources of information to obtain all necessary information for experts. Counsel should provide an expert with all relevant and necessary information, records, materials, access to witnesses and access to the client within sufficient time to allow the expert to complete a thorough assessment of the material provided, conduct any further investigation, formulate an opinion, communicate the opinion to counsel and be prepared for any testimony. Ordinarily, counsel should not retain an expert until a thorough investigation has been undertaken.

8. Counsel should not seek or rely upon an expert opinion in the absence of an adequate factual investigation of the matters that may inform or support an expert opinion. While an expert may be consulted for guidance even where relatively little factual investigation has been completed, counsel may not rely upon an expert opinion in limiting the scope of investigation, making final decisions about the defense theory or determining the matters to be presented to any court in the absence of a factual investigation sufficiently thorough to ensure that the expert's opinion is fully informed and well supported. Ultimately, it is the responsibility of counsel, not the expert, to ensure that all relevant material is gathered and submitted to the expert for review.

9. Counsel should ensure that any expert who may testify is not exposed to privileged or confidential information beyond that which counsel is prepared to have disclosed by the witness during his or her testimony.

E. Development of a Strategic Plan for the Case

1. During investigation and trial preparation, counsel should develop and continually reassess a strategic plan for the case. This should include the possible defense theories for guilt phase, sentencing phase, agreed upon disposition, litigation of the case and, where appropriate, litigation of the case on appeal and post-conviction review.

2. The defense theory at trial should be an integrated defense theory that will be reinforced by its presentation at both the guilt and sentencing phases and should minimize any inconsistencies between the theories presented at each stage and humanize the client as much as possible.

3. A strategy for the case should be developed from the outset of counsel's involvement in the case and continually updated as the investigation, preparation and litigation of the case proceed. Counsel should not make a final decision on the defense theory to be pursued at trial or foreclose inquiry into any available defense theory until a high quality, exhaustive, independent investigation has been conducted and the available strategic choices fully considered.

4. However, a defense theory for trial should be selected in sufficient time to allow counsel to advance that theory during all phases of the trial, including jury selection, witness preparation, motions, opening statement, presentation of evidence, closing argument and jury instructions. Similarly, the defense theory for the post-verdict, appellate and post-conviction stages of the proceedings should be selected in sufficient time to allow counsel to advance that theory in the substantive filings and hearings in the case.

5. In arriving at a defense theory counsel should weigh the positive aspects of the defense theory and also any negative effect the theory may have, including opening the door to otherwise inadmissible evidence or waiving potentially viable claims or defenses.

6. From the outset of counsel's involvement in the case, a strategic planning document or documents should be produced in writing and maintained in the client's file. The strategic planning document should lay out a comprehensive strategy for both guilt and sentencing phases – detailing the needed fact investigation as well as the plan for collecting and creating mitigating evidence. The plan for both guilt and mitigation investigation should include a timeline for the completion of investigatory tasks. The strategic planning document should be amended as the investigation, preparation and litigation of the case proceed to accurately reflect the current theory or theories. The strategic planning document should be made available to all members of the defense team to assist in coordinating work on the case. However, it should remain privileged and not be shared with non-team members or any team member or expert who may testify.

7. The current strategic planning document and any prior drafts of the document should be maintained in the client's file.

§2129. Agreed-Upon Dispositions*A. Duty of Counsel to Seek an Agreed-Upon Disposition

1. Counsel at every stage of the case have an obligation to take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition.

2. After interviewing the client and developing a thorough knowledge of the law and facts of the case, counsel at every stage of the case should explore with the client the possibility and desirability of reaching an agreed-upon disposition of the charges rather than proceeding to a trial or continuing with proceedings seeking judicial or executive review. In doing so counsel should fully explain the rights that would be waived by a decision to enter a plea or waive further review, the possible collateral consequences, and the legal, factual and contextual considerations that bear upon that decision. Counsel should advise the client with complete candor concerning all aspects of the case, including a candid opinion as to the probable outcome. Counsel should make it clear to the client, with special attention to the age and abilities of the client, that the ultimate decision to enter a plea of guilty or waive further review has to be made by the client.

3. Counsel should keep the client fully informed of any discussions or negotiations for an agreed upon disposition and promptly convey to the client, in an age and developmentally appropriate manner, any offers made by the prosecution for an agreed upon disposition. Counsel shall not accept or reject any agreed-upon disposition without the client's express authorization.

4. Initial refusals by the prosecutor to negotiate should not prevent counsel from making further efforts to negotiate. Despite a client's initial opposition, counsel should engage in an ongoing effort to persuade the client to pursue an agreed upon disposition that is in the client's best interest. Consideration of an agreed upon disposition should focus on the client's interests, the client's needs and the client's perspective.

5. The existence of ongoing negotiations with the prosecution does not in any way diminish the obligations of defense counsel respecting investigation and litigation. Ongoing negotiations should not prevent counsel from taking steps necessary to preserve a defense nor should the existence of ongoing negotiations prevent or delay counsel's investigation into the facts of the case and preparation of the case for further proceedings, including trial.

B. Formal Advice Regarding Agreed-Upon Disposition

1. Counsel should be aware of, and fully explain to the client in an age and developmentally appropriate manner:

a. the maximum penalty that may be imposed for the charged offense(s) and any possible lesser included or alternative offenses, and any mandatory (minimum) punishment, sentencing enhancements, habitual offender statutes, mandatory consecutive sentence requirements including restitution, fines, assessments and court costs;

b. any collateral consequences of potential penalties less than life without parole including but not limited to forfeiture of assets, deportation or the denial of naturalization or of reentry into the United States, imposition of civil liabilities, loss of parental rights, the forfeiture of professional licensure, the ineligibility for various government programs including student loans, the prohibition from carrying a firearm, the suspension of a motor vehicle operator's license, the loss of the right to vote, the loss of the right to hold public office, potential federal prosecutions, and the use of the disposition adverse to the client in sentencing phase proceedings of other prosecutions of him, as well as any direct consequences of potential penalties less than life without parole, such as the possibility and likelihood of parole, place of confinement and good-time credits;

c. any registration requirements including sex offender registration and job specific notification requirements;

d. the general range of sentences for similar offenses committed by defendants with similar backgrounds, and the impact of any applicable sentencing guidelines or mandatory sentencing requirements including any possible and likely sentence enhancements or parole consequences;

e. the governing legal regime, including but not limited to whatever choices the client may have as to the fact finder and/or sentence;

f. available drug rehabilitation programs, psychiatric treatment, and health care;

g. the possible and likely place of confinement;

h. credit for pretrial detention;

i. the effect of good-time credits on the client's release date and how those credits are earned and calculated;

j. eligibility for correctional programs, work release and conditional leaves;

k. deferred sentences, conditional discharges and diversion agreements;

l. probation or suspension of sentence and permissible conditions of probation;

m. parole and post-prison supervision eligibility, applicable ranges, and likely post-prison supervision conditions; and

n. possibility of later expungement and sealing of records.

2. Counsel should be completely familiar with, and fully explain to the client in an age and developmentally appropriate manner.

a. Concessions the client may make as part of an agreed upon disposition, including:

i. to waive trial and plead guilty to particular charges;

ii. to decline from asserting or litigating any particular pretrial motions; or to forego in whole or in part legal remedies such as appeals, motions for post-conviction relief, and/or parole or clemency applications. However, the client should receive independent legal advice before being asked to waive any future claim of ineffective assistance of counsel;

iii. to proceed to trial on a particular date or within a particular time period;

iv. to enter an agreement regarding future custodial status, such as one to be confined in a more onerous category of institution than would otherwise be the case, or to fulfill specified restitution conditions and/or participation in community work or service programs, or in rehabilitation or other programs;

v. to provide the prosecution with assistance in prosecuting or investigating the present case or other alleged criminal activity;

vi. to enter an agreement to permit a judge to perform functions relative to guilt or sentence that would otherwise be performed by a jury or vice versa;

vii. to enter an agreement to engage in or refrain from any particular conduct, as appropriate to the case;

viii. to enter an agreement with the victim's family, which may include matters such as: a meeting between the victim's family and the client, a promise not to publicize or profit from the offense, the issuance or delivery of a public statement of remorse by the client, or restitution; and

ix. to enter agreements such as those described in the above subsections respecting actual or potential charges in another jurisdiction.

b. Benefits the client might obtain from a negotiated settlement, including, but not limited to an agreement:

i. that life without parole will not be sought;

ii. to dismiss or reduce one or more of the charged offenses either immediately, or upon completion of a deferred prosecution agreement;

iii. that the client will receive, with the agreement of the court, a specified sentence or sanction or a sentence or sanction within a specified range;

iv. that the client will receive, or the prosecution will recommend, specific benefits concerning the accused's place and/or manner of confinement and/or release on parole and the information concerning the accused's offense and alleged behavior that may be considered in determining the accused's date of release from incarceration;

v. that the client may enter a conditional plea to preserve the right to further contest certain legal issues;

vi. that the prosecution will not oppose the client's release on bail pending sentencing or appeal;

vii. that the client will not be subject to further investigation or prosecution for uncharged alleged or suspected criminal conduct;

viii. that the prosecution will take, or refrain from taking, at the time of sentencing and/or in communications with the preparer of the official pre-sentence report, a specified position with respect to the sanction to be imposed on the client by the court;

ix. that the prosecution will not present certain information, at the time of sentencing and/or in communications with the preparer of the official pre-sentence report, or will engage in or refrain from engaging in other actions with regard to sentencing;

x. such as those described in Subsections (1)-(9) respecting actual or potential charges in another jurisdiction.

c. the position of any alleged victim (and victim's family members) with respect to conviction and sentencing. In this regard, counsel should:

i. consider whether interviewing or outreach to an alleged victim (or a victim's family members) is appropriate;

ii. consider to what extent the alleged victim or victims (or a victim's family members) might be involved in the plea negotiations;

iii. be familiar with any rights afforded the alleged victim or victims (and a victim's family members) under La. Const. art I, §25, R.S. 46:1841 et seq., or other applicable law; and

iv. be familiar with the practice of the prosecutor and/or victim-witness advocate working with the prosecutor and to what extent, if any, they defer to the wishes of the alleged victim.

3. In conducting plea negotiations, counsel should be familiar with and should fully explain to the client:

a. the various types of pleas that may be agreed to, including a plea of guilty, a nolo contendere plea in which the client is not required to personally acknowledge his or her guilt (North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25 (1970)), and a guilty plea conditioned upon reservation of appellate review of pre-plea assignments of non-jurisdictional error (State v. Crosby, 338 So.2d 584 (La. 1976));

b. the advantages and disadvantages of each available plea according to the circumstances of the case; and

c. whether any plea agreement is or can be made binding on the court and prison and parole authorities, and whether the client or the state has a right to appeal the conviction and/or sentence and what would happen if an appeal was successful.

4. In conducting plea negotiations, counsel should become familiar with and fully explain to the client, the practices, policies, and concerns of the particular jurisdiction, judge and prosecuting authority, probation department, the family of the victim and any other persons or entities which may affect the content and likely results of plea negotiations.

5. In conducting plea negotiations counsel should be familiar with and fully explain to the client any ongoing exposure to prosecution in any other jurisdiction for the same or related offending and where possible, seek to fully resolve the client's exposure to prosecution for the offending and any related offending.

C. The Advice and Decision to Enter a Plea of Guilty

1. Subject to considerations of diminished capacity, counsel should abide by the client's decision, after meaningful consultation with counsel, as to a plea to be entered.

2. Counsel should explain, in an age and developmentally appropriate manner, all matters relevant to the plea decision to the extent reasonably necessary to permit the client to make informed decisions regarding the appropriate plea. In particular, counsel should investigate and explain to the client the prospective strengths and weaknesses of the case for the prosecution and defense at both guilt and sentencing and on appellate, post-conviction and habeas corpus review.

3. Counsel should carefully and thoroughly explore the client's understanding of the matters explained including, in particular, the procedural posture of his case, the trial, appellate and post-conviction process, the likelihood of success at trial, the likely disposition at trial and the practical effect of each disposition, the practical effect of each available plea decision and counsel's professional advice on which plea to enter.

4. In providing the client with advice, counsel should refer not only to law but to other considerations such as moral, economic, social and political factors that may be relevant to the client's situation. Counsel may enlist the assistance of others to assist in ensuring that the client is able to make an informed decision having regard to these considerations.

5. Counsel should pursue every reasonable avenue to overcome any barriers to communication and trust in discussing a possible agreed upon disposition. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client's capacity to make a decision in his own best interests is not impaired, for example, by the effects of age and its attendant circumstances, intellectual disability, mental illness, cognitive impairment, language impairment, trauma, family dysfunction, third party interference or conditions of confinement.

6. The considerations applicable to the advice and decision to enter a plea of guilty will also apply to the decision to enter into an agreed disposition in an appellate or post-conviction posture.

D. Entering the Negotiated Plea before the Court

1. Notwithstanding any earlier discussions with the client, prior to the entry of the plea, counsel should meet with the client in a confidential setting that fosters full communication and:

a. make certain that the client understands the rights he or she will waive by entering the plea and that the client's decision to waive those rights is knowing, voluntary and intelligent;

b. make certain that the client receives a full explanation of the conditions and limits of the plea agreement and the maximum punishment, sanctions and collateral consequences the client will be exposed to by entering a plea;

c. explain to the client the nature of the plea hearing and prepare the client for the role he or she will play in the hearing, including answering questions of the judge and providing a statement concerning the offense;

d. make certain that if the plea is a non-negotiated plea, the client is informed that once the plea has been accepted by the court, it may not be withdrawn after the sentence has been pronounced by the court;

e. ensure that the client is mentally competent and psychologically capable of making a decision to enter a plea of guilty;

f. be satisfied that the client admits guilt or believes there is a substantial likelihood of conviction at trial, and believes that it is in his or her best interests to plead guilty under the plea agreement rather than risk the consequence of conviction after trial; and

g. be satisfied that the state would likely be able to prove the charge(s) against the client at trial.

2. When entering the plea, counsel should make sure that the full content and conditions of the plea agreement are placed on the record before the court.

3. Subsequent to the acceptance of the plea, counsel should review and explain the plea proceedings to the client, and respond to any questions or concerns the client may have.

§2131. Pre-Trial Litigation

A. Obligations Regarding court Hearings

1. Counsel should prepare for and attend all court proceedings involving the client and/or the client's case. Counsel should be present, alert and focused on the client's best interests during all stages of the court proceedings.

2. As soon as possible after entry of counsel into the case, counsel should provide general advice to the client on how court proceedings will be conducted, how the client should conduct himself in court settings, how the client should communicate with counsel and others in the court setting and how the client should react to events in court. Counsel should advise the client on appropriate demeanor and presentation in court and take reasonable steps to assist the client in maintaining an appropriate demeanor and presentation. Counsel should plan, with the client, the most convenient system for conferring throughout any court proceeding.

3. Prior to any court hearing, counsel should explain to the client, in an age and developmentally appropriate manner, what is expected to happen before, during and after each hearing. Where the client may be directly addressed by the court or asked to speak on the record, counsel should warn the client in advance and both advise the client on how to proceed and prepare the client for any potential colloquy or testimony. Counsel should advise the client that he has the right to confer with counsel before answering any question, even if it means interrupting the proceedings.

4. Counsel should take all necessary steps to overcome any barriers to communication or understanding by the client during court proceedings, including the use of interpreters, slowing the rate of proceedings, taking adequate breaks, using age and developmentally appropriate language and explaining proceedings to the client during the hearing.

5. Counsel should document in the client's file a summary of all pertinent information arising from each court hearing and take particular care to memorialize communications and events that will not appear in the court record or transcript.

6. Counsel should ensure that the court minutes and any transcript accurately reflect the orders, statements and events occurring in court and that all exhibits have been marked, identified and placed into the record.

B. Obligations of Counsel Following Arrest

1. Counsel or a representative of counsel have an obligation to meet with incarcerated clients for an initial interview within 24 hours of counsel's initial entry into the case, barring exceptional circumstances, and shall take other prompt action necessary to provide high-quality legal representation including:

a. invoking the protections of appropriate constitutional provisions, federal and state laws, statutory provisions, and court rules on behalf of a client, and revoking any waivers of these protections purportedly given by the client, as soon as practicable by correspondence and a notice of appearance or other pleading filed with the State and court. More specifically, counsel should communicate in an appropriate manner with both the client and the government regarding the protection of the client's rights against self-incrimination, to the effective assistance of counsel, and to preservation of the attorney-client privilege and similar safeguards. Counsel at all stages of the case should re-advise the client and the government regarding these matters as appropriate and assert the client's right to counsel at any post-arrest procedure such as a line-up, medical evaluation, psychological evaluation, physical testing or the taking of a forensic sample;

b. counsel shall represent the client at the continued custody hearing in order to contest transfer to adult court in accordance with performance standard 2125;

c. where possible, ensuring that counsel shall represent the client at a first appearance hearing conducted under La. C. Cr. P. art. 230.1 in order to contest transfer to adult court, contest probable cause for a client arrested without an arrest warrant, to seek bail on favorable terms (after taking into consideration the adverse impact, if any, such efforts may have upon exercising the client's right to a full bond hearing at a later date), and will invoke constitutional and statutory protections on behalf of the client, and otherwise advocate for the interests of the client.

2. Prior to indictment, counsel should take steps to secure the pretrial release of the client where such steps will not jeopardize the client's ability to defend against any later indictment. Where the client is unable to obtain pretrial release, counsel should take all reasonable steps to identify and ensure that the client's medical, mental health, education and security needs are being met and that the jail is in full compliance with PREA.

a. Counsel should consider requesting the client be held in a facility intended for juveniles rather than an adult jail.

b. Counsel shall advocate for the client to be provided a free and appropriate educational plan as required by the PREA, including special education as appropriate. Maintenance of the client's education may result in the development of positive mitigation evidence, and may be beneficial to the client's mental health.

c. Counsel shall consult with the client about requesting sight and sound isolation from adults, taking reasonable steps to explain the potential positive and negative consequences of such isolation.

3. While counsel should only seek to submit evidence for the client to the grand jury in exceptional cases, counsel should consider in each particular case whether such an application is appropriate in the circumstances.

4. Where counsel is assigned to the case of a defendant arrested outside of Louisiana, counsel should immediately contact any attorney representing the client in the jurisdiction of arrest to share information as appropriate and coordinate the representation of the client. Where the client is not represented in the jurisdiction of arrest, counsel should take all reasonable steps to arrange effective representation for him. Ordinarily, counsel should travel to the jurisdiction of arrest to consult with and provide legal advice to the client with respect to the Louisiana case and the ramifications for the case of waiving or contesting extradition. Counsel should conduct the initial interviews with the client, the assertion and protection of the client's rights and the investigation of the case, including the circumstances of the arrest, in accordance with these standards, regardless of whether the client is being held in the jurisdiction of arrest or has been extradited to Louisiana.

Counsel should not wait for the client to be extradited before commencing active representation of the client.

C. Counsel's Duties at the Preliminary Hearing

1. In the absence of exceptional circumstances, counsel should move for a preliminary hearing in all cases in a timely fashion, having regard to prosecution practices in the particular jurisdiction and the likely timing of any indictment. Counsel shall move for a preliminary hearing even when a continued custody hearing has been held and even where counsel represented the client at a continued custody hearing. If counsel is denied a preliminary hearing, counsel shall move for an adversarial bond hearing where counsel shall ensure his ability to examine witnesses.

2. In the event the client is subject to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, in the absence of exceptional circumstances, counsel shall enforce the client's right to a continued custody hearing. Counsel should consider the strategic benefit of negotiating or requesting a continuance of the continued custody hearing, having regard for prosecution practices in the particular jurisdiction, the opportunity to conduct pre-hearing investigation, the opportunity to negotiate retaining juvenile jurisdiction over the case and the likely timing of any indictment. A continued custody hearing shall not substitute for a preliminary hearing.

3. While the primary function of the preliminary hearing is to ensure that probable cause exists to hold the client in custody or under bond obligation, the hearing may provide collateral advantages for the client by:

- a. creating a transcript of cross-examination of state's witnesses for use as an impeachment tool;
- b. preserving testimony favorable to the client of a witness who may not appear at trial;
- c. providing discovery of the state's case;
- d. allowing for more effective and earlier preparation of a defense; and
- e. persuading the prosecution to refuse the charges or accept lesser charges for prosecution.

4. Counsel should conduct as thorough an investigation of the case as is possible in the time allowed before the preliminary hearing to best inform strategic decisions regarding the subpoenaing of witnesses and the scope and nature of cross-examination. Counsel should fully exercise the rights to subpoena and cross-examine witnesses to seek a favorable outcome at the preliminary hearing and maximize the collateral advantages to the client of the proceedings.

5. In preparing for the preliminary hearing, the attorney should be familiar with:

- a. the elements of each of the offenses alleged;
- b. the requirements for establishing probable cause;
- c. factual information which is available concerning the existence of or lack of probable cause;

d. the tactics of full or partial cross-examination, including the potential impact on the admissibility of any witness' testimony if they are later unavailable for trial and how to respond to any objection on discovery grounds by showing how the question is relevant to probable cause;

e. additional factual information and impeachment evidence that could be discovered by counsel during the hearing; and

f. the subpoena process for obtaining compulsory attendance of witnesses at preliminary hearing and the necessary steps to be taken in order to obtain a proper recordation of the proceedings.

6. Counsel should not present defense evidence, especially the client's testimony, except in unusual circumstances where there is a sound tactical reason that overcomes the inadvisability of disclosing the defense case at this stage.

D. Counsel's Duties at Arraignment

1. Where possible, qualified counsel should be assigned prior to arraignment and should represent the client at arraignment.

2. Counsel should preserve the client's rights by entering a plea of not guilty in all but the most extraordinary circumstances where a sound tactical reason exists for not doing so.

3. If not already done, counsel should assert the client's Fifth and Sixth Amendment rights to silence and to counsel and should review with the client the need to remain silent.

4. If not already done, counsel should take all reasonable steps to identify and ensure that the client's medical, mental health educational and security needs are being met.

5. Counsel should move for discovery at or immediately following arraignment and shall reserve the right to file all other pretrial motions in accordance with the rules of criminal procedure. See performance standard 2131.F, formal and informal discovery.

E. Counsel's Duty in Pretrial Release Proceedings

1. Counsel should be prepared to present to the appropriate judicial officer a statement of the factual circumstances and the legal criteria supporting release pursuant to C.Cr.P. art. 331, and, where appropriate, to make a proposal concerning conditions of release.

2. Counsel should carefully consider the strategic benefits or risks of making an application for bail, including the timing of any application and any collateral benefits or risks that may be associated with a bail application.

3. Where the client is not able to obtain release under the conditions set by the court, counsel should consider pursuing modification of the conditions of release under the procedures available.

4. If the court sets conditions of release which require the posting of a monetary bond or the posting of real property as collateral for release, counsel should make sure the client understands the available options and the procedures that must be followed in posting such assets. Where appropriate, counsel should advise the client and others acting in his or her behalf how to properly post such assets.

5. Absent extraordinary circumstances, counsel shall advocate for the client to be held in the juvenile detention center. Whether the client is in juvenile or adult custody, counsel shall advocate for PREA and, where appropriate, IDEA compliant conditions of confinement. See performance standard 2131.B, obligation of counsel following arrest.

F. Formal and Informal Discovery

1. Counsel should pursue discovery, including filing a motion for discovery, a bill of particulars and conducting appropriate interviews. Counsel has a duty to pursue, as soon as practicable, discovery procedures provided by statute, by the rules of the jurisdiction, and to pursue such informal discovery methods as may be available to supplement the factual investigation of the case.

2. In considering discovery requests, counsel should take into account that such requests may trigger reciprocal discovery obligations. Counsel shall be familiar with the rules regarding reciprocal discovery and be aware of any potential obligations and time limits regarding reciprocal discovery.

3. Counsel should consider seeking discovery, at a minimum, of the following:

a. the precise statutory provision relied upon for the charge or indictment, including any aggravating factors that may be relied upon by the prosecution to establish first degree murder under R.S. 14:30;

b. any aggravating circumstances that may be relied upon by the prosecution in support of a sentence of life without parole;

c. any evidence that may be relied upon by the prosecution in support of the argument that the client is the "worst offender";

d. any written, recorded or oral statement, confession or response to interrogation made by or attributed to the client. Such discovery should, where possible, include a copy of any such confession or statement, the substance of any oral confession or statement and details as to when, where and to whom the confession or statement was made;

e. any record of the client's arrests and convictions and those of potential witnesses;

f. any information, document or tangible thing favorable to the client on the issues of guilt or punishment, including information relevant for impeachment purposes;

g. any documents or tangible evidence the state intends to use as evidence at trial, including but not limited to: all books, papers, documents, data, photographs, tangible objects, buildings or places, or copies, descriptions, or other representations, or portions thereof, relevant to the case;

h. any documents or tangible evidence obtained from or belonging to the client, including a list of all items seized from the client or from any place under the client's dominion;

i. any results or reports and underlying data of relevant physical or mental examinations, including medical records of the victim where relevant, and of scientific tests, experiments and comparisons, or copies thereof, intended for use at trial or favorable to the client on the issues of guilt or punishment;

j. one half of any DNA sample taken from the client;

k. any successful or unsuccessful out-of-court identification procedures undertaken or attempted;

l. any search warrant applications, including any affidavit in support, search warrant and return on search warrant;

m. any other crimes, wrongs or acts that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the guilt phase;

n. any other adjudicated or unadjudicated conduct that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the sentencing phase;

o. any victim impact information that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the sentencing phase, including any information favorable to the client regarding the victim or victim impact;

p. any statements of prosecution witnesses, though counsel should be particularly sensitive to the effect of any reciprocal discovery obligation triggered by such discovery;

q. any statements of co-conspirators;

r. any confessions and inculpatory statements of co-defendant(s) intended to be used at trial, and any exculpatory statements; and

s. any understanding or agreement, implicit or explicit, between any state actor and any witness as to consideration or potential favors in exchange for testimony, including any memorandum of understanding with a prisoner who may seek a sentence reduction.

4. Counsel should ensure that discovery requests extend to information and material in the possession of others acting on the government's behalf in the case, including law enforcement. This is particularly important where the investigation involved more than one law enforcement agency or law enforcement personnel from multiple jurisdictions.

5. Counsel should take all available steps to ensure that prosecutors comply with their ethical obligations to disclose favorable information contained in Rule 3.8(d) of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct.

6. Counsel should ensure that discovery requests extend to any discoverable material contained in memoranda or other internal state documents made by the district attorney or by agents of the state in connection with the investigation or prosecution of the case; or of statements made by witnesses or prospective witnesses, other than the client, to the district attorney, or to agents of the state.

7. Counsel should not limit discovery requests to those matters the law clearly requires the prosecution to disclose but should also request and seek to obtain other relevant information and material.

8. When appropriate, counsel should request open file discovery. Where open file discovery is granted, counsel should ensure that the full nature, extent and limitations of the open file discovery policy are placed on the court record. Where inspection of prosecution or law enforcement files is permitted, counsel should make a detailed and complete list of the materials reviewed and file this list into the court record.

9. Counsel should seek the timely production and preservation of discoverable information, documents or tangible things likely to become unavailable unless special measures are taken. If counsel believes the state may destroy or consume in testing evidence that is significant to the case (e.g., rough notes of law enforcement interviews, 911 tapes, drugs, or biological or forensic evidence like blood or urine samples), counsel should also file a motion to preserve evidence in the event that it is or may become discoverable.

10. Counsel should establish a thorough and reliable system of documenting all requests for discovery and all items provided in discovery, including the date of request and the date of receipt. This system should allow counsel to identify and prove, if necessary, the source of all information, documents and material received in discovery, when they were provided and under what circumstances. This system should allow counsel to identify and prove, where necessary, that any particular piece of information, document or material had not previously been provided in discovery.

11. Counsel should scrupulously examine all material received as soon as possible to identify and document the material received, to identify any materials that may be missing, illegible or unusable and to determine further areas of investigation or discovery. Where access is given to documents, objects or other materials counsel should promptly and scrupulously conduct an inspection of these items and carefully document the condition and contents of the items, using photographic or audio-visual means when appropriate. Expert assistance should be utilized where appropriate to ensure that a full and informed inspection of the items is conducted. Where a reproduction of an original document or item is provided (including photocopies, transcripts, photographs, audio or video depictions) counsel should promptly and scrupulously inspect and document the original items in order to ensure the accuracy of the reproduction provided and to identify any additional information available from inspection of the original that may not be available from the reproduction.

12. Counsel should file with the court an inventory of all materials received or inspected in discovery. This inventory should be sufficiently detailed to identify precisely each piece of information, document or thing received including, for example, how many pages a document contained and any pages that may have been missing.

13. Unless strong strategic considerations dictate otherwise, counsel should ensure that all discovery requests are made in a form that will allow counsel to enforce the requests to the extent possible and to seek the imposition of sanctions for non-compliance. Counsel should seek prompt compliance with discovery demands.

14. Where the state asserts that requested information is not discoverable, counsel should, where appropriate, request an in camera inspection of the material and seek to have the withheld material preserved in the record under seal. Counsel should recognize that a judge undertaking in camera review may not have sufficient understanding of the possible basis for disclosure, especially the ways in which information may be favorable to defense in the particular case. Where in camera review is undertaken, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the judge is sufficiently informed to make an accurate assessment of the information, including through the use of ex parte and under seal proffer, where appropriate and permissible.

15. Counsel should timely comply with requirements governing disclosure of evidence by the defendant and notice of defenses and expert witnesses. Counsel also should be aware of the possible sanctions for failure to comply with those requirements. Unless justified by strategic considerations, counsel should not disclose any matter or thing not required by law and should seek to limit both the scope and timing of any defense discovery. Counsel should take all reasonable steps to prevent the prosecution from obtaining private or confidential information concerning the client, including matters such as medical, mental health, social services, juvenile court, educational and financial information. Counsel should be wary of discussing any confidential matters over the recorded jail phones.

16. Counsel should understand the law governing the prosecution's power to require a defendant to provide non-testimonial evidence (such as handwriting exemplars, lineups, photo show-ups, voice identifications, and physical specimens like blood, semen, and urine), the circumstances in which a defendant may refuse to do so, the extent to which counsel may participate in the proceedings, and the required preservation of the record. Counsel should raise appropriate objections to requests for non-testimonial evidence and should insist on appropriate safeguards when these procedures are to occur. Counsel should also prepare the client for participation in such procedures. Counsel should accompany the client, insist that the police not require the client to answer any questions and, if necessary, return to court before complying with the order.

G. The Duty to File Pretrial Motions

1. Counsel at every stage of the case, exercising professional judgment in accordance with these standards should consider all legal and factual claims potentially available, including all good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law. Counsel should thoroughly investigate the basis for each potential claim before reaching a conclusion as to whether it should be asserted.

2. Counsel should give consideration to the full range of motions and other pleadings available and pertinent to a JLWOP case when determining the motions to be filed in the particular case, including motions to proceed ex parte. Counsel should file motions tailored to the individual case that provide the court with all necessary information, rather than pro forma or boilerplate motions. The requirement that counsel file motions tailored to the individual case is not a prohibition against also filing motions that raise previously identified legal issues, nor is it a prohibition on the filing of boilerplate motions where no tailoring of the motion is necessary or appropriate in the case.

3. The decision to file pretrial motions and memoranda should be made after considering the applicable law in light of the circumstances of each case. Each potential claim should be evaluated in light of:

- a. the unique characteristics of juvenile law and practice;
- b. the unique characteristics of a sentencing hearing for a juvenile facing a possible sentence of life without parole;
- c. the potential impact of any pretrial motion or ruling on the strategy for the sentencing phase;
- d. the near certainty that all available avenues of appellate and post-conviction relief will be pursued in the event of conviction and imposition of a life without parole sentence;
- e. the importance of protecting the client's rights against later contentions by the government that the claim has been waived, defaulted, not exhausted, or otherwise forfeited;
- f. the significant limitations placed upon factual development of claims in subsequent stages of the case; and
- g. any other professionally appropriate costs and benefits to the assertion of the claim.

4. Among the issues that counsel should consider addressing in pretrial motions practice are:

- a. matters potentially developed in early stages of investigation and discovery, including:
  - i. the pretrial custody of the accused, including the appropriate bond amount and the need for an adversarial hearing to explore the same;
  - ii. the need to divest the criminal court of jurisdiction or the improper or unwarranted transfer of the client to criminal court;

- iii. the need for appropriate, ongoing and confidential access to the client by counsel, investigators, mitigation specialists and experts;

- iv. the need for a preliminary hearing, including a post-indictment preliminary hearing;

- v. the statutory, constitutional and ethical discovery obligations including the reciprocal discovery obligations of the defense;

- vi. the need for and adequacy of a bill of particulars;

- vii. the need for and adequacy of notice of other crimes or bad acts to be admitted in the guilt or sentencing phase of trial;

- viii. the need for and adequacy of notice of any victim impact evidence;

- ix. the preservation of and provision of unimpeded access to evidence and witnesses;

- x. the use of compulsory process to complete an adequate investigation, including the possible use of special process servers;

- xi. the prevention or modification of any investigative or procedural step proposed by the state that violates any right, duty or privilege arising out of federal, state or local law or is contrary to the interests of the client;

- xii. access to experts or resources required by, among other things, these standards which may be denied to an accused because of his indigence;

- xiii. the client's right to a speedy trial;

- xiv. the client's right to a continuance in order to adequately prepare his or her case;

- xv. the need for a change of venue;

- xvi. the need to obtain a gag order;

- xvii. the need to receive notice of and be present at hearings involving co-defendants and to receive copies of pleadings filed by any co-defendant;

- xviii. the dismissal of a charge on double jeopardy grounds;

- xix. the recusal of the trial judge, the prosecutor and/or prosecutor's office;

- xx. competency of the client;

- xxi. intellectual disability;

- xxii. the nature, scope and circumstances of any testing or assessment of the client;

- xxiii. extension of any motions filing deadline or the entitlement to file motions after the expiration of a motions deadline; and

- xxiv. requiring the state to respond to motions in writing;

b. matters likely to be more fully developed after comprehensive discovery, including:

i. the constitutionality of the implicated statute or statutes;

ii. the constitutionality of a juvenile life without parole sentence generally, as applied in Louisiana, and as applied to the client's case;

iii. the potential defects in the grand jury composition, the charging process or the allotment;

iv. the sufficiency of the charging document under all applicable statutory and constitutional provisions, as well as other defects in the charging document such as surplusage in the document which may be prejudicial;

v. any basis upon which the indictment may be quashed;

vi. the adequacy and constitutionality of any aggravating factors or circumstances;

vii. the propriety and prejudice of any joinder of charges or defendants in the charging document;

viii. the permissible scope and nature of evidence that may be offered by the prosecution in aggravation of sentence or by the defense in mitigation of sentence;

ix. abuse of prosecutorial discretion in seeking a sentence of life without parole;

x. the suppression of evidence or statements gathered or presented in violation of the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, or corresponding state constitutional and statutory provisions with special attention to the particular issues raised by the client's age and attendant circumstances;

xi. suppression of evidence or statements gathered in violation of any right, duty or privilege arising out of state or local law with special attention to the particular issues raised by the client's age and attendant circumstances;

xii. the admissibility of evidence of other crimes, wrongs or acts that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the guilt phase with special attention to the particular issues raised by the client's age and attendant circumstances;

xiii. the admissibility of any unrelated criminal conduct that may be relied upon by the prosecution in the sentencing phase with special attention to the particular issues raised by the client's age and attendant circumstances;

xiv. the suppression of a prior conviction obtained in violation of the defendant's right to counsel;

xv. notices of affirmative defenses with all required information included; and

xvi. notices necessary to entitle the client to present particular forms of evidence at trial, such as alibi notice and notice of intention to rely upon mental health evidence;

c. matters likely arising later in pretrial litigation and in anticipation of trial, including:

i. in limine motions to exclude evidence that is inadmissible as a result of a lack of relevance, probative force being outweighed by prejudicial effect, the lack of a necessary foundation, failure to satisfy the threshold for expert evidence or for other reasons;

ii. the constitutionality of the scope of and any limitations placed upon any affirmative defense or the use of a particular form of favorable evidence;

iii. the competency of a particular witness or class of witnesses;

iv. the nature and scope of victim impact evidence;

v. in limine motions to prevent prosecutorial misconduct or motions to halt or mitigate the effects of prosecutorial misconduct;

vi. matters of trial evidence or procedure at either phase of the trial which may be appropriately litigated by means of a pretrial motion in limine;

vii. matters of trial or courtroom procedure, including: recordation of all proceedings, including bench and chambers conferences; timing and duration of hearings; prohibition of ex parte communications; manner of objections; ensuring the client's presence at hearings; medication of the client; avoiding prejudice arising from any security measures;

viii. challenges to the process of establishing the jury venire;

ix. the desirability of jury determination of sentence;

x. the use of a jury questionnaire;

xi. the manner and scope of Voir dire, the use of cause and peremptory challenges and the management of sequestration;

xii. the desirability and circumstances of the jury viewing any scene; and xiii. the instructions to be delivered at guilt and sentencing;

d. counsel should withdraw or decide not to file a motion only after careful consideration, and only after determining whether the filing of a motion may be necessary to protect the client's rights, including later claims of waiver or procedural default. In making this decision, counsel should remember that a motion has many objectives in addition to the ultimate relief requested by the motion. Counsel thus should consider whether:

i. the time deadline for filing pretrial motions warrants filing a motion to preserve the client's rights, pending the results of further investigation;

ii. changes in the governing law might occur after the filing deadline which could enhance the likelihood that relief ought to be granted; and

iii. later changes in the strategic and tactical posture of the defense case may occur which affect the significance of potential pretrial motions.

5. Counsel should timely file motions according to the applicable rules and caselaw, provide notice of an intention to file more motions where appropriate, reserve the right to supplement motions once discovery has been completed, offer good cause and seek to file appropriate motions out of time and seek to file necessary and appropriate motions out of time even where good cause for delay is not available. If counsel needs more time to file a motion, counsel should request more time.

6. Counsel should give careful consideration before joining in co-defendants' motions and should avoid any possibility that the client will be deemed to have joined in a co-defendant's motions without a knowing, affirmative adoption of the motions by counsel.

7. As a part of the strategic plan for the case, counsel should maintain a document describing the litigation theory in the case, including a list of all motions considered for filing and the reason for filing or not filing each motion considered. The litigation theory document should also detail the timing and disposition of all motions. The current litigation theory document and any prior drafts of the document should be maintained in the client's file. See performance standard 2127(E), development of a strategic plan for the case.

H. Preparing, Filing, and Arguing Pretrial Motions

1. Motions should be filed in a timely manner, should comport with the formal requirements of the court rules and should succinctly inform the court of the authority relied upon. Counsel should seek an evidentiary hearing for any motion in which factual findings or the presentation of evidence would be in the client's interests. Where an evidentiary hearing is denied, counsel should make a proffer of the proposed evidence.

2. When a hearing on a motion requires the taking of evidence, counsel's preparation for the evidentiary hearing should include:

a. factual investigation and discovery as well as careful research of appropriate case law relevant to the claim advanced;

b. the subpoenaing of all helpful evidence and the subpoenaing and preparation of all witnesses with information pertinent to the instant or future proceedings;

c. full understanding of the burdens of proof, evidentiary principles and trial court procedures applying to the hearing, including the benefits and potential consequences of having the client and other defense witnesses testify;

d. familiarity with all applicable procedures for obtaining evidentiary hearings prior to trial;

e. obtaining the assistance of expert witnesses where appropriate and necessary;

f. careful preparation of any witnesses who are called, especially the client;

g. careful preparation for and conduct of examination or cross-examination of any witness, having particular regard to the possibility that the state may later seek to rely upon the transcript of the evidence should the witness become unavailable;

h. consideration of any collateral benefits or disadvantages that may arise from the evidentiary hearing;

i. obtaining stipulation of facts by and between counsel, where appropriate; and

j. preparation and submission of a memorandum of law where appropriate.

3. When asserting a legal claim, counsel should present the claim as forcefully as possible, tailoring the presentation to the particular facts and circumstances in the client's case and the applicable law in the particular jurisdiction. Counsel should pursue good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law.

4. Counsel should ensure that a full record is made of all legal proceedings in connection with the claim. If a hearing on a pretrial motion is held in advance of trial, counsel should obtain the transcript of the hearing where it may be of assistance in preparation for or use at trial.

5. In filing, scheduling, contesting or consenting to any pretrial motion, including scheduling orders, counsel should be aware of the effect it might have upon the client's statutory and constitutional speedy trial rights.

I. Continuing Duty to File Motions

1. Counsel at all stages of the case should be prepared to raise during subsequent proceedings any issue which is appropriately raised at an earlier time or stage, but could not have been so raised because the facts supporting the motion were unknown or not reasonably available.

2. Further, counsel should be prepared to renew a motion or supplement claims previously made with additional factual or legal information if new supporting information is disclosed or made available in later proceedings, discovery or investigation.

3. Where counsel has failed to timely provide a required notice or file a motion, counsel should seek to file the motion or notice out of time regardless of whether good cause exists for the earlier failure to file and be prepared to present any argument for good cause that is available. Where a court bars a notice or motion as untimely, counsel should ensure that a copy of the notice or motion is maintained in the record and available for any subsequent review.

4. Counsel should also renew pretrial motions and object to the admission of challenged evidence at trial as necessary to preserve the motions and objections for appellate review.

5. Counsel shall have the discretion to assist incarcerated clients seeking redress of institutional grievances or responding to institutional proceedings and should do so where the resolution of the grievance or proceeding is likely to be of significance in the JLWOP proceeding.

J. Duty to File and Respond to Supervisory Writ Applications

1. Where appropriate, counsel should make application for supervisory writs in the Circuit Court of Appeal or the Louisiana Supreme Court following an adverse district court ruling or failure to rule. Counsel should give specific consideration to: the extent to which relief is more likely in an interlocutory posture or after a final decision on the merits of the case; the extent of prejudice from the ruling of the district court and the likely ability to demonstrate that prejudice following a final decision on the merits of the case; the impact of the district court's current ruling on the conduct of the defense in the absence of intervention by a reviewing court; the impact of a ruling by a reviewing court in a writ posture on any subsequent review on direct appeal; the adequacy of the record created in the district court and whether the record for review may be improved through further district court proceedings.

2. Counsel should seek expedited consideration or a stay where appropriate and consider the simultaneous filing of writ applications in the Court of Appeal and Supreme Court in emergency circumstances.

3. Counsel should take great care to ensure that all filings in the Courts of Appeal and the Louisiana Supreme Court comply with the requirement of the relevant Rules of Court, including any local rules.

4. Counsel should ensure that an adequate record is created in the district court to justify and encourage the exercise of the supervisory jurisdiction of the Courts of Appeal or Louisiana Supreme Court.

5. Counsel should seek to respond to any state application for supervisory writs except where exceptional circumstances justify the choice not to respond.

6. A lack of adequate time, resources or expertise is not an adequate reason for failing to make application for supervisory writs or failing to respond to a state application. Where counsel lacks adequate time, resources or expertise, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the defense team has sufficient time, resources and expertise, including seeking assignment of additional counsel. Counsel shall ensure that the role of lack of time or resources upon the decision to file a writ application is reflected in the record.

AUTHORITY NOTE: Promulgated in accordance with R.S. 15:148.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Promulgated by the Office of the Governor, Public Defender Board, LR 43:1933 (October 2017).

§2133. Special Circumstances

A. Duties of Counsel at Re-Trial

The standards for trial level representation apply fully to counsel assigned to represent a client at a re-trial of the guilt or sentencing phase. Counsel should be careful to clarify on the record the status of prior rulings made and orders issued in the proceedings. Where appropriate, counsel should seek to renew and re-litigate pre-trial claims, and to raise any new claims which have developed or been discovered since the first trial. Counsel should not rely on the investigation or presentation of evidence from the first trial, but rather should start anew and seek to develop and present all available evidence, with the knowledge gained from the results of the first trial. Except in circumstances where counsel has substantial reason to believe the results will be different or no other witnesses are available, counsel should not present witnesses who provided unhelpful testimony earlier in the case.

B. Continuing Responsibility to Raise Issue of Client's Incompetence

1. Competence is a common issue for a juvenile facing a possible sentence of life without parole due to age and its attendant circumstances, including adolescent brain development, the nature of the charge, complexity of the case and the gravity of the decisions with which the client is faced. As a result, counsel should proceed with increased sensitivity to the question of competency and ensure that the defense team has members with sufficient skill and experience to identify and respond to issues relating to competency.

2. Counsel should be sensitive to the increased risk that, given the nature of the charge, the complexity of the case, the unique nature of the sentencing hearing, and the possibility of a life without parole sentence, a client may not sufficiently understand and appreciate: the nature of the charge and its seriousness; the defenses available at guilt and sentencing phase and how each affects the other; the consequences of each available plea on both guilt and sentencing; and, the range of possible verdicts and the consequences of those verdicts at guilt and sentencing.

3. In considering a juvenile client's ability to assist counsel in a JLWOP case, counsel should have particular regard to the requirement that the client be able to assist counsel not only as to the guilt phase but in the development of the mitigation case and the presentation of the sentencing phase case; a process that will include an exhaustive investigation of the client's character, history, record, the offense and other factors which may provide a basis for a sentence less than life without parole. The possibility of a sentence of life without parole and the necessity to prepare for and present a sentencing phase case greatly increase the complexity and weight of the demands placed upon the client in assisting counsel, including considerations of whether the client: is able to recall and relate facts pertaining to his actions and whereabouts at certain times; is able to maintain a consistent defense; is able to listen to the testimony of witnesses and inform counsel of any distortions or misstatements; has the ability to make simple decisions in response to well explained alternatives; is capable of testifying in his own defense; and, is apt to suffer a deterioration of his mental condition under the stress of trial or at a later stage of the case.

4. Counsel involved in a juvenile life without parole case at stages following the trial should be alert to additional concerns regarding the client's mental state, functioning and ability including existing issues that could be exacerbated by the reality that a life without parole sentence has been imposed, as well as by the effects of confinement on a juvenile, particularly prolonged confinement, such as the development or progression of depression or other mental illnesses. Similarly, counsel at later stages should have particular regard to issues such as the client's ability to establish relationships with new counsel at later stages in the case, especially where earlier relationships were difficult for the client, and the client's ability to assist counsel with tasks such as investigations taking place years after the trial when deficiencies such as memory loss may become more pervasive.

5. In every JLWOP case, counsel should conduct a thorough, sensitive and ongoing inquiry into the competence of the client. Where concerns exist about a client's competence, counsel should ensure that the defense team documents in the client's file observations and interactions relevant to the client's competence.

6. Recognizing that raising competency may expose the client himself and otherwise confidential information to state actors, counsel should not raise competency unless satisfied that: a sufficient investigation has been conducted to make a reliable strategic decision in this regard; the client is likely not competent; and, the benefits to the client of raising competency outweigh the negatives. Counsel should consider the possibility that any information disclosed in competency proceedings will become admissible at trial as a result of the client's mental health being placed in issue.

7. In considering whether to raise competence, counsel should take into account all relevant circumstances, including: the likely outcome of an assessment by a sanity commission; the likely outcome of an assessment by a state expert; any negative findings, including malingering findings, that may arise from an assessment of the client; any negative information that may be divulged to the state from a review of records; any waiver of confidentiality arising from raising competence; the impact upon counsel's relationship with the client and his family of raising competence; the impact of raising competence before or during trial on any subsequent guilt or sentencing phase presentation; and, the effect on any subsequently available claim that the client was incompetent.

8. The delay caused by raising a question of competence with the court is not a proper reason for raising competence. Seeking to defray defense costs by having a court appointed mental health examination is not a proper reason for raising competence.

9. Prior to raising competence with the court, counsel should consult with a defense mental health expert, including having the expert review the available information and records relating to the client and, where appropriate, assessing the client.

10. Counsel should fully advise the client concerning the procedures for mental examinations, the reasons competence is in question, the possibility of hospitalization, and the consequences of an incompetency determination.

11. Where the court or the state raises the issue of competency, counsel should consider whether it is appropriate to resist any competency examination or advise the client not to cooperate with any such examination.

12. Where a sanity commission is appointed, counsel should ensure that the members of the sanity commission are independent and appropriately qualified to evaluate an adolescent. Counsel should ensure that the scope of any examination is limited to the proper purposes for which it has been ordered. Counsel should consider seeking to be present, have a defense expert present or have recorded any examination of the client. Counsel should consider which records and witnesses, if any, should be identified and made available to the sanity commission.

13. Where the state seeks an examination of the client by a physician or mental health expert of the state's choice, counsel should consider opposing or seeking to limit such an examination and should also consider whether to advise the client not to cooperate with any such examination. Counsel should ensure that the scope of any examination is limited to the proper purposes for which it has been ordered. Counsel should consider seeking to be present, have a defense expert present or have recorded any examination of the client. Counsel should consider which records and witnesses, if any, should be identified and made available to the state's expert.

14. Counsel should obtain copies of: each examiner's report, all underlying notes and test materials; and, all records and materials reviewed. Where the client is hospitalized or otherwise placed under observation, counsel should obtain copies of all records of the hospitalization or observation.

15. Counsel should not stipulate to the client's competence where there appears a reasonable possibility that the client is not competent. Counsel is not obligated to develop frivolous arguments in favor of incompetency but must investigate and advocate in a way that ensures that there is meaningful adversarial testing where there is a good faith basis to doubt the client's competency.

16. At the competency hearing, counsel should protect and exercise the client's constitutional and statutory rights, including cross-examining the sanity commissioners and the state's witnesses, calling witnesses on behalf of the client including experts, and making appropriate evidentiary objections. Counsel should make sure that the inquiry does not stray beyond the appropriate boundaries. Counsel should consider the advantages and disadvantages to the client's whole case when determining how to conduct the competency hearing.

17. Counsel may elect to relate to the court personal observations of and conversations with the client to the extent that counsel does not disclose client confidences. Counsel may respond to inquiries about the attorney-client relationship and the client's ability to communicate effectively with counsel to the extent that such responses do not disclose confidential or privileged information.

18. If a client is found to be incompetent, counsel should advocate for the least restrictive level of supervision and the least intrusive treatment.

19. Where competency is at issue, or where the client has been found incompetent, counsel has a continuing duty to investigate and prepare the case. Where a client has been found irrestorably incompetent, counsel should continue to investigate and prepare the case sufficiently to ensure that the client will not be prejudiced by any delay or hiatus in the preparation of the case should he subsequently be returned to competence and the prosecution resumed.

20. A previously competent client may become incompetent over the course of a case and particularly under the stress of hearings and trial. Counsel should be vigilant and constantly reassess the client's competence and be prepared to raise the matter when appropriate. It is never untimely to raise a question concerning a client's competence.

21. Some clients object strenuously to taking psychotropic medication and counsel may be called upon to advocate for protection of the client's qualified right to refuse medication.

C. Duties of Counsel When Client Attempts to Waive Right to Counsel, and Duties of Standby and Hybrid Counsel

1. When a client expresses a desire to waive the right to counsel, counsel should take steps to protect the client's interests, to avoid conflicts and to ensure that the client makes a knowing, voluntary and intelligent decision in exercise of his rights under the Sixth Amendment and La. Const. art. I, § 13. In particular, counsel should:

a. meet with the client as soon as possible to discuss the reasons the client wishes to proceed pro se and to advise the client of the many disadvantages of proceeding pro se. Such advice should include: the full nature of the charges; the range of punishments; the possible defenses; the role of mitigation prior to and at trial; the complexities involved and the rights and interests at stake; and the client's capacity to perform the role of defense attorney. Such advice should also include an explanation of the stages of appellate, post-conviction and habeas corpus review of any conviction or sentence, the effect of failing to effectively preserve issues for review and the impact of waiver of counsel on any possible ineffective assistance of counsel claim.

b. if the client maintains an intention or inclination to waive counsel, counsel should immediately request that an attorney with experience representing juveniles consult with the defendant and provide independent advice on the exercise of his Sixth Amendment rights. The role of independent counsel in this situation is not to represent the client in the exercise of his Sixth Amendment rights but instead to ensure that the client receives full and independent legal advice before choosing whether to waive his right to counsel.

c. in addition to seeking the assignment of independent counsel, counsel assigned to represent the defendant should immediately commence a thorough investigation into the question of the defendant's competence to waive counsel and whether, in the circumstances, any such waiver would be knowing, voluntary and intelligent. Such an investigation should not be limited to information obtained from interaction with the client but should include a detailed examination of available collateral sources (including documents and witnesses) as well as consultation with relevant experts.

2. Where a client asserts his right to self-representation counsel has an obligation both to investigate the question of the client's competence and the quality of the purported waiver and to bring before the court evidence raising doubts about these matters. Counsel should submit the case for the client's competent, knowing, voluntary and intelligent waiver to full adversarial testing. Counsel is not obligated to develop frivolous arguments in favor of incompetency but must investigate and advocate in a way that ensures that there is meaningful adversarial testing of the question of the waiver of representation by counsel. Counsel remains responsible for the representation of the client until such a time as the court grants the client's motion to proceed pro se and must continue to perform in compliance with these performance standards. Where appropriate, counsel should object to a court's ruling accepting a waiver of counsel, should ensure that the issue is preserved for appellate review and should seek interlocutory review of the decision.

3. Where a juvenile facing a possible sentence of life without parole has been permitted to proceed pro se, counsel should move for the appointment of standby counsel and should seek to persuade the defendant to accept the services of standby counsel. The court may appoint stand by counsel over the defendant's objection and counsel should ordinarily accept such an appointment. The court may place constraints on the role of standby counsel and standby counsel should object to any constraints beyond those required by the Sixth Amendment. Where the quality of the defendant's relationship with counsel assigned to represent the defendant is such that his or her ability to serve as standby counsel would be significantly impaired, counsel should request additional counsel and urge the court to appoint such additional counsel as are assigned to the role of standby counsel.

4. Attorneys acting as standby counsel shall comply with these performance standards to the extent possible within the limitations of their role as standby counsel. Counsel appointed as standby counsel shall be entitled to be remunerated and to have their expenses met in the same manner and to the same extent as they would if assigned to represent a defendant who was not proceeding pro se.

5. With the defendant's consent, and subject to any prohibition imposed by the court, standby counsel may perform any role in the case that counsel would ordinarily perform whether in front of or in the absence of the jury.

6. In the absence of his consent to do otherwise, a pro se defendant must be allowed to preserve actual control over the case he chooses to present to the jury and is entitled to ensure that the jury's perception that he is representing himself is preserved. Accordingly, a defendant must be allowed to control the organization and content of his own defense, to make motions, to argue points of law, to participate in Voir dire, to question witnesses, and to address the court and the jury at appropriate points in the trial.

7. Where the defendant does not consent to the actions of standby counsel, the permissible conduct of standby counsel is different depending on whether the jury is present, the issue is raised solely before a judge or the action is taken entirely out of court.

a. Where the defendant does not consent to the actions of standby counsel, counsel must not in the presence of the jury make or substantially interfere with any significant tactical decisions, control the questioning of witnesses or speak instead of the defendant on any matter of importance. Participation by counsel to steer a defendant through the basic procedures of trial is, however, permissible. Standby counsel should assist the pro se defendant in overcoming routine procedural or evidentiary obstacles to the completion of some specific task, such as introducing evidence or objecting to testimony that the defendant has clearly shown he wishes to complete. Counsel should also assist to ensure the defendant's compliance with basic rules of courtroom protocol and procedure.

b. Counsel's participation outside the presence of the jury is far less constrained. Even without the consent of the defendant, counsel may proactively participate in proceedings outside of the presence of the jury as long as the pro se defendant is allowed to address the court freely on his own behalf and disagreements between counsel and the pro se defendant are resolved by the judge in the defendant's favor whenever the matter is one that would normally be left to the discretion of counsel. Counsel should, in the absence of the jury, take such actions in the case as are consistent with the best interests of the client, including making any objections, and motions as would be consistent with high quality representation of the defendant.

8. Where it appears to standby counsel during the course of the proceedings that the decision to permit the defendant to proceed pro se or any decision to constrain the role of standby counsel should be revisited, counsel should move for reconsideration of those decisions.

9. Without interfering with the defendant's right to present his case in his own way, standby counsel should continue to fully prepare the case in order to be ready to assume responsibility for the representation of the defendant should the court or the defendant reverse the waiver of counsel. Where standby counsel is given or resumes responsibility for the representation of the defendant, counsel should move for all necessary time to prepare a defense for both the guilt and sentencing phases of the trial, as appropriate.

D. Counsel's Additional Responsibilities when Representing a Foreign National

1. Counsel at every stage of the case should make appropriate efforts to determine whether any foreign country might consider the client to be one of its nationals. Unless predecessor counsel has already done so, counsel representing a foreign national should:

a. immediately explain the benefits that the client may obtain through consular assistance;

b. immediately notify the client of the right to correspond with and have access to consular officers from his or her country of nationality via the nearest Consulate;

c. with the permission of the client, contact the nearest Consulate, and inform the relevant consular officials about the client's arrest and/or detention. In cases where counsel is unable to secure informed permission, professional judgment should be exercised to determine whether it is nevertheless appropriate to inform the Consulate;

d. where contact is made with the relevant Consulate, counsel should discuss what specific assistance the Consulate may be able to provide to the client in the particular case;

e. research, consider and preserve any legal rights the client may have on account of foreign nationality status; and

f. consider whether the client's foreign accent, dialect or knowledge of English is such that the client requires an interpreter and, if so, take steps to secure one without delay for the duration of proceedings.

2. Where counsel has reason to believe that the client may be a foreign national, counsel should ensure that the defense team includes adequate expertise and experience in dealing with the defense of foreign nationals.

§2135. Trial

A. Counsel's Duty of Trial Preparation

1. Throughout preparation and trial, counsel should consider the defense case theory and ensure that counsel's decisions and actions are consistent with that theory. Where counsel's decisions or actions are inconsistent with the theory, counsel should assess and understand why this is the case and then either change the conduct or change the theory to accommodate the new approach.

2. Counsel should complete the investigation, discovery, and research in advance of trial, such that counsel is confident that the most viable defense theory has been fully developed, pursued, and refined. Ordinarily, this process should be sufficiently advanced at least 180 days before trial to ensure that issues related to funding, expert witnesses, witness availability, securing witness attendance and accommodation, witness preparation and other trial preparation can proceed in an orderly and well planned fashion.

3. Counsel should not forgo investigation and preparation of a defense on the basis that the prosecution case appears weak or counsel believes that no penalty phase will be required.

4. Preparation for trial should include:

a. causing subpoenas to be issued for all potentially helpful witnesses, and all potentially helpful physical or documentary evidence:

i. counsel should ensure that all subpoenaed witnesses are aware of the correct date and time to appear in court, the action they should take when they appear in response to the subpoena and how to contact counsel if necessary;

ii. counsel should consider utilizing ex parte procedures for the subpoena of persons, documents or things when available;

iii. counsel should follow up on all subpoenas and follow procedures for informing the court of non-compliance and seeking enforcement;

iv. counsel may refrain from issuing subpoenas for particular witnesses based on strong tactical considerations and in the awareness of the waiver of the defendant's rights to compulsory process that this may entail.

b. arranging for defense experts to consult and/or testify on evidentiary issues that are potentially helpful (e.g., testing of physical evidence, opinion testimony, etc.):

i. adequate arrangements for the funding, scheduling and, where necessary, transport and accommodation of expert witnesses should be made.

ii. counsel should prepare with the experts and should be fully aware of the experts' opinions on all relevant matters, including relevant prior testimony, before deciding whether or not to present them at trial.

iii. counsel should determine the extent to which evidence to be addressed by an expert witness may be presented through lay witnesses;

c. ensuring that counsel has obtained, read and incorporated into the defense theory all discovery, results of defense investigation, transcripts from prior or related proceedings and notices, motions and rulings in the case;

d. obtaining photographs and preparing charts, maps, diagrams, or other visual aids of all scenes, persons, objects, or information which may assist the fact finder in understanding the defense;

e. ensuring that the facilities at the courthouse will be adequate to meet the needs of the trial and the defense team.

5. Counsel should have available at the time of trial all material relevant to both the guilt and sentencing phases that may be necessary or of assistance at trial, including:

i. copies of all relevant documents filed in the case;

ii. relevant documents prepared or obtained by investigators;

iii. Voir dire questions, topics or plans;

iv. outline or draft of opening statements for both guilt and sentencing phases;

v. cross-examination plans for all possible prosecution witnesses;

vi. direct examination plans for all prospective defense witnesses;

vii. copies of defense subpoenas and proof of service;

viii. prior statements and testimony of all prosecution witnesses (e.g., transcripts, police reports) and counsel should have prepared transcripts of any audio or video taped witness statements. Counsel should also be prepared to prove the prior statements if required;

ix. prior statements of all defense witnesses;

x. reports from defense experts;

xi. a list of all defense exhibits, and the witnesses through whom they will be introduced (as well as a contingency plan for having necessary exhibits admitted if, for example, a witness fails to appear);

xii. exhibits, including originals and copies of all documentary exhibits;

xiii. demonstrative materials, charts, overheads, computer presentations or other similar materials intended for use at trial;

xiv. proposed jury instructions with supporting case citations, and where appropriate, consider and list the evidence necessary to support the defense requests for jury instructions; and

xv. relevant statutes and cases.

6. Counsel should be fully informed as to the rules of evidence, court rules, and the law relating to all stages of the trial process, and should be familiar with legal and evidentiary issues that can reasonably be anticipated to arise in the trial. During case preparation and throughout trial, counsel should identify potential legal issues and the corresponding objections or motions. Counsel should consider when and how to raise those objections or motions. Counsel should also consider how best to respond to objections or motions that could be raised by the prosecution.

7. Counsel should anticipate state objections and possible adverse court rulings that may impact the defense case theory, be prepared to address any such issues and have contingency plans should counsel's efforts be unsuccessful. Counsel should consider in advance of trial and prepare for the possibility of any emergency writ applications which may be filed by either party as well as making arrangements to ensure that the defense team is able to efficiently and effectively litigate any unanticipated emergency writ applications.

8. Counsel should decide if it is beneficial to secure an advance ruling on issues likely to arise at trial (e.g., use of prior convictions to impeach the defendant, admissibility of particular items of evidence) and, where appropriate, counsel should prepare motions and memoranda for such advance rulings.

9. Counsel should advise the client as to suitable courtroom dress and demeanor. Counsel should ensure that the client has appropriate clothing and the court personnel follow appropriate procedures so as not to reveal to jurors that the client is incarcerated. Counsel should ensure that the client is not seen by the jury in any form of physical restraint. Counsel should ensure that steps are taken to avoid prejudice arising from any security measures in the court and object to the use of both visible restraints on the client and any concealed restraints that adversely impact the client physically or psychologically or impair the client's ability to consult freely with counsel.

10. Counsel should plan with the defense team the most convenient system for conferring throughout the trial. Where necessary, counsel should seek a court order to have the client available for conferences and all required court appearances.

11. Counsel should plan with the defense team for contingencies arising from the absence or unavailability of any team member and the procedure for accessing additional resources for the team whenever required. Lead counsel should ensure that additional resources, including legal, investigative and support personnel, are available and utilized as appropriate immediately prior to and during trial. Lead counsel should ensure that all members of the defense team are fully aware of their role and responsibilities at trial.

12. Throughout preparation and trial, counsel should consider the potential effects that particular actions may have upon the mitigation presentation and any verdict at the sentencing phase if there is a finding of guilt.

13. Counsel shall take necessary steps to ensure full, official recordation of all aspects of the court proceeding including motions, bench conferences in chambers or at sidebar, opening statements, closing arguments, and jury instructions. If something transpires during the trial that is relevant and significant and has not been made a part of the record (for instance, communications out of the presence of the court-reporter or non-verbal conduct), counsel should ensure that the record reflects what occurred.

14. Counsel should make a written request for a continuance if he or she determines that the defense is not adequately prepared for trial or otherwise not able to present a high quality defense on the scheduled trial date. Counsel should be prepared to proffer a full justification for the continuance, explaining the incomplete preparation, unavailable witness, prejudice from late disclosure by the state or other reason for the continuance. Counsel should be prepared to demonstrate reasonable diligence in preparing for trial but should request any necessary continuance even where counsel has not shown reasonable diligence. Counsel should avoid prematurely exposing the defense case theory by seeking to make any proffer of the reasons for the continuance on an ex parte and under seal basis.

15. Counsel should take all necessary steps to secure conditions of trial that allow for the provision of high quality representation, that allow the client to participate meaningfully in his own defense and that make adequate accommodations for any special needs the client may have. Such conditions may include the hours of court, the number and length of breaks, particular technological resources, the use of interpreters or other assistants to the client's understanding and communication, the pace of questioning and argument, medical assistance for the client and adequate space in the courtroom for the client's family and supporters.

16. Counsel should attempt to present as much mitigation evidence as possible during the guilt-innocence phase.

B. Jury Selection

1. Preparing for Voir dire

a. Counsel should be familiar with the procedures by which a jury venire is selected in the particular jurisdiction and should be alert to any potential legal challenges to the composition or selection of the venire, including the creation of the jury pool from which the venire is selected. Similarly, counsel should be familiar with the law concerning challenges for cause and peremptory challenges and be alert to any potential legal challenges to the law, practice or procedure applied. Counsel should undertake a factual as well as legal investigation of any potential challenges that may be made.

b. Counsel should be familiar with the local practices and the individual trial judge's procedures for selecting a jury from a panel of the venire, and should be alert to any potential legal challenges to these practices and procedures including any disproportionate impact the practices and procedures may have on the gender or racial makeup of the jury.

c. Counsel should be mindful that such challenges may include challenges to the selection of the grand jury and grand jury forepersons as well as to the selection of the petit jury venire.

d. Prior to jury selection, counsel should seek to obtain a prospective juror list and should develop a method for tracking juror seating and selection. Counsel should be aware of available juror information and, where appropriate, should submit a request for a jury questionnaire by a pretrial motion. In those cases where it appears necessary to conduct a pretrial investigation of the background of jurors, investigatory methods of defense counsel should neither harass nor unduly embarrass potential jurors or invade their privacy and, whenever possible, should be restricted to an investigation of records and sources of information already in existence.

e. Counsel should develop Voir dire questions in advance of trial. Counsel should tailor Voir dire questions to the specific case. Voir dire should be integrated into and advance counsel's theory of the case for both guilt and sentencing. Creative use of Voir dire can foreshadow crucial, complex, expert, detrimental, or inflammatory evidence, and emphasize the need for impartiality notwithstanding the nature of the offense charged. Effective Voir dire will lay much of the ground work for the opening statement.

f. Voir dire questions should be designed to elicit information about the attitudes and values of individual jurors, which will inform counsel and the client in the exercise of peremptory challenges and challenges for cause. Areas of inquiry should include:

i. attitude towards sentencing a juvenile to a sentence of life without parole; in particular, each juror's willingness and capacity to return a verdict that could result in a sentence of life without parole if selected as a juror in the case;

ii. attitudinal bias or prejudice (including those based on race, religion, political beliefs, and sexual preference);

iii. pretrial publicity (including the nature, extent and source of the juror's knowledge, and whether they have learned information that will not be admitted at trial; have discussed what they have read or heard; have heard, formed or expressed opinions on guilt or innocence; and can set such knowledge and opinions aside);

iv. feelings regarding the nature of the offense;

v. juror experience (or that of a close relative) similar to evidence in the case;

vi. experience (or that of a close relative) as a crime victim, witness, or defendant;

vii. amount of weight given to testimony of a police officer (including any experience in law enforcement or relationship with those in law enforcement);

viii. acquaintance with witness, counsel or defendant;

ix. attitudes toward defenses;

x. ability to understand principles of law and willingness to accept the law as given by the court;

xi. prior experience as a juror;

xii. formal qualifications to serve as a juror;

xiii. ability to render an impartial verdict according to the law and the evidence; and

xiv. other areas of inquiry particular to the juror, such as whether a bilingual juror is willing to abide by the translator's version of the testimony, or whether a hearing impaired juror will refrain from reading lips of parties having private conversations unintended for the jurors' perception.

g. Among the other purposes Voir dire questions should be designed to serve are the following:

i. to convey to the panel legal principles which are important to the defense case and to determine the jurors' attitudes toward those legal principles (especially where there is some indication that particular legal principles may not be favored or understood by the population in general or where a principle is peculiarly based on specific facts of the case);

ii. to preview the case for the jurors so as to lessen the impact of damaging information which is likely to come to their attention during the trial;

iii. to present the client and the defense case in a favorable light, without prematurely disclosing information about the defense case to the prosecutor; and

iv. to establish a relationship with the jury. Counsel should be aware that jurors will develop impressions of counsel and the defendant, and should recognize the importance of creating a favorable impression.

h. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning mandatory and discretionary Voir dire inquiries so as to be able to defend any request to ask particular questions of prospective jurors.

i. Counsel should be familiar with the law concerning challenges for cause and peremptory challenges. Voir dire should be responsive to this legal framework and designed to ensure that any basis for a cause challenge is adequately disclosed by the questions and answers.

j. Counsel should be aware of the waiver of judicial review of any cause challenge denied by the trial court where the defense does not exhaust its peremptory challenges. Counsel should create an appropriate record in the trial court where peremptory challenges are exhausted without the defense successfully removing all jurors against whom an unsuccessful challenge for cause had been made.

k. Where appropriate, counsel should consider seeking expert assistance in the jury selection process. Recognizing the scope of the task of adequately recording all relevant information during the Voir dire process, lead counsel should ensure that the team has secured adequate resources, in the form of additional personnel or equipment, to adequately perform this task.

2. Examination of the Prospective Jurors

a. Counsel should personally Voir dire the panel.

b. If the court denies counsel's request to ask questions during Voir dire that are significant or necessary to the defense of the case, counsel should take all steps necessary to protect the Voir dire record for judicial review including, where appropriate, filing a copy of the proposed Voir dire questions or reading proposed questions into the record.

c. Counsel should consider requesting individual, sequestered Voir dire, particularly in cases where the Voir dire will canvas sensitive or potentially prejudicial subjects, for example, personal experiences of jurors of abuse, prior exposure to media coverage of the case and knowledge of the case. If particular Voir dire questions may elicit sensitive or prejudicial answers, counsel should consider requesting that those parts of the questioning be conducted outside the presence of the other jurors. Counsel may also consider requesting that the court, rather than counsel, conduct the Voir dire as to sensitive questions.

d. In a group Voir dire, counsel should take care when asking questions which may elicit responses capable of prejudicing other prospective jurors. Counsel should design both questions and questioning style in group Voir dire to elicit responses in a way that will minimize any negative effect and maximize any favorable effect on other prospective jurors having regard to counsel's objectives in Voir dire.

e. When asking questions for the purpose of eliciting information from a juror, counsel should usually phrase questions in an open-ended fashion that elicits substantive responses, rather than allowing the juror to respond by silence or with a simple yes or no.

f. Counsel should ensure that the record reflects all answers of all jurors to all questions asked. Counsel should ensure that the record clearly reflects which juror in a panel is being asked a particular question and which gives a particular answer. Where questions are asked of an entire panel or non-verbal responses are given, counsel should ensure that the record accurately reflects all of the responses given and which jurors gave those responses.

g. Counsel should ensure that other members of the defense team are making detailed notes of the responses of individual jurors, the responses of venire panels to more generally directed questions and the demeanor and reactions of members of the venire.

3. Counsel should determine the extent to which each juror could give meaningful consideration to mitigating circumstances, having particular regard to those circumstances defined as mitigating in the statute and the case law.

4. Counsel should determine the extent to which a juror's views on juvenile life without parole or mitigation may substantially impair his or her ability to make an impartial decision at guilt or sentencing. Counsel may consider exploring factors such as the strength of the juror's views on life without parole for a juvenile, the origin of those views, how long they have been held and whether the juror has discussed those views with others.

5. Counsel should apply techniques of Voir dire designed to insulate jurors who are to be challenged for cause against rehabilitation based, in particular, upon their stated willingness to follow the law.

6. Counsel should mount a challenge for cause in all cases where there is a reasonable argument that the juror's views on sentencing a juvenile to life without parole or mitigation would prevent or substantially impair the performance of the juror's duties in accordance with the instructions or the oath.

7. Counsel should apply techniques of Voir dire designed to rehabilitate jurors who have expressed scruples against the infliction of a life without parole sentence on a juvenile.

8. Counsel should apply techniques of Voir dire designed to ensure that each prospective juror understands and accepts:

a. that each juror is entitled to their own opinion and vote;

b. that while the juror must deliberate, the juror's opinion is not subject to negotiation or compromise and is free from criticism by or explanation to the judge, the prosecutor or others; and

c. that each juror is entitled to the assistance of the court in having his or her opinion respected.

9. Counsel should consider exercising peremptory challenges solely or principally on the assessment of each juror's attitude to life without parole and mitigation.

C. Other challenges for Cause and Peremptory Challenges

1. Counsel should challenge for cause all prospective jurors against whom a legitimate challenge can be made when it is likely to benefit the client.

2. When a challenge for cause is denied, counsel should consider exercising a peremptory challenge to remove the juror.

3. In exercising challenges for cause and peremptory strikes, counsel should consider both the panelists who may replace a person who is removed and the total number of peremptory challenges available to the state and the defense. In making this decision counsel should be mindful of the law requiring counsel to use one of his or her remaining peremptory challenges curatively to remove a juror upon whom counsel was denied a cause challenge or waive the complaint on appeal, even where counsel ultimately exhausts all peremptory challenges.

4. Counsel should timely object to and preserve for appellate review all issues relating to the unconstitutional exclusion of jurors by the prosecutor or the court.

5. Counsel should request additional peremptory challenges where appropriate in the circumstances present in the case.

D. Unconstitutional Exclusion of Jurors

1. In preparation for trial, during Voir dire and at jury selection, the defense team should gather and record all information relevant to a challenge to the state's use of peremptory strikes based in part or in whole on race, gender or any other impermissible consideration. This will include: the race and gender of the venire, the panel, the petit jury and the jurors struck for cause and peremptorily; any disparity in questioning style between jurors; a comparative analysis of the treatment of similarly placed jurors; non-verbal conduct of potential jurors; historical evidence of policy, practice or a pattern of discriminatory strikes; and, other evidence of discriminatory intent. Such material should be advanced in support of any challenge to the exercise of a state peremptory strike where available and appropriate in the circumstances. Counsel should ensure that the record reflects the racial and gender composition of the jury pool, the venire, each panel, the peremptory challenges made by both parties, and of the petit jury. The record should also reflect the race and gender of the defendant, the victim(s) and potential witnesses, and any motivation the state may have with regard to race or gender in exercising peremptory challenges. Counsel should also ensure that, where necessary the record reflects non-verbal conduct by jurors such as demeanor, tone and appearance.

2. Where evidence of the discriminatory use of peremptory strikes, including evidence of the presence of a motive for discriminatory use of peremptory strikes emerges after the jury is sworn, counsel should make or reurge any earlier objection to the state's strikes.

3. Counsel should not exercise a peremptory strike on the basis of race, gender or any other impermissible consideration and should maintain sufficient contemporaneous notes to allow reasons for particular peremptory strikes to be proffered if required by the court.

E. Voir dire After the Jury has been Impaneled

1. Counsel should consider requesting additional Voir dire whenever potentially prejudicial events occur, for instance, when jurors are exposed to publicity during the trial, jurors have had conversations with counsel or court officials, jurors learn inadmissible evidence, it is revealed that jurors responded incorrectly during Voir dire, or jurors otherwise violated the court's instructions.

2. Counsel should be diligent and creative in framing questions that not only probe the particular issue, but also avoid creating or increasing any prejudice. Counsel should consider requesting curative instructions, seating alternate jurors, a mistrial, or other corrective measures.

3. If the verdict has already been rendered, counsel should request a post-trial hearing and an opportunity to examine jurors within the scope permitted by law.

F. Objection to Error and Preservation of Issues for Post Judgment Review

1. Counsel should be prepared to make all appropriate evidentiary objections and offers of proof, and should vigorously contest the state's evidence and argument through objections, cross-examination of witnesses, presentation of impeachment evidence and rebuttal. Counsel should be alert for, object to, and make sure the record adequately reflects instances of prosecutorial misconduct.

2. Counsel should make timely objections whenever a claim for relief exists under the law at present or under a good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law unless sound tactical reasons exist for not doing so. There should be a strong presumption in favor of making all available objections and any decision not to object should be made in the full awareness that this may constitute an irrevocable waiver of the client's rights.

3. Where appropriate, objections should include motions for mistrial and/or admonishments to ignore or limit the effect of evidence. Counsel should seek an evidentiary hearing where further development of the record in support of an objection would advance the client's interests. Areas in which counsel should be prepared to object include:

- a. the admissibility or exclusion of evidence and the use to which evidence may be put;
- b. the form or content of prosecution questioning, including during Voir dire;
- c. improper exercises of prosecutorial or judicial authority, such as racially motivated peremptory challenges or judicial questioning of witnesses that passes beyond the neutral judicial role and places the judge in the role of advocate;
- d. the form or content of prosecution argument, including the scope of rebuttal argument;
- e. jury instructions and verdict forms; and
- f. any structural defects.

4. Counsel should ensure that all objections are made on the record and comply with the formal requirements applicable in the circumstances for making an effective objection and preserving a claim for subsequent review. These formal requirements may relate to a range of considerations, including: timing of the objection; whether an objection is oral or written; the need to proffer excluded testimony or questions; requesting admonishment of the jury; requesting a mistrial; exhausting peremptory challenges; providing notice to the attorney general; and the specific content of the objection. In addition to the objection itself, counsel should ensure that information relevant to potential review is preserved in the record, i.e., that the transcript, the court file, or the exhibits preserved for review include all the information about the events in the trial court that a reviewing court might need to rule in the client's favor.

5. Before trial, counsel should ascertain the particular judge's procedures for objections. If the judge orders that counsel not state the grounds for the objection in the jury's presence, or if the reasons for the objection require explanation or risk prejudicing the jury, counsel should request permission to make the objection out of the hearing of the jury, for example, by approaching the bench. Counsel should ensure that any objection and ruling is made on the record and where this is not possible at a bench conference, should request another procedure for making objections, such as having objections handled in chambers in the presence of the court reporter. Where, despite counsel's efforts, objections are made or rulings announced in the absence of the court reporter, counsel should ensure that those objections and rulings are subsequently placed on the record in as full a detail as possible.

6. Where an objection is made, counsel should state the specific grounds of objection and be prepared to fully explain and argue all bases of the objection. Where a claim for relief exists based on constitutional grounds, counsel should ensure that the record reflects that the objection is brought on those constitutional grounds. Counsel should be particularly careful to ensure that the record reflects the federal nature of any objection based in federal constitutional law or any other federal law.

7. Counsel's arguments to the court should explain both why the law is in the client's favor and why the ruling matters. Arguments should be precise; objections should be timely, clear and specific. For example:

a. if the court excludes evidence, counsel should proffer what the evidence would be, why it is important to the defense, and how its exclusion would harm the defense.

b. if the court limits cross-examination, counsel should proffer what counsel was attempting to elicit and why it is important.

c. if the court admits evidence over defense objection, counsel should, where appropriate, move for a limiting instruction.

d. if the court rules inadmissible prejudicial evidence already placed before the jury, counsel should seek a mistrial and/or an admonishment, as appropriate.

8. Counsel should not refrain from making objections simply because they are unsure of the precise legal principle or case name to invoke. In these situations, counsel should explain the client's position in factual terms, explaining why a certain ruling under specified facts is prejudicial to the client.

9. Counsel should not rely on objections made by co-defendant's counsel unless the judge has made clear that an objection on behalf of one defendant counts as an objection for all defendants. Even in that situation, counsel may want to identify specific prejudice that would befall her client if the court ruled adversely.

10. Counsel should take care not to appear to acquiesce in adverse rulings, by, for example, ending the discussion with comments intended to reflect politeness (e.g. "Thank you, Your Honor") but which may appear in the transcript as an abandonment of counsel's earlier objection and agreement with the trial court's rationale. Accordingly, counsel should find ways to be polite while making clear that the objection has not been abandoned.

11. Counsel should insist on adequate methods for recording demonstrative evidence. For example, diagrams should be drawn on paper instead of blackboards, and demonstrations not amenable to verbal descriptions should be videotaped. Requests for preservation of exhibits and diagrams should be made in a timely manner. Counsel should make sure that all references to exhibits contain the exhibit number.

12. Counsel at every stage have an obligation to satisfy themselves independently that the official record of the proceedings is complete and accurate and to supplement or correct it as appropriate.

13. If something transpires during the trial that is relevant and significant and has not been made a part of the record (for instance, communications out of the presence of the court-reporter or non-verbal conduct), counsel should ensure that the record reflects what occurred.

G. Opening Statement

1. Counsel should make an opening statement.

2. Prior to delivering an opening statement, counsel should ask for sequestration of witnesses, including law enforcement, unless a strategic reason exists for not doing so.

3. Counsel should be familiar with the law of the jurisdiction and the individual trial judge's practice regarding the permissible content of an opening statement.

4. Counsel should consider the strategic advantages and disadvantages of disclosure of particular information during opening statement. For example, if the evidence that the defense might present depends on evidence to be introduced in the state's case, counsel should avoid making promises of what evidence it will present because counsel may decide not to present that evidence. Counsel should not discuss in the opening statement the defense strategy with the jury to the extent that later defense decisions, such as putting the client or particular defense witnesses on the stand can be interpreted as concessions of the prosecution meeting its burden, or of weakness of the defense case. Counsel should consider the need to, and if appropriate, ask the court to instruct the prosecution not to mention in opening statement contested evidence for which the court has not determined admissibility.

5. Before the opening statement, counsel should be familiar with the names of all witnesses and the crucial dates, times and places, and should have mastered each witness's testimony so that favorable portions can be highlighted. If the complainant and defendant know each other, counsel should consider discussing their relationship and previous activities to create a context for the alleged offense. Counsel may wish to disclose defense witnesses' impeachable convictions, only if counsel is certain that the witnesses will testify. Where evidence is likely to be ruled inadmissible, counsel should refer to it only after obtaining a ruling from the court.

6. Counsel's objectives in making an opening statement may include the following:

a. to provide an overview of the defense case, introduce the theory of the defense, and explain the evidence the defense will present to minimize prejudice from the government case;

b. to identify the weaknesses of the prosecution's case, point out facts that are favorable to the defense that the government omitted in its opening, create immediate skepticism about the direct testimony of government witnesses and make the purpose of counsel's cross-examination more understandable;

c. to emphasize the prosecution's burden of proof;

d. to summarize the testimony of witnesses, and the role of each in relationship to the entire case and to present explanations for government witnesses' testimony, i.e. bias, lack of ability to observe, intoxication and Giglio evidence;

e. to describe the exhibits which will be introduced and the role of each in relationship to the entire case;

f. to clarify the jurors' responsibilities;

g. to point out alternative inferences from circumstantial evidence arising from either the government's case or evidence the defense will present, and to state the ultimate inferences which counsel wishes the jury to draw;

h. to establish counsel's credibility with the jury;

i. to personalize and humanize the client and counsel for the jury; and

j. to prepare the jury for the client's testimony or decision not to testify.

7. Counsel should consider incorporating the promises of proof the prosecutor makes to the jury during opening statement or the defense summation. Counsel should keep close account of what is proffered. Variances between the opening statement and the evidence may necessitate a mistrial, a cautionary instruction, or prove to be a fruitful ground for closing argument.

8. Whenever the prosecutor oversteps the bounds of proper opening statement (by, for example, referencing prejudicial material or other matters of questionable admissibility and assertions of fact that the government will not be able to prove), counsel should object, requesting a mistrial, or seeking cautionary instructions, unless clear tactical considerations suggest otherwise. Such tactical considerations may include, but are not limited to:

a. the significance of the prosecutor's error;

b. the possibility that an objection might enhance the significance of the information in the jury's mind, or negatively impact the jury; and

c. whether there are any rules made by the judge against objecting during the other attorney's opening argument.

9. Improper statements that counsel should consider objecting to may include:

a. attempts to arouse undue sympathy for the victim of a crime or put the jurors in the shoes of the victim;

b. appeals to the passions and prejudices of the jurors;

c. evidence of other crimes;

d. defendant's prior record;

e. reciting evidence at great length or in undue detail;

f. personal evaluation of the case or of any state's witness;

g. argument on the merits of the case or the pertinent law; and

h. defendant's possible failure to testify or present evidence.

H. Preparation for Challenging the Prosecution's Case

1. Counsel should attempt to anticipate weaknesses in the prosecution's proof. Counsel should systematically analyze all potential prosecution evidence, including physical evidence, for evidentiary problems and, where appropriate, challenge its admissibility and/or present other evidence that would controvert the state's evidence. Counsel should make all appropriate challenges to improper testimony. Counsel should challenge improper bolstering of state witnesses.

2. Counsel should consider the advantages and disadvantages of entering into stipulations concerning the prosecution's case. If a fact or facts to be stipulated are harmful to the client but there is still an advantage to stipulating, counsel should make certain that the stipulation is true before consenting to a stipulation. While there may be strategic reasons to forgo cross-examination of particular witnesses or objections to evidence, counsel should make sure to subject the state's case to vigorous adversarial testing.

3. In preparing for cross-examination, counsel should be familiar with the applicable law and procedures concerning cross-examinations and impeachment of witnesses. In order to develop material for impeachment or to discover documents subject to disclosure, counsel should be prepared to question witnesses as to the existence of prior statements which they may have made or adopted.

4. In preparing for cross-examination, counsel should:

a. consider the need to integrate cross-examination, the theory of the defense and closing argument;

b. consider whether cross-examination of each individual witness is likely to generate helpful information, and avoid asking questions that are unnecessary, might elicit responses harmful to the defense case or might open the door to damaging and otherwise improper redirect examination;

c. anticipate those witnesses the prosecutor might call in its case-in-chief or in rebuttal;

d. prepare a cross-examination plan for each of the anticipated witnesses;

e. be alert to inconsistencies, variations and contradictions in a witness' testimony;

f. be alert to possible inconsistencies, variations and contradictions between different witnesses' testimony;

g. be alert to significant omission or deficiencies in the testimony of any witnesses;

h. review and organize all prior statements of the witnesses and any prior relevant testimony of the prospective witnesses;

i. have prepared a transcript of all audio or video tape recorded statements made by the witness;

j. where appropriate, review relevant statutes and local law enforcement policy and procedure manuals, disciplinary records and department regulations for possible use in cross-examining law enforcement witnesses;

k. be alert to and raise, where appropriate, issues relating to witness competency and credibility, including bias and motive for testifying, evidence of collaboration between witnesses, innate physical ability to perceive, external impediments to the witness' perception, psychological hindrances to accurate perception, and faulty memory;

l. have prepared, for introduction into evidence, all documents which counsel intends to use during the cross-examination, including certified copies of records such as prior convictions of the witness or prior sworn testimony of the witness;

m. be alert to potential Fifth Amendment and other privileges that may apply to any witness;

n. elicit all available evidence to support the theory of defense; and

o. prepare a memorandum of law in support of the propriety of any line of impeachment likely to be challenged.

5. Counsel should consider conducting a Voir dire examination of potential prosecution witnesses who may not be competent to give particular testimony, including expert witnesses whom the prosecutor may call. Counsel should be aware of the applicable law of the jurisdiction concerning competency of witnesses in general and admission of expert testimony in particular in order to be able to raise appropriate objections. Counsel should not stipulate to the admission of expert testimony that counsel knows will be harmful to the defense where there exists a viable claim regarding its admissibility. Counsel should be alert to frequently encountered competency issues such as: age (chronological and developmental), taint of witness' ability to recall events by external factors such as suggestion, mental disability due to drug or alcohol abuse, and mental illness.

6. Before trial, counsel should ascertain whether the prosecutor has provided copies of all prior statements of the witnesses to the extent required by the law. If disclosure was not properly made counsel should consider requesting relief as appropriate including:

a. adequate time to review the documents or investigate and prepare further before commencing cross-examination, including a recess or continuance if necessary;

b. exclusion of the witness' testimony and all evidence affected by that testimony;

c. a mistrial;

d. dismissal of the case; and/or

e. any other sanctions counsel believes would remedy the violation.

7. Counsel should attempt to mitigate the prejudicial impact of physical evidence where possible by: attempting to stipulate to facts that the government seeks to establish through prejudicial evidence, moving to redact irrelevant and unduly prejudicial information from documents, recordings and transcripts, and/or asking the court to exclude part of the proposed evidence as unnecessarily cumulative. Where prejudicial physical evidence will be admitted, counsel should seek to lessen its prejudice by seeking restrictions on the form of the evidence (e.g. size of photographs, black and white, rather than color), the manner of presentation of the evidence and to bar undue emphasis or repetitive presentation of the evidence. Similarly, where necessary, counsel should object to the exclusion or redaction of exculpatory portions of evidence.

8. Counsel should become familiar with all areas in which expert evidence may be offered and should develop a strong knowledge of all forensic fields involved in the case with the assistance of experts as appropriate.

I. Presenting the Client's Case

1. Counsel should develop, in consultation with the client, an overall defense strategy. Counsel should prepare for the need to adapt the defense strategy during trial where necessary. In extreme cases where a defense theory is no longer tenable, counsel should abandon that theory rather than losing all credibility with the jury, and proceed to emphasize the available defense evidence which supports another theory of defense. In deciding on defense strategy, counsel should consider whether the client's interests are best served by not putting on a defense case, and instead relying on the prosecution's failure to meet its constitutional burden of proving each element beyond a reasonable doubt. Even where no affirmative defense to guilt is mounted, counsel must be conscious of the potential for the case to proceed to sentencing phase and should ensure that the guilt phase is conducted in a way that supports and extracts any available advantages in the guilt phase for the sentencing phase presentation. Counsel should be conscious of the perils of a denial defense and the likely negative effect such a defense will have should the case proceed to sentencing phase.

2. Counsel should not put on a non-viable defense but at the same time, even when no theory of defense is available, if the decision to stand trial has been made, counsel must hold the prosecution to its heavy burden of proof beyond reasonable doubt.

3. Counsel should discuss with the client, in an age and developmentally appropriate manner, all of the considerations relevant to the client's decision to testify, including but not limited to, the client's constitutional right to testify, his or her right to not testify, the nature of the defense, the client's likely effectiveness as a witness on direct and under cross-examination, the client's susceptibility to impeachment with prior convictions, bad acts, out-of-court statements or evidence that has been suppressed, the client's demeanor and temperament, and the availability of other defense or rebuttal evidence. Counsel should give special consideration to the likely impact of the client's testimony on any defenses and any possible mitigation presentation, particularly where questions of mental health and mental capacity are in issue. Counsel shall recommend the decision which counsel believes to be in the client's best interest. The ultimate decision whether to testify is the client's. Counsel should also be familiar with his or her ethical responsibilities that may be applicable if the client insists on testifying untruthfully. Counsel should prepare for the possibility that the client's testimony may become essential to the defense case. Therefore, the client should be thoroughly prepared for both direct and cross-examination before trial. Counsel should familiarize the client with all prior statements and exhibits, and review appropriate demeanor for taking the stand. Counsel should be respectful of the client when conducting the direct examination, eliciting testimony that will be helpful to the client's defense. Counsel should avoid unnecessary direct examination that opens the door to damaging cross examination.

4. Counsel should be aware of the elements of any affirmative defense and know whether, under the applicable law of the jurisdiction, the client bears a burden of persuasion or a burden of production. Counsel should be familiar with the notice requirements for affirmative defenses and introduction of expert testimony.

5. In preparing for presentation of a defense case, counsel should, where appropriate:

a. consider all potential evidence which could corroborate the defense case, and the import of any evidence which is missing;

b. after discussion with the client, make the decision whether to call any witnesses and, if calling witnesses, decide which witnesses will provide the most compelling evidence of the client's defense. In making this decision, counsel should consider that credibility issues with particular witnesses can be overcome when several witnesses testify to the same facts. Counsel should not call witnesses who will be damaging to the defense;

c. develop a plan for direct examination of each potential defense witness;

d. determine the implications that the order of witnesses may have on the defense case;

e. determine what facts necessary for the defense case can be elicited through the cross-examination of the prosecution's witnesses;

f. consider the possible use and careful preparation of character witnesses, and any negative consequences that may flow from such testimony;

g. consider the need for, and availability of, expert witnesses, especially to rebut any expert opinions offered by the prosecution, and what evidence must be submitted to lay the foundation for the expert's testimony;

h. consider and prepare for the need to call a defense investigator as a witness;

i. review all documentary evidence that must be presented;

j. review all tangible evidence that must be presented;

k. consider using demonstrative evidence (and the witnesses necessary to admit such evidence); and

l. consider the order of exhibit presentation and, if appropriate, with leave of court prior to trial, label each exhibit.

6. In developing and presenting the defense case, counsel should consider the implications it may have for a rebuttal by the prosecutor.

7. Counsel should prepare all witnesses for direct and possible cross-examination. Where appropriate, counsel should also advise witnesses of suitable courtroom dress and demeanor, and procedures including sequestration.

8. Counsel should systematically analyze all potential defense evidence for evidentiary problems. Counsel should research the law and prepare legal arguments in support of the admission of each piece of testimony or other evidence. Counsel should plan for the contingency that particular items of evidence may be ruled inadmissible and prepare for alternative means by which the evidence, or similar evidence, can be offered. Similarly, counsel should have contingency plans for adjusting the defense case theory where important evidence may be ruled inadmissible. Counsel should not seek to have excluded prosecution evidence that is helpful to the defense.

9. Counsel should conduct a direct examination that follows the rules of evidence, effectively presents the defense theory, and anticipates/defuses potential weak points.

10. If a prosecution objection is sustained or defense evidence is improperly excluded, counsel should make appropriate efforts to rephrase the question(s) and/or make an offer of proof.

11. Counsel should object to improper cross-examination by the prosecution.

12. Counsel should conduct redirect examination as appropriate.

13. At the close of the defense case, counsel should renew the motion for a directed verdict of acquittal on each charged count.

14. Counsel should keep a record of all exhibits identified or admitted.

15. If a witness does not appear, counsel should request a recess or continuance in order to give counsel a reasonable amount of time to locate and produce the witness. Counsel should request any available relief if the witness does not appear.

16. Understanding that all evidence introduced at guilt may be relied on at sentencing, counsel should actively consider the benefits of presenting evidence admissible in the guilt phase that is also relevant in mitigation of punishment.

J. Preparation of the Closing Argument

1. Counsel should make a closing argument.

2. Counsel should be familiar with the substantive limits on both prosecution and defense summation.

3. Counsel should be familiar with the court rules, applicable statutes and law, and the individual judge's practice concerning limits and objections during closing argument, and provisions for rebuttal argument by the prosecution.

4. Well before trial, counsel should plan the themes, content, and organization of the summation. The basic argument should be formulated before the first juror is sworn, with accurate notes taken throughout the trial to permit incorporation of the developments at trial. In developing closing argument, counsel should review the proceedings to determine what aspects can be used in pursuit of the defense theory of the case and, where appropriate, should consider:

a. highlighting weaknesses in the prosecution's case, including what potential corroborative evidence is missing, especially in light of the prosecution's burden of proof;

b. describing favorable inferences to be drawn from the evidence;

c. incorporating into the argument:

i. the theory of the defense case;

ii. helpful testimony from direct and cross-examinations;

iii. verbatim instructions drawn from the expected jury charge;

iv. responses to anticipated prosecution arguments;

v. the promises of proof the prosecutor made to the jury during the opening statement; and

vi. visual aids and exhibits;

d. the effect of the defense argument on the prosecutor's rebuttal argument.

5. Counsel should not demean or disparage or be openly hostile towards the client.

6. Whenever the prosecutor exceeds the scope of permissible argument or rebuttal, counsel should object, request a mistrial, or seek a cautionary instruction unless strong tactical considerations suggest otherwise.

K. Jury Instructions and Verdict

1. Counsel should be familiar with the Louisiana Rules of Court and the individual judge's practices concerning ruling on proposed instructions, charging the jury, use of standard charges and preserving objections to the instructions.

2. Counsel should always submit proposed jury instructions in writing.

3. Counsel should review the court's proposed jury charge and any special written charge proposed by the state and, where appropriate, counsel should submit special written charges which present the applicable law in the manner most favorable to the defense in light of the particular circumstances of the case, including the desirability of seeking a verdict on a lesser included offense.

4. Where possible, counsel should provide citations to statute and case law in support of any proposed charge. Counsel should endeavor to ensure that all jury charge discussions are on the record or, at the very least, that all objections and rulings are reflected in the record.

5. Where appropriate, counsel should object to and argue against any improper charge proposed by the prosecution or the court.

6. If the court refuses to adopt a charge requested by counsel, or gives a charge over counsel's objection, counsel should take all steps necessary to preserve the record, including ensuring that a written copy of any proposed special written charge is included in the record.

7. During delivery of the charge, counsel should be alert to any deviations from the judge's planned instructions, object to deviations unfavorable to the client, and, if necessary request an additional or curative charge.

8. If there are grounds for objecting to any aspect of the charge, counsel should seek to object before the verdict form is submitted to the jury and the jury is allowed to begin deliberations.

9. If the court proposes giving a further or supplemental charge to the jury, either upon request of the jurors or upon their failure to reach a verdict, counsel should request that the judge provide a copy of the proposed charge to counsel before it is delivered to the jury. Counsel should be present for any further charge of the jury and should renew or make new objections as appropriate to any further charge given to the jurors after the jurors have begun their deliberations. Counsel should object to any charge which expressly or implicitly threatens to keep the jury sequestered indefinitely until a verdict is reached or is otherwise improperly coercive, for example, by omitting the caution to jurors that they should not abandon their deeply held beliefs.

10. Counsel should reserve the right to make exceptions to the jury instructions above and beyond any specific objections that were made during the trial.

11. Upon a finding of guilt, counsel should be alert to any improprieties in the verdict and should request the court to poll the jury. In a multi-count indictment, defense counsel normally should request a poll as to each count on which the jury has convicted.

L. The Defense Case Concerning Sentencing

1. Preparation for the sentencing phase should begin immediately upon counsel's entry into the case. Counsel at every stage of the case have a continuing duty to investigate issues bearing upon sentencing and to seek information that supports mitigation, explains the offense, or rebuts the prosecution's case in aggravation. Counsel should not forgo investigating or presenting mitigation in favor of a strategy of relying only on residual doubt or sympathy and mercy. Counsel should exercise great caution in seeking to rely upon residual doubt as to the defendant's guilt.

2. Trial counsel should discuss with the client early in the case the sentencing alternatives available, and the relationship between the strategy for the sentencing phase and for the guilt phase.

3. Prior to the sentencing phase, trial counsel should discuss with the client the specific sentencing phase procedures of the jurisdiction and advise the client of steps being taken in preparation for sentencing.

4. Counsel at every stage of the case should discuss with the client the content and purpose of the information concerning sentencing that they intend to present to the jury, means by which the mitigation presentation might be strengthened, and the strategy for meeting the prosecution's case in aggravation.

5. As with the guilt phase, counsel should consider and discuss with the client, the advisability and possible consequences of the client testifying in the sentencing phase.

6. Counsel should present all reasonably available evidence in mitigation unless there are strong strategic reasons to forgo some portion of such evidence. Counsel should make every effort to find a way to successfully present all of the mitigating evidence rather than to abandon a piece or pieces of mitigating evidence due to potential negatives arising from the evidence. Counsel should not make agreements with the prosecution whereby the defense agrees to put on little or no mitigation evidence.

7. Counsel should present mitigating evidence in an organized and coherent fashion, especially when it is of a complex nature involving expert testimony. Counsel should seek to present a narrative of the client's life story that serves to humanize the client and offers a cohesive theory for a sentence other than life without parole rather than presenting each mitigating circumstance as separate and distinct from each other. Counsel should seek to illustrate the ways different pieces of mitigation evidence interrelate to ensure a comprehensive picture of the client's life and the mitigation case that is produced. Counsel should consider the need to utilize an expert witness to synthesize or explain various and/or divergent elements of a mitigation presentation. However, counsel should be conscious of the desirability of presenting such evidence through lay witnesses, rather than relying too heavily upon expert testimony. Counsel should present all mitigating evidence in such a way that it maintains the defense theory of the case, and should avoid presenting or opening the door to evidence that undermines the defense theory.

8. In developing and advancing the defense theory of the case at sentencing, counsel should seek to integrate the defense theories at guilt and sentencing into a complimentary whole or, where this is not possible, seek to minimize any discordance between the defense theories in guilt and penalty phase.

9. In deciding the defense theory in the sentencing phase and which witnesses, evidence and arguments to prepare, counsel must exercise a high degree of skill and care as an advocate to determine the most persuasive course to adopt in the circumstances of each particular case. Counsel should consider evidence and arguments that would: be explanatory of the offense(s) for which the client is being sentenced; reduce the client's moral culpability for the offense; demonstrate the client's capacity for rehabilitation; demonstrate the client's remorse; rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor; present positive aspects of the client and the client's life; humanize the client; engender sympathy or empathy in the jury; or would otherwise support a sentence less than life without parole. Counsel should always consider and seek to address the likely concern the sentencer has regarding the possibility that the client will represent a future danger if released from prison.

10. The witnesses and evidence that counsel should prepare and consider for presentation in the penalty phase include:

a. witnesses familiar with and evidence relating to the client's life and development, from conception to the time of sentencing, that would be explanatory of the offense(s) for which the client is being sentenced, would rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor, would present positive aspects of the client's life, would demonstrate the client's capacity for growth and rehabilitation or would otherwise support a sentence less than life without parole;

b. expert and lay witnesses along with supporting documentation (e.g. school records, military records) to provide developmental, medical, psychological, sociological, cultural or other insights into the client's mental and/or emotional state and life history that may explain or lessen the client's culpability for the underlying offense(s); to give a favorable opinion as to the client's capacity for rehabilitation; to explain possible treatment programs; or otherwise support a sentence less than life without parole; and/or to rebut or explain evidence presented by the prosecutor. Supporting documentation should be read, organized, evaluated and condensed to a form that is most conducive to explaining how and why this mitigation is relevant;

c. witnesses who can testify about the adverse impact of a sentence of life without parole on the client's family and loved ones;

d. demonstrative evidence, such as photos, videos, physical objects and documents that humanize the client, portray him positively or add emphasis to an aspect of the testimony of a witness or witnesses;

e. witnesses drawn from the victim's family or intimates who are able to offer evidence that may support an argument for a sentence other than life without parole.

11. Among topics counsel should consider presenting through evidence and argument are:

a. youth and its attendant circumstances;

b. adolescent development;

c. positive character evidence and evidence of specific positive acts, including evidence of positive relationships with others, contributions to individuals and the community, growth and progress over his life and since arrest, prospects for rehabilitation and reputation evidence;

d. family and social history (including physical, sexual, or emotional abuse; family history of mental illness, cognitive impairments, substance abuse, or domestic violence; poverty, familial instability, neighborhood environment, and peer influence); other traumatic events such as exposure to criminal violence, the loss of a loved one, or a natural disaster; experiences of racism or other social or ethnic bias; cultural or religious influences; failures of government or social intervention (e.g., failure to intervene or provide necessary services, placement in poor quality foster care or juvenile detention facilities);

e. medical and mental health history (including hospitalizations, mental and physical illness or injury, trauma, intellectual impairment, alcohol and drug use, pre-natal and birth trauma, malnutrition, developmental delays, and neurological damage). Evidence relating to medical and mental health matters should normally include the symptoms and effect of any illness rather than just solely presenting a formal diagnosis;

f. educational history (including achievement, performance, behavior, and activities), special educational needs (including mental retardation, cognitive limitations and learning disabilities) and opportunity or lack thereof, and activities;

g. military service, (including length and type of service, conduct, special training, combat exposure, health and mental health services);

h. employment and training history (including skills and performance, and barriers to employability);

i. record of prior offenses (adult and juvenile), especially where there is no record, a short record, or a record of non-violent offenses;

j. prior juvenile and adult correctional experience (including conduct while under supervision, in institutions of education or training, and regarding clinical services); and

k. a prior relationship between the client and the victim(s) which might help to explain the offense.

12. In determining what presentation to make concerning sentencing, counsel should consider whether any portion of the defense case could be damaging in and of itself or will open the door to the prosecution's presentation of otherwise inadmissible aggravating evidence. Counsel should pursue all appropriate means (e.g., motions in limine) to ensure that the defense case concerning sentencing is constricted as little as possible by this consideration, and should make a full record in order to support any subsequent challenges.

13. Trial counsel should determine at the earliest possible time what aggravating circumstances the prosecution will rely upon in the sentencing phase, any adjudicated or unadjudicated wrongful acts the prosecution intends to prove and the nature and scope of any victim impact evidence the prosecution may present. Counsel at all stages of the case should object to any non-compliance with the rules of discovery and applicable case law in this respect and challenge the adequacy of those rules.

14. Counsel at all stages of the case should carefully consider whether all or part of the evidence the state may seek to introduce in the sentencing phase may appropriately be challenged as improper, unduly prejudicial, misleading or not legally admissible. Counsel should challenge the admissibility of evidence brought in support of an aggravating circumstance that cannot legally be established in the circumstances of the case. Counsel should investigate and present evidence that specifically undermines or mitigates the aggravating circumstances and any other adverse evidence to be presented by the prosecution.

15. If the prosecution is granted leave at any stage of the case to have the client interviewed by witnesses associated with the government, defense counsel should:

a. carefully consider:

i. what legal challenges may appropriately be made to the interview or the conditions surrounding it; and

ii. the legal and strategic issues implicated by the client's co-operation or non-cooperation;

b. ensure that the client understands the significance of any statements made during such an interview, including the possible impact on the sentence and later potential proceedings (such as appeal, subsequent retrial or resentencing); and

c. attend the interview, unless prevented by court order.

16. Counsel at every stage of the case should take advantage of all appropriate opportunities to argue why life without parole is not a suitable punishment for their particular client.

17. Counsel should make an opening statement.

18. In closing argument, counsel should be specific to the client and should, after outlining the compelling mitigating evidence, explain the significance of the mitigation presented and why it supports a sentence other than life without parole. Counsel's closing argument should be more than a general attack on juvenile life without parole and should not minimize the jury's verdict at guilt.

19. Trial counsel should request jury instructions and verdict forms that ensure that jurors will be able to consider and give effect to all relevant mitigating evidence. Trial counsel should object to instructions or verdict forms that are constitutionally flawed, or are inaccurate, or confusing and should offer alternative instructions.

§2137. Post-Verdict Motions and Formal Sentencing

A. Motion for a New Trial and Other Post-Verdict Motions

1. Counsel should be familiar with the procedures and availability of motions for new trial, for arrest of judgment and for a post-verdict judgment of acquittal, including the time period for filing such motions, the formal requirements of each motion, the evidentiary rules applicable to each motion and the grounds that can be raised.

2. A motion for new trial should be filed in each case where a life without parole sentence is imposed. A motion in arrest of judgment or for a post-verdict judgment of acquittal should be filed in each case in which there exists a colorable basis for the relief sought to be granted.

3. In preparing the motion for new trial, counsel should conduct an intensive and thorough investigation designed to identify and develop: evidence of prejudice arising from any adverse rulings of the trial court; evidence not discovered during the trial that would likely have changed the verdict at either guilt or sentencing phase; evidence of prejudicial error or defect not discovered before the verdict or judgment; and, evidence that would otherwise support an argument that the ends of justice would be served by the granting of a new trial.

4. Counsel should utilize all of the investigative tools described in these standards in conducting the investigation, including the use of fact investigators, mitigation specialists, experts, record requests, discovery requests, compulsory process and motions practice.

5. Recognizing that the post-verdict litigation represents a critical stage of proceedings that requires extensive investigation and development of potentially dispositive claims:

a. counsel should seek a postponement of formal sentencing for a sufficient period to allow adequate investigation and development of the motion for new trial or other post-verdict motions; and

b. counsel should seek additional resources sufficient to allow adequate investigation and development of the motion for new trial or other post-verdict motions.

6. In preparing and presenting claims in post-verdict motions, counsel should have particular regard to the need to fully plead the claims and their factual basis in a manner that will preserve the claims for subsequent review. Counsel should request an evidentiary hearing on the motion for new trial in order to present new evidence and preserve claims for appeal.

7. Counsel should prepare post-verdict motions urging that life without parole is not a legally permissible penalty in the circumstances of the case, including that the sentence would be constitutionally excessive, where such arguments are available under existing law, or under a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

8. Counsel should review the court record and ensure that it is complete and that matters relevant to any future review of the case are contained in the record including, for instance, race and gender of jurors in the venire, juror questionnaires, jury questions during deliberations, and all defense proffers appropriate to preserve any defense objections for review.

9. Following formal sentencing, counsel shall continue to conduct an intensive investigation designed to identify and develop evidence not discovered during the trial that would likely have changed the verdict at either the guilt or sentencing phase in order that any available motion for new trial may be filed within one year of the verdict or judgment of the trial court.

B. Preparation for Formal Sentencing and the Sentence Investigation Report

1. In preparing for sentencing, counsel should:

a. inform the client of the sentencing procedure, its consequences and the next steps in the client's case, including any expected change in the client's representation;

b. maintain regular contact with the client prior to the sentencing hearing, and inform the client of the steps being taken in preparation for sentencing;

c. inform the client of his or her right to speak at the sentencing proceeding and assist the client in preparing the statement, if any, to be made to the court, considering the possible consequences that any statement may have upon the sentence to be imposed, any appeal or review, subsequent retrial or trial on other offenses;

d. become familiar with the procedures governing preparation, submission, and verification of the sentence investigation report. In addition, counsel should:

i. consider providing to the report preparer information favorable to the client;

ii. consider whether the client should speak with the person preparing the report; if the decision is made that the client not speak to the report preparer, the client should be advised to exercise his rights to silence and the presence of counsel and the report preparer should be advised that the client is asserting his right not to participate in an interview. If the determination is made for the client to speak to the report preparer, counsel should discuss the interview in advance with the client and attend the interview;

iii. obtain a copy of the sentence investigation report, once completed, and review the completed report with the client;

iv. file a written opposition to the factual contents of the reports where appropriate and seek a contradictory hearing.

C. Obligations of Counsel at Sentencing Hearing and Following Sentencing

1. Counsel should continue to actively advocate for a disposition other than the imposition of a life without parole sentence. Such advocacy should include presenting to the court evidence and argument in favor of any categorical bar to the imposition of a life without parole sentence and in support of an argument that life without parole, in the circumstances of the particular case, is unconstitutionally excessive. Counsel's presentation should not be limited to existing law but should include all good faith arguments for an extension, modification or reversal of existing law.

2. Following the imposition of a sentence of life without parole, counsel should prepare and file a motion for reconsideration of sentence.

3. Upon denial of a motion for reconsideration, counsel should timely file a motion for appeal, including a comprehensive request for transcription of the proceedings and designation of the record as follows:

a. the minutes of all of the proceedings connected with the case;

b. the indictment and any and all proceedings concerning the appointment and/or selection of the grand jury;

c. the transcript of arraignment;

d. the transcript of all pre-trial proceedings regardless of whether defense counsel and the defendant were present;

e. the transcript of any proceeding in which allotment of the case occurred;

f. the transcript of any joint proceedings held with another defendant(s);

g. the transcript of the entirety of Voir dire, including the transcript of any communication made by the judge or the court staff whether within or outside the presence of defense counsel;

h. the transcript of all bench conferences, in chambers hearings or charge conferences;

i. the transcript of all argument and instruction;

j. the transcript of all testimony, including testimony at the sentencing phase of the trial;

k. any and all exhibits introduced in connection with the case;

l. the jury questionnaires, verdict forms, polling slips, and verdicts imposed in the case.

4. In the period following the imposition of a sentence of life without parole and the lodging of the appellate record, counsel should continue to actively represent the client's interests, including investigation and development of arguments relevant to a post-sentencing motion for new trial or defendant's sentence investigation report. Counsel should take action to preserve the client's interests in his appeal, state post-conviction, federal habeas corpus and clemency proceedings pending the assignment of appellate counsel.

5. Where appropriate, counsel should timely file a post-sentencing motion for new trial.

6. Counsel shall continue to represent the client until successor counsel assumes responsibility for the representation. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, and other information pertinent to appellate and post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

§2139. Direct Appeal

A. Duties of Appellate Counsel

1. Appellate counsel should comply with these performance standards, except where clearly inapplicable to the representation of the client during the period of direct appeal, including the obligations to:

a. maintain close contact with the client regarding litigation developments;

b. continually monitor the client's mental, physical and emotional condition for effects on the client's legal position;

c. keep under continuing review the desirability of modifying prior counsel's theory of the case in light of subsequent developments;

d. take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition; and

e. continue an aggressive investigation of all aspects of the case.

2. Appellate counsel should be familiar with all state and federal appellate and post-conviction options available to the client, and should consider how any tactical decision might affect later options.

3. Appellate counsel should monitor and remain informed of legal developments that may be relevant to the persuasive presentation of claims on direct appeal and in any application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court as well as the preservation of claims for subsequent review in federal habeas corpus proceedings and international legal fora.

a. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in and be aware of current legal claims pending in relevant cases in front of the Louisiana Supreme Court, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

b. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in Louisiana's Courts of Appeal including splits between the circuit courts of appeal.

c. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the superior courts of other states, particularly in the interpretation and application of federal constitutional law.

d. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the federal courts of appeal, including splits between circuit courts of appeal.

e. Counsel should monitor relevant developments in international law.

4. When identifying potential conflicts, appellate counsel should have particular regard to areas of potential conflict that may arise at this stage of proceedings, including:

a. when the defendant was represented at the trial level by appellate counsel or by an attorney in the same law office as the appellate counsel, and it is asserted by the client that trial counsel provided ineffective representation, or it appears to appellate counsel that trial counsel provided ineffective representation;

b. when it is necessary for the appellate attorney to interview or examine in a post-conviction evidentiary hearing another client of the attorney's office in an effort to substantiate information provided by the first client; and

c. when, in the pursuit of an appeal or post-conviction hearing, it is necessary to assert for the first time that another client of the office committed perjury at trial.

5. Counsel should explain to the client counsel's role, how counsel was appointed to the case, and the meaning and goals of the appeal, and counsel should encourage the client to participate in the appellate process.

6. Counsel shall consult with the client on the matters to be raised on appeal and give genuine consideration to any issue the client wishes to raise on appeal. What claims to raise on appeal, and how to raise them, are generally matters entrusted to the discretion of counsel. When counsel decides not to argue all of the issues that his or her client desires to be argued, counsel should inform the client of that decision, of the reasons for the decision, and of his or her right to file a pro se brief.

7. Appellate counsel should obtain and review a complete record of all proceedings relevant to the case including the appellate record, the district court file, any file in the court of appeal or supreme court, and the files in any other related or prior proceedings in the cause.

8. Appellate counsel should obtain and review all prior counsels' file(s). Appellate counsel should retain and preserve prior counsel's files as far as possible in the condition in which they were received until transmitted to successor counsel.

9. Appellate counsel should ensure that the record on appeal is complete. If any item is necessary to appellate review but is not included in the record, it is appellate counsel's responsibility to file a motion to supplement the record and to seek to have the briefing schedule stayed pending completion of the record.

10. Appellate counsel should interview the client and previous defense team members about the case, including any relevant matters that do not appear in the record. Appellate counsel should consider whether any potential off-record matters may have an impact on how the appeal is pursued, and what kind of an investigation of the matter is warranted.

11. Appellate counsel should seek to investigate and litigate all issues, whether or not previously presented, that are arguably meritorious under the standards applicable to high quality juvenile life without parole representation, including challenges to any overly restrictive procedural rules and any good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law. If an error warranting relief has not yet been presented, Counsel should present it and request error patent review.

12. Counsel should make every professionally appropriate effort to present issues in a manner that will preserve them for subsequent review. Claims raised should include federal constitutional claims which, in the event that relief is denied in the state appellate courts, could form the basis for a successful petition for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court or for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal district court. Counsel should present all claims in a manner that will meet the exhaustion requirements applicable in federal habeas corpus proceedings. Where pending claims in another case may be resolved in a manner that would benefit the client, counsel should ensure that the relevant issues are preserved and presented for review in the client's case and, where appropriate, counsel should seek to keep the client's direct appeal open pending the determination of the other case.

13. Petitions and briefs shall conform to all rules of court and shall have a professional appearance, shall advance argument and cite legal authority in support of each contention and shall conform to Blue Book rules of citation. Regardless of the existence of local authority, federal authority should also be relied upon to present and preserve for later review any federal constitutional claims, particularly any applicable decision of the United States Supreme Court.

14. Counsel should be scrupulously accurate in referring to the record and the authorities upon which counsel relies in the briefing and oral argument. All arguments on assignments of error should include references by page number, or by any more precise method of location, to the place(s) in the transcript which contains the alleged error.

15. Counsel should not intentionally refer to or argue on the basis of facts outside the record on appeal, unless such facts are matters of common public knowledge based on ordinary human experience or matters of which the court may take judicial notice. If appropriate, counsel should move for the remand of the matter and conduct such evidentiary hearings as may be required to create or supplement a record for review of any claim of error or argument for excessiveness that is not adequately supported by the record.

16. Where counsel is considering seeking a remand for further hearing, counsel should undertake a full factual investigation of the issue for which the remand would be sought so that the decision as to whether to seek remand may be made in light of the evidence that might be adduced at such a hearing. Where counsel does seek remand for further hearing, counsel should ensure that adequate investigation and preparation has been undertaken to allow counsel to promptly litigate the matter if the case is remanded for further hearing.

17. The identification and selection of issues is the responsibility of lead counsel. Lead counsel shall adopt procedures for providing an "issues meeting" between the attorneys handling the case and other relevantly qualified attorneys, including at least one qualified as lead appellate counsel, at which the issues raised in the case and the defense theory on appeal can be discussed. The issues meeting will ordinarily be conducted in the course of a case review meeting under these standards but where this is not possible, the issues meeting should be conducted independently of the case review.

18. Counsel should complete a full review of the records of relevant proceedings and trial counsels' files prior to completing a draft of the brief. Lead counsel shall adopt a procedure for screening the brief, which should include a careful review of the brief by an attorney not involved in drafting the pleading. The reviewing attorney should be qualified as lead appellate counsel.

19. The review of the records and files should be completed a sufficient time before the filing deadline to allow for the issues meeting, the drafting of the brief, the review of the brief and the finalization of the brief. If appellate counsel is unable to prepare the brief within the existing briefing schedule in a manner consistent with these standards and with high quality appellate representation, it is counsel's responsibility to file a motion to extend the briefing schedule.

20. Counsel shall be diligent in expediting the timely submission of the appeal and shall take all steps necessary to reduce delays and time necessary for the processing of appeals which adversely affect the client.

21. Where counsel is unable to provide high quality representation in appellate proceedings in a particular case and the deficiency cannot be remedied then counsel must bring the matter to the attention of the court and seek the relief appropriate to protect the interests of the client. Counsel may be unable to provide high quality representation due to a range of factors: lack of resources, insufficient time, excessive workload, poor health or other personal considerations, inadequate skill or experience etc.

22. Following the filing of appellee's brief and before filing a reply brief, a second case review meeting shall be conducted to discuss the defense theory on appeal in light of the issues raised in the original brief, Appellee's brief and the issues to be addressed in reply and at oral argument.

23. Counsel should, no less than two weeks prior to oral argument, where possible, file a reply brief rebutting legal and factual arguments made by the state. The reply brief should not simply repeat the contents of the original brief but should respond directly to the contentions of the state and any issues arising from the state's brief. Where appropriate, counsel should file a supplemental brief on the merits, seeking leave to do so if the case has already been submitted.

24. Counsel should undertake a detailed and intensive investigation of the matters relevant to the sentence review memorandum. Counsel shall not rely upon the contents of the state's sentence review memorandum without confirming the accuracy of that memorandum. The investigation should be commenced as soon as practicable after counsel is assigned to the case. Where additional favorable information is developed, counsel should seek a remand of the matter for the development of facts relating to whether the sentence is excessive.

25. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of the date, time and place scheduled for oral argument of the appeal as soon as counsel receives notice thereof from the appellate court. Counsel shall not waive oral argument.

26. To prepare for oral argument, counsel should review the record and the briefs of the parties, and should update legal research. If binding dispositive or contrary authority has been published since the filing of the brief, counsel shall disclose the information to the court. Counsel should be prepared to answer questions propounded by the court. In particular, counsel should be prepared to address whether and where the questions presented were preserved in the record, the applicable standards of review and the prejudice associated with the errors alleged.

27. If pertinent and significant authorities come to counsel's attention following oral argument, counsel should bring the authorities to the attention to the court by letter or, where appropriate, should seek leave to file a supplemental brief.

28. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of any decision of the appellate court in the client's case and shall promptly transmit to the client a copy of the decision. Counsel should accurately inform the client of the courses of action which may be pursued as a result of the decision. If the case has been returned to a lower court on remand, counsel should continue in his or her representation (unless and until other counsel has been assigned and formally enrolled) providing any necessary briefing to the court to continue to advocate for the client.

29. Counsel shall timely prepare and file a motion for rehearing, raising all arguments for which a meritorious motion for rehearing can be advanced. Counsel should have particular regard to any changes or developments in the law since the case had been submitted and any errors of fact or law appearing in the decision that may be corrected by reference to the record.

30. The duties of the counsel representing the client on direct appeal ordinarily include filing a petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States. In developing, drafting and filing a petition for certiorari, appellate counsel should consult with counsel with particular expertise and experience in litigating applications for certiorari before the United States Supreme Court.

31. In preparing and filing a petition for certiorari, counsel should consider the benefit to the client of the support of amici and seek appropriate support where it is in the client's interests.

32. In the event that the client's appeal to the Louisiana Supreme Court and application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court are unsuccessful, appellate counsel shall advise the client of: his or her right to seek state post-conviction relief and federal habeas corpus relief; the one-year statute of limitations for the filing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court; the procedure and effect of filing of a petition for post-conviction relief in the state trial court to raise new claims and to exhaust any federal constitutional issues for federal habeas review.

33. Appellate counsel shall, with the client's consent, continue to represent the client for the limited purpose of preserving the client's interests in his state post-conviction, federal habeas corpus and clemency proceedings. Counsel shall carefully explain the limited scope of this representation to the client and provide advice of this limited scope in writing when obtaining the client's consent.

34. Counsel should be aware of the statute of limitations for filing a petition for writ of habeas corpus in federal court, and should file pleadings in state court so as to allow adequate time for preparation and filing of such a petition if state post-conviction relief is denied.

35. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, and other information pertinent to post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

§2141. State Post-Conviction and Clemency

A. Duties of Post-Conviction Counsel

1. Post-conviction counsel should comply with these performance standards, except where clearly inapplicable to the representation of the client in the post-conviction period of the case, including the obligations to:

a. maintain close contact with the client regarding litigation developments;

b. continually monitor the client's mental, physical and emotional condition for effects on the client's legal position;

c. keep under continuing review the desirability of modifying prior counsel's theory of the case in light of subsequent developments;

d. take all steps that may be appropriate in the exercise of professional judgment in accordance with these standards to achieve an agreed-upon disposition; and

e. continue an aggressive investigation of all aspects of the case.

2. Post-conviction counsel should be familiar with all state and federal appellate and post-conviction options available to the client, and should consider how any tactical decision might affect later options.

3. Post-conviction counsel should monitor and remain informed of legal developments that may be relevant to the persuasive representation of claims in state post-conviction proceedings, in federal habeas corpus proceedings and in any application for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court as well as the preservation of claims for subsequent review in state and federal proceedings and international legal fora.

a. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in and be aware of current legal claims pending in relevant cases in front of the Louisiana Supreme Court, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

b. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in Louisiana's Courts of Appeal including splits between the circuit courts of appeal.

c. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the superior courts of other states, particularly in the interpretation and application of federal constitutional law.

d. Counsel should monitor relevant legal developments in the federal courts of appeal, including splits between circuit courts of appeal.

e. Counsel should monitor relevant developments in international law.

4. Counsel should explain to the client counsel's role and the meaning and goals of post-conviction and federal habeas corpus proceedings, and counsel should encourage the client to participate in the collateral review process.

5. Counsel shall consult with the client on the matters to be raised in any post-conviction petition or federal application for habeas corpus and give genuine consideration to any issue the client wishes to raise. What claims to raise, and how to raise them, are generally matters entrusted to the discretion of counsel. When counsel decides not to argue all of the issues that his or her client desires to be argued, counsel should inform the client of that decision, of the reasons for the decision, and of his or her right to file a pro se brief.

6. Post-conviction counsel should obtain and review a complete record of all proceedings relevant to the case including the appellate record, the district court file, any file in the court of appeal or supreme court, and the files in any other related or prior proceedings in the cause.

7. Post-conviction counsel should obtain and review all prior counsels' file(s). Post-conviction counsel should retain and preserve prior counsel's files as far as possible in the condition in which they were received until transmitted to successor counsel.

8. Post-conviction counsel should ensure that the record of proceedings available for review is complete. If any item is necessary to post-conviction review but is not included in the record of proceedings, it is post-conviction counsel's responsibility to ensure that the record available for review is supplemented.

9. Post-conviction counsel should interview the client and previous defense team members about the case, including any relevant matters that do not appear in the record. Post-conviction counsel should consider whether any potential off-record matters should have an impact on how post-conviction review is pursued, and what kind of an investigation of the matter is warranted.

10. Post-conviction counsel should seek to investigate and litigate all issues, whether or not previously presented, that are arguably meritorious under the standards applicable to high quality JLWOP representation, including challenges to any overly restrictive procedural rules and any good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law. Counsel should undertake a high-quality, independent, exhaustive investigation and should not assume that investigation of issues by prior counsel has been complete or adequate.

11. The investigation and litigation of claims should encompass all arguably available claims for relief, including those based upon the grounds that:

a. the defendant is in custody or the sentence was imposed in violation of the constitution or laws or treaties of the United States;

b. the conviction was obtained in violation of the constitution of the state of Louisiana;

c. the sentence was obtained in violation of the constitution of the state of Louisiana or is otherwise an illegal sentence;

d. the court exceeded its jurisdiction;

e. the conviction or sentence subjected the defendant to double jeopardy;

f. the limitations on the institution of prosecution had expired;

g. the statute creating the offense for which the defendant was convicted and sentenced is unconstitutional;

h. the conviction or sentence constitute the ex post facto application of law in violation of the constitution of the United States or the state of Louisiana;

i. the results of DNA testing performed pursuant to an application granted under La. C. Cr. P. art. 926.1 proves that the petitioner is factually innocent of the crime for which he was convicted;

j. the defendant is otherwise shown to be factually innocent of the crime for which he was convicted or not eligible for a sentence of life without parole; or

k. a sentence of life without parole is unconstitutional for a juvenile.

12. In conducting the investigation, counsel should have particular regard to the possibility that claims for relief may arise from matters not previously fully investigated or litigated, including:

a. the possibility that the state failed to turn over evidence favorable to the defendant and material to his guilt or punishment;

b. the possibility that the state knowingly used false testimony to secure the conviction or sentence;

c. the possibility that the client received ineffective assistance of counsel as to either guilt or sentencing in the course of his representation in the trial court or on appeal;

d. the possibility that the jury's verdict is tainted by issues such as jury misconduct, improper separation of the jury, and false answers on Voir dire examination; and

e. the possibility that the client is innocent of the offense charged or not eligible for a sentence of life without parole.

13. In investigating the possibility that the client received ineffective assistance of counsel, post-conviction counsel must review both the record in the case and also conduct a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances beyond the record in order to determine whether a claim exists that counsel's performance was deficient. As these standards are intended to reflect accepted minimum standards for performance in juvenile life without parole cases, in determining the scope of the investigation to be conducted, post-conviction counsel shall have regard to these standards as they describe the responsibilities of trial and appellate counsel. Post-conviction counsel shall conduct a sufficiently thorough investigation to determine either that prior counsel's responsibilities were met or to determine the extent of any prejudice arising from the failure to meet those responsibilities.

14. In investigating and developing claims of ineffective assistance of counsel or the suppression of favorable evidence, counsel shall be conscious that evidence will be assessed for its cumulative impact and so should not limit the investigation to those matters that might, in and of themselves, justify relief. Instead, the investigation should extend to those matters which, in combination with others, may justify relief.

15. In investigating, preparing and submitting a petition, counsel should seek such pre-filing discovery, compulsory process, requests for admissions, depositions and other orders as are available and appropriate to a high quality, independent, exhaustive investigation. Counsel should investigate the possibility of and, where appropriate, file an application for DNA testing pursuant to La. C. Cr. P. art. 926.1.

16. Counsel should make every professionally appropriate effort to present issues in a manner that will preserve them for subsequent review. Claims raised should include federal constitutional claims which, in the event that relief is denied, could form the basis for a successful petition for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court or for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal district court. Where pending claims in another case may be resolved in a manner that would benefit the client, counsel should ensure that the relevant issues are preserved and presented for review in the client's case and, where appropriate, counsel should seek to keep the client's post-conviction proceedings open pending the determination of the other case.

17. Petitions and supporting memoranda shall conform to all rules of court and shall have a professional appearance, conform to acceptable rules of grammar, be free from typographical errors and misspellings, shall advance argument and cite legal authority in support of each contention. Counsel shall utilize out-of-state and federal authority in support of positions when no local authority exists or local authority is contrary to the weight of recent decisions from other jurisdictions. Regardless of the existence of local authority, federal authority should also be relied upon to present and preserve for later review any federal constitutional claims, particularly any applicable decision of the United States Supreme Court.

18. Counsel should be scrupulously accurate in referring to the record and the authorities upon which counsel relies.

19. The post-conviction petition should clearly allege a factual basis for each claim which, if established, would entitle the petitioner to relief and clearly allege all facts supporting the claims in the petition. Counsel shall include with the petition all documents and exhibits that would establish or support the factual basis of the petitioner's claims, including but not limited to court records, transcripts, depositions, admissions of fact, affidavits, statements, reports and other records. In determining the scope of the material to be presented in state court, counsel shall have regard to the likelihood that federal review will be limited to the material presented in state court and so should not refrain from presenting any relevant material unless there are strong strategic reasons to do so.

20. Where counsel raises a claim that has previously been fully litigated in earlier appeal proceedings in the case, counsel shall fully investigate, prepare and submit an argument that the claim is nevertheless eligible for consideration in the interests of justice.

21. Where counsel raises a claim that was not raised in the proceedings leading to conviction or sentence, was not pursued on appeal or was not included in a prior post-conviction petition, counsel shall fully investigate, prepare and submit a claim that the failure to previously raise the claim is excusable.

22. Counsel should complete a full review of the records of relevant proceedings, trial counsels' files and the fruits of the post-conviction investigation prior to completing a draft of the petition.

23. The review of the records and files should be completed a sufficient time before the filing deadline to allow for the drafting of the petition, the review of the petition and the finalization of the petition. If post-conviction counsel is unable to complete the post-conviction investigation and prepare the petition within the existing briefing schedule in a manner consistent with these standards and with high quality post-conviction representation, it is counsel's responsibility to file a motion to extend the filing deadline.

24. Counsel shall be diligent in expediting the timely submission of the post-conviction petition and shall take all steps necessary to reduce delays and time necessary for the processing of petitions which adversely affect the client.

25. Where counsel is unable to provide high quality representation in post-conviction proceedings in a particular case, and the deficiency cannot be remedied then counsel must bring the matter to the attention of the court and seek the relief appropriate to protect the interests of the client. Counsel may be unable to provide high quality representation due to a range of factors: lack of resources, insufficient time, excessive workload, poor health or other personal considerations, inadequate skill or experience etc.

26. Counsel should be aware of the statute of limitations for filing a petition for writ of habeas corpus in federal court, and should file pleadings in state court so as to allow adequate time for preparation and filing of such a petition if state post-conviction relief is denied.

27. Where the state files procedural objections or an answer on the merits, counsel should file a response rebutting legal and factual arguments made by the state. The response brief should not simply repeat the contents of the original petition but should respond directly to the contentions of the state and any issues arising from the state's filing. Where appropriate, counsel should file a supplemental petition or briefing, seeking leave to do so if required.

28. Counsel should seek such discovery, compulsory process, requests for admissions, depositions and other orders as are available and appropriate to the full development and presentation of all claims in the petition and should document the denial of any such attempts to secure facts in support of possible claims.

29. Counsel should request an evidentiary hearing for all claims in which the state does not clearly admit the factual allegations contained in the petition and seek to prove by admissible evidence those factual allegations that support or establish the client's claims for relief.

30. Where counsel is considering seeking an evidentiary hearing, counsel should undertake a full factual investigation of the issue for which the hearing would be sought so that the decision as to whether to seek a hearing may be made in light of the evidence that might be adduced at such a hearing. Where counsel does seek an evidentiary hearing, counsel should ensure that adequate investigation and preparation has been undertaken to allow counsel to promptly litigate the matter if an evidentiary hearing is granted.

31. Following any evidentiary hearing, counsel should file supplemental briefing demonstrating the client's entitlement to relief based upon the petition filed and the evidence adduced at the hearing.

32. Counsel should timely make application for supervisory writs if the trial court dismisses the petition or otherwise denies relief on an application for post-conviction relief. Counsel should take great care to ensure that all writ applications comply with the requirements of the relevant rules of court and present all claims in a manner that will meet the exhaustion requirements applicable in federal habeas corpus proceedings. Counsel should ensure that an adequate record is created in the trial court to justify and encourage the exercise of the supervisory jurisdiction of the reviewing court. Counsel should respond to any state application for supervisory writs or appeal except where exceptional circumstances justify the choice not to respond.

33. A lack of adequate time, resources or expertise is not an adequate reason for failing to make application for supervisory writs or failing to respond to a state application. Where counsel lacks adequate time, resources or expertise, counsel should take all available steps to ensure that the defense team has sufficient time, resources and expertise, including seeking additional counsel. Counsel shall ensure that the role of lack of time or resources upon the decision to file a writ application is reflected in the record.

34. Counsel shall promptly inform the client of the decision of the trial court and any reviewing court in the client's case and shall promptly transmit to the client a copy of the decision. Counsel should accurately inform the client of the courses of action which may be pursued as a result of the decision.

35. The duties of the counsel representing the client in state post-conviction proceedings include filing a petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States.

36. In preparing and filing a petition for certiorari, counsel should consider the benefit to the client of the support of amici and seek appropriate support where it is in the client's interests.

37. In the event that the client's state post-conviction application is unsuccessful, post-conviction counsel shall advise the client of: his right to seek federal habeas corpus relief; and the one-year statute of limitations for the filing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court. Having regard to tolling, counsel shall advise the client of the actual period of time that will be remaining for filing a federal petition upon finalization of the state post-conviction proceedings. Counsel shall provide such advice a sufficient period prior to the finalization of state post-conviction proceedings to allow the client to take adequate steps to protect his rights to federal review.

38. Counsel shall take all necessary steps to preserve the client's right to federal review.

39. Adequate representation in federal habeas corpus proceedings will include an investigation of whether state post-conviction counsel provided ineffective assistance in failing to adequately raise a meritorious claim of ineffective assistance of trial or appellate counsel. Just as trial counsel is poorly placed to investigate or litigate his or her own ineffectiveness, state post-conviction counsel may be similarly limited.

40. When counsel's representation terminates, counsel shall cooperate with the client and any succeeding counsel in the transmission of the record, transcripts, file, and other information pertinent to post-conviction proceedings. Counsel should notify the client when the case assignment is concluded.

41. Counsel should closely monitor the client's competence in post-conviction proceedings, having regard to the requirement that the client be sufficiently competent to be lawfully executed and should investigate and litigate this issue where it is possible that the client does not meet the necessary degree of competence.

§2143. Supervision, Review and Consultation

A. Supervision of the Defense Team

1. Primary responsibility for the supervision of the defense team and the team's compliance with these standards rests with lead counsel. Lead counsel shall establish a system for communication, feedback and supervision of the defense team that shall ensure that the team provides high quality representation and that any deficiencies in compliance with the guidelines or standards are promptly identified and remedied. Lead counsel should ensure that all team members are aware of their obligations under the guidelines and performance standards.

2. Primary responsibility for the supervision of experts rests with lead counsel, though this responsibility may be delegated to other counsel who are more directly responsible for working with a particular expert. Counsel supervising an expert shall ensure that appropriate funding is secured and maintained for the expert's services, that the expert performs the requested services in a timely fashion and to a high quality and that the expert's services are promptly invoiced and paid.
